Rockefeller Has Overwhelming Odds; Morgenthau Has Kennedy and Wagner

WHEN New Yorkers go to the polls in November they will be voting, indirectly, for more than state officers and a United States senator. Not only will they be balloting to fill elective offices but also, according to the men they elect, will be participating in the power politics that will project into the 1964 presidential campaign.

The outcome of the New York State elections will produce a number of complex reactions, chief of which could be the political futures of Governor Rockefeller and

FEILY CHARGES:

Cornelius Misleads Troopers; Interferes With CSEA Affairs

Open Letter To Troopers

In an open letter to troopers in the State Division of Police, Joseph F. Feily, president of the Civil Service Employees Association, explains not only the law suit filed by the CSEA regarding a recent sergeant's examination but also gives background to the recent charges of interference in CSEA affairs by Arthur Cornelius, Jr., Superintendent of Police. The letter contains information of vital importance to all troopers. It reads:

Several weeks ago, after very careful consideration, I authorized the commencement of an Article 78 proceeding testing the validity of a promotion examination for the position of Sergeant of State Police conducted last December 16th by Arthur Cornelius, Jr., Superintendent of State Police. In this test case, brought by Trooper John H. Donahue, the relief sought, among other things, was that the Superintendent be stayed from making any further appointments from this list and that the examination be set aside pending a re-examination of all candidates.

The Civil Service Employees Association takes the position that the examination was so conducted as to give Mr. Cornelius almost complete discretion to make promotions in violation of the constitutional requirement of "competitive civil service."

ALBANY, Sept. 24—The President of the Civil Service Employees Association has reaffirmed the Association's support of a lawsuit testing the validity of a promotion examination given last Dec. 16 by the Division of State Police for the position of sergeant.

Joseph F. Feily made the announcement because of what he called misleading information concerning the suit circulated throughout the Division by Superintendent Arthur Cornelius, Jr., and because of the number of inquiries to the Association from the press and other interested persons.

The suit was instituted by the Association for Trooper John H. Donahue of Troop K, Hawthorne, thereby avoiding civil service requirements of a true "competitive examination," as called for by the New York State Constitution.

The written portion of the examination, testing knowledge and skills involved in performing the duties of sergeant, had a weight of only 20%, Feily said, while a performance rating by a candidate's immediate troop commander, appointed by the superintendent, accounted for 50%. An oral examination by a Board of two commissioned officers, again designated by the Superintendent, in Supreme Court of Albany County on August 22.

Exam Avoids Competition

Feily said the Employees Association vigorously objected to the examination because it was so constituted as to give Cornelius almost complete discretion in making promotion appointments,

CSEA Launches All-Out Drive In Rochester To Enroll City Employees

ALBANY, Sept. 24—The Civil Service Employees Association will begin an all-out organizational drive in the City of Rochester this week, Association President Joseph F. Feily has announced.

The drive will be made in the face of threatened recognition by city officials of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees as exclusive bargaining agent for units of city employees.

In other developments in Rochester, CSEA Field Representative James Powers met late last week with City Manager Porter Homer and presented him with a request for improvements in work conditions for city employees, signed by Feily.

Editorial Support

Meanwhile, the Association's outspoken public criticism of a resolution passed two weeks ago by the Rochester City Council that could result in exclusive recognition of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, as sole bargaining agent of city employees, regardless of the employees' desire to be represented by the union, continued to gain editorial support from Rochester newspapers and citizens of the area.

The letter presented to Homer, in Mayor Henry Gillette's absence, also asked for the privilege of payrolls and the opportunity to identify health insurance on city payrolls and the opportunity to see city employees during working hours for the purpose of enrolling them in CSEA during a

Carlino To Install Nassau County CSEA Officers At Dinner

MINEOLA, Sept. 24 — The Nassau County Civil Service Employees Association, now 8,000 members strong, will hold its annual dinner-dance Oct. 13 at Carl Hoppls' Baldwin, Long Island.

Assemblyman Joseph F. Carlino, speaker of the New York State Assembly, will install the new officers. President Irving Flaumenbaum will be installed for his fifth term. A turnout of 550 people is expected, Flaumenbaum said, "It will be the biggest and best dinner we've ever had."

Nassau County Executive Eugene H. Nickerson will attend the dinner, as will many members of the Nassau delegation in the New York State Legislature; Governor Nelson Rockefeller was invited by the chapter to be a guest, if his schedule permits.

Oswego Ponders Fire, Police Merger; Idea Lost In Ogdensburg

(From Leader Correspondent)

OSWEGO, September 24—Oswego City alderman are mulling over a controversial idea—integration of the city's police and fire departments into one unit.

No formal proposal has been made, but one alderman, Bart Gentile, has provided others with an eight-page statement of the pros and cons of such integration. The statement is based on a discussion of the plan at the State Conference of Mayors in Buffalo this summer.

And, the proposal is expected to be discussed by the Common Council—both formally and informally—at a later meeting.

Under the integration plan, firemen and policemen both receive additional training so that firemen can be used for patrols and other police duties when not answering fire alarms, and policemen could be used to aid in fire-

Group Life Plan Opens in Monroe With Member Drive

ALBANY, Sept. 24 — The membership drive combined with an open enrollment, in the group life insurance plan made available by the Civil Service Employees Association, will get underway in Monroe County this week.

Officials of the Civil Service County chapter have made arrangements with the Travelers Employees Association's Monroe Insurance Company to have salaried personnel in the county to explain this unique life insurance coverage and to sign members.

The insurance enrollment will be available from September 25 through October 11. The plan will be available non-medically, through age 69, at low cost with premium waiver automatic conversion privileges and other valuable benefits.

The goal for the drive is to double the present 1500 membership in Monroe County.

Greetings On Rosh Hashana

On behalf of myself and the officers and directors of the Civil Service Employees Association, the heartiest greetings are extended to our Jewish members on the occasion of Rosh Hashana, the New Year.

