Vote For A Better Future At Less Cost, CSEA Tells Rent Administration Aides

A team of Civil Service Employees Assn. representatives this week is concluding a series of meetings to convince employees of the New York City Rent and Rehabilitation Administration that their best interests in the future will be better protected through CSEA membership.

Employees of the rent agency will decide on April 17 whether they wish to be represented by CSEA or by a union.

Carrying the Employees Association story to the rent aides are Patrick G. Rogers, supervisor of field men for CSEA, and two of his associates, Thomas A. Brann and Benjamin Sherman.

CSEA Saved 200 Jobs

At a meeting held in 2 Lafayette St., John Milza, an employee in the rent agency reminded the audience that it was through the efforts of the CSEA and no other organization that $1,000,000 was restored to the State budget this year for rent control, thus saving 200 jobs in the agency.

Milza noted also that the union charged four times as much in dues and said he did not believe it did twice as much, let alone four times as much, for employees. "Our future is with the CSEA," he declared.

Rogers told The Leader he had great expectations that CSEA forces would win the election.

Delaware Valley Chapter to Meet

The next meeting of the Delaware Valley chapter, Civil Service Employees Assn., will be held at 8 p.m. on Wednesday, April 15, in the Dining Hall at Delhi Tech. Donald A. Romano, Dept. of Civil Service, will speak on "Civil Service Examinations."

Feily Voices Protest On Budget Veto Of Ranger Salary Appeal

ALBANY, April 13 — Joseph F. Feily, president of the Civil Service Employees Assn., has voiced strong protest to a veto last week by Budget Director T. Norman Hurd of a salary reallocation bid from forest rangers and district forest rangers.

The reallocation appeal was denied by the Division of Classification and Compensation but this turnaround was later reversed by the State Civil Service Commission. Feily's protest came after Dr. Hurd vetoed the Commission action.

Duties Have Changed

In his criticism of the Budget Director's veto, Feily said that "We feel this reallocation is desirable, justified and necessary. There have been changes in the concept and functions of the position of

Governor Signs Measure

CSEA Amendment To State University Bill Could Give Some Aides Raises

(Special to The Leader)

ALBANY, April 13—A "sleeper" bill that would prevent inequities in salaries for certain State titles and, at the same time, could bring about pay hikes for some employees, was signed into law late last week by Governor Rockefeller.

Frank Wille Named To Head Banks

Frank Wille, first assistant counsel to Governor Rockefeller, has been named State Superintendent of Banks by the Governor.

Only 33 years old, Wille becomes the youngest member to serve in the Rockefeller cabinet. The post, subject to Senate confirmation, pays $28,875 a year.

Wille, who takes over the post from Orin Root, will be sworn in early in May after the 30-day bill signing period is over. Until then he will serve as acting superintendent.

Saying that he was happy to find such an able man for the post, Rockefeller declared that "I am confident that Frank Wille will be an effective representative of the State's point of view in these (banking) decisions." He was referring to a statement he made which said that "An orderly development of the banking structure requires that State banking authorities play a major role in policy decisions rather than have all such decisions centralized in Washington."

Wille, an avid sportsman, is a graduate of Andover Academy where he ranked first in the class of 1947. He is also an honor graduate from Harvard College and Harvard Law School and holds the L.L.M. degree from New York University.

Upon his graduation from law school he was associated for four

The measure, in the form of an amendment to an administration-backed State University bill, was the result of a top-level meeting between the Civil Service Employees Association and officials of the Division of Budget, the State University and the Civil Service Department. It was sponsored by Assemblyman Edwin J. Fehrenbach (R-Nassau).

Applies Throughout

A significant aspect of the CSEA amendment is that it applies throughout State civil service, not just within the State University structure. Any raises under the amendment would require approval of the director of the Budget and would be based on precise standards of qualifications for the employees involved.

The principal State University bill, which also was signed by the governor, broadens the definition of the "unclassified service" as applied to the university and allows its president to jurisdictionally classify professional positions and to certify them to the Civil Service Department. This power presently lies in the Civil Service Department. The bill also allows any agency within State service to

Under the amendment, when one person is hired at the higher rate the same higher rate must be paid all persons serving in the same title in the same geographical area having equivalent qualifications, training or experience.

Three days before final adjournment, the Assembly defeated the amendatory bill, but on the final day of the session a Senate companion bill was approved by the Assembly.

