In June of this year, the Alumni Association of the College will award the third in a series of fellowships provided for by a fund established in recognition of the fiftieth year of service on the faculty of Dr. Albert N. Husted. The award amounts to $500.

Candidates for the fellowship must have earned a bachelor's degree at the College and have been in residence for at least two years at the College. Further, they must have demonstrated superior scholarship, character, personality, and interest in teaching.

Graduates who are interested in applying for the Husted fellowship may obtain blanks by writing Mrs. Bertha Brimmer, Secretary of the Alumni Association, Alumni Office, State College, Albany, N. Y. Applications for the 1953 award will be accepted until April 15.

Prospective Men Teachers Rank Lowest On Deferment Exams

Last week disturbing evidence came to light to uphold the thesis that superior high school graduates shy away from teaching. This is the opening paragraph of an article by Benjamin Fine in the Educational Review of Sunday's New York Times.

The armed services asked the College Entrance Examination Board to administer draft deferment tests to young men in college, of military age. In 1951-52, the bureau gave more than 400,000 tests as part of its Selective Service College Test program. Those who went below a certain mark might lose their claim for exemption. Half of the test was verbal and the other half was quantitative, calling for arithmetic reasoning. Analysis revealed startling results. Men training to be teachers did the poorest of any group. Among the students in each year of study, the proportion of those in the education category who passed the test is less than one-half of the engineering category, which was the highest. In the educational classification, secondary educators ranked the highest, the physical and health education category was the lowest, while elementary students had the poorest percentage that passed the test.

Dr. Roscoe L. West, president of New Jersey State Teachers College at Trenton says: "We must bear in mind that the report covers a nationwide field and that Midwestern and Western colleges are not as selective as those in the East. . . . In many colleges . . . almost anyone with a high school education is acceptable."

"The country must have selective admissions, better conditions for teachers and higher salaries." The report of the Educational Testing Service confirms the findings of earlier studies that colleges of teacher education are not attracting male students who can score as high on tests of a "verbal" or "quantitative" nature as students in the liberal arts or professional fields. . . . states Dr. William F. Russell, president of Teachers College at Columbia.

"It is hoped that the colleges of teacher education will intensify their present campaign for improved work and increased support for better economic conditions for the teacher. . . ." says Dr. Russell.

Test Scandal . . .

What's an examination for? To coerce students into learning the material of the course. To provide grounds for failing the student or passing him, as the case may be? To be used to test, as thoroughly as possible, and for the student's own benefit, the extent of his achievement in and mastery of the course? Probably, tests have been administered at one time or another for all of the above reasons. Probably, also, the student is unusual who can think of an exam as in any way beneficial to him. Apparently, during the last examination period there were some (and we use the term in the vaguest of connotations) members of Student Association who looked upon the tests as an obstacle which might prevent their gaining so many hours easy credit, an obstacle to be overcome by any means at hand. We refer, of course, to the present "Exam Scandal" which, since the start of examinations has been battered to and fro in offices, classrooms, and dormitories, with seemingly ever-increasing momentum. The selling of examinations is not new. It went on last year and the year before, and probably for many years before that. However, with the present student attitude, either rumors are flying far thicker and farther than ever before, or the buying of exams prior to their administration is far more extensive than it has ever been. The situation as it now stands is too intangible for anyone to know where he stands. The faculty knows about it, the administration knows about it, the student body knows about it. Any one or all of these groups could take action.

We need not sermonize the matter. We hope we need not stress the fact that such a practice is a discredit to the students of any type of institution of higher learning. Let us just examine a few results. The tests were stolen, then sold and resold, thus initiating the chain reaction which has led many to proclaim that they will "protect the innocent." By "the innocent" it is not meant that they did not indulge in buying, but rather that their buying was motivated more by fear of the consequences of not buying, than by actual dishonesty. They were approached with "everyone else in the class has the test. You'd be a sucker to take it blind." The tragedy of those who fell for this is that everyone in the class did not have the test and that there were those who resisted the opportunity and relied on that old fashioned method of studying.

The major obstacle to investigation from any source is this "protection of the innocent." In the first place, who is to draw the line between the "guilty" and the "innocent"? Who is to say who bought an exam with the intention of passing a course dishonestly and who bought one out of fear of the curve. In neither case can the practice be condoned, but there does appear to be a distinction, if honesty can be so qualified. We can only hope that some of these individuals will now feel free to volunteer information—to the News, to the faculty, to the administrator, to anyone whom you feel will use the information to your advantage. Can something be done about the examination scandal? We think so, but nothing will ever be accomplished as long as information exists only in the realm of rumor. Perhaps the scandal is not as widespread as rumor would have it. Again, nothing can be proven by speculation. Only those who know and are willing to help can give the concrete information necessary to prevent the recurrence of such a thing.

