HOW V-E DAY AFFECTS FEDERAL EMPLOYEES

WASHINGTON — Immediate effect of V-E Day on the Federal employee will not be drastic. No sizeable layoffs are expected immediately despite President Truman's $7,000,000,000 slash in the Federal budget and reported plan to lop off more millions from war agencies as the Pacific fighting develops.

This is informed opinion from the Federal agencies where activity is being stepped up in keeping with the President's V-E Day appeal to "Work, Work, Work" for Japanese unconditional surrender.

Although one Government official has predicted a reduction of 100,000 to 200,000 in Federal staff within four months after the German surrender, he counters this with the suggestion that Government will continue to hire large numbers of people during the Jap war.

Truman's Position

President Truman, however, is responsive to appeals for economy. He is reported to be ready to recommend to Congress that billions be cut from war agency expenditures as soon as feasible. He is said to have instructed Budget Director Harold D. Smith to program cuts in agencies whose activities have been curtailed by victory in Europe.

Personnel executives take the view that these economies will first affect procurement rather than personnel. And any staff cuts that are ordered are expected to be met largely by turnover. Permanent agencies have a tremendous backlog of peacetime work that will absorb many people from the war agencies, in processing, filing, cataloguing, etc. Examples of these are Agriculture, Commerce and Treasury.

Important stopgap in Federal employment is Veterans Administration, which has a standing order for employees that may be released by other agencies. There is a plan on foot to make such hiring compulsory by the Veterans' agency. Continuing activities will maintain staffs in such other agencies as General Accounting Office, Navy Department, State Department, RFC and OPA contract termination.

War Dept.

When big layoffs finally come War Department is expected to have the largest reduction in payroll through a deduction from the next appropriation. WPB is said to be next in line for payroll cut, followed by War Mobilization and Reconversion, ODT and Office of Censorship. War Manpower Commission is expected to be one of the last war agencies to go. Cuts in Petroleum Administration for War are expected to follow closely reductions ordered for OPA.

Unemployment Service may revert to the States, it being largely staffed at the present time by State employees.

No Reduction Yet

Best clue to the Federal employment picture comes from U. S. Civil Service Commission, where it is reported that no great reduction in force procedure is being undertaken as yet. This adds support to the belief that there will not be immediate cuts.

After V-J Day

However, once the Jap war is over, Federal workers will face an entirely different picture. Extent to which Government controls will be maintained will be the important factor. It is generally believed that many of them will have to be continued long after Nippon surrenders.

War agencies continue to have a fairly strong lease on life, with exception of such thoroughly dead pigeons as Office of Civilian Defense, which has been already eliminated. OPA looks to be good for another year at least. WPB is reported to be actually rehiring released personnel, since the reconversion prospects appear to be much bigger than was anticipated. Office of Defense Transportation received a big cut in personnel, but transportation problems continue to be tight.

OWI Cut Down

OWI has, of course, been heavily reduced, but other agencies such as FEA, which received large cuts, are supplying personnel to State Department, which is taking over many new functions.

Navy Expanding

Navy is reported to be still expanding, but big retrenchments will be undertaken by Army, now that Germany is out of the fighting picture. However, most government-owned arsenals, and some war plants, are expected to be the last to cut back, as contract termination is being concentrated in private plants to let them get back into civilian production. Army will shift many employees to the Adjutant General's branch to keep up records. There will be reductions in operations of East Coast ports that channelled supplies to Europe, but the West Coast ports are being expanded to get more men and material to the Japanese theater.

Reduction in force in war agencies cannot be stated in specific

NYC Considers Abolishing Grade 1 of Clerk Service

In the 1945-6 Executive Budget, Mayor LaGuardia has established a minimum base salary of $1,200 a year for municipal clerical employees. However, this only applies to the July 1945-June 1946 fiscal year.

The Municipal Civil Service Commission is considering a proposal to eliminate the Grade 1 group in the Clerical Service. At present, the Clerical Service, Grade 1, ranges from $600 a year to a maximum of $1,200. The Commission has on its calendar a proposal to eliminate this category and start the clerical service at Grade II, $1,201 to $1,800 a year.

Following are the positions which would be affected by the change, when adopted by the Commission. At last week's meeting, action was withheld.

Addressograph operator, assistant cashier, blueprinter, blueprinter's helper, blueprinter and photostat operator, cashier, clerk, comptometer operator, examiner, office appliance operator, photostat operator, precinct clerk (temporary), stenographer, ticket agent, typist.

Shoro Outlines State Association's Major Objectives for Coming Year

ALBANY — Clifford C. Shoro, president of the Association of State Civil Service Employees, this week outlined some of the major objectives of the organization in the coming year.

High on the list of objectives is liberalization of retirement provisions now in effect in the State. The Association has presented to Comptroller Frank C. Moore for consideration an 11-point program, carefully worked out over a period of months by a Committee of the Association. This program will form the basis of the Association's pension recommendations. Employees throughout the State have expressed wide gratification at the extent and solidity of the Association's retirement program.

Salary Adjustment

Another major objective is permanent upward salary adjustment. In line with the Association's policy of "talking things over" with the administration, the Association is preparing a groundwork of facts and figures to illustrate why upward revision in salary structure is necessary.

The Association will also advocate time-and-a-half pay for overtime work, and unemployment insurance for State employees who may happen to lose their jobs.

These are major planks in a wide Association program now in preparation, dealing with every phase of civil service and employee activity.

Said Mr. Shoro: "In all our deliberations we keep uppermost the realization that the merit system must be upheld if we are to have efficient post-war government."

He also expressed interest in the inauguration of the 5-day work-week in the Labor Department. "This may be," he said, "the opening phase of a 5-day work-week extended to wider areas of government employment."

Senate Group OK's U. S. Pay Raise Bill

By HAL MILLER

WASHINGTON—Cost of living raises for 1,250,000 Federal white-collar workers, reported out by the Senate Civil Service Committee Friday, are expected to win passage by the Senate next week, but may run into a snag in the House. House Civil Service Committee hearings are slated to start Monday. The "true overtime" provision was dropped by the Senate Committee.

An average base pay increase of 15.8 per cent per annum was granted by the Senate Committee which, if adopted, will boost the annual sum paid to Federal employees by $391,000,000. It is designed to replace the present Pay Act which expires June 30.

Instead of the flat 15 per cent increase proposed originally by sponsor Senator Sheridan Downey, committee chairman, the scale drawn by the Senate committee is designed to give most relief to the lower salary brackets. This is in line with a suggestion from the War Labor Board.

First Change Since 1929

First general revision of Government white-collar pay rates since 1929, the bill had strong approval of leading Senators, such as Byrd and McKellar, and Chairman Downey is confident of Senate approval. Following general approval last Wednesday, the bill was given another point-by-point check on Friday.

What the Bill Provides Provided is a 20 per cent raise on the first $1,200 of any salary; a 10 per cent raise on amounts above that up to $4,600; and 5 per cent on the remainder of salary up to the $4,600 level.

The committee rejected "true" time and a half overtime pay proposed by the Administration, deciding to continue the present overtime formula (time and one-twelfth), thus making it permanent if the bill passes. However, the committee adopted a CSC recommendation to pay time and one-twelfth overtime for holiday work after the war.

The measure was approved by the Senate Committee includes every CSC recommendation for pay reform excepting the time and a half overtime. The pay increase formula gives the little fellow a break, its cumulative effect being to give insurance against a drop in take-home pay.

The bill involves a cash raise range of $240 to $800 for the individual employee. A $1,400 employee will get a $420 raise, as against only $216 on a straight 15 per cent basis, while a $6,500 employee gets only $675 as compared with $975 on the straight 15 per cent rate. The low-salaried worker has an added benefit in that overtime pay will increase proportionately up to the present $2,900 overtime ceiling retained by the committee.

Other Important Actions

Other important actions of the Senate Committee:

Cut waiting period for within-grade promotions from 30 and 18 months to 18 and 12 months, respectively.

Authorized CSC to hire employees at higher than the entrance salary for the grade, but not more than the middle salary for the grade; which permits the commission to recognize separate types of jobs within a grade and fix salaries accordingly.

Authorized employees to get Ramspeck merit raises beyond the middle of the grade on an efficiency rating of "good."

Granted a 10 per cent increase in pay for work after 6 p.m. Agreed to increase the bonus of Capitol Hill and judicial employees to 21.6 per cent on the first $2,900 in salary, and 21.6 per cent on $2,900, which is $625.50 for employees who are paid over that figure.

Suspended the Saturday half holiday law for a new provision which sets the base Government work week at 40 hours which must be worked in not more than six days in a calendar week; a provision which can put the Government on a five-day, 40-hour work week after the war.

Authorized Budget Bureau to fix personnel ceilings for all types of employees in all agencies within the U. S. and its territories.

Passed a 10 per cent differential for night work except in agencies where the present rate is 15 per cent, such as Bureau of Engraving.

Brought Senate reporters under the pay bill. They are now being paid on a contract basis.

Eliminated another provision in the present bill that pays a flat 15 per cent to employees who do not work overtime; which benefits District of Columbia workers.

Here are the proposed salary changes:

$1440 to $1704;	$1620 to $1908;
$1800 to $2100;	$2000 to $2320;
$2300 to $2650;	$2600 to $2980;
$3000 to $3420;	$3200 to $3640;
$3800 to $4080;	$4000 to $4520;
$4800 to $5180;	$5000 to $5600;
$5800 to $6230;	$6500 to $7175;
$7000 to $7700;	$8000 to $8750, and
$9000 to $9800.

To illustrate how the new rates would be computed: An employee with $2,000 base pay, would first be given 20 per cent of $1,200, which is $240; and 10 per cent of $80,000 the difference between $1,200 and $2,000, which is $80. Total $320, $2,000, $240 and $80 to get the $2,320 sum.

In the case of the man earning $5,600; he would receive 20 per cent on the first $1,200, which is $240; then 10 per cent—$340—on $3,400, the difference between $1,200 and $4,600; and 5 per cent of $1,000, the difference between $4,600 and $5,600, which is $50. These total $6,250.

Mail Carriers Become Experts On Shoe Leather

WASHINGTON—One hundred and twenty mail carriers in Washington, D. C., have been acting as "guinea pigs" for the last five months in testing the longer-wearing qualities of shoes with treated soles.

The tests were begun with the cooperation of the Postoffice Department as part of the sole leather conservation program being conducted by WPB. The sole treatment materials being tested are oil, wax, an asphalt composition and a nitrocellulose composition.

Each postman wore one shoe with a treated sole and one with a sole that had not been treated by immersion in one of the materials. When the untreated sole had been worn through, both soles were removed and a new pair affixed in the reverse order—that is, a treated sole was put on the shoe that had had an untreated sole. The tests by the 120 postmen will soon be completed.

Previous tests conducted under the sole treatment program have shown that treated soles afford a minimum of 25 percent longer wear than untreated soles, WPB said.

West Coast Navy Jobs for Civil Employees

The need for civilian workers for West Coast naval establishments is acute. Battle-damage, routine overhaul and repair to all types of naval vessels due to increased activity in the Pacific, has placed a heavy work-load on West Coast Navy Yards. The need for skilled mechanics, particularly electricians, machinists, and sheetmetal workers, is critical at Hunters Point Naval Drydocks, San Francisco, California; Mare Island Navy Yard, Vallejo, California, and Puget Sound Navy Yard, Bremerton, Washington.