Vice President Post Could Be Best GOP Spot

A Right, Duty And Responsibility

THERE IS NO more important function that members of civil service organizations can perform than to vote in each and every general election.

THIS IS A statement that, in a way, seems almost naive to make because it is so basic in concept as hardly to require discussion.

BUT UNFORTUNATELY it is all too true that the statement not only needs telling but it needs constant repetition.

IN THE FIRST place, no American should have to be told that he should vote, that the right to vote also implies a responsibility to vote, that good citizenship demands that he exercise his franchise. Yet this is all too sadly the case—people apparently do have to be reminded and urged to cast their ballots. If this were not so we would have many, many times the number of voters who currently turn out on Election Day.

THOSE OF US in civil service not only have a responsibility to vote as citizens but we have another important reason to get to the polls every November.

AS CIVIL SERVICE workers we are employed by governments so that, in actuality, our employers are the individuals who are elected by the people or who are appointed by those who are elected.

PUBLIC OFFICIALS are therefore quite sensitive to the wishes and the will of those who elect them.

GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS and political figures are always aware of the block-votes of organized groups and this sensitivity to our voting potential gives us a strong and important voice in significant decisions.

FROM A PERSONAL point of view as civil service workers let us always remember that political action plays an extremely important role in an organization's efforts in seeking wage increases, improved pension benefits, better working conditions and other gains.

RECOGNIZING THIS fact of organizational life, the UFA has, along with all organized labor, always put major importance on the need for our membership to vote in each and every election and on all levels . . . city, state and national.

THIS YEAR we have mounted an all-out drive to get every one of our members to register so that they will be eligible to vote this November.

WE ARE ASKING them if they will be sitting on the sidelines this year while their friends, neighbors and co-workers are electing their State Assemblymen, State Senators, Congressmen, U.S. Senator and President of the United States.

WE ARE INFORMING them that they can't afford to be spectators, that their participation is vital to themselves and to their union and that they should get off the sidelines and into the game.

WE, AND ALL civil service workers, have a big stake in every election and in every public official who is elected.

WE SHOULD USE our precious votes to defeat our enemies and to reward our friends at the polls. It's that simple, that basic . . . and that important.

Teachers Gain 5-Point Plan

ALBANY, April 13 — Three bills, which would increase the take-home pay for public school teachers, have been signed by Governor Rockefeller.

The first of the measures increases by 5 percent the take-home pay of teachers in districts outside New York City, beginning with the 1965-66 school year.

The other bills authorize the city school districts of Buffalo and Yonkers to grant a similar increase starting this fall.

There were reports that the statewide bill eventually will mandate an additional $18 million of spending on local school districts.

NYC Already Has It

New York City teachers received similar benefits two years ago.

Under the new law, if a teacher's pension deduction is 9 percent of his weekly salary, the school district will pay five percentage points and the teacher then will have to contribute only 5 percent.

CSEA Originated Idea

The proposal is based on a program first proposed and worked out by the Civil Service Employees Association for state and local government workers.

Agricultural And Civil Engineers Sought at $5,650

The positions are in the Soil Conservation Service, Department of Agriculture, in several states and Puerto Rico.

Pierce Represents N.Y. At Conference

ALBANY, April 13 — Lawrence W. Pierce, state youth director, headed a 36-member New York State delegation to the Joint Conference on Children and Youth which was held in Washington, D.C. last week.

The state delegation stressed it's special work in the field of school dropouts. For the past two years, the State Youth Division has conducted eight pilot programs to determine what can be done to improve the employability of school dropouts.

While the odds, at this writing, favor the election of President Lyndon B. Johnson in November there is always the chance of an upset and the winning second man on the GOP team would be catapulted into continued national prominence because of both a successful campaign and the prestige of holding the office for at least four years.

Loser's Winnings

But there are some advantages in running for the second spot, even on a losing team. First of all, it provides a tremendous amount of national exposure. Second, the Vice President candidate does not bear the onus of losing but does share in the victory if it occurs. Third, the leadership of the party could fall to the second man, because of the failure of the first, and this could lead to nomination for the top spot the next time around.

All of this is just speculation, of course, but when the Presidential nomination is settled after the GOP convention of July 13 it might be the kind of speculation that several possibilities for the top spot now might start thinking of. Naturally, this won't occur until the Number 1 position is filled.