The present situation is just one more case in which concerted action is needed, action which we feel should come from the student body. The Administration and the faculty might use their power to enforce punishment, but only you, SA, can influence the attitude of your fellow members toward the situation and bring about the desire for ethical conduct benefitting students of college calibre, and a refusal to tolerate the recurrence of the exam stealing, selling, passing, or buying, regardless of who is involved. All you are doing by protecting those involved in this present situation is giving them the impression that if they can get away with it you can't care. By your silence, you give approval and support to their practices. We don't think NYSCT has that sort of a student body.

Good Government???

By JOE LOMBARDI

In our last business assembly the Student Association discussed the dilemma facing the student government, specifically, whether to completely revise it with a representative form or to patch up the present type. During the course of the discussion someone remarked something to the effect "well what is wrong with our present form of student government?" That was my cue, and again I'm taking this opportunity to tee off.

Our present form of government is composed of three branches, the legislative, executive, and the judiciary. All legislative power is said to be vested in the assembly of the students. Here lies my first objection. Page Hall auditorium seats exactly 998 students. Our present enrollment minus those Seniors who teach in Milne during the assembly period is approximately 1350. This means that already 350 students or one quarter of the student body are deprived of their part in the legislative process because of lack of room. Bear in mind that our enrollment is increasing (about 475 freshmen expected in September) and before we know it, half of the student body will be legislating for the whole student body. The school is growing, and the present form of government offers no room for expansion. Objection number two. What legislative body can be efficiently and intelligently run when it is attended by some nine hundred students, many of whom are disinterested and don't want to be there. Does this add up to "good government?"

Let's look at the executive branch next. According to the present constitution, the executive power is vested in the President of SA and the Student Council. The President can properly be called an executive since he is elected by the entire Student Association but is the Student Council that represents the student's opinion? First of all they are elected on a class basis and are supposed to represent the classes at Council meetings, yet how many of them go to the class meetings and discuss the issues confronting Council before they vote on them. Student Council has completely lost its representative character and has evolved into an "august" body of individuals who vote as they feel, and not as the class wishes. To bear out this point allow me to cite this instance. Last year a motion was brought before Student Council to replace Big 4's with an All College production. It was defeated by Student Council 16 to one, then taken to the Assembly and passed by a vote of roughly three to two. Student Council then acted in an unrepresentative manner and again passed a motion 16 to one to reconsider the decision of the Assembly. If the Student Council was truly representing the opinion of the students, such a motion would never have been introduced. All this citation does is to prove that the Student Council did not, nor does it represent the student body. Is this a characteristic of good government?

Common-States

By J. KORBA & R. HUGHES

"It were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and he cast into the sea." —New Testament
Since we have been writing this column we have always tried to make our criticisms and remarks honest and straightforward in order to correct certain abuses which we thought needed correction. Sometimes our logic and ideas were rather vague and unground in fact, but for the most part we think we have been reasonable in our statements.

A week ago we discovered something that made all our previous complaints and criticisms seems petty and insignificant. From what we were able to piece together from vague rumors, and from what we have observed ourselves, we have discovered that there are among us, certain individuals who think they can cheat their way through this institution by obtaining final examinations before they are given. We do not know who these people are, but whoever they may be we think that they should be removed from this college. The hard-working and conscientious students should be protected from this inconsiderate rubbish who go to such extremes to pass certain courses. We will not go into a long discussion of this issue because we think that everyone fully understands the implications which are involved. All we want to say is that SOMETHING SHOULD BE DONE, IMMEDIATELY—whether by students, or faculty, or both.