Travel Expenses Paid

Travel expenses including rail, pullman and meals, will be paid by the government for workers accepting employment at these establishments. Low cost furnished housing units are available for men with families and dormitory rooms are reserved in advance for single men.

Current vacancies also include the following: Coppersmith, Helper Electrician, Helper Machinist, Helper Sheetmetal Worker, Instrument Maker, Ordnanceman, Packer, Radio Mechanic and Rigger.

Information about these jobs may be obtained at the U.S. Civil Service Commission, 641 Washington Street, New York City.

U.S. Will Pay to $7,128 a Year For Electricians

Electrical engineers, students just out of college, or men with experience, can find jobs to suit themselves with the Federal Government. Present openings provide salaries of $2,433 to $7,128, and a few positions offer higher salaries.

Among the agencies which are recruiting electrical engineers are the Army Signal Corps, Navy's Bureau of Ships and the Rural Electrification Administration.

Men with engineering degrees may apply for one of these positions by obtaining Form 57 at any first or second-class post office, or at the Civil Service Commission, New York office of the Commission is at 641 Washington Street. Then send the filled-in form to the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C.

McReynold's Resignation Found Disturbing

WASHINGTON—Career people in government are somewhat perturbed by the White House announcement that William H. McReynolds, administrative assistant to the President on personnel, has resigned, and will be replaced by George J. Schoeneman of Internal Revenue.

McReynolds, outstanding career man in Federal service, has an excellent record on behalf of the Federal worker. He fought hard to keep politics out of the Federal service and is a Civil Service man through and through. Question raised by the change is whether politics is to be injected into the Federal service or the Civil Service Commission revamped.

Postmaster General Robert Hannegan, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, as Commissioner of Internal Revenue, worked closely with Schoeneman and recommended him for the White House job.

If you care for your country, and if you are not now in war work, TAKE A WAR JOB!

These USES Jobs Will Help Lick Japs

Any relaxation at this moment, when thousands of American men are fighting, and continuing the fight in the Pacific, may mean the prolongation of the war and the loss of lives. Although we are naturally happy at the news of the German surrender, still the best way we can show our happiness is to stay on the job and keep on making the tools for final victory. We have won only half a war. There is still another half to be won. And to win the second half our millions of men and women who are still in the service, and who will be in the service until Japan is beaten, need everything we can send them. What was true months ago, is still true today. Our fighting forces must have the tools with which to fight.

Following is a listing of vital war jobs at New York U. S. E. S. offices:

EXPERIENCED DRILL PRESS OPERATORS . . . Men over 18, to work for a war plant in Elmhurst, Long Island. They will operate single spindle drill presses at 75 cents to $1.05 an hour, the rate depending on experience. The jobs are on day and night shifts, and employees must be willing to work either shift. Work is for 6 days, 58 hours a week, with time and one-half paid for all work over 40 hours a week. The plant is easily reached by the 8th Avenue (Continued on Page 10)

Steno Loses First Dismissal Appeal Under New Law—She Waited Too Long

The first NYC employee to appeal to the Municipal Civil Service Commission for a review of her dismissal under a new State law lost her plea on a technicality. The case contains important information for City employees.

Ruth Been, a stenographer, grade 2, in the office of the Borough President of Brooklyn, had been dismissed for being absent without leave on March 2, 1945, and was placed on the "disqualified" list of the Commission.

The letter from Miss Been asking consideration of her case under the newly amended Section 22 of the Civil Service Law was dated April 2, 1945. That was more than 20 days from March 8, 1945, on which day she received notification from the Borough office that she had been dismissed.

20 Days for Appeal

In turning down her appeal, the Commission said:

"The recent amendment to section 22 of the Civil Service Law in relation to dismissals provides that a person who desires to appeal to the Municipal Service Commission under the provisions of that section must make such appeal in writing within 20 days after notification of the disposition of the case by the appointing officer. Inasmuch as Miss Been's appeal does not come within the time limitation prescribed, the Commission is without power, under the law to entertain her appeal or make a review of the determination of the Office of the Borough President of Brooklyn in her case.

"Miss Been should be advised accordingly and should be further advised any rights she possesses under Section 22 lie in a proceeding to the Supreme Court pursuant to the provisions of the Civil Practice Act."

Law Allows Appeal

Section 22 had been amended by the Morgan-Halpern Bill to allow City employees the right of appeal to the Civil Service Commission in cases of dismissal by departments. Miss Been, a City employee since 1931, had requested a transfer to the Sanitation Department in Brooklyn "as that Commissioner has a reputation for humane attitude and interest in the welfare of his employees."

Service Rating Changes Once Again Held Up

Another hitch developed in the proceedings of Mayor LaGuardia's Committee on the Simplification of Procedures last week. The committee of top officials from City departments had met to consider a 70-page report on the improvement of service rating methods and other personnel matters.

However, many members of the Committee hadn't even seen the elaborate seventy page report before the start of the meeting and wanted time to read it before voting to approve it and forward it to Mayor LaGuardia. So it was decided to hold off for another three weeks and then get together again.

The fact that Mayor LaGuardia has announced his intention to vacate City Hall also put a damper on the deliberations of the Committee. Some members felt that it was futile to go ahead with the project which would have to be put into practice by a new administration.

The Committee

On the Committee are: Joseph Rechetnick, Housing Authority; Frank P. Clements, Public Works; Morton S. Nagelberg and Winfield S. Hartmann, Transportation; Timothy J. O'Shea, Finance; Harry R. Langdon and Harry Bass, Sanitation; Louis L. Whitney, Civil Service; Margaret F. Bourke, Welfare; Louis Yavner, Purchase; William H. Latham, Parks; Jacob Rabinowitz, Investigations; Leona Baumgartner, Health; Willard J. Carmel, Investigations; Benjamin J. Golding, Housing and Building; William J. O'Shea, Budget; George V. Anderson, Investigations, and William A. Ettel, Hospitals.

He changed the uniform of a NYC Correction Officer for that of a lieutenant in the United States Army, and met death in Italy. The Department of Correction was recently advised that First Lieutenant James R. Garry had been killed in action.

Health Dept. Feud Flares Over Filling of $5,500 Job

Top clerical employees in the NYC Health Department are feuding with the department over a proposed open-competitive examination to fill the $5,500 a year post of Personnel Officer.

Last week, Acting Commissioner Frank A. Calderone wrote to the City Civil Service Commission asking for an open-competitive test to fill the position. A number of clerks in the department had expected the new position to be filled by a promotion examination. They point out that there are thirteen grade 5 clerks in the department who are fully capable of taking the job, which calls for general personnel supervision.

However, in writing to the Commission, Dr. Calderone asked for an open-competitive examination on the grounds that there was a "lack of persons with proper qualifications" now employed in the department.

The Duties

Then, matters came to a head when the following notice appeared on the bulletin boards of the department:

"This Department has requested the Municipal Civil Service Commission to hold an open-competitive examination for the position of Personnel Officer at $5,500 per annum. The duties to be performed are:

"Direct and administer service within the Department including the function of direction of the Division of Personnel for more than 3,000 employees engaged in health services in the City of New York. These services require trained and experienced personnel in such categories as medicine, nursing, engineering, food inspection, sanitary inspection, dental hygiene, chemistry, bacteriology, immunology, chauffeurs, labors, maintenance men, janitors and clerical.

"The duties of the position include job analyses, in-service training programs, maintenance of personnel records, maintenance of service rating records, general supervision of employee relationships within the Department and participation in the formulation of all policies related to personnel management; maintenance of liaison with the Civil Service Commission and requesting of examinations; establishment of eligibility requirements; all supervision of service ratings, promotions and transfers within the Department; development of personnel welfare policies within the Department; research and personnel problems."

Enginememen Ask Wide Changes in Titles, Salary

The NYC Civil Service Commission last week received a request for reclassification of 2,500 auto-enginememen in City departments.

The request was made by the City Districts Local of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees.

Henry Feinstein, president of the group, explains that the move for reclassification of the auto-enginememen, who drive and maintain City vehicles, started back in 1940. At that time, the reclassification was delayed, and now Mr. Feinstein's group is asking action.

At present, auto-enginememen start at $1,500 a year and have a salary ceiling of $1,980, reached by four increments. The appeal to the Commission points out that prior to the depression, the men were earning $1,740 a year to start and that the salary was reduced during the depression and never restored.

What They Ask

In the proposed classification, the AFL group asks:

1. Restoration of the old $1,740 minimum, plus a $360 cost-of-living bonus, making the new en-

What NYC Employees Should Know

Disabled Veterans' Preference

WITH more and more disabled veterans appearing on open-competitive and promotion lists, there is much interest in the subject of how this disability is determined by the Municipal Civil Service Commission. Following is an explanation of the determination of veterans disability status:

Checking Disabled Veterans' Preference

As the war progresses, it is reasonable to expect that more and more discharged veterans will seek employment in the civil service of their town, village, city or county governments. Some of these veterans will be disabled and will claim the privileges to which they are entitled under the law.

Before any of these privileges can be granted to the disabled veteran, the Civil Service Commission is obliged to establish the fact that the veteran has a recognized disability and that such disability exists at the time the application is made for appointment or promotion. It is not sufficient for the Commission to have learned of the disability from newspaper accounts of the exploits of the veteran nor can it accept a statement of disability that may appear on his discharge papers. The only acceptable evidence of the disability is a statement by the United States Veterans' Administration, substantiated by the findings of the Commission's own medical examiners.

Before requesting the medical and disability record of any veteran, authorization must be secured from the veteran concerned. The authorization should not be solicited unless the veteran has claimed special privileges as a disabled veteran.

Upon the receipt of the information from the Veterans' Administration, it should be transmitted to the medical examiner of the Commission. The physician (or board of physicians) is required to examine the candidate to determine if the disability still exists and if it impairs his normal condition. This must be a medical finding and should not depend on whether or not the veteran is still receiving disability benefit payments. The Commission should be guided by the findings of its physicians in granting disabled veterans' preference.

Degree of Disability

The function of the physician of the Commission is not only to verify the existence of the war incurred disability at the time the claim is presented, but in addition, the physician must determine whether the disability is such as to prevent the applicant from satisfactorily performing the duties of the position which he is seeking. For example, a veteran may claim disability preference in connection with a police position. The nature of his disability (to cite an extreme case) may be the loss of a leg. Obviously, the disability exists. However, equally obviously the veteran minus one leg could not perform the duties of a police officer satisfactorily. Under such circumstances, the veteran must be disqualified for that position.

The Civil Service Commission must take notice of the disability only at the time the veteran presents his claim. Even though the Commission has verified the disability claim of the veteran on one examination it cannot give the applicant any preference on another examination unless he himself wishes to claim preference. The Commission is also obliged to have its physicians examine the applicant to determine if the disability still exists each time the applicant claims preference.

Another feature that must be verified before disabled veterans' privileges can be extended is the citizenship and residence of the veteran at the time of his entrance into the armed services. The candidate must have been both a citizen of the United States and a resident of the State at the time of his induction or enlistment. Citizenship acquired in the armed forces cannot be considered as establishing claims for disabled veterans' preference.

trance salary $2,100.

2. New maximum of $2,400 plus $360 bonus, making a total of $2,760; the maximum to be reached by $120 yearly increments.

3. The setting up of the following promotional lines:

Dispatcher, $2,761 to $3,000.

Garage Foreman, $3,001 and up.

The request for these changes has also been submitted to Budget Director Thomas J. Patterson, according to Mr. Feinstein.

