

GREEKS WILL RUSH AT HOUSE PARTIES

14 Sororities Will Entertain Freshmen Prospects Next Week

Sorority rush parties will be conducted next week, according to Jeanette Harrison, '30, president of Intersorority council. Fourteen sororities will rush freshmen during this regular rush period according to the regulations of Intersorority council.

Dates for rush parties were drawn by lot by members of Intersorority council some time ago so that there will be no conflicting of these parties.

Rush invitations will be sent to the freshmen between semesters, offering each girl invited five dates, from which she may accept no more than four, including the rush party, from each sorority. Rush party invitations should be given preference over any other dates, according to the rush rules of Intersorority council. Answers to rush invitations should be left in the student mail box Monday morning, February 3.

Rush period will close Wednesday noon, February 12 and bids will be sent out that night. A silent period will be observed until 12 o'clock in the morning of the following Monday. At the end of this time, freshmen will have sent in their answers. Initiation ceremonies will be conducted the week of February 17. All rushing must be over by the following Monday.

The dates which the different sororities have chosen for their rush parties are: Delta Omega, Tuesday; Phi Delta, Wednesday; Psi Gamma, Thursday; Eta Phi, Phi Lambda, Alpha Rho, and Epsilon Beta Phi, Friday; Kappa Delta and Chi Sigma Theta, Saturday; Alpha Epsilon Phi and Beta Zeta, Monday, February 10; Gamma Kappa Phi and Phi Alpha Tau, Tuesday, February 11.

Boston Sends Debate Challenge To Women

A challenge to debate the women's team of Boston university has been received by the college council, Anna T. Moore, '31, president, announced today.

The debate, if accepted, will probably take place during the February vacation. The college will be represented by a team chosen from the two squads named in the recent tryouts, Miss Moore said.

The council will meet soon to decide whether the challenge shall be accepted.

Juniors To Sing Prize Alma Mater At Lunch

The singing of the Alma Mater which was first planned for the annual P.M. luncheon, will be given by a quartet of juniors, the Glee Club, at the Country Club luncheon on Feb. 14 at 12 o'clock.

The quartet will consist of Marion C. Smith, soprano; and Marion C. Smith, alto; and the quartet will be directed by Ruth Park, '30, and will sing the Alma Mater.

Members and associates will be present and will be asked to contribute to the fund for the purchase of the Alma Mater.

Question: Do you think the entire faculty is capable of awarding fairly the Wheelock scholarship?

Marion Nichols, '30: I think the entire faculty would find it difficult to agree. A committee of the faculty should select the winner.

Gertrude Dersheimer, '31: I believe the entire faculty should give its opinion about awarding of the scholarship. One member of the faculty could abide by the opinion of the others.

Ruth Conger, '31: The entire faculty should choose him. How could they choose him otherwise? One group of faculty members would not now the men equally well.

Bessie Levine, '32: The selection of the winner by the entire faculty would necessitate acquaintanceship of the entire faculty with all the men of the student body. I would recommend a committee of the heads of several representative departments.

Andrew Hritz, '32: The entire faculty does not come into proper contact with the male student body. Certain individuals will necessarily stand out in any judgment with each faculty member. I should think a committee composed of all the department heads, the president, and the dean should do the judging.

Netta Miller, '31: I believe only a body who meet the majority of men students should have a part in judging. This should necessarily be the committee to the teachers to teach the larger men's classes, such as administration.

TICKETS ARE 50 CENTS Student tickets for the Middlebury glee club presentation in Chantrel's hall will be fifty cents. The performance will be Friday night, January 14, at 8:15 o'clock. Free tickets will be awarded students who sell 10 tickets or more. Alice M. Kirkpatrick, assistant agent, announced.

TO DISTRIBUTE ECHO The Echo will be distributed next week. Warren R. Cochran, '30, secretary, announced today.

MEN'S BASKETBALL BETWEEN CLASSES TO BE WEDNESDAY

The second game of the men's intra-mural basketball tournament will be played between the seniors and the sophomores, Wednesday, February 5 at 4:15 p. m. in the gymnasium of Hawley hall, according to John F. Kennedy, '30.

The following men will be available for action in this contest. Seniors: Michael Tepedino, John Kennedy, John Widger, Adolph Scholl, Israel Kaplan, Gerald Fitzgerald, Kenneth Carpenter, and Edward Thomson; sophomores: Andrew Hritz, Carl Tarbox, John Todd, Lloyd Moreland, Thomas Herney, Michael Frohlich, Anthony Sroka, Samuel Dransky, Harold Haswell, Gordon Hughes, Francis Harwood, Frederick Eckel, John Delehanty, and George Rice.

