Freshmen Women Win Basketball Games to Secure Margin; Debate to Be Soon

With the recent victory of the freshmen girls over the sophomore girls in the annual inter-class rivalry basketball games, the freshmen now have the lead in inter-class rivalry with a one-half point margin.

The girls' basketball games were ended Wednesday afternoon. A series of three games are played each year, but this year the freshmen were victorious in the first two games, therefore concluding the series. The first game was played last Wednesday with a freshman victory of 28-12, and the game Wednesday afternoon proved to be an ever more complete freshman victory with a score of 39-16. As a result of these victories the freshman class is awarded three points in inter-class rivalry, giving them a half-point lead. However, with the men's basketball game scheduled for March 13 in the Page hall gymnasium, and with the inter-class rivalry debate between the two classes being planned, much enthusiasm is being shown in inter-class rivalry this year.

The annual freshman-sophomore debate is scheduled each year, according to the following Inter-Class Rivalry Rules:

During the first two months of the second semester, one class must challenge the other to whichever event (an inter-class sing was sung last semester) has not taken place during the first semester.

Challenges shall be addressed to Myskania, placed in the "M" section of the student mail box, in a sealed envelope.

The challenge shall be made by the president of one class to the president of the other class within three days after the president of said class has received notice from Myskania of the acceptance of the challenge by Myskania.

The answer must be made by one president to the other within one week. Failure to accept will be considered as a victory for the challenging class.

Choice of details in regard to the events may be made by the class whose challenge is accepted by Myskania, under the supervision of Myskania.

The challenge of the sophomore class was received and recognized first by Myskania, senior honorary society, and the official challenge from the sophomores to the freshmen was mailed Tuesday. The date and subject of the debate will be decided by a committee appointed at the sophomore class meeting Tuesday, composed of Lillian Shapiro, Irwin Stinger, and Robert Benedict. The winner of the debate will be awarded two and one-half rivalry points.

Dramatics Class To Present Plays Tuesday Night

The advanced dramatics class will present two plays Tuesday night in the auditorium of Page hall at 8:30 o'clock. They will be under the direction of Margaret Delaney, '35, and Marjorie Wheaton, '36, respectively.

"Inside Story" Is Promised In Talk

The inside story of how such bills as the Noonan bill (the one that would keep college students from talking) come to pass (or not to pass), and the antics of the legislators as they discuss their pet theories, will be revealed by Mrs. Grace C. Greene, secretary of the League of Women Voters, in her talk on the Legislature, at the tea to be conducted by the Social Science club Thursday at 3:30 o'clock in the Lounge of Richardson hall.

Dr. H. W. Thompson To Speak In Lounge

Professor Harold W. Thompson will be the speaker at the first discussion meeting of the Young Women's Christian association this semester, to be conducted in the Lounge of Richardson hall next Thursday afternoon, at 4:10 o'clock, according to Sarah Logan, '35, president of the organization. Dr. Thompson will talk on American folk-lore, stressing the work of John Lomax, who will appear with his negro minstrel Leadbelly, next Monday.

Examination Reveals Change To a Higher "Cut" Price

"The price per cut" is not 21 cents as reported in the News last week, but a higher figure, at 41 cents, a close examination reveals. This error, however, does not change the State's approximate cost of $23.40 for you to register in a three-hour course. In other words, you may value your average college day at about $1.55.

Students Re-Elect Ungerer Treasurer

At the sixteenth annual conference of the North Atlantic region of the Lutheran Student association of America, Glenn M. Ungerer, '36, was re-elected treasurer of the region.

The conference was conducted in the Christian Association building of the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia last week-end.

State, R. P. I. Battle In Final Tomorrow

Teams Are Evenly Matched as to Season's Records; Football May Get Proceeds

In a grand finale to the most successful season in several years, the State college varsity five will tangle with the engineers of Rensselaer Polytechnic institute on the Page hall court tomorrow night. Coach Baker's fast moving powerhouse, victorious in eight out of nine games, will be seeking its first victory over the Trojan aggregation.