BOOKS, BOOKS, BOOKS
The book exchange is now in operation and its headquarters is in lower Husted. This exchange is open to all students who wish to use it, and all book sale notices should be filed there. Also, a word about the Sorority-Fraternity bulletin board—it's not for "Classified Ads." If you want to sell a book, go to the book exchange—all notices posted on the Sorority-Fraternity board will be promptly torn down and you will have the wasted time and paper to no avail.
MORE BOOKS
The Co-op has finally hit upon a fool proof system to get books distributed without too much confusion—all you have to do is submit to a lie detector test upon entering and leaving. The Co-op hasn't lost any books, but a few of the student's books have disappeared from the check-room set up in the hall for personal belongings. We aren't complaining about the system—we'll just be glad when it's over.
WHY ECA?
Last year Student Council decided that the ECA Conference was not beneficial to the student body as a whole, and discontinued the policy of sending delegates to the conference. Now we are being asked to appropriate money to send delegates for this year—why? We think that the conference is good experience for those who attend as delegates, but no return in ideas, etc.—is ever realized by the student body in general. Therefore, we are against this appropriation until we can see conclusive proof that our money is being spent to good advantage. When a vote is taken in assembly, be sure you know all the facts involved before you reinstate ECA.
PROGRESS
We hope that the All College Revue will soon be beginning to take shape, and that when the call goes out for assistance, it will be there. Word is out that we have a script and that now the call is for a director—if you feel that you can tackle this job don't hesitate to inform the Committee of your desire.
HERE AND THERE
The Teacher Placement Bureau policy of inducing people to hand in their folders has taken quite a toll among the Seniors. We heard of quite a few who haven't registered yet keep peeking at the typewriter '53, you'll get there. We could hardly believe our eyes when the postman came on Monday morning marks arriving before the new semester started. The administration deserves a 21 gun salute for this outstanding accomplishment. . . . How about putting some new bulbs in the burnt-out lamps at Brubacher. You switch on the lights and nothing happens. After careful examination the question of the year for '52 has been selected—"Where are the PED Supplements?"
QUESTION OF THE WEEK
Did you raise the curve?

Red Cross Lists New Courses

Red Cross will meet Tuesday evening at 7 p. m. to provide an opportunity for all persons interested to sign up for courses which may be offered soon, announces Marie DeSeve '53, Chairman of the college Red Cross Chapter.
Four courses may be offered. They include Standard and Advanced First Aid; Grey Ladies, whose work is entertaining hospital patients; Swimming, including senior life saving and instructor classes; and a Brides Course. The Brides Course is scheduled to begin next week. Possibly a beginner's and an Intermediate swimming classes will also be held if enough applicants sign up.
Anyone wishing to donate blood may do so by reporting to the Bend Laboratory any Tuesday morning, Miss DeSeve also announces. Anyone who gives blood should notify Miss DeSeve.

Plans For College Extension

Harold O. Fullerton, Architect carried into construction.
Above is an architectural drawing of the planned extension of Richardson and Page Halls (on the far right) which will be financed through a line appropriation in the Governor's Budget which was released a week ago yesterday. Pending approval of the Legislature, it is hoped that the building will be ready for occupancy by September, 1954 or 1955. When completed, the extension, which will include an addition to the College powerhouse, will connect the two present buildings and present a continuous front to the sidewalk on Washington Avenue from the Milne School to the driveway next to Draper Extension. Financing of new buildings has usually come through the capital construction program of the University, however, the Governor's Budget, if approved, will allocate over a million dollars to this college for the specific purpose of constructing the connection between the buildings.
To Extend Page Stage
It is planned that the basement and first floor will house the heat-

Orientation Class Will Welcome New Freshmen

The students of the Social Skills Orientation Class, conducted by Dean Ellen C. Stokes, plan to entertain the mid-year freshmen at a tea to be held at Brubacher on a Monday afternoon in the near future. Sam Krchniak and Betty Gundrum, co-supervisors of the affair, announced the following committees had been organized. They are Invitations, Shirley Algure, Jean Sitterly, and Eleanor Norberg; Decorations, Marcia Dalbec, Richard Vanslette, and William Behunk; Host-Hostess, Arline Gingold, Mary Breslin, Joan Mooney, Maribelle Barrows, and Richard Vanslette; Refreshment, Gail Bush, Marcia Dalbec, and Arnold Newman; Clean-up, Arnold Newman, Richard Gorman, and Arthur Weaver.
The third floor of the proposed extension will house five additional offices, one classroom, a music library, an instrument and sixty storage area and music room fifty for a one-foot wide riser. The facilities of the third floor will, therefore, be mainly for the use of the music department and musical organizations of the College.
If this line of the budget secures legislative approval, it is possible that bids can be let this summer and construction begun before the next budgetary year, however no definite plans are available for the beginning of the excavation for the addition. While any action awaits the approval of the legislature, the Arts Council has advised that the budget, due to come up for consideration this week, is expected to be passed.