DON'T REPEAT THIS

Mayor Wagner, the two men who have most at stake.

In a front page story in The Leader on August 21 the headline on this column read "Morganthau Certain To Head Dem Ticket," and this newspaper was the first in the country to predict his nomination, based on information obviously from the most reliable sources. What can be reported now is that the first choice of U.S. Attorney General Robert Kennedy to head the state ticket was Manhattan DA Frank Hogan. Morganthau was the choice of Mayor Wagner, which means it will be up to Wagner to put over an effective campaign for his selection.

No Easy Task

This will be no easy task. At this writing, Rockefeller has an overwhelming edge and, remembering full well that underdogs sometimes win hopeless races, he is campaigning hard to maintain that edge and is taking nothing for granted. He has a well-oiled operation that has been compared to the efficient campaign effected by President Kennedy before the nominations in 1960 and during the presidential campaign. Rockefeller wants the GOP presidential nomination in 1964 and he knows that he has to win very big — a record State vote — in New York to qualify for it. Failure to top his 1958 plurality could stall his efforts for consideration. He will pull every stop to gain an enormous victory.

As matters stand now, most political observers not only feel that he will take the race but also, as we reported in these columns several weeks ago and as has since been noted by other writers, that Rockefeller's real popularity contest will be between him and Sen. Jack Javits, not Morganthau.

Fussing and Feuding

Morganthau right now has many things working against him. The feuding and fussing at the Democratic convention in Syracuse, the irate delegates, the angry men who also sought office—all these have launched the Morganthau campaign on a poor start.

Morganthau, an honorable, brilliant, and earnest citizen, himself is not a political "pro" and the real responsibility for cutting down the Rockefeller victory margin lies on the shoulders of Mayor Wagner, who is not only responsible to the party in New York but in Washington as well.

If Morganthau is heavily beaten, Wagner will be marked as a poor leader and ineffective strategist. This could not only possibly cost him his leadership in New York but also could even possibly deny him a place on the ticket, against Senator Keating, with President Kennedy in 1964. A big Rockefeller victory could easily make him Kennedy's most formidable opposition in 1964 and it cannot be expected that such results would please the White House.

Furthermore, states tend to vote for favorite sons. New York voted for Dewey when he ran for president and Nixon took California, although both lost their bids for the White House. There is no certainty that Wagner could defeat Keating with Rockefeller also on the GOP national ticket. Kennedy certainly would not like the prospect of losing New York State in 1964.

Ted Kennedy's Victory

However, there are several factors that could work very well in Morganthau's favor. Wagner, as Mayor of New York and statewide leader of his party, has numerous resources at his command to organize a strong vote-getting machine, to raise campaign funds, to keep Morganthau in the public eye. Also, Wagner proved in the last mayoralty primary and campaign that he is a tough fighter and a dramatic vote-getter in his own right. He is not the man he was before 1961 and there is plenty of confidence in the "new" Wagner.

But, perhaps the most unusual factor is the astounding victory of Ted Kennedy in the Massachusetts primary. This was not, as some observers sourly predicted a "money" victory but a Kennedy victory, one that not even the most optimistic Kennedy-ites could have seen. Ted Kennedy not only won in so-called ethnic areas — heavy concentrations of Jewish, Irish, Italian, Negro voters, etc., — but he also beat opponent Edward McCormack in Boston, where McCormack felt most confident, and even in McCormack's homeland.

What It Means

What does a Kennedy victory in Massachusetts have to do with Morganthau's race in New York? More than anything else, it illustrates that the tremendous popularity of President Kennedy still rides high. There is little doubt that the more than 2 to 1 margin piled up by brother Ted was no little reflection of this popularity. This could mean that the Democrats in New York will benefit from the personal magnetism the President so obviously radiates. Morganthau has already called on Washington to help.

President Kennedy will definitely appear in the state. His visits could make a big difference in the outcome of the November race. Democrats are hopeful that the Kennedy personality will help as much in New York as it did in Massachusetts.

YOU AND THE ARMED SERVICES

More Air Personnel Needed For Bigger Force

A major air build-up likely to be recommended soon will result in an intense shortage of Army aviation personnel. With shortages being felt even now, the addition of 1000 new aircraft to the armed forces will mean a substantial increase in all air personnel and substantial promotion opportunities. It is estimated that warrant officers will make up 60 percent of all aviators.

Six Months Reservists Will Probably Be First To Go

Six month reservists will probably be the first to be called in any future mobilization. Congressional leaders have transmitted this message to Defense Secretary McNamara in recent weeks, as the President's request for the right to call 150,000 reservists passed both houses of Congress.

The new law will extend the right granted last year which expired June 30th when the President was given the right to call 250,000 men. Less than 150,000 were actually called.

Powers under the new law extend through February 28, 1963. Those who served during the recent call-up will not be inducted without their consent. This includes those whose tours of duty were extended for the emergency. Difficulties last year resulted from the policy of calling up units as a whole, thus leaving many units untouched.

There is no present indication that the stand-by authority granted the President will be used. And in case of a declared emergency, there is no limitation on the number of men who may be called.

First To Go Units May Be Set Up

The creation of special pools of reservists from both National Guard and Army Reserve who will have top priority in case of call-up, is being given study and may soon be put into effect. The plan would permit units most likely to be selected first to sign up their own "fillers" in advance.

Inasmuch as most units are habitually under strength and would require manpower to fill vacancies in case of emergency, the priority units would be maintained at close to required manpower strength and equipment and thus be better able to fill the needs of the armed services quickly. Priority units would go to summer camp and be ready for call up at any time but would not be required to take part in weekly drills.

Your Public Relations IQ

By LEO J. MARGOLIN

(Mr. Margolin is Adjunct Professor of Public Relations in the New York University School of Public Administration and is Vice President, Public Relations, of A. J. Armstrong Co., Inc.)