R.P.I. has had only a fair season on the basis of games won and lost, but rate approximately even with the State quintet if comparative scores mean anything. Both outfits defeated Brooklyn Poly by narrow margins in recent games. The atom-destroyers lost to Union last week in the second of their annual traditional games.

Coach Rutherford R. Baker will again have a full squad at his disposal, the only hitch being that Bob Murray, high scoring forward, may miss part of the contest because of a business engagement. Excluding this possibility, the probable starting lineup will be: Murray and Bancroft, forwards; Walter, center; Finch and Captain Rall, guards.

The proceeds of the game will be used for the purchase of football suits for next year, providing the Athletic council passes a resolution to include the sport in next year's program. Student tax tickets will admit students to the game.

Alumni Association To Conduct Lunch

Tomorrow the New York city branch of the State college Alumni association will conduct its annual luncheon at the Hotel Lexington in New York city. Mary Norton, '11, president of the New York City branch, will preside. Guests who are invited will include Dr. A. R. Brubacher, president of State college, Professor John M. Sayles, director of teacher training, and Professor of education, Miss Anna E. Pierce, former dean of women, Dr. Minnie B. Scotland, assistant professor of biology, and Mrs. E. Brimmer, secretary of the Alumni association.

The Spring meeting of the Eastern New York branch, better known as the Albany branch, will be conducted on April 6. Mrs. Dorothy Brimmer Ten Eyck, '30, is president of the branch. Following the branch meeting, there will be a meeting of the Grand Council of which Mrs. Louise Persons Main, '22, is chairman, and Miss Pauline Baker, '22, is vice-chairman. The program will include a panel discussion on the yearly activities of the Alumni association.

WILL ADDRESS ASSEMBLY

Mr. Manley O. Hudson, professor in the Harvard Law school, will be the speaker in the student assembly at 11:10 o'clock today in the auditorium of Page hall, according to Dr. A. R. Brubacher, president. Mr. Hudson is the best informed man in the country on the League of Nations. His topic will be "Can the League of Nations Prevent War in Europe."

Frosh-Soph Game For Rivalry Cup To Be Wednesday

Another event in inter-class rivalry will take place Wednesday at 8:00 o'clock when the freshman and sophomore men's basketball teams meet on the Page hall court for their annual contest. The victorious class will be awarded three points in inter-class rivalry.

At the present time the freshman class has taken the lead with a slender margin of 1/2 point—their score being 5 1/2 against the sophomores' 5. Four of the events scheduled have already taken place; the remaining eight, with an aggregate of 23 1/2 points to be awarded, will be conducted in time for the awarding of the cup to the victorious class on Moving-up day.

The men from the classes who will see action on Wednesday night are as follows:

Freshmen: centers, Neal Kane and John O'Brien; forwards, Lyle Lawton, Paul Schmitz, and Abe Wasserman; guards, Frank Hildebrandt, John Masko, and Peter Rodenrys.

Freshmen Appoint Debate Committee

At a meeting of the freshmen class on Monday, a committee was appointed to make arrangements for the freshman-sophomore debate to be held in the near future. The committee consists of Herbert Drooz, chairman, Warren Densmore, and Jean Lichenstein.

Plans were also suggested for a freshman dinner to be conducted after the Easter vacation. A committee was appointed to formulate plans for the dinner with the following members: Helen Williams, chairman; Grace Yorkey, Florence Zubris, Harold Reissig, and Elton Murphy.

Senate Passes Student Oath Bill Ignoring Recent Vassar Opposition

Even though eighty girls from Vassar college marched upon the capital two weeks ago in a surprise assault upon the Senate in the State Legislature in opposition to the Numan student oath bill, the Senate passed the bill Monday night by a 44 to 10 vote.

The Numan bill, similar to the Ives Teachers' oath law which was adopted last summer, requires all students at public colleges, universities and normal schools to take an oath of loyalty to the Constitution. The express purpose of the bill is to keep communists out of the college of the City of New York.

Senator Joseph D. Numan, Jr., New York Democrat, said in support of his own measure, "This bill doesn't interfere with free speech. All we ask is that the student getting his or her education at public expense respect the country making that possible. I think that much is coming to the taxpayers who support these schools."

