

Affairs Of State

By FRANK SWISKEY

From the day that the ingenious colorists set up their first roadside bibulum in dear old New York State, there have been pubs in many of its leading communities. After visiting one of these noble institutions to view the future welterweight champion of the world, I remembered that I owed an article to that renowned publication, the State College News.

If writers could kill a college, State College would be a dead duck. Her young journalistic giants write fairly well, but they seem to be engaged in a running competition to see which one of them can make life in the "second home" seem most disagreeable. In racking my alleged mind as to what to throw to the lions this week, I had the usual thoughts of sarcasm, humor, sympathy and rage. Then the rather silly notion of writing a column that praises people and things struck me. Why not, even Albany looks good in the spring.

It's just about over, but the State College basketball team has proved to all concerned that it still ranks as one of the small college powers in the East. Mr. Sauer's may be the next Yul Brynner and Denny Johnson may be Santa Claus but we still love you. All nine of us pigeons and Sam included. While we're on the subject, see the diamondmen in action this spring; they're good, too. Only twenty-five more lines of

Robinson Names New SA Ministers

Richard Robinson, newly elected President of Student Association, announced the members of his cabinet for the 1960-61 academic year. Senate approval was given at the regular meeting held February 24.

Cabinet members include: Donald Cohen '61, Minister of Recreation; Mary Lee Glass '61, Minister of Culture; Natalie Clark '62, Minister of Religion; Harriet Suttcliffe '61, Minister of Services; Camie Everett '61, Minister of Special Days; Gary Sabin '61, Minister of Fraternities; Rosemary Kverek '61, Minister of Sororities; David Brooker '62, Minister of Finance; Sue MacFarlane '62, Minister of Student-Faculty Relations; and Barbara Luick '61, Minister of Publications.

Robinson also appointed Jamith Cellura '62 to be Secretary.

Notice

All material to be published in the STATE COLLEGE NEWS must be in the NEWS Office no later than 7 p.m. on Tuesday evenings, preceding the publication date.

This request has become necessary since we have been approached with material for Friday's paper as late as Wednesday evening at 10 p.m. and have been unable to accommodate these requests.

Bridge Life

By RALPH WESSELMANN

This is bridge—a battle of wits, an emotional catharsis, a cause for divorce, a mental suicide, an unparalleled game of partnership, life in miniature. Take your choice. If you already play, you'll find yourself somewhere on this ascending ladder of values. If you don't, then start up the ladder to unequalled personal satisfaction or down it to the most discouraging, self-questioning, soul-searching damnably frustrating mental torture devised by civilized man.

Speaking of spectaculars, the Junior class just might win my people of the year award. Without a doubt, the talent on tap for this weekend will produce one of the more positive occasions at State College. All cynics, beanlins please retreat to the lower levels.

Since Kapital Kapers has vanished from the pages of the State College News I shall recommend two flicks, "On the Beach" and "Sapphire," a deplorable exhibition of advertising sopistry at its worst but worthwhile.

State Initiates Phi Beta

Barbara Lewick '61, President, announces that the Commerce Club has professionalized its objectives and joined the national collegiate chapter of business educators.

The purpose of this change is to increase the participation of business majors in the development of competent leaders in business education. National affiliation provides guidance to collegiate groups for this purpose.

As part of the calendar of Phi Beta Lambda's activities, monthly coffee hours will be held. At this time guest speakers renowned in the business field, as well as films, will be presented for members. Other activities anticipated are field trips, panel discussions, and conferences for business students from local high schools.

An important new aspect is membership. There will be dual-tract membership composed of Actives (those who pay dues and attend majority of meetings and participate in activities) and Associates (those who pay dues, who do not regularly attend meetings, but may participate in specific activities.) Active members have voting powers. This arrangement is believed to give more students an opportunity of joining the professional business organization.

Phi Beta Lambda is affiliated with the UBFA of which the Future Business Leaders of America is a division.

House Howls

6D Sororities will hold initiation ceremonies as Hell Week comes to a close. Also planned are coffee hours. Fraternities announce new members.

Kappa Delta Nancy McGowan '60, President, announces that initiation ceremonies will be held Sunday at 7:30 p.m.

There will be a coffee hour Monday at 8:30 p.m. for the men of Potter Club.

Psi Gamma Mildred Pasek '60, President, announces that Lols Kelsey and Donna McCurdy, Sophomores, acted as hell captains this year.

A coffee hour will be held Monday evening at 8:30 p.m. for the men of Alpha Pi Alpha.

IFG Presents Caine Mutiny

Tonight the International Film Group presents The Caine Mutiny in Draper 349 at 7 p.m. and 9 p.m.

The Caine Mutiny stars Humphrey Bogart, Jose Ferrer, Van Johnson, Fred MacMurray, Robert Francis and May Wynn. The movie is based on the Pulitzer Prize winning novel by Herman Wouk. It is directed by Edward Dmytryk, and produced by Stanley Kramer for Columbia Pictures. The Caine Mutiny is a 1954 technicolor film.

Administration . . .

Following this section, IFG unanimously passed the following motion: "Interfraternity Council feels that the administrative veto of sections 1, 2, 3, and 7 of the February 3rd Rushing regulations changes the intent of the original regulations and it therefore considers the entire list of regulations null and void."

Dr. Hartley also announced at the meeting that Mr. Keith Munsy would be his representative in charge of fraternity relations.

