ALBANY, April 20 — The executive board of directors of the Civil Service Employees Association, at a special meeting called to determine policy on the next move in the campaign for a pay increase for State employees, decided to try to get the project of a 10 percent raise on the agenda of the special legislative session that Governor Dewey will call.

Unless the Governor includes the project, it could not be considered by the special session. If not included in the Governor's call, a subject may not be introduced even by unanimous consent.

Article IV Section 3 of the State Constitution provides:

"The Governor . . . shall have power to convene the Legislature, or the Senate only, on extraordinary occasions. At extraordinary sessions no subject shall be acted upon, except such as the Governor may recommend for consideration."

Upward Reallocations

The resolution adopted by the board of directors empowers the president, other officers, and the conference committee to resume negotiations on pay "with the Governor, the Budget Director, and any other appropriate State official," not only on a general salary increase, but in regard to upward reallocations of particular titles. Resumption had previously been forbidden by the board.

Budget Director T. Norman Hurd has himself stated that there are inequities in the State pay scales that should be corrected. While the Association is seeking a minimum 10 percent increase for State employees, it also favors rectification of injustices in the case of particular titles.

J. Earl Kelly, Director of Classification and Compensation, State Civil Service Department, has made recommendations to Mr. Hurd of upward reallocations of various titles. The Association is heartily in favor of these recommendations, as well as of others that have not yet been made, but points out that the $100,000 appropriated for upward reallocations is far below minimum need. Hence the Association wants the call for the special session to include not only the general salary increase, but additional appropriation to take care of upward reallocations.

McFarland in Chair

The Association delegates felt that there was likelihood that additional funds for reallocation could be obtained, since the appropriation falls so far short of equity.

President Jesse B. McFarland presided.

Western Conference To Meet on April 25

BUFFALO, April 20 — The Western New York Conference of the Civil Service Employees Association will hold its spring meeting on Saturday, April 25 at Gowanda State Hospital. The Gowanda State Hospital chapter will be host to the conference.

The afternoon session will open at 3 P.M. at the hospital. The topic for the afternoon meeting will be "Retirement for State Employees." Isaac S. Hungerford, assistant director, New York State Employees' Retirement System, will be the principal speaker.

The dinner and evening session will be held at the American Legion Clubhouse in Gowanda.

Unique Show

Vito Ferro, president of the host chapter, says a different type of entertainment will be offered, a unique floor show, none of the details of which he will divulge.

The same morning at the Gowanda State Hospital the Western Conference will begin a new course of leadership training for civil service employees. The first of three classes will be conducted by Dr. George Strauss of Rochester in conjunction with the conference meeting. The courses are sponsored and directed by Cornell University and both the State and County chapters within the Conference area have been invited.

Buffalo Bonus Is Frozen In

BUFFALO, April 20 — As a result of efforts by the Civil Service Employees Association, the $500 emergency compensation has been frozen in the basic pay scale. The Common Council voted the bill.

The Association chapter put up a strong plea for an additional 10 percent raise in pay, but this campaign was not successful. The City of Buffalo at the present time has a difficult fiscal problem that they are facing. The Association, in its representation for improved employee benefits, made several suggestions that would be helpful in preventing the recurrence of the fiscal problems now faced by the Mayor and Council.

The employees expressed gratification over the gain that they did make in the merging of this sizeable sum into basic pay scales.

KERKER TO DELIVER COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS

ALBANY, April 20 — Phillip Kerker, director of public relations of the Civil Service Employees Association, has been asked to deliver the commencement address at the Oxford Academy, Oxford, N. Y., on June 22 at 8:00 P. M.

Metropolitan Conference Art Show Opens June 5

The second annual art show of the Metropolitan Conference of the Civil Service Employees Association will be held at the Riverside Museum, 103rd Street and Riverside Drive, NYC, from June 5 to 19.

There will be five groups of exhibits: oil, water color, ceramic, sculpture, and black and white. The best exhibit will receive a cash prize, by a vote of both the expert jury and the public. Besides, there will be three prizes of cash or bonds, to be awarded by the jury alone. The jury consists of art critics and art teachers.

Exhibitors should deliver their offerings to the museum on June 1 from 1 P.M. to 9 P.M. Complete rules will appear in next weeks LEADER.

Henry Shemin is chairman of the Conference's art show committee.

Employee Activities

Rockland State Hospital

AT A RECENT meeting of the Rockland State Hospital chapter, CSEA, Marion Howell, chairman of the education committee, reported on the adult education program. Her committee has worked with the Pearl River High School to bring evening courses to hospital employees. One course in weaving, conducted by Fred Jaekels, occupational therapist, was held at the hospital, utilizing hospital equipment. Most courses are given at the high school. A similar course is being repeated during the second semester because of demand for it by members of the occupational therapy department. Miss Howell said that employee interest would stimulate other and more advanced courses.

A complete executive committee will be chosen at this year's elections, to be held in June. Nominations will take place in May, and all names of candidates should be submitted before the May chapter meeting. One ballot with names of officer and executive committee nominees will be distributed. Members of the nominating committee are Lewis V. Van Huben, chairman; Grace Ottenheimer, Jim Nolan, Marion Howell, Mayfred Veitch and George Cornish.

Because most hospital employees have half-hour lunch periods, the chapter contacted Pearl River banks to see if employees might cash pay checks after working hours. The State Bank and the First National are open Fridays from 9 A.M. to 8:30 P.M. Richard Barnett, vice president of the State Bank, reported that these hours were originally instituted at the suggestion of hospital employees.

At the chapter's March meeting Herbert Swinden was selected as hospital representative on the advisory committee to set up a summer recreation program for children of the community. The Pearl River Board of Education had requested that the chapter choose a member of the board.

Thank-you notes were received from the Summit Park Patients Club, for recent contributions, and from Dorothy Jones and Dr. Baldwin, for flowers sent on the death of members of their families.

The CSEA annual meeting at Rochester was reported on at the March meeting, and legislation of especial interest to Mental Hygiene employees was discussed.

The chapter's annual dinner will be held on Saturday, May 23 at Dorman's Club 59, Nanuet. Tickets, at $3 per person, include the usual "extras." Only 100 reservations will be accepted, and none may be made after May 10. The menu and entertainment program will be tops. The usual awards will be made. Dinner committee members are Rebella Eufemio, Marion Howell, Irene Pook, Rose Johnson, Lewis Van Huben, Dick Burns and Bill Kunze.

CSEA members who haven't paid their yearly dues should do so at the first opportunity. Group life, sickness and accident insurance policies will be cancelled if dues are in arrears.

At present Rockland State Hospital chapter, CSEA, has 817 members, while 229 belong to the Mental Hygiene Association. The MHA fights exclusively for benefits for

Bills Signed Into Law

The following measures affecting civil service employees in New York State have been signed into law by Governor Dewey.

Chapter number of the Laws of 1953 is given first, then Senate or Assembly introductory number, and sponsoring legislator.

569. A.I. 2955, WILCOX — Amends Civil Service Law to conform with recent Court of Appeals' decision to provide that promotion candidates must be in direct line of promotion. Promotions not in direct line require action of Civil Service Commission.

619. A.I. 2569, BARRETT; 620. S.I. 2262, MITCHELL; 621. S.I. 2263, MITCHELL — These bills permit non-member of State Retirement System to obtain Federal old age and survivors' insurance coverage if the State or subdivision shall agree to such coverage.

635. S.I. 939, MILMOE — Continues to July 1, 1954 provision that final average salary for teachers retirement purposes may mean maximum salary which retired member would be receiving in position from which he was last retired for disability.

673. A.I. 559, WILSON — Requires that appointee to police departments in villages and towns of Westchester County must have continued to reside in any such village or town up to and including time of appointment, as well as for six months preceding date of filing application.

696. S.I. 2593, LANZILLOTTI — Permits employee after NYC service of over 30 years and transfer as civil employee to education board, the retirement system of which is supported by city funds, to continue membership in NYC Employees' Retirement System, pay contributions, and receive credit for service rendered.

745. A.I.3040, MacKENZIE — Re-enacts provision allowing public employees employed, at time of entering U. S. military service and who became members of State Employees' Retirement System after discharge, credit for military service.

Bills Disapproved

Ten bills concerning retirement and other civil service matters were vetoed last week by Governor Dewey.

In disapproving a measure which would have allowed members of the NYC Employees' Retirement System to retire at age 50 after 25 years' service and to receive annuity and pension, the Governor said:

"Under this bill a person need only be a member of the System when he attains age 50 and has completed at least 25 years of service; he could have ceased work several years before and still be a member at age 50.