Co-op Alters Purchase System

During the present rush on books and supplies, the Co-Op has altered its purchasing procedure slightly in an effort to better serve the student body. Students are asked to leave their books and other parcels out-side of the bookstore on the tables provided. An extra cash register has been put into operation in order to keep lines moving more quickly. With each purchase the student will receive a receipt which he is urged to keep since no exchanges will be made unless the receipt accompanies the returned merchandise.

Regents Council Suggests Change

At a meeting of the Regents Advisory Council on the Readjustment of High School Education last Tuesday, a report and recommendations were made concerning the reason for students' dropping out of high school.

Results of the survey show the main reasons 44 per cent of high school students drop out is retardation and low intelligence. These causes were reported by 77 per cent of the high schools canvassed.

Recommendations were: comprehensive guidance programs that would adapt teaching to the differences in individual ability and a change in the curriculum that would reflect the socio-economic changes in the world.

Students also succumbed to tension, discipline and other unhappy experiences besides other reasons such as: the lure of a job, attitude of parents, dislike of school, social maladjustment and broken homes.

Students across the nation were asked: "Do you think the Korean war will be over within six months?" Five percent of those asked replied "yes," 82 percent replied "no," 10 percent had no opinion and three persons had other opinions.

Students were also asked: "How peaceful settlement of differences do you feel about chances for a between Russia and the United States?" Only three percent thought the chances were good, 27 percent thought the chances were fair, 54 percent thought the chances were poor, 12 percent thought there was no chance, and four percent had no opinion.

Monday evening, Dr. Charles F. Stokes, Professor of Music, addressed the Organists Guild Training Class on the topic, "String Instruments." Dr. Stokes spoke to the Albany High Vocational Guidance meeting Tuesday on "Music as a Vocation."

USAF Requests Grad Applicants Entering Students To Submit Forms

Mid-term college graduates who completed degree requirements in January may apply for immediate direct commissions in the U. S. Air Force Reserve and assignment to basic meteorology graduate training in June, according to an announcement made by Major General W. O. Senter, Commanding General of the USAF Air Weather Service.

Qualified graduates, who must have received credit for one year of college physics and mathematics through integral calculus, will receive complete application forms by writing to the Commanding General, Air Weather Service, Washington 25, D. C. College seniors, who will graduate in June with required physics and mathematics credit may also apply at this time for commissions to be awarded following graduation.

Weather officers in the Air Force may progress to the rank of full colonel. During the graduate training, all tuition and other expenses are paid by the government.

Poll Reveals Student Pessimism Concerning Prospects For Peace

Recently, the Associated Collegiate Press has taken a national poll of student opinion about the chances for peace. The majority of students were pessimistic. College students have little hope of either a speedy end to the Korean war or of peace between Russia and the United States.

Those who feel there is still a chance for peace, tend to pin their hopes on: A revolution in the Soviet Union and its satellites; Soviet fear of Western power; U. S. "patience and diplomacy;" and Eisenhower.

A coed at Trinity College, D. C., sums up the feeling of many students when, having granted there's a chance for peace, adds, "But it will take a miracle."

The Albany newspapers ran an obscure tid-bit of news the other day, that was lost somewhere on some back page. Its obscurity in the paper in no way lessened the impact that it will have on State College as an institution, and on us, and on future student bodies of this college. In essence the item said that the request for an athletic building for State College has been turned down for the present, and will probably not be brought up again for a couple of years.

Assuming that the great God State acts at its typical sloth-like speed, it will probably be four or five years before the legislators start talking about the request again. We're beginning to think that if an active, interested student body gave the problem of facilities as much, and as careful consideration as was afforded the football question, some definite progress would be made.

Had a visit from a former sports editor of the State College News, Ensign Harvey Milk, who during his stay here at State, achieved the distinction of becoming a very colorful figure. His career has been not in the spending two years away from college were that State supplied an excellent background for his schooling in the service, that although he no longer is keenly interested in student activities he is happy to see that college life hasn't undergone any great changes.

Last weekend two names were conspicuously absent from the State box scores in the Ults with Oneonta and Utica. To answer any and all questions as to the reasons for this absence...

State Tops Darrow In Wrestling Meet The State matmen came through with their first victory of the season Saturday, January 24, against Darrow Prep. The State "growlers" had six individual victories for a team total of 24 points, while Darrow had three winners for a 13 point total.