Chi Sigma Theta Initiation ceremonies will be held Sunday at 3 p.m., announces Nancy Lou Ryan '60, President.

Gamma Kappa Phi Marcy Van Leuven '60 announces that Carol Connelly '62 is hell captain for this year.

Phi Delta Initiation ceremonies will be held Sunday at 3 p.m. A coffee hour for men of KB will be held Monday evening, announces Donna Harris '60, President.

Potter Club Lou Call '60 announces that Robert Ellis '61, Edward Brennan, Roger Casey, Robert Dzikowicz, Henry Reuter and Donald Sherman, Sophomores, are new members of Potter Club. Douglas Penfield '60 will be Vice-President for the remainder of the year.

'Guys & Dolls' Opens to Sellout Crowd at Page Hall

Bob Steinhauer Directs Cast In Hit Broadway Musical

A sell-out crowd is expected for the musical Guys and Dolls, this year's All-College Revue production, which will open tonight at 8:30 p.m. A second performance will be given tomorrow evening at the same time.

The lyrics and music for Guys and Dolls were written by Frank Loesser. The musical appeared on Broadway for over two years and was tremendously popular. It contains some twenty hit songs, among them, "Bushel and a Peck", "Take Back Your Mink", "Sit Down, You're Rocking the Boat", and "Luck, Be a Lady Tonight".

Robert B. Steinhauer, '62, director announces the cast of State College students to appear in the Revue tonight and tomorrow night on the stage of Page Hall.

Cast

Nathan Detroit will be played by Danny Labeille; Adelaide, by Fran Fleck; Sarah Brown, by Sue Norton; Sky Masterson, by Ralph Smith; Big Jule, by Bill Burnett; Harry the Horse, by Dave Cronin; Benny Southstreet, by Robert Fox; Nicely-Nicely Johnson, by Joe Ball; Rusty Charlie, by Chuck Slough; and Brannigan, by Mike Feigel.

Martin Molson will play the role of Arvide; Gracie Nesbitt will appear as General Cartwright. Agatha will be portrayed by Louise Tornatore.

Ellie Daul, Pat Benedetto, and June Alexander will appear in the mission group. The crap shooters will be Dick D'Vergille, Dick Koepsell, Denny Borst, Dave Jones, James Clavell, Robert Tilroe, Larry Edwards, Angi Conti, Joe Shector, Larry Goldfarb, Tim Armadome, Harold Thornhill, Eric Foster, Robert Fish, and Don MacDonald.

The Hat Box girls are Sue James, Bonnie Butler, Liz Purvins, Barrie Cohn, Ro Fendick, Joan Heywood, and Judy Lambert.

Linda Levinson, Judy Nissim, Elaine Romatowski, Joan Heywood, Sharon Parr, Jim Clavell, Bob Tilroe, Dick D'Vergille, Larry Goldfarb, and Joe Shector will appear as the Havana dancers.

Opening Chorus

Singing in the opening chorus will be Candy Campbell, Marcia Halliday, Shelly Kellerman, Julie Steiner, Gail Wackerow, Natalie Clark, and Bonnie Scott. Tony D'Onofrio will be master of ceremonies.

The assistant director of the Revue is Hasse Kopen. In charge of musical direction and arrangements is George A. Harris, who will be assisted by Mary Lee Glass, Walt Peters and Jan Dyckman. Sue James and Jim Clavell are handling choreography for the show.

Stage manager is John Lucas, who is also in charge of scenic design. The coordinator for the production is Audrey Hurd. Jan Alluna is responsible for publicity. Barry Deixler is in charge of programs.

Lil Zona is responsible for the props. She will be assisted by Linda Catania, Judy Insel, Carolyn Gardner, Peggy Rollins, Jean Hook and Mary Lou Komarowski.

Hans Kohn, Noted Lecturer Senior Wins Top Scholastic Wilson Award

Hans Kohn, Professor of History at the City College of New York, and a distinguished authority on the history of nationalism, will give an address in Page Hall at 1 p.m. today. The subject of the address will be "World History in Perspective: 1920-1940-1960." Kohn will assess the degree to which progress has been made toward internationalism in the last forty years. The public is invited to attend the lecture.

Kohn was born in Prague, graduated from that German university and fought in the Austrian army in World War I. He was taken prisoner by the Russians and was held in Siberia for nearly five years. Upon release he returned to Europe by way of Japan and the Indian Ocean. He later lived in Jerusalem where he wrote A History of Nationalism in the East, and Nationalism and Imperialism in the Hither East.

Kohn came to the United States in 1931 and served from 1934 to 1949 as Professor of Modern History at Smith College, Northampton, Massachusetts. Since 1949 he has been Professor of History at the City College of New York.

Richard Gascoyne has been named winner of a Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship. Gascoyne is a Senior here at Albany. He is a Latin major and an English minor. He was the only recipient of this award in Region 3, which includes Ontario and the Non-Metropolitan New York State area. Gascoyne is planning to do his graduate study at Columbia University.

Junior Plans Include Ball, Jazz Concert

Bids for Junior Weekend will go on sale Monday, and will remain on sale that week for purchase by Juniors. Any bids remaining can be purchased by the general student body the following week.

Tickets, covering all the weekend activities will cost $4 per couple. Tickets for Friday's party only are $1. The jazz concert will be held on Sunday and will be open to all students free of admission. The banquet at which Junior class rings are given will not be held during Junior Weekend.