Question Of Proposed Compulsory Student Tax Again Faces Assembly

Discussion of the proposed compulsory student tax will be continued in the 11:10 assembly in Page hall auditorium, Clifford Rall, '35, student council president, stated this morning.

The opinions of Dr. A. R. Brubacher, president, on the compulsory student tax resolutions, will be found on the editorial page of the News.

State Professor Receives Injuries In Fighting Fire

Misfortune for the second time within the past month overtook Dr. George Painter, professor of philosophy, Monday morning when he was seriously burned by a fire at the home where he was staying.

The accident occurred about 8:00 o'clock in Dr. Painter's room at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Lehman, 657 Washington avenue. He had left the room and upon returning, found his desk and papers in flames, and one side of the room ablaze. He attempted to smother the flames with his hands, and in doing so was badly burned on both hands and about the face. Mrs. Lehman summoned firemen who came to his aid, and he was immediately rushed to St. Peter's hospital, where he is now recovering.

Dr. Painter had the misfortune to sprain his ankle very badly several weeks ago, when he fell on the ice. He had just begun to walk about and was planning on walking to college Monday morning, when the accident befell him.

Dr. Painter, for a man of his age, is in very excellent physical condition, and he had enjoyed very good health previous to his accident. It is believed that he will be absent from his classes at least a week. His Education 5 classes will be conducted by Miss Margaret Hayes, assistant professor of child development, and his classes in philosophy will be discontinued until his return to college.

Resolutions asking for acceptance of Finance Board recommendations in re compulsory tax were introduced in the assembly last week. Because of the lack of time for adequate discussion, a motion to reconsider the question was introduced after the association had passed the resolutions.

The reconsideration move was immediately blocked by a motion to lay on the table. The question as to whether this action affected the status of the original question provoked discussion during the week. Consultation of Robert's Rules of Parliamentary Procedure disclosed that "a Motion to lay on the table may be applied to . . . the motion to reconsider when immediately pending, in which case the question to be reconsidered goes to the table also." Further, "If reconsideration is laid on the table or postponed definitely, the question to be reconsidered and ALL ADHERING QUESTIONS GO WITH IT."

As a consequence, following the passage of a motion to take from the table, the following resolutions will again face the student association this morning:

BE IT RESOLVED: That this student association of the New York State College for Teachers accept the recommendation of the student board of finance that an investigation be made immediately to ascertain the procedures by which a compulsory payment of student tax may be effected. And

BE IT RESOLVED: That the President and Faculty of this College be petitioned to consider this resolution for presentation to the Board of Regents, or to such authority as may be necessary to secure the enactment of proposed compulsory payment of student tax. And

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: That the President of this Student Association be empowered to appoint a committee for the purpose of investigating and reporting to this Association such action as may be taken.

Dr. Bergin To Head Romance Languages

The administration has added the department of romance languages to its curriculum for next year, President A. R. Brubacher announced today. This new department is the result of the consolidation of the departments of French and Spanish with the addition of courses in Italian. Dr. Thomas Goddard Bergin will head the department.

Courses in Italian will be introduced into the college curriculum in order to meet the ever-increasing demand for teachers of that subject, according to President Brubacher. The cultural value to be derived from the study of a modern romance language such as Italian was another reason given for the addition of the courses.

Dr. Bergin, a graduate of Yale university, has served as an instructor on the Yale faculty and as professor of romance languages at Western Reserve college. He is also well-known as the author of several books on various phases of foreign language study.

HAS STUDENT TAX "COME TO STAY"?

"The fact that every student paid his amount into this fund of voluntary taxes is sufficient proof that the student tax is an institution which has come to stay."

How true a prophet was the author of this article which was published in the May 17, 1919, issue of the STATE COLLEGE NEWS? Within the four years that the present senior class has been contributing to the student tax budget, the voluntary payments of the entire student body have dropped from about 93% of that body to approximately 58%. This drastic reduction in the number of students supporting the extra-class activity program has necessitated immediate action toward revision of the voluntary contribution system of tax collections if the activities are to survive at State. Attempts to increase the number of payments within the last year, which included a reduction in the amount of the tax from thirteen to ten dollars, brought forth some results as the total number of students paying the tax this year is slightly greater than that for the year 1933-34. However, the results have not been sufficiently gratifying to warrant the continuance of the voluntary system.

