A CODE OF ETHICS IN GOVERNMENT

Law, medicine, and other professions have their codes of ethics. We have certainly progressed sufficiently so that it would not be inappropriate to develop a code of ethics for public servants — those elected as well as those appointed. Recent events, the deep sense of public indig-

Kaplan Summarizes Pension Bills Enacted

By H. ELIOT KAPLAN

Deputy State Comptroller in Charge of the Retirement System

THE 1951 legislature recently enacted, and Governor Dewey has signed laws which affect the New York State Employees' Retirement System and its members.

55-Year Law

The 1951 legislature reopened the 55-year retirement law so as to permit elections under its terms at any time up to September 30, 1951. This gives the members of the System further opportunity to take advantage of this beneficial statute. Perhaps with the increase in salaries which the same legislature also provided for the State employees, more members of the System will find it possible to come under the new 55-year plan.

The 1950 legislature had enacted the new 55-Year Law (Section 86a) under which members could retire upon attaining age 55. The cost of the larger benefits under this law is shared by the member and his employer. It provided that a member who wished to come under its provisions must elect to do so not later than December 31, 1950. It was expected that all, or nearly all of the members would do so. However, only about half of the active members of the State System had filed. Perhaps some members felt they could not afford the higher contributions, which under the 55-Year Plan are about 1½ times the contribution rate under the old 60-Year Plan.

Loan Provisions

A far-reaching change was made in the provision relating to loans. Since the loan provision is popular, these changes will be of considerable interest.

(1) Heretofore, a member could only borrow up to age 60, and was required to repay his loan fully by the time he reached that age. Under the new law a member may borrow at any time up to age 65, and may repay his loan up to then.

(2) Heretofore, a member could not borrow unless he had credit for at least three years of member service. Under the new law he may borrow if he has credit for at least one year of member service.

(3) Heretofore, the loan had to be repaid by contributions which were at least equal to the member's normal contributions. In some cases this required fairly rapid repayment of the loan. Under the new law the member may repay the loan by regular contributions which are equal to his normal contribution, or to $10 per month, whichever is lower. In

CIVIL SERVICE BEAUTIES, No. 3. The fresh, spring-like quality you see in the photo above is in the face of Dolores M. Collins, who works in Buffalo for the State Department of Taxation & Finance. She's further proof that all those canards you keep hearing about how unpretty civil service gals are... well, men, it just isn't so! The LEADER has embarked on a project of proving it isn't so. We get around, and we lay down a challenge — civil service females are BETTER-looking than the average. That's our claim, we stick by it, and we'll prove it with these photos. Please help us by sending in pictures of good-looking female public employees. They may work for Federal, State, City, or local governments. Institutions Train Men in 12 Trades

ALBANY, April 23—The State Mental Hygiene Department is now conducting apprentice training programs in four institutions — Binghamton, Buffalo, and Utica State Hospitals, and Newark State School. A total of 50 employees are enrolled. The program, begun at Utica, is considered a useful source of personnel in a number of trades.

In addition to instruction on the job, all apprentices receive supplemental instruction in subjects related to their trades for a minimum of 144 hours a year during each year of the apprenticeship term. Upon completion of the term, an apprenticeship certificate is awarded, and the employee is ready to assume the duties of a journeyman in his trade.

Many Trades

Standards of apprenticeship have been set up for the mental Hygiene program in the following trades: bricklayer-mason, painter and decorator, plumber and steamfitter, maintenance electrician, stationary engineer, baker, cook, meatcutter, bookbinder, cabinetmaker, carpenter, and linoleum and carpet layer.

The State Apprenticeship Council, which is supervising the program, is interested in extending it. The apprenticeship program offers a unique opportunity to those Mental Hygiene employees who can take advantage of it.

Hamburg Sign Men Denied Pay Boost

ALBANY, April 23—J. Earl Kelly, Director of Classification and Compensation, has denied a request for a hearing on a raise in grade and salary for employees of the Hamburg Sign Shop, District 5, of the Department of Public Works.

The present grade is G-5, and the request for G-9, title Sign Shop Painter.

Fisher Award Bids Start Rolling In

Nominations started rolling in last week for the Harold J. Fisher Memorial Award. Department heads, supervisors, and fellow-employees may nominate any competitive employee of the State for the annual award.

In its sixth year, the Harold J. Fisher Memorial Award is sponsored by The Civil Service LEADER. This year's award committee consists of three officials of the Civil Service Reform Association: Charles Burlingham, president; Howard Kelly, chairman of the executive board and James A. Watson, executive secretary. The committee decides who shall receive the coveted prize.

Basis of Award

The committee is now handling stacks of entries. They state the nominee's name, his title and the department, institution or agency by which he is employed. Then follows a description of his signal contribution to the advancement of the processes, work and ideals of civil service during the past year. The prize is awarded on the basis of the nominee's achievement and a history of his civil service career.

The first winner of the coveted prize, for achievement in 1944, was Dr. Frank L. Tolman, later elected president of The Civil Service Employees Association.

How to Go About It

The contest, now in its sixth year, is expected to develop keener competition this year than ever before.

All entries should be addressed to the Harold J. Fisher Memorial Award Committee, c/o Civil Service Reform Association, 120 East 29th Street, New York 16, N. Y.

27th Chapter Joins Albany Conference

At the meeting of the conference held on March 28, Dr. Schneider appointed a nominating committee to select officer candidates for the coming year. The members of the committee are as follows:

William Kuehn, Dept. of Agriculture & Markets, Chairman.

Mrs. Ruth Wagar, Dept. Correction.

Jane Barton, Dept. of Commerce.

Michael Lester, Bureau of Motor Vehicles.

Dr. David Schneider is at present confined to the Albany Hospital, Room 312.

Bronx Man, With Mark of 99.5, Heads State Genius List

ALBANY, April 23—Ten eligible lists, including 810 names of college seniors and graduates who passed last December's written test for beginning professional and technical positions in State service, were made public last week by the State Civil Service Commission. The Commission also issued a 327-name list of candidates who passed the examination of accounting assistant held at the same time.

A total of 3,169 candidates were tested in the December group of examinations which formed the fourth annual "college series." The college series has been held yearly since 1948 to draw into State service persons potentially capable of advancing to high positions in their field.

To Be Used for Many Jobs

The 11 lists will be used to fill a wide variety of positions. Most appointments are expected at starting salaries of $3,086 and $3,237 including emergency compensation, according to Commission President J. Edward Conway. The previous college series, held in January of 1950, resulted in close to 300 appointments.

Bronx Man Hits 99.5

Albert Gubar, Bronx, was first on a general list composed of the top 200 candidates with a score of 99.5. Herman Schulz, St. Albans, Queens, stood second on the general list with a mark of 99.38. Isaac W. Feinberg, Brooklyn, was third with 97.3. Messrs. Schulz and Feinberg are veterans. Mr. Schulz also headed the chemical specialty.

(Disabled veterans may claim 10 additional points, non-disabled veterans five points. The extra points are added to earned examination scores.)

The Fields

Nine other lists were established to the following fields: engineering, biology, chemistry, mathematics, economics, statistics, library science, law and psychology. Some candidates qualified for more than one specialty and their names appear on more than one list.

Candidates in the accounting assistant examination were allowed to substitute work experience for college training. Thomas F. Hart, Lackawanna, was first on the accounting list with a score of 97.6. Alan Hirschberg, Long Beach, was second with a mark of 97.4 and Bernard Perlman, Bronx, was third with 96.6. All three are veterans.

Employees Lauded for Aid On New Law

In its annual report to Governor Thomas E. Dewey, covering 1950, the State Workmen's Compensation Board praises the job done by its staff on the new State disability benefit program. Described as a program of greater scope than any undertaken since workmen's compensation was instituted 36 years ago, it got off smoothly, the report states. Credit is given also to employer organizations, labor unions, the medical profession and the insurance industry.

The report mentions "the resolute and able handling of new and often difficult administrative problems by the Board staff, and their devoted and untiring work."

Tribute 'Well Deserved'

"It is a pleasure," the report continues, "in days when fashion so often runs to carping criticism of public servants, to pay well deserved tribute to the personnel of this Board, who cheerfully worked overtime to set up the new social insurance program, and at the same time contributed to maintain efficient operations of workmen's compensation."

