TAX LECTURE BY JOHN Z. WHITE

John Z. White, of Chicago, an authority on municipal and federal taxation, was the first speaker at the series of civic lectures which opened last Wednesday night in the auditorium of the college. The lectures are under the auspices of the college, in co-operation with the Civil League. The topic of Mr. White's lecture was "The Single Tax."

The speaker was introduced by President A. R. Brubacher. "Land and human industry are the only two successful taxable things in this country," declared Mr. White, "and until taxation is confined to these alone, the progress of the municipality or the country at large will be handicapped."

To further illustrate this point Mr. White cited instances in the city of Chicago where, he said, 69 per cent. of the building lots are now vacant because of the high improvement tax rate.

"To tax public improvements in a community is to lower the value of the land, and with this comes a disastrous blow to the town or city," he said.

Municipal Taxation.

Mr. White endorsed municipal taxation on land, and said

SECOND CIVIC LECTURE TO-NIGHT

The second lecture in the series of civic lectures will be given to-night in the auditorium by Mr. Robert S. Binkerd, Secretary of the City Club of New York. His topic will be "The History and Problems of American City Government."

Mr. Binkerd will discuss early forms of municipal government, the building of the long ballot, the influence of the Civil War on city government, the age of franchise grabbers, separation of city government from national and State politics, the struggle to secure simpler and more efficient city government and the conception of the modern city as the agent of an affirmative social policy.

A prize of ten dollars is offered by Dr. C. M. Culver for the best essay on the subject of this lecture.

THIRD LIFE INSURANCE LECTURE FRIDAY MORNING.

The chapel period on Friday morning will be taken up with the third of the series of lectures on life insurance. The speaker will be Mr. Chas. C. De Rouville, who is the General Agent of the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Co. in Albany. Mr. De Rouville's topic will be "Life Insurance To-day." His speech will cover the following sub-topics:

- Insurance Laws.
- Kinds of Life Insurance Companies.
- Care in Investments.
- Adaptability and Uses of Life Insurance to Meet Modern Requirements.
- Opportunities in Life Insurance as a Life Vocation.

HOCKEY vs. R. P. I. DEC. 19.

The managers of the Hockey Team have thus far scheduled one game; that is with R. P. I. and dated for Dec. 19th. Judging by the present outlook the game will have to be postponed until after the Christmas holidays unless colder weather puts the rink into condition.

R. P. I. Defeats State College

Season Opens With Defeat — "Honey" Miller Stars

Contrary to the expectations of most State College students R. P. I. defeated the Purple and Gold in the first game of the season, which was played Friday evening, December 8th, in Troy. The score of the contest was 45:21.

About three hundred students and their friends accompanied the State College team to Troy and loyally stood by the five during all stages of the game. The game started fast, and a whirlwind pace was kept up for about fifteen minutes. During this time the State College five was R. P. I.'s equal in every department of the game. Their passing was accurate, their floorwork fast, and their judgment good. In the first few minutes Reusselaer shot ahead to a four point lead, but State College immediately tied the score. Again and again the engineers would forge ahead, but the wearers of the Purple and Gold would even up the count. The score stood 11:11. The large bleachers on both sides of the gym seemed to be trembling with the excitement of the spectators. Cheer upon cheer came from the followers of both teams. Each side felt sure of victory; the crisis of the game had come; the team now getting the break would win. The realization of this fact brought forth renewed yells. The men on the floor were doing their utmost; the State College five was playing beyond expectations. Hope began to rise in the heart of every supporter of the Purple and Gold. Then the break came, and it favored R. P. I. Peckham, the State College center, was weakening on account of trouble with his side. Captain Jones knew that to stop the game would mean the break. He had hoped his pivotman would recover, but when he saw his team slowed up by the center's inability to keep up the pace, he called for time out. After that it was R. P. I.'s game. State College by no means gave up, but fought the Trojans to the finish, making them work for every point won. But they simply could not hit their stride again. Only when F. Fitzgerald was substituted for Goewey at forward and Goewey went in at center in Peckham's place did their playing again resemble that of the first fifteen minutes.