Coach Joe Garcia said that he was quite pleased with the team as a whole, as all the boys looked very good. Mr. Garcia was especially pleased with the first year men, Frank Prindle and Tom Fagan looked like top-notch performers as respectively, Ray Negus, Hank Feurback, and Phil Billings turned in very creditable performances. This year's captain, Bob Dreher, lost a tough bout to Bill Miller, Darrow's top grappler.

Barbash Miller 5 pts. Hochmuth Doug Campbell 5 * 5 points are awarded for a pin, and 3 points for a decision.

Tonight, State will tangle with the Troy YMCA in a match at the Milne gym. The meet will get under way at 7:30 p.m.

Wednesday night in the IM Leagues only two games were played as the Rousers forfeited to Summit House in the C League, League A, Sigma Lambda, Sigma walloped the Potterlilles, 54-26, as Gus Berleth went wild with 23 points. Rod Hillsinger and Red Miller chipped in with 13 and 12 respectively while Don Canonica hooped 8 for the losers, LCFBP or the B League squeezed out a 43-37 decision over the River Rats but Rutley, Wander, and Hauser netting 10, 9, and 8 points respectively. Big Fran Streeter led the River Rats with 12 points.

Grads, Indians Look Good IM play at the end of last semester saw the Grads of the C League move closer to first place as they rolled over Kappa Beta and the Rousers. They trounced the Rousers 64-19 as Sausville netted 22 points and Wakin 17. The Grads had four men in double digits as they blasted KP 56-23.

The Indians have been hot in the A League, beating the Potterlilles and Sayles A. Led by Bob Strauber with 17 points and with their starting five in double figures, the Indians clobbered the Potterlilles, 61-26. Don Canonica hooped 12 for the losers. Ben Burton's 14 points paced the Indians to a 40-26 victory over Sayles A. While Bob Smith hooped 12 in a losing cause. Also in the B League, lanky Dick Kirch hit 30 points as the Raiders rolled over the Unbeatable 5, 63-25.

Rodgers Faces Vanderzee The B League, Vanderzee played two close games, beating the Finks 33-24, and dropping one to the White Eaglesby 38-33. Against the Finks, Fran Rodgers sparked Vanderzee with 12 points, while Frank Faye also had 12 for the losers. Rodgers again led Vanderzee with 12 points in their losing effort against the potent White Eagles with 11. Also in the B League, the Finks gained a point in the standings as the River Rats forfeited to them.

According to JV mentor John McCormack, the starting lineup will be chosen from DeMichelli, Combs, Horowitz, Sage, Cline and Smith.

Tonight's game against St. Bridget's CYO of Waterford has been postponed until February 21 because of Club 56.

Last weekend the JV's won two on the road defeating the junior varsity of both Oneonta State and Utica College. On Friday they downed Oneonta 73-54 and Saturday they continued their winning ways defeating Utica College team 60-49.

State's greatest margin in the Utica game was 18 points at the half when the score stood 36-18. After that they coasted the rest of the way, winning by 17 points.

WAA didn't waste any time getting started on a new term with basketball intramurals. The first day of this semester saw four games scheduled.

Newman gets created with a win because of a forfeit on AE Phi's part. Beta Zeta and Phi Delta's "Atleds" (backwards, that's "Delts," you know) vied for honors in the second contest. BZ held the "Atleds" easily, thanks to better individual athletes and really great team work and passing excellence that isn't always present on State College courts. By the beginning of the third quarter, the team was handling the ball with that smooth ease that makes most BZ games a pleasure to watch. The score was 15-4 in BZ's favor.

Chi Sigma Theta faced Brubacher for the third contest, a slow moving one, in spite of the close score: 21-18 for Chi Sig. The one really bright spot in this game was the cheering of Prantlis and Sinclair from the sidelines.

The KD team (or should we say, the Pearson-Richter team?) walked over Gamma Kap and ended with a score of 22-6.

It was interesting to compare the styles of the two reputedly "good" teams that played Tuesday night: KD and BZ. BZ has a lot of good athletes playing for them. Marge Liddell, Angie Kavanaugh, and Barb Devitt, to name a few, all know their way around a basketball court. However, none of them seems to stand out particularly in the game; they all seem to subordinate themselves for the team. On the other hand, the KD team seems to subordinate itself to the Pearson-Richter combination whose set shots are amazingly accurate.

Donna Hughes makes a plea for all swimmers at the Jewish Community Center to turn in the white cards at the desk, and not to take them home. If anyone now has these white cards in his possession, please give them to Donna.