Sanitation Groups Go All-Out for 7th War Loan Drive

Employee organizations of the NYC Department of Sanitation are getting behind the Department's efforts to top all records in the Seventh War Loan Drive.

According to Harry Langdon, administrator and chairman of the War Loan Committee, twenty-one of the department's 27 employee organizations have indicated that they will buy bonds through the department during the drive.

The Joint Board of Sanitation Locals is taking $1,250 in bonds; St. George Association, Sanitation, $1,500; and the American Legion post in the Department, $500.

There are still 7,000,000 Jap soldiers. That's the reason for the 7th War Loan. Buy a Bond today.

End of Job-Freeze Will Signal Subway Trouble

Ending of War Manpower job-freeze regulations—which is expected in the New York area by July 1, 1945, or earlier—will increase the personnel problems at the Board of Transportation.

While the permanent subway, bus and trolley workers are inclined to stay at their jobs—having the security of post-war employment—large numbers of the temporary employees have been trying to get away, but have been held at their transit posts. Under present rulings, they either had to stick to their transit job or take a 60-day vacation before they were free to take another job.

Many of the 8,000 temporary workers for the Board claimed that they couldn't hold their jobs because of their physical condition. In such cases, the Board's physicians examined them, and decided whether or not to grant them releases.

When the WMC rule is lifted, it is expected that there will be a general exodus of the temporary workers to other jobs.

Civil Service Hears Vet. Claims For Preference

The Municipal Civil Service Commission met last week to consider claims of NYC employees and eligibles for veterans preference, which automatically moves them to the top of the open-competitive or promotion list, if granted.

Ernest Nemeth, 972 on the auto-enginememen list, was denied preference for that position but was approved for attendant, messenger, watchman, caretaker and process server.

Alexander Daimani, 332 on the promotion list to assistant foreman, Department of Sanitation, was granted preference.

Hyman Sidorosky was approved for veterans preference on the following lists: assistant gardener (outside NYC), number 1, Sanitation man "A", 1947; conductor, 2874. Walter Weinheim on the list for Supervisor of Public Markets, Weights and Measures, was denied preference.

Here's a Typing Job That Pays $73 a Week

A new job, the duties of which (as defined in a NYC Board of Estimate resolution) consist of "transcribing of dictaphone cylinders containing matters dictated by one of the judges," has been created by the Board for Kings County Court.

The title of the position is "court attendant with typing ability," and the salary has been set at $3,540—with bonus—$3,780 a year.

The report on the position from the Director of the Budget explained that the position was necessary to fill a vacancy by the temporary appointment of a court attendant in the Court.

Study Aids for Coming Clerk Grade 2 Promotion

The ability of the New York City clerk to analyze complicated statements is tested on the grade 2 promotion examination. Following are some questions of that type. Answers will appear in next week's LEADER. The answers to last week's questions are at the end of this article.

1—"The methods of keeping accounts in the different cities show the extreme of variety, and the total lack of anything like a general system. To a certain extent local differences require variations in the methods of municipal bookkeeping, especially for certain special and trust funds. But in America the variations go far beyond those made necessary." The one of the following which is the most accurate statement on the basis of the above quotation is that

(A) there is no variation in local accounting procedure which cannot validly be defended as necessary and desirable; (B) municipal bookkeeping excludes keeping accounts; (C) special and trust funds lead to uniformity of municipal bookkeeping practices; (D) there are some variations in methods of keeping accounts which cannot be justified on the basis of differing local situations; (E) bookkeeping methods may vary from city to city, but are probably uniform within a specific city.

2—"Permanence in municipal organization is undoubtedly a factor of prime importance in securing efficient municipal government, but it is impossible to abandon at once all discussion of municipal organization and to accept the existing variety of arrangements as permanent." Of the following, the most direct implication of the above quotation is that

(A) constructive change in municipal organization should be encouraged; (B) the present form of municipal organization is probably the best possible form because it is the product of experimentation; (C) discussion of change in municipal government might well be abandoned for the present; (D) continuity in municipal government tends to impair efficiency; (E) the existing varieties of municipal organization probably include all possible efficient organizations.

3—"Only one payroll report on Form 31 shall be submitted for each payroll period except in cases where it is necessary to correct a payroll previously forwarded or where a revised report is requested. In cases where it is necessary to correct a report, the notation 'Corrected Report' should be typed on the face of a copy of Form 31, and the item or items to be corrected only, shown as originally reported, with date made, and followed by the corrected item will be given." The one of the following which is the most accurate statement on the basis of the above directions is that

(A) corrections in the payroll report for one period should be indicated in the payroll report for a subsequent period; (B) both the original and corrected information should be included in a "Corrected Report"; (C) payroll reports, unless subsequently revised, should be filed in duplicate; (D) when errors are found in Form 31, a separate copy of Form 31 should be submitted for each item to be corrected; (E) when revision of a payroll report is necessary, the report should be entirely retyped so that it is complete and accurate.

4—"The clerk is the private in army of city employees." Of the following, the most valid implications of this statement is that

(A) military discipline is desirable in civil service; (B) many city employees, especially clerks, are being drafted in to the Army; (C) the number of clerks in the city service is decreasing rapidly; (D) clerks perform a large part of the City's work; (E) the work of local governments decreases during emergency periods.

5—"The range and variety of public employments are almost as comprehensive as a dictionary of human occupations. One would go far before he discovered a business enterprise employing a greater variety of skilled and technical workers than is found in a modern city government." The one of the following which is the most accurate statement on the basis of the above quotation is that

(A) not all dictionaries are comprehensive; (B) public employment is stimulating; (C) employment is increasing; (D) not all technical workers are skilled; (E) modern city governments are complex.

6—"The importance of competent municipal personnel is not limited to mere numbers or amounts of money involved in salaries and wages. To a large extent, the character of the entire city government, as well as the administrative services performed, depend upon the calibre of the public officers and employees." The one of the following which is the most direct implication of the above quotation is that

(A) the supply of competent public officers and employees is limitless; (B) good government is virtually impossible when municipal personnel is inefficient; (C) the character of the entire city government depends upon the number of administrative services offered; (D) relatively small amounts of money are involved in municipal salaries and wages; (E) the municipal personnel engaged in administrative services consists largely of officers and employees.

Answers to last week's questions: 1, B; 2, E; 3, E; 4, B; 5, A; 6, E; 7, D; 8, C; 9, A; 10, D; 11, E; 12, A; 13, D; 14, B; 15, A.

A Public Family

One New York City family has a solid civil-service military-service rating.

Mrs. Margaret Hildobrandt is housekeeper at the Triborough Hospital. A sister, Eileen Daly, is a Navy nurse (ensign), stationed at St. Albans Hospital. Brother James J. Daly, formerly of NYC Department of Marine and Aviation, is a coxswain in the Navy. Brother Thomas Daly, formerly an administrative assistant in the Army Air Corps, is now an apprentice seaman in the Navy.

2 Departments Select Boards to Review Appeals

Personnel Boards, which review appeals against service ratings in NYC Departments were chosen by the Board of Water Supply and the Department of Housing and Buildings last week.

Following are the new boards:

Firemen Cite Their Case In Overtime Pay Lawsuit

The overtime pay suit which has just been started by NYC Firemen John P. Crane and John W. Bonifer to compel the City to pay them $1.20 an hour for all hours worked over 48 a week is of double interest to men in the Fire Department.

The fact that Firemen Crane, present vice-president of the Union Firemen's Association, is a candidate for presidency of the organization, makes progress of the case a factor in the election campaign. The possibility of sharing in an award of $1,250,000 is naturally interesting to the firemen.

Legal Papers

In legal papers served on the City last week by David A. Savage, the two firemen point out the progress of working conditions in the Department:

Before 1938, says the brief, City firemen worked 12 hours a day, for a 72-hour week. Then, in 1938, a State law and a referendum of the NYC voters set the work-week at 8 hours a day, for 48 hours a week.

However, on January 1, 1944, they were ordered by Fire Commissioner Patrick Walsh to work over 48 hours a week, and firemen had each averaged 144 hours of overtime by April 29 of that year.

Under the three-platoon system, they add, a force of 8,973 uniformed firemen is provided for in the annual budget, but by requiring a depleted force of 7,520 men to work overtime, the City did not use all of the money appropriated for payment of salaries in the Department.

Using the base pay of $3,000 a year, they figure the hourly rate at $1.20, and ask payment of that, together with interest.

TWO TRANSIT MEN DIE IN MILITARY SERVICE

Deaths of two Transit employees on military leave were reported to the NYC Board of Transportation last week.

Joseph J. Zemienieski, a conductor for the IRT, died while serving in the Army. Enrico Caridi, clerk on the BMT line, was killed while serving in the Navy on April 4, 1945.

The 8th Annual Holy Communion Breakfast of the Catholic Guild, Department of Correction, will be held in the Hotel New Yorker, 8th Avenue and 34th Street, New York City, Sunday, May 20, at 10:30 A.M.

The Holy Sacrifice of the Mass will be offered by the Reverend Joseph J. Durmann, Catholic Chaplain of the Guild, at Saint Andrew's Roman Catholic Church, Duane Street and Cardinal Hayes Place, NYC, at 9:00 A.M.

Principal Speaker at the Breakfast will be the Right Reverend Msgr. Francis Shea, Secretary to Archbishop Spellman. Peter F. Amoroso, M.D., Commissioner of Correction, will be toastmaster. Miss Margaret Cassidy, Guild President, will welcome the members and their friends.

Thomas McDonnell, 1st Vice-President, and Warden of City Prison, Brooklyn, is Chairman of the Breakfast Committee.

Joe McLoughlin Plans Irish Feis At Fordham

William F. O'Dwyer, Kings County D. A.; William J. Pedrick, Collector of Internal Revenue; Colonel Martin Meaney, recently returned from Rome, Colonel George Lawrence of the Sixty-ninth Regiment; Robert I. Brennan, Irish Minister at Washington; Leo T. McCauley, Irish Consul General in New York; Thomas J. Curran, Secretary of State; and James A. Farley have all accepted the invitation of Chairman Joseph F. McLoughlin to attend the thirteenth annual Irish Feis to be held at the Fordham University Campus on Sunday, May 27, which is expected to attract a gathering of 20,000 people.

Entries to compete in the ninety different competitions are being received in large numbers at the Hotel Capitol offices of the United Irish Counties Association, sponsors of the Feis, from many parts of the United States. The Very Rev. Robert I. Gannon, S.J., president of Fordham University is honorary chairman of the affair.

Social Workers To Hear Marsh, Lansdale, Potter

The list of speakers for the May 28 National Conference of Social Work, at the Hotel Pennsylvania, includes many persons in Civil Service.

Among those listed to discuss phases of social work are Crystal M. Potter, Department of Welfare; Robert T. Lansdale, New York State Commissioner of Social Welfare; Harry W. Marsh, Commissioner of NYC Welfare Department; Dr. John Pastore, New York Hospital.

The main talk at the evening session will be given by Max Lerner, chief editorial writer of PM, who will discuss "The Great Powers in a Free World."

How NYC Employees Get Their 1945 Vacations

The vacation-time of New York City employees is limited by the "Terms and Conditions" of the City's Executive Budget. However, a lot still depends on which department the employee works in.

According to the Budget the vacation time is set by the following section:

"Vacations and Sick Leave: No person whose compensation is paid in whole or in part from the city treasury shall be allowed more than two calendar weeks vacation with pay during the fiscal year 1945-1946, except that if such two weeks period includes a holiday an extra day may be allowed in consideration thereof. Employees whose vacations are allowed prior to July 1, 1945, should, as a matter of equity, also be limited to two weeks.