The views expressed in this column are those of the writer and do not necessarily constitute the views of this newspaper.

LEST ANYONE doubt the importance of public relations, let it be recorded here that for the first time in the history of civilization a billion dollars is being spent for a single package of public relations.

THE OCCASION is the New York World's Fair 1964-1965, and we heartily approve the expenditure of every single one of the billion dollars.

VERTICALLY, horizontally, diagonally, and every which way the Fair is all public relations. From its theme, "Peace Through Understanding," as the hub, every spoke of the Fair wheel reaches out to a public relations objective.

INTERNALLY and externally, there has never been anything quite like the Fair for building impact to the climax 575 days from today when the Fair opens its doors on April 22, 1964.

WITHIN THE Fair itself, the total public relations program has been superb. Led by that master communicator, Robert Moses, the public relations program has never slipped a cog.

IF ANY OF the dubious challenge our label for Mr. Moses, we urge an immediate reading of his introduction to Fair's Progress Report No. 6 entitled, "Only The Brave Deserve The Fair."

IN ITS PUBLIC relations to the outside world, the Fair is turning in a classic performance. One basic reason is that its performance is all top performance, rather than idle words and hot air.

WE FEEL SO strongly about the Fair's total public relations performance, that we must urge all civil servants to begin a close study of the methods, procedures and techniques.

ALTHOUGH THE Fair is legally a private corporation, it is actually a quasi-public entity operating basically in the public interest. Within the comparatively restricted confines of Flushing Meadow Park, the Fair will radiate good public relations for peace, for the United States of America, for New York State, for New York City and for man's achievements.

TO ASSURE preservation of every iota of information on the public relations of the Fair, we urge Mr. Moses to make provisions now for a Fair historian.

AMONG HIS many duties, it would be the historian's major objective to report and analyze all methods and techniques, both new and old, employed in the communications process, i.e. the public relations, of the New York World's Fair 1964-1965.

"Used to be you could have some interesting conversations with these people! Sports, politics, anything! Nowadays, all they want to do is grouse about the price of haircuts."

The cost of just about everything has soared in recent years . . . including the cost of the things used to make electricity. But new methods, like electronic billing and the installation of more efficient equipment, have helped—so far—to offset much of Con Edison's rising cost of doing business.

For example, we've just ordered the world's largest electric generator (1 million kilowatts), which will produce electricity more economically. It's all part of our job of supplying you with plenty of electricity at the lowest practical price.

Open Letter To Troopers

(Continued from Page 1) negotiated directly with the Administration of Governor Rockefeller regarding working hours, pay, and retirement benefits of members of the Division of State Police, we have not, since the time of the appointment of Superintendent Arthur Cornelius, Jr., been permitted to have any formal meetings between the Superintendent, members of our staff and a committee of trooper members and the Administration of the Division. Indeed, the President of our Association and our Counsel, were expressly denied an opportunity to meet together with the Superintendent in order to discuss working conditions of members of the Division of State Police within the past year and one half.

It is my personal belief that the present litigation, and indeed many other problems relating to working conditions could have, and would have, been avoided or eliminated had there been an opportunity for a free and informal exchange of views between legitimate employee representatives and the Administration of the State Division. Nor can we help but observe that this is the only department within the State of New York which refuses to meet with us or our representatives. Accordingly, despite efforts on the part of our Counsel to convince the Superintendent of State Police of our good faith and sincere and honest objections to the examination in question, it became very readily apparent to me that the only possibility of working out this particular examination was by placing the issue openly and squarely before the courts.

Issue is Simple

The issue presented by this examination is in our view quite simple. Can an examination rated as follows be a truly competitive examination within the meaning of the State Constitution?

Compositions of the examination:

- Performance rating of candidate by immediate troop commander—relative weight 5.
- Written examination using knowledge and skills involved in performing the duties of sergeant—relative weight 2.
- An oral examination by a Board of at least two commissioned officers designated by the Superintendent—relative weight 3.

We took the position that an examination so constituted, with the relative "weights" involved of 20 percent given to the written portion of the examination, could not fulfill the requirements of the New York State Constitution, relating to a "competitive" examination. We contend that such an examination lends itself to favoritism and politics in the granting of important promotions. In addition, we pointed out that the examination notice failed to apprise the candidates of the nature of the oral examination, nor did the examiners employ objective standards upon which the examination was to be graded. There were other objections to the examination of a technical nature.

Interference and Fear

After the commencement of this action, we wrote to the Attorney General advising him that we did not seek to upset any appointments that already had been made. Knowing this, the Superintendent wrote to each member of the Division of State Police saying that the written statements of a CSEA representative to the Attorney General "must be disregarded."

It has now become quite apparent that the Superintendent of the State Police is

CSEA Continues Suit On Trooper Exam; Hits Cornelius Interference

The CSEA President said that an examination so constituted, with only 20% given to the written portion of the examination, could not fulfill the requirements of the State Constitution for competitive examination. We contend that such an examination lends itself to favoritism or internal politics in the granting of important promotions, Feily said.

Says Cornelius Incites Fear

After the commencement of this action, he said, the Association wrote to the Attorney General advising him that we did not seek to upset any appointments that had been made up to the present time. Knowing this, he said, Cornelius wrote to each member of the Division of State Police that the written statements of a CSEA representative to the Attorney General "... must be disregarded..."

Feily said it has now become quite apparent that Superintendent Cornelius is deliberately attempting to incite fears among those members of the State Police already promoted as a result of the examination in question. The Superintendent well knows, he said, and was offered an opportunity many weeks ago to preserve the appointments already made, as was indicated in our letter to the Attorney General. Feily said his tactics of inciting member against member are as old as Methuselah: Divide and conquer.

Transparent Attack

Feily charged that the unity of the Civil Service Employees Association's membership within the Division of State Police is under open and transparent attack by the Office of the Superintendent of State Police. He said Cornelius was attempting to interfere personally in the internal affairs of the Association.