Scranton and Romney

Governor William Scranton of Pennsylvania, for instance, might find the second spot just the thing. He is politically smart enough to know that he does not yet have enough national following to contend for the top post because he is a relative newcomer on the national scene. If he did get the top spot because of a convention deadlock and lost the race he would be a dead duck politically, probably within his own party as well as among the voters. Not so in the Number 2 position. The face and the personality would get the wide exposure a national figure needs and he would be in a position to move up in 1968. The same could apply to Gov. George Romney of Michigan. And conceivably to the New York Senators, Kenneth Keating and Jacob Javits.

Nixon, Goldwater, Lodge and Rockefeller would probably not give a thought to running for the Vice Presidency. For them it's all or nothing.

But to the younger men in the GOP just now emerging into prominence it could be the very position they need in terms of future races.

Respiratory Diseases Bureau Established

ALBANY, April 13 — The State Health Department has established a new bureau for Chronic Respiratory Disease, and plans a special pilot study among state employees. The bureau replaces the department's Bureau of Tuberculosis Case Finding, which has been abolished.

Dr. Henry H. Shultz, director of the former bureau, will head the new setup. Other employees from the former case finding bureau will comprise the staff of the new bureau.

In announcing the change, State Health Commissioner Hollis S. Ingraham stated:

"Because of the limited knowledge about chronic respiratory diseases, the staff of the new bureau will devote itself largely to three research projects. They are:

1- Studies aimed at learning how various chronic respiratory diseases begin and progress and research toward improving methods of treatment.

2- Surveys to determine the prevalence of chronic respiratory disease in various communities and population groups.

3- A long-term study among State employees to gather further information on the course and prognosis of such diseases.

Dr. Ingraham said the State employee study would be conducted in conjunction with the State Employees Health Service.

The proposed research program will be conducted at an upstate medical center.

CS Dept. Acts To Cut Vacation Credit Loss

ALBANY, April 13—The Civil Service Department has advised the Civil Service Employees Association that steps have been taken to insure against loss of vacation credits by state employees who have reached the maximum accrual of 30 days.

The Department's action came at the request of the Employee's Association which pointed out at a recent meeting with Civil Service Officials that some employees suffer loss of vacation credits because they are not aware of the 30-day limitation.

In an effort to remedy the situation, Mary Goode Krone, President of the Civil Service Commission, sent a memorandum to department and agency heads spelling out the provisions of the Attendance Rules which govern employee vacations.

Miss Krone's Points

She cited the following sections: "No accumulation of vacation credits in excess of thirty days shall be permitted . . . The appointing authority shall notify the employee in writing of the total amount of his total unliquidated credits when such credits total the equivalent of twenty-five work days."

Miss Krone said the loss usually occurs for one of two reasons. She said, "In some agencies the accrual records are maintained by the agency and are not readily available to the employee. In other agencies, the employee is responsible for maintaining his own time records and either is not aware of the maximum allowed or when he becomes aware of the fact that he is approaching the maximum he cannot be given time off because of the needs of the

Raise Due For Nassau Aides If Solution Can Be Found On Fund Source

MINEOLA, April 13 — Nassau County's 9,000 employees will get a pay raise July 1 —if the Republicans and Democrats ever stop fighting over the best way to find the money needed for the pay boost.

In an effort to settle the struggle, Irving Flaumenbaum, president of the Nassau chapter, Civil Service Employees Assn., has called on both Nassau County Executive Eugene H. Nickerson, a Democrat, and the Republican-controlled Board of Supervisors to meet with him to "seek an equitable and feasible solution."

Agreed, But—

"Everybody agrees that we ought to have a pay raise now," said Flaumenbaum. "They are just fighting over where to get the money."

Nickerson and the supervisors, Flaumenbaum said, both favor a pay raise of about seven percent, beginning January 1, 1965. This would total about $3,500,000. The final pay raise will be determined by a survey now under way. However, Flaumenbaum won agreement from the two sides for at least a 2.5 percent pay raise, at a cost of $625,000, to begin July 1. The Republicans then offered to make it five percent at a cost of $1,250,000.

In the dispute, the Republicans said they wanted to pay for the raise out of a fund which Nickerson had accumulated by not filling 1,380 jobs. Nickerson said he wanted to use the money from his Article Six Highway Fund. This is money returned to the County from the State as its share of gasoline and auto registration

BULLETIN

At Leader press time, it was learned that at its April 20 meeting the Nassau County Board of Supervisors intends to adopt the proposal whereby three more points of County employees' contributions to the Retirement System will be absorbed by the County. This was made possible because of legislation for State employees secured in the recent session of the Legislature by the CSEA and made permissive for local subdivisions. Nassau earlier had given its employees the original 5-point plan.