The student body will again consider the resolutions which were unanimously adopted by the student board of finance last Tuesday and presented in the student assembly Friday morning. The question is a vital one to the student life of State college. Will we retain our activities by providing adequate financial support for them, or will we regard the matter lightly and allow a dwindling budget to undermine the healthy functioning of an otherwise sound extra-class system? A temporary committee has already been appointed to investigate the possibilities of establishing a compulsory student tax at State college. No definite action can be taken, however, without the final decision rendered by the student body. Therefore, it is essential that each and every member of the Student Association should voice his opinion upon the question in order that the committee may be empowered to find some means of solving the problem. They are our activities; we must support them. How shall we do it? Vote today. It is your job to help place your association on a firm basis.

Dr. Brubacher Issues Statement

Dr. A. R. Brubacher, President, expressed the following opinions on the current question of the student tax when interviewed by a member of the NEWS board: "The student activities carried on under our blanket tax system has been a splendid example of cooperative endeavor. The management of the tax plan, including the levying of the tax, making allocations and disbursements, has given excellent experience to all who have shared in it. The inherent democracy of the plan is its chief value. To make it compulsory would destroy its educational values. "The college could not collect this tax except in accordance with state laws regulating all similar financial transactions. The tax would have to be approved by the legislature, its collection and disbursements would have to be made in strict accordance with the audit and control of the state comptroller. The student body has reached a critical point in this matter. Unless full support can be assured the tax plan must fail. I cannot believe that there is so little of the old State college spirit in the present student body."

BOOKS: Who Reads What?

E. A. R.

Who Reads What? By Charles H. Compton. 113 pages. New York: H. W. Wilson Company. $1.25.

In a series of brief, to-the-point essays, Mr. Compton points out with statistics and estimates just what types of people are interested in just what types of reading material today.

He has chosen as typical the works of Mark Twain, Thomas Hardy, Carl Sandburg, William James, and Bernard Shaw among modern authors, and has also investigated readers of the Greek classics.

Mr. Compton's method was to go to the great libraries and inquire just how many people read each of these authors and the classics, who they were, and what they were. He tabulated the lists of people according to their professions; and it is surprising how seldom the results of his tabulation fulfill the expecta-

STATE'S STAGE

The advanced dramatics class should be proud of the ability displayed by every actor on the stage Tuesday night. Both plays moved with swiftness and precision, never faltering to our recollection.

In the first play, Mr. Rooney gave the most varied characterization; Miss Dixon the most convincing. Miss Stone excelled as usual in her accent. Mr. Taylor was good but his lines were lost since he usually spoke while the audience was laughing.

In the second play, Miss Hirsh did the most with her part. She has ability and sustained ability. Mr. Hardmeyer, as did Miss Hirsh, appeared too fresh for the coarse character he portrayed. He lacked the brutality that might have colored the first act, but he acted his part with characteristic ease and good humor. The accents of the three ladies were not sufficiently distinct, but through posture and gesture they attained sufficient variety and effectiveness.

The sets, however, for both plays were more scanty than they need have been. The essentials were there, but so much can be done to create atmosphere and character through this medium, it should not be so lightly regarded.

If the director had explained that the breakfast room in the first play was a remodeled stable, we might give it praise, but we fear such was not their intention. In the second play, the flower pot was a good touch, but we had hoped for more of them.

We have but one suggestion for the advanced dramatics class. Better sets! THE PLAYGOER.

Kyte To Lecture On Modern Novels

"Some Modern Novelists" is the subject Captain E. Cockburn Kyte, librarian of Queens University Library, Kingston, Ontario, has chosen for his lecture at the Albany Institute of History and Art, Wednesday night at 8:30 o'clock.