In the opening contest between the juniors and the sophomores January 8, the juniors succeeded in defeating their opponents by a score of 17 to 15 in an over time period, on a spectacular field basket caged by Myron Kolodny.

The juniors fought an uphill battle all the way, the score at the end of the first half standing at 9 to 4 with the sophs holding the advantage. The juniors rallied in the second half and succeeded in tying the score 20 seconds before the final whistle, and then going on to win the game in the extra period.

The dates of the other games are: February 12, seniors vs. juniors; February 17, juniors vs. sophomores; February 19, sophomores vs. seniors; and February 26, juniors vs. seniors.

Class Of '32 To Have Sleigh Ride, Rice Says

A sleigh-ride party is being planned by the sophomore class, George P. Rice, president, announced today. Plans for the ride will be made by a committee which will be appointed Monday morning, Rice said. Andrew Hritz will be chairman.

The class will probably ride to either New Scotland or Delmar. The trip will be made in sleighs. If the lack of snow makes this mode of travel impossible, wagons will be used.

When the students reach their destination, refreshments will be served. The class will have its own orchestra play for dancing. Girls will provide the lunches.

Permit for the trip will be sought from Dean Anna E. Pierce at 11 o'clock this morning.

If the proposed plans culminate, the present sophomore class will be the first in the history of the college to promote such a project.

Miss Katherine E. Wheeling who is rewriting her pamphlet to be used in teaching high school literature.

Miss Wheeling Revises Illustrative Pamphlet

Miss Katherine E. Wheeling, supervisor of English, is revising a pamphlet of illustrative material for teaching literature in high schools which she first published in 1923. Miss Jane Hillson, who teaches in East Orange, New Jersey, is co-author of the pamphlet with Miss Wheeling.

The revised issue of the pamphlet will be published about Easter time, Miss Wheeling said. The first edition has been sold out, and before it goes into its second printing, some revision is necessary, according to Miss Wheeling.

In 1923, the field of illustrative material was disorganized by the World War, Miss Wheeling said. Many of the companies publishing illustrative material went bankrupt. Now there are new methods, the use of educational movies and also, of victrola records.

The pamphlet was first published in serial form in the English Journal in 1922 and 1923.

Lone Male Dares To Invade Sanctity Of Home Economics
The realm long sacred to women, the home economics department, has at last been invaded by man. On the roll of the class in home economics 8 for this semester will appear the name of Louis Kolker, '31.
However, Mr. Kolker has not taken up the art of cooking or of sewing; he is not even attempting to learn the difficult art of home management. According to the college catalogue, he will be taught "the classification and distribution of microorganisms; physical and chemical changes; principles of bacteriology which function in health and sanitation." The name of the course is microbiology.

College Skating Team May Be Formed Soon

A State college skating team may be formed if the movement inaugurated recently by Anne Williams, '30, and Eva Dowers, '31, is successful. All beginners are urged to come out and learn also, Miss Dowers said. If enough interest is shown in this project it is possible that an official skating team will be organized as one of the winter sports activities of the Girls' Athletic association, according to Miss Dowers.

Fire Drives Kappa Delta Rho Men In Pajamas Into Street

Fire, caused by a short circuit wire in the cellar, drove nearly twenty members of Kappa Delta Rho fraternity at 480 Morris street from their beds into the street at 3 o'clock Wednesday morning.

A fire truck responded to a call sent in by Mrs. Frederick Smith, a neighbor. The entire cellar was burned out, although the furniture on the first and second floors was unharmed, save for smoke.

The fire was discovered by Frank Ott, '31, who was sleeping on the first floor. Half suffocated, he made his way to the street and aroused the rest of the men who were in the house.

The men were forced to remain in the street until the smoke had cleared from the rooms. The total damage was slight, Rudolph Wurth, '30, consul, said today.

MARKS TO COME SOON

Prom Girl Will Wear Latest Creations: Long Line: Prevail In Tea-dance Frocks

State college femininity gives promise of making this prom week-end a parade of the latest and most chic of the modes of the day.

A peek into the wardrobe of our "prom girl" reveals glimpses of pastel satins, most favored of the season's fabrics, chiffon and transparent velvets, black predominating, and moires.

Netta Miller will wear white taffeta with red accessories; Catherine R. Norris, vice president of the class and general chairman of the prom, will wear black transparent velvet; Helen Otis, green moire trimmed with silver; Alice Bennett, chairman of tea dance, rose chiffon; Constance DeGuzman, chairman of luncheon, black tulle with rhinestones.

