1938 to Welcome Freshmen Tonight

Myskania, Sophomores to Explain State College Traditions at Annual Reception

The class of 1938 will accord a friendly welcome to their rivals, the freshmen, and will further explain the traditions of State college, at the annual sophomore-freshman reception to be conducted tonight at 8:00 o'clock in the auditorium of Page hall, according to Herbert Drooz, president of the sophomore class.

Members of Myskania, senior honorary society, are invited to attend, and will assist in introducing the freshmen to the traditions and customs of State.

Freshmen will be escorted to the reception by sophomore friends. They will be expected to enter by the side door of Richardson hall, where they will receive green identification tags. Sophomores will wear blue name tags.

The program will open with the singing of the Alma Mater, led by Frances Studelaker, '36, student association song-leader, and member of Myskania. Drooz will then welcome the freshmen and Myskania will read and explain interclass rivalry rules. The sophomores and freshmen will then proceed from the auditorium to the gymnasium of Page hall, where dancing will take place until 12:00 o'clock.

Allen Lewis, '36, Wins High Award At Commencement

Allen H. Lewis, '36, was announced as the winner of the Wheelock scholarship at the Commencement program conducted in June.

The Association of Academic Principals of New York state established this award in 1931 in memory of Charles Wheelock, a former president of the association and for many years a prominent figure in educational circles. The scholarship is given annually to the man in the senior class having the highest all-around record in academic work, extra-curricular activities, and potential success in the field of education.

Lewis is doing his major and minor work in the chemistry and physics departments, and is a member of both the Chemistry and Physics clubs. He is also a member of Kappa Phi Kappa, national education fraternity.

The Wheelock award last year was given to Dan Van Leuvan. Van Leuvan is teaching this year at Willsborough.

WILL MEET STUDENTS

Miss Edna Lawrence, secretary of the personnel bureau, will meet all seniors and graduate students this afternoon at 4:15 o'clock in room 29 of Richardson hall. It is important that all who are interested in securing teaching positions be present at this meeting, Miss Lawrence added.

News Continues to Offer Inter-College Features

Highlights of the inter-collegiate world conveyed through the columns of the Collegiate Digest are again brought to the State college student body this year through the efforts of the NEWS.

In the Collegiate Digest this year is a new feature in the Speed Graph photos taken with the "Magic Eye" camera depicting the continuous motions of athletes in action. Also, in the first issue, the biography of Will Rogers, America's greatest humorist, is being published.

Photos concerning college activities which students wish published in the Digest should be sent to the editor of the Collegiate Digest at P. O. Box 472, Madison, Wis. Regular newspaper rates are paid for all photos accepted for publication.

IN 11:10 ASSEMBLY

Dr. Brubacher Is Assembly Speaker

Dr. A. R. Brubacher, president, will speak briefly in the 11:10 student assembly today on the topic, "Constitution Day—Its Significance". He will also welcome the class of 1939 to the college.

Marshals for the individual classes will be announced and further plans for entertainment for the freshmen will be made public.

College Bonfire And Rally to Be At Residence Hall

An All State rally and bonfire will be conducted tomorrow night at the new Residence hall field between Partridge and Ontario streets at 7:30 o'clock.

A huge bonfire in the middle of the new athletic field will form the setting for the program, which will include addresses by President A. R. Brubacher and Dean Helen H. Moreland. The presidents of each class will also give short addresses.

Besides the addresses the students will engage in the singing of songs, and cheering under the direction of the student cheer leaders will be featured. A snake dance will bring the rally to a close.

CLUB TO HIKE

The ecology or biology 12 class will make a field trip this afternoon to the Central avenue meadows. All students interested in going are requested to meet in room 260 of Husted hall at 1:30 o'clock.

POST NOTICES BY CO-OP.

Students must use the bulletin board by the Co-op for notices concerning books for sale. Dr. A. R. Brubacher, president, announced yesterday.

Students Support Tax Collections

Freshmen Lead Other Classes as Receipts for Three Days Surpass $6,000 Mark

Students this year received the new Student Tax collection plan very enthusiastically with a record of 220 students having paid their tax of $10.00 on Monday, the first day of collection. This number is identical with the number of students who paid their tax last year in the first two days of collection.

On Tuesday, 140 cards were issued, and on Wednesday, with freshmen registration, 270 of the class of 1939 paid their tax. The standing of the various classes as the NEWS goes to press is as follows: Freshmen, 270 paid; sophomores, 96 paid; juniors, 107 paid; seniors, 107 paid. Students who have not paid their tax will be given another opportunity next week, when the tax will be collected from 9:00 until 2:00 o'clock every day.

The 1935-36 budget, which was passed in May by the student assembly, totals $13,113.87, which is an increase of $821.87 over the 1934-35 budget, but is still approximately $2,000.00 under the 1933-34 appropriation. The total figure of the budget was arrived at after each organization had reviewed their needs and cut where possible to the lowest possible figure.

This year, football has been incorporated into the budget for the first time in over ten years, with an appropriation of $750.00. Intra-mural sports are also receiving a larger appropriation on the budget this year, with a total of $250.00, or an increase of $175.00 over the 1934-35 appropriation. Music association this year will receive $800.00, as compared with $600.00 in 1934-35, and the National Student Federation appropriation for 1935-36 will be $144.28 for this year, as compared with $75.00 for 1934-35.