No change was brought about by the A League Intramural Bowling competition in the Rice Bowling Alleys on last Tuesday afternoon. In the initial match the APA quintet drew a forfeit from the Kappa Beta five, but it was not quite enough to boost them back into the top spot, which they were knocked out of not long ago by the up and coming Vanderzee team. The Vanderzee five was bowled over by the Thurlow outfit on Tuesday. The Rousers drew a bye. Little Joe Duran rolled the high triple for the week with a 492 for Vanderzee. Thurlow Hall's Ben Tucker had the high single of the day as he rolled a 194.

With the playoffs coming up in the middle of March, we would like to make a prediction, even though we may be climbing out on a limb. In our opinion Vanderzee, APA, and Thurlow Hall will certainly be among the contenders of League A, but while it seems that only these three are in the running for the top spot in the League, SLS and the Computers are fighting it out for the honors in B League while the Misfits may be considered as a long shot.

VanDerzee Five Lay-Off Fatal Maintains Lead As State Bows Over Weekend

Statesmen will be at home to a good New Haven quintet Saturday night in Page Hall. This is the same squad that broke an early season win streak established by the Peds when they came out on top in a 60-59 squeaker on their own court. The Purple and Gold will be out to rack up an impressive victory tomorrow night.

After a two-week lay-off for examinations, the Statesmen took to the road for two big games over the weekend, in Oneonta on Friday, and then Utica Saturday night. As a result they look to be on the chin twice and made their record for the season 6 wins against 5 losses. A little man named McCarthy and a big man named Green combined their efforts to do the most damage for Oneonta. They contributed more than half of their team's 74 points, State netted 61 for the night. The long lay off and the long trip really took their toll, as Oneonta continuously connected on the fast-break combination to pile up an advantage. State trailed all the way and with about five minutes to go, lost the gap to four points, but that was it for the night as Oneonta was not to be denied a victory. McCarthy and Green had 19 points each.

It took the Utica Pioneers and Rudy Valenzi a five-minute overtime period before they could finish off the game Statesmen aggregation. After trailing all the way, except for two brief moments, State knotted the score at 62-all as the final buzzer sounded. In the overtime period, Utica again grabbed a quick lead and maintained it until the end, the final score being 78-74. Valenzi led his squad with 21 points.

McDonald High For Weekend Gerry McDonald furnished the bulk of the scoring punch both nights for State as he sank 16 pointers against Oneonta and finished off the weekend with a flashy 22-point production against Utica. Mac has been showing promising signs all year in practice, but this is the first time that he has been able to really get going in actual competition.

Captain Bob Taber has accounted for the most total points for the season with 121, but Bill Walker still maintains the lead in average points scored per game with 12, since he has been in fewer games.

Gibson Offers Instructor Course

There are still openings available in the year course of Driver Education for those students who already have obtained their driver's license and who wish to become driver training instructors, reports Thomas Gibson, Professor of Health. Students wishing to be instructors must be licensed drivers for at least two years. This first semester of the course has a curriculum of materials and methods in driving. The second semester, consisting of practice teaching, will be given next year.

The two classes for beginners and instructors are already filled, Gibson advises.

The beginning course does not carry any credit hours. The course for instructors carries two hours credit.

The purpose of the courses in Driver Education is to prepare teachers in both classroom and behind-the-wheel phases of driving, states Gibson.

Porring Over The Exchange

Classified ad in the Daily Northwestern: "Lost Beta pin. Last seen on a west-bound Alpha Chi. Finder may keep pin, please return girl."

A headline in the Daily Nebraskan must have temporarily aroused the interest of many readers. It said, "Swindler Statement Published." The story went on to say, "Dr. William F. Swindler, Director of the School of Journalism, was cited in the Dec. 6 issue of Editor and Publisher . . ."

The faculty at Wheaton College, Ill., has turned down a student council proposal which would permit unlimited class cuts. The opposition declared that all this was "more theoretical than anything else." The plan, according to the dean, will not be discussed again this year.

The Daily Reveille, Louisiana State University, recently ran a cartoon depicting a hunter, labeled "Selective Service," aiming his rifle at a bird labeled "College Deferrals." The caption was, "Dead Duck?"

On the thirty-fifth anniversary of the Soviet October revolution, the president of the "Free German Youth" declared that for experts in all the branches of knowledge the Marxism-Leninism was just as necessary "as the air for breathing."