"Accordingly, this bill presents the question of whether a person who has rendered at least 25 years of service should be permitted to vest his retirement allowance (and the option selected therewith) before he attains his minimum retirement age while in City service. It is noted that the bill is not conditioned on the fact that the member terminated his employment with the City because he was undertaking more useful service for another agency of government.

"The effect of the privilege extended by this bill will be twofold. It will increase the City's costs for retirements and secondly, it would undoubtedly deprive the City of at least five years of service of some of its valued and trained employees at the time in their careers when their services are likely to be very valuable to the City."

The measure was Assembly Int. 20, by Thomas Dwyer.

Teachers' Bill Vetoed

The Governor also rejected Assembly Int. 3227, by the Rules Committee, which would have required the NYC Teachers' Retirement System to provide life insurance on a member up to $2,000, with no cost to the member, for moneys borrowed from pension contributions. The purpose of the bill was to provide the same loan insurance provisions as are available to members of the NYC Employees' Retirement System.

In a memorandum filed with his disapproval, Governor Dewey cited the objection of Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri, who said: "The provisions of law relating to loan insurance for members of the New York City Employees' Retirement System require the borrowing member to repay such loans with interest at 2 percent higher than the regular rate of interest paid by the City on his contributions to the System.

"The provisions of law relating to loans for members of the Teachers' Retirement System require the borrowing member to repay such loans at 5 percent interest. Since this bill would require the loan insurance to be provided without cost to such members, the Teachers' Retirement System would receive 2 percent from borrowing members who are paid at the 3 percent rate, but only 1 percent from those who receive the 4 percent rate.

"While I have no objection to the principle of providing similar loan insurance for members of retirement systems other than for those in the City Retirement System, I feel that such proposals should contain similar interest rate provisions."

Other Bills Vetoed

The following bills were vetoed without an accompanying statement by the Governor:

A bill to allow officers and employees of New York County General Sessions Court, after 25 years of service, to receive additional annuity of one percent of final salary, for each year in excess of 25, but not more than 3/4th of final salary. (S.I.1844, Mitchell).

A bill to permit members of the State Legislature to elect to contribute to the State Employees' Retirement System for retirement after ten terms, instead of 20 years of service. Would have limited such provisions to service since January 1, 1938. (S.I.2271, Moritt).

A bill to continue to July 1, 1953 the provision that members of the State Teachers' Retirement System might elect to join the special service retirement plan. (S.I.1232, Brydges).

A bill to allow a member of the NYC Employees' Retirement System, who thereafter served as U. S. marshal during World War II and is reemployed with NYC and restored to membership in the System, to contribute the amount which would have been contributed had such service been City service, if he had had at least seven years of City employment after Federal service, and 15 years as a member of the System. (S.I. 883, Tompkins, and A.I.1469, Savarese).

A bill to allow a member of the NYC Teachers' Retirement System credit toward service retirement for time spent while on leave or leaves of absence for maternity, after 12 years of total service. (A.I.1029, Ten Eyck).

A bill to provide that a member of police departments in towns and villages of Westchester County might be appointed within one year from date of resignation, without seeking reinstatement to position to which he was eligible to transfer.

A bill to allow veterans who served in the U. S. armed forces during World War II and were honorably discharged, credit for time elapsed between date of appointment or promotion of the veterans, in any local pension fund or retirement system. (A.I. 919, Wilson).

Accident and Sickness Policy Benefits Widely Increased; No Extra Cost

Ter Bush & Powell, Inc. of Schenectady, administrators of the Group Plan Accident and Sickness Insurance for members of the Civil Service Employees Association, have announced that all new policies written in the Travelers Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn., will be mailed out within the next few weeks to over 22,000 insured members of the Association. The effective date of this great new plan of insurance is July 1, 1953 so all insured members will have their new policies at least a full sixty days before they are due to go into effect.

This is the completely new policy that has taken almost a full year of work to develop. This great new policy starts out with the same broad coverage and low, low rates of the present policy and adds to that four great new, liberal benefits that makes it the very finest Group Plan Accident and Sickness Insurance policy to be made available to public employees anywhere.

All this broad basic coverage is provided:

Full 24-hour round-the-clock coverage.

Ten-year non-occupational accident coverage.

12-month occupational accident coverage.

Full sickness coverage (including arthritis, cancer, heart disease, hernia, etc.)

12 months' aggregate coverage for tuberculosis

Pregnancy and all female disorders covered

All male disorders covered

Policy covers for existing conditions listed on application

Up to full month's indemnity for non-disabling injuries

Coverage to age 70

Special low rates under age 40

No house confinement (except for periods of leave of absence and vacation)

No reduction in coverage or increase in rates after policy is issued due to impairment of health

Plus, These Four New Benefits:

Increase in principal sum to $2,500

Two years' sickness coverage

Sickness coverage during first seven days when confined to a hospital

Lump sum indemnity for amputations, dislocations and fractures

No Increase in Rates

Special very important notice to all presently insured members; please read carefully:

You will find enclosed with your new policy, say Ter Bush & Powell, a postage-paid, return addressed postcard. This card is very important to you and very necessary to the agency in seeing to it that you and your beneficiary are completely protected under this great new plan of insurance, so please fill it out completely and drop it in the mail as soon as you get it. The beneficiary you will find named in your new policy is the one you designated at the time you applied for this insurance or the one you requested us to name since the issuance of your present policy. Since it is very possible, and in a lot of cases even very probable, that you will want to name a new beneficiary under your new policy with The Travelers, it is very important that you indicate on the return addressed postcard if the beneficiary named on your new policy is correct, or if you want to designate a new beneficiary. Because there are over 22,000 insured members from whom the Agency must receive this card, and in order that your record in the Agency's file is brought correctly up to date before the policy goes into effect, it is very important that you fill out your card and drop it in the mail as soon as you receive it. Please remember, this is very important to you in seeing to it that the beneficiary you want is named in your policy.

Indemnity Amounts

Also, when you get your policy, note the amount of monthly indemnity which is shown on the first page of the policy. Then look below and see if you have the maximum amount of Monthly Indemnity for which your annual salary classification entitles you. If you are presently insured for less than $75 a month, you may increase your Monthly Indemnity to at least $75 by simply writing to the Agency, Ter Bush & Powell, Inc. at 148 Clinton St., Schenectady, New York and asking that your Monthly Indemnity be increased to $75 so that you, too, can qualify for the four great new benefits that are being added to this seventeen year old plan at no increase in cost. But you must act now because this offer will be good only until August 29, 1953. That is the last date you can increase your Monthly Indemnity to $75 without having to fill out an application and without regard to your past or present medical history. You have only 60 days from July 1, 1953, the date your policy becomes effective, but why wait and let it slip your mind? Do it now! Protect yourself with adequate Monthly Indemnity against the high cost of sickness and injury while you can, before disability strikes you.

How to Set Higher Coverage

If you want to have your monthly indemnity increased over $75 to that amount for which you are qualified by virtue of your annual salary classification, simply fill out an application form and payroll deduction card which you will find in a forthcoming edition of this paper or with your Chapter representative. If you want a supply of these new application forms and deduction cards, just write the Agency and they will be glad to forward them to you.

Ready With Representatives

Since the publication in the April 14 issue of The LEADER describing the new plan, there has been a great demand for further information and for salesmen to appear in various units of the Association to obtain applications from Association members and prospective members.

The new plan is so all-inclusive that it actually sells itself, says Ter Bush & Powell, general agents of the Travelers Insurance Company. The agency will have one of its representatives, acquainted with the new plan, appear before groups of any of the chapters of the Association to explain the plan and answer questions. Brochures and applications can be filled out completely at the meeting. Brochures will be distributed, too. Any date during May would be satisfactory. Applications taken during May, when approved by the company, will be made effective not later than July 15, 1953.

Armory Conference Dinner Is Set for May 21 in NYC

The State Armory Employees Conference will hold its seventh annual dinner in the 71st Regiment Armory, NYC, 34th Street and Park Avenue, NYC, on Thursday evening, May 21. Frank M. Gonsalves is chairman of the arrangements committee.

While the meeting is restricted to delegates and members, Mr. Gonsalves recommends that those attending bring their families to NYC "for that long-deserved weekend of pleasure." He has made arrangements for garage facilities, for those making the trip by car.