Feily also charged that, since the appointment of Superintendent Cornelius, we have not been permitted to have any formal meetings between him, members of our staff and a committee of trooper members. He said it was his belief that the present litigation, and many other problems relating to working conditions could have and would have been avoided or eliminated had there been an opportunity for a free and informal exchange of views between legitimate employee representatives and the Administration of the Division. He said the state police is the only department within the State of New York which refuses to meet with us or our representatives.

Who Won 40-Hour Week?

Feily said he intended to remind the Association's 1,400 State Police members that it was not the Superintendent who led the battle for reduction of work week hours of State Police and for other recent benefits. CSEA's representations with respect to the reduction in hours, the guaranteed half pay upon retirement and the fight against Cornelius' unconstitutional bill introduced in the last Legislature and vetoed by the governor, intended to force retirement of State Police members at age 60, were made directly through the Governor and his immediate staff, Feily said.

Syracuse Moves Toward Political Appointments Of Deputy Police Chiefs

(From Leader Correspondent)

SYRACUSE, Sept. 24—The Onondaga County Civil Service Commission was expected this week to rule on the proposal to amend local Civil Service regulations to place deputy police chiefs in the exempt classification.

Following a public hearing last week, the three-member commission reserved decision on the plan which would permit the Syracuse police chief to appoint all four deputy chiefs, without regard for Civil Service status.

Under the present system, the police chief names his first deputy, while the other two must pass Civil Service tests for the second and third deputy positions. The new proposal, which was approved by the Common Council three weeks ago, also would increase the number of deputy chiefs to four.

The Opposition

Voicing opposition to the proposed change at the hearing were Sgt. Michael Burns, president of the Police Benevolent Association;

Robert W. Hartnett, P.B.A. counsel; Assemblyman George P. Savage; Attorney Robert Z. Srogi, and Harry W. Rubin, representing the Onondaga County Veterans Council.

They opposed the plan on the same grounds as those submitted during the Common Council discussion of the proposal.

In requesting that the deputy chiefs be placed in the exempt class, Mayor William F. Walsh acknowledged that Civil Service examinations have proven to be the best method to provide and promote competent employees in government.

Mayor's Stand

But, the competitive procedure has one serious drawback, the mayor said—it does not measure leadership ability.

Mayor Walsh also said safeguards established to protect Civil Service employees "are excellent." "I am in complete sympathy with them."

But, he said, the same safeguards make it difficult to remove persons in top echelon positions if they are not performing their jobs acceptably.

He said there is "no intention at this time" to place any other positions in the exempt classifications.

The County Civil Service Commission will forward its findings to the State Civil Service Commission for any further action to be taken by the state group.

Rochester Fight

2-month period before any payroll deduction of dues is instituted for AFSCME, the same privilege extended to the union during the past few months.

Seek Recognition Delay

In public statements made since the CSEA counteraction began, City Manager Homer promised that all employee representatives would receive equal consideration in attempts to enroll members in the City of Rochester. Homer, however has not specified that he would delay recognition of AFSCME until the Association had had six weeks to two months to obtain signatures on payroll deduction authorizations.

Feily's requests to the city, which originally had been submitted last March, but went unanswered, were for the following improvements:

1. Five percent salary raise for all employees.
2. Continuation of 5 per cent reduction in employee's contribution to State Retirement System as adopted last year.
3. Extra salary increment for all city employees with 10 years of continuous service at the top of their salary grade.
4. One extra week's vacation annually for employees with 15 or more years of satisfactory service.
5. Payment by city of 50 per cent of the premium for Blue Cross-Blue Shield coverage furnished retired city employees.

Feily noted that the City had approved points two and five, above, and expressed the Association's appreciation for their action.

Influence of CSC Seen In Reduction Of Retirement Bill

A strongly-worded letter from the Civil Service Commission concerning the retirement increase may have had something to do with the recent decision of the House Post Office & Civil Service Committee.

Last week, the committee approved a bill which calls for a seven and one half per cent increase to be paid to the 600,000 Civil Service retirees and survivors. The original bill called for a 10 per cent increase which the Civil Service Commission (in a letter to the Committee) strongly denounced as unwarranted.

Under the House-approved bill, benefits such as an automatic increase in benefits by three per cent when living costs rise by that amount; an increase from 50 to 55 per cent in the amount of an earned annuity that could be paid survivors; and cost of survivor protection be lowered to two and one-half per cent on the first $2,400 of earned annuities instead of $3,600, were approved.

Survey Results Show Low Salary Level

A recent survey of retired civil servants did not reveal particularly exciting results. Of the 50,228 Federal employees who retired last year, 36,148 of these employees received five-year high salaries of less than $6,000. This means that only about 25 per cent of those retirees reached a salary of over $500 a month.

Personnel Problems Will Be Main Topic In Top Level Talks

Miami Beach, Florida has been selected as the convention site for the 1962 Public Personnel Association Conference. Departmental personnel officers, Canadian delegates, and Civil Service Commissioners will meet November 11 through 15 to discuss problems in 30 program sessions.

Included in the topics which the sessions will deal with are pay surveys, public relations, the merit system, reclassification, and provisional appointments. New ideas such as programmed learning and collective negotiation will also be dealt with.

Thomas Womble, who is the Director of Personnel for Miami Beach, has indicated that the delegates will have an opportunity to combine business with pleasure by taking advantage of after-hours activities.

A Bigger & Better Research Program Is Planned By CSC

A strengthening and reorganization is scheduled for the personnel measurement research activities of the U.S. Civil Service Commission. The personnel research program staff will now be working in close collaboration with a group of special consultants.

Under this new program, the former Test Development and Occupational Research Section in the Standards Division of the Bureau of Programs and Standards has become the Personnel Measurement Research and Development Center.