Those organizations whose appropriations were cut were the NEWS, from $2,000.00 to $2,312.40; Dramatics and Art association from $1,200.00 to $1,000.00, and Myskania and Student Council, from $300.00 to $206.00.

Myskania Names Class Guardians

Myskania, senior honorary society, announced this morning eight guardians for the respective classes for the year 1935-36. Jayne Buckley and Paul Bulger will supervise senior class activities and Elizabeth Griffin and Karl Ebers will sponsor activities of the junior class. Elaine Baird and Glenn Ungerer were named to supervise the sophomore class program, and Frances Studelaker and Frank Hartmeyer to organize and sponsor freshman activities.

Placements Indicate Commerce Field Contains Best Prospects

A recent analysis of the positions secured for the graduates of the class of 1935 shows that the placements in the commerce field have greatly outdistanced those in any other department. Approximately thirty-three and one-third per cent of the total positions secured were in this department.

In an interview with Mr. George York, head of the commerce department, it was revealed that the demand for competent commercial teachers is still much in excess of the supply. During the last few days of the summer vacation period, the calls for teachers, especially men, were more than could be supplied. At least ten more men, had they been available, could have been placed. About ninety per cent of the commerce majors in the last senior class are now teaching and nearly all the remaining ten per cent are working in some other capacity. The real opportunity is now in the commerce field

IS CHAIRMAN

Charlotte Rockow, '36, who is general chairman for the Activities day program tomorrow morning.

Jaqueline Evans Heads 'Y' Cabinet

The Young Women's Christian association will carry on its program this year under the direction of the following cabinet: president, Jaqueline Evans, '36; vice-president, Charlotte Rockow, '36; undergraduate representative, Elsa Smith, '37; secretary, Dorothy Clapp, '38; meetings, Miss Rockow; social services, Margaret Woodruff, '36; devotions, Lois Potter, '36; publicity, Christine Dershimer, '38; music, Katherine Crandall, '37; membership, Anne Rand, '37; social, Jayne Buckley, '36; book table, Alice Bennett, '38; conference, Luella Worsell, '36; bulletin board, Kathleen Stravell, '37; Silver Day, Virginia Stool, '37; world fellowship, Julia Merclant, '36; reporter, Jean Edgcombe, '38; and bazaar, Betty Studelaker, '37.

Cossack Chorus To Return Here

The Don Cossack chorus will return to State college for a second appearance on Wednesday, October 9, according to Frances Studelaker, '36, president of music association. Admission will be $1.25 for students, or tickets may be secured on presentation of student tax tickets when tickets are on sale.

MEN TO MEET

The men of the College will meet this noon in the auditorium of Page hall directly after assembly. This meeting is being called by Thomas Barrington, '37, intra-mural manager.

'39 To Attend Activities Day

Program Begins Tomorrow Morning at 8:00 O'clock in Commons of Hawley Hall

Members of the class of 1939 will be introduced to the extra-class activities of State college tomorrow morning at the Activities day program. The program will take place in the Commons of Hawley hall beginning at 8:00 o'clock, and is in charge of Charlotte Rockow, '36.

Junior guide captains will conduct tours of groups of freshmen around to the various activity tables, at each of which a college organization will be represented. Representatives of the various activities will explain the work of their organizations, and freshmen will be given an opportunity to enroll for future participation in the fields in which they are interested.

The program also includes refreshments and dancing until 12:00 o'clock.

State college publications to be represented at Activities day include: the STATE COLLEGE NEWS, in charge of Karl Ebers, '36, editor-in-chief; the Lion, humor magazine, in charge of Ralph Altman, '36, co-editor; the Echo, literary magazine, in charge of Altman, co-editor; Pedagogue, college annual, in charge of Virginia Chapell, '36, editor-in-chief.

The Girls' Athletic association table will be in charge of Elaine Baird, '36, president. The Men's intramural association will be represented by Thomas Barrington, '37, manager.

The Dramatics and Art council table will be in charge of Marjorie Wheaton, '36, president; Music council, in charge of Frances Studelaker, '36, president; Debate council, in charge of Ralph Altman, '36, president; State College Troubadours, in charge of Edward Kramer, '36, president.

Altman, Buckley Captain Debaters

Ralph Altman, '36, was chosen president of Debate council for 1935-36 at the last meeting of the council in May. Jayne Buckley, '36, will be vice-president and Robert Benedict, '37, secretary.

Elizabeth Hartline, '36, has been chosen student advisor to freshman debate for the coming year. Tryouts for the freshman squad will be announced during the fall.

New members of Debate council chosen in May were Angelo Zanniveri, '36, and Robert Benedict, Lester Rubin and Harry Gummer, juniors.

Reporter Records Rare Rules Reverberations

Although many a State college student was somewhat wistful last week about the limitations placed on the ancient tradition of all night Christmas parties by the new Absence Residence regulations, and many a sorority girl wondered just how to explain to alumnae that the new rules "apply to alumnae, guests and other residents," the NEWS eavesdropper heard the following expressions of joy as the 1935 Handbook spread the more strict regulations:

"The men, that they could hang around the sorority houses until 12:00 o'clock on week nights and 1:00 o'clock Saturdays and Sundays instead of 11:00 and 12:00 as in former years.

"The sophomore girls, the fact that they have to be in at 11:00 o'clock Sunday through Thursday but don't have to send the men home until 12:00 encourages sofa dates.