"Sick leave with pay for all such persons shall be limited to 12 working days, provided that accumulated unused sick leave from past years at the same rate per annum may be allowed in meritorious cases and at the discretion of the head of the agency up to a total of 6 months.

"Where the work of employees is seasonal in character the vacation shall be allowed during the slack season."

Sanitation

But in the Sanitation Department where conditions are different, clerical employees get 24 days, uniformed men 26 days, mechanics 28, and officers more. However, when a Sanitation man takes a day off on sick leave, he must be sick. If a check-up by the department's medico shows that he isn't sick, then he is subject to a suspension and loss of pay.

Police and Fire Differ

The Police Department has a graduated vacation schedule, according to the rank of the men. Civilian employees get the "12 and 12" of the Budget. Per diem workers get 3-weeks, after six months service. For the uniformed force, the following schedule applies:

Chief Inspector 29 days; Deputy, 28; Inspector, 26; Deputy, 25; Captain, 24; Lieutenant, 22; Sergeant, 20; Patrolman, 19.

In the Fire Department, the firemen rate a 21-day vacation, while chief officers are allowed to take a 30-day furlough.

Others Follow Rule

Most other City Departments follow closely the rule of the Mayor on sick leave and vacations. However, most allow the use of sick leave time which has accumulated to extend the two-week vacation period. In Welfare, employees may add to their vacation time by perfect attendance and reporting on time. (An extra half-day a month.)

The Purchase Department, last year, attempted to set up an incentive system, offering extra vacation-time for meritorious suggestions, but it fell through when the Mayor vetoed the extra vacation idea.

A unique vacation setup is found in the Health Department, where seniority is rewarded with extra vacation time. The Employees receive the 12 days sick leave and vacation—which may be combined. In addition, employees with twelve years of service or more receive an extra twelve days vacation each year, which is not charged against sick leave or vacation time.

Change?

At press time, many City departments had not yet sent out any formal notice of vacation schedules and employees are hopeful of more than the 12 days. Before the war, City departments generally provided three weeks vacation time each year, and allowed accumulations of unused sick-leave and vacation time to be taken together.

Welfare Investigators To Sue for Back Pay

A group of social investigators in the NYC Welfare Department, some of whom were in the old Charities Department back in 1930, are planning a suit against the City for back pay.

They're basing their claims for back pay on what happened in 1937. Originally, they came into the City in the ungraded service at $1,800 a year. Then in 1937, they were placed in the competitive class at a starting salary of $1,800 a year, advancing to $2,280 by four annual increments of $120.

However, in September 1937, a large number of individual increases for the investigators came through—in several cases, as much as $300. But the Budget Bureau proceeded to offset these individual raises by crediting the extra salary against the scheduled increments. The investigators contend that the fact that they got individual raises, for merit, shouldn't have been cancelled by depriving them of their increments.

Twenty-five of the investigators have retained David A. Savage to represent them in a Court fight for the back pay, which comes to $360 in some cases. It is expected that papers will be served on the Corporation Counsel's office in the near future.

Your NYC Residence Safe Unless You Want a Divorce

The Lyons Law requires three years residence in New York City before a citizen may hold most municipal positions. An employee must reside in the City after appointment.

Last week, three interesting questions on this matter came before the Municipal Civil Service Commission.

1. A soldier's wife has New York City residence. Does she lose same by living out of the City near the camp or military installation where her husband is stationed?

Answer: No.

2. The War Manpower Commission recruited New York City residents for war work out of the City. Is residence lost by such employment?

Answer: No.

3. If a New York City resident established residence in another State for divorce purposes, is New York City residence lost thereby?

Answer: Yes.

Seamstresses Would Like To Know Just What's What

After long months, seamstresses in the NYC Hospitals still don't know where they stand. All they know is they haven't received any more money, and they've been waiting a long time.

About six months ago, the women, represented by Attorney David Savage, started negotiations to come under Section 220 of the State Law and receive the benefits of prevailing wages for their work. They contended that they were skilled workers; that their sewing helped to maintain the institutions where they worked, and that by law they were entitled to receive the same rate of pay as that earned by seamstresses working for private employers.

On Increments

Then, while the claim was still pending, they filed another application, with the Courts, to the effect that if they weren't receiving the prevailing rate for their work, then they were entitled to receive mandatory increments.

At present, they receive salaries ranging from $720 a year with maintenance to $1,380 a year without maintenance.

Right now, negotiations are going on between the Comptroller's office, the Budget Bureau and the Corporation Counsel. The City apparently can't decide whether to put them under the Labor Law or take them in under the mandatory increment law.

ADDITIONAL WAGE HEARINGS SCHEDULED

Additional hearings on NYC employees' claims for prevailing wage adjustments are scheduled before Morris Paris, assistant deputy comptroller, this week. The following hearings will be held at 2:30 p.m. on the dates given in Room 636, Municipal Building, Park Row.

May 17, electricians; 18, stationary engineers and carpenters; 21, Wiremen; 24, carriage upholsterers.

Congressmen Raise Own Pay—What of Employees?

NOW that the members of Congress have raised their own pay by $2,500—expenses, they call it—they should forthwith proceed and enact into law the Downey bill lifting the pay of "white-collar" Federal employees, and the Burch bill enlarging the base income of postal workers.

The LEADER has editorially favored higher salary for Congressmen. And the need of bringing up their own pay should be the final argument upon Congress in acting for the employees.

Next month will see the termination of the present overtime pay provisions. If action isn't taken soon, Federal employees will be even without the meagre overtime compensation which is actually the only real increase in their incomes since 1929.

Even "economy-minded" Senators have expressed themselves in favor of better pay. Hearings have been held. The issue has been squared off for over a year.

Now let's have the pay rise measures enacted into

Incentives

THIS is the second time in two weeks that we must record good words for the administration of New York's Police Department—and we're glad to do it. We speak in praise of an order granting an extra day's vacation to members of the force because of their excellent work on V-E Day.

In general, there has been a dearth of incentives in government service. Where incentives have been introduced, however, they've worked remarkably well. We should like to see other agencies give time-off for good work, extra cash for ideas, credit toward promotion for achievements beyond the everyday call of duty.

What Civilian Jobs for Enlisted Men?

Five thousand typical civilian occupations into which U. S. Navy enlisted men and women can shift after discharge have been listed by the War Manpower Commission.

The listing is now being published and will be available shortly as a 400-page volume in WMC's series titled "Special Aids for Placing Military Personnel in Civilian Jobs." The volume will be similar to a "Special Aids" counseling and placement volume completed a year ago to help simplify the return of army enlisted personnel to civilian jobs.

The Navy "Special Aids" specifically indicates how the training and experience of enlisted naval personnel—men of the line, Seabees, Waves, Coast Guardsmen, etc.—can be employed as they return to civilian life. Since some of the billets in the United States Maritime Service have points of similarity to jobs in the Navy, the "Aids" may also be used to assist in counseling men released from the Maritime Service and the Merchant Marine.

Not the Whole Story

The "Special Aids," for both the Army and Navy show the relationship between military and civilian jobs. As counseling and placement "tools," these "aids" take into consideration the training and experience gained in service. However, WMC pointed out that the "aids" do not tell the whole story concerning a returning service person since experience and training gained before enlistment and an individual's aptitudes may be even more significant than his or her military experience.

WMC emphasized that the Navy "Aids," as is also the case of the volume published showing Army-civilian job relationship, is primarily for employment counselors' use.

Typical Cases

The following are a few typical examples of civilian jobs to which naval personnel could shift, on the basis of service experience and training:

AVIATION MECHANIC'S MATE (Aviation propeller mechanic): With brief on-the-job training, propeller installation mechanic; blade-weld-set-up man; aircraft engine mechanic, propeller mechanic helper.

BOATSWAIN'S MATE CB: With brief on-the-job training, able seaman, motorboat operator, deck hand.

CARPENTER'S MATE: With brief training, shop carpenter, stage carpenter, ship carpenter, house builder, cabinetmaker.

ELECTRICIAN'S MATE, First Class: Electrician, deck electrician, electrical repairman, instrument inspector, line inspector, and others with various degrees of training.

GUNNER'S MATE, First Class: With varying amounts of training, assembler, armorer, gunsmith, armament machinist, barrel reamer, etc.

MOTOR MACHINIST'S MATE, Second and Third Class: With no training or varying amounts, maintenance man, maintenance mechanic, gas-lift engineer, diesel power shovel operator.

Merit Man

Walter Patrick Morris

IF he didn't have the luck of the Irish, he figures he'd be in little pieces by now. Captain Walter Patrick Morris of the NYC Fire Department has a job that's like walking round on crates of eggs.

Technically, he's in charge of Combustibles and Fire Prevention but he's the department's expert on things that are liable to blow up. Before the war he was assigned to investigate explosions. Then after Pearl Harbor, he was sent to the Aberdeen Proving Grounds, where he took an Army course in handling all types of bombs.

Then, whenever a bomb was found around the City, it became his job to hop out to the scene, render it safe for disposal, and see that it was either dumped where it couldn't do any harm, or turned over to the Army.

As an example of one of the more exciting events, he tells about the time he had picked up a hand grenade in Astoria. It was put in a flower pot on the floor of his car and he started away with it. But the thing rattling around on the floor of the car bothered him and he picked it up and put it in his pocket.

A while later, he got out of the car and took it from his pocket. He almost fainted when he noticed for the first time that the safety pin was out and that the grenade could have gone off at any moment.

Another time that he remembers with chills happened on a ship at the Brooklyn waterfront. While merchant sailors were cleaning out the bunks down in the hold, one of them happened to knock a hand grenade out of a bunk. It went off and blew the legs off three sailors. No one would go down into the hold, not knowing how many other explosives might be lying around, ready to go off at any second.

So that was another call for the Captain.

There were no lights in the hold; he wasn't familiar with the layout of the ship, but he went down with a flashlight and worked through the hold picking up seven more grenades—fortunately none of them went bang.

Another pleasant job that he gets is picking nitro-glycerine out of coal cars. Often a shipment of coal comes into the City, and nesting among the coals are pieces of nitro-glycerine that didn't go off when the miners blasted the coal. By the time the coal cars arrive at the City, the stuff is beginning to decompose, and it's so touchy that a sneeze might set off an explosion.

24-Hour Day

Captain Morris is the only man in the Fire Department who is on duty 24 hours a day. Wherever he is, the dispatcher must know where he can be found. In addition to his regular work of inspection, he responds to every three-alarm fire and has been out on 325 bomb calls since Pearl Harbor.

He has earned seven department citations including the Medal for Heroism and the Brooklyn Citizens Medal, because of the work that he has done in preventing bomb damage during the war.

Starting with the Fire Department back in 1911, he has 34 years of service, and admits that he was really scared just once. That was lately when the newspaper reporters were let loose at him in Fire Headquarters. He said he never had anything like that ever happen to him before.

Don't Repeat This!

Who'll Be New York City's Next Mayor?