The new law requires employers of four or more employees in "covered" employment to provide weekly cash benefits in lieu of wages that are lost during periods of temporary disability caused by non-occupational sickness or off-the-job injury, disabilities for which workmen's compensation benefits are not payable.

The Board, of which Mary Donion is chairman, commends the co-operation given by the State Departments of Commerce, Audit and Control, Taxation and Finance, Health and Civil Service and the Division of Budget. The Joint Legislative Committee on Industrial and Labor Conditions and the Joint Legislative Committee on Interstate Co-operation assisted in solving problems, the Board stated.

other lists are as follows:

Engineering: Stewart W. Markham, New Orleans, La., disabled veteran; Frederick Miller, Brooklyn, veteran, and Austin E. Brant, Averno.

Biology: Marvin D. Strauss, NYC; Janice L. Greene, Alfred, and Roy A. Bloom, Bronx.

Chemistry: Mr. Schulz, Albert Abrahams, Bronx, disabled veteran; and A. Leo Moser, Buffalo, veteran.

Mathematics: Mr. Abrahams, Daniel Finkel, Brooklyn, and Abraham S. Kadish, NYC, veteran.

Economics: Mark L. Wehle, NYC, veteran; Rubin Weinberg, NYC, disabled veteran; and Henry R. Landow, Brooklyn, veteran.

Library Science: Douglas Swartout, Elmira Heights, veteran; Robert J. Ansell, Syracuse, veteran; and Melvin Sanders, Brooklyn.

Law: John J. Hyland, Brooklyn, veteran; and Grace Banoff, Bronxville.

Psychology: William Gustafson, Brooklyn; Edward Rogalin, NYC, veteran; and S. L. Wallenstein, St. Albans, veteran.

Statistics: Mr. Weinberg, Rene Pisanl, NYC; and Mr. Landow.

Two New Laws Aid Veterans

An amendment to the Military Law, which became Chapter 498 of the Laws of 1951, provides that a Veterans Administration certificate dated a year before the date of filing an application for a job exam is timely for the establishment of disability preference for war veterans. Formerly, under court decisions, the period had to be one year prior to appointment or promotion.

Since the date when an eligible would be established could not be known with certainty in advance, particularly for large lists, hence the date of appointment or promotion was made doubly uncertain, administration of the preference law burdened the civil service commissions. Also, eligibles couldn't know for certain whether their preference claim would hold water, under the time limit. Now, with a day certain determining beginning of the one-year period, the doubt is removed.

Effect of Amendment

The amendment, in effect, provides that a disability that was certified by the VA within a year prior to application for the job exam, is conclusively presumed to exist at the time of appointment or promotion. Where no such job exam application is required, the date of retention in a job governs, in place of the application date.

Secretary Frank A. Schaefer of the NYC Civil Service Commission hailed the amendment and stated that the administration of the preference law was greatly simplified, although still involving considerable work. Dr. Schaefer, commander of the Cunningham post of the American Legion in Queens County, is a former Army major.

Discrimination Removed

Another amendment, which also met with Dr. Schaefer's approval, became Chapter 505. This defines time of war to include service in the armed forces since June 25, 1950, so-called Korea Day. This law, too, is now in effect. It removes the discrimination existing under the old law, whereby period of war covered specified dates, which for World War II were from December 7, 1941 to September 19, 1945. The amendment affects Section 21, Subdivision 2, of the Civil Service Law. Other dates covered in the old law the Spanish-American War, the Philippine insurrection and World War I, and remain unchanged, but the crux was World War II, because of the stoppage of war veteran preference on the 1945 date.

Unfamiliar Facts

These two changes involve, indirectly, two aspects of veteran preference with which many candidates are unfamiliar. One is that to be entitled to disability preference, a veteran must have a disability on which the Veterans Administration is paying a pension, which means a disability of 10 per cent or more. That too remains unchanged. The other aspect is that preference applies only to war veterans, not to veterans generally, so that had not the date been extended during which time of war was applicable, members of the armed forces, even though wounded in the Korean fighting, couldn't claim disability preference, because they were not war veterans, under New York State law. They lost the 10 extra points gained in open-competitive, or 5 extra points in promotion exams. Also, non-disabled veterans couldn't get premium points equalling half those respective amounts, since none of those candidates, in either group, would have been considered war veterans. Now they are, and retroactively besides.

The 'Balance' Is Assayed As Dewey Signs, Vetoes Civil Service Measures

ALBANY, April 23—The final roundup of civil service legislation, following Governor Dewey's action on bills, shows that employees made notable gains this year and suffered some setbacks.

In the realm of retirement legislation, the Legislature was especially active, with a number of vital measures further assuring public employees against the vicissitudes of old age. A full discussion of retirement legislation passed and signed by the Governor appears elsewhere in this issue.

Salary

On the matter of salary, the Governor signed into law the proposal granting to all State employees — executive, judicial, and legislative — the bill providing 12½ percent on the first $2,000 of income, 10 percent on the next $2,000 of income, and 7½ percent on income above $4,000, with a minimum of $300 and a maximum of $1,000. Employees are already receiving the new pay rates on their paychecks. Per diem get the increase, too.

This increase came after long negotiation between the administration and the Civil Service Employees Association. While the new scale doesn't reach the level which the Association fought formidably to attain, it is nevertheless higher than any other increase won anywhere among public employees. In New York City, for example, the increase is only $250 across-the-board, with a cutoff point at $7,500.

30 Measures Passed

Altogether, the Association had sponsored or supported 80 measures. Of these, 30 passed both houses, 5 more passed one house, 20 were enacted into law, 8 vetoed, and 2 required no action by the Governor.

Vet Legislation

On veterans legislation, the military service credit bill, introduced by Halpern and Becker, was signed by the Governor. This renews provisions of section 246 of the Civil Service Law extending protection given World War II veterans to employees entering service since World War II. The original section was written by the Association, and the organization is taking a leading part in protecting the rights of persons called to military service during the present crisis. (Chap. 14)

Another bill affecting veterans, introduced by Rosenblatt and Lama, establishes a procedure for obtaining disabled veteran preference. The bill provides that there must have been a Veterans Administration examination within a year prior to the claim for preference. This bill really puts into law what the court have been holding. (Chap. 498)

Security Law

One highly controversial measure, generally considered with trepidation by employees, passed and was signed by the Governor. This is the so-called security law. Introduced near the end of the session, it sets up machinery for transferring or dismissing employees from "sensitive" jobs or agencies. The bill applies to employees not only of the State, but at all levels of government. There is no court appeal for employees under the measure. Objections had been raised to it on the grounds that it might be an infringement on civil liberties, could be misused, and was unnecessary unless actual war broke out. No public hearing was held on the measure. One of the Governor's program bills, it has a cutoff date of June 30, 1952. (Chap. 233)

Rights on Dismissal

Two other measures vetoed by the Governor affect employee rights in the event of dismissal. One of these, introduced by Manning and Gusick, provided that all competitive class employees would have the right to hearing when charges are preferred, with the right to counsel and the summoning of witnesses. Only veterans and exempt firemen now have these rights.

The other bill vetoed was introduced by Manning and Wilcox. This measure, apparently a mild one which had no trouble getting through the Legislature, was nevertheless killed by the Governor at the behest of the Civil Service Commission and the Civil Service Reform Association. The measure would have empowered the Commission, after hearing an appeal, to order reinstatement of a dismissed employee to the job from which he had been dismissed. Under present law, if an appeal is sustained, the Commission can provide only for the transfer of the affected employee or put him on a preferred list.

Armory Salary Plan

On the affirmative side, the Legislature passed and the Governor signed a bill setting up a salary plan with regular increments and regularized working conditions for civilian employees of the State armories. (Chapter 838)

Increment Credit

Another measure, introduced by Erwin and Wilcox, provides that increment credit earned by service as a temporary or provisional employee is retained upon permanent appointment to the same or similar position. The bill is extended to April 1, 1952. (Chapter 32)

Pension Transfer Vetoed

The Governor vetoed a bill which would have given some pension protection to employees who transfer from New York City to State service. They would have obtained, under a measure introduced by Conrad and Del Giorno, continuity by paying both the pension and unity parts of the retirement contribution.