Upperclassmen, that the dance floor will be cleared ten minutes early after basketball games as freshmen women and their escorts rush to make the Dorm by 12:00 o'clock.

1939—STOP AND CONSIDER

A new era in the lives of three hundred freshmen opened this week as State absorbed into its student body the youthful aspirants to the teaching profession. These embryonic leaders, the cream of the crop of hundreds of applicants, shoulder a burden which all will not be able to bear, as records of past years show. Opportunity has knocked for these three hundred. Perhaps it has knocked too lightly for some to realize the significance of it. But to most it will be an opportunity to satisfy some human desire to be of use in a world of disorder, discontent and trouble. To some it is an opportunity for a higher education but not a definite determination to enter the teaching profession. And for some it will be four years of easy life, provided this group survives that long. It is this last group which generally provides the obstacles to the utopian ideas which educational leaders have for higher education in general.

State provides not a lone opportunity but a varied number to fit the individual into society in the best possible way. Members of the teaching profession cannot be successful just by acquiring a knowledge, no matter how complete, of their major and minor subjects without the ability of mingling with people. Few graduates return to their home towns and invariably find themselves in a small place where their access will depend on their ability to adapt themselves to their environment. It is not a difficult task to secure such social position at State. It is an asset that cannot be lost once gained.

State has always been proud of its graduates and the benefits they have rendered to the people of New York State. You members of the class of 1939 will in four years' time join the ranks of those who have left this institution. You will be expected to uphold that same high standard set by your predecessors. It is important that you think of the future now. Time always seems to be an eternity until it has passed and four years is but a second in the history of time. Be not the grasshopper that sees but the present but instead initiate the act with an eye to the future.

A WORD ON EXTRA-CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

To those who have attended freshman camp, the value of participating in extra-curricular activities has been stressed to some extent. Possibly in some cases it was over-emphasized in relation to the regular curriculum while in others it was more properly proportioned to its place in the life of a college student.

To some entering students, participation in extra-curricular activities means being active in all. This is probably the most dangerous interpretation to have, as students, endeavoring to compete with too large a number, must necessarily slight their regular college work. However, the participation in a few activities is almost a necessity in the securing of a well-rounded education, if not a job in later years.

Success in one or two of the various organizations of the student association will prove of more value than a scattering knowledge in a half dozen. The ability to direct a high school activity is becoming more and more a necessary essential in securing a teaching position. The opportunity is available for any student at State provided the student has the ability to choose wisely.

To help acquaint entering freshmen, Activities Day was organized to present the opportunity of entering some activity in the College. Tomorrow each organization will avail itself of the opportunity of helping the freshmen to join some activity. Each entering student can see for himself the results each produces and choose as his interests direct. Once again, opportunity knocks.

A BIT OF ADVICE FOR SENIORS

Despite the numerous receptions at the beginning of each college year to promote the feeling of friendship between the student body and the faculty, the habit of the students to shy away from their instructors still persists as the memory of their former meetings wears off. The idea that to be seen too frequently by some particular member of the faculty or even the faculty in general will earn a reputation of "hand-shaking" has caused an invisible barrier to form between the two bodies.

To say the least, such an idea is ridiculous. Even to believe any "wool" can be pulled over the eyes of an instructor casts a reflection on the intelligence of that person. On the contrary, faculty members are only too glad to meet the students, either on business or pleasure. If the feeling of friendship cannot develop after the meetings, receptions, and camps, the greater part of the value of those functions is lost.

For seniors to entertain such notions is to their own detriment. No graduating student can expect his departmental instructors or the Appointment Bureau to recommend him for a teaching position if these people do not know him sufficiently well to form their opinions. To believe that to be seen too frequently at the Appointment Bureau is "hand-shaking" is not good common horse sense. It is important that they sell themselves as well as their knowledge to those who must know. Seniors, be wise.

THE ALUMNI RESIDENCE HALL

The long awaited residence hall, the result of years of planning, hoping, and work on the part of students and faculty alike, is now practically completed and is ready for occupancy, and the new athletic field connected with the structure will soon provide State with the necessary facilities for its athletic programs. A monument to the loyalty of State alumni for its Alma Mater, the beautiful building and accompanying grounds are a proud asset to the College. They will endear State more deeply in the hearts of those who have shared their benefits and will be a reward to those who have contributed to make such an addition to the college campus possible.

THE MAN OF STATE
Miss Charlotte Loeb, whose death last fall created a vacancy in the professorship of French, is succeeded by Dr. Thomas G. Bergin, a graduate of Yale university. Dr. Bergin also received the degree of Ph.D. at Yale. He was instructor of romance languages in Yale and for the last five years has been instructor in Western Reserve university, Ohio. He will teach courses in French and Italian. Mr. Rutherford B. Baker, who resigned as coach and instructor in physical education, is succeeded by Mr. W. Irving Goevay. Mr. Goevay graduated from State college in 1919, was a captain in the World War, and later completed the course in physical education at Cortland normal school. (Continued on page 4, column 2)

Student Council Names Chairmen, Appoints Staffs

At the meeting of Student Council Wednesday noon, the following committees were appointed for the year 1935-6:

The chairman of the Campus commission will be Marjorie Kalaiddjian, '36. She will be assisted by Helen Clyde and Robert Macgregor, juniors; Clarence Van Ertou and Leslie Knox, sophomores, and Philip Sullivan, '29, Richard Margison, '36, will be chairman of the victrola committee; John Cullen and John Edwards, juniors, and John O'Brien, '28, and Charles Franklin, '29, will assist him.