Captain Kyte will discuss the aspects of the modern novel as revealed in the works of H. E. Bates, Constance Holme, Ronald Fraser, Charles Morgan, H. A. Manshood, K. H. Lawrence, Sir Arthur Quiller-Couch, William Faulkner, John Dos Passos, Ernest Hemingway and other British and American authors.

TO ATTEND CONFERENCE

Members of the STATE COLLEGE NEWS board will attend the convention of the Columbia Scholastic Press association in New York City Thursday, Friday and Saturday. At this time they will learn the rating of the NEWS among other college publications of its kind.

"Lead Belly" To Present Program Of Negro Spirituals Monday Night

John Lomax to Bring Accomplished Guitar Playing Minstrel To Page Hall Auditorium in a Presentation Of Ballads, Blues, and Reels

"Lead Belly" the huge black minstrel from Louisiana, who has created such a furor in New York City during the past month, will present a program of blues, ballads, and reels under the direction of John Lomax, eminent folk-lore collector, in the auditorium of Page hall, Monday night at 8:30 o'clock, under the auspices of the State College Alumni association.

"Lead Belly" has already won his freedom from two life sentences in different state penitentiaries in the south through his vocal prowess and his accomplishments with the 12 string guitar. As Lomax's life-long servant and body guard, "Lead Belly" has since toured the country, presenting programs of his songs and ballads. He has a repertoire of over five hundred ballads and spirituals, many of which he has composed himself. "Lead Belly" was called by Dr. Harold W. Thompson, professor of English, "the reincarnation of a medieval minstrel."

Admission will be fifty cents and thirty-five cents with student tax ticket. The committee in charge of arrangements is: Dorothy Brunner Ten Eyck, 30, president of the Eastern Branch of the Alumni association; Margaret Koolhan, 33; Louis C. Jones, instructor in English; William Jones, 35, and Alvina Lewis, 33. Dr. Thompson is advisor to the committee.

Classical Club Fete To Be Novel Dinner

A banquet conducted as one would have been centuries ago in ancient Rome will be given by the Classical club Wednesday night at 6:00 o'clock in the cafeteria of Husted hall, according to Julia Merchant, 30, general chairman.

Committee chairmen are: food, Anna May Alamillo, 35; arrangements, Ruth Yergin, 35; publicity, Alice Gray, 36; and entertainment, Zenobia Carrara, 35.

The following faculty guests will be present: Miss Edith Wallace, assistant professor of Latin, Miss Marion Chesbrough, instructor in Latin, Miss Virginia Smith, supervisor in French and Latin, and Miss Lydia Johnson, supervisor in Latin.

ENTRIES DUE MAY 1

All entries for the Leah Lovenheim prize for excellence in English composition must be submitted on or before May 1, according to Dr. Harry W. Hastings, chairman of the English department.

SPORT SHOTS

Now that the end of the season has come we feel that youse guys and gals should meet the team. This may also serve to introduce the lads to the R. P. I. boys. The gals need no introduction. So here's our, who's who.

Cliff Rall—Captain Cliff—known as Butch. A bound on defense—always steady—good old reliable—plays his last game for good old State tomorrow night.—Don't miss it.

Bob Murray—a veteran performer—starred at Union before coming to our classic shades—high scorer for the year—a dead shot from the center of the floor and a tough man to guard—shoots from any angle.

Dan Finch—another veteran—has been around (to colleges, of course)—a smooth worker (on the court)—never gets ruffled—can, and does, sink them in from any territory.

Al Jadick—another senior—a regular in his sophomore year—kept out by injuries last season—staging a strong comeback.

Len Walter—Lanky Len—a product of the inter-class league—never played in high school—a demon at retrieving the ball under the enemy basket—has a neat follow-up shot—if we could only get him good and sore—oh boy!

Jerry Anyot—the smoothest passer on the squad—fans all delight in his deft ball-handling—a crack shot from the southpaw side—has another year to go.

George Bancroft—a snarling wolf on the defense—the bloodier the battle the better he likes it—spends half of each game on the floor—the wierdest shot on the team—makes 'em all the hard way—always gets the first basket—wait and see.