The score at half time was 23:13 in favor of R. P. I., and the true final score should have been in that proportion or better. S. Fitzgerald had a bad day at foulshooting, making good only in one out of eleven trials. A better record in this department would have made the score look better. For R. P. I. Ewing starred with eleven baskets. This, however, was made possible only by the good floor work of Woolsey, who was hardly ever covered after the first part of the game. The Woolsey-Parrott-Ewing combination coming down the floor was too much for the State College defence, although both Jones and Miller did all in their power to stop them. It was simply a case of two against three with the natural result. Miller, a new man with the Purple and Gold, played a brilliant game. Without taking any credit from any of the other men, it

NEW ENGLISH SYLLABUS ADOPTED

Most Constructive Step in Teaching Taken in United States, Commissioner Finley Declares.

A revised syllabus of English for secondary schools was adopted for recommendation to the Board of Regents by the New York State examinations board, at the annual session Saturday in the Education Building.

Inasmuch as the examinations board serves in an advisory capacity to the Board of Regents, it is expected the new syllabus will be adopted when the board meets within two weeks. If passed upon it will apply to the class entering high school in September, 1917.

Another important feature of the session was the proposed adoption of a new syllabus for the seventh and eighth grades in the elementary schools and the first grade in the high school, which will be known as the "middle school." Presi-

THE JOSEPH HENRY SOCIETY.

At the regular meeting held Nov. 22 Guy V. Bruce gave an interesting discussion on "The Physics of the Earthquake," a brief synopsis of which is given here. The ancients believed that the earthquake was the visitation of an angry deity. Even among the civilized peoples of a comparatively modern age, such absurd and amusing ideas were held. About the middle of the 19th century Japan started the first real scientific investigation to find the true cause of the earthquake. In brief, the scientists of to-day say that an earthquake always means a yielding to stress, which is the result of an unstable condition in gravitational equilibrium. This unstable equilibrium is due to the cooling and contraction of the earth's interior, which causes the outer crust to bulge out and finally fracture, and return to its former state of equilibrium with a great shock. The "dislocation earthquake" is caused by the earth "caving in," and this sometimes leaves a visible crack or fault. The area embracing the actual displacement is comparatively small in any earthquake, while the shock may be sensibly felt over an entire continent. What becomes of the enormous amount of energy of the earthquake? Omitting details, the energy is reflected within the crust and transmitted back and forth through the entire mass of the earth in form of faint tremors, that may continue for hours, and finally fritter away in heat.

CHEMISTRY CLUB.

Mr. Taylor, of the Lansingburg High School, and formerly chemist with the Diamond Match Company in their factory in Oswego, N. Y., addressed the Chemistry Club on Friday, Dec. 8. Mr. Taylor showed the development of the match, beginning with the old brimstone match, which was made by dipping splints of wood in sulphur and igniting this with the spark from flint and steel. Following this came the "chemical" match, which was made of an oxidizing agent, sulphur and sugar, and was ignited by dipping in sulphuric acid.

Later there was the "friction" match, and this was the one that was used universally until the early part of the twentieth century. The modern "safety friction" match is the friction type that is now used, while the "safety" match, a Swedish invention, has been in use for some fifty years.

Mr. Taylor told about some of the methods that are used in analyzing the materials and finished products. At the close of the meeting he was elected to honorary membership.

The following members were elected to serve as officers of the Club: President, Miss Stewart; Vice-President, Miss Payne; Secretary, Miss Murtaugh; Treasurer, Mr. Winkler; Librarian, Miss Johns; Counselor, Mr. Kennedy.

The Club is still growing rapidly, the following students being elected to membership: Jessie Lane, Edna Woodward, Ruth Patterson, Harold Lobdell, Walter Fraser, Nelson Force, Verna McCann and Edith Sullivan.