Emma A. Mead, '36, has been appointed editor-in-chief of the State college directory. Elizabeth H. Moore and Ralph Van Horn, juniors, and Warren Denmore and Betty Meany, sophomores, and Betty Baker and Duntan Tyson, freshmen, will be the other members of the staff.

LUTHERANS TO MEET

Lutheran club will conduct its first supper meeting of the college year this Wednesday at 5:30 o'clock, at the Friendship House, 616 State street according to Glenn Ungerer, '36, president.

Enrollment Shows Varied Types, Increase in Summer Registration

Non-scholarship, ministers, dentists, person-instructors, teachers and under-graduates, coming from seven states and the District of Columbia, and totaling one thousand five hundred and fifty nine, attended the 1935 session of summer school from July 3 to August 17. Sixty-eight instructors, including forty seven of the State College faculty, made up the summer school faculty under the direction of Dr. James B. Palmer, professor of education. The total enrollment showed an increase of 99 over the 1934 summer session. The women students numbered the men 1,570 to 520. Of the total registered, 770 were college graduates and 789 were undergraduates.

Coming from outside New York State, twelve students represented Connecticut, Massachusetts, Maryland, New Hampshire, Pennsylvania, Vermont, and Washington, D. C. Dental

Faculty Changes Number Twelve

New Members Assume Positions; Many Professors Obtain Leaves of Absence

With the resumption of classes yesterday, twelve new faculty members greeted the students, and actively assumed positions on the State college faculty. These changes were brought about by retirement, death, resignations, and several leaves of absence.

Dr. George A. S. Painter, for twenty-three years a member of the department of philosophy of State college, retired in June. Dr. Painter received his degree of Bachelor of Arts at Harvard university in 1892 and that of Doctor of Philosophy at the University of Jena in 1896. Before coming to State college, he was an instructor in Tufts college, Bryn Mawr college, George Washington university, and a professor of philosophy in Mount Union college and in Clark university. He is widely known throughout the country for his articles on philosophy and psychology which appeared in educational and psychological magazines. The vacancy caused by his retirement will be filled by Dr. J. Allan Hicks, who for the past three years has been working here on a Rockefeller grant developing courses in Student Guidance and Parent Education. Dr. Hicks is a graduate of Grinnell college, and received his degrees of A.M. and Ph.D. at the University of Iowa. He was also national research scholar in child development, superintendent of schools in Iowa, and psychologist at the national child research center in Washington, D. C.

Miss Charlotte Loeb, whose death last fall created a vacancy in the professorship of French, is succeeded by Dr. Thomas G. Bergin, a graduate of Yale university. Dr. Bergin also received the degree of Ph.D. at Yale. He was instructor of romance languages in Yale and for the last five years has been instructor in Western Reserve university, Ohio. He will teach courses in French and Italian.

Mr. Rutherford B. Baker, who resigned as coach and instructor in physical education, is succeeded by Mr. W. Irving Goevay. Mr. Goevay graduated from State college in 1919, was a captain in the World War, and later completed the course in physical education at Cortland normal school. (Continued on page 4, column 2)

Junior Editors Distribute 400 1939 Handbooks

The junior staff of handbook editors has distributed four hundred copies of the 1939 handbook, Robert Margison, '37, editor-in-chief, announced today. The book is bound in green suede, stamped with the college seal and the freshmen class emblems.

Members of the junior class who served as assistant editors were: James Beale, Fred Dexter, Elizabeth Gooding, Harry Gunnep, Evelyn Hamann, Dorothy Knapp, and Virginia Stoeel. Mildred Nightingale was sophomore representative.

Men's Camp Has Record Number

Dr. Smith and Evan Pritchard, '36, Direct Orientation Program at Cossayuna Lake

With the largest roster in the history of men's freshman camps at State college, the sixth annual camp was conducted at Cossayuna Lake last Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Dr. Donald V. Smith, assistant professor of history, was director. Evan Pritchard, '36, was student director. Ceremonies opened Friday night with a campfire program which included individual stunts. Saturday noon Mr. W. I. Goevay, coach, addressed the campers on the fall athletic program. Other features of the program were "stunt night" Saturday night, and a Sunday morning panel discussion by members of the faculty on "The Marks of an Educated Man." The discussion groups conducted in the individual cabins were an important part of the camp's program.

Dr. Smith and Pritchard were assisted by Coach Goevay, sports director; Frank Hardmeyer, program director; and Thomas Breen, treasurer. Faculty cabin leaders included Mr. George M. York, Mr. Louis C. Jones, Dr. Robert Frederick, Dr. J. Allen Hicks, Dr. Howard A. Duffell, Dr. James B. Palmer, Mr. Edward L. Cooper, Dr. William French, Dr. Ralph Beaver, Dr. Ralph Cullen, Mr. Harry Birchough, Dr. Earl B. South.

Freshman camp is conducted each year under the sponsorship of the College administration. Its purpose is the orientation of freshmen, and to help them form contacts with classmates, upperclassmen and faculty.