Flaumenbaum noted that while the adoption of the three-point plan will increase net take home pay of employees as of May 1 the Board action "is entirely apart from the pay proposals that are to take effect July 1."

fees. Both sides have rejected each other's plan.

Last Raise In 1961

Flaumenbaum noted that the last raises granted county employees came in 1961. It was also the last time that the County Executive's position was up for election. Nickerson, seeking reelection this year, is opposed by John Burns, Commissioner for the Office of Local Government.

Flaumenbaum said "I think those people who come up with a good deal for the employees will have a political advantage." However, he added, he was growing tired of watching the employees being used as "ping-pong balls." He said "the employees of Nassau County are not interested in the political battle between the County Executive and the Board of Supervisors. It is up to them to resolve their differences and to find the money to give to the employees."

Discuss Better Transportation For Campus Site

ALBANY, April 13 — Improved transportation at the state campus in Albany was discussed recently at a meeting between the Office of General Services, the Civil Service Employees Association, other state departments and agencies at the campus, and the United Traction Company, which operates bus service to and from the site.

The meeting was the result of a petition presented by the Tax Department Chapter of CSEA whose members claim that public transportation at the campus between 9 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. is "inadequate" and at times "non-existent." It was explained that a person on excused leave wishing to travel, without a car, to other buildings or to a bus stop is at a "distinct disadvantage" because of the distance involved.

Possible Solutions

Among the possible solutions discussed were day-time shuttle service between buildings and the possible routing of buses to the Tax Department building during the problem hours.

Floyd Barnes, chief of the bureau of building management for the Office of General Services, said it is hoped that a solution to the problem can be worked out in the near future.

In addition to the Tax department employees, other CSEA members have voiced similar complaints concerning public transportation at the campus.

Changes In Health Plan Are Explained

Does a woman annuitant already enrolled for "Family-Female with Nondependent Husband" need to take any action to receive the increased Government contribution toward the cost of her enrollment?

No. Her enrollment will automatically be changed by her retirement system to a regular family enrollment effective July 1, 1964 and her annuity check will be increased by $2.82 a month beginning with her August 1, 1964 check, which pays annuity for July.

If a woman annuitant now has a self-only enrollment and wants to cover her nondependent husband, what does she do?

She must change her enrollment to self-and-family. The husband's health benefits coverage (as well as the coverage of any eligible children) will begin the day the change in the annuitant's enrollment becomes effective.

Will the change in Government contribution affect a woman annuitant with a family enrollment which covers a dependent husband?

No. She is already receiving the larger Government contribution. However, such an annuitant need no longer notify the Commission if the husband becomes capable of self-support.

Change from Self-only

May an annuitant who changes his enrollment from self-only to self-and-family also change plan and option?

No he must remain in the same plan and option.

How does an annuitant change his enrollment from self-only to self-and-family?

By writing to the Civil Service Commission, Bureau of Retirement and Insurance, 1900 E Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20415, specifically requesting the change. (If not retired under the civil service retirement system, the annuitant should write the agency administering his system or to the Department of Labor, Bureau of Employees' Compensation, if he is a compensationeer.)

Must an eligible annuitant reenroll in the same plan he was in when he retired?

No. He may enroll in any plan available to him and in any option of that plan.

How does an annuitant reenroll in a plan?

By sending his written request to reenroll to the Civil Service Commission, Bureau of Retirement and Insurance, 1900 E Street, NW., Washington, D.C., 20415. (If not retired under the civil service retirement system, the annuitant should write the agency administering his system or to the Department of Labor, Bureau of Employees' Compensation if he is a compensationeer.)

What information must the annuitant provide the Commission in requesting a change from self-only to self-and-family enrollment?

He must identify the participating plan in which he is enrolled and list the name, date of birth, and relationship of each family member to be included in the family enrollment. He should also give full identification, including his full name, address, retirement claim number, and his own date of birth. (A survivor annuitant should also give the name and date of birth of the former employee on whose service the survivor annuity is based.)

What is the deadline for submitting the request for change from self-only to self-and-family enrollment?

The request must be received by the Civil Service Commission (or the other agency administering the system under which the annuitant is retired by June 30, 1964.)