From Queen Nominations Nominations for Junior Prom Queen will be held March 21 and 22. Voting for the five finalists will take place March 23. Nominations for freshman attendants will be handled by the freshman class.

Standing is the professor of sociology at SUCE. He has recently returned from a year's leave in Germany.

The meeting is scheduled to be held at 99 Fuller Road, Colony. The invitation to attend is open to all who are interested in hearing his talk.

Eligibility In order to be eligible for one of these awards, a student must be nominated by a member of the faculty. In this manner only the superior students will be nominated. While all of the nominees do not receive an award, it is quite a singular honor to be nominated out of 8,000 nominees only 1,250 received fellowships. There were two honorable mentions from the State University Colleges of Education.

These fellowships carry an annual stipend of $1,500 plus family allowances. They also provide for the cost of a full year's graduate study at any university of the recipient's choice in the United States or Canada.

The students receiving honorable mentions, although they will not receive direct material benefit from being an honorable mention, will have their names placed on a list and this list will be sent to all the undergraduate schools and the deans of these schools in the United States and Canada. It is anticipated that these people who have received an honorable mention will receive awards either directly from the undergraduate schools or from other organizations that aid education.

Gascoyne is the vice-president of Kappa Phi Kappa, national educational fraternity, and a member of Sigma Lambda honorary society. He plans to do his graduate study in the fields of Latin and Greek.

Drop Out or Fall Out?

This seems to be the question these days as students, fatigued, depressed and just plain disgusted, find themselves swamped with papers, mid-semester exams and swollen glands. Thanks to the mid-semester break we had this year, the "drop out rate" seems to be headed for an all time high.

It is our feeling that students are unable to operate under pressure and strain of 14 weeks of school without even a "snow day." We do not feel that it is possible for a student to put forth his best efforts in beginning a new semester and obtain satisfactory results without some time for rest and relaxation between semesters.

Other schools are able to afford their students and faculty at least two or three days break between semesters or an early Spring vacation. If they can do it why can't we? The same answer is thrown at us all the time. "They get out later in the summer, or their other vacations are shorter." We do not think this is true.

We do not feel that getting out of school one week early in the summer is worth having to go from one semester to the next in the short space of one day and then continue for 70 days straight with only homework-filled weekends to rest and relax.

So what happens? We get an early Easter vacation—the week before Easter, and the day after it's back to school—how nice. Yes, we are bitter and we are sure most of you are too.

This is not merely a student gripe, but mutual feelings of the faculty as well. Why then do the administrators persist in refusing to recognize the need for a mid-semester break?

New Label Needed

The Albany State Peds . . . Isn't it about time for a change? Ever since we can remember, this nickname has been the inspiration for our fight songs, a title for our news clippings an dthe one and only nickname for our school. The term "Peds" (short for Pedagogues or Pedagogues depending on how you want to use it) has always inspired our teams on to greater glories (in the same way that a rotten tomato might inspire a political candidate). We cannot criticize this nickname too harshly nor can we praise it too highly. At most, we can say that the name is just plain blah.

We realize that our nickname is traditional, but times change and we believe that we should adopt a nickname that might be just a wee bit more dynamic. A member of the sports department has suggested Knicks or Knickerbockers for a substitute name. We think that this is a good name but other names may be better. We would appreciate any suggestions that you might have and we will do as much as we can in order to secure the adoption of a new name.

Bridge Life

By RALPH WESSELMANN

A concept often neglected in Bridge is that of Partnership. The novice forgets that responsibility for control belongs to two. This split control necessitates a central pool into which the two halves contribute information. This information is given in two ways: language (bidding) and signals (defense).

Let's examine the concept of bidding as a language in an actual bidding sequence, translating compact symbols into sentences. North (the position at the table is indicated by the points of a compass) opens the bidding with "one spade." Translation: "Partner, I have a hand which contains between thirteen and twenty-one points; I have at least two defensive tricks (aces or king-queen combinations); I have at least four spades to the queen-ten, perhaps more; I will bid again if you do not make a limit response. ("To limit" means to put a ceiling on the maximum strength of a holding). I would like to hear if you have a minimum of six points, and finally I promise to bid again every time you introduce a new suit."

East says, "Pass." Translated, this means, "I have a hand which is weaker than the minimum strength of an opening hand of thirteen points; I do not have a suit of six cards headed by a sequence of six top honors."

South bids "Two spades." "I have at least three spades including an honor; I realize that you do not have a hand of minimum strength of sixteen points."

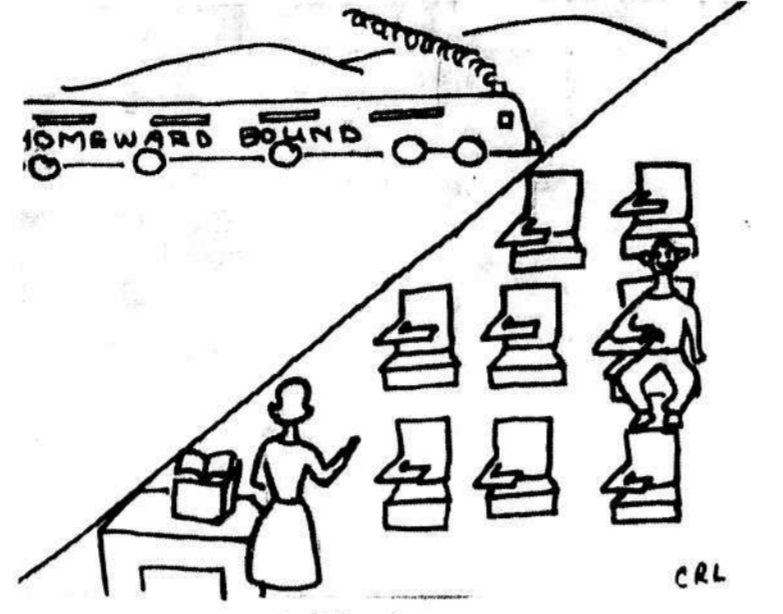

West passes, telling his partner that he also has a weak hand.