NEW FEATURE IN INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT.

Last year a new course in plumbing and electric wiring was added to the industrial work. The students of that class have successfully carried out their plans to the best of their ability within the class room. It has been a perfect success as far as general practice is concerned, but this year the Industrial Department has undertaken a new project which has many advantages over the former work. This project has brought to the students a more practical understanding of the work, as they are reinstalling the plumbing and electric wiring necessary for the completion of the house selected by the Home Economics Department of the College.

The students taking this course are very fortunate in procuring such practical means for putting their theoretical training to a test, and are showing their appreciation by the earnestness evidenced in carrying out instructions.

The practice house is directly opposite the College at 429 Washington avenue. The girls of the Home Economics Department have already started to furnish it. With the combined efforts of both Departments, it is expected that in the near future the facilities for putting all theoretical training into practice will be greatly improved.

CHARLES ZEILMAN '19
HOLDS WEBER, R. P.
I. MAN, TO DRAW.

Chas. Zeilman '19, State College's strong man, went to Troy last Friday evening and there, between the halves of the R. P. I.-State College game, gave a wrestling exhibition with R. P. I.'s crack wrestler. Although Weber seemed to have a little the better of it, yet Zeilman was never in danger. The exhibition was clean and interesting. It is to be hoped that Zeilman and some of the other State College wrestlers will have other chances to show what they can do.

CONSUMERS' LEAGUE.

What are you doing for the membership campaign at S. C. T.? Syracuse has a membership of 500, Smith 900, Mt. Holyoke 300. Help our League to swell its number to 500 by joining before Dec. 14. The losing side of the campaign gives a party to the League. We want you there.

The League must grow. If you know of someone employed in store or factory, help to better their working conditions by giving your support.

Occasionally we will have State and National speakers at our meetings to tell us what is being done elsewhere. We are going to work in cooperation with St. Agnes' School League. We have planned a canvass of the stores in the city for White Label goods. There is a fine exhibit in the main hall.

Help others to live by joining the League. Shop early.

Officers: President, Miss Mildred Bently; Vice-President, Miss Elizabeth Ferguson; Secretary and Treasurer, Miss Mary Ann Hardenbergh.

INDUSTRIAL ORGANIZATION GIVES RECEPTION.

Saturday evening the recently formed Industrial Organization entertained the Senior Home Economic girls at a party given in the industrial building. The affair was an all-around good time, and everybody present enjoyed it immensely. The main object of the affair was to make everybody acquainted, and in order to achieve this purpose prizes were offered to those who succeeded in making the largest number of acquaintances. Miss Palmer succeeded in carrying off the premier honors, while Miss Halleron received the second prize. A consolation prize was given to the person in the room known to have met the least number of new people. Mr. Goff modestly accepted the token. Among the faculty members present were Prof. and Mrs. Smith, Prof. and Mrs. Douglas and Prof. Burke.

JUNIOR CLASS.

The Junior Prom. Committee is working on its plans for that function, and committees on the banquet and reception have been appointed by Miss Moore.

All Juniors are asked to contribute original class songs and yells to our new cheerleader, Alfred Dedicke.

R. P. I. Defeats State College

can be said that he was the best man on the team. Illness prevented Coach Wachter from being at the game and undoubtedly that was one reason for the defeat. Again, the men may have been overtrained just a little, so that the very large court in Troy was too much for them.

In spite of the defeat the team is looking forward to the Union game on Saturday with the greatest of confidence. The ice is now broken. Coach Wachter will go with them to Schenectady, and the Union court is much more to their liking. Besides it is the opinion of many, that the Union team this year is not quite as good as R. P. I.'s. Also, F. Fitzgerald will probably have recovered from his injuries by then.

The large crowd of State College folks who went to Troy was encouraging. About 300 were over there. If this same interest prevails for the home games, the basketball management will not have much to complain about.