An applied studies group to carry out the operational research studies needed to support and improve examinations and standards development; a test services group to prepare testing resources and see to their effective use; and a group that will do basic research in the selection and evaluation of people, are the three groups that comprise the new center.

The identification of specific personnel problems (such as educational background and training that indicates superior quality among applicants and employees, personal characteristics, and the development of better methods for describing executive positions and selecting executives) will be aided by these consultants from the fields of psychology and testing.

$35 Million Used To Create School For Federal Execs

The higher-ups in Federal service have been informed of a new educational program for federal executives in mid-career. To date, there are nine federal officials enrolled in the fall program at Princeton University.

The aim of this new program, which was established in Princeton's Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs, is to improve public service by improving the professional competence of qualified persons and to further the careers of able men and women in government.

Anonymous donors have created an endowed foundation with assets of approximately $35 million for this "Princeton Fellow in Public Affairs." The "Fellows" or Federal executives will try to meet their specific needs and the needs of their agencies by undertaking individually arranged programs of study.

Personnel Policies & Organization Plans Discussed By NFFE

The biennial convention of the National Federation of Federal Employees was held in Phoenix, Arizona recently. Important improvements in Federal personnel policies and plans to increase organization effectiveness were among the subjects discussed at the convention.

The election of new officers was also part of the convention business. A New Yorker, Robert L. Griffiths was the opponent of reelected NFFE president, Vaux Owen. Florence L. Broadwell was also reelected to her position as secretary-treasurer.

Nathan T. Wolkowicz, Rantoul,

Illinois, was elected as first vice-president. Others elected James W. Crawford, Coulee Dam, Wash., second vice president; Robert R. Weber, Los Angeles, third vice president; Joe B. Fry, Temple, Texas, fourth vice president; George H. Alford, Jackson, Miss., fifth vice president; George W. Coon, Salt Lake City, Utah, sixth vice president; Perry B. Simms, Washington, D. C., seventh vice president; Mabel L. Thompson, Cleveland, Ohio, eighth vice president; Hasten H. Kniffin, Fort Sill, Okla., ninth vice president.

Chicago, Illinois was chosen as the site of the 1964 NFFE convention.

U.S. Has Jobs For File Clerks

Some 5,000 applicants are expected to file with the U.S. Civil Service Board of Examiners of the Social Security Administration for positions as file clerks, GS-3, paying from $67.30 a week to start.

Although filing for this position will be on a continuous basis, past experience has shown that applications are suspended shortly after the first test is given. The first test for the 1962-63 series will be held in either October or November and a register of eligibles is expected to be established by January 1.

As a result of a recent determination by the U.S. Civil Service Commission, this test is no longer directed specifically at male applicants although duties of the position require almost continual standing, bending and carrying bundles of files weighing almost 40 pounds.

Vacancies

The vacancies in this position exist at the New York Payment Center of the administration, 250 Hudson St., N.Y. 13, N.Y.

The minimum age for appointment is 18 years although this requirement will be reduced to 16 for high school graduates. There are no educational or experience requirements for this position.

The written examination for file clerks consists of at least seven topics to test aptitude for learning and adjusting to the duties of the position. These fields are:

Test Topics

Alphabetizing, computations and arithmetic reasoning, name and number comparison, word meaning, reading, spelling and grammar. The test will require about two and a half hours with additional time required for the completion of personnel sheets.

All applicants must be willing to submit to fingerprinting, the administration advises.

The minimum passing mark required is 70 percent on the entire test with a minimum score required in each of four general sections.

Physical Requirements

Applicants must be physically able to perform the duties of the position. Good distant vision in one eye and ability to read without strain, printed material the size of typewritten characters are required, glasses permitted. Ability to hear the conversational voice, with or without a hearing aid, is required.

In most instances, an amputation of leg or foot will not disqualify an applicant for appointment, although it may be necessary that this condition be compensated by use of satisfactory prosthesis.

Any physical condition which would cause the applicant to be a hazard to himself or others will disqualify him for appointment.

Supersede 1962 Register

The list of eligibles established under this announcement will supersede the register established under announcement No. 2-90-1 (1961). Persons who attained eligibility in previous examinations must apply for this new examination if they still wish to receive consideration for employment.

To file for this examination, applicants may write or visit the administration offices for application form 5000-AB and announcement number NY-90-1 (1962). These forms are also available from main post offices in Brooklyn, Jamaica and Manhattan as well as at the office of the U.S. Civil Service Commission, 220 East 42 St., N.Y. 17.

Pay, Not Hazards, Hurts Recruitment

AT the same time that the New York City Department of Personnel was reopening filing for firemen jobs, the International Association of Fire Fighters was releasing a frightening set of statistics concerning the death and injury rate among firemen throughout the country.

The figures show that 22 out of every 100 firefighters suffer some sort of crippling injury annually. The rate of death in the line of duty was 67 per 100,000 men, compared to a national average of three injuries per 100 men and 21 deaths per 100,000.

The reason that filing was reopened, or extended as the Department of Personnel prefers to call it, was the lack of response to the call for more men.

Could the lack of applicants be caused by the hazardous occupation itself? Or could it be caused by the hazards plus the lack of adequate hazardous duty pay?

These facts could and should be looked into by the Mayor's committee working on salary negotiations with representatives of New York City's 13,000 firemen and officers.

We Propose A Plank

THAT time of the year is here again! The first brisk days are on us, the leaves are starting to turn color—and the political drumbeaters are out in full blast. Primary and convention days are behind us now and with the Republicans and Democrats settling the problems and hopes of leadership to victory, it is that time of year when we, the public, are going to be given the multitude of reasons why one party will do the better for us than the other.

At the recent conventions in Syracuse (Democrat) and Buffalo (Republican) both sides issued statements calling for equal pay with private industry for the public employee. The Democrats are a little late on this one, since Rockefeller stated the goal and started working toward it some two years ago. Nevertheless, reiteration of this goal is welcome, no matter who makes it.