May 1 is the deadline for making reservations for staying at the Hotel Vanderbilt, Park Avenue and 34th Street, and for attending the dinner. Remittance for attending the dinner should accompany the reservation and both should be transmitted through the members' chapter.

The Conference activities will extend over into the following day.

Dewey Signs Bills Opening Social Security to 100,000

ALBANY, April 20 — Governor Dewey signed three bills to make possible Social Security coverage for employees of the State or its communities, not now covered by or eligible for public employee retirement systems. Should the Federal law be amended to permit adding Social Security coverage to that provided by public employee retirement systems, no further State legislation would be required.

Governor's Memorandum

In his memorandum Governor Dewey said: "Under recent amendments to the Federal Social Security Act it became possible to provide old age and survivor's insurance coverage for public employees who are not covered by membership in a State or local pension system. Last year I requested the State Comptroller to initiate a study of the extension of Social Security coverage to such employees.

"These bills implement the recommendations of the Comptroller's Committee on Pensions and will permit the provision of Social Security benefits for State and local employees who are not members of an existing retirement system. It is estimated that there are 100,000 employees who may ultimately be benefited by those laws. They include part-time and seasonal employees of the State; employees of villages and towns which have no pension system of their own and do not participate in the State Retirement System; and employees of school districts who do not now enjoy the benefits of any retirement program.

"Under the provisions of the bills, municipalities and other local governmental agencies may elect to provide old age and survivor's insurance for eligible employees by resolution of the local legislative body. Coverage may be made retroactive to January 1, 1951 if the employer and employees are willing to pay the contributions that are necessary."

Identity of Bills

The bills were Assembly Int. 2569 and Senate Int. 2262 and 2263. Concerning Int. 2263 (Assembly 2569), the Governor wrote additionally:

"I have consistently advocated the extension of security programs to provide fullest coverage for our people. The adequate development of pension and retirement programs is a far better solution for the economic problems of the aged and the families of wage earners than welfare assistance. The Comptroller's Committee made up of representatives of the State, its municipalities and school districts, public employees and other persons expert in retirement problems, has made a constructive and valuable contribution to the solution of this problem. The legislation it has recommended is in the public interest and deserving of our fullest support."

Outsiders Get Break

One of the new laws (Senate Int. 2263) excludes part-time, seasonal and temporary employees from eligibility to retirement system membership, and thus makes them eligible for Social Security. At present, as their employers did not participate in the State Employees Retirement System, these workers have no pension coverage. Present Federal law excludes Social Security to members or eligibles of public employee retirement systems.

The extension acts will allow about 40,000 NYC employees to be covered by Federal old age and survivors insurance. Upstate it will allow employees of school districts and other public workers, who haven't been included heretofore in any retirement plan, to be covered.

Such employees will pay one and one-half percent of their total wages, on up to $3,600, their share of contributions. The State will act as collecting agency, thus guaranteeing continuance of the plan should a locality miss any payments.

McFarland Aided Social Security Study

ALBANY, April 20 — Governor Thomas E. Dewey signed bills extending Federal Social Security eligibility to about 100,000 public workers in New York State.

The bills are the result of a long study by a special committee named and headed by Comptroller J. Raymond McGovern.

Serving on the committee with McGovern, in addition to many State officials and representatives of towns and villages, was Jesse B. McFarland, president of the Civil Service Employees Association. Also serving on the committee were Senator MacNeil Mitchell and Assemblyman Elisha T. Barrett, who sponsored the bill in their respective Houses.

Association Aim

The legislation authorizes the State Comptroller to arrange for Federal Old Age and Survivors Insurance for those employees of towns, villages and school districts who are not now members of or eligible to either the State Retirement or the Teachers Retirement system.

An accompanying bill specifically closed off eligibility for entrance in State Retirement to many of these workers, to establish their eligibility for Federal coverage.

Figures from the State Retirement System indicate there are 430,000 public employees in the State. Of these, about 340,000 are covered by a public retirement plan. This leaves about 100,000—the figure might be higher—to be covered under the new law.

Such protection for public employees has long been an aim of the Association, which has vigorously supported actions aimed at extending Federal coverage to those not otherwise guaranteed any sort of pension protection.

Dewey Hails Project

Governor Dewey, in his message to the Legislature which accompanied the report of the Comptroller's special committee, hailed the proposal by saying:

"It is in the public interest that gaps in our security programs be eliminated without delay and I wholeheartedly commend the proposals of the committee to you for your favorable consideration."

Costs of administering the program will be divided between the State and participating local agencies of government.

Four to Be Appointed Title Examiners

ALBANY, April 20 — Attorney General Nathaniel L. Goldstein is expected to appoint two Albany men as title examiners at $6,088 a year, Morris Koffsky and Nicholas J. Barry, Jr., both presently employed in the Law Department. An appointment to the same title is expected to be made soon in NYC and another in Binghamton. The title examiner list was certified two weeks ago.

Chapter Activities

Dannemora

THE IN-SERVICE training school for institutional personnel at Dannemora has been completed. All of the uniformed forces participated. Charge and senior attendants attended on a voluntary basis. This school is history in the making. The Department of Correction has for the first time given attendants at Dannemora and Matteawan State Hospitals an opportunity to gain a broader prospective of their job, both within the institution and within the department. Dr. Shaw and the medical and supervisory staffs are to be congratulated for the manner in which the lectures were prepared and delivered. A change of instructors was necessary when Lt. Daniel Damon transferred from Clinton Prison to Auburn Prison as acting assistant principal keeper. Lt. Richard Simons took over his lectures. Congratulations to the former lieutenant upon his promotion, and thanks to both men for a job well done.

The bowling season closes this week, with a tie between King's team and Kourofsky's team. The third-place team, Gilroy's, is but a point and a half behind the leaders and is slated to meet King's team on the final night of the season.

Bowling league officers Robert Parker and William Pollock have gone ahead with plans for the annual tournaments. At the last league business meeting, John Kourorsky, Cecil McMillan and Royal Noelting were named to the banquet committee.

Clinton Manley is back on the job after a siege at the hospital in Plattsburg. Harold Ducatte is now resting at home in Cadyville prior to undergoing surgery.

Newest residents in town include baby daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Cumm, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Herron and Dr. and Mrs. Sulek. The Lloyd Welch's also have a permanent alarm clock

Vanderbilt Resigns; Boyd to Fill Post

Eugene Vanderbilt, connected with Ter Bush & Powell for the past five years as assistant to Charles A. Carlisle, Jr. in the administration of the Civil Service Group Plan of Accident and Sickness Insurance, is going to work for another insurance company on May 1. Robert N. (Bob) Boyd, who has been with Ter Bush & Powell, assisting in the administration of many large state-wide Association groups, takes over Mr. Vanderbilt's job.

Mr. Boyd is an experienced insurance man with knowledge of the civil service plan.

"He will be around to help all groups that desire his assistance," said Mr. Carlisle. "Don't hesitate to write him at 148 Clinton Street, Schenectady 1, N. Y."

The many friends of Mr. Vanderbilt were sorry that he was leaving.

these mornings. Congratulations. Mrs. Frances Orr Kester was guest organist at a recital for inmates. The male chorus also performed, under the director of Lynn King. The program was enthusiastically received by an appreciative audience.

Dr. Clarence Savage, senior dentist, drove to Buffalo to visit relatives and friends during the Easter holiday. The doctor piloted a new Cadillac.

The latest change in uniformed personnel is the transfer of Maurice Martin to Matteawan. Down there, Maurice becomes eligible for a transfer back to Dannemora on a permanent basis. The uncompleted building project may be the reason for delays in such transfers.

Margaret Douglas of the front office and her husband and his parents visited NYC. Mrs. Grace Manogue, principal stenographer, underwent major surgery recently and is now recovering. Best wishes.

Among the uniformed personnel who took the latest prison guard exam are Richard McCorry, Charles Barnes, John LaGree, Harold Smith, Leon LaGree, Harold Cromie and Lloyd Welch.

Latest father of the bride is Henry Garrow, whose daughter was married recently at St. Joseph's Church, Dannemora.

Sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Allison upon the recent death of Mrs. Allison's mother, Mrs. Belle Manley. Mrs. Manley had lived with the Allison's for several years.

There was great disappointment over failure of Budget Director T. Normal Hurd to approve upgrading to Grade 10. Just have to "wait til next year."

Efficiency ratings, with the new system of grading, have been given out. Ratings are outstanding, superior, good, fair and unsatisfactory. So far, no one seems to have gotten either of the extreme ratings. There's still much griping.