Two Commissions

The Legislature and the Governor approved two important commissions dealing with civil service. $75,000 was provided to the Commission on Coordination of State Activities for the purpose of making a complete study of the Civil Service Department leading to more efficient methods and procedures in personnel matters. (Chap. 101)

An extension was also granted to the Commission to Revise the Civil Service Law. (Chapter 81)

Cornell Bill Vetoed

For some inexplicable reason, the Governor vetoed a bill, introduced by Erwin and Noonan, which would extend the date after which a Cornell employee might elect to become a member of the State Retirement System.

'Decent Pay' Plan Pushed In Cortland

CORTLAND, April 23—The directors of the Cortland chapter of The Civil Service Employees Association met last week with members of the ways and means committee on the Board of supervisors.

The meeting was for the purpose of discussing the emergency compensation which the employees have been trying to get since the annual session of the Board last December.

Larry Hollister, Association field representative, came up from Albany, and stated that Cortland was unique in its position; he knew of no other county in the State which had not granted an emergency compensation to relieve the continued pressure of increases in the cost of living.

Sliding Scale Plan

The plan favored by the majority of employees and submitted last night, was on a sliding scale of 15-10-5 percent, with a minimum of $30 to any employee. The employees say they seek no more than "fair, decent pay."

The members of the Board of Supervisors who were present were reluctant to commit themselves or advance any plan of their own, although data pertaining to salaries in surrounding counties, and figures substantiating the necessity for such an increase had been submitted to them long before this meeting. However, Walter Arnold, chairman of the Board, stated that he would call a meeting of the ways and means committee. The employees hope that this matter can come to some satisfactory conclusion in the May session of the board.

THE CHAPTER held its spring quarterly meeting in the Syracuse Public Library. About 100 members were present.

Amendments and revisions to the constitution and by-laws were presented by Thomas Jackson, a member of the constitution revision committee. These amendments are to be voted upon at the July meeting. Willard Bennett is chairman of the committee.

Members of the nominating committee to select a slate of officers were appointed.

Mrs. Norma Scott, chairman of the membership committee, reported that the membership had reached the 1950 enrollment of 1,032. The membership drive was most successful.

Mrs. Edith Schroeder, chairman of the legislative committee reported on support of bills in the last session of the State Legislature.

Nigel L. Andrews, regional attorney, discussed recent actions of the State Legislature affecting civil service personnel. Mr. Andrews' remarks were well received.

Robert S. Clift, vice president of the chapter, presided at the meeting. Mrs. Juliet H. Pendergast, president, is recuperating from an illness, but was present.

Other officer present included Mrs. Mary Duda, assistant secretary, Eleanor Rosbach, treasurer, and Catherine M. Thornton, secretary.

NEWS from Ray Brook:

Magician Edward Webber, known as "Webber and Company" of Plattsburg, played to a packed house at the Hospital on Sunday, April 15. . . . He was aided by assistants Patricia Harvey and Hope Doucette, and some patient-audience participation. Mary Shella and Heather, daughters of Dr. and Mrs. F. Clark White, scintillated with excitement when they were called upon the stage as part of an act.

Mr. Webber is now Chief Pressman for the Plattsburg Press-Republican. As a hobby, he has been touring New York and Vermont with his own show. . . .

Chapter vice-president John Bala thanked the artists on behalf of the patients. A "thank you" is due M. C. William Jordan for bringing this entertainment to the patients. KITCHENKEEPERS' PAY APPEAL IS DENIED

ALBANY, April 23 — Kitchenkeepers employed in the Department of Correction have lost their second appeal for re-allocation to Grade 19 from Grade 15. J. Earl Kelly, director of Classification and Compensation, so notified Charles J. Carroll of Walkkill Prison, who represented the kitchenkeepers.

Mr. Kelly took up what he said were the principal arguments advanced on behalf of the employees and explained why the former finding, in his opinion, must stand.

Food service managers, with whose work the kitchenkeepers compared their own, have "counterbalancing responsibilities," said Mr. Kelly, and supervise much larger staffs, controlling food preparation for 4,000 to 12,000 patients and employees in from five to 30 different kitchens, handle more meals and also assume management responsibilities.

Distinguishes Diet Duties

The dietetic work of the kitchenkeepers, Mr. Kelly found, must be approved by superiors, and while practical nutritional knowledge is required of kitchenkeepers, no training or experience in the technical field was.

Knives and other dangerous instruments in kitchens were no ground for upward reallocation, he stated. Sergeants in prison shops and "prison guards assigned to your kitchen are also exposed to the same hazard," he added.

Comparison with typewriter service, stores supervisors, and terminal and grain elevator supervisors (Grade 19 groups), was untenable because of the difference in the fields of work, he found.

Copies of the letter were sent to Paul D. McGinnis; John T. Ford; Sing Sing; Harry Joyce, Attica; Lloyd J. Kenneston, Clinton; Fred R. Loveland, Great Meadows; Vincent R. Mancusi, Woodbourne, and E. Warren Van Riper, Auburn.

New Chapter Being Formed in Seneca

SENECA FALLS, April 23—Seneca county civil service employees met in the American Legion Home, Seneca Falls, to organize a county chapter of The Civil Service Employees Association. A steering committee was named, with Mrs. Lilah Anderson of County Welfare as temporary chairman. The committee includes Margaret Martin, County Welfare; Harvey Everett, County Highway; George Ullrich and Della Manwaring, County Court House; Irma Batty, County Health; Florence Markel, County

Civil Service Commission; Augustus Bentley, County Sealer of Weights and Measures; Sterling Pratt, Charinia Chammuso, Matthew McKeon and Andrew Cepuch all of Seneca Falls, and Claude Dilts, Harold Toombs, and Clarence Hoyt, Waterloo.

But all of us know full well that the world situation they've created has pushed the cost of living in these United States sky high.

con edison's cost of living is no exception. We must pay more for all the things we need to provide you with dependable electric service. { For example, copper is up 119% over the 1940 price, lead is up 226%, and rubber is up 257%. } We must pay higher taxes. And we must pay higher wages.

Is it any wonder that electric rates must go up a bit? It would be the first N. Y. C. electric rate increase in Con Edison history! Up until now we've made only rate decreases. { There were major rate reductions in 1945 and 1946. Then in January 1949 the Public Service Commission ordered an additional temporary rate reduction of 10%. } only a small increase is needed. We feel—and we think you'll agree—that New Yorkers would prefer to pay a few pennies a week more, rather than run any chances with the dependable electric service they have always enjoyed.

Individual honors for high single games went to Bertha Bilden and Harold Butler with scores of 187 and 246, respectively. Mrs. Bilden and Ed Lindergren won high triple awards with totals of 450 and 598.

Highlights of the evening's entertainment program were the showing of colored candid shots of the bowlers by Robert Nichols with a narration entitled "Learning to Bowl, or A Night on the Alleys," satirizing the various members' bowling techniques presented by Angelo Syracuse.

Music for dancing was furnished by Woody Wood and his orchestra. Dr. A. Augustine played the guitar.

James Morrow served as chairman of the committee of arrangements. Angelo Syracuse acted as master of ceremonies. Superintendent Thomas J. Hanlon presented the prizes.

Roswell Park Institute

THE ROSWELL Park Memorial Institute employees packed the Scottish Club banquet hall to honor Margaret (Ma) Kelley, who retired. Seated at the speakers' table were Mr. and Mrs. Kelley and daughter; Mrs. Robert Stelley; Dr. Louis Kress, the Director, and wife; State Civil Service Commissioner Louise C. Gerry; the Rev. Henry J. Frey; Father Francis Miller; and Dr. Walter Murphy, master of ceremonies.

Mrs. Croy, captain of the Gray Ladies, thanked Mrs. Kelley for the many fine deeds she did and then presented her with a bond.

Commissioner Gerry, an old friend of Ma Kelley, recalled that when Ma demanded to be heard most of the men upstate knew she meant it. In closing, the Commissioner praised Ma Kelley as a loyal State employee and CSEA member and one who would be remembered by all.

Dr. Kress said: "Mrs. Kelley, I am happy that you are young enough and well enough after 25 years of loyal service to our State and institution to retire and still enjoy life fully."

He presented the wallet and contents. Assistant Administrator N. S. Sprickman, the Attica State Prison employees and the patients at the hospital sent congratulatory telegrams.