INTERCLASS BASKET BALL LEAGUE.

Sophomores Strengthen Lead.

Standing of the Teams:

Team	W.	L.	P.C.
Sophomores	5	1	83.3
Freshmen	4	2	66.6
Juniors	3	3	50.0
Seniors	0	6	0.0

The Sophomores made their lead in the Basket Ball League more secure during the past week by winning both games in which they took part. They are now leading the Freshmen, who are in second place, by one game. The Juniors are now in third place, two games behind the leaders and one behind the Freshmen. The week's playing showed a remarkable reversal of form on the part of the Senior team. They now have a very fast and hard working aggregation and the other teams will have to reckon with them. There have been rumors to the effect that the Seniors have been dropped from the League, but since they now have a good five together and are anxious to continue in the fight they will in all probability carry out their part of the schedule.

RESULTS OF GAMES.

Last Monday the Sophs played the Seniors. Both teams were weakened, the Seniors by the absence of Hager and the Sophs by the loss of Honey Miller, who, since he is a varsity man, is barred from class games. The game was the best played in the series this year. The score was close at all times, causing intense excitement among the spectators. At halftime the Sophs lead 11:10, then the Seniors surged ahead, due to some good floor work by Walker and some fine shots by Hlohaus. In the last few minutes of play Cassavant, who was the mainstay of the Sophomores throughout, made two great shots from the middle of the floor, thus saving the game for his team. The final score was 20:15.

The score:

Sophomores	F.B.	F.P.	T.P.

Pattinson, r.g.	1	0	2
Totals	7	1	15

Score at half time—11:10. Time of halves—15 minutes. Referee—Goewey. Timer—Hubbard. Scorer—McEwan.

On Wednesday afternoon the Sophs beat the Juniors by a score of 13:6. The Juniors, not having Cohen, who is on the varsity squad, and without anyone ready to substitute, played the game with but four men. The contest was not at all uninteresting. The second half, in which the Juniors outplayed the Sophs 6:2, was especially fast and full of life.

The score:

New English Syllabus Adopted

dent John H. Finley was authorized to appoint a committee to prepare a syllabus for these grades.

President Finley, in commenting upon the syllabus adopted, said it would have decided emphasis on oral English in that it will aim toward the better and more accurate use of the language in everyday life. He said:

"The most important feature of the new English syllabus is the emphasis that is placed on oral English, which is for the first time included in the general English syllabus. This consummation is the most notable constructive action relating to the teaching of English that has been taken in the United States. It is directed primarily not toward public speech, but toward the better and more accurate use of English in everyday life, recognizing the fact that in life, oral expression is used much more extensively than written expression and should therefore be given much attention."

The proposed revised syllabi in modern languages and in Latin were referred to Dr. Finley with authority to reformulate and present to the Board of Regents for adoption. The chief characterization of these syllabi is the vocabulary, which every student will be expected to know at the end of the second year. In the Latin lists there are 1,000 words and in the German 2,500. The French and Spanish lists have not been submitted, but it is expected they will include about 2,500 words each.

A list of 5,000 words for use in the elementary schools was presented and a passing mark of eighty-five per cent. will be required in spelling.

The requirements for the college entrance diploma in arts were moderated by adding second year Greek to the electives as a third foreign language.

Tax Lecture by John Z. White

that in places where it had been introduced, the towns and cities increased rapidly in wealth and in population. In the income tax there is embodied a double tax, for according to the lecturer, "all incomes are the result of land and toil.

"We have passed the point where taxation of improvements will be an incentive to build, and in order to protect the interests of the municipalities we should retreat to the point of land taxation."

The city of Victoria, Canada, was one of the first to adopt the municipal land taxation method, doing away with the improvement tax, and as a result the city is one of the most progressive in the Northwest.

The improvement tax is driving people away from the farms and into the cities where they are forced into the world of industry to the expense of the agricultural world. This, according to Mr. White, will lower the standard of the country in both an economic and military sense, for he declared further "a country that is first in commercial activity is bound to be successful in its military endeavors."