Ideas put in the suggestion box will be tried out one each month. Dr. Francis C. Shaw, director, met with Dr. Ross Herold, institutional personnel officer; Arthur S. Lefevre, senior business officer; Owen Brooks, chief attendant, and Howard J. St. Clair, chapter president. They considered merits of suggestions submitted. Dr. Shaw urges participation in the suggestion program.

Rev. Ambrose R. Hyland, former Catholic chaplain, was presented with a purse by Dr. Shaw at St. Patrick's Church, Chateaugay, in the presence of Mr. Brooks, Stephen Mullady, charge attendant, and Mr. St. Clair. Dr. Shaw called the gift a token of the deep affection and appreciation of the employees. Father Hyland will be greatly missed. Dr. Shaw thanked Father Hyland for his gift of a gold tabernacle which will be used in the new chapel when it is completed. It is in memory of his mother, Mrs. John Hyland.

Drawing for vacations is now over, and the swapping has begun as each man attempts to get the vacation period he wants. Some men are wondering how they'll spend their winter vacation in 1954. A new innovation, the posting of vacation period and by whom it was drawn, makes trading much easier.

Four hospital officials have articles printed in the monthly issue of Correction, the departmental publication. The articles deal with problems of administration and treatment of the criminally insane and were part of the in-service training program. They are: The Function of Psychiatry, by Dr. Shaw; Types of Mental Illness, by Dr. Herold; Functions of Special Services on Patient Treatment, by Dr. Harold E. Hartnett, assistant director; and Hospital Terminology, by Dr. Joseph Fulep, supervising psychiatrist.

Dr. Foster Is Appointed Assistant Commissioner Of Mental Hygiene

ALBANY, April 20 — The appointment of Dr. Richard V. Foster, director of Gowanda State Homeopathic Hospital, as Assistant Commissioner was announced by Dr. Newton Bigelow, Commissioner of Mental Hygiene. The appointment became effective April 16. The new position, carries a beginning salary of $12,521.

Dr. Foster has been in State hospital service 20 years. Born in 1904 in NYC, he was awarded a scholarship to Columbia College. Upon graduation from college he received another scholarship to the College of Physicians and Surgeons, Columbia University, from which he received his medical degree in 1930.

Steady Rise

Dr. Foster became a member of the staff at Rockland State Hospital in 1932, following internship at Grasslands Hospital, Valhalla. Six years later he was appointed senior assistant physician at Pilgrim State Hospital and after four years in that position he became assistant director. Early in 1951 he was appointed associate director of Central Islip State Hospital and in July 1951 went to Gowanda State Homeopathic Hospital, Helmhuth, N. Y., as director.

He is a diplomate of the American Board of Medical Examiners and holds certificates in both neurology and psychiatry from the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology. For two years, in 1946 and 1948, Dr. Foster served as acting medical inspector for the Department of Mental Hygiene. During World War II and again in 1951, he was also examining neuropsychiatrist at the Army Recruiting and Induction Center in New York City. He has also been chairman of the committee on personnel problems of the American Psychiatric Association section on hospitals.

New Booklet Describes Mental Hygiene Work

ALBANY, April 20 — "This Is Your Job," a new booklet for employees in State hospitals and schools, is being distributed to the 28,000 persons employed in the 27 institutions maintained by the New York State Department of Mental Hygiene, Dr. Newton Bigelow, Commissioner of Mental Hygiene, announced.

The 33-page colorfully designed book is the first of its kind prepared by the department. It is an easy-to-read guide to institutional service. Written in a popular style, it is illustrated with cartoons by Bob Gustafson, who draws the comic strip, "Tillie the Toiler."

Bigelow Describes Purpose

"The purpose," the Commissioner said, "is to orient the employee, particularly the new employee, to the functions of the institution, the important role he will play, and what is expected of him. It attempts to prepare him for some of the problems he will encounter and to make him aware of the contribution he can make."

The booklet will replace the former employee manuals.

The major portion of the booklet deals with patients and the ways employees may assist them to better mental health and shield them from injury or exploitation.

Mental Hygiene Attendants to Receive Awards

Mental hospital attendants, known professionally as psychiatric aides, will be honored throughout the country by the National Association for Mental Health. The Association received entries until March 15 for its psychiatric aide achievement award program.

A hospital attendant will be chosen in each mental hospital for outstanding service to patients. The awards will be presented during Mental Health Week from May 3 to 9. Some 360 State, Federal and private mental hospitals are expected to participate.

This organization recognizes that persons who perform ward duties in mental hospitals, and who have close daily contact with the patients, play an important part in helping them to recover. It recognizes the human element is very important, often the key to recovery.

The awards will be based on recommendations by superiors, co-workers and patients.

Higher Pay Held Necessary
Arnold Moses, president, Brooklyn State Hospital chapter, Civil Service Employees Association, said:

"The awards place the emphasis where it belongs. Psychiatric aides for too long have been the neglected weak link in psychiatric treatment. Their salaries have been and are much too low to attract and hold the people best suited to this work.

"State legislatures, backed by citizens, can do much about the salaries. Already an aroused citizenry has bettered budgets of mental hospitals in several states. This group of employees has placed its case before J. Earl Kelly, Director of Reclassification and Compensation, for a raise. The employees should not have to wait until April, 1954 for it to become effective.

"The Commission on Coordination of State Activities, headed by Senator Walter J. Mahoney, in a report to Governor Dewey states that 'New York has developed a corps of career public servants which ranks with the best in the nation'. In the Mahoney report it is stated that positive measures are required if the State is to attract and to hold its proper share of the able men and women entering the labor market.

"New York State should be the leader, not a reluctant follower in the nation in this field."

ALBANY, April 20 — David Low, P. Koivukoski and W. J. Scott of the Fire Marshal's Office, Toronto, Canada, visited the headquarters of the Civil Service Employees Association at Albany recently and discussed problems of the Canadian and New York State civil service with William F. McDonough and Joseph D. Lochner.

Women Start Drive for More Ranking Jobs

The plea, yea, demand of Helen G. Erwin, that every department of the Federal Government should have women in posts at the planning and executive level, deserves attention. In Des Moines, Iowa, she told the National Federation of Business and Professional Women, of which she is president, there also should be women on the Federal Bench, including the United States Supreme Court. She's right.

Miss Erwin said "we will never rest" until that overall goal is achieved.

She might have included State and local governments, the sum total of which, in population governed, and possibly in importance, is on a par with Federal Government.

The good cause will never be won, as Miss Erwin no doubt realizes, by campaigning among those on whose behalf she is campaigning. She and her committee should raise their eloquent voices, for instance, before the Men's Council of Federal Planners and Executives. If such a group can be convinced, the battle is as good as won.

Two members of the NYC chapter, Civil Service Employees Association, wield symbolic shovels at the laying of the cornerstone of what will be the nation's largest college of medicine, on Clarkson Avenue, Brooklyn. From left, Robert Baner, State University maintenance department, and Raymond Goldfinger, State University representative on the board of directors of the chapter. The photograph was taken by Jack Illari, also a member of the chapter. The college will be run by the State University.

Some Government Units Pay 100 P.C. Of Health Premiums

Eighty-eight cities and counties in 24 states pay from 25 to 100 percent of the cost of hospitalization or surgical insurance for their employees, reports the Civil Service Assembly.

Twenty-five of the 88 cities and counties pay 100 percent of the cost. Fifty cities pay between 50 and 70 percent while only six cities pay 40 percent or less.

In Austin, Tex., Escanaba, Mich., and Kenosha and Racine counties, Wis., 100 percent of the cost of hospitalization and surgical insurance premiums for employees is paid by the governmental unit, as well as one-half the cost of insurance for employees' families. In Racine and West Allis, Wis., the city pays 100 percent of the hospitalization and surgical insurance premium for either the individual or the family type plan — whichever the employee requests.

In NYC, the health insurance plan for City employees, financed on a 50-50 basis, provides surgical care, medical care at home and at the physician's office, preventive care, maternity and child care, laboratory tests, X-ray examinations and treatments, and other services. Cincinnati, O., pays health insurance for policemen and firefighters only.

In Wisconsin, where 16 cities and counties pay from 40 to 100 percent, a new statute authorizes cities and villages to pay certain hospital insurance premiums. The bill authorizes cities to pay hospital, surgical and other health and accident insurance for employees and officers. Counties are authorized to pay for hospital and surgical insurance covering county employees.

Other states where cities pay health insurance premiums for employees are Alabama, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Louisiana, Michigan, Missouri, North Carolina, North Dakota, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Virginia, and Wisconsin.