Fred Byrnes—only soph on the squad—a specialist on long one-handed shots—has his real good nights—we hope he's on tomorrow.

In spite of all the compliments, we calmly (may, contemptuously) predict the score as R. P. I. 36, State 35. We're only doing the boys a favor.

TO COMPILE BUDGETS

All activities included in the budget of the Student Association are requested to compile their budgets for the year 1935-1936 immediately and have them ready to present to the student board of finance when the board calls for them.

Purple And Gold Downs Bay State Five In Dull Game

The Purple and Gold clad State basketball squad downed the Massachusetts State Teachers outfit 41-35 in a close but unexciting contest on the Page hall court last Saturday. The local boys were out in front from beginning to end of the contest and never were in danger, even though the final result was far from one-sided.

George Bancroft once more garnered the first basket and gave the outstanding performance of the contest, rolling up eleven points within two minutes of actual playing time. Bob Murray showed the way in the team scoring, annexing an even dozen markers. Len Walter turned in a workmanlike performance, registering ten points and performing adequately on defense.

The teamwork didn't click in this contest, the squad as a whole being badly off form. The boys had better rally round before tomorrow night or we won't have the conventional happy ending for the season. The box score:

100 Men Sought For Class of '39

Larger Number of Male Students Will Not Lower Scholastic Average Greatly

The number of men entering State college in the class of 1939 will be increased in order to establish a more nearly equal proportion among the men and women students of the college, according to an announcement issued by Dr. A. R. Brubacher, president.

Pointing out that the scholastic average from the men entrants would not be much lower than the entrance standards already maintained, Dr. Brubacher stated that this policy would be attempted in selecting the incoming freshman class.

"We are making an effort to increase the number of men to 100," Dr. Brubacher stated. "We hope thereby to draw students from the village and rural areas of the state. Last year, if we had admitted as many as 100 men, the scholastic average of the lowest entrant would have been around 82 percent instead of the 85 percent standard."

Statistics gathered from the files of the News show that the number of men students has been steadily increasing. In 1922 there were 30 men in the freshman class. Since that time the number has increased until, in 1932, there were 64 freshmen men enrolled. In the coming year, if the proposed plan works satisfactorily, an all-time high of 100 male freshmen will be reached.

State college will undoubtedly derive a great deal of benefit from this increased male enrollment. Sports will take on an added prestige because of the wealth of material available. The prospective football team will be selected from a squad greatly strengthened by this influx of first-year men, and all sports in which State has inter-collegiate competition will be directly benefited.

Assembly To Face Tax Question Again

A preliminary investigating committee has already been appointed by President Rall, pending the conclusion of the question. Those named to the committee include: Mr. Clarence Hildley, assistant professor of history; Harriet Ten Eyck, '35, Girls' Athletic association president and Myskania member, chairman; Ruth Williams, '35, finance board member and co-editor of the News; Glenn M. Ungerer, finance board member; Frank M. Hardmeyer, sports editor of the News; and Paul Bulger, student council vice-president, juniors.

GRECIAN GAMBOLS

From 8:10 a.m. January 3 to 5:05 p.m. April 18 seems a tremendous reach of time, when viewed from the midpoint date of March 8. So the sororities settle down to a long spring nap (yes??). I mean as far as visitors go. However, Carolyn Kelley was a guest at B Z this week-end, and Frances Weber, ex-'35, spent some time at Alpha Rho.

A couple of pledges are announced by Alpha Rho also; Mildred Bodin and Helen Olski, both freshmen. B Z and K D are both one up now, with the addition of Gladys Finster and Anna Olsson, frosh, respectively, to the serried rows of pledges.

Gamma Kap is teasing the other sororities Saturday at 21 North Main, or so says Betty Vallance, '36, who is in charge of the affair.

Association Shows Art Works Exhibit

During this week, the Dramatics and Art association has been exhibiting different works of old and modern masters, on the display shelves in the back of the Hawley hall library.

Among the exhibits are the works of such painters as Hale, Rembrandt, and Picasso. The purpose of the exhibit is to show how colored reproductions can be helpful for educational purposes. The collection will be on display throughout next week for the observation of all students.