We think both parties have overlooked a very much needed item in the public service, however, and that is an increase in promotion opportunities. This newspaper has found that no other condition of employment, aside from wages, has the importance to public employees than his chances for advancing in the particular career in public service of his choosing. Too many are stymied at an early age by lack of opportunity for higher rank and the civil service not only kills initiative by promotion shortages but also loses good people to private industry where advancement chances are greater.

The party that would pledge a sincere effort to expand promotion opportunities in public service would find itself a ready audience among public employees. The lack of such opportunities is one of the severest drawbacks to a public career.

Civil Service LAW & YOU

By HAROLD L. HERZSTEIN

Mr. Herzstein is a member of the New York bar (The views expressed in this column are those of the writer and not necessarily constitute the views of this newspaper or of any organization.)

Pension Bills

PART TWO

SECTION 70-a, Subdivision c of the Retirement and Social Security Law permits a participating employer to elect to make contributions to employees' pension accumulation funds for the purpose of providing death benefits and pensions providing for increased take-home-pay. It is a good law. But, can a participating employer withdraw from it? That was the question!

JOSEPH M. KATZ, counsel to the State Employees' Retirement System, had it a few months ago. Now, I am sure that he knew the answer. However, it is always safe to go to the Attorney General for the answer. He wrote, in part, as follows:

May we ask that you please be good enough and advise us whether a participating employer that has elected to participate under the provisions of Chapter 339 of the Laws of 1960, and has filed with us a resolution of such election to participate, may thereafter withdraw from such participation.

Mr. Lefkowitz's Answer

MR. LEFKOWITZ was prompt in answering and he wrote:

There is no provision in the Retirement and Social Security Law which authorized a participating employer to withdraw its election once made. Absent such provision in the statute, a participating employer has no power to revoke or rescind its election (Matter of Tremaine v. Board of Supervisors of Tioga County, App. Div. 198, aff'd 278 N.Y. 496).

Your question is, therefore, answered in the negative.

THAT DID IT. Please remember that simple but powerful rule for all time. Once a participating employer makes an election, it stays with it.

THE CASE REFERRED to by Mr. Lefkowitz in making the decision above, Matter of Tremaine v. Board of Supervisors of Tioga County, was decided in 1937, still is the law and, I trust, always will be. In that case Tioga County had adopted a resolution on December 15, 1930, approving the inclusion of its officers and employees in the State Retirement System. On March 2, 1931, it adopted another resolution rescinding the first one. The Court wrote, as follows: (page 199)

This was done on the ground that the information given to the Board of Supervisors before the adoption by a representative of the Comptroller's office, while innocently given, was erroneous and they were induced by such erroneous statements to adopt the resolution in the first instance.

The power conferred by Section 75 of the Civil Service Law upon the Board of Supervisors to approve of the entry of court officers and employees into the New York State Retirement System is persuasive and when the board has legally granted its approval it has not the power to either revoke or rescind the same.

THEY ARE IN and they stay in.

Social Security Questions Answered

Below are questions on Social Security problems sent in by our readers and answered by a legal expert in the field. Anyone with a question on Social Security should write it out and send it to the Social Security Editor, Civil Service Leader, 97 Duane St., New York 7, N. Y.

"Does a person still have to pay the social security tax if he continues to work part after becoming eligible for monthly benefits?"

Yes. You must pay the tax if you are working in covered employment regardless of your age or benefit status.

"Is a worker's disability benefit reduced 20 percent the same as the old-age benefit is reduced at age 62?"

No, the disability benefit is not reduced.

"I am age 59 and my wife is age 62. She never worked under social security. Can she receive wife's benefits now or must she wait till my 62nd birthday?"

She must wait until you become

62. Dependents cannot receive benefits unless the worker is receiving benefits.

"I worked for a company that went bankrupt a year ago. How can I be sure I get credit for the social security tax they withheld from my wages?"

Obtain a postal card, Form OAR-7004, from the nearest social security office, and mail it in for a statement of earnings credited to your account. If the wages in question do not appear on the statement, report this to the Social Security Administration.

"Does a person still have to pay social security after he starts drawing the benefits? In other words, if you work part time after you retire, do they have a right to take social security out of your pay? Several of us disagree on this."

The law provides that anyone working in covered employment—full or part time—must pay the social security tax. This applies regardless of age or of the fact that you may already be getting social security benefits.

"I recently purchased a small business. At the present time I have four employees. How do I report their earnings for social security purposes, and how much do I pay on their earnings?"

You should get in touch with your nearest social security or Internal Revenue office and ask for Form SS-4. Mail the completed form to the Internal Revenue Service. They will issue you an employers identification number and provide you with the forms to report your employees.

"I hired a man to work in my business, but after three weeks I had to fire him because he couldn't do anything right. Do I still have to report his wages?"

Yes, the law requires you to report his wages and social security account number to the District Director of the Internal Revenue Service on your regular quarterly report.

A tribute to New York State's Department of Correction

#11 of a series on State Government.

The employees of the Department of Correction, under the supervision of Commissioner Paul D. McGinnis, are charged with the responsibility of administering the State's prison system. The Correction Department, though eight separate divisions, handles the responsibilities assigned to the Commissioner.

The Department was organized originally as a prison system in 1796. As the result of a series of Constitutional Amendments, it now handles the administration of seven prisons, ten reformatories including the Youth Rehabilitation Facility, and two state hospitals for the criminally insane.

The State Commission of Correction, consisting of seven persons appointed by the Governor, has the authority to establish standards for the administration of county and city jails and to investigate the management of any institution subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission.

The Correction Department and its employees thus serve to protect the security of all residents of New York State.

THE STATEWIDE PLAN . . . a combination of Blue Cross, Blue Shield and Major Medical . . . provides security and protection for most of the employees of the Department of Correction against the cost of hospital and medical care. This three-part program offers realistic coverage for all New York State employees as well, active and retired.