Mrs. Kelley said: "I cannot remember any time in my life when I was so thrilled unless it was the night I married Kelley."

Ma read her favorite poem, "Give Away a Few Smiles."

Members of the other chapters present were Grace Hillery, Robert R. Hopkins and Celeste Rosenkrantz.

Chairman Don Smith, Mary Stravino, E. Burke and others were thanked for the fine banquet.

Mrs. Kelley was honored also by her own department, Dietary, and another group, the Happy Four Hundred.

nation following upon the revelations of official investigations point up that benefits are to be derived from the existence of such a code. The New York Herald-Tribune has stated the matter succinctly: "Outside the realm of strict legality, there remain large areas where personal integrity and professional ethics must hold sway, if government is to be free of favoritism, influence or graft."

The increasing importance of public service in American life requires an examination into this whole problem of ethics in government; an analysis of the data resulting from the current spate of investigations in order to find their inner meaning — in the broad sense. Out of this accumulation of raw data, and calling upon the dynamic historical moral perspective of our nation, it ought to be possible to re-state certain excellent universally-recognized principles, and to formulate in fairly specific terms a code of conduct which might, in time, attain the prestige and vitality in government which the legal and medical codes have for those who subscribe to them. Nothing is to be lost in trying, and at the very least public attention will be constructively focused on the question of ethics in government.

The Ideas of Thinking Americans

The idea has occurred to thinking Americans. United States Senator Paul Douglas, a man of deep intellectual acumen, sees much value in the development of such a code: "There would be no criminal penalties involved, but the code would provide a light for those who are trying to pick their way amid the complexities and temptations of the [government] scene, and would give the public a guide for judging men's conduct."

Senator William J. Fulbright, former President of the University of Arkansas, sees also in such a code positive values to be derived out of the muck and dirt which seem to be dredged up wherever men pierce deeply into government. "I am unwilling to accept the view that nothing can be done, that the moral deterioration, which is so evident to all, must continue to its logical conclusion, which is the destruction of our free economic system." He sees in the development of a code of conduct a basic way "to strengthen the faith of all decent men in our democratic society."

Nothing Banal

How is this to be done, this code to be written? Anyone can draw up a few pious phrases, slated against evil and promulgated in favor of kindness. But such a document would be as ineffective as its phrases would be banal. The LEADER proposes that a committee of good men — that is, men of good will — be drawn from the various sectors of our society. Let them represent those who work with and in government; let them speak for the rich and the poor; for business and for labor; for the bar and education and civil service. Let this group of distinguished men — distinguished in the sense of broad competence and sensitivity to complexes of our times — wrestle with the problem; let it examine the information unearthed by the probers and the diggers; let it go to the sources of American ethical concepts . . . and these concepts are more secure than some might believe. Let the men gather and weigh and argue; but in the end let them come up with a code, or codes, of conduct that will make an enduring contribution to government and to the purity of government operations in the public interest.

Someone Must Start

Someone must start these things. The Civil Service LEADER undertakes to do so. We shall try to gather together such a committee of citizens, each of whom shall agree to dedicate his best thinking to this project.

Of our readers, we ask: Give your help to the task. You who are in government have the strongest awareness of the material that should go into a code of conduct for government personnel. Give your suggestions, your ideas. Tell us where we should explore, where to set our sights. It is our hope that properly accomplished, a set of ethical standards can strengthen faith in our democracy and strengthen democracy itself.

WHAT EVERY EMPLOYEE SHOULD KNOW

APPOINTMENT TO COMPETITIVE POSITION WITHOUT EXAMINATION

By THEODORE BECKER

CAN YOU be appointed directly to a competitive class position without taking any examination? Yes, if you are a person of "high and recognized attainments" in "peculiar and exceptional qualifications of a scientific, professional or educational character," and competition for the job involved is impracticable.

Section 15 (2) of the Civil Service Law provides that in that case, the State or municipal commission may suspend the provisions of the rule requiring competition.

Must Be Reported

The provision is made, however, that "no such suspension shall be general in its application to such place, and all such cases of suspension shall be reported in the annual reports of such commissions with the reasons therefor."

Suppose you receive such appointment without examination. Does this entitle you to all the rights and privileges, including tenure, which attaches to competitive class status? Is your appointment temporary only, until competition becomes practicable? Are you subject to removal without charges in the same manner as a temporary or non-competitive employee? These questions were recently raised in an action brought by an appointee under Section 15 (2) of the Civil Service Law. He wanted the Supreme Court in Ontario County to decide whether he was a temporary or a permanent employee.

Appointment Deemed Proper

About three years earlier, he had been appointed Superintendent of Public Works of the City of Geneva and the Geneva Civil Service Commission had confirmed the appointment. The Court noted that both agencies had made every effort to comply with Section 15 (2) in making such appointment. While the reasons why competition in this case was deemed impracticable were not fully stated, it did appear to the Court that such reasons probably existed and that no reason existed for upsetting the Commission's action. The Court assumed that this action was reported to the State Civil Service Commission and there appears to have been no objection raised by that agency, which had placed the comparable position of City Engineer in the City of Rye in the non-competitive class — an indication that competition for such position was not feasible.

No notice of a competitive examination for the position was posted by the Geneva Commission for a three-year period — an indication that the local commission itself regarded the appointment as permanent.

The Court pointed out that it might be argued that a Section 15 (2) appointment is intended to be temporary until the need for suspending competition passes. However, no authority exists for this viewpoint. Instead, the Court felt that the legislative intent was that the appointment should be permanent in nature and the suspension of competition should be permanent so far as the specific appointee was concerned.

Not In Competitive Class

The Court was very careful to point out, however, that this did not mean that the appointment was permanent within the competitive class. Rather, the appointee should be deemed taken out of the competitive class and placed in the non-competitive class. Thus, he becomes subject to removal under circumstances applicable to persons in such class — without a hearing on charges, unless he is a war veteran or an exempt volunteer fireman.

In conclusion, the Court noted that no action had been taken to remove the employee. Hence, it ruled that he may have a declaration that he was appointed Superintendent of Public Works; that he presently holds this position; and that no opening or vacancy presently exists in such position. Bolton v. Vogt, 12/27/50.

COMMENT

HELP THE LIBRARIANS

Editor, The LEADER:

As a Library patron, it has been brought to my attention that the workers in the Public Library System are not receiving the increase that other NYC employees have already received. Reference is being made to the cost-of-living bonus of $250.

I cannot understand why the libraries should be overlooked. It has been my experience that these employees do more than their share in serving the public of our great city.

Where else can one find the information he seeks at any time of day? Where else can school children complete their homework after receiving an assignment from their teachers? I believe that the Librarians are just as important as teachers in helping to build future Americans.

The cost-of-living rise is being felt by everyone. I am sure that the workers in the Public Libraries of New York deserve and need this bonus in order to live like human beings.

Mention of this letter in your editorial page may help to bring an injustice to light. At least I hope so. Your newspaper has always been a great champion in this regard. I sincerely hope that you will be able to help these unfortunate civil service workers.

SUBWAY MAN ASKS: WHERE'S THE REPORT?

Editor, The LEADER:

I am a regular reader of the LEADER. I wish to thank you for your recent series of editorials dealing with the plight of our underpaid NYC workers to receive economic justice by getting a decent wage rate.

I would appreciate a near future editorial dealing with the year ago recommendation of the Mayor's Transit fact finding board for a 40-hour week for the employees of the New York City Transit System. The engineers that were employed to make a survey of the system to work in the shorter work week have finished their work, but no one yet has heard of its report and findings.

ATTENDANCE OFFICERS PROTEST 'FITFUL CRUMB'

Editor, The LEADER:

The NYC Attendance Officers are asking that the following facts be presented while there is still time before the adoption of the Budget for 1951-52. We consider the offer of a cost of living bonus of $250 for one year an action that

The Initials Should Have Read UPW

In a story concerning the united efforts of NYC employee organizations, an erroneous statement appeared due to incorrect proofreading of two initials. The statement should have read:

"The United Public Workers also was not included, the other organizations stating they preferred not to work with the UPW in their joint action." The initials "UPA" had erroneously appeared where "UPW" was intended.

The story told of the fact that for the first time in history, public employee groups representing perhaps 100,000 NYC civil servants met to work out a combined strategy on the specific issue of pay raises. Included were representatives of the AFL, CIO, Police and Fire line organizations, and various independent groups.