PSI GAMMA.

Ruth Patterson spent Thanksgiving with Luciele Stevens.

Margaret Christ '17 attended the Student Conference at Ithaca last week.

Luciele Hale visited at West Point over the week-end of Nov. 30.

Marjorie Mitchel, Nina Johns, Olive Horning and Lillian King spent Thanksgiving at their homes.

KAPPA DELTA.

Marion White '19 was received into full membership of Kappa Delta Wednesday evening. We extend her a hearty welcome.

We are planning to have a Christmas party at the house soon. Each of the girls will receive a suitable present from an anonymous Santa. You see he is a believer in the "safety first" doctrine!

KAPPA NU.

The second of our literary meetings was held last Monday night. Mae Cronin, Mary Kinsella and Mildred O'Malley '18 gave papers on several modern authors.

Florence Quinlavin '18 has been elected Vice-President of Spanish Club.

Edith Sullivan '18 is back at College after her recent illness.

Dr. Russell, of Saranac Lake, visited the house last Thursday. He entertained the house girls with a theatre party at the Grand.

ETA PHI NOTES.

The Eta Phi girls held an informal dance in the gymnasium, Friday evening, Nov. 24th, which was greatly enjoyed by all who attended. The faculty members and chaperons present were Prof. and Mrs. Risley, Prof. and Mrs. Birchenough, Mrs. Sayles, Mrs. Jacob Van Delon, Miss Jennie Holbrook and Miss Rhoda Butler.

Theda Mosher '16 visited the girls at the house last week.

Doris Smith '16, and Olive Getman, of Johnstown, were guests at the house for Thanksgiving.

We were delighted to welcome back Jennette Campbell '14, Geraldine Murray '16 and Doris Quinn '16, who were in town for Thanksgiving.

DELTA OMEGA NOTES.

The girls are planning to have their annual Christmas tree and all the fun that goes with it on Tuesday evening, Dec. 19.

Carolecia E. Lipps attended the Student Conference at Ithaca, Dec. 1, 2, 3.

Marion Wheeler, Jennie Davis and Hazel Bennett, all of '14, were at the house Saturday, Dec. 2.

Marion I. Blodget '17 spent the week-end of Dec. 8 at Wells College, Aurora, N. Y., as the guest of Elizabeth Little '15, who is librarian there.

SOPHS DEFEAT SENIORS.

Thursday noon the Soph girls' basket ball team defeated the '16 team to the tune of 7:6. At the end of the first half the score was 5:4 in favor of the Sophs. Early in the second half the Seniors gained one basket, making the score read 6:5 in their favor. The guarding of both teams was so close that no more baskets were made until one-half minute before the final whistle blew, and then Anna Burrell shot a basket which turned the game over to the Sophomores. In the line-up of the two teams were:

Seniors	Sophs
Moseley	Curtiss
Feder	Forward
Reynolds	Burrell
Post	Forward
Braem	Center
Burleigh	Andrae
	Center
	Dennin
	Side Cr.
	Lukens
	Guard
	Morrison
	Guard

Subst. 2nd half — Farrel for Dennin, Shirtz for Lukens. Scorer — E. Gray. Referee — Miss Gray. Linesmen — Austin, La. Rose. Timer — Hill. Time of Halves — 10 minutes.

PROMETHEAN.

Playlet to be Given.

There is a treat in store for the members of Promethean this week Thursday evening in the auditorium. A selected caste will present a love tragedy, entitled "Villekins and His Dinah." This is in the form of a clever pantomime with a musical accompaniment. A piano solo by Miss Dorothy M. Banner '20 and vocal solo by Miss Margaret Shevlin '18 will make the program complete. Each member may bring one guest. An important business meeting will be held directly before the program. Remember, this is not an open meeting. Each member is allowed to bring only one guest.