Faculty Bow to Students in Annual Ball Game

Superior to the men of the College in educational lines, the professors of the faculty were nevertheless forced to take the annual bitter drags of defeat handed them again by their students in the annual faculty-students' softball game at the men's freshman camp. The slaughter this year was to the tune of 21 to 12.

Despite the deliveries of "Doc" Hicks of the athletic department and the beating of the men of the mathematics and commerce departments, the undergraduates were able to score time and again at the home plate. Coach Goevay also failed to master the situation when he assumed the mound position in the later innings. The men took this opportunity to repay their superiors for previous unsettled scores but were to the winners should the matter be considered later.

The high light of the game was when Frank Hardmeyer, '36, scored his first safe hit after four years of trying to perform the feat.

SPORT SHOTS

Hallelujah! Happy days are here again! Coach Goevay, fresh and smiling, has promised us what we've been hinting at this past decade.

No longer will the weak-limbed, slow-of-foot, etc. have to take a back seat for their more gifted brethren. They, too, will have their chance to gallop to touchdowns, leave in field baskets, and what have you. If you can't play varsity basketball, you can, and brothers, you shall play intramural even if you can't make the fifth team. We'll have a sixth.

If you don't care to block out tackles, or have your neck broken by a fullback, you can take up bowling or tennis. The fatalities in that direction are very low.

In our three years here, we've listened to the bleatings of many who had nothing to do, athletically. Let them be still. Action is to be had for everyone. Even this pillar of truth may be seen practically any day now exerting his powerful frame in a violent outburst of ping pong.

We for one (in fact for several) are with the Coach. It's up to us now, fellows. He's done his bit. Think of it—Utopia—a chance to do what you want—box, wrestle, swim—you name it. And he means it. Let any opposition to the new maestro be tarred, and, perhaps, feathered.

Welcome to our little group, Coach. We'll see you in the gym.

Page Hall Court Has New Flooring

During the summer session, a new floor was laid in the Page Hall gymnasium to replace the old floor which had become warped and rough in places. The new floor is built of wood blocks in an "end board" fashion. A gap of six inches has been left around all four walls to allow for any shrinkage or swelling in weathering. It is three inches thicker than the old floor, and in order to make the basket height correct for basketball, the baskets were raised three inches.

The floor is similar to the floor in the University of Pittsburgh, and is an excellent surface for both dancing and athletics. It has just sufficient give to it to make very sure footing.

Barrington Adds Three Fall Sports

The annual fall intra-mural tennis tournament will begin this afternoon, according to Thomas Barrington, '37, intra-mural manager. The contests may be played at the convenience of the players except that definite time limits will be set.

Next week, the intra-mural program will be continued with touch football and softball. These contests will be played on the new dormitory field, Barrington added.

Activities Day To Be Tomorrow

Religious organizations to be represented include: Young Women's Christian association, Jacqueline Evans, '36, president; Young Men's Christian association, Evan Pritchard, '36, president; Canterbury club, Arnold Ford, '37, president; Lutheran club, Glenn Ungerer, '36, president; Monarch society, Dinah Kapp, '36, president; Newman club, Ethel Seale, '36, president. Coach Goevay to Inaugurate New Deal in Men's Athletic Program

A variety of sports and the inclusion of every man in the college are the two chief objectives in the men's athletic program which Coach Irving Goevay desires to institute into State college this year. Coach Goevay succeeds Coach Rutherford Baker who resigned last year.

The new mentor is a firm believer that in preparing future teachers, sports are important in order to offer them a recreational side of their job. Active participation in athletics will not only keep a teacher physically fit but will aid him in commanding the respect of his student body. In order to attain his objectives, the coach will provide opportunities for every man to indulge in some form of sport which he can continue on through the years after graduation, for example, golf, tennis, swimming, and bowling.

This program will by no means detract from the intercollegiate competition of varsity teams but will elevate the universal physical education to a primary position in the sports curriculum. In fact Coach Goevay intends to conduct coaching classes instructing prospective coaches in the fundamentals of all major sports if enough men are interested. These classes will be conducted formally in set hours rather than in haphazard fashion.

As regards football, the Coach advanced several very practical reasons why, with things as they are, a rigorous varsity schedule would be not only impractical but impossible. He intends to have intra-mural football and will have intra-mural orthodox football if the assembly wishes to spend last year's football appropriation for equipment. However, the coach would prefer to have the money turned into the intra-mural program. With this introduction to football and the increasing number of men in the college it may be possible to work up to a varsity in a few years. The Coach is not condemning football but sensibly realizes that such a rigorous sport requires careful preparation, a sufficient number of players, proper equipment and gradual building up.

Coach Goevay, a former high school principal, well realizes the tremendous advantages a teacher who is able to handle sports as well as regular curriculum has over the ordinary teacher not prepared along these lines. "A teacher can easily gain the respect and admiration of students through athletic ability and, by teaching them the code of sportsmanship, do more to develop character than he could in the classroom," says Coach Goevay.

Coach Goevay has outlined an ideal physical education program for State college. The success of the program is now in the hands of the men. They have what they have been asking for; it remains to be seen what they shall do with it.

Juniors Guide '39 During First Days

In true State college style the class of 1937 has been guiding the freshmen during their orientation. Under the leadership of Agnes Torrens, chairman of the Junior Guide committee, each junior has been assigned to assist certain freshmen.