DORMITORY DRIVE STARTS

The annual dormitory fund drive will start Monday, David Kroman, president of the senior class, announced.

Teams will be captained by the following seniors: Harriet Ten Eyck, Sarah Logan, Dorothea Gahagan, Lucile Hirsh, David Kroman, Wilfred Allard, Helen Rich, Evelyn Rich, Thurston Paul, Evelyn Snehle, Margaret Delaney, Lillian Payne, Betty Gregory, and Hilda Heines.

Take a cigarette like CHESTERFIELD

You know I like that cigarette...

I like the way it tastes . . . there's plenty of taste there. Chesterfield is mild, not strong . . . and that's another thing I like in a cigarette. What's more, They Satisfy . . . and that's what I like a cigarette to do. I get a lot of pleasure out of Chesterfield . . . you know I like that cigarette.

Troubadour Show With Skits, Music To Be Next Week

The Troubadours, men's musical organization, will sponsor a musical production next Saturday, March 23, in the auditorium of Page hall, according to Carlton Coulter, '35, president. Edward Kramer, '36, has been appointed director.

The production will feature novelty skits and musical numbers, Kramer stated today. There will be dancing after the show, with music by Lew Rider's orchestra. The price of tickets for the show and dance is 35 cents per person.

Committees assisting Kramer are: setting, Ralph Van Horn, '37; house, Philip Carlson, '36; tickets and advertising, Samuel Silverman, '36; and music, John Cullen, '37.

DISPLAY ART EXHIBIT

A series of art exhibits are now on display in the Co-op. Included are contributions from J. T. Arms, Karr Eby, and an etching of Hawley hall which was done by George Plowman.

Honorary Society Will Have Dinner Tomorrow Night

Signum Laudis, senior honorary scholastic society, will conduct its annual dinner for the initiation of new members tomorrow night in the Boulevard cafeteria, according to Clara Stehner, '35, president. Dr. A. R. Brubacher, president of the College, will lead the initiation and Dr. Harold W. Thompson, professor of English and a faculty member of the organization, will also speak. Those present at the banquet will be the faculty members, the members who were elected in September, and those who were recently elected.

Seventeen members were named to the society in an announcement made in assembly Friday morning by Dr. Milton G. Nelson, dean. The names in alphabetical order are: Evelyn Allen, Janet Brown, Esther Carpenter, David Dickerman, Pearl Hamelin, David Kroman, Marguerite Lischer, Alfred Lucas, Ruth Madden, Lois Odwell, Donald Packard, Mary Riley, George Story, Emma Tenblad, Dorothy Van Steenburgh, Lucy Wing, and Ruth Yergin. The other twelve members of the society were elected in September.

Membership in the society is based upon scholastic achievement. Each year the highest four percent of the members of the senior class who have maintained an average of 2.00 or better, in the first three years of the college work, are eligible for membership in the fall. Six percent of the remaining members of the class are chosen for membership in the society in February. The requirements state that in the latter case, the average of 2.00 must have been maintained during the sophomore and junior years and the first semester of the senior year.

Y. W. C. A. Official To Meet Cabinets

Miss Katherine Duffield, National Student Secretary of the Young Women's Christian association, will be here Monday afternoon after meeting with the New York State Student Council at Syracuse university. She will meet with the first and second cabinets of Y. W. C. A. in the Lounge Monday afternoon. Miss Duffield, a graduate of Wellesley, is faculty director of the Silver Bay Conference at Silver Bay on Lake George every June. Anyone interested in hearing about Silver Bay will be more than welcome. The delegates from State college who attended the conference last year were: Sally Logan and Laura Clarke, seniors; Jacqueline Evans and Huldah Classen, juniors; and Elsa Smith, '37.

"Personal Interviews Are Key-Note In Landing Job," Says Bureau

"A personal interview is necessary if prospective applicants expect to secure teaching posts," Miss Edna M. Lowerree, secretary of the appointment bureau, recently told a representative of the STATE COLLEGE NEWS. Discussing the present situation with respect to jobs, Miss Lowerree pointed out that the applicants for every opening are numerous—especially with the prevalent number of unemployed teachers and graduates of teachers' and arts colleges.