Reenrollment

Is an annuitant eligible to reenroll if he receives a deferred annuity?

No—he must have retired on an immediate annuity after at least 12 years' service or under the disability provision of the retirement law.

May the survivor-annuitant of a deceased eligible annuitant reenroll?

Yes.

May an eligible annuitant who was previously enrolled for self-only reenroll for self-and-family?

Yes.

Letters To The Editor

Says Institution Teachers "Victims"

(Note: The following letter was sent to Governor Rockefeller and is reprinted here at the request of the writer.)

It was extremely disillusioning and bitterly disappointing for the institution teachers to belatedly discover that they were again the unjustifiable victims of some last minute, short sighted, budget "reshuffling."

For the past decade or more, we have annually been led to believe that definite steps would be implemented towards providing us with a much needed public school attendance calendar.

Year after year, the same old story, with perhaps a slight variation, as to the ultimate reasons for not fulfilling this vital need.

This year hopes really ran high, when $85,000 was specifically suggested, as part of the $2.9 billion budget, towards financing a ten-month institution academic program.

But lo and behold, during the last days of the scheduled session, somebody saw fit to remove this mere fiscal pittance, for apparently what they felt, a higher more important cause.

Every civic-minded citizen, whether directly affiliated with education or not, is aware of your imaginative, forceful, dedicated feelings and actions in this area. Undoubtedly most of these same people were deeply inspired, and are deeply grateful to you, for your most recent courageous exemplification of this, when you unrelentingly and successfully achieved the substantial goal of 5% more take home pay for public school teachers.

When one begins to seriously review and study your philosophy, only few of the aspects given here, and the many more other vitally related circumstances concerning this fundamental request, it is impossible to reconcile its predestined yearly doom.

It would indeed be presumptuous on my part, to even contemplate suggesting how this unwaranted perennial inequity can best be rectified. But if you will kindly permit me to humbly suggest, for your re-examination, the avenue of unused money allocated for teaching lines that constantly remain vacant. Maybe more than a remote possibility exists of discovering not only adequate funds for financing our urgent, but also a goodly surplus that could be utilized for other equally demanding endeavors.

Your Public Relations IQ
By LEO J. MARGOLIN

Mr. Margolin is Adjunct Professor of Public Relations in New York University's Graduate School of Public Administration.

The views expressed in this column are those of the writer and do not necessarily constitute the views of this newspaper.

The Community College System

EDITOR'S NOTE: As the Leader was going to press, the New York City Board of Estimate voted to transfer control over the New York City Community College to the Board of Higher Education thus centralizing control over all six City Community Colleges.

IT WOULD BE difficult to find better public relations for government than the community college system in New York State.

GEMS OF BUILT-for-the-purpose educational institutions, these two-year colleges are prime examples of government-community cooperation and of government assuming a responsibility to fill an urgent need.

COMMUNITY COLLEGES are not new. California developed the idea more than 50 years ago. Today, there are 700 two-year colleges, with New York, Texas and California leading the nation in public, tax-supported, low or free tuition institutions of this type.

NEW YORK STATE now has 26 community colleges. Two new schools are scheduled to open in September—one in Manhattan, the other in Brooklyn. This will give New York City alone seven community colleges, including the largest in the United States—the New York City Community College, sponsored by the Board of Estimate, with 8,500 day and evening students. Sponsor of the other six is the Board of Higher Education, of which Dr. Gustave G. Rosenberg is chairman.

MOST IMPORTANT reason for the phenomenal growth of the community college is the community's determination to develop its human resources to the fullest possible extent. Implementation of such determination by an individual community is public relations at its best.

THE TREMENDOUS demand for young people with skills that enable them to join technical groups, is still another important argument for community colleges.

IN NEW YORK State each community college is locally sponsored. Once approved by the State University of New York—which itself now comprises more than 50 units—the community college meets its budget as follows:

ONE-THIRD from the state, the remaining two-thirds from the local government and from nominal tuition charges. For capital expenditures such as land and buildings for the college, the state pays half, local government half.

THE COMMUNITY colleges in New York State come as close as any educational institutions in carrying out the motto of The State University of New York: "Let Each Become All He is Capable of Being."

INHERENT IN the community college concept is the development of potential talent among the youngsters who, having their high school course, think they are not college material or find that a four-year college course is beyond their financial means.