LaGuardia had certain tough facts in his possession, facts which were without question a major reason for his decision. This is the first time the strange details are being made public. . . . The GOP didn't want LaGuardia, didn't have another strong candidate. So the Republican high command officially offered a deal to the Democrats. The deal: "Keep the county offices as they are. You nominate the Mayor, give us 35% of the City patronage. We'll endorse the man you nominate. In this way, you don't have to deal with any other party. As a matter of fact, this might help us get rid of the minority parties." The offer wasn't just a feeler; it was official, solid, lay-it-on-the-line business. The Republicans hoped, by consummating such an arrangement, to hang on to the Manhattan borough presidency, now held by their man Edgar Nathan; and to retain the Manhattan District Attorney's office for Frank Hogan who, while a Democrat, employs many a Republican on his staff.

THE DEMOCRATIC strategists didn't turn the deal down right away. They thought it over. Then they concluded it was no go—but didn't officially say so. The GOP was asking too much. Here's how the Democrats cogitated their position. "Why should we give the Republicans 35% of the patronage? We can make a deal with the Liberal Party, offer them a crumb—the presidency of the City Council to Dean Alfange or someone else they might name. Thus we would assure their support, which should be more than enough to guarantee that our man will win the Mayoralty."

REMEMBER, this was before the Little Flower said he wouldn't be a candidate. The Democrats couldn't make a deal with the ALP, because that party was ready to line up behind LaGuardia.

NOW the situation is altered. First the PAC-ALP-CIO people are for Brig. Gen. William O'Dwyer, strongest Democratic potential. They might possibly go for some other candidate, but at the moment it's O'Dwyer. Now friends of the Bklyn District Attorney are plenty mad—they feel that Bx boss Ed Flynn and Bklyn boss Frank Kelly would prefer a political nonentity, a straight wheelhorse who could play the game the old-fashioned way. The Democratic chieftains think they can win with anybody they put up, so why should they trouble themselves with a candidate like O'Dwyer who might show some signs of independent thinking? The only worry which Flynn and Kelly have is that O'Dwyer's supporters might enter him in the primaries, where his chances of winning would be very good. . . . Queens and Richmond Democratic bosses are on the record for O'Dwyer; and Tammany is leaning his way.

AS IT STANDS now, these are the prospective candidates: Ed Flynn's man—revealed here in print for the first time—is Thomas Murray, former BMT receiver. Surprisingly, Murray is well-thought-of by CIO-ALP. However, there's a little story in his background which his foes might use in the campaign. . . . Frank Kelly would like to put up Judge John Johnson, Bklyn's behind-the-scenes political strong man. Kelly's second choice is Bklyn Borough President John Cashmore, who lately has been making noises like a mayoral candidate. . . . Other Democratic possibilities, in addition to O'Dwyer, Murray, Johnson, and Cashmore, are Supreme Court Justice Ferdinand Pecora and General Sessions Judge Jonah Goldstein. Both Pecora and Goldstein have strong contacts with the New York County chieftains and with the Liberal Party. If the Democrats should nominate Murray, Johnson or Cashmore, and if O'Dwyer should decline to run in the primaries, then Goldstein comes up as a very serious contender for the nomination. Goldstein is famous for his ability to win in primary fights. . . . And talking of primary fighters, don't overlook a Liberal Party favorite, former Supreme Court Justice Jeremiah T. Mahoney, who beat Senator Royal S. Copeland in the 1937 City-wide Democratic primary.

GOP IS IN awful, awful bad shape, floundering without quite knowing what to do. A number of leaders are now privately whispering they're sorry LaGuardia isn't running—among them men who have formerly always opposed him. His decision cuts down their political bargaining power. Dewey's advisers obviously fear Democratic control of the City, because that would be a setback to GOP clubhouse power, and hence to the Republican party during next year's gubernatorial fight—which promises to be a wow from all indications.

AMONG GOP candidate possibilities, McGoldrick is counted out. Stanley Isaacs is rapidly emerging as the man with the most delectable political perfume. Should he be the candidate, Manhattan leader Tom Curran will swallow hard on his Adam's apple: Curran and Isaacs bear each other little love—but that wouldn't matter too much in the campaign. Isaacs and Newbold Morris are probably the only Republicans who could make a play for ALP support. But the GOP can't rely much on ALP aid, because the Laborites have their bitter feud with the Liberals, and want to be with the winners. Isaacs or Morris might stand a chance of winning LaGuardia's support, which will be a considerable factor. Morris leads in LaGuardia's affections.

BIGGEST casualty of Fiorello's "I-won't-run" decision is Frank Hogan. He's a Democrat, he doesn't like LaGuardia, and yet Butch's announcement hits him hard. Here's why: Since the Democrats feel they can win easily, they want Hogan's office with its 100-odd exempt patronage jobs. Hogan, an independent who bows to no one, isn't a clubhouse patron, and does a straight methodical job, has retained Dewey's men and hired others without regard to their political backgrounds. His is a juicy balliwick for clubhouse lawyers and minor errand-runners. . . . Even if LaGuardia were running, however, Hogan's renomination would have been in jeopardy. The Democrats would dearly love to have the D.A. office for political payoff jobs.

BUT POLITICS is a funny thing. While Hogan may lose out on the renomination for District Attorney, there is still the possibility that he may develop into a mayoral candidate on the good government issue, with Fusion and Republican backing. This could happen especially if a spectacular case of the Costello type should develop within the next few weeks.

AND WITHAL, there are still the cynics who shrug their shoulders and say LaGuardia is kidding, and WILL be a candidate. Their reasoning goes like this: ALP is abetting LaGuardia. It is playing a cagey game with the Democrats, leading that party to think its candidate can look for ALP endorsement. Thus, the Democrats needn't make a deal with either Liberals or Republicans. This automatically drives the Liberals into the arms of the Republican party, since Liberals wouldn't touch an ALP-endorsed candidate without gagging. . . . After the Democrats have nominated their man, and the Republicans and Liberals have given blessing to their candidate, the ALP turns about and starts a formidable draft—LaGuardia movement on one pretext or another. It then becomes a three-way fight—the only way LaGuardia might possibly win. . . .

The State Employee

By CLIFFORD C. SHORO

President, The Association of State Civil Service Employees

In writing "The State Employee" as a regular weekly feature of The LEADER, Clifford C. Shoro discusses all and any matters of interest to employees of the State of New York. He is writing this column with complete leeway to express his own views.

Health Leaves

THE ADMINISTRATION'S announcement last week of vacation and holiday leaves for 1945, cleared the air on this important topic. Efficiency depends on good health. Good health depends on many factors but one important one is relaxation and change over a proper period from exacting daily duties performed in an atmosphere charged with action and strain.

Employees are still waiting patiently for statement of full rules to govern sick leaves, hours, etc. The workers in the offices of the institutions where the hours do not conform with those in the administrative offices of departments, are particularly anxious that there be recognition of the fact that they are not included in the institutional eight-hour schedule and that they should not be required to work beyond the regular week period of other office workers. Another question to be settled is that of the number of days to be granted for religious observance. The different faiths have been granted different total periods. A satisfactory solution might be to add a certain number of days to the total vacation period and permit individual workers to use the days as and when they like.

Retirement Legislation

No special committee of the Association has ever faced a more difficult job than our Retirement Liberalization Committee headed by Charles Dubuar. Amendments have been made to the State Retirement System law during the twenty-three years since it came into being, but no such comprehensive study nor such substantial recommendations for its liberalization were ever made by any group as those of Mr. Dubuar's committee.

The Association sought through conferences to enlist the active support of Comptroller Moore as head of the State Retirement System in our program. We made a good case on each of the eleven proposals of the Committee. We were not successful this year, but we have laid the groundwork for the future. Now we must go on from here. All citizens recognize the solemn duty to the many aged retired public employees and to the thousands who are basing their hopes of security in old age on this System to see to it that it is maintained in a sound condition and that it never repudiates a promise made. Our Association is mindful of its responsibility in this respect. The proposals for higher pensions for lower paid workers and lesser years for those whose duties are specially arduous, have an especially pertinent appeal. Each State employee can do a lot of missionary work individually and through local chapters in the months ahead to make known the soundness of any changes in the system which will bring it in full accord with advancing social security concepts.

Retirement Benefits Disapproved

For the apparent reasons set forth above—further study by the Comptroller—a bill giving an employee's beneficiary a full year's salary as death benefit after ten years of service was vetoed by the Governor.

The bill to lower the rate of interest on loans was also vetoed. In vetoing this bill, the Governor issued a memorandum praising the objective but pointing out that the constitutional decree that no benefit of the Retirement System may ever be reduced, made it essential that this bill be further considered.

Every State employee appreciates the importance of the Constitutional amendment of 1938 which established the benefits of the retirement system as a contractual obligation of the State with each member. It will be recalled that this was fostered by Senator George Fearon of Syracuse and Attorney General Bennett and heartily supported by the Association. The Constitution now reads: "After July 1, 1940, membership in any pension or retirement system of the State or of a civil division thereof shall be a contractual relationship, the benefits of which shall not be diminished or impaired."

While we have lost, temporarily at least, a benefit of reduced rate on loans apparently on account of this, the clause is of such tremendous importance in protecting forever the pension benefits, that we may well be patient with the correction which we feel can be brought about by other legislation.

Don't Take It Seriously

Whoever figured that only twelve thousand or so veterans out of 1,500,000 will seek State civil service jobs, as reported recently in the press, should, it seems, look deeper into the subject. It just isn't common sense that veterans or others who wish Federal or municipal jobs would scorn a State job if informed of its stability and its pay plan as compared with other plans as they most certainly should be informed. And this holds true of very many jobs in private employment.

The statement has the earmarks of propaganda. It is certain that unless the Downey-Sherman unlimited preference proposal is defeated on November 6th, next, no non-veteran will secure an appointment or a promotion in State service for many years. There will be many thousands among the million and one-half veterans who will yearly seek positions in the State service and with full preference they will, of course, get the jobs.

Mental Hygiene Dept Will Fingerprint All Patients

ALBANY—Mental Hygiene Department is going to set up photographic and finger-printing booths in all mental institutions.

Employees Help To Compile Rules Of State Agencies

ALBANY—Dozens of State employees in all departments have cooperated in compiling the first complete set of rules and regulations of all State agencies.

The work, accomplished under the supervision of a special bureau created in the State Department and financed by special appropriations, is now about finished. The first two volumes of the compilation have been published, with three more to come—one for Labor Department regulations, orders and rules; and two for the Public Service Commission.

Under a new act, all patients in the institutions will now be fingerprinted and photographed upon admission.

This, said Commissioner Frederick MacCurdy, is in line with the State's effort to persuade all citizens to be finger-printed and the decision to do this in the mental hospitals was a recommendation of the Moreland investigating Commission.

Fingerprints along with photos of patients will be kept confidential in secret files, it was said. But the prints will be there as an aid to re-capture those who escape and, it was explained, to make positive identification on all occasions, including situations that may arise in the death of two patients with identical names.

1,000 Employees In Labor Dept. Go on 5-Day Week

ALBANY—More than 1,000 employees of the Division of Unemployment Insurance in the Labor Department are scheduled to begin working on a 5-day week basis this week.

It will not mean any reduction in total hours, but it will give everybody Saturday—all of it—off. The new schedule is meant only for the summer months and will terminate on September 1.

Other State employees are grumbling, however. They ask: "What's the matter with us getting a five-day week?"

Judge J. Edward Conway, president of the Civil Service Commission, said the decision to put DPUI workers on a five-day week basis was news to him. He said it probably was the result of an order by Industrial Commissioner Edward Corsi, or at least had his approval.

Other Agencies, Too?

"I think the question of extending the five-day week to all departments might be impractical," said Judge Conway. "It seems to me that this is a matter of judgment with each department head for each department has its own personnel problems."