North bids "Three spades." "I do have a hand with exactly sixteen or seventeen points, but I would like to know if you have a maximum of nine or ten points. If you do, we can make a game."

East passes, but keeps his ears open. It's not against the rules to express. South says a happy "Four spades" which says, "I have the hand you requested ten points. With a combined holding of twenty-six points we should make game."

All pass.

Communications

To the Editor:

At the end of the feature article, "The Prison," I noted the small paragraph at the end of the article stating that all feature columns in the State College News were to be suspended indefinitely. This epithet sounded very much like censorship on the part of the guiding lights of the State College News.

A newspaper in a democratic society serves the populace by informing them what is happening. It also has the duty of differentiating between right and wrong in that particular society. The State College News, if it abolishes feature articles, will be following a policy which is in direct contradiction to this principle. Since, at this college, the newspaper cannot technically take definite stands on anything, the only possible way it can inform students of "impending ill fortunes" is through the use of feature articles, which are the opinions of "one" person and not the newspaper.

If, however, the State College News wishes to become similar to the Faculty Bulletin in nature, which deals in one sentence, lamented, speeches, Mr. "Hank" will work with the Salvation Army this Saturday and statistics pertaining to the breakdown of student-a-felices, then so be it.

On the other hand if it is to be a driving, dramatic force on campus with the purpose of setting the standards to be filled capably, then it must command every weapon at its disposal. Among these weapons, the use of the feature article.

"For the want of a nail the shoe was lost for the want of a shoe the soldier was lost."

Frank Swiskey.

Notice

Barbara Libous, Editor-in-Chief of the STATE COLLEGE NEWS announces that there will be a News Board Meeting Tuesday evening at 7 p.m. in the NEWS office.

Senate:

Robinson Consults Lanford On Purchase of New Bus

Dick Robinson reported on his progress in getting a bus for State. This was one of the main points in his platform for S.A. President. He talked to Dean Lanford about the possibility of the College purchasing a bus for use during field trips and away games. It was brought out that S.A. paid two hundred dollars to rent the bus used to transport our basketball team to the NATA tournament. Cabinet will look into the cost of maintenance, requirements for a driver and other anticipated problems.

Substitution

The Student Union Board Constitution was read for the first time and referred to committee.

After the third reading of the Junior Class Replacement Bill, it was passed unanimously. There will be a replacement election for Junior Class Senators on Thursday, March 17, and Friday, March 18.

Camp Board

Senate approved the following as members of Camp Board: Sally O'Connor, Sandra Dieter, Chairman, Ann Smith, James Clavell, Charles Fowler, Tony D'Onofrio, Barbara Gladysiewicz, Pat Wonski, Dick Kelly, and Pamela Carter. This Board will work with Senate, the Administration and the camp architect. It will also look into the recommendations made by the camp expert, Dr. Smith. It is hoped that the committee will be able to act as a liaison between the students and the Administration.

No Say Stated

Student Senate has no say as to whether visiting college students may board in the dormitories during Easter vacation. S.A. President Robinson brought out the point that the Administration has given their approval. Read the fine print in your dormitory contracts, girls!

"Will everyone who approves raise his right hand?"

Delegates

The officers who had been elected last year were not present because of the snow storm. In the re-election Joan Marrazzo '63 was selected Secretary of the Congress. Our delegates also included Gus Spellman, Jill Weitz and Irene Wister, freshmen, who were under the direction of Samuel Pritchard, Assistant Pro-State Men.

Frosh Week Set

Donald Donato '61 has been named Freshman Weekend director for 1960. The appointment was made by Charles Fowler, 1959 director.

Associate directors for the weekend include Camie Everett, Mary Hamilton, Mary Jane Shepherd, James Clavell, and Gary Sabn, Juniors.

It has been announced that interviews for counsellors will begin March 20, and continue to April 6. Sign-up sheets will be posted within the next two weeks, and students may sign up for interview appointments.

Albany Receives Representation, Budget Pose Biggest Problems for Senate

The Albany State Debater's Council participated last week in the J. F. O'Brien Interstate Debater's Congress held at Pennsylvania State College. Through political maneuvering and a coalition of New York colleges, Albany was able to secure the minority chairmanship for next year.

Representation

The main problem that will have to be solved in the following year will be that of equal representation in the Senate. Many groups do not think that the class representation that we have now is adequate and they believe that it represents only a small portion of the student body.

Budget

The Athletic Advisory Board has just passed a budget tax which will raise the present student tax $3, and it will be up to Senate and the president of SA to decide whether it will be necessary to add an additional one dollar to this new raise. For two years the student tax rate has remained the same, and the question of whether it is desirable to raise the tax at this time is foremost in minds not only of the students but of the faculty.