The head of one of the major employee organizations said: "No such effort could be effected without the UPA."

does a grave injustice to one of the city's most important and hard-working groups.

Ten years ago our maximum salary was $3,000 compared with that of $3,390 for the elementary school teacher, a differential of $390.

Our scholastic requirements are equivalent to that of the elementary school teacher. Has our pay risen to that of the teacher's? Definitely not. Indeed, it has fallen steadily lower. Our salary now is $4,050 compared to the elementary school teacher's $5,275 and $5,475, a differential of $1,150 and $1,350. Unjust? Of course. That is why we found it necessary to go to the State Legislature where we succeeded in having legislation passed during the last two years which would have placed us in the same salary schedule with the teachers, only to have Governor Dewey veto the bills on both occasions.

In the proposed budget for 1951-52 the elementary school teacher's pay will rise to $5,675 and $5,875. The Attendance Officer? Still no raise! But wait! He has been offered $250 with which to combat the rise in the cost of living. But the teacher has also been given an additional cost of living bonus of $100. He will have this $100 by June 30, and we will have nothing. The teacher will have the new differential in salary of $1,675 and $1,875 per year beginning July 1, 1951 while the Attendance Officer will get $250 to match it in combating present rising costs which happen to affect us all similarly.

A curious condition that defies all understanding is the fact that all positions in the Bureau of Attendance, namely, the Director, the Assistant Director, the Chief Attendance Officer, Division Supervisor and District Supervisor are all included in the salary schedules of those in comparable positions in the Board of Education, namely, Associate Superintendent, Assistant Superintendent, High School Principal, Elementary School Principal and Assistant Principal. But somewhere along the line the Attendance Officer was left out of salary consideration with his equal, the elementary school teacher.

10-Point Program Offered on How To Kill a Chapter

A 10-point program for killing a chapter has been devised by John Wallace, president of the Manhattan State Hospital chapter of The Civil Service Employees Association. Mr. Wallace means to spur on those who don't do everything to make a success of their chapter. The ten telling points:

1. Don't come to the meetings.
2. If you do, come late.
3. If weather doesn't suit you, don't think of coming.
4. If you do attend a meeting, find fault with the officers and members.
5. Never accept an office, as it is easier to criticize than to do things.
6. Nevertheless, get annoyed if you are not appointed to a committee. If you are appointed, don't attend the committee meetings.
7. If asked by the chapter president to give your opinion regarding some important matter, tell him you have nothing to say. After the meeting, tell everyone how things should have been done.
8. Do nothing more than is absolutely necessary. When other members roll up their sleeves and unselfishly use their ability to help things along, bawl that the chapter is run by a "clique."
9. Hold back your dues as long as is possible.
10. Don't bother about getting new members. They might help the chapter.

Hall Pushes Public Works Organization

ALBANY, April 23 — Charles Hall, Public Works Department representative of The Civil Service Employees Association, has been quietly pushing organization among public works groups in various parts of the State. Working together with Larry Hollister, field representative, Mr. Hall reports an accelerated response among public works employees at various local levels of government.

Mr. Hall states, too, that employees in the State Public Works Department in Otsego County are forming a separate chapter of the Association. Temporary president of the chapter, the third in Otsego County, is Bernard Gaffney. The new group has already applied for an Association charter, and is drawing up its constitution and by-laws.

Mr. Hall says that he will shortly announce the results of further organizing efforts.

VA Starts Search For Fake Disabled Vets on NYC Jobs

All NYC policemen and firemen who obtained veteran disability ratings during 1950 for purposes of civil service preference will have their files examined by the Veterans Administration.

Some civil service quarters said started to have the agency check this week that a move may be files in preceding years, too.

Conspiracy Charged

The action came as a result of the arrest by District Attorney Frank S. Hogan's office of the two Fire Department lieutenants on a charge of conspiring with a former records' clerk to gain veterans' disability ratings. These ratings put them at the top portion of a civil service promotion list and enabled them to become paid $600 for the assist. The two Fire Lieutenants. They allegedly were among 27 veterans promoted just before the old vet preference law expired.

Names Requested

The Veterans Administration has requested from the Municipal Civil Service Commission the names of all firemen promoted to the rank of lieutenant or above and police promoted to sergeancies or above. Any "suspicious" findings surrounding any of these names will be reported to the District Attorney's Office.

Assistant District Attorney Carl F. Rubino is probing the possibility that false medical claims may have given some persons advantages in promotion.

MERRICK PARK GARDENS OFFERS CO-OP HOUSING

Seven apartment buildings to house 116 families, offered to all, was opened on Merrick Road and Brinkerhoff Avenue, Jamaica. Hugo R. Heydorn is sales agent.

The community, called Merrick Park Gardens, is a non-profit housing project to be built by William Brafman & Co. under the National Housing Act.

Merrick Park Gardens will consist of 3 1/2, 4 1/2 and 5 1/2 room apartments.

In subscribing to an apartment at Merrick Park Gardens, the new tenant pays only the down payment. Veterans lose none of their GI bill privileges.

Who Got Paid for Fire Lieut. Promotions? Reform Assn. Demands Swift Answer

Who got paid for those NYC Fire Department promotions?

This blunt question was asked this week of District Attorney Frank S. Hogan. The questioner was William Dean Embree, chairman of the Law Committee of the Civil Service Reform Association.

In a strong letter to the New York County D. A., Mr. Embree said:

"The names of the new lieutenants who paid for the promotions and the identity of the recipient of the money apparently are known to yourself, the Commissioner of Investigation, and the members of the Fire Department who are involved. We believe that the facts concerning a secret known to so many must be readily available to those charged with enforcement of the law."

Swift Action Wanted

Congratulating Mr. Hogan upon the indictment of two fire lieutenants who are charged with bribing a Veterans Administration employee to falsify records, making possible their claim to disabled veteran status, Mr. Embree added:

"We hope to see similar swift action in the cases of all the others involved in paying for or receiving money for promotions in the Fire Department. We believe the citizens are entitled to a further report of progress on this investigation."

The Paid-for Promotions

Mr. Embree reviewed the story of the paid-for promotions.

"On February 16 you stated that you were certain that most of the 27 firemen who had been promoted to lieutenant on October 30 had paid $200 each for their promotions, and that you were making an investigation to find out whether payments had been made by any of the 43 firemen who were promoted on December 29."

The Reform Association had protested on October 25 and December 28, 1950, against making these promotions, on the ground that most of the men promoted were near the bottom of the list.

'Shocked'

"We were shocked," Mr. Embree continued, "as must have been all the citizens of New York, to hear a few weeks later that some, if not all, of the men who were promoted in the last weeks of the old veteran preference law had bought and paid for their lieutenant rank. This trafficking in civil service appointments, especially in a department the operations of which so closely affects the safety of life and property, strikes at the very heart of honest government, public morality and observance of the merit system."

Employees Adversely Affected

Mr. Embree pointed out that the promotions adversely affected other employees in the department who had shown themselves on examination to be better qualified for promotion. "We felt that it would be in the interest of the Fire Department to postpone use of the list until after the new veteran preference constitutional amendment . . . would go into effect on January 1, 1951. After this date, those scoring higher on the list could have been promoted, giving the department a better corps of men."

Results of Speed-Up Test Are Mixed

WASHINGTON, April 23—During the first 10 days of operation of the new plan for immediate testing of stenographers and typists at the U. S. Civil Service Commission, about half of the applicants passed. However, more than half of the eligibles are now working in the Federal Government and are not able to get into other departments. Some Federal employees mistakenly applied for the tests to gain probational (permanent) appointments. The Commission emphasizes that only "indefinite" appointments are being made.

Some who passed were not referred to the agencies because still below the minimum age requirement of 18 years or still in school.

FLORIDA SITE ATTRACTS CIVIL SERVICE PENSIONERS

With a special appeal to retiring civil service employees, a new development is growing up near Sanford, Florida. In a comparatively small community, DeBary, Florida, Joseph B. Schmeider is building small homes for as little as $5,500 and selling plots 100 x 150 for $290.

The homes include electric heat, a hot water-heater, and electric stove. Some of the plots adjoin one of the lakes in the area.

