Article II. Section 2 — Composition of the Senate

2.3 There shall be 44 Senators elected by the schools and colleges from the eligible Voting Faculty.

2.3.1 For purposes of Senate representation, the librarians of the University Library shall constitute a school.

2.3.2 The 44 Senators shall be allocated to the schools and colleges in proportion to the numbers of voting faculty members in each school or college; however, each school or college shall have at least one Senator and the School of Public Health shall have two Senators. A school or college shall not be deprived of a Senator because of shifting faculty ratios until the term of the Senator would normally have expired. Thus, the number of school or college Senators may be above 44 in some years.

2.3.3 Each school or college with more than two Senators may designate up to half of its Senators as representing the school or college at large.

2.3.4 For schools or colleges with more than two Senators, the remainder of its Senators shall be distributed to represent departments, academic units, or collections of units within the school or college so that each unit has a specified Senator.