Wilhelmina Schneider, chairman of the music committee, will wear black velvet and chiffon; Mildred Hall, chairman of invitations, white moire with red; Beatrice Van Steenburg, chairman of the distribution, green satin; Annabelle McConnell, house committee, pale green with a bustle. Dorothy Kline, chairman of the music for tea dance will wear a black chiffon velvet dress trimmed with chartreuse green; Margaret Hickey, chairman of songs and Every student desiring to attend the reading by Alla Nazimova of Ibsen's "Doll's House" in the auditorium of Page hall, Friday night, February 21, must exchange his student tax ticket for a ticket to the reading during the period of February 3 to 7.

The latest date on which tickets can be obtained is February 7, according to Ruth Hughes, '31, a member of the dramatics and art council. If students neglect to obtain tickets within this period, it will be necessary for them to wait until the night of the presentation to obtain seats.

Seats on both first and second floors will be available to students, Miss Hughes said. Tickets will be sold in the rotunda by members of the council and by candidates for council positions.

Miss Hughes requested that no one write notes to Jean Gillespy, '31, secretary of the council, for tickets.

Sayles Names Second Term Milne Teachers

Speakers for luncheon, red velvet; Ruth Hughes, chairman of taxis for prom, blue transparent velvet; and Jean Minkin, house committee, flesh colored satin trimmed with net.

The survey reveals that all the dresses will be long and made according to the new princess silhouette, with long, flowing, almost classical lines.

Tea dance modes will likewise conform to the new length and silhouette of dress fashion. The dresses will be of medium length, long and extremely long, no description of a short dress being mentioned in the pre-prom style gossip.

For the most part, hats and slippers will be worn to match the tea dance frocks. All in all, the stag line will offer a charming barrage of style and wit to the poor male as he attempts to dance and drink tea.

G.A.A. Comedy Tryouts To Be Next Saturday

Try-outs for places in the cast of the Girls' Athletic association vaudeville presentation will take place Saturday, February 8, in the auditorium of Page hall, according to Ruth Hughes, '31, who is in charge. Candidates are advised to prepare for dancing and singing, for the try-outs will be judged on that basis, Miss Hughes said. Freshman women will be allowed to try out as usual, she announced.

The vaudeville will be presented on Friday night, March 28, in the auditorium of Page hall. Miss Hughes will write the production.

1933 Wins All Games, Gaining 31 Point Lead

Scoring 120 points to their opponents 89, the freshman basketball team has succeeded in winning all of the games on its schedule played so far. Ingraham, center, has scored 37 points for his team. DeLaura, forward, is runner-up with 21 points.

The remaining games on the freshman schedule include contests with Hudson Boys' club, Castleton Athletic club, Albany Pharmacy junior varsity, Albany High school reserves, and the Albany Boys' Academy.

Several other games will be scheduled for the squad in addition to these, according to Ralph Harris, manager of the team.

TEAM'S NEW YORK ROAD TRIP TO BE ON NEXT WEEKEND

This injury hindered him from showing his customary ability in caging the ball after a fast follow in. The men seemed to be off form and performed in a ragged manner, showing very little team work. The brilliant playing of Captain Whiston and Leo Allan stood out in the team's courageous but vain attempt to subdue the invaders, who played more or less individually but with deadly accuracy in scoring punch.

The following contest with Cooper Union was played with only a two day interval, and the team did not seem to have fully recovered from the Clarkson game. Clark was in the line-up but was hampered by his injury and had trouble in holding his man.

The whole varsity defense crumbled suddenly. The visiting team's forwards got away from their men to score frequently. Captain Whiston was high scorer of the game, tallying 13 points, but this was not sufficient to offset the failure of the State five to hold down their opponents.

In my opinion, the constant changing of the line-up after a few minutes play interferes with the teamwork of the men. They will have just begun to work together when substitutions will be made offsetting this advantage and causing a new start to be made. Substitutions are an essential factor in every athletic contest, but they must be used with discretion. I should lay the blame for our losing streak to indiscretion in this line.

Here's the big boss herself. Catherine R. Norris, general chairman for Junior prom tonight, can afford to smile when all arrangements for the dance either have been completed or are in the hands of capable committee chairmen.

Two members of the committee for arrangements present some of their bills while Catherine R. Norris, general chairman, audits the accounts during closing preparation for junior week-end tonight and tomorrow. Left to right, they are: Ruth P. Hughes and Martha J. Nord, while their chief, Miss Norris, is seated.

"I expect to wear red slippers to prom tonight," Netta A. Miller, junior class president said as she looked at names of guests in the set-up by Mildred L. Hall, junior associate editor of the News.