THE COMMUNITY college fills the vacuum in which these young people have found themselves. The result is that the community has salvaged thousands of youngsters, enabling them to learn skills which have enriched the community with better citizens. And better citizens mean better government.

ONE POSSIBLE extra special dividend which we may yet reap from the community college is its potential as a vast reservoir of trained young people for government on all levels from local to Federal.

WE KNOW THAT the New York State Department of Taxation has already tapped this rich lode, and more and more local governments are seeking these young people for their various technical and administrative operations.

WE ARE ALWAYS elated when we find a government activity which has as many public relations "pluses" as the State University of New York and its community college program. It all adds up to a perfect "stopper" to the critics who insist that what we need is less government and more chaos.

Health Insurance Plan Choice Is Needed Now

WHILE Mayor Wagner is looking into budget problems, we hope he is considering additional monies for a health plan choice for all City employees.

This choice is being made the primary demand by large civil service groups in the City including policemen, firefighters and members of Terminal Employees Local 832.

The cost of this plan would not be excessive and, in many cases, alternate plans would cost the City less than the present HIP plan.

None can disagree with the fact that HIP presents a good plan for many City employees. However, it does not fit the needs of all. This is borne out by the fact that a percentage of City employees do not now use HIP.

One does not buy a pair of shoes merely because his employer pays part of the cost. The shoes must fit first. So it is with health insurance. Unless the plan fits the family needs of the employee, it is worthless to him.

We urge the Mayor and the Board of Estimate to consider the needs of their employees and grant a choice of health insurance plans this year.

Mayor's Quick Action Gives Justice To 42 Men

CONGRATULATIONS are in order for Mayor Robert F. Wagner, who, last week, interrupted a budget retreat to quickly correct what could have been a gross injustice to 42 young men aspiring to be policemen. Had the Mayor and other City officials delayed, these men would be without jobs and possibly burdens on the unemployment rolls.

The Police Department had accepted the men for appointment to the police academy on April 17 and had notified them to appear for swearing-in ceremonies.

However, after all had notified their present employers that they were resigning to become policemen, they received disheartening news from the office of the chief clerk, Louis Stutman. Budget problems had fouled up the appointment schedule and was scheduled to delay the appointment of the 42 men until Fall.

After a hurried conference, the Mayor announced that the money had been found and the men would be appointed. Justice had been served.

Our Best To Frank Wille

WE wish to join Joseph F. Feily, president of the Civil Service Employees Assn., and others who have extended their warm congratulations to Frank Wille upon his appointment by Governor Rockefeller to the important post of Superintendent of Banks.

Only 33 years old, Wille's selection for this job emphasizes the accent on youth that is so much in the American tradition. But Wille was appointed for his capabilities, not his youth alone. On all scores we say "Congratulations."

Social Security Questions Answered

"How may I learn whether a certain employer for whom I used to do domestic day work reported my wages for social security purposes?"

Contact the nearest social security office. That office will give you a form or postcard on which you may request a statement of the wages (and self-employment income, if any) credited to your account. From the statement which is mailed to you, you should be able to determine whether your wages have been reported by this employer.

"I was disabled three months ago and I plan to file an application for disability benefits. What information should I bring in with me?"

You should bring your social security card, proof of your date of birth, a list showing your employment history, and the names and addresses of the doctors who have treated you for your condition. Do not delay filing if you do not have part of this information. We may be able to help you get the missing information.

This is New York State's No. 1 mountain . . .

Mount Marcy, the highest peak in the Empire State, towers 5,344 feet. It was originally called "Tahawas", an Indian name which means "cloud splitter". New York's mighty Hudson River has its source on the mountain. Mount Marcy is in the Adirondack Forest Preserve and will be kept forever wild, though there are trails by which the adventurous may climb to the summit.

. . . and these are New York State's No. 1 Get-Well Cards!

More than 485,000 State employees and employees of many local subdivisions of New York State and their dependents are glad they have it. These New Yorkers depend on the three-way STATEWIDE PLAN — Blue Cross, Blue Shield and Major Medical — to protect them against the costs of hospital, surgical-medical and major medical care.

If you're not a subscriber and would like to learn how the STATEWIDE PLAN offers the most liberal benefits at the lowest possible cost . . . see your payroll or personnel officer.

PLAIN TALK: MORE MONEY IN THE PAYCHECK

Governor Rockefeller recently signed legislation in Albany which effects the standard of living of every State employee.