Army Civilian Employee Honored

The highest civilian award for meritorious service was presented to George A. Lutz of New Rochelle at the Army post of Fort Slocum.

The certificate of commendation was presented by the Post Commander, Colonel James B. Kraft, on behalf of the Commanding General of First Army.

Mr. Lutz lifted the Transportation Service to a high level of efficiency, the citation read. It was the fourth time Mr. Lutz received a decoration by the Army as a civilian employee. A civil service employee since 1943, Mr. Lutz is responsible for the transportation of all personnel, equipment, supplies and household goods at Fort Slocum to all parts of the world.

Four other civilian employees at Fort Slocum received cash awards for ideas, including: Mrs. Evelyn McCarthy of Rye, librarian at the Armed Forces Information School, and Mrs. Marion McNamara, Mary Sacco and Winifred Rabbitt, all three of New Rochelle.

Feinberg Sails For Europe Soon

ALBANY, April 20 — Public Service Commission Chairman Benjamin Feinberg and his wife will sail Friday for Europe.

It will be the first real vacation Mr. Feinberg has taken since he was named chairman by Governor Dewey in March, 1949.

The couple expect to visit England, France, Holland, Belgium, West Germany and Italy during their trip abroad. He and Mrs. Feinberg plan to return to the United States late in May.

Only one time previously has the chairman taken time off from his PSC duties and that was shortly after he took the post. On advice from his physician to "slow down" for a little while he took two weeks at that time as sick leave.

For sixteen years prior to his appointment as PSC chairman, Feinberg had been a State senator from Clinton County. During the years 1944-49 he was majority leader of the upper house of the Legislature.

CIVIL SERVICE

NEWS Letter

THE FIRST jobs have been placed in the new Schedule C by the U. S. Civil Service Commission. The nature of the jobs proved reassuring to civil service employee groups, although a sharp eye is being kept on the whole process of setting up of a schedule of positions to which department heads may make appointments solely of their own, or their superior's, choosing. Three of the five positions were formerly in the competitive class, but are regarded as not being suspect when transferred to Schedule C, because they're of the policy-making type:

In the State Department, deputy administrator, formerly competitive, now vacant.

Assistant deputy administrator, new, now filled by a competitive employee at $12,000.

Confidential assistant to the administrator, vacant, formerly competitive.

Those three are in the Bureau of Security and Consular Affairs. Chairman of the Advisory Board, Inland Waterways Corporation, Department of Commerce, present incumbent, Louis Rothchild.

Private secretary to the chairman, Federal Trade Commission, formerly under civil service, $5,040, occupied by Clare Shumate.

The employees more than expect administrator and deputy administrator jobs, as well as chairmanships, to be in Schedule C, and wouldn't even object much if confidential secretaries are included. The first intimation, however, of any extension down the line, to jobs that should be competitive by their very nature, would create a howl.

THE PRESENT members of the U. S. Civil Service Commission are in no danger of starting at the top with the dire prospect of working their way down, since they've already travelled the route in the Horowitz Algerian direction. Chairman Philip Young started in Federal service as a $2,600 auditor with the Securities and Exchange Commission. Though the son of the millionaire industrialist, Owen D. Young, he wanted to make good on his own, and did, becoming Under Secretary of the Treasury. George M. Moore started his government career as a messenger at $1,400 a year. He was staff director of the Senate and House Post Office and Civil Service Committees and resigned as counsel to the Senate committee to run for Congress in Maryland, but met defeat. Those two are the Republican members. The third Commissioner is rated as a Democrat, though he was never active in the party and, living in the District of Columbia, has never voted. He is Frederick Lawton, former director of the Bureau of the Budget. He started as a government clerk in 1920.

STUDENTS of laws affecting dismissal may remember the case of Paul F. Costello, publicized in The LEADER last year. Mr. Costello was fired as custodian of Uniondale's California Avenue School. At odds with Alva C. Snider, president of the Uniondale School Board, Nassau County, he was accused of deflating the tires of President Snider's automobile while the President was attending a Board meeting. In addition, he was accused of malicious mischief, in criminal court. Now the Court of Appeals has dismissed the criminal charge, saying that the complaint was not based on the right section of the Penal Law. Meanwhile Mr. Snider not only has had his tires inflated but has bought a new car that hasn't given him any trouble.

SEEING that applicants for a NYC job were not required to have any education or experience, a young man confided to the clerk at the application window that he was well qualified.

"You never met anybody," he boasted, "with less education and experience than I have."

State Employee Wins Soldier of Week Award

CAMP PICKETT, Va., April 20 — Private Francis C. DuCharme, son of Mrs. Corinne DuCharme of Cohoes, N. Y., has been named Battalion Soldier of the Week at the Medical Replacement Center here.

Private DuCharme was picked from a thousand men for personal appearance, soldierly conduct, and medical and military knowledge acquired the previous week.

Was State Employee At the MRTC, the Army's only basic training center for medical soldiers, he is learning the fundamentals of support of field troops and care of hospital patients.

Private DuCharme, who entered the Army in January, was employed as a senior tariff clerk in the New York State Public Service Commission Office at 233 Broadway, NYC. He is a graduate of Christian Brothers Academy in Albany, and in 1951 of Siena College in Loudonville. He also attended St. John's University School of Law.

Vacations and Leaves Held Discretionary

Section 92 of the General Municipal Law, which gives authority to the governing body of a city — in NYC the Board of Estimate — over vacations, sick leaves and absence leaves, is permissive and not mandatory, Attorney General Nathaniel L. Goldstein ruled in an informal opinion.

The question put to him was whether the section authorized or required the body to grant of such benefits.

"Not mandatory," was the verdict.

Pipito Resigns as Aide to Corsi

ALBANY, April 20 — Industrial Commissioner Edward Corsi announced the resignation of Assistant Industrial Commissioner Frank T. Pipito of Albany, effective April 30.

Commissioner Pipito will devote full time to the private practice of law in Albany. He has served as Assistant Industrial Commissioner since 1947. Commissioner Corsi gave his best wishes.

Commissioner Pipito has jurisdiction over Albany, Clinton, Columbia, Dutchess, Essex, Greene, Rensselaer, Saratoga, Schenectady, Schoharie, Ulster, Warren and Washington counties.

New Job List Shrinks To 20 in Insurance Dept.; Titles Being Selected

ALBANY, April 20 — The State Insurance Department is trying to figure out what to do with $75,000 it received in the supplemental budget for new jobs.

The money was granted in a lump sum in response to a department request for funds needed for jobs which were to be created to handle extra duties. However, the amount was far smaller than requested.

In view of a new procedure regarding reexamination of fire insurance companies, which will now be done every three instead of every five years, and with the expectation the Legislature would pass a law requiring establishment of a uniform accounting system for life insurance companies, the department had asked for money to create about 65 new jobs. These would have been in its examining and accounting sections, principally.

Titles Being Discussed

However, even though the Legislature did pass the expected life insurance bill, the Division of the Budget cut the fund request to $75,000, enough for 20 jobs.

The department said it "hadn't decided yet where these jobs would be, or even how many of what title there would be." It reported that negotiations still were in progress with the Budget and with Civil Service to determine what titles should be set up.

Eligibility Appeal Halts Clerk Lists

The NYC Civil Service Commission informed candidates in the exams for promotion to clerk, grades 3 and 4, that the eligible lists can not be established until the Appellate Division decides the City's appeal from an adverse decision concerning the exclusion of some prospective candidates. The Commission held that these candidates did not meet the minimum requirements. The Supreme Court, New York County, held otherwise. The papers have been rated, and the lists are ready. The candidates number 5,832 in the grade 3 test, and 2,237, grade 4.

GRIECO APPOINTED

Salvatore J. Grieco of Brooklyn was sworn in Tuesday, April 7 as a Deputy Commissioner in the NYC Department of Sanitation by Commissioner Andrew W. Mulrain. Mr. Grieco replaces Harry Serper, appointed a Magistrate.

Mr. Grieco is director of administration, at $8,500 a year, to handle fiscal and personnel affairs of the department. He lives in Coney Island.

STATE COMMISSION WINDING UP ITS CIVIL SERVICE WORK

ALBANY, April 20 — The State Civil Service Commission meets this week for one of its few remaining sessions under the present organization.

With still no word from Governor Dewey's office of who will take over the job of administering and at the same time reorganizing the department when the new law takes effect in July, the present Commission continues to serve out its time.