As part of the program for their sister class, the juniors have sponsored tours through the College buildings, a tea in conjunction with the Young Women's Christian association, and a sing. Plans are being formulated for a junior-freshman party. The committee of junior guides is as follows: Miss Torrens, chairman, Alice Alford, Thomas Barrington, John DENO, Rosemary Dickinson, Lulu Duffey, Evelyn Hamann, Mary Hershey, Mary Lam, Robert Margison, Betty Meany, Carol Mross, Jack Murphy, Anna Snyder, and Virginia Stoeel.

Continuing the theme, Dr. Milton G. Nelson, dean of the college, spoke on the subject, "What Shall I Bring to College?" Sunday morning, Dr. Harold W. Thompson, professor of Eng-

Freshmen Attend Orientation Camp

Week-end Features Discussion Groups Led by Faculty and Upper-Classmen

Fifty-three freshmen and thirty-one upper-classmen attended the annual camp for freshmen women which was conducted at Camp Cogswell on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday. The camp was directed by Charlotte Rockow, '36.

The purpose of the camp, the orientation of freshmen to college life, is brought about by a highly integrated program. Miss Helen H. Moreland, dean of women, welcomed the freshmen with an informal fireside talk. Student discussion groups led by Jayne Buckley, Charlotte Rockow, Elaine Baird, Frances Studabaker, and Elizabeth Hobbie, seniors, centered about the theme, "What My College is Like."

An address by Dr. Caroline Crossdale, professor of hygiene and college physician, raised the question, "What Can I Expect of College?" This was discussed in individual round table groups led by the following members of the faculty: Miss A. E. Patterson, assistant professor of English; Dr. E. H. Morris, assistant professor of education; Dr. Marie Cren, assistant professor of hygiene; Miss Isabelle Johnston, instructor of physical education; Miss Ellen Stokes, instructor in mathematics; and Miss Helen T. Fay, manager of the College Coop. Miss Evelyn Johnson, personnel assistant; Miss Helen Burgher, social director of the Alumni Residence hall, and Miss Eleanor Foote were also dinner guests.

Continuing the theme, Dr. Milton G. Nelson, dean of the college, spoke on the subject, "What Shall I Bring to College?" Sunday morning, Dr. Harold W. Thompson, professor of Eng-

The Parker Vacuum—Invented by a University Professor to replace pens that suddenly run dry in Classes and Exams

Holds 12,000 words of ink—102% more than old style. . . When held to the light you can see the Ink Level—see when to refill!

THE marvelous new Parker Vacuum is no more like the pens of yesterday than your 1935 car is like a '25 model.

It's the identical pen you've often said that someone ought to invent. Scores of inventors tried to—fully 250 sadless pens were patented here. But none found a way to surmount the mechanical flaws of squirt-gun piston pumps, valves, etc.

Then a scientist at the University of Wisconsin converted the Vacuum. And Gen. S. Parker, world's leading pen maker, agreed to develop it because it contained no rubber seal or lever filler like sac-type pens—no piston pump as in ordinary sadless pens.

That's why Parker can—and DOES—guarantee the Vacuum MECHANICALLY PERFECT!

Because there is nothing else like it, the United States and foreign countries have granted Parker patents.

He was in charge of the recreational program of his regiment in France and has had experience as a teacher and principal in New York state. Mr. Donald Bryant, instructor in English, who has been granted a leave of absence for advance study in Cornell university, is succeeded by Mr. William G. Hardy. Mr. Hardy graduated from Brown university and received his degree of Master of Arts from New York university. For the last few years he has been an instructor in Brown university. Mr. Luther A. Andrews, instructor in physics, who also has been granted a leave of absence to do advance work at Cornell university, is succeeded by Mr. Charles Robert Miggins, a graduate of Wesleyan university. Dr. Miggins received his Ph.D. degree at Cornell university, where he has been an instructor for the last two years while completing his graduate studies. Mr. Carleton Moore, assistant professor in science and supervisor of practice teaching in science, is also on a leave of absence to do work at Cornell. He is succeeded by Mr. Jack Saroff, a graduate of State college in 1932, who received his degree of Master of Arts in June.

Mrs. Mary Bryant, instructor in English, who resigned, is succeeded by Mrs. Frances Heany, graduate of Wesleyan college in 1930. Miss Miller completed work for the degree of Ph.D. at Johns Hopkins university in June. She is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary scholastic fraternity, and received a fellowship at Johns Hopkins university, where she completed her graduate studies. Miss Miller also taught for three years in the Beaver Country Day school in Boston. Miss Caroline Lester, instructor in mathematics, has been granted a leave of absence to do graduate study in the University of Wisconsin. She is succeeded by Miss Florence Bakkmun, a graduate of Grinnell college in 1916, who received her degree of A.M. at Cornell in 1924. She has had experience as a teacher of mathematics in Wichita and in Iowa State Teacher's college.

Miss Florence M. Meredith, assistant librarian, who resigned, is succeeded by Miss Frances Heany, graduate of the University of Illinois in 1929, who completed the course in library science at Columbia university in June. Miss Marion Swartz, assistant librarian, who resigned, is succeeded by Miss Elma T. Evans, graduate of University of Pittsburgh in 1934. Miss Evans also completed her course in library science at Columbia university in June.