How will you benefit today—tomorrow? You can spend the money today, or you can invest it for tomorrow. After you've made your decision, will you be satisfied with it in 10 years—15 years?

In March, many of us found extra money in our take-home pay, —a direct result of the Federal tax cut. This ranges on the average from $5.00 to $10.00 per paycheck. In addition, as of April 1st the pension program for State employees was revised and the State assumed an additional 3% which its employees previously contributed to the fund, thereby increasing take-home pay by 4%.

Now let's look at another source of more money in the paycheck. On October 1, 1964 there will be a sliding scale salary adjustment ranging from 3% to 8%. The combination will provide most State employees with an increase in their take-home pay of 7 to 11%.

Surveys by leading economists show that extra income every payday is hardly noticeable after a few short weeks due to newly created demands on the pocketbook. Thus before your extra dollars are absorbed in day-to-day expenses, you may find it well worth while to set aside this money for possible growth through regular savings or investments in Mutual Funds.

First Judges Named In Miss Civil Service World's Fair Contest

The first seven authorities on female pulchritude who will serve as judges for the Miss Civil Service Contest to be held at the New York World's Fair on June 1 have been selected

The contest is one facet of the Civil Service Day at the Fair, sponsored by the Civil Service Leader.

The judges on the panel, to date, will include:

Maxwell Lehman, Acting City Administrator and former editor of The Leader. During the last Civil Service Day at the World's Fair, Lehman was executive editor;

William J. Murray, administrative director of the State Department of Civil Service;

Lawrence Baer, Regional director of the United States Civil Service Commission;

Joseph F. Feily, president of the 117,000-member Civil Service Employees Association;

Sam Emmett, past president of the New York City chapter of the CSEA;

Candy Jones, one of the world's most famous beauties and directress of the model agency which carries her name;

Jerry Finkelstein, publisher of The Leader.

The four lucky winners of the contest will spend a week at the Condado Beach Hotel in San Juan, Puerto Rico sometime this summer. All of these girls will be civil service employees who work in New York State for either a city, state, county or federal civil service system.

If you know a girl who is (1) lovely to look at (2) a civil servant working in New York State, send us her picture.

All you have to do is submit the photograph accompanied by the name, address, age, title, department and business address of the contestant. For easy handling, print this information on a sheet of paper and attach to the back of the photo or use the convenient entry blank on page 5.

Semi-finalists will be announced on May 1 so submit your office entry now.

136,000 Died

WHAT'S DOING IN CITY DEPARTMENTS

• Emergency tow truck patrols to aid motorists whose cars are disabled began on 10 heavily-travelled parkways when the Traffic Department took over their operation from the Parks Department last week, according to Traffic Commissioner Henry A. Barnes. The patrols, similar to those the Traffic Department now furnishes on expressways, will be maintained during morning and evening rush hours, 7 to 10 a.m. and 4 to 7 p.m., on Monday through Friday, and from 2 p.m. to 9 p.m. on Saturday, Sunday and holidays.

• "Clean up for the Fair" is the theme of a message being broadcast from a Sanitation Department caravan which will tour the city starting in Queens this week. The caravan will consist of the DS "Voice of Cleanliness," which is a mobile public address system in a white station wagon that also bears 'clean city' slogans, and a float on which is mounted an 8-foot replica of a DS litter basket, plus giant brooms similar to those Sanitation Men use to sweep streets. A large sign on the basket carries the slogan of the current program sponsored by the Sanitation Department and the Citizens Committee to Keep New York City Clean: "Just A Drop in the Basket Helps Keep New York Clean." For the next two weeks, the mobile exhibit will be in Queens, and will make its rounds in Manhattan during the weeks of April 20 and 27. It will tour The Bronx for the week of May 4; go to Brooklyn during the weeks of May 11 and May 18, and to Richmond starting May 25. Other itineraries will follow.

Post Improvements Slated For Elmira

ALBANY, April 13 — The Civil Service Employees Association has been advised by State Commissioner of Correction Paul McGinnis that work has already started to equip the remaining five wall posts at the Elmira State Reformatory with improved facilities, including running water, sanitary facilities and electrical heaters.

It is expected that work on the improvements will be completed in three months.

Under New Law

Governors Must Approve Appointment of State's Welfare Commissioners

ALBANY, April 13 — New York governors now have a veto power over appointment of State Social Welfare Commissioners.