Dippikill

Probably the biggest problem facing the SA administration this year will be that of financing construction on the college camp. Camp Consultant Smith '63, and continue to April 6. Sign-up sheets will be posted within the next two weeks, and students may sign up for interview appointments.

Selections

The selections will include: "The Sound of Music," "1812 Overture" by Tchaikovsky, Gerstwin's "Rhapsody in Blue," and a jazz selection. Coffee will be served during the brief intermission. The program is open to all State College students.

This presentation will be the first in a series planned for Sunday afternoons. Ann Foley, President of Music Council.

An inexperienced Student Association president and an even more inexperienced Student senate face what may prove to be one of the most trying years in quite a while as far as managing and running Student Association.

Robinson although a proven capable leader has never been a senator and is not entirely familiar with all the workings of Senate. It may be sometime before he can groove the newly elected senators into a smooth functioning machine, capable of running a $50,000 a year business.

Other Problems

In addition to the old problems, new problems must be investigated. Under consideration at this time, are the roles of students in housing and curriculum, the adjustment to the new campus, if and when it comes, increasing power in the cabinet, and a host of other problems that must be worked out.

President Robinson summed it up by saying "if the forces of student government choose to work closely together, the Senate need not slow down its work and the student administration will be able to cope effectively with these problems facing us."

Music Hour Set at Mens'

Music Council and Student Union Board will hold their first joint Listening Hour this Sunday from 3-5 p.m. in Men's Hall Recreation Room.

AA Board Submits Budget Plans Student Tax Increase

Athletic Advisory Board has submitted an approved budget for the 1960-61 academic year which will increase the combined Student Tax by $3.

For the past seven years the undergraduate student tax fee included $8 for AA Board, and graduate fees contributed $4. The new budget requires an $11 receipt from undergraduates and a $5.50 fee from graduates.

Reasons for Increase

The raise in the tax is necessitated by the increase in the sports activities supported by Athletic Advisory Board. The 1953-54 budget covered only three activities; these being a varsity baseball team, junior varsity and varsity basketball, and a varsity soccer team.

At the present time AA Board is supporting all of the above plus a freshman baseball and soccer team, freshman and varsity tennis, golf, wrestling, the support of a bowling team, and cheerleaders.

Estimated Expenditures

The approved budget includes the following expenditures:

Administration	$1,385.00
Awards and Letters	1,123.75
First Aid Supplies	350.00
Basic Supply Issue	1,475.00
Varsity Soccer	4,235.65
Freshman Soccer	1,509.50
Varsity Basketball	5,004.00
Freshman Basketball	1,729.50
Varsity Wrestling	2,443.80
Freshman Wrestling	1,283.25
Varsity Baseball	3,263.50
Freshman Baseball	1,455.50
Varsity Tennis	1,523.50
Freshman Tennis	574.25
Golf (Varsity and Freshman)	1,354.00
Bowling	241.00
Cheerleading	95.00
Total estimated Expenditures	$29,646.20

Hearing

Nancy McGowan '60, chairman of Athletic Advisory Board announces that a hearing will be held Wednesday evening at 8 p.m. in Brubacher Hall. At this time, the board will answer questions concerning the budget.

AMIA Slates Tournament

AMIA announces that it will sponsor a table tennis tournament for State men. The preliminary rounds will commence today and run through March 27. These first rounds will be run by groups as follows:

- The four fraternities.
- Sayles Hall.
- Mens Hall.
- Commuters.
- Independents.

Each group will be organized by its athletic director and will produce two winners who will enter the school tournament beginning March 28.

Any further questions concerning the tournament should be directed to either Jim Brown or Merle Miller.

IFG to Present Steve Allen Film

Tonight and tomorrow the International Film Group presents The Benny Goodman Story in Draper 349 at 7:30 p.m.

The Benny Goodman Story, a Universal-International technicolor film stars Steve Allen and Donna Reed. It is the musical biography of the "King of Swing" featuring such jazz artists as Harry James, Gene Krupa, Lionel Hampton, Teddy Wilson, Martha Tilton, Ziggy Elman plus all the exciting song hits of Benny Goodman.

From This Vantage Point:

Soph Excels as Milne JV Coach

By JIM DOUGHERTY

The Milne Junior Varsity basketball team recently completed its finest season in quite a number of years. Their second place finish in the Capital District League was accomplished by virtue of an outstanding 11-3 record. This included a season ending upset victory over previously unbeaten Watervliet who finished first with a 13-1 log. No small amount of credit goes to the Young-Young Profs coach—Bob Pollero. Bob's skill in the game and ability to instruct novice ballplayers was certainly a determining factor in the success of the club. Milne Coach Harry Grogan was more than satisfied with the achievements of the JV under Pollero's tutelage. Bob earned his "A" in Ed114SC (Student Coaching), but will probably repeat the course next winter!

BUT IS THERE A PLATTSBURGH TEAM?

Rumors are flying from the north country! It seems that the entire Plattsburgh basketball squad has informed their coach, Joe Jastrab, that they will not play for him next season. The rumor stems from curfew restrictions at Cortland and the eventual rejection of an NAIA regional bid. We are inclined to believe, however, that Potter & Co. would never contemplate such a move. We have faith in the Cardinal ballplayers and are sure all will be present at the start of next season.

A JOB WELL DONE!