State college authority is behind junior prom. President A. R. Brubaker, Dean Anna F. Perce, and Dean William H. Metzler are patrons and patronesses for the dance tonight.

Six big reasons why the juniors should have a good time tonight. From left to right these chairmen for prom are: Alice A. Bennett, general arrangements; Marion Gilbert, flowers; Constance de Guzman, luncheon; Winifred L. Hurlbut, invitations for tea dance; Dorothy C. Rasmussen, arrangements for faculty; and Beatrice Van Steenburgh, distribution of bids.

He missed! and State college fans blamed the photographer's flash as Erwin Clarke, chunky center of the varsity lost a ringer in the recent game which the Purple and Gold dropped to Cooper Union by the score of 40 to 31. From left to right are Clarke, Shaughnessy, C-U; Ott, State; Baron, C-U; Lavigne, State; Buttini, C-U; Ryan, C-U.

And in this corner, we have Anne E. Nesbitt, '32, practicing the new "Ginghams" pose. She has not announced whether she will pose here at prom tonight.

Between scenes, Audrey M. Sullivan, '32, upper extreme left, tells Margaret E. Hilton, '32, that she doesn't really mean the harsh things she says during the play. Above, Ruth Brezee and Julia A. Fister, sophomores, practice hard to get a villainous scowl during their sword action. They all had roles in "The Romancers," presented recently by the elementary dramatics class.

They wouldn't tell the News photographer where they were going, but they're just about to start. Left to right, are Ethel M. Grundholer, '30, Ethel M. Smith, and Josephine E. Bennett, juniors.

Brrrr! It's quite cold for such a costume, but one can't keep Esther A. Waters, '30, out of it. She will teach swimming this summer at Camp Macey, National Girl Scout training camp, Briarcliff, New York. Look out for the splash!

A new gymnasium deserves new methods of instruction, or so it would appear from the antics of these five members of a gymnasium class. Believe it or not, they're practicing balancing. Left to right, they are: Edith Ketcham, '33, Jeanette Harrison, '30, Marion Feinberg, '31, Ruth M. Isherwood, '32, and Bertha Nathan, '30.

Dorothy Brimmer, '30, left, has until March 28 to prepare sets for the Girls' Athletic association vaudeville show, which will be presented this year in the auditorium of Page hall instead of the annual musical comedy.

MISS DOROTHY HUIAKLAN

And they said they were sorry they couldn't attend classes during a recent epidemic of influenza at College house when the men were quarantined for four days! To the right are seven of the men in the finals of a game of "Donkey" to see who will wash the dishes.

Below are two of the invalids, Anthony J. Kulczycki, '33, and Walter Driscoll, '31, with Ormond I. Guyer, '33, in the role of nurse.

Below and to the extreme right are Clinton F. Wallwork, '32, and Arlon R. Bush, '33, taking preventive measures in the old-fashioned way against the disease.

"Are you going to serve Lorna Doones or animal crackers?" these two actresses were probably asking the chairman of the refreshments committee as they looked over her shoulder at the menu. Left to right are Edith A. Hunt, '31, Isabel J. Peard, and Audrey N. Sullivan, sophomores. Miss Hunt and Miss Sullivan played the fond fathers in "The Romancers," and Miss Peard served tea between acts.

These five girls found time to smile for the camera in the midst of their frolicing at the recent masquerade of the Young Women's Christian association. At the extreme left is Margaret Faust in the person of Margaret C. Service, '32, who took second prize for the best costume. Next to her is Edythe E. Cairns, '31, who did her best to color up things at the party. Miss Cairns is a member of the Campus commission. The two little Dutch girls, or they may be Irish lassies, are Marie C. Havko, '30, who edited the student directory, and Mary E. Cooley, '33, one of Utica's gifts to State college. The southern belle at the extreme right, with the long tresses and the pretty cameo, is Louise S. Dubee, '30, who is vice-president of the Dramatics and art council.

Upholding the athletic hopes of State college on the basketball court this season are the members of the varsity pictured to the left. Thus far in the season they have won two games and lost three, all hard fought. They beat New Jersey State teachers college by 48 to 34, and defeated Maxwell Training school by 35 to 23. The men went into a slump after the Christmas holidays and lost three games within eight days to Jamaica Teachers college, Clarkson Tech, and Cooper Union.

Captain Whiston and Festa are playing their last season for State, besides Leo Allan, who does not appear in the picture. Raymond Collins, in the lower left hand corner, will probably be out of the game for the rest of the year with a broken ankle he suffered in a practice session at the beginning of the season.