Miss Ruth Vrebeck, assistant librarian, Milne High school, who resigned to accept a position in Scotia, is succeeded by Miss Audra Clum, who graduated from State college in 1924. The position of guidance teacher which was recently created in Milne High school is filled by Miss Margaret Hayes. Miss Hayes graduated from the University of North Carolina and received her degree of M.A. at George Peabody college in Tennessee. She was superintendent of schools in North Carolina and for the last four years has been teaching in the department of child development under the Rockefeller grant. This grant, which also affects Dr. Hicks, is a fund of $500,000.00 established in State college in 1930 to carry on experiments in child development and parent education. This resulted in the department of guidance under Dr. Hicks, especially affecting Milne High school.

Residence Hall Incompletion Proves Handicap to "Romeos"

Residents and guests of the Alumni Residence hall between Ontario and Partridge streets need wait only a few more days until the dormitory is completed. State college men, in particular, are seen frequently supporting the walls of the South hallway while waiting for the fair wood, or parking on a saw-horse instead of a sofa. The "Commons," the large reception room for men and women students, located on the first floor from the Partridge street entrance, will be the "grandest room in the whole residence hall," Miss Helen Burgher, social director of the hall, remarked enthusiastically in an interview with a reporter of the News. "The Commons," north of and adjacent to the dining room, is equipped with a stage and will be the most-used reception hall. Other reception rooms which may be used by the residents and guests will include the library, a room just west of the Ontario street entrance, and Miss Burgher's living room at certain times.

"One hundred women students, including 68 Freshmen, Miss Grace Williams, manager of the Residence hall, and myself are living here in the hall," Miss Burgher added. "Fourteen students serve as waitresses. For your convenience and understanding—dial 3-9293 for the residence hall telephone. The rooms are numbered according to the floors, upon entering from Ontario street, as follows: first floor, rooms number 100 and up; second floor, 200 and up; third floor, 300 and up. Each floor will have a telephone, and a buzzer system will be installed to provide quick service. Students are requested not to go to a resident-student's room unless accompanied by the resident. Elaine Baird, '36, is president of the Alumni Residence hall. Miss Baird is assisted by five councillors, namely, Lucy Wing, graduate, Evelyn O'Brien, '36, and Virginia Stoel, Agnes Torrens and Beverly Wallner, juniors. Miss Burgher, previous to her position last year as assistant to the dean of women at Syracuse university, taught at Ten Broeck academy in Franklinton. Miss Williams has been manager of the dining room of the Commons since June.

Miss Florence M. Meredith, assistant librarian, who resigned, is succeeded by Miss Elma T. Evans, graduate of University of Pittsburgh in 1934. Miss Evans also completed her course in library science at Columbia university in June. Miss Marion Swartz, assistant librarian, who resigned, is succeeded by Miss Elma T. Evans, graduate of University of Pittsburgh in 1934. Miss Evans also completed her course in library science at Columbia university in June.

G. A. A. Announces Sports Captains

Elaine Baird, '36, president of the Girls' Athletic association, has announced the following sports captains for the year 1935-36: hockey, Elizabeth Hobbie and Helen Clyde, juniors; soccer, Elizabeth Strong, '37; swimming, Margaret Hof, '36; tennis, Charlotte Peck, '38; and riding, Sue Caldwell, '37. The first fall outing of G. A. A. will be the annual Indian Ladder like on Friday, October 11, Miss Baird stated.

Summer School Students List Favorite Programs

Summer school students revealed many of their inner traits through the survey of their favorite radio programs, taken during the summer session by Sebastian Albrecht and Paul Bulger, seniors, in conjunction with station WOKC. Evidently the five hundred seventeen students who stated their preferences have little time to spend pursuing newspapers, for the news broadcasts top the list with a total popularity vote of 418. Many ardent fans of the Maestros of the day must have been present since popular dance music ranks second. Interestingly enough the people who should be primarily absorbed in education rated educational programs only sixth. Opera, hill-billy songs, and of all things, crooning are well toward the bottom of the list.

Few housewives and business men could have been present, as ropes and stock market reports took the body prizes in this enlightening survey.

Residence Halls Elect Officers For Year 1935-36

The student residents of the Alumni Residence hall elected officers for the coming year at a meeting Sunday night, Elaine Baird, '36, was elected house president in the spring by the upper-classmen intending to live in the halls. The other officers are: president, Elaine Baird, Kappa Delta; vice-president, Dorothy Whyte, '36; secretary, Florence Nelbeck, '38, and treasurer, Margaret Mattison, '36.

A finance committee was appointed by Miss Baird to draw up and submit for the approval of the house a budget for the year 1935-36. The committee consists of: chairman, Rosa Petros, '36; Virginia Stoel, '37; Dorothy Clapp, '38, and June Palmer and Charlotte Fox, freshmen.

Youth Conference To Be At Cortland

The New York State Student union will be conducted from Friday, October 11 to Sunday, October 13, at Cortland, New York. Delegates from State's Young Men's and Young Women's Christian associations will attend. The theme of the conference is "Earning a Living and Living a Life." Vital vocation and avocations will be discussed. The conference dinner will be Saturday evening and will be followed by dancing.

Speakers will be Dr. T. Z. Kuo of China, Kirby Page, author and lecturer of California, E. R. Bowen, general secretary of the Cooperative League of the United States, Miss Joyce Terlin, secretary of the National Student Council of the Y. W. C. A., Rev. Gardiner M. Bay of Massachusetts, and Dr. Samuel Franklin of New York, formerly of Japan and now associated with Sherwood Eddy.