Unless the supplemental calendar contains something of moment, the present meeting will deal with more or less routine matters.

Among items for consideration are a request from the Agriculture Department to extend from three to six months the probationary period for milk accounts examiner. This request follows a growing trend on the part of departments to have probationary terms extended. During the past year the Commission has approved such extensions for several titles in the State Liquor Authority and the Law Department.

NYC Resolutions

Also up for Commission approval is a NYC resolution to raise the pay of the director of school lunches from $10,000 to $11,500 annually.

The NYC Commission also asks the State for approval of a plan to delete from the competitive class the title of painter (housing authority).

Exempt Job Asked

The new job of director of collections in the State Department of Taxation and Finance has been slated for the exempt class, if the State Civil Service Commission approves.

The State University asks non-competitive status for laboratory animal caretakers.

The Commission is also asked to extend until October 16, 1953, eligible list No. 1098, principal stenographer.

More Teachers Brought Under Feinberg Law

ALBANY, April 20—The State's anti-communist Feinberg law aimed at public school teachers has been extended to State or municipally operated colleges and universities.

An amendment to the original Feinberg Law, to extend its provisions to publicly operated institutions of higher learning, was introduced in the 1953 Legislature by Assemblyman Angelo Graci, (R., Queens).

It passed both houses. Governor Dewey signed it last week.

The amendment brings all units of the State University, as well as all community colleges and all colleges of the City of New York, under the law.

What Law Provides

It provides that the State Board of Regents may make rules for "disqualification or removal of . . . faculty members and all other personnel and employees" of any of these institutions found to be subversive or active in subversive organizations.

Governor Dewey last week also signed a bill introduced by Senator Carlo A. Lanzillotti, (R., Queens) which permits NYC employees with more than 30 years service who have transferred to the Board of Education to continue their membership in the NYC Employees Retirement System.

He vetoed a bill by Senator MacNeil Mitchell, (R., Manhattan), which would have allowed Justices of the Supreme Court in NYC to transfer from the State to the NYC Retirement System. A similar measure was turned down last year.

NYC GRAPPLES WITH STILL TIGHTER BUDGET

NYC department heads were instructed by Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri last week to get ready to operate under either of two plans — one, if the Transit Authority is created, and the other, involving considerable reduction in expenses and even in force, if no Authority is created.

Difficulties Mount
The departments, which felt that they would have a hard time getting along even with the amounts to be allotted if an Authority is created, had extreme difficulty in finding any way to run their departments properly, if in the mass they must produce savings equaling the $97,000,000 that the City would not have to include in the budget if an Authority takes over transit operation and rate-making.

The Mayor's move indicated that he was still in doubt whether there would be an Authority, under the new law.

NYC Employees Seek Mayor's Aid for Raise By 'March on Albany'

The hearings on the NYC budget, held by the Board of Estimate last week, were marked by the statement of Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri that he would make one more effort to get more money from the State Government.

Await Mayor's Action
Employee organizations are now trying to induce the Mayor to have funds for a pay increase for City employees included in the agenda of the special legislative session that Governor Dewey will call for other purposes. The Mayor said originally that he'd try to get more State aid. The employee groups promised to back him up, if he would include their objective in his request to the Governor. Only subjects for which the Governor calls a special session may be considered. The day devoted to hearing public employee criticism of the budget proved hectic. All the spokesmen for employee groups found fault with the budget; all deplored the failure to include any funds for a general raise.

The Mayor said there was no money for that purpose, but frankly admitted a raise was deserved. The problem devolved into getting more money, so raises could be granted.

The Mayor appealed for public support of his drive for additional funds which do not include raises. Now the employee groups are waiting to find out if he wants them to join him, on their terms, in this so-called "march on Albany."

Present appointments will be provisional, and will become permanent after passing a civil service exam in the fall.

Arithmetic Study Aid For Aptitude Type Tests

By H. J. BERNARD

The mathematics questions in civil service exams, except for engineering type jobs, are nearly always arithmetic.

In an intelligence test the arithmetic is simple, involving mere addition, subtraction, multiplication and division.

In aptitude tests, questions are included that go beyond simple arithmetic, to determine one's ability to fill or learn a particular job, and unless one knows the clue, he may waste time, be baffled or come up with the wrong answer.

The questions in the slightly advanced category are not hard, if one knows the clue. Ratios and proportions should be grasped readily. Series may merely take a little more time.

Definitions

Ratio is the relationship between numbers. Example, 5 is to 8, written 5:8.

Proportion gives the relationship between ratios and is an equation. Example, 4 is to 10 as 2 is to 5, written 4:10::2:5.

Series is a pattern of changing numbers.

Fraction Ratios

Ratio, in two terms, such as 5:8, when applied to whole numbers, is a statement rather than a problem. With fractions, however, there is a problem. The ratio is itself a fraction, for 5:8 may be written 5/8, and treated mathematically just as any other fraction. Hence when each term is a fraction you have an overall fraction in which the first term (numerator) is a fraction and the second term (denominator) also is a fraction, while the ratio itself is a fraction. Thus you have, so to speak, three fractions in one, for a two-term ratio.

Take the ratio 5/6:7/8. The problem is to express the ratio in whole numbers (integers). The problem itself states that the first term is to be divided by the second. So you have to know how to divide a fraction by a fraction. The clue is to invert the second term (denominator), so that instead of 7/8 you have its reciprocal, 8/7, to be the multiplier of the unchanged first term (numerator), 5/6. Thus we have 5/6 x 8/7. Multiply the numerators 5 and 8, yielding 40, and the denominators, 6 and 7, giving 42, and write down the ratio 40:42, reducing it to 20:21, the answer.

The problem would look like one in proportion if it were written 5:6::7:8, but it would be confusing to write it that way, which is usually reserved for proportion. This ratio is out of balance. How to check for balance will be explained.

It may even happen that, without the question expressly so stating, the candidate may be asked to determine whether the problem is one in mere ratio, or one in proportion, and of course a correct numerical answer could be obtained only by realizing what the problem is. Even when written in the form of proportion, if one multiplies the outside terms of an inequality (40) and inside ones (42), 40/42=20/21.

Present or Absent Ratio

Either a ratio problem is based on a stated ratio or on a missing ratio. You may wonder what can be the problem if the ratio is given. Well, there may be more than two terms.

Example: A father leaves his three children $36,000, to be divided 3 for Jack, 4 for John and 5 for Mary. How much does each get? This is pure ratio. The value of each basic "share" would be the clue, and multiplying each share by each ratio supplies the answer.

Add the ratio terms: 3 + 4 + 5 = 12.

Divide the total amount the father left by the ratio total: $36,000 ÷ 12 = $3,000.

That is the clue or value of each "share."

Jack got 3 x $3,000 = $9,000.

John got 4 x $3,000 = $12,000.

Mary got 5 x $3,000 = $15,000.

The total accounts for the $36,000.

Missing Ratio

Suppose the problem is to find the ratio.

The clue to problems in ratio, proportion and series which require an operational clue is to find the base upon which to operate. This base is always some number.

If there are three terms in a ratio, two of them will be related to the third; if there are four, three of them will be related to the fourth, etc. Pick out this basic term, to which the others are related. Often it may be done by mere inspection. If the ratio is missing, assign to this basic clue the ratio of unity, which is the number 1. Multiplying by the other ratios, different numbers, provides the answer.

Example: Three necklaces cost $30,000. Necklace A costs one-fourth more than necklace B, while necklace C costs 1/2 more than necklace B. The basic term is necklace B, because the relative cost of the two others depends on what B cost. So the ratio of B would be 1.

The value of each share is found by dividing the total number of shares into the total amount of money. The amount each recipient gets equals his number of shares multiplied by the value of each share.

Write down the identities, and convert the mixed numbers to improper fractions:

B = 1 = 4/4.

A = 1 1/4 = 5/4.

C = 1 1/2 = 6/4.

Total 15/4.

Dividing the $30,000 by 15/4:

30,000

Note that when dividing a whole number by a fraction, multiply the whole number (30,000) by the denominator (4) of the fraction, and into that product (120,000) divide the fraction's numerator (15).

So $8,000 was the cost of basic necklace B. Necklace A cost 1 1/4 x $8,000, or $10,000, and C 1 1/2 x $8,000 or $12,000, accounting for the $30,000.

Rule of Reversal

When a ratio involves no integers but two or more fractions, the quantities and fractions are related in reverse.

Example: How much money have A and B, respectively, if $8,000 is the total, and 1/5 of A's money equals 1/3 of B's?