A word of sincere congratulations go out to Barry Jamason and Dave Frank for their fine work in organizing and supervising this year's AMIA basketball campaign. The 59-60 program was by far the best and most talked about in many years. The Commissioners' Tournament is sure to become a much awaited annual event. Truly a job well done by both commissioners.

FROM THE SPORTS DESK: Coach Dick Sauers embarks on a well deserved "vacation" next week... Sauers is off for San Francisco and a national coaches convention... A stop at the NCAA tourney may also be squeezed in... Reports on the prowess of the Maryland State basketball team (i.e. tall, fast) seem to indicate that there wasn't much need for a regional NAIA tourney at all... Nine of eleven players could dunk the ball and they easily out-classed all opposition... Unfortunately, they lost an opening round decision to Westminster (Pa) in the national finals by a score of 64-63.

Frosh Complete 14-9 Season All Look Toward Varsity

By GARY PENFIELD

Danny D'Angelico's record 410 points in one season highlighted the initial year of freshman basketball at State. The Rabinowitz-men compiled a 14 and 9 record.

Varsity Prospects

This year's frosh were all under six feet tall but a shooting average of 42% made up for their lack of size. The fact that all the players are potential basketball artists means that competition for varsity berths next year will be keen.

Coaching

Coach Sauers rated Andy Cibulsky as the "only natural backcourt man of all, but he needs to develop a more aggressive style." Sauers was satisfied with the performance of the team as a whole and in addition to Cibulsky mentioned Dean Allen, Richardson and Moore as possible varsity material.

Forwards Not Scorers

Next year's varsity squad will be composed of 13 men (possibly 14 second semester). They will be the 13 best men whether they be the "junior," "senior," "captain" or "letterman." Two transfers also figure in next year's varsity picture. This means that the upcoming frosh must improve their defensive ability in order to fit in with Sauers' traditional pressing defense. They will also have to develop their playmaking ability.

Rabinowitz Comments

Coach Al Rabinowitz praises his team for their hot and all around good play. Al's biggest problem during the season was teaching the young players State's man-to-man defense. Most had played only zone in high school.

The team made a lot of mistakes and were often lackadaisical, but it must be remembered that freshman basketball is only a stepping stone to the varsity. A frosh ball team is out on the "hoop" not only to win games but to learn good basketball habits and learning teamwork and

State Ends 16-10 Season by Naming Juniors Cohen, Bowen '60 Captains

By GEORGE HURLBURT

A trip to Kansas City and national honors eluded State for the third time in as many years last week as the Peds dropped a pair of playoff games, one to a rangy Maryland State team and the other to Pratt, to end a season marked by steady climbing from below a .500 record in the early season.

Maryland State's height advantage proved to be too much for the Peds as they dropped a 73-55 decision in the first night of playoff competition. It gave the Hawks the rebounding advantage they needed to overpower the Peds.

Controlled Boards

The giant quint made State's tallest man, Don Cohen, look short as they controlled the board, 39 rebounds to State's 20. Six-foot-five Cohen was the only man able to compete against this height advantage, snaring 13 of the Albany rebounds.

The following night Pratt handed the Peds their tenth loss of the season, 61-55, in the consolation game for third place.

Cohen-Bowen Lead

Next year's co-captains Don Cohen and Sherwin Bowen, led the Ped attack against Pratt, scoring 20 and 14 respectively.

Eclipsed by Gary Holway until this season, Cohen came into his own, breaking five school records. He broke the free throw record when he made his 123rd point from the foul line in the Cortland Tournament; broke Gary Holway's record of 497 points; he also made two rebounding and field goal records.

The Loser's rebounding strength made the difference as they conquered the hustling EEP's 74-50.

Jim Oppedisano and Tom Ryan led the Loser scoring attack, bucketing 26 and 20 respectively. The real story behind the win is that the Loser's are basketball players, while the EEP's are noted primarily for their hustle. When the EEP's run out of gas, the eventual victors opened up and just "couldn't miss."

Sherwin Bowen became noted for his sharpshooting performances in last year's State University Tournament when he hit 100 per cent from the field in the three game series.

The pair were unanimously named co-captains by the team. Both completed three years of varsity competition and earned starting roles after doing stunts on the bench during their freshman year.

This was a season that saw coach Dick Sauers' "Insects" come a long way. From high man Don Cohen to the lowest scoring man on the team, who also won a trophy, the Peds can be proud of the way they played ball in 1959-60. They will be a tough team all the way when the 1960-61 season rolls around.

Sports Mailbox

To the Sports Editor:

Recently I have had to retire from participating in an athletic sport after having completed most of the training. Those hectic two days of calisthenics took it out of me. Since then I have been confronted with snide remarks from other sportmaniacs. I quit because:

1. I'm a physical wreck.
2. I have little will-power.
3. I can't give up smoking.
4. I can't give up drinking.
5. How could I have coffee in the Union at 4:00 if I had to practice?
6. After all, bridge games are rough on one's physical make-up.
7. Some of these formalists fall the night before a couple of events.
8. I'm now a big "frat man."
9. Somebody else is better than me.

Now I hope that you fellas are satisfied. I'm so nervous since then and am mad at you all for being meanies. I'm no quitter.

Tired.

Wrestlers Drop Final Match As Biolsi Remains Unbeaten

By DICK AHOLA

Albany State's varsity wrestling team ended its season Tuesday night in New York City as it suffered a defeat at the hands of a scrappy Yeshiva team by a score of 20-13. The outstanding Ped wrestlers in the meet were Lou Biolsi, Jay Katzel, Dave Pause, and Tom Ellis. Katzel pinned his opponent in 1:52 of the first period, Biolsi and Pause won decisions, and Ellis fought his opponent to a draw.