Nunan Student Oath Bill Killed By Committee Action

Student interest, which was raised to a high pitch this week by a resolution introduced in assembly last Friday morning favoring the rejection of the Nunan student oath bill, received a cold bath with the information that the bill had been killed in the Assembly education committee.

The resolution, which raised a furor in the last assembly period, was laid on the table, supposedly with the intention of bringing it up again this morning for consideration. The action of the Assembly committee, of course, effectively terminates all necessity for action on the pending resolution.

Student objection to the bill was based on the grounds that a compulsory oath would in no wise guarantee the integrity of the State and Federal constitutions.

Two Fraternities To Conduct Joint Dinner In April

Men of Gamma chapter of Kappa Delta Rho fraternity and Edward Eldred Potter club are planning a "get-together" dinner. The tentative date set for the affair is the first Wednesday in April, and it will be conducted in the College cafeteria in Husted hall, according to Frank Hardmeyer and Edward Kramer, juniors.

The purpose of this dinner is to foster more friendly and cooperative relations between the members of the organizations, and to bind the men of State college together into a more unified group. A program will be planned which will include speakers from each organization and also a guest speaker.

Immediately after the dinner, a basketball game will be played in the Page hall gymnasium between two teams composed of Kappa Delta Rho and Edward Eldred Potter club men.

The committee in charge of arrangements consists of Frank Hardmeyer and William Baker, juniors, members of Kappa Delta Rho, and Edward Kramer, '36, and Harry Gumaer, '37, members of Edward Eldred Potter club.

TWO RECEIVE POSITIONS

Two seniors have received positions during the past week, according to Miss Edna Lowerree, secretary of the Appointment Bureau. Clifford Rall will teach English and social science at Saugerties, and Ruth Madden will also teach English and social science at Mt. Upton, New York.

Eddy To Address Students Today

International Y. M. C. A. Worker to Discuss the Peace Status of the Orient

Sherwood Eddy, graduate of Yale university, '91, and internationally known speaker, will address the student body this morning in assembly on the topic of "Peace in the Far East," according to Dr. A. R. Brubacher, president.

Dr. Eddy has visited for a considerable time in all of the European countries. He began his career as a missionary, spending 15 years in China. He then became general secretary of the Y. M. C. A.; and from that position stepped up to the position of international secretary of the Y. M. C. A., and spent additional time in China.

His first visit to Russia, as a Y. M. C. A. worker, was during the Russian Czaristic regime, and he was suspected by the government at that time of being involved in anti-Czaristic activities. Since the revolution overthrowing the old regime, he has visited Russia frequently, making a careful and intimate study of the present government, and has become thoroughly acquainted with Communism.

Dr. Eddy is personally acquainted with Ghandi, and has been a guest at Ghandi's home for considerable periods of time.

During the last five years, he has made two speaking tours through China at the request of the Chinese authorities, for the purpose of combating Communism in that country. He has just returned, within the last month, from a six months tour of China, and is thoroughly up to date in his knowledge of prison conditions in that country and their relations to Japan.

Professor Bergin Will Consolidate Modern Languages

As announced in last week's issue of the News, Dr. Thomas Goddard Bergin, a graduate of Yale university and former professor of romance languages at Yale and at Western Reserve college, will assume a corresponding position on the State college faculty next year. Concerning his appointment, Dr. A. R. Brubacher, president, issues the following statement:

"Professor Bergin has been elected professor of romance languages, not as head of the French department. He will be expected to develop courses in Italian and aid in strengthening the courses in French and Spanish. A demand for teachers of Italian is now noticeable. It is hoped that the work offered in Spanish can be made broader by this addition to the romance language group."

PARTY TO BE TONIGHT

Canterbury club will conduct a St. Patrick's day party tonight at 8:00 o'clock in the "Commons" of Hawley hall. The committee in charge includes: Marion Walker, '35, Isabel Davidges, '37, and Ethel Little, '38.