In a stormy debate at the Cambridge University Union Society, attempts to admit women to the society as something more than "debating" members, were beaten down by a vote of 127 to 44.

At Michigan State, college officials have decided not to press charges against a student involved in a series of campus thefts, on the theory that "he needs treatment instead of punishment." The student stole articles having a total value of $5,800, including $4,000 worth of photographic equipment.

The Sophian Smith College, student newspaper, has launched a crusade for more smoking privileges on campus.

After taking a survey of 16 colleges, similar to Smith, they found that only one, Mills College, California, permits smoking in the classrooms; but Mills girls are not allowed to smoke while walking on campus.

Council To Run Book Exchange Offer Opportunities For Study In Mexico

The University of Guadalajara in co-operation with the faculty members of Stanford University will sponsor a bilingual summer school this year. The summer school will be held in Guadalajara, Mexico, from June 28 until August 8, 1953. The courses included are art, folklore, history, languages and literature. Board and room and six weeks tuition will cost $225.

Anyone who is interested can write to Professor Juan B. Rael, Box K, Stanford University, California.

Department Organizes Mixed Chorus Section

A new section of the mixed chorus will be organized on Monday, February 16, announces Dr. Charles P. Stokes, Professor of Music.

If enrollment in this class is sufficient, it will meet every Monday afternoon at 3:35 p. m.

The course will be open to both men and women and no tryout will be necessary to join the chorus. Dr. Stokes hopes that there will be a good response.

Brubacher Hall To Open House Tomorrow Night

Decorations To Center Around 'Cupid' Theme Throughout Dormitory

The women of Brubacher Hall will hold an open house tomorrow evening, from 8 p. m. to 12 midnight, announces Marjorie Alguire, House President.

Decorations include Valentines. The theme of the affair will be centered around hearts, flowers, and Cupids, in honor of St. Valentine's Day. Decorations carrying out the theme will be used in the dining room where the dance will be held. The stairway will be draped with red cloth upon which will be placed white doilies with red hearts on them.

Rooms will not be open for inspection since the residents decided it was unnecessary as they were open at the open house held first semester, states Miss Alguire.

Massey To Provide Music. Dancing will be from 9 p. m. to 12 midnight. Music will be provided by Bob Massey and his orchestra.

General Chairman of the open house is Mary Murray '54. Committee chairmen include arrangements, Catherine Lynch; decorations, El-corn Balaskis; orchestra, Mary Ann Hopko; refreshments, Barbara Smith; invitations, Jeanette Robinson; hostesses, Mary Ann Reiling, Juniors; publicity, Donna Hughes; entertainment, Lucretia D'Andrea, Sophomores; and clean-up, Virginia Doyle '56.

Invitations have been sent to Statesmen, Siena, RPI, and Union. Refreshments consisting of punch and cookies will be served.

Dr. Elton Nelson, Professor of Education, and Mrs. Nelson, and Joseph Garcia, Instructor in Physical Education, and Mrs. Garcia will chaperone the affair.

State Succumbs To Calamities

How many ladders did you walk under? Did you see any black cats cross your path? Have you had any sort of bad luck today? Or are you one of those people who prefer to remain in bed on Friday, the 13th?

For a change this is one time we won't thank God it's Friday. Equally anxious professors will hurry State students with upside-down curved tests. Today's assembly agenda will consist of a "For the ill of the organization" meeting; Statesmen will forget to mail their Valentines; Varsity will win a game; the date rooms in Brubacher will be shut down for repairs; roast pork will be served in all the dorms; and for you who stayed in bed today, classes will be held tomorrow. In short, this place will be known as Calamity College.

Your troubles won't be over at midnight either. March brings another Friday the 13th.

Green Releases X-Ray Schedule For Next Week

Starting Tuesday and continuing through Thursday, X-rays will be taken of all State College students in the cafeteria, announces Dr. Matthe E. Green, Professor of Health.

Students will be excused alphabetically from classes. Those who are not in class must arrange to be there at the announced time.

The following schedule has been set up:

After the X-ray, students are to report back to classes for the remainder of the period. X-rays for student teachers will be arranged through their supervisors.

ECSC Will Feature Lectures, Excursions

Among the colleges sending delegations to the Eastern Colleges Science Conference, to be held here at State in March, are Boston University, Clark U., Cornell, Dartmouth, The University of Rochester, The College of William and Mary, The University of Buffalo, and Rutgers.