Invert the fractions. Thus the ratio, A : B, is changed from 1/5 : 1/3 to 5:3. Add these terms, yielding 8. Divide the total money, $8,000, by the sum of the ratios (8), to get the value of each "share," $1,000. That is the clue. A has 5 shares, hence $5,000, and B 3 shares or $3,000.

Spotting Proportion

Proportion is a ratio of equal ratios. If there are four terms, the two outside ones, called the extremes, when multiplied together, exactly equal the product of the two inside ones, called the means. Also, if the inside term is divided into the product of the two extremes, the dividend is the other inside term. Likewise, if one outside term is divided into the product of the inside terms, the dividend is the other outside term. In a mere ratio this balance or equality is absent. An example of four terms is 2 is to 4 as 5 is to 10, written 2:4::5:10. The extremes are 2 and 10, the means, 4 and 5.

Let us solve a problem in four-term proportion.

Example: If a building 60 feet high casts a shadow 24 feet long, what will be the length of the shadow cast by an adjoining building that is 100 feet high?

The ratio of the heights of the buildings equals the ratio of the lengths of the shadows.

Call the unknown shadow X. Then, comparing building heights with shadow lengths, and being careful to get the numbers in their right places:

60:100::24:X.

Multiply the end terms, then the inside terms:

60X=2,400.

X=40 feet, the length of the taller building's shadow.

Another aspect: Since the 100-foot building is 1.666 times as high as the 60-foot building, the shadow cast by the taller building will be 1.666 x 24 = 40 feet.

Did Candidate Pass?

The unknown alone had to be found. There was no need of a clue. But let us consider a proportion problem requiring a clue.

Example: A written test for a public job is given in four parts. The overall pass mark is 65 percent. There is no minimum pass mark required in any separate part. Each part is separately weighted, I = 4, II = 3, III = 2 and IV = 1. The candidate scores these percentages: I = 60; II = 65; III = 70; IV = 72. What was his weighted average score, and did he pass?

Add the weights, 4 + 3 + 2 + 1 = 10.

Add the separate products of the weights and the scores:

Part I—4 x 60 = 240.

Part II—3 x 65 = 195.

Part III—2 x 70 = 140.

Part IV—1 x 72 = 72.

Total 647.

The clue is the number 647. Divide it by the sum of the weights (10). Answer 64.7. The candidate did not pass.

NEXT WEEK — More on proportion, and series problems.

Why U. S. Employees Seek Social Security Benefits

Loss of protection by workers who move between government employment and private industry, and the rather limited survivor protection available to many of the employees covered under civil service retirement, are continuing problems.

A civil service retirement system is essential to the efficient conduct of government. For this function to be performed successfully and for the government to meet its responsibility to its employees, benefits larger than those payable under the general Social Security system must be provided. Therefore, nothing should be done to weaken the civil service retirement system.

Adopting Industry's Method

Some 14,000 company pension plans are now operating in private industry. In the last few years this has also become the pattern in college and university employment, private hospitals, religious organizations, and other non-profit establishments which have elected to come under Social Security. These special benefit systems provide additional security to that obtainable under the general Social Security program. There is a movement to permit similar integration of public employee retirement benefits with those of Social Security.

The Federal Reserve Banks' staff retirement plan was coordinated with Social Security coverage without increasing the employee contributions established under the staff plan. Instead, the contributions were divided between Social Security and the staff plan. Through coordination, the employees of the Federal Reserve Banks added substantial survivor protection under Social Security to the retirement and disability benefits provided by the staff plan. Certain other Federal facilities and their employees have indicated that they also want a combination of Social Security and supplemental protection.

Federal Example

It may be well to study whether a coordination plan could be successfully applied to the Federal service. Under such a plan, employees would receive credit under two systems while in Federal service, but the civil service retirement system, modified to take into account the Social Security benefits and contributions, would continue as a strong, independent system. Among the possible advantages are:

1. Federal employees would be protected, which would in many cases, be achieved without loss in retirement protection. In every case the combined retirement benefits would be at least equal those now provided under civil service retirement.

2. The worker who moves between private industry and the Federal Government would have no break in his Social Security coverage. At present any move from private industry to the Federal service is likely to interrupt and permanently impair an employee's retirement and survivor protection under Social Security. Co-ordination would stimulate Federal recruitment.

Minimum Pensions

Public Law 555 of 1952 provides cost-of-living increases in certain civil service retirement annuities being received by pensioners retired from the Federal service. The law laid a foundation for future action by creating a Committee on Retirement Policy for Federal Personnel to make a comprehensive study of the protection provided Federal personnel under the various Federal retirement systems.

The establishment of this committee marks a significant step towards finding a constructive solution for more effective retirement and related protection for the Federal employee.

Recent Improvements

The past few years has seen major improvements in the Federal old-age and survivors insurance system. Not only is Social Security coverage broadened, but eligibility requirements are liberalized and significant benefit increases provided. The amendments also made other improvements.

There is every prospect that this widespread interest will also result in improvements in the retirement and family security protection afforded employees of the Federal Government. Whether the approach to those improvements will be through a plan which will coordinate the protection furnished by the civil service system with Social Security protection or through some other method, the maintenance of a strong civil service retirement system is practically unanimously regarded as essential.

The U. S. Civil Service Retirement System is open to permanent employees; temporary or indefinite ones are under Social Security. There is thus precedent for having U. S. employees enjoy Social Security coverage. The present movement is to bring both systems to both groups.

Pari-Mutuel Examiner One of 14 State Tests That Open on May 4

A test for filling State jobs as pari-mutuel examiner is one of 14 exams for which the State will accept applications from Monday, May 4 to Friday, June 5. Written tests will be given on Saturday, July 11, with one exception. In four exams no written test will be held, and applicants may apply for these four until July 11.

The pari-mutuel examiner job pays $4,053 to start and rises, through five annual increments, to $4,889. The intermediate steps are $4,221, $4,389, $4,557 and $4,725. These salaries are total, hence include the emergency compensation.

Six of the exams will be open nationwide:

Principal public health physician (maternal and child birth) $10,138 to $11,925.

Associate pathologist, no written test, the one exam in which American citizenship is not required, $8,350 to $10,138.

Senior pathologist, no written test, $6,801 to $8,231.

Education State aid analyst, $6,801 to $8,231.

Principal actuary (life), no written test, $8,350 to $10,138.

Associate actuary (life), no written test, $6,801 to $8,231.

Seven Other Exams

The other exams are: Assistant director of hospital planning, $6,801 to $8,231.

Dentist, $4,964 to $6,088, and dentist (TB service), $5,414 to $6,537 (same application form for both).

Associate in private trade school administration, $6,088 to $7,421. The written test was originally scheduled for June, 1952. A candidate who applied previously need not do so again, nor pay another fee, but should submit a notarized statement, bringing his training and experience up to date.

Senior utility rates analyst, $4,964 to $6,088.

Assistant utility rates analyst, $4,053 to $4,889.

Investigator (public accountancy) $4,053 to $4,889.

Laboratory worker, $2,316 to $3,118. No date has been set for the written test. Candidates will be notified when and where to appear.

With the one exception, besides American citizenship, State residence for at least one year is required.

Do not attempt to apply until the opening date, May 4.

Profit Problems For Exam Study

Arithmetic questions are asked in intelligence tests for public jobs, and often deal with calculations involving profit from a sale. Here are some pointers:

In figuring profit problems, the cost represents 100 percent. The profit is additional. Thus, to produce a profit of 40 percent the selling price is 140 percent of the cost.

Example: Cost $10, profit 40 percent, selling price $(1.00 + .40) \times 10 = \14 .

If the selling price ($14) and the profit percentage (.40) are known, to find the cost divide the selling price by the sum of 100 percent and the profit percentage.

Example: $14 selling price divided by $(1.00 + .40) = $14 \div 1.4 = \10 cost.

To find what the selling price should be to bring a stated percentage profit, multiply the profit percentage by the cost, and add that amount to the cost.

Example: $.40 \times $10 = \4 Cost = $10

Drive for Pay Raise Gains; Federal Council Gives Aid

WASHINGTON, April 20 — Although Federal employee groups have been warned by friendly legislators that they'll have to do a real job, if they're to get a pay increase at this session, they are doing it, and the prospects, while not exactly bright, are much better now than they were a month ago.

Arguments presented by employee groups not only to legislators but to the U. S. Civil Service Commission and the Federal Personnel Council, are beginning to show some effects. Also, Senator Frank Carlson, chairman of the Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee, is considered definitely in the employees' corner, though he has announced no decision yet in his study of Federal pay.