The vast majority of employees of the State of New York know that as subscribers to THE STATEWIDE PLAN, they are eligible for the most liberal benefits at the lowest possible cost. They know, too, that wherever they go, at home or abroad, this plan and its benefits travel with them. In this fact there is security against the worry and concern which would result from less adequate coverage.

Get all the facts about THE STATEWIDE PLAN from your Personnel or Payroll Officer. Do it now.

The Poison of Prejudice

HOW BIGOTED most of us are! How ashamed we feel for some of our thoughts, beliefs, actions, revenges and down-right unreasonableness in our daily lives. Education, tradition, heredity, job and social states, geographic and economic standing notwithstanding!

THE WORLD IS ALL aflame because of lop-sided thinking and wrong planning by some people and some governments. Our destiny may depend on this.

WE RELY TOO much on our leaders (of whatever category) to guide and control our lives. This can be good or bad, effective or otherwise for us.

THE RANK AND file citizen should study many things and take a more active part in all deliberations whether economic, social, political, governmental, religious or personal. Progress could follow!

WE ARE ALL FACED with trials, challenges and threats. What do we do? Do we face up to them or retreat in cowardice? Do we attack or are we overwhelmed and devoured by them?

INDIVIDUAL CITIZENS criticize practically everything in our community, our country and across the seas. This is good—it is human nature. Criticisms are directed at organizations, politics, church, individuals, business and a gamut of others. And not done, in many cases, for constructive action. Why?

WHEN IN TROUBLE, we seek help and are sometimes surprised by assistance rendered (or not received) to us when we are in need. However, we easily forget when the path is rosy—we revert to our own subjective, selfish, disinterested or absurd way of thinking and conformity.

WE HAVE TO WORK and support our families. Live and let live is a well respected motto. Do we always respect it? Of course not—we trample on it.

BECAUSE ONE IS BORN into a certain family, race, color, religion, country or environment, and successfully so, by whatever standards, should we be critical and discriminatory of other human beings not to our liking.

THE WORLD NEEDS understanding—not destruction. And this is just what people are doing when they ignore the dignity and rights of man.

THE "MELTING POT" of the world is ours in these United States—assimilation of all nationalities has been historical with us. The betterment of all immigrants, in all ways, has been long established, from our forefathers down to the present time. Acceptance of new people, customs, languages and education has been our goal (and extremely difficult at times), for a long time. We surmounted it in the past and are gradually trying to successfully cope with it now.

ONE OF THE MAIN concerns that exist today is the problem of the minority groups, their acceptance in the social, business, political, professional and many other levels, in our society. Many advances have been made and discrimination lessened—but a great deal remains to be done. It is a tremendous challenge for America for so many people.

WE READ AND HEAR more of discrimination, integration, segregation and equal opportunities. This is a problem for all of us—the solution of which will require hard work, patience, understanding and education in many directions for an indefinite period of time.

YOU ARE YOUR BROTHERS keeper but in order to practice good mental hygiene one must first respect the dignity of man. The gopher in practicing his natural instincts cannot be isolated—nor can be human beings.

Police-Fire Merger Discussed

fighting work.

The plan is in effect—or has been tried—in about 50 U. S. and 30 Canadian cities, according to Alderman Gentile's information. About 15 U. S. cities have abandoned integration after trying it for varying periods of time. It has never been put into effect in a New York city, it was reported. The idea was proposed some months ago in Ogdensburg, but was defeated after severe opposition from police, firemen and the Civil Service Employees Assn.

Integration of the department an alternate to reduction of manpower, reduction in services or increased taxes.

FOR

Proponents of such integration cite as advantages:

1. More prestige of the dual-purpose public safety officer.
2. The functions of both departments are compatible and have the same objective: The protection of life and property.
3. Greater manpower available in both fire and police emergencies.
4. Greater efficiency and economy for the municipality.
5. Faster response to emergencies.

Opponents argue that:

1. Employee morale is reduced because of the possible loss of job identification and conflicting types of training.
2. Police and fire jobs require different skills and training as the two functions are unrelated.
3. Different equipment and clothing are required by the two jobs; police in dress uniforms can not be expected to fight fires and do not have firemen's protective clothing with them.
4. A fire department's apparatus and men must be ready to answer alarms, which would be impossible if firemen were on police duty part of the time.
5. Simultaneous fires might strip the city of police protection, and police emergencies could leave the city without firefighting potential.

News, Notes and Comment

F.B.I. AGENTS conducted a basic course in the use of firearms from September 17th to September 28th at the National Guard Ranges, Camp Smith, Peekskill, New York. Lawmen throughout the State had been invited to participate. Sessions included handling and shooting of sub-machine guns, shot-guns, riot guns and revolvers. How come our Correctional Institutions were not invited to participate, or at least our range instructors?

UNITED STATES Treasury Department announced an examination for customs port investigators, stating "Due to the dangerous and demanding nature of the duties, the investigators are qualified for retirement at fifty years of age, after twenty years of service." Salary will exceed $6,500 and not after fifteen years, like State service.

NEW YORK CITY police and firemen now have a maximum salary after three years of service of $7,616. Firemen eligible in twenty years for retirement, police also after twenty years. After the great salary increase of Aug. 1st for State Correction Officers, the backbone of our State prisons, they now receive the magnificent salary of $6,140 and an antiquated retirement of a guaranteed one-quarter salary after 30 or 35 years of service. How far behind other law enforcement agencies can we go.

SENATOR WILLIAM Proxmire introduced a bill to offer reduced social security payments to workers who retire at sixty. There would be no increase in payments, as payments to people at sixty would be reduced by one third from the benefits at age sixty-five.

A MEETING OF Correction Department delegates is scheduled to be held during the CSEA convention in Buffalo, next month. If any member desires to present any legislative matters or problems before this committee they should instruct their chapter delegates.