Van Name Honored by Employees

The Civil Service Forum awarded a certificate of appreciation to Ralph L. Van Name, secretary of the NYC Employees Retirement System, for his efforts on behalf of members of the NYCERS. Daniel P. Crohin, chairman of the pension committee, signed the award.

Mr. Van Name had recommended pension legislation that received the full approval of the Forum.

"It's very nice to be appreciated," said Mr. Van Name, expressing his gratitude to the Forum. "If I'd known of any better way of rendering better service I would have done that."

U. S. Agencies Pirating Employees From One Another

WASHINGTON, April 23—In a letter sent to all Federal agencies, the U. S. Civil Service Commission has condemned pirating of public employees. Said the Commission:

1. Each agency has the initial opportunity of preventing the pirating of employees from one agency by another and of preventing unwarranted upgrading of positions in the Federal service by properly placing each of its positions in the proper grade.

2. Honest mistakes and honest differences of opinion sometimes set off a series of personnel actions which may result in job inflation.

3. The Commission will investigate charges of pirating and unwarranted upgrading, and will pay particular attention to new and expanding agencies. Whenever necessary, the Commission will suspend or revoke the authority of an agency to classify its positions in classes and grades without prior approval of the Commission, and to require correction of previous erroneous actions.

4. The Commission will continue to consider any valid reason for the delay of a particular audit, because of an emergency situation, but it will not agree to any blanket postponements of the audit program for an entire agency or a large part of an agency. The Commission pointed out that it cannot discharge its joint responsibility for correct position classification unless audits are conducted; that there is no completely convenient time for an audit from the agency's standpoint; and that from a Government-wide standpoint audits are more necessary in emergency periods than in normal periods.

23 Years On Job, Never Late

Joe Ennis is typical of many New York subway commuters—with one major exception: he hasn't been late to work in 23 years.

Asked to explain the phenomenon, Joe drew his slim shoulders together and said: "Routine. It's just a matter of setting a schedule and keeping it. Sure, it can be rough on a guy — what with riding the subway and that — but I've managed."

Joe has outlasted several time clocks at the Property Disposal Division of the New York Port of Embarkation. But he's managed to punch all of them well in advance of 8 a.m.—the start of a day's work.

The same perseverance that Joe has shown in punching clocks has helped him rise over a span of 28 years from laborer to supervisor of the Property Disposal Warehouse.

Technical Jobs Offered by U. S.

The Civilian Personnel Branch of the New York Port of Embarkation seeks to fill the following jobs at Fort Eustis, Va.:

- 2 Transportation Requirements Analysts (Engineering), $7,600.

Dr. Clements Heads Regional Loyalty Board

The U. S. Civil Service Commission designated of Dr. Andrew V. Clements, dean of the Albany Law School, as chairman of the Regional Loyalty Board of the Second U. S. Civil Service Region, with headquarters in NYC. Dr. Clements succeeds Ernest Angell, resigned.

The Regional Loyalty Board was established under President Truman's order setting up procedures for the administration of an employees loyalty program in the executive branch of the Federal Government. Members of the Board pass on full field investigations of applicants for conditional appointments to U. S. civil service positions in New York and New Jersey.

The Junior Scientist and Engineer register has been established by the Second Regional Office of the U. S. Civil Service Commission, covering New York and New Jersey. It contains 268 names. Job offers will go out before the new crop of college graduates receive their diplomas.

The U. S. Army's Civilian Personnel Division, said John L. Contracts run for one year in Okinawa, two years in the other commands.

Age Limits
Men who apply must be between 21 and 50 years of age, women between 21 and 40, except woman recreational directors, for whom the age limits are 24 to 35. No age restriction is set for Alaska.

Civil Service Rights

By MORRIS WEISSBERG

Mr. Weissberg, former Deputy Assistant NYC Corporation Counsel and author of the book "Civil Service Rights," contributes frequently to the Civil Service LEADER.

ORGANIZATION ACTIVITIES BY CIVIL EMPLOYEES

RECENT statements by the NYC Police Commissioner, indorsed by the Mayor, urging policemen not to join a certain labor union, make it appropriate to discuss briefly the status and activities of public employee organizations.

The Charter of NYC prohibits policemen and firemen from joining "any political club or association or any club or association intended to affect legislation for or on behalf of the department or any member thereof, or to contribute any funds for such purpose." However, this does not necessarily apply to employee organizations or labor unions, which work for improvement of working conditions, or elimination of grievances, by educational campaigns, appeals to the public and the Legislature, or negotiations with public officers.

What the Courts Say
The courts have pointed out that section 15 of the Civil Rights Law provides that a "citizen shall not be deprived of the right to appeal to the legislature, or to any public officer, board, commission or other public body, for the redress of grievances, on account of employment in the civil service of the state or any of its city divisions." The New York City Charter and Administrative Code expressly safeguard to employees the rights granted by the Civil Rights Law.

Case of the Firemen
In 1946, the Court of Appeals construed these laws in a case involving the Uniformed Firemen's Association of the City of New York. The Association had issued a statement defending itself against charges of lack of patriotism leveled against the Association and its members for bringing a suit to annul a Fire Department order requiring firemen to perform extra hours of duty without pay, as a civilian defense emergency measure, during the war. After that statement was issued, the Fire Commissioner directed the president and members of the Association "to make no further statements of any kind, either for publication or otherwise, concerning the members of the Association in relation to the Department," and that disobedience would be punished as a violation of Rule 248 which prohibited members from "the use

Retired Fire-Fighters To Sue for Bigger Pension, Based on Bonus

A special meeting of the NYC Fire Department Retired Men's Association, was held on Wednesday, April 18, at 8 P.M., at Werdermann's Hall, Sixteenth Street and Third Avenue. The meeting discussed proposed litigation against the City on behalf of members who retired from the Fire Department from July 1, 1944 to June 30, 1950.

The association contends that monies received from the City as a cost-of-living bonus should have been included in computing the pension.

Edward J. Leonard, president of the association, invited all civil service employees who retired during that period to join in the effort.

Edward M. Edenbaum has been retained as attorney.

of their names or photographs in connection with any written or printed article, nor with the advertisement in any magazine or newspaper, without the written approval of the Chief of the Department.

Firemen Have Right to Talk

Thereupon the Association brought suit to annul the Regulation and the verbal order as invalid and to restrain its enforcement. The Court of Appeals sustained the validity of the Regulation, as bearing a "reasonable relation to a purpose by the defendant in good faith to promote the efficiency and best interests of the Department." The Court pointed out that the Regulation did not deny employees the right to speak or write, but conditioned it upon approval by the Commissioner, and that the "presumption is not that such permission will be denied arbitrarily, unreasonably or capriciously."

However, as to the Commissioner's verbal order, the Court held it invalid, saying "we know of no statutory power granted to the defendant directly or by implication which permitted him to deprive the plaintiffs—who, as firemen, are civil service employees—of the right to make statements of any kind, either for publication or otherwise, concerning the members of the Uniformed Firemen's Association in relation to the Fire Department." The Court pointed out that section 15 of the Civil Rights Law granted rights to any "citizen," including firemen, and that "we may not by judicial construction redefine a statutory right which the Legislature has defined in clear language."

Therefore, members of uniformed forces, such as policemen, firemen, etc., have the same right as other civil service employees to join unions or associations for improvements of hours of labor, working conditions or elimination of grievances, and to participate in the activities of such unions or associations. That goes either for a Patrolmen's Benevolent Association or a Transport Workers Union.

Sanitation Men Fight On Two Fronts for Raise

NYC Sanitation men have brought suit to compel NYC to pay them the $250 bonus, withheld when City employees in general received it. Stanley B. Krasowski, president, Sanitation Men's Local 111-A, which is backing the suit, calls the refusal an effort to compel the men to accept $350 instead of the $1,200 raise they ask.

The suit was begun after negotiations for a settlement of the pay question affecting 10,000 employees fell through. The men refused an offer made by Budget Director Thomas J. Patterson. Also, because of that refusal, hearings were resumed before Assistant Deputy Comptroller Morris Paris on the pay scales the men say should equal the rates paid in private industry. The next hearing will be held Wednesday, April 26, in the Municipal Building, Manhattan.

City's Stand

The City has always denied, and has set forth in the record of the present case, that the Labor Law's prevailing rate of pay provision applies to sanitation men, because as Class B and C men they are in the graded service, and additionally on the ground that they do not maintain and construct public works.