This loss gave the Garciemen a 1-9-1 overall record. Although far from an impressive record, this was a rebuilding season for the Peds. It was a season with many withdrawals and injuries, but it was also a season marked with improvements. This improvement was due to the determination of the wrestlers and their coach, Joe Garcia.

Prospects Good

Prospects for next year appear good as a more experienced and stronger team will take to the mat.

Student Interest

The only dark spot in the picture is the lack of student interest, and next year this reporter will be looking for the support these wrestlers deserve.

The job of wrestling as a varsity sport is a thankless one. It means long training hours of practice with only a few minutes of performance in mat competition, and sweating off the extra pounds to make weight. It means giving up that extra snack, and the Saturday afternoon of watching basketball or hockey on television. But it shows the unusual type of devotion to participation in varsity athletics that characterizes a man who wears a varsity letter at State.

Gossip by Gus

Wow! Here is my chance. I have always wanted to pick an all-star team. AMIA is selecting a team from the recent Commissioners' tournament to play the champion Losers. For what it is worth, here is my all-star team. First team consists of Oppedisano, Haver, Rath, Spina and Broenfield. Jamason, Modder, G. Penfield, Barbagelatta and Sands would be the second team.

If you are just going to be loafing on Sunday about 3 o'clock, drop down to Page and watch the Losers take on the AMIA all-stars.

Congratulations to the second place EEP! Their spirit and hustle gave all the teams something to respect.

Question of the week: Will you be in Page Hall Sunday to give the boys some support and incentive to play some top-notch basketball?

SIX-PASSENGER CAR OR STATION SEDAN ...CORVAIR IS BOTH!

A wonderfully useful folding seat makes every Corvair two cars in one. Just one quick flip and you increase the luggage and parcel space to 28.9 cubic feet. And just as simply, you're back to comfortable six-passenger capacity. It's standard equipment ... and extraordinarily practical.

Corvair does car-pool duty with the biggest and best of them. Going to work or school or out for the evening, you've got a genuine six-seater. As for carting around piles of stuff instead of people, just look at Corvair's station-sedan load space with the rear seat folded. And when that's full you can start on the trunk. Corvair, you see, is no ordinary compact car. No others are so versatile, so ingeniously engineered—with independent suspension at all four wheels, an air-cooled rear engine that never needs water or antifreeze. You just can't compare anything else coming out these days with a Corvair. Drive one... soon.

Senate:

Senate OK's News Budget; Rivalry Cost Is Questioned

By CAROL MALLOZZI

The State College News will have a surplus of approximately one thousand dollars for their 1959-1960 budget. News Board requested that $725 of this surplus be incorporated into a new line for the purchase of a new typewriter and addressograph. This line addition was approved by Senate.

The 1960-1961 budget for Student Senate was approved. The estimate of the cost of Rivalry was questioned and the Vice-President was asked for a breakdown of Rivalry expenses. After leafing through an important looking folder, she was unable to come up with anything, but things being as they are, the budget was passed without further questions. Senators should at least wait until their questions are answered before voting.

To date only six organizations have submitted their budgets. The deadline was March 15. If these organizations and their Treasurers cooperated, Student Government would have the chance to at least be efficient. The brunt of the criticism falls on Senate, but without the cooperation of all the organizations, Senate cannot possibly do a good job.

In order to have a good working Senate, representing all the students at State College, the Junior Class is going to have to get out and vote. At least one hundred Juniors must vote in order to even validate the election. Let's get together Juniors and elect at least interested people. Elections which began yesterday will continue through today.

Editor's Note: The Senate column last week carried the names of Sally O'Connor, Sandra Dieter, Ann Smith, James Clavel, Charles Fowler, Tony D'Onofrio, Barbara Gladyszewicz, Patricia Wolinski, Richard Kelly, and Pamela Carter as approved members of Camp Committee. It was incorrectly stated that these were members of Camp Board.

SUB Holds Bridge Night

Student Union Board will sponsor a Faculty-Student Bridge Night Thursday, March 24, in Brubacher Upper Lounge at 7:30 p.m.

Faculty teams will be matched against student teams. All faculty members and students interested should contact Janice Graham '60, Thomas Vinesse '61, or Mrs. Merlin Hathaway, Director of Brubacher Hall by Wednesday evening.

Refreshments will be served during the bridge party. Student Union Board committee members will serve the refreshments.

The Bridge Night is a part of Student Union Board's bridge program. In addition to the special Faculty-Student Night, Miss Graham wishes to remind bridge players of games every Thursday night in Brubacher.

Each day during the week, different guest speakers will address State students who will in the future be teaching merchandising subjects. The purpose of the clinic is to give the students an opportunity to benefit from the vast experience and training of outstanding leaders in the field of merchandising.

Joe Clement, President of the Club, has announced the following list of speakers, their subjects and the time of their appearance.

Harry Seaton, of the Behr-Manning Company, will speak Monday at 11 a.m. on "Industrial Marketing Problems." At noon Irving M. Bowen, who is display manager of the Woolworth Company, will talk on "Display Policies in a Chain Store."

James E. Thomas, Secretary of the Capital Electrotyping Company, will speak at 2 p.m. Monday.