DPUI employees, unlike other State workers in Albany, put in a 38-hour week, the year around. Other employees are on a weekly basis of 36½ hours. Instead of working 9 to 5 with an hour for lunch the DPUI people would work 9 to 5 from Monday through Thursday and from 9 to 4:45 on Friday. They would still work their 38 hours, but get all of Saturday free. The lunch period under the new schedule is clipped to 45 minutes.

Score of New Exempt Posts Created in State Service

ALBANY—Governor Dewey has approved resolutions adopted by the State Civil Service Commission creating a score of exempt positions in State Service and placing about as many more in the non-competitive class. In each instance the resolution sets forth that examinations for the positions are deemed impracticable.

These are the new exempt jobs: welfare consultant and general counsel, Workmen's Compensation Board; three instead of two deputy commissioners of correction; director of dog licensing, Department of Agriculture; public works consulting engineer, Public Works Department; secretary to the commissioner of agriculture; executive assistant to the chairman of Public Service Commission and secretary to the counsel of the commission.

New Commerce Deputy

Positions in the Commerce Department placed in the exempt class at the last meeting of the Civil Service Commission include: three instead of two deputy commissioners of commerce; director of the bureau of distribution; director of the bureau of aviation; director of the bureau of research and statistics.

Other new exempt positions are: four instead of three deputy industrial commissioners; confidential stenographer, State ABC Division; resident dentist in Mental Hygiene institutions; confidential investigator, department of State; deputy commissioner of taxation (formerly known as "director of administration and secretary of the State Tax Commission"); and five instead of four assistant counsels, Public Service Commission.

Non-Competitive Jobs

The roster of new non-competitive positions authorized by the civil service commission includes: part-time dentist, Wallkill Prison; part-time consultant and relief physician, Westfield State Farm; two legal research assistants, instead of "aids" in audit and control department; shoemaker in State prisons and reformatories; printing shop assistant foreman, Education department; two racing equipment

STATE CIVIL SERVICE BRIEFS

By THEODORE BECKER

Act on Time to Preserve Your Rights

IF YOU DECIDE to ask the courts to review and reverse a determination of a State official which you believe violates your rights under the Civil Service Law, you must bring your law suit within the period prescribed by law. If you delay the court may be unable to grant you the relief to which you may be entitled.

In the case of a removal or demotion which you believe improper, you have four months in which to sue. This time cannot be extended by an application to your appointing officer for reinstatement. Suit must be brought within four months after the determination of removal or demotion and not within four months after denial of the request for reinstatement.

Sued Too Late

This was the ruling of the New York County Supreme Court in a case involving the demotion of a State employee. The demotion took place October 1, 1943. The employee commenced negotiations for reinstatement which ended in a determination on November 29, 1944, not to reinstate. He sued in March, 1945. This, the court held, was too late, being more than four months after October 1, 1943.

Basis of Decision

The Court cited, with approval, the following ruling made in another case:

"It is held that the statute (statute of limitations, which fixes time within which suits must be commenced) must be deemed to run from the date when the first decisive ruling is made, and that the petitioner cannot, by the application or procuring its disapproval, extend the limitation imposed by statute. If that were permissible the statute could be extended indefinitely by repeated applications for reconsideration, and there would never be a 'final' and 'binding' determination. As the court points out, 'the right to maintain the proceeding was complete when the first application was made.'"

Accordingly, the employee's suit for reinstatement was dismissed.

(Kenny v. Maltbie)

Applicable to Other Situations

In order that official determinations can be relied upon as final, time limitations are set for seeking their review. There are several of these time limitations of importance to State employees.

If you have been found guilty on charges of incompetency or misconduct and the punishment imposed is dismissal from the service, demotion, or suspension without pay for a period exceeding ten days, you may appeal to the State Civil Service Commission or may apply to the courts. In the latter case you must bring your action within four months. If you decide to appeal to the Civil Service Commission you must file your appeal in writing within twenty (20) days after receiving written notice of the determination to be reviewed.

Classification and Service Record Rating Appeals

If your application for reclassification of your position has not been approved by the State Classification Board and you desire to appeal, you must make your appeal to the State Civil Service Commission within sixty (60) days after notice of the determination of the Classification Board.

If you receive notification of your service record rating and wish to appeal therefrom you must be given an opportunity to do so. But you must act promptly. Rule V of the Service Record Rating Rules provides:

"The personnel board and the agency head, sitting jointly shall allow the employees an opportunity to appeal within five days from such notification."

Reinstatement After Termination of Military Duty

Under the provisions of the New York State Military Law a public employee who has been on military leave must be reinstated to his position provided he makes application for such reinstatement within ninety (90) days after the termination of his military duty. If the employee does not apply for reinstatement within the ninety-day period he may, in the discretion of his appointing officer, be reinstated within one year after the termination of his military duty.

agencies and institutions.

Waive Reinstatement Rule

With the approval of the Governor, the Civil Service Commission also adopted resolutions waiving a commission rule which prohibits reinstatement of civil service employees who are separated from the service for more than one year.

The resolutions waiving this rule and permitting the reinstatement of employees named, affect Mrs. Florence Arnott, an attendant, Middletown State Hospital, and Allie Meyer, highway light maintenance foreman, Public Works Department. Both employees had left the service because of disability incurred in performance of duty.

Business Consultant Test Appeals Sustained for 2

ALBANY—J. Davis Romine, for the past year assistant director of State publicity in the State Commerce Department, and formerly provisional manager of the Syracuse office, and John Douglas Smith, for more than a year provisional regional manager of the Rochester office, have been notified that their appeals from ratings received in the senior business consultant's examinations of May 6, 1944, have been approved.

These are reportedly the only two appeals approved by the State Civil Service Commission for the senior business consultant's examination. Mr. Romine now becomes Number 12-A on the eligible list and Mr. Smith, a disabled veteran, becomes Number 1-A.

17 Passed Exam

A total of 17 passed the examination.

Ed Sorenson, of Troy, the only other disabled veteran on both the business consultant and senior business consultant lists, shares the number 1 position with Mr. Smith. Mr. Romine is listed as No. 12 on the business consultant list which shows 31 having passed.

There are reported to be many positions yet to be filled from the business consultants' lists and with the Department of Commerce opening new field offices in Poughkeepsie and Plattsburg, it is expected that they will be staffed with at least one man from each of the lists.

Business consultant posts pay $3,000 to $3,750 while senior consultant pays $3,900 to $4,900. Most of the seven senior consultants now on the department staff are reported getting in the neighborhood of $4,100 a year.

John L. Coughlin Resigns Post at Great Meadow

COMSTOCK, N. Y.—John L. Coughlin retired April 15, as Principal Keeper of Great Meadow Prison, after 25 years with the Dept. of Correction. At his retirement party more than 100 persons, consisting of the officers and their wives, attended a testimonial dinner at Glens Falls, N. Y., in honor of the retiring official.

Seated at the guest table were Mrs. Coughlin; Rev. Father Thomas J. Lenahan, Catholic Chaplain of Great Meadow; the Very Rev. Dean Daniel R. Burns, former chaplain, now pastor of St. Peter's Church, Saratoga Springs, Capt. William A. Cointot, who will succeed Mr. Coughlin as Principal Keeper; Frank B. Egan, President of the Great Meadow Chapter of Guard Personnel, and Mrs. Egan; Mr. L. M. Britt, President of State Civil Service Conference, and Mrs. Britt.

Father Lenahan was master of ceremonies, introducing the first speaker, Lt. Daniel McMann in charge of Great Meadow at night, who spoke of Mr. Coughlin's qualities as an executive. Mr. Walter students from Southampton, Amsterdam General and St. Catherine's Hospitals. . . . 87 student nurses attended the Army Nurse Exhibit in Manhattan. . . . Robert Kelly, recently discharged from the U. S. Army, has returned to the hospital. . . . Sgt. Barney McDonough writes from somewhere in India. . . . Michael Kingston is enjoying his annual vacation. . . . 37 student nurses attended the Florence Nightingale services at Holy Trinity Church. . . . Eugene McManus, R.N., has returned from sick leave. . . . The junior students acted as hostesses at a supper party which followed an address to all students and nurses by Capt. Marjorie Mirkin, 2nd Service Command, U. S. Army.

Doll, Supt. of Construction, brought laughter from the crowd by his story-telling. He related the co-operation and guidance he received from the Principal Keeper, which lightened the task of carrying out the work of his department. The principal speaker was the Very Rev. Dean Daniel R. Burns. Father Burns recalled highlights of Mr. Coughlin's career, dating back to his days with the State Police, and as a member of the armed forces of World War I. He stressed that the loss of his services will be greatly felt by the State and Dept. of Correction. A letter was read from Hon. John A. Lyons, Commissioner of Correction, regretting his inability to attend, praising Mr. Coughlin's abilities as an executive and emphasizing the regret with which his resignation was received. Another letter from Warden V. A. Morhous, stating that due to previous commitment he was unable to attend the dinner.

Capt. William A. Cointot wished Mr. and Mrs. Coughlin the greatest of health and success.

The presentation of a substantial purse on behalf of all employees was made by Mr. Egan, who spoke as the representative of the personnel offering to Mr. Cointot the support and cooperation of the officers seeking and wishing Mr. and Mrs. Coughlin many days of health and happiness which would automatically turn to many years, and thanking those who made the evening a pleasant success.

The dinner was arranged by the Great Meadow Chapter of Civil Service Conference, and State Civil Service Associations, with Mr. Egan as chairman.

Mr. Coughlin began his career 25 years ago at the institution at Napinook. After a few years he transferred to Elmira Reformatory, and upon the opening of Attica Prison was sent there to assist the late William Hunt, Warden, in opening the institution and assigning inmates to their tasks. He was assigned to Great Meadow in 1938, as Principal Keeper.

The evening was brought to a close by Fathers Burns and Lenahan bestowing their blessing on Mr. and Mrs. Coughlin.

Final Standing Mental Hygiene Bowling League

Well, boys and girls, here's the roundup-final standing of bowling teams in the Mental Hygiene League. Also, below is important news to all who like to heave the kegle. So read carefully.

Team	Won	Lost	%
Willard	40	14	.741
Binghamton	36	18	.667
Wassaic	35	19	.648
Rockland	34	20	.630
Hudson River ...	29	25	.537
Marcy	28	28	.467
Utica	28	28	.467
Harlem Valley ...	26	28	.467
St. Lawrence ...	15	39	.278
Rochester	0	54	.000

Team	Points
Hi-10-Binghamton ...	1096
Hi-30-Rockland	3190

Individual	Points
Hi-10-Barnes-(B)	286
Hi-30-Thurston-(H.V.)	722

This is the final report of the season. Several of the teams failed to submit reports the last few weeks so it was necessary to forfeit such games. In spite of the late start and difficulties incidental to operating a "mail order" league great interest has prevailed.

Nof For the Big Event

The play-off, meeting and dinner will be held Saturday, May 19th at the Menands Recreation Center, Menands, N. Y., which is a short distance from Albany. Registration scheduled for 1 o'clock, bowling starts promptly at 2 o'clock. At 4:30 p.m. business meeting, election of officers and formation of league for 1945-46. Dinner at 6 o'clock.

Business Meeting

Teams are urged to bring suggestions and resolutions prepared in advance so that the resolution committee may examine them before the meeting. Leo F. Curry wants a team in every institution next year. If you know a bowler in an institution not in the league, drop him a line urging him to come May 19th. Curry also seeks to help organize a girls' league for next year. Invite those interested to come to the meeting Saturday, May 19th.