The conference this year will have as its theme, "Social Responsibilities of Scientists," with the sub-theme, "Science in an Age of Crisis." The agenda features speeches and lectures by many nationally known in the field of science.

Tours of local science centers, exhibits, and social functions will add to the program. The General Electric Research Institute, Sterling-Winthrop Research Institute, Bender Laboratories, and the State Museum are on the itinerary for tour of local science centers.

Actually, invitations have been sent to about 500 colleges and universities in the U. S. and Canada, but a complete list of delegations is not available at present.

IGC Observes Emphasis Week On Brotherhood

Inter-Group Council will observe Brotherhood Week, February 15 through 22, according to Irene Johnson '54, Co-chairman. Displays will be placed on bulletin boards in school during this week. Emphasis will be placed on what teachers can do for brotherhood. Further plans also include the showing of a film and a speaker.

Brotherhood Week offers an opportunity to evaluate group and human relations in schools, colleges and universities and to develop year-round programs for the building of brotherhood. Its purpose as set forth in its By-Laws is: to promote justice, amity, understanding and co-operation among Protestants, Catholics and Jews and to eliminate inter-group prejudices which disgrace and religious, business, social and political relations, with a view to the establishment of a social order in which the ideals of brotherhood and justice shall become the standards of human relationships.

Petfield Will Direct All-College Production

The All College Revue Committee Chairmen have been chosen. Director for the Revue will be Louise Petfield '53. She will be assisted by Debra Donnelly '54, Assistant Director. Walter Goodell '53 will be in charge of staging, while Co-ordinator of the event will be Elizabeth Coykendall '53.

Tryouts will be held on Friday and next week. The Revue is scheduled for March 28, according to Frances Hopkins '54, Co-chairman.

Fraternities To Hold Rush Parties; BZ Plans Open House Tonight

SC Rejects Forum AD To Present On Examinations, Two Comedies Hears Motions Tuesday Night

Today in Assembly, SA will hear a financial motion, a proposed change in the Student Board of Finance budget, and a pep rally in support of the varsity basketball team. Wednesday night, Student Council passed five proposed budgets, accepted a change in the constitution of Music Council, heard a report from the Redecoration Committee for the Cafeteria and from the Student Council.

The agenda for today's assembly includes a poll to be taken by State College News concerning the jurisdiction of the assembly will end with Coach Merlin Hathaway presenting the varsity basketball team to SA, followed by a short pep rally.

Student Council rejected a proposal from Myskania to have an open forum to discuss the examination scandal during assembly this week. In lieu of the forum, Student Council composed a letter to the Administration expressing the unanimous views of SC concerning the situation.

Food, Fun, Novelty Will Spark Festivities Of Annual State Fair

This is the best part, Pierce Hall will transform Page Gym into a Greenwich Village Cafe. Entertainment and cocktails will be provided.

Psi Gamma's wares will be red hot dogs, AEPH will vend punch and cookies, and Gamma Kappa Phi will pop corn.

Approximately 26 campus groups are pooling their efforts in their endeavor to make State Fair the success it deserves to be. The profits from all concessions will again go toward the State College Foreign Student Scholarship Fund, in the hope of establishing a worthwhile tradition. Proceeds from last year's State Fair make it possible for Ratty Cooper to come to State as a graduate student. Miss Cooper, who majored in music in her native Pakistan, will give an appropriate ending to this year's Fair by offering a few piano selections.

New this year to the lineup of State Fair attractions will be a souvenir concession sponsored by Campus religious clubs. Banners, balloons, and such will be sold. For the first time there will be programs which will include a map of State Fair, an IGC presentation, and the SCACIS will show Variety on the stage of Page Auditorium.

SCA Releases Voting Schedule

Student Christian Association will hold its annual election of officers today between the hours of 10 a. m. and 3 p. m., announces Paul Ward '53, President. An election booth for collecting ballots will be set up, during these hours, under the SOA bulletin board in front of the girls' locker room in lower Draper.

The following candidates have been nominated for office: John Jacobus '54 and Luella Placek '55 for President; Mary LaPre, Lois Blanchard, and Ella Curtis, Sophomores, for Vice President; Deleye Ferguson, Virginia Hilliker and Marilyn House, Freshmen, for Secretary, and Arnold Newman and Mary Jane Fischer, Freshmen for Treasurer.

SCA has decided to hold its elections in January instead of May, as has been the custom in previous years, in order to give the incoming officers more time to gain experience in their new posts.