The Vice-President and Division Merchandising Manager of the W. M. Whitney Company, Charles W. Wheeler, will speak Tuesday at 2 p.m. on the topic "Buying Techniques in the Department Store." At 3 p.m. Clement P. Becker, Sales Manager of the McKee-Belden Company, will talk on "What Price Your Life."

John Rice of the Tobin Packing Company, will show a film, "The First Prize Story," at 11 a.m. Thursday morning. At noon George Fuda, President of the Hayes Display Company, will speak on "Principles of Display."

Thursday afternoon Harry W. Stock, the General Manager of the Knickerbocker-News, will talk at 2 p.m. on "Advertising the Basis of Our Economy." At 3 p.m. Robert W. Shoen, the Advertising Manager of CMP Industries, Inc., will speak on the topic "Promoting and Selling Industrial Products."

Arthur Kupner, agent for the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company, will speak Friday at 2 p.m. on "How to Sell An Intangible."

The Personnel Manager of Kirby Clesner Company, Harold Perry, will talk at 3 p.m. on "Demonstrating Your Product in the Home."

Juniors Feature Dean Lanford Announces College Doctoral Program

By ED MANGELSDORF

Nominations for the Junior Prom Court opened yesterday and will continue until 4 p.m. this afternoon. Any girl who is nominated and wishes to decline may do so Monday. Primary election for members of the court will be held Tuesday with only Juniors voting. Final elections for the Queen will be Friday.

Bids for the Junior Prom weekend are now on sale for the general student body at a price of $4 per couple. This will include the Prom and the Masquerade Party. Admission to the jazz concert will be free. Anyone wishing to attend the Masquerade Party only may purchase a ticket for $1. However, anyone wishing to attend the Prom only must still pay $4.

The Masquerade Party will be held at the Polish Center next Friday from 8-12 p.m. with music by the Crusaders. Costumes may be anything from a Roman toga to Bermudas.

Richard Maltby and his famed orchestra will play at the Crimmon Cotillion Saturday, March 26, at the Sheraton-Ten Evex from 10 p.m. to 2 a.m. The jazz concert Sunday will be at Brubacher from 3-5 p.m. and will feature music by the St. James Society.

State Hosts STA Science Conference

The Twelfth Annual Eastern New York Science Congress will be held Saturday, March 26, from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. in Husted and Richardson Halls. This event is sponsored by the Science Teachers Association of New York State, Eastern Section. All State students are invited to attend.

The Twelfth Annual Eastern New York Science Congress is part of a state-wide program whereby Junior and senior high school students compete for various prizes and the chance to qualify for the State Finals. As a State Finalist, the student has the opportunity to win a scholarship as a reward for outstanding research in the field of science.

Students participating in the program must prepare a project dealing with some phase of biology, chemistry, or physics. Students must carry out the research for their projects entirely on their own. The culmination of their efforts comes when they set up a demonstration of their project in the Science Congress. These are judged according to technical skill, thoroughness, originality, and presentation.

Dean Oscar E. Lanford, Dean of the College, has announced informally that the Regents of New York State have authorized a Doctoral program for the New York State College of Education at Albany. This program will enable graduate students to obtain a degree of Doctor of Education. It is anticipated that the program will commence in September of 1960.

The Ed.D degree will be available in the field of School Administration. Primarily, this program is for the preparation of principals, vice-principals, and other chief school officers. However, this is only one phase of the program. It is expected that other programs for the preparation of school guidance officers, school psychologists, and other positions of education specialization will be added as the program gets underway. Similarly, it is also expected that a Doctoral program for the training of college teachers, mainly in the Social Sciences and the Humanities, will be added.

Duration of Study
This program will enable a student to receive a Doctorate degree in the field of Education in a minimum of three years beyond a Bachelor's degree. If the student has ample credit toward his Master's degree, and if his Master's degree is relative to the field of his Doctorate degree then it is expected that the student could obtain his Doctorate degree in three years.

Dean Comments
However, it was stressed by Dean Lanford that there is no assurance of a student completing this program in three years because the emphasis will be placed upon the competence that a student acquires rather than the total semester hours of credit that he accumulates. The main purpose of this plan is to develop competence and ability in the student in certain specified areas of education. Dean Lanford said this about the program: "This program is based upon the philosophy that Education is rooted in the society that supports it. The educational leader bears direct responsibility for advancing public welfare. It is based on the philosophy that programs in administration should be built upon a thorough knowledge of the disciplines of the Social Sciences and the Humanities."

Campus Expansion?
This program, to begin in September, is only one phase of a wide curriculum. As the program develops it will broaden its scope of other fields.

Frosh Handbook Staff Chosen

Elaine Houser and Clifford Demorest, Sophomores, have been appointed as Co-Editors of the Froshman Handbook by Rosemary Kveton and Barbara Libous, Co-Editors of last year's book.

A staff consisting of freshmen and Sophomores, will begin work on the handbook immediately.

Meeting
Miss Houser and Demorest announced an organizational meeting to be held Tuesday evening at 7 p.m. in Brubacher Hall. At this time assignments will be given out.

Notice

All additions and corrections for events to be listed in the Social Calendar must be reported to Cindy Hodge '63 this week. Dates may not be changed after this period.

In addition, all organizations should start to plan tentative dates for next year's calendar. These dates must be submitted by the end of the week following Easter vacation and will be subject to change by the Social Calendar Committee.