Legislation making this possible has been signed by Governor Rockefeller. Under the new law, the State Board of Social Welfare must obtain the "consent of the governor" in appointing or removing a commissioner.

Wyman To Stay
George K. Wyman, the present commissioner, will continue in his post under terms of the new law. He was appointed by the board in 1962 and the new law does not effect his status.

In signing the measure, Mr. Rockefeller stated:

"This bill, enacted upon my recommendation, accomplishes the first important change in decades in the structure of the State Department of Social Welfare. The bill defines more clearly the administrative functions of the State Commissioner of Social Welfare and the policy-making and visitation role of the State Board of Social Welfare. In addition, under the bill, the Commissioner will have a fixed term of office. He will continue to be appointed by the Board, but with the consent of the Governor.

Clarification Needed

"It has long been recognized that a clarification and realignment of responsibilities within the State's social welfare structure was necessary. The 1963 report of the Moreland Commission on Welfare concluded, as had earlier studies, that changes were necessary in the structure of the State Department of Social Welfare to enable it fully to meet present and foreseeable future needs and responsibilities.

"In 1867, when the first predecessor of the State Board of Social Welfare was created, its duties were confined to visitation of a relatively few private charitable institutions. Welfare needs and programs have grown in this State to the point that the lay, part-time Board and the professional Commissioner and Department, among them, are responsible for visiting 2,500 institutions, for approving the creation of all new charitable institutions, for the direct operation of public facilities, for supervising local administration of public assistance, for formulating welfare policy and for the administration of public welfare programs costing almost $680 million a year.

"The size of today's public welfare operations requires a clearer-cut assignment of administrative responsibility to the Commissioner, and an equally clear delineation of the policy-making and visitation role of the Board. Both are provided by this bill."

(Continued from Page 1) feature of the meeting will be a dinner that night honoring all the past presidents of the Conference, most of whom are expected to be in attendance.

Elmer C. Ellis is chairman of the special dinner event, for which DeLong will be host. Jimmy Thompson, sports newscaster for Niagara Station WJLJ will serve as toastmaster.

The past presidents dinner is open to all Conference members who wish to attend, Ellis reported.

At the same time the St. Lawrence County chapter, CSEA, is contacting non-teaching personnel of St. Lawrence school districts.

Mrs. Frances Williams, president of the county chapter and Ambrose J. Donnelly, CSEA field representative, met recently with Milton Glickman, president of the Massena hospital board of managers, and E. Vernon Rich, hospital administrator.

Craig Colony CSEA Unit Plans April 23 Membership Meeting

The Rev. Lester J. Wilcox, president of the Craig Colony and Hospital chapter of the Civil Service Employees Assn. has announced that there will be an annual membership meeting to be held at the Brae Burn Recreation Center, Dansville, New York, on Thursday evening, April 23.

The annual membership meeting is held each year so that members may participate and discuss plans for the coming year.

There will be a smorgasbord dinner buffet served at 7 p.m. and all members of the chapter and their spouses are cordially invited to attend. Price of tickets is $2.50 per person, but one dollar of the cost of each ticket will be underwritten by the chapter.

Rev. Wilcox indicated that the agenda for the evening will consist of verbal reports given by the delegates who attended the recent Albany and Buffalo meetings. In addition the legislative program and plans for the coming year will be discussed.

Alfred J. Kawa has been appointed dinner chairman and Sam Cipolla is responsible for the distribution of tickets. Tickets will be available at the offices of the supervisors and heads of departments. Cut-off date for reservations has been set for Wednesday, April 15, 1964, and no further reservations can be accepted after that time. All members are urged to secure their tickets immediately.

Last Call Nears For June 4 Tour

Departure date is June 4, returning to New York June 26. The tour price of $736 includes round trip air transportation (jet), all hotel rooms, most meals, sight-seeing tours, land transportation, baggage handling, guides, tips, etc. Immediate reservations are suggested for those interested in the program.

Reservations and information may be obtained by writing either to Mrs. Julia Duffy, 129 Almar Ave., West Islip, or to Mrs. Eve Armstrong, 1 Florence Court, Babylon.

Feily Protests Veto

In referring to the Budget Director's option of veto in such cases, Feily said: "Our delegates have continually expressed concern that the Director of the Budget has a seemingly unfettered power in these matters. I believe this decision, coupled with similar decisions, in the recent past, will further fan the flames of discontent."

Feily has requested a meeting with Dr. Hurd to discuss the veto.