What the law really is, on the question of either grading or on what constitutes engaging in public works, is not clear even to civil service experts.

In one case, laundry workers in the NYC Department of Hospitals were found by the Court of Appeals not to be engaged in maintenance or construction of public works. That was the Pinkwater case. In another case the Appellate Division held that auto enginemen do not come under the Labor Law.

Case Involving 700 More

Another sanitation man case, involving about 700, will be heard by Mr. Paris on Monday, April 30, involving claims of men who want to gain benefits that did not flow their way because they signed an agreement. They never filed complaints under the Labor Law but say that such action is unnecessary, since under that law there is no way of waiving any of the rights it provides. The City is ready to cite law cases in which waivers have been judicially approved.

8,000 More Jobs If Transportation Gets 40-Hr. Week

If the 40-hour week is established, the job opportunities would increase, and the personnel would rise to perhaps 50,000 in the NYC Board of Transportation, an increase of 8,000.

In some jobs, as in shops, the work week is less than 48 hours, often 45 hours, and some pay adjustment problems arise there. There is general acceptance, in private conversations by City officials, of the principle of the 40-hour week, although the additional cost prevents immediate enactment. While the increase mathematically equals one-sixth, the supervisory employees would not be increased in number proportionately. Still, the payroll would go up about $25,000,000 a year, so the problem really boils down to one of "finding the money."

Exam Now Open

The sole exam now open for Board of Transportation jobs is No. 6293, Assistant Electrical Engineer (Railroad Signals) at $4,141, plus a possible $250 bonus. There are 121 vacancies in the Board. The filing fee is $4. Apply until April 25.

The NYC Employee

IN THE COURSE of current hearings before Assistant Deputy Comptroller Morris Paris to determine a prevailing rate of wage for laborers employed through civil service, the Pavers and Road Builders District Council filed a motion which seeks to establish a separate hearing for all laborers employed on highway maintenance and repair. Comptroller Lazarus Joseph after considering all of the factors involved has decided that this matter should be referred to the Budget Director to "explore the possibility of reaching an amicable agreement" on the wage rates to be paid highway laborers.

James V. Barry, business representative of the Pavers and Road Builders District Council, stated that Mr. Haydon, attorney for the District Council, and he conferred with Budget Director Patterson in an effort to reach agreement.

THE COUNCIL of Attendance Officers protested the recent salary "declassification" they say was established when the attendance officers were not included in the current $400 increase for the teaching staff of the NYC Board of Education. They felt that the attendance officers' qualifications are equal to those of teachers.

Telegrams were sent, urging the City and school administration to rectify "a glaring injustice." They decried the fact that insufficient recognition is being given to the attendance officer, who is responsible for making home, school and community adjustments among the largest single group of children who show a disposition to delinquency and other anti-social behavior.

Plans were considered to invite an organizer from the American Federation of Labor to discuss affiliation with that organization. A grievance committee was appointed. The members are Joseph Denkelis, chairman; Abraham Blumberg, Martin Weinstein, and Hyman Heitner.

A publicity committee was appointed. The members are Jerome Greenblatt, chairman, and Lucy Napoli.

THE SOCIETY of Municipal Engineers of the City of New York will meet Wednesday, April 25, at 8 p.m. at 29 West 39th Street, NYC. Irving V. A. Huis, chairman of the Board of Water Supply, will speak on New York City's water supply and its future.

Albert H. Morgan, First Deputy Commissioner of the Department of Public Works, will preside.

THE Department of Health Post No. 1193, The American Legion, petitioned The New York County Legion to favor an increase in salary of 1/3 per cent to all employees of the City. Such increase would be paid by the issuance of 28 salary checks a year instead of 24 of the same amount per check. The County unit endorsed the project.

THE NYC Civil Service Commission set last Friday as the date for a public hearing on a proposed new promotion rule, but that was before anybody knew that General Douglas MacArthur was to get his rousing reception in NYC on that day. The date has been changed to Friday, April 27, and the time is 11:30 a.m. At 10:45 a resolution to prevent automatic promotions because of the new $250 bonus will be the subject of a public hearing (a mere formality). Another resolution will relate to putting the job of Director of Real Estate, NYC Housing Authority, in the non-competitive class, set ings will be held on the seventh for Tuesday, April 24. The hearing will be at 299 Broadway. The new rules provide in general, for six months in the next lower grade for acceptability in competition, and one year in the eligible title before promotion.

THE COMMISSION'S calendar, when it refers to provisionals, has the word underscored, especially if the proposal is to waive certain requirements. The Commission is determined to reduce the number of provisionals and is trying to get two large lists out fast—first that of Surface Line Operator, after that Railroad Clerk. The Patrolman (P. D.) list was the large one that had right of way, but that has been completed now. The eligibles on the old Patrolman list got job offers, and that cleared the way for issuance of the new list, and kept the Commission's conscience unscathed.

PERSONS on disqualified lists want to get off the hook as fast as possible, in some cases; in others, they just don't bother.

In 1945, under other incumbents, the Commission wiped out the black marks against all who'd been on the disqualified list since 1935. The expectation was that each year the Commission would go back 10 years and give the another chance to compete to "permanently" disqualified ones for City jobs, if they had any such ambitions. The present Commission doesn't like that idea. It feels that some of the offenses were too serious to be forgiven through mere lapse of time. So the 10-year statute of limitations against disqualification, as it might be called, has been repealed. The rule now is that any person desiring to get off that list must apply to the Commission. Action will be taken on each individual case on the merits. No more automatic mercy.

THE DEPARTMENT of Parks will fingerprint its seasonal employees for the first time, co-operating with the Commission's desire to have the investigation of such appointees completed sooner. Sometimes in the past the investigation would not be completed until after the season was over. Now the fingerprints taken at the hiring will be sent to the Commission, which will clear them through the Police Department.

Life Begins at 62 For Some Engineers

WASHINGTON, April 23—The U. S. Civil Service Commission stated that the maximum age limit of 62 years has been lifted for positions of engineer paying from $7,600 to $10,000 a year.

The new order affects various types of engineer jobs located in the Washington, D. C., area and in certain counties of Maryland and Virginia. Positions of sanitary engineer located throughout the country are also affected.

Bill Asks $150 Increments, Adds Grades 4 and 5

A local law now before the Council's Finance Committee, introduced by Councilman Eric J. Treulich, Democrat, of Queens, would revise the McCarthy increment law as applying to Grades 1 and 3, and include Grades 4 and 5 in the increment groups. But the bill is to be strengthened by an amendment.

The present law specifies salaries that existed when enacted, therefore does not reflect existing salaries, and increments become a matter of mere administrative practice. The bill would conform the law to present practice and extend the grade range. The proposed amendment would make increments a matter of legal right. The inclusion of the two higher grades would be on the basis of current pay, also.

What Bill Provides

The bill would provide increments of $120 a year, starting at $4,021, until the top of the grade is reached but not exceeding $5,460, for present employees in the graded competitive class, after a year's service, the increment dates remaining January 1 and July 1. Ungraded competitive employees would receive four increments, $120 annual applied to $4,021, not to exceed $5,460.

In the engineering service, the amount for competitive graded employees would be $120 a year, to $4,740 total pay, to apply to those receiving starting pay of $4,260.

Old Figures Antiques

The old minimum pay figure was $1,801 generally but $2,160 for the engineering service, salaries that no longer exist, hence the determination of Councilman Treulich to bring the law up to date. This he is doing without Administration support, but a considerable number of employee organizations are deeply interested. They reported to him the result of their study of his bill and of the whole increment and in consequence the amended bill will be introduced.

One of the arguments put forth by some organizations is that the increment amounts should be increased beyond $120 each, and some suggested the increase be still greater for the higher grades, as is true in both the Federal and the State services.

Comparison with U. S. and State

In the Federal Government the periodic increases are $80 a year for the first three grades, $125 a year for the next six grades, $200 a year for the four next grades and $250 for the last, but provide, in general, five annual increments. The State is on the six increment basis, ranging from $138 to $420 a year. In both services the increments go right up the line. The Treulich bill seeks to accomplish the same thing, to and including Grade 5, though the U. S. and State increments apply to salaries well beyond those paid to Grade 5 clerks in NYC, i. e., go to $10,000 grade minimum in the U. S. and $11,425 in the State. Increments are paid to those getting above the minimum, until the salary reaches the minimum plus the total increments.