Dinner

A special dinner has been arranged. The menu is tops and the location ideal. Music and a floor show following the dinner. Each team that is paid up will receive five dinner tickets without charge. Additional tickets will sell for $2.25. Bring friends. This promises to be the banner event of the year.

Mr. Gerhard (Gep) German, President of the American Bowling Congress, will be guest of honor and principal speaker. Mr. Les Buckley, member of the A.B.C. executive committee, will also be a guest of honor.

Write Now

It is essential that you write to Curry immediately as to the number of people from your institution who will be present. Curry's address is Marcy State Hospital, Marcy, N. Y. Extra alleys will be available for non-members who wish to bowl.

COMMISSION OK'S CHANGE IN PAY OF NURSE POST

After a public hearing last week, the NYC Civil Service Commission approved a change in the position of Assistant Director of Nursing Service in the Hospitals Department. The post was formerly listed as "$3,240 a year, with maintenance." Now it will pay $3,600, but the maintenance has been dropped. Dorothy Weddige has the job.

FOR CRYING OUT LOUD...

"Seems like they all ask for Ruppert"

• You're right. When a fellow wants a glass of beer with a lip-smacking flavor—he just naturally says "Make Mine Ruppert."

You see, Ruppert isn't just beer—it's the S-L-O-W AGED beer that's brewed on the principle that there's no substitute for time.

And, because Ruppert has such tremendous ageing facilities—the largest in the entire East—every drop of this mellow light brew comes to you S-L-O-W AGED and full-flavored.

No wonder so many people say "Make Mine Ruppert." You couldn't ask for better beer.

POLICE CALLS

A Former Cop on Okinawa Writes About His Interest in PBA Events

During an air raid on Okinawa, Private C. F. Sullivan (formerly Patrolman Charles F. Sullivan of the 22nd Pct.) took time out to write to POLICE CALLS and air his feelings on current events in the PBA. We present this letter as representing the views of the man who wrote it, not the views of this column. We'll be glad to run Harnedy's answer, or that of any other patrolman. Here's Sullivan's letter, word-for-word:

3 May 1945
Okinawa, Ryukyus Islands.

Dear Sirs:

Quite frequently my father sends clippings from the LEADER to me which have reference to P. D. matters.

Right now I have another gripe—this is about Harnedy and his failures.

As president of the PBA, Harnedy has proven beyond a shadow of a doubt that he missed his vocation. He should have been a ward-heeler—I retract that—at least a ward-heeler does something, or tries to do something, for his constituents. Harnedy sold the young men in the job down the river when he failed to do anything to prevent the increased pension bill from going thru. When he was challenged on this by a group of young men, his retort was "Well, what are you going to do about it?" He didn't have to worry. His pension was still 6 per cent—and he was getting paid a couple of thousand dollars as president of the PBA. He didn't know the trials of a rookie trying to get along on $1,320 for the first six months. He doesn't know what it is for a man to support a family and maintain a home on about $18 a week. But I know, because my probationary period was pretty tough and I was glad when I received my first raise. It made things a little easier.

"What Good"

It's about time the delegates started to speak up and ask him "What the hell good it did" to talk to a group of politicians who couldn't do anything. If a delegate spoke his mind, previously Harnedy's clique disposed of him. Few had the courage of their convictions because to lose out as a delegate meant giving up a 9-5 job or a radio car or operating a PS. And they couldn't see that.

Harnedy has his time in the job and it doesn't mean anything to him if the boys get something or not. His heart isn't in it when he sets out to do something because the outcome is inconsequential to him.

The man who should be president is one whose future lies ahead of him in the job. He'll do things because it means as much to him as it does to the other boys.

With the election coming on, it'll probably be the same old thing. And speaking of the election it's the most unfair type that any organization could probably have. And the most undemocratic as well. When a delegate votes; that vote is for 50 men—but his choice isn't necessarily that of the 50 men—and by virtue of that fact his vote is not truly representative of the men in his house.

The boys who are in the job, and currently serving overseas like to know what's going on in the job. It makes me kinda sore when I read Harnedy's poor excuses. When the men come home it would be well for Harnedy to be out of office because the boys are accustomed to direct action and it won't take us long to put the skids under Harnedy and his ilk. There'll be plenty of young men in the job and they'll have a pretty strong voice in any organization that is supposed to represent them.

No Politics?

For an organization that doesn't allow its members to dabble in local, State or Federal politics, it's surprising how much politics there is within the job. Perhaps this is where the frustrated politicians have a chance to prove their hidden abilities.

For my money, politics should be kept to a minimum. This may sound idealistic but I think that it could work. The president should have an expense account and no salary. His account should be checked periodically by a CPA. If a man is a cop at heart he'd be willing to take the job without pay and his reward would be the knowledge that he's helping to improve the lot of his brother officers. The officers shouldn't have a PBA salary, either. At an election in my house the officer who supervised it kicked because he had to come back the next day. And his sinecure was paying him about $500 a year! The delegates and officers get enough time off from the job to amply recompense them for any inconveniences which they might suffer.

I've got a couple of other gripes, but I'll hang onto them for a while.

How about airing this in Police Calls and seeing what the reaction is. I'm quite sure that my sentiments must be shared by others.

Please pardon my grammatical or other errors. There is an air-raid on and it's difficult to keep my train of thought from breaking. Yours in the job.

CHARLES F. SULLIVAN,
Shield No. 19510, 22nd Pct.

How NYC Figures Value of Maintenance For Workers in Municipal Institutions

The value of maintenance—room and board provided for NYC workers in municipal institutions—depends on what it's being valued for.

From the point of view of the pension system, the maintenance is considered as an additional fifty percent of the salary. For example, an employee earning $2,000 a year with maintenance, makes pension contributions on as basis of a $3,000 salary. Payment of pension contributions on the value of maintenance is not voluntary, but is required of all City employees receiving their maintenance as part of their salary.

For Tax Purposes

For tax purposes, the scale of value is different. City-provided maintenance is exempt from Federal taxation. According to U. S. Law, when maintenance is provided for the convenience of the employer, it is not taxable. However, for other purposes, the value is based as follows:

For hospital helpers, attendants, cooks, laboratory assistants, laundry workers, maintenance workers, and comparable positions, the maintenance is valued at $240 a year.

For nurses, head nurses, chief nurses, etc., the maintenance is valued at $360.

For superintendent of nurses, assistant superintendent of nurses, the value is set at $500 a year.

For medical superintendents, deputy medical superintendents, etc., whose maintenance includes the family of the official, the maintenance is figured as an additional fifty percent of salary.

Vets Can Get Aid from U. S. Civil Service

James E. Rossell, Regional Director for the U. S. Civil Service Commission, stated last week that his office is now placing veterans in the Federal service in New York and New Jersey at the rate of approximately 2,400 a month. These figures do not include veterans restored to their former position in the Federal service in accordance with the provisions of the Selective Training and Service Act.

The Civil Service official stated that the Veteran's Service Section in his office has recently been enlarged both as to space and personnel in order to give maximum service to veteran applicants with a minimum of delay. He added that in addition to the regular interviewers, Veterans Vocational Counselors are now available to advise veterans regarding opportunities in the Federal service. Mr. Rossell urged veterans interested in Federal employment to call at Room 216, Federal Building, Washington and Christopher Streets, New York 14, New York.

World War I Bonus Bonds Called June 15

The Administrator of Veterans' Affairs, Brig. Gen. Frank T. Hines, reminds veterans of the last war who hold 3 percent Adjusted Service Bonds of 1945, that the bonds will mature on June 15, 1945, and will not draw interest after that date. These were special $50 bonds issued by the Treasury Department to veterans in settlement of their Adjusted Service Certificates, commonly called "Bonus."

The bonds may be presented at any post office in the United States or to any Federal Reserve bank or branch, or to the Treasurer of the United States, Washington, D. C., after the requests for payment on the backs of the bonds have been properly executed.

It'll Be a Hot Time In UFA Election Contest

The Uniformed Firemen's Association election contest promises to be as "hot" as if Vincent Kane, were running. The strong charges hurled by presidential candidate John Crane, and the equally strong fight indicated by Harry Crews, another contender for the post, indicate plenty of fireworks in the offing.

With incumbents out of the race, it's become a free-for-all fight.

However, not all of the men listed here will be actual candidates for the post. Under the regulations of the UFA, any candidate may decline a nomination within ten days after the nominating meeting. (Until May 18, 1945.)

Chief interest, of course, is the fight for the presidency, which finds present vice-president John P. Crane battling Brooklyn Trustee Harry Crews for the top post. Dark-horse candidate in this race is Fireman James Fitzgerald. Crews has the full support of the Kane faction in the UFA.

With Vincent Kane out of the running, his present slate of officers, Treasurer Ed Hoysradt, Richmond Trustee John McManus, Financial Secretary Michael Collins and Bronx Trustee John Bonifer, stepped out of the race.

Nomination Highlights

Some highlights of the nominations pointed out by UFA members:

Last election Frank Mott and Anthony Trini ran together. This time they're opposing each other for the post of Financial-Recording Secretary. Mott is using the $2,000 Fire Department Insurance Fund as one of his campaign issues, charging that the Kane regime has amended the plan without the consent of the firemen. It was expected that John P.

Crane would have a complete ticket running with him, but he's announced that he, Reid and Purcell are running together and not presenting a complete slate.

However, the "Committee for the Preservation of the UFA" is expected to announce its list of endorsed candidates as soon as the declinations have been filed. This ticket will probably be headed by Crews.

The third candidate for the presidency, James G. Fitzgerald, hasn't been very active in UFA affairs. His nomination came as a surprise even to the other two candidates. He's from Queens.

Nominees

Here is the group of firemen nominated for top offices. Next week's LEADER will carry the lineup as it will appear on the ballots, after all the declinations have been received:

President

John P. Crane, 12 Truck; Harry W. Crews, 217 Eng.; James G. Fitzgerald, 52 Batt.

Vice-president

Wm. J. Reid, 11 Truck; Wm. A. Ryan, Eng. 213; Jerome V. Leonard, 287 Eng.; James V. Chambers, 37 Truck.

Financial and Recording Sec'y.

Salary and Hours of Work: The standard Federal workweek of 48 hours includes 8 hours of required overtime. The increase in compensation for overtime amounts on an annual basis to approximately 21 per cent. of the basic salary. Annual salary for this position is as follows: Basic Salary, $3,000; Overtime Pay, $563; Total Salary, $3,563.
All basic salaries are subject to a deduction of 5 per cent. for retirement purposes.

Duties:

Interviews claimants; furnishes general information as to benefits provided by law and assists claimants in executing the forms and supporting documents necessary to make claim for benefits; furnishes to claimants such specific information as is necessary on any particular issue in the case; explains to claimants the action taken by the Veterans Administration; ascertains and notes carefully the exact reasons for the claimant's dissatisfaction; secures from claimant all information bearing upon the injuries or diseases alleged to have been incurred or aggravated by military service; arranges for further consideration of the basis for claims if such course is indicated; assists in presenting cases before rating boards; contacts patients at discharge to learn if further assistance and advice is desired; makes field investigations; serves on temporary board, permanent boards, committees, and substitute member on Rating Board when so authorized; in cooperation with agencies directly responsible for the placement of the unemployed, assists veterans in securing employment; certifies regarding the existence of a service-connected disability; and maintains necessary working relationships with service and welfare organizations.

