PRESIDENT'S BIRTHDAY BALL JANUARY 30, 1937

DANCE SO SOME CHILD MAY WALK OFF WITH THE PRIZE

SPOOKS IN 320

"The Ghost in the Garret", a play written by Don Foucault is to be given in one of 320's home room periods. The cast of this thriller is listed below. The lead has been assigned to Miriam Boice in the part of Mrs. Brown; "Si", a boarder in her boarding house, has been taken by Taylor Lewis. Richard Gundel will take the part of John. Tom will be played by Robert Eckel, and Robert, by Joseph Jarvis.

DEATH NOTICE

President John Poole of 320 announces that one of the pet guinea pigs of 320 died in the early part of the week. He is survived by a brother guinea pig who lodged in the same cage.

BARGAIN HUNTERS

President Russell Jones of 121 stated that a committee to select a radio had been chosen. The committee consists of Donner Atwood and Robert Bingham.

121 also has sent away for a play, under the title of "The White Phantom." This play will be given in assembly in the first week of March. As soon as it arrives work will commence immediately.

RINGLEADER GOES STRAIGHT

Jean Heavenor has taken over the directing and completing the script

MISS HAYES TO GIVE TRAVEL TALK

On March 24, Miss Hayes will give a lecture on her trip to Hawaii. Miss Hayes will display some interesting object she brought back from Honolulu this summer. At present these objects are on display in the library. The lecture is entitled "Hawaii, Our Western Gateway!" The lecture will be given in a joint assembly.

THE PERFECT COUPLE

To the tune of a beautiful waltz Charles Meinhold and Gretchen Phillips gracefully danced to win the elimination dance held during the Dancing Club period.

FREE AIR SHOW

The Stamp Club after hearing a speech by Robert Natell upon the subject of speculation, went to the window to watch an air show staged by the Airplane Club. The Airplane Club members were flying airplanes, unsuspecting they had an audience.

PRESIDENTS' ATTENTION!

Perhaps your home-room has elected a home-room reporter for the Crimson and White but hasn't told the paper who it is. If that is the case, just write the name of your reporter and the number of your homeroom on a piece of paper and drop it into the Crimson and White drawer.

GETTIN' BETTER

Whether it was the editorials printed in the Crimson and White that attracted the students' attention to school spirit or not, we do not know. There has, however, been a marked change in spirit at our basketball games. This change is indeed pleasing, and we are happy to say that our spirit is improving. All we have to say is, "Keep up the good work."

DID YOU KNOW?

That the library has a seating capacity of 72 people?

That Sanford Golden of homeroom 130 played his accordion and Lois Ambler of the same room sang and Walter Griggs of 320 was an end man all in the same Minstrel show?

That it is rumored that Martin Edwards has a slight affection for Shirley Baldwin and they were seen going to the movies together?

That it has been said that Ellen Willback has a slight crush on George Perkins.

CORRECTION

Due to the fact that there were several mistakes in this article when it appeared in the Crimson and White we have decided to reprint it. The mistakes were made by both the Crimson and White and White students. If in any way we have bruised the feelings of anyone we are very sorry. ----

Endurance Test

Naturally at the first of the year people who hope for a better year than the one just gone make such resolutions as these Jr. High boys and girls.

Mrs. Anna Randolph Keim Barsam was born in Kansas City, Missouri, and was brought up in New York City. At the age of eleven she went to Virginia and graduated from Fredericks University in Virginia. Later she did graduate work at Columbia University. She studied a year abroad, 1927-28, and has been abroad two other times. She spent last summer in Central America. "I have spent all my life in school except for the first six years and have loved it," said Mrs. Barsam.

NEW CLUBS

At the end of this semester you will be able to change to a different club if you want to. If you do not like your present club, you may change to one you like better.

The clubs always welcome new members who are cooperative. If you go to a new club just because you want to have a change and you are not active, you had better not bother to change. Try to get in a club you will enjoy and the people will enjoy having you as a new member.

NEW BOOKS IN THE LIBRARY

Carol Brink's "Caddie Woodlawn", "Anything Can Happen on the River" and Patience Abbee's "Around the World in Eleven Years", Emily Dickenson's "Poems For Youth", Jeanette Eaton's "Betsy's Napoleon", Cornelia Meigs' "The Covered Bridge", and Marjorie Fischer's "Palace on Monday", are all the new books for the Junior High School in the Mill Library, announced Miss Eaton this week.

Although most of the resolutions consisted of "my resolution is not to make any resolutions" or "my resolution is not to tell the Crimson and White mine", finally we scraped up a few. Edward Sternfeld heads the list by saying,

"I resolve not to talk or make any disturbances in class, in the meantime paying strict attention to the teacher".

"I resolve not to obey my first resolution.

Henry Dutton also has a resolution to help his teacher:

"I promise to be better in school and pay strict attention to the math teacher. At home I resolve not to get in the cookie jar."

John Fink is helping himself out with his promise to pass all tests. That also goes for Dexter Simpson.

Correction (continued from 2nd page)

Donald Sommers has resolved not to go to movies on school nights. Walter Fredenburgh is going to awaken not later than 7:30 A. M. Bob Silverstein isn't going to use slang any more. You will not find Geogre Perkins riding his bicycle in the street. Charles Kosbob is loyal to Milne by resolving to go to all the home basketball games. Corrinne Edwards shall not go out twice in succession with the same boy.

ALL ABOUT MILNE

Amo, Amas
I loved a lass
For she was tall and slender
Amo, Amat
My heart went pat!
For she was a feminine gender!

This poem was floating around the 9A Latin class. I wonder who its sponsor is. She is quite a Latin student.

script of "The Good-nite Kiss Robber", stated George Perkins, president of 224. Due to the absence of Fred Detwiler, ex-director and writer of the love mad epic, he felt he could not finish it. Although there was no club meeting on the usual meeting day, a vote was taken to decide who would be 224's new student council representative.. Finally after a close election, Margaret Hoedecker came out on top of Katherine Shaw and Margaret Keck. Congratulations!

SEVENTEEN AMBITIOUS GIRLS

Mrs Barsam wishes to congratulate the following girls who have made the sails for the boys' sail-boats in Mrs. Barsam's class during their free time outside of their sewing classes. Shirley Smith, Elaine Becker, and Betty Miller have spent much time working on the sails. Marion Soule, Nancy Hockstrasser, Marianne Adams, Elaine Drooz, Leah Einstein, Joan Harting, Marilyn Tincher, Ruth Van Gassbeck, Edna Corbin, Marjorie Gade, Sally Lavine, Beatrice Raab, Jane Ryan and Mary Swartz helped with the work. They are all members of the eighth grade. "They have done them very quickly", said Mrs. Barsam.