Move by Council

The Federal Personnel Council went so far as to recommend four principles on which any salary increase should be based:

1. Real wages to be brought in line with the 1939 purchasing power of the dollar.
2. Congress to set the floor and ceiling of each grade, the agencies to set the rates for particular jobs within any grade, depending on job value, and respecting the limits.
3. Raises of fixed amounts for all to be opposed as reducing the spread between pay of supervisor and supervised, and throwing the pay of classified employees, especially in the lower brackets, out of line with the idea of bringing all pay to the 1939 buying-power level.

4. Further study to be made of proposals that pay be set locally, by wage boards, because of the difference in the cost of living in different areas.

The idea of pegging pay to the worth of the 1939 dollar means that present pay would be raised to a level that would permit an employee to buy as much food, clothing, housing etc. as was possible at 1939 prices with the salary the job paid in 1939.

Moves to Stabilize U. S. Jobs Made by Civil Service Commission

WASHINGTON, April 20 — The new U. S. Civil Service Commission, now complete, is seeking to bring greater stability into U. S. employment. While normally this would be outside the scope of the Commission, which is a recruitment agency, and, such, has nothing to do with a number of jobs, the new Chairman, Philip Young, is to sit in at Cabinet meetings, and be President Eisenhower's overall personnel adviser. Thus the Chairman can influence the U. S. job situation strongly, and so can the Commission, indirectly.

Two objections to past procedures have been that when the U. S. found it necessary to increase the number of employees, little regard was paid to the details of how contraction was to take place, hence injustices arose when reductions in force were ordered; and agencies went ahead hiring faster than circumstances required, so that the shaking-out problem became more acute.

Seeks Steady Level

The present plan is to level off the number of employees to a figure not yet decided, but which, when set, would make the jobs steady even for the career reservists, or secondary group under the new scheme of retention. The career group has top claim to retention. Within either group, disabled veterans come first, non-disabled veterans next, non-veterans last, and among non-veterans inverse order of seniority decides their layoff order. Of course, as between disabled veterans themselves, inverse seniority obtains, and separately among non-disabled veterans it exists also.

The layoff rules, or "bumping rights," as they're known, require so much red tape and paper work that the Commission is planning to simplify and reduce the number of required forms.

The so-called re-employment rights of non-veterans, including "permanent" employees, particularly transferees to defense agencies, are proving worthless.

Vet Preference Problem

Also the veteran preference question is bothering the Commission. There have been several recommendations from the reform groups and others that veterans' rights be reduced in exams, so that they'd have to pass a test before the 5 additional points for non-veterans, and the 10 for disabled veterans apply. Backers of the idea cite that in New York State that holds true, as in other jurisdictions, and also New York got rid of primary preference, and repeated use of preference, in favor of the point system, with no repetition of use of points allowed. At present, under Federal law, veteran preference may be used again and again, and it applies, in some instances, not only to veterans themselves, but their kin.

The veteran preference problem, however, is a baffling one because of the strength of the veteran organizations, like the American Legion. They fight for the retention of veteran preference as it now stands.

O'CONNELL TO SPEAK

John F. O'Connell, Chairman of the New York State Liquor Authority, will lead a round table discussion on liquor sales to ineligible persons on Tuesday morning, May 5, at the 19th annual convention of the National Conference of State Liquor Administrators at the Hotel Nicolett, Minneapolis, Minn. Commissioner O'Connell is a past president of the NCSLA.

Representative Sidney Fine, 22nd New York District, pledged his support to the AFL postal unions' drive for an $800 pay increase. Though he warned it would be a hard pull to get a pay increase through this session, he left all his hosts smiling when he said goodbye. From left, Irving Rosenberg, President Ephraim Headman, Ida C. Krane, Representative Fine, Frank A. Grippo and Henry Berman, all of Local 10, New York Federation of Post Office Clerks. Miss Krane represents the Women's Auxiliary.

The Federal Employee

FEDERAL employee groups are counting on aid from Senator Frank Carlson, chairman of the Post Office and Civil Service Committee, in their drive for a pay increase. The chairman is seriously studying a bill that would raise the pay of classified and postal employees. He could help the employees immeasurably because of his chairmanship, and also his close relationship with President Eisenhower. A bill for Post Office pay raises has been introduced in the House of Representatives by Congressman Carl D. Perkins (D., of Ky.).

SENATOR THYE (R., Minn.) has introduced a bill to put the customs collector jobs in the competitive class. The Senate Finance Committee is withholding any action on the bill, pending word from Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey, who is having a management survey made.

IT IS EXPECTED that at long last some progress will be made toward bringing the postal service out of the civil service doghouse. At present promotions result largely from political or personal influence. The postal employee groups would welcome even the limited move to put the supervisor jobs in the competitive class, and would hope that they'd be filled through regular exams, even though promotion written tests are rare in the Federal service.

POSTMASTER GENERAL Arthur Summerfield is reported ready to give his department's full support to bring the supervisor jobs under the merit system.

THE DEFENSE DEPARTMENT approved an average pay raise of 16 cents an hour for 18,500 per diem employees of the Army, Navy and Air Force, who work in the Washington, D. C. area.

MAY 30 falls on a Saturday. So does July 4. These are the next two holidays. But unless President Eisenhower acts, the Federal employees will get no compensatory benefit for the fact the holidays fall on a day when they wouldn't work, anyway. Several employee groups have requested the President to give the employees an extra day off, because of the coincidence, and to make the policy permanent. The National Custom Service Association was one of the groups.

THE CHICAGO post office has some innovations that postal employees certainly don't want to see copied elsewhere. One is the checking of trips to the washroom. A checker, with watch in hand, notes who goes in, when, and how often, and how long he stays. But the Postmaster General says that a special situation exists there, and there's no intention to introduce the method elsewhere. Also when clerks and others say they're ill, and want to leave before their day's tour is up, their pulse, temperature and blood pressure are taken. No word yet whether this precaution is to be restricted to Chicago.

And Much, Much More!

HERE is a new newspaper — for children! It has been in the planning stage for more than three years. During this time the editors and publishers analyzed every existing effort to interest, educate and entertain children. Books, magazines, plays, games, movies, radio, television, comics, daily newspapers — all were examined. Children of all ages were tested. Parents were questioned. Out of this intensive study of what children want, and what parents want them to have, has come Children's Times. We believe it will become one of the most vital forces for good that can be placed in the hands of boys and girls of all ages. But we admit that we are biased. So we are offering to send a copy of the current issue free to any parent requesting it. We would like your opinion — and through you, your child's reaction. There is no obligation to subscribe unless you care to do so. Simply fill in and mail the coupon below if you would like to see this new newspaper for children — Children's Times.

Every issue of Children's Times will be designed to satisfy a child's natural curiosity; he will discover the wonders of the world he lives in; he will satisfy his normal craving to learn, to play, to laugh, to think, to enjoy. Above all, he will feel a part of everything he reads in Children's Times. This is his newspaper.

We have attempted briefly here to describe Children's Times. However, no description can possibly convey to you the wholesome effect this new newspaper for children can have on your child.

Even the partial list of the contents of the first issue as printed on the left can give you only a remote idea of how great its influence can be on any youngster. We therefore offer to send you a sample copy of Children's Times — without charge. Read it yourself — then hand it to your child. Watch his face as he reads each page. If you are delighted in every way, and would like to have Children's Times come into your home twice a month for a full year, we will send you our bill for only $2.00. Yes, only $2.00 for 24 issues — less than 10¢ a copy! If, however, you are not thrilled by the joy your child shows, just mail us a card and we will cancel the charge. It is not necessary to send any money now — just the coupon. And you pay nothing at any time unless you decide to subscribe after examining the free sample copy! In any event the sample copy is free.

A Better Way For Children to Spend Their Time

If your child is 5 to 12 years of age, boy or girl, fill his heart with joy by mailing the coupon below for a sample copy of Children's Times — the new newspaper that will delight every child, and fulfill the wish of every parent!

When your child receives his copy, watch his face as he turns the pages! Then note how he loses interest in those time-consuming pursuits and habits which have given you so much concern.

Instead of spending endless hours on over-stimulating or utterly useless activities; instead of contaminating his mind with lurid comics; instead of being exposed to news of crimes, robberies; instead of wondering "what to do now" — your child will find good company in the stories, articles, pictures, games, good comics and other editorial matter that Children's Times will always contain.