RUMOR GETTING stronger throughout Correction that approval of grade 12 for correction officers is being delayed until a certain November holiday. Hobnobbing with Correction officers for some twenty-five years and knowing their deep rooted resentments against anyone trying to use them for a purpose, I can only say this could be a disastrous deviation.

DROP A CARD TO Lt. Dick Prendergast, a patient at St. Mary's Hospital, Troy, New York. Dick is the untiring secretary of the Uniformed Supervisors' Association.

AFTER THE FIRST of the year the State Office of General Services will publish an index of surplus State property. It is claimed there are some 400,000 parcels. Correction Officers should be alert for bargains in their area inasmuch as many years ago, State prisons bought large quantities of land for farms and later it was decided they could not be operated economically.

OPEN LETTER TO TROOPERS

deliberately attempting to incite fears among those members of the state police already promoted as a result of the examination in question. The Superintendent well knows, and was offered an opportunity many weeks ago to preserve the appointments already made, as was indicated in our letter to the Attorney General. His tactics of inciting member against member as as old as Methusalem: Divide and conquer. The unity of the Civil Service Employees Association's membership within the Division of State Police is under open and transparent attack by the Office of the Superintendent of the Division of State Police.

It is interesting to note, that although Mr. Cornelius denies our right to represent our members within the Division, he is now attempting to involve himself in the internal relations of this Association. Telephone call after telephone call has come to our Association as a direct result of publicity which Mr. Cornelius has given to this law suit within the confines of the Division of State Police. That publicity, I might add, is wholly and grossly inaccurate, and I deeply resent Mr. Cornelius' action.

Who Fights For Troopers?

I would like to remind our members that it was not the Superintendent of State Police who led the battle for reduction in the hours of work of state police and for other recent benefits. He wasn't even around when this was begun. Our representations with respect to the reduction in hours, the guaranteed half-pay union retirement and the fight against his illegal bill introduced to the last Legislature, intending to force retirement of state police members at age 60, were made directly through the Governor and his immediate staff.

As long as we continue to accept our membership dues from members of the Division of State Police we will continue to fight for a competitive Merit System within the Division as a matter of overriding principle, and at the same time we will continue to represent our members reasonable, rationally, independently, and with integrity.

Very truly yours,
JOSEPH F. FEELY
President

Binghamton Sets Pay Hike for Fire, Police

(From Leader Correspondent)

BINGHAMTON—A pay rise of between $700 and $1,000 appears likely for the city's police and firemen in 1963.

Such a raise would be less than the $1,500 increase being sought by members of both bureaus. It would, however, be one of the largest pay raises ever granted to city workers in Binghamton.

Although Mayor John J. Burns would make no guess as to the amount of pay raises he would favor, he and other members of his administration are known to feel that sizeable increases are justified for both bureaus.

The Fire Bureau consists of 170 men. The Police Bureau has 139 men.

Comparative Cost

To grant a $1,000 pay raise would cost a total of $309,000. A $700 raise would cost $214,900. The requested $1,500 increase would total $463,500.

The present salary of first grade patrolmen and first grade firemen is $4,983.

In addition to $1,500 annual raises, the firemen have asked that their work be cut next year to 48 hours. They now work 56 hours.

To establish a 48-hour week, Mayor Burns said, would require about 20 additional firemen.

May Stop "Moonlighting"

Acting Fire Marshal Martin D. Scalone, spokesman for the firemen, said he believes much of the "moonlighting" by the bureau's personnel would be stopped if the $1,500 raise were approved. Moonlighting is the practice of holding a second job. Many firemen and policemen maintain they must hold a second job to support their families.

Albany Tax Chap. Sets Retirement Forum; Oct. 23

Frank Carrk, president of the Albany Tax Chapter, of the Civil Service Employees Association, has announced plans for a retirement forum to be held on Tuesday evening, October 23, at the auditorium of the State Health Department, Holland Ave., Albany.

Speakers will include Daniel Pagano, assistant director of Retirement Administrative Services, State Employees Retirement System, and Edward C. Hannan, district manager, Social Security Administration.

Asks Local Law

Erie Chapter Plans Easier UF Contribution

BUFFALO, Sept. 24—The Erie County Civil Service Employees Association has asked the Board of Supervisors to approve a law that will permit payroll deductions for gifts to the United Fund here.

The Association's executive committee, headed by George F. Engler, has approved the plan.

Voluntary deductions would have to be approved by individual employees. It is believed the plan will swell United Fund contributions because they would be made in installments.

Nassau Officials Like Merit Idea But Differ On Who Decides Awards

MINEOLA, Sept. 24—Nassau County Executive Eugene H. Nickerson has asked the Nassau Board of Supervisors to establish a merit-award system for county employees who suggest ways of saving the taxpayers' money.

The Nickerson proposal won immediate approval, in principle, from the Republican-controlled board but they fell to haggling with Nickerson, a Democrat, over who should be in charge of deciding on the awards. Nickerson had suggested that the merit-award board, which would judge the suggestions, should consist of himself, the county controller, and the county commissioners of police, public welfare and public works. However, Oyster Bay Supervisor John J. Burns argued that the law required the merit board to consist of Nickerson and other members chosen by the GOP board.

Typical "Hassle"

The hassle was reflective of numerous Nickerson-GOP clashes, especially where the favor of the county employees is concerned. Nickerson, in proposing the merit awards, said, "I welcome this opportunity to compensate county employees who submit ideas that will benefit our government and its citizens." He said similar boards were in operation in various counties and in the state government.

Nickerson said that worthwhile ideas that were not measurable in terms of monetary savings would receive a $25 award. Awards for money-saving ideas will range up to $100.

CSEA Lauds Idea

The merit award idea won praise from Irving Flaumenbau, president of the Nassau Chapter, Civil Service Employees Association. Said Flaumenbau, "This is a fine idea. It will go a long way toward improving employee morale and keeping it at a high level. We are sure it will be successful."