Terms of Amendment

After weighing suggestions from employee groups and others, Councilman Treulich decided the bill should be amended to meet the practically unanimous choice of employee organizations that the increments should be $150, instead of $120, and that the present increment disadvantage of new employees should be eliminated. An amended bill to that effect will be introduced. The extension to Grades 4 and 5 stand.

Backed by Reform Group

James R. Watson, executive director, Civil Service Reform Association, wrote the Finance Committee:

"The value and the level of salaries has risen so greatly since the McCarthy Increment Law was adopted that we believe its limitations are now entirely unrealistic and inadequate. Furthermore, we feel its coverage should be enlarged to take in a much greater proportion of City employees. If the principle of mandatory salary increments is sound, they should be granted employees in the higher grades as well as those in the lowest ranks of the service.

"We believe that the Feld-Hamilton Law in the State service, and the McCarthy law within its narrow limits in the City, have worked satisfactorily. The principle is often advanced that mandatory increments place a premium on mediocrity and that increases should be given only for merit. In practice, however, it is often found that so-called merit increases are given haphazardly and on personal or political basis. We believe a system of specific annual increments for all who render satisfactory service is a fairer plan.

"We therefore believe the Treulich bill, is worthy of a favorable report."

Employees Voice Raise Demand At Budget Hearing

Strong pleas for pay increases were made by employee leaders at the Board of Estimate public hearing on the budget last week.

Joseph E. Regan, Jr., of the Police Lieutenants' Benevolent Association, stated that "his group" does not seek to overburden the City's financial structure but are only asking that all ranks of the Police Department be given a 25 percent increase, or about half of what it would take to bring our salaries up to the present cost of living index.

Lack of Engineers

Philip E. Brueck of the Civil Service Technical reviewed the "shabby" treatment given City engineers, the series of broken promises, the difficulty in recruiting. He said: "The shortage of trained architects, engineers, draftsmen, and inspectors has been acute because management has been blind to the economic value of the technical man. You, gentlemen, have been the most blind of all. It is later than you think. Your last opportunity to forestall a complete breakdown of your Engineering Service is today. It will cost you $2,600,000 to up these salaries by $650 each."

Henry Feinstein, of District Council 37, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, called for a $600 increase, stating that the purpose of the sales tax increase "is to provide just such an increase." He asked that the entire $60,000,000 of the sales tax increase be used for this purpose.

CIO, AFL Appeal

Stanley B. Krasowski, Sanitationmen's local 111-A, AFL, ex-cited "blackjack methods to enforce a yellow-dog contract. Sanitation men insist on a full $1,200 wage increase."

Morris Iushewitz, executive secretary of the New York City CIO Council, spoke to buttress the appeal of the employees with his organization's approval; and Jas. C. Quinn made a similar statement for the Central Trades and Labor Council, AFL.

Pathetic Picture

Employees representing small groups painted a pathetic picture of some of the conditions under which they operate. Seymour Garland, of the Law Department, presented an array of figures to show how underpaid the City's lawyers are, having increased only $1,000 in 42 years. Rocco Maszucco, representing Civil Service Forum asphalt workers, gave an eloquent oral picture of the conditions under which they work. He asked that a vending machine tax be instituted. Representatives of the City's semi-public institutions—libraries, zoos, and museums—presented a case of employees underpaid, neglected, and nearly forgotten.

Digest of New Pension Laws Affecting State System

 many cases this will substantially reduce the required installment payments.

(4) Loans are insured up to a maximum of $2,000. The new law provides that such insurance shall run only until age 60, since it is not practicable to carry this form of insurance beyond that age.

Extension of Special Privileges
 The law contains a number of provisions with automatic termination dates. This is necessary in order to safeguard the System. A number of these laws would have automatically terminated in 1951 except for the extension enacted by the Legislature. These include:

(1) The law grants the privilege to a member to make additional contributions, up to 50% of his normal contributions, in order to build up his annuity. This privilege would have expired on July 1, 1951, but was extended to July 1, 1952. This privilege has also been very popular with our members, and we believe they will welcome this extension.

(2) Pensioners retired on account of disability were permitted to retain a larger part of their salary in outside employment, under a law enacted in 1950. This privilege would have expired on July 1, 1951, but was extended by the legislature until July 1, 1952.

(3) The 1949 legislature granted the privilege to a retired member whose retirement allowance, without optional modification, does not exceed $1,500 a year to be re-employed in the public service and earn not exceeding $750 per year without affecting his retirement allowance. This privilege would have expired on July 1,

1951, but has now been extended to July 1, 1952. The government position referred to shall be "of a temporary, seasonal, or occasional nature."

(4) During World War II, members who were absent on military duty were permitted to borrow the entire amount of their accumulated contributions, except $1 which would remain as a token contribution. That privilege expired on July 1, 1947. In the light of present conditions, the legislature has now reopened this privilege. Such loans may now be made by members absent on military duty, provided the loan is made prior to July 1, 1952.

Death Benefits
In the Form of Annuities

Benefits payable upon death while in active service are usually taken by the beneficiary in a lump sum. However, occasionally the beneficiary, or the member prior to his death, may wish to have the death benefit payable in the form of an annuity. This annuity may be taken in one of two forms. The 1951 legislature provided that such an annuity form may be elected by the member prior to his death, or by the beneficiary within 90 days after the death of the member.

Withdrawals

The law had provided that a member may withdraw his accumulated contributions upon leaving the service before he acquired eligibility for service retirement. With the enactment of the 55-year law, that phraseology would have changed the age from 60 to 55. Consequently, the 1951 legislature specifically provided that a member under age 60 may withdraw his accumulated contributions if he leaves the service, and that a member 60 years or over may withdraw, in lieu of accepting a retirement allowance under certain conditions. One of the conditions under which a member could withdraw his contributions in lieu of accepting a retirement was that his retirement allowance (without optional modification) would have to be less than $180. The 1951 legislature liberalized this provision by permitting withdrawal instead of retirement, if the retirement allowance is less than $300 per year.

Twenty Year Retirement
For Legislators

The 1951 legislature enacted a new law which would permit a senator or assemblyman to retire after 20 years of service as a member of the legislature on an allowance of half pay. In order to qualify for this benefit, the legislator must contribute at a higher rate which is computed to accumulate a fund at the time of retirement sufficient to provide one-half of the retirement allowance.

Assistance for Pensioners

A special law was enacted to provide assistance to needy pensioners whose retirement allowances are below a stated minimum. This law provides that if the retirement allowance (without optional modification) is less than $900 a year, the pensioner will receive assistance equal to the difference between $900 a year and such allowance. In order to receive this assistance the pensioner must meet the following conditions:

- (1) Must be over 60 years of age.
- (2) He must have served in the civil service for at least twenty years.
- (3) He must be a resident of the State.
- (4) His annual retirement allowance, without option, must be less than $900.
- (5) He must be without other sources of income by which he can be maintained.
- (6) He is unable to secure needed support from a legally responsible spouse able to provide support.

This additional benefit will begin as of July 1, 1951, and will be paid from a special fund provided for the purpose.

Pension Amendment

The Legislature also passed for the second time a proposed constitutional amendment which will come before the people in November, which if approved by the people, would permit the Legislature to increase the pensions payable to persons now retired.

The above is necessarily only a brief summary of the principal changes which have been made. If any member has any further question regarding these changes, he is invited to write the New York State Employees' Retirement System, Albany, New York, for further information.

Mileage Rate Increase Seen As Necessary

ALBANY, April 23.—The committee on mileage and subsistence rates of The Civil Service Employees Association met with President Jesse B. McFarland to consider research material to be submitted during a projected conference with State Comptroller J. Raymond McGovern on raising expense allowances for State employees traveling during regular employment.

Raymond McKay, chairman of the committee, reported an increasing number of complaints reaching the committee on the financial distress of employees forced to travel under present allowances for car use, meals and lodging. Cited were the increases in all these services with no adjustment by the State to cover the differences.

Others attending the meeting included William F. McDonough, executive assistant to the president, Arthur W. Moon of the Public Works Department, Albany, and Robert J. Mecklinger of the NYC office of the State Insurance Department.