Yearbook To Take Student Pictures

Pictures for the 1936 Pedagogue will be taken this coming week and all of the following week, according to Virginia Chappell, '36, editor in chief. Seniors who wish to secure pictures for their folders for the Appointment Bureau must have them taken during these two weeks if they wish to secure them by Thanks giving. Appointments for sittings should be made today in the rotunda of Draper hall. A charge of one dollar per sitting will be assessed when the pictures are taken.

Cossacks To Sing Here Wednesday

Thirty-six Singers to Present New Program of Russian Songs and Tunes

Music council will again present the Don Cossacks on Wednesday night at 8:00 o'clock, in the auditorium of Page hall. This is the last American tour of the Cossacks before they go abroad. Serge Jaroff will direct the chorus composed of thirty-six singers, including a new second bass and first tenor. The program will be divided into three groups, composed of religious songs, Cossack tunes and selections from Russian operas. It is expected that Cossack dances will also be on the program, because there will be no sale or exchange of student tickets at the door.

Frances Studebaker, '36, is in charge of arrangements and is assisted by Janet Lewis, '36, Rosemary Dickinson and Elsie Scherer, juniors, and Muriel Goldberg and Dorothy Cain, sophomores. The program which the Cossacks will present will consist of three groups. The first group will consist of Cossack by Grotchenoff, Funeral Song by Fedoskoff, We Sing to Thee by Katschinsky, Prayed by J. J. O'Lord, by Tshankowsky, and Who Can Equal Thee? by Bortniansky. The second group consists of: The Volga Song, which is a folk song, The Captive Cossacks by Nishtinsky, Song of the Indian Host by Salko, by Rimsky-Korsakoff, and History in Song of S. Jaroff and his Don Cossack Chorus, by Schvedoff, will constitute the second group.

The program will be closed by the third group, consisting of Glory to Russia by Kodroff, Turk and Kuban Song by Salko, by Rimsky-Korsakoff, and History in Song of S. Jaroff and his Don Cossack Chorus, by Schvedoff, will constitute the second group.

Women Students Name Group House

"Moreland Hall" is the official name which the nineteen resident woman students have given to their cooperative home on Partridge street, opposite the Residence hall, in honor of Miss Helen H. Moreland, dean of women. Miss Moreland promoted the light house-keeping enterprise. Miss Harriet Howard, '36, is head resident. Elections for house officers were completed Saturday with the following results: president, Rosella Lyons, '36; vice-president, Phyllis Johnson, '38; secretary-treasurer, Ann Burr, '38.

Co-op's 15th Anniversary Recalls Origin and Services to College

Tales of the founding of the Co-op, college book-store, were recalled this week as September and the enterprise's fifteenth anniversary celebration came to a close. The Co-op was started in 1920 in the present janitor's office, room 131 of Draper hall, under the sponsorship of Miss Helen T. Fay, then an instructor in history. The janitor occupied room X. In 1929, the book-store has grown so large that it was moved across the hall into its present location. Miss Fay resigned from the history department to devote her full time to the Co-op.

The enterprise is not profit making, nor is it a simple textbook agency. "We have to sell you textbooks, but we enjoy selling you the books you do not have to buy" is one of the store's mottoes. Among the services which the Co-op renders to State college are: a substantial reduction on book prices, and a project box where are gathered clippings which students can give you."

TO WELCOME '39

Alice Allard, '37, president of the junior class, who will officially welcome the freshman class at tonight's reception.

Dancer To Appear In Return Recital

The Dramatic and Art association will again present Anna Enters on Monday, October 28, in the Page hall auditorium. Miss Enters will give a recital of her compositions in dance form. Her first appearance at State college was in November, 1933, and her presentation then was commended by the student body. Her program this year will include many new numbers, as well as some of the more popular numbers that she presented before. Students will be admitted on payment of student tax of the payment of fifty cents.

Council Names Class Marshals

The class marshals as announced by Student council in last Friday's assembly are as follows: Dean Nelson will speak on the subject of teaching certificates and the choice of majors and minors. The candidates for Campus Queen will constitute the program of the 11:10 assembly this morning, according to Paul Bulger, '36, president of the student association.

Women Students Form New Council To Enforce Rules

The Residence council, composed of sorority, dormitory, and group house presidents, and devoted to regulate the residence of women students, made its first appearance on the campus of State college at a meeting in the office of Miss Helen Moreland, dean of women, on Monday afternoon. The formation of this council marks the beginning of student formulation and enforcement of all rules concerning residence regulations. Hitherto, this has rested with a faculty committee. A student committee, appointed in the spring of last year, drew up the temporary constitution by which the council and its attendance at houses will be governed. This constitution, adopted temporarily by the council on Monday, provides for the election of a president, vice-president, and secretary-treasurer by the council. It also creates an Absence Committee, of which the vice-president is chairman, which shall have charge of the technical details. A Judiciary council, partially selected by the Residence council and partially by the Activities committee of the faculty, will impose penalties and interpret the rules. The officers for the coming year are: president, Norma Taylor, '35; vice-president, Rita Kane, '36; and secretary-treasurer, Marjorie Kalaidjian, '36.

Junior Reception To '39 Is Tonight