Minimum Qualifications:

Experience required for admission to examination:
Except for the substitution provided for below, applicants must have had at least three years of progressively responsible experience in any one or any combination of the types of experience listed below:
(1) Experience with an organization primarily engaged in dealing with the public giving counsel and assistance to individuals regarding personal, family, financial, employment, or legal problems.
(2) Experience as a teacher of vocational guidance or in a vocational guidance or placement service in a secondary school, college, or university, provided that it was a regularly designated responsibility, and not merely incidental to other assigned activities.
(3) Experience in the personnel office of a public or private organization which involved responsibility for the interviewing and placement of employees.
(4) Experience in the armed services in which a substantial part of the experience involved rendering aid to members of the armed forces in solving personal, family, or financial problem.
(5) Experience in an organization concerned with the administration of rehabilitation, placement, advancement, training, disability compensation or insurance programs for veterans which requires a knowledge of the policies, rules, and regulations governing such programs.
(6) Experience in government, business, or industry which involved responsible contact with the public.

Examples of non-qualifying experience:
1. Experience in a purely clerical capacity in any organization.
2. Experience as a credit investigator.
3. Experience as a door-to-door salesman.

Substitution of education for experience:

For each six months of the experience prescribed above, up to a maximum of two years of experience, applicants may substitute one full year of study successfully completed in a college or university of recognized standing.

Part time or unpaid experience:

Credit will be given for all valuable experience of the type required, regardless of whether compensation was received or whether the experience was gained in a part-time or full-time occupation. Such experience will be credited on the basis of time actually spent in appropriate activities.

NOTE: Persons entitled to veterans' preference should include in their experience statement the duties performed while serving in the armed forces.

Written test:

Competitors will be required to take a written test designed to test their general knowledge and attitude for learning and adjusting to the duties of the position. Ratings will be on a scale of 100. For eligibility, competitors granted 5-point military preference must attain a rating of at least 65, excluding preference credit, and competitors granted 10-point military preference, a rating of at least 60, excluding preference credit.

Oral examination:

Competitors who attain eligible ratings on the written test may be required to qualify in the oral examination. The oral examination is designed to determine the following qualifications which are essential in the successful performance of the duties of the position:

1. Ability to secure facts through observation, interview, and investigation without friction, and under difficult conditions.
2. Ability to gain cooperation and co-operate with others.
3. Initiative, resourcefulness, comprehension, self expression, presence, and other such observable personal characteristics.
Appointment will be known as War Service appointments.
How to Apply:
1. Applicants must file the forms and material listed below, all properly executed, with the Director, Second U. S. Civil Service Region, Federal Building, Christopher Street, New York 14, New York:
a. Application Form 57;
b. Card Form 4000-ABC;
c. Form 14 with the evidence it calls for, if applicants desire to claim preference because of military or naval service.

2. The necessary forms may be obtained from the Director, Second U. S. Civil Service Region, Federal Building, Christopher Street, New York 14, New York, or at any first- or second-class post office. This announcement immediately cancels and supersedes recruiting Circular 2R-94, for contact representative, issued July 20, 1944, and amendments thereto.

Read the job-listing below. When you have spotted the job for which your training or experience fits you, go to the office of the U. S. Civil Service Commission, 641 Washington St., New York City. You'll need a certificate of availability if you're now engaged in an essential occupation.

Surplus Property Will Require Large Staff

WASHINGTON—Transfer of Treasury Procurement Surplus Property Disposal facilities to the Department of Commerce may involve extensive staffing throughout the country with attendant job opportunities.

Meantime, RFC has hired 1,800 people in its regional offices to handle surplus property work, and by June 30 next year, it is expected the number outside of the Capital will reach 8,000. These are jobs in which sales experience is useful.

Summer Jobs

The Census Bureau seeks students and school teachers during the summer vacation to work on the agriculture census. High school graduates are preferred but experience is not necessary. Starting salaries for the 48-hour week: From $35 to $40 a week and chances for advancement. Project will last 9 to 20 months.

Surplus Property Board in Washington wants Grade 4 and 5 stenographers. They can apply at Room 2052, New Municipal Building, Washington, D. C. Civil Aeronautics Administration constantly needs girls as assistant airways and airport controllers. They are hired and trained regionally. Traffic controlling was closed to women before the war, but there are now 500 in the Washington Region alone.

War Department, Veterans Administration and U. S. Public Health Service are offering girls professional training in dietetics. They can enroll as student dietitian and advanced training on the job will enable them to become experienced dietitians. Applications can be filed with the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C.

Post-War Re-Employment Plan Is Proposed

The United Federal Workers of America last week proposed to the Civil Service Commission a re-employment plan for discharged U. S. workers. The proposal is to give government workers who have served faithfully during the war, and returning Veterans of World War absolute preference for jobs in expanding peacetime agencies during the reconversion period.

The plan proposes the setting up of reemployment registers of all furloughed or discharged Federal employees and World War II Veterans seeking Federal employment. It recommends a ban on all hiring by Federal agencies except from these registers during the reconversion period.

The aims of the plan are to give deserved preference for continued

Federal employment to employees who have served faithfully during the war and have gained valuable government experience. The union believes that adoption of such a plan would give assurance to war agency employees that they will have some protection once Federal reconversion begins, and will reduce the war agency turnover caused now by employees seeking permanent peacetime jobs.

Bill Would Allow Political Jobs To U.S. Employees

WASHINGTON—Restrictions on electoral activity of civil servants would be eased under a bill introduced in the House by Rep. Sasser, Democrat, of Maryland.

The measure would allow Federal employees to serve as election officials, despite the current law barring them from general political activity.

Incidentally, Supreme Court has tentatively granted the appeal of the United Federal Workers (CIO) for review of the three-judge Federal Court ruling validating the Hatch Act. The suit is directed against the Civil Service Commission and contends that the law, which prohibits political activity by Federal workers, deprives these workers of basic civil rights. A ruling was postponed on jurisdictional questions pending a hearing on merits of the suit.

The Sasser bill was referred to the Judiciary Committee for consideration. It provides that nothing in the current law "shall be construed to prevent or prohibit anyone employed in the executive, legislative or judicial branches of the Government from serving as judge or clerk of any election board which is serving in connection with a primary, special or general election."

terms as yet, as it is regarded as a continuing rather than a sudden or overnight program. Individual agencies will have to work out individual problems according to funds allotted to them and duties assigned.

Transfers

Government is making every effort to facilitate transfers of released workers. The Council of Personnel Administration has worked out a plan with Civil Service Commission that eliminates red tape and delay from transfers. Result is a speedier system to switch personnel from contracting agencies to those that are expanding.

Of course, due regard will be given to the personal qualifications of all workers released and rehired. Supervisors in every agency have been reminded that efficiency ratings given all employees are the most important ever given. They are the device by which the good and efficient war service appointees will be retained in Federal service.

How Who Gets Fired

Under the reduction in force regulations issued by the Civil Service Commission, a point system is to be used to determine who should be fired. To illustrate, 80 points is to be given for "good" ratings; 88 for "very good"; and 96 points for "excellent." Thus, an employee with a "good" rating would require 10 years of service to have retention preference over an employee with a "very good" record who has worked only a year. Since war service appointments have been made only during the last three and a half years, it is obvious that efficiency ratings will be the deciding factor in layoffs.

This layoff procedure exempts those with veterans preference. Any veteran who is rated "good" or better must be kept until the last in his group. Selective Service and the Training Act guarantees a returning veteran his old job for a year at least regardless of efficiency ratings.

HEARINGS CLOSE ON PREVAILING PAY CLAIMS

Hearings have closed on the prevailing wage claims of the following groups of skilled NYC employees, and they are waiting for new wage rates to be set by the Comptroller's Office. Then a payroll check will be made to determine how much they will receive in back pay.

Those affected, who should know in a few weeks where they stand, are: linemen, cable-testers, cable-splicers, marble setters and steam fitters' helpers.

ELECTRICIANS TAKE CITY INTO COURT

As predicted in the "NYC Civil Service News Briefs" column of THE LEADER two weeks ago, the electricians who are fighting with the City for a higher wage scale to meet the requirements of the State Labor Law, have shifted lawyers.

Harold Stern has taken over the litigation which was formerly handled by Leonard Wallenstein, Sr.

LEGAL NOTICE

ROUND TRIP COMPANY—Notice of substance of certificate of limited partnership subscribed and acknowledged by all partners. Filed in the New York County Clerk's Office on April 13th, 1945, on which date said partnership commenced and is to continue until all rights of the partnership in the play shall be terminated.

Name: Round Trip Company. Business: Producing and turning to account the play Round Trip. Location: 234 West 44th Street, New York City, New York. General partner: Clifford Hayman, 234 West 44th Street, New York City. Limited partners, their addresses and cash contributions: Renee Carroll, 234 West 44th Street, New York City, contributing $10,000.00; Samuel Berkowitz, 310 East 57th Street, New York City, contributing $5,000.00; Sidney M. Lids, Newport, Pennsylvania, contributing $20,000.00. Limited partners' contribution returnable in cash only after play opens in New York, and payment of or provision for $5,380.00; all cash in excess of said reserve payable monthly to limited partners including any additional limited partners hereinafter referred to, until their total contributions shall have been returned. Each limited partner shall receive that portion of such cash monthly excess of cash as the total of his contribution bears to the aggregate amount of all contributions made by all limited partners. Limited partners' contributions not theretofore returned are to be returned to them upon the termination of the partnership after payment or provision for payment of partnership liabilities. Limited partners shall receive the percentage of net profits for each dollar contributed as capital as follows: Renee Carroll 15%; Samuel Berkowitz 8%; and Sidney M. Lids 25%; remaining 52% of the net profits to general partner, Clifford Hayman; such payments to be made monthly. If partnership, after returning contributions to limited partners or distributing profits to limited partners and general partner becomes unable to pay all of its liabilities, then the limited partners and general partner shall be required to return all or a part of such contributions and/or profits in the manner set forth in the limited partnership agreement. Additional partners admissible, but share of profits payable only out of general partner's share. Substitute limited partners prohibited. No priority to any limited partner as to contributions or compensation. Partnership terminates on death, insanity or retirement of general partner. Unless agreed to in writing by all partners, no limited partner has the right to demand or receive property other than cash in return for his contribution.

Park Promotion Exam Is Ordered

The NYC Civil Service Commission last week ordered a promotion examination for the position of Supervisor of Recreation in the Parks Department. The Commission reported that there are two vacancies at present, and that the Budget Bureau had given permission to fill the posts. Commissioner Robert Moses of the Parks Department was notified that the subjects, weights and terms of the examination have not yet been approved.

Bungalow on Home Savings Plan
$40 Down, $8 a Month

Our Home Savings Plan is based on the fact that a good piece of ground is accepted by builders as practically the down payment on a home. Your $40 down and $8 a month pays for a 10-lot estate in short time. After your land is paid for and WPB restrictions are lifted, our builder will erect the home of your choice. When you take possession you may pay as little as $16 a month for only five years. After that, your bungalow and the half acre of ground are free and clear and there are no more payments.

For full details and FREE TRANSPORTATION to property Readers of This Newspaper Should MAIL COUPON or Phone CHickering 4-1408 or visit our FREE ACREAGE EXHIBIT in Suite 806, 500 5th AVENUE. Office open 9 A.M. to 9 P.M. — Sundays until 6 P.M.
