Can't Question Answers

The Municipal Civil Service Com. mission's power as the final author. ity in determining the correctness of answers on its examinations was upheld last week by Supreme Court Justice O'Brien in the Saltzman vs. Kern case.

The plaintiff sued to compel the re-rating of his examination paper, contending that some of the key answers used by the Commission were

In his decision, Justice O'Brien de-clared: "The court may not deter-mine the appropriateness of ques-tions asked and the correctness of answers given on the examination. In the absence of a showing that the commission acted illegally, arbitrar. ily or in bad faith, the court will not interfere with disposition of the examination."

Recently, in the famous question. mark case, Justice Pecora took a dif-ferent point of view. He ruled that an answer used in grading the Clerk, Grade 2 promotion test was incorrect, and he ordered that all papers be re-rated and candidates who received 69 percent, or one less than the passing mark, be placed on the eligible list.

Medical and literacy tests will be given to applicants within three weeks, according to the Municipal Civil Service Commission, and as fast as possible candidates for the posi-tion will be appointed to replace ap-proximately 1,000 provisionals now serving in the jobs.

The literacy test given to candidates will be a simple examination of a person's ability to read and write English. It will have no competitive rating, and the order of application determines the standing on the eligible list.

Approximately 4,000 men and women filed for these labor jobs on the first day applications were issued; thereafter filing tapered off until on Saturday only a handful Walter?

A Long Wait For 50c

The Municipal Civil Service Commission decided last week to refund the 50-cent filing fees of applicants for Hospital Helper and Laundry Worker jobs if the candidates are not called for examination. This means that if candidates are at the end of the list and do not receive jobs during the life of the list they will get their fees back. However, the Commission decided not to return the fees until the expiration of the eligible list. And the list will last until March, 1945.

Court Saves Jobs of Subway Aliens Not Their Fault That Citizenship Jam Occurred

aliens were saved last week by a labor-class jobs opened by the Mu- close 4 to 3 decision in the Court of Appeals decision on the Mazzarella case. The court's decision, overruling the two lower tribunals, declared that Raffalle Mazzarella could not be disqualified from his job in the Board of Transportation because he falled to comply with the Wicks Law, which required that aliens must file first citizenship papers within six months after passage of the measure.

This liberal interpretation of the Wicks Law was made because it was physically impossible for the aliens the measure was enacted, rather than policy with regard to the aliens.

The jobs of some 500 subway to comply with the strict provision the strict letter of the law, should be that they file first papers by December 15, 1939. The federal court calsions. endar was so jammed at that period that the aliens were unable to obtain first papers; several preliminary steps are necessary before a declaration of intention to become a citizen can be made.

H. Eliot Kaplan, secretary of the Civil Service Reform Association, represented Mazzarella.

Did Legislature Know?

The question involved in the case was whether the Legislature in enacting the Wicks Law realized the impossibility of compliance with its provisions within the time allotted. The court in effect said that it did not; and that the spirit with which

Dear Mr. Winchell: The March 10 issue of Life Magazine contained on its cover the photograph of Marguerite Sharpe, a Washington Civil Service gal. You said in your column that you consider her the most beautiful government employee.

Now, Mr. Winchell, we have high respect for your judgment in matters like these, and we concede that "Peg" is a right pretty miss. But we'd like to make a little wager with you: that we can find even prettier gals in government service working in New York.

Anytime you can spare sufficient time from your duties to do a little research on this subject, we'd like to assign one of our reporters to accompany you on a tour of New York departments. We're sure we can win this wager hands down.

Will you take us up on it?

Applications for Firefighter Exam

Ready Early Next Month; Here's Inside Information About Test

By BURNETT MURPHEY (Exclusive)

Early next month, probably the first Tuesday in April, the Municipal Civil Service Commission will announce and open the apwill allie application period for the Fireman exam which has been in the works for many months. This is the tentative schedule adopted by the Commission at a special meeting late last week-end. The only thing which might postpone the date of the opening of applications beyond the first week in April is the disapproval of the Budget Director.

While many details of the test are while many details of the test are still unofficial, the LEADER has learned from reliable sources that the Commission has decided to give a weight of 50 percent to the physical events in the examination. This compares with a weight of 30 percent on the recent Police exam.

Number of Eligibles Also, the Commission will use its experience in the last Police test as a guide in determining the number of eligibles placed on the list. When the last Fireman eligible 11st was published three and a half years ago there were nearly 9,000 names on it, and at present there are more than 4,000. The large number of appointments was due to the adoption of the three-platoon system in 1938. But things are going to be different on the new Fireman test. While this is not final, it is expected that only 3,-600 men will pass on the written test, and after the physical compe-tions, all but 1,200 will have been eliminated. The final list, therefore, will consist of 1,200 names, plus those who receive ties on the passing grade, which will be that of the 1,200th candidate. This means a probable list of 1,300-odd men.

More Stuff Other important information has been learned about the Fireman

For one thing, men who have had engineering, chemistry, physics, or similar training are going to get attra credit on the test. Also, those with "relative" training will also receive such additional credit. The Commission will not yet specify just what it means by "relative" credit, but presumably, it is education and other special courses which might be considered helpful to a Fireman in the performance of his duties.

A timetable of events on the ex-amination cannot be set forth definitely, but the Commission hopes to finish the physical events, the last part of the exam, by October 1

Thus the written test should be given early in the summer, allowing for the start of the physical part in the middle of the warm season.

Last week an outline of the tentative physical exam was published. This week a fuller description is presented of the first event—the important endurance test. It is from a tentative proposal submitted by Professor Francis Patrick Wall, of NYU, and the details are subject to change by officials of the Commission.

But according to the first draft, the event will consist of the following:

There will be a starting mark and a finish line. From the start, a candidate will run eight yards, make a 10-foot broad jump, continue 10 yards to a 3-foot 6-inch hurdle, continue 10 yards to a barrier, dodge through a barrier, run five yards to a ladder, mount ladder until reaching a horizontal ladder, travel hand over hand under and across horizontal ladder until he can stand on fence, dismount from fence, run five yards, vault over 1-foot 6-inch vaulting box and then run five yards to a

This event will be scored, according to the tentative plan, as follows:

IN THE FIREMAN TEST?

Lifting of dummies such as this has been a feature of previous New York City physical tests. It may be used in the coming test for Firemen, somewhat in the same manner as the can-lift was used in last summer's Sanitation exam. The Fireman physical exam will be very much like the Police and Sanitation exams held in recent years, but with new scoring to fit the needs of fire-fighters.

Nurses' Salaries

A reclassification resolution affecting the Public Health Nursing Service will be the subject of a public hearing on Thursday, March 13, at 2:30 p.m. in the offices of the Municipal Civil Service Commission.

The resolution is another in a series of similar ones which attempt to cut down the range of salary for to cut down the range of salary for each grade of position. The new classification would cut by $300 the maximum salary for public health nurse, which is now $2,400. The idea would be to substitute two grades—grade 1 with salaries up to $2,100 and grade 2, $2,100 to $2,400. The range on supervisory public health nurse, which is now $2,400 to $3,000, would be cut to $2,400 to $2,700.

Mayor Turns Down Request to Reclassify Them

Budget Director's Office, Mayor LaGuardia last week returned to the Municipal Civil Service Commission a proposed resolution which would have reclassified the Instructional Service. The Mayor disapproved the resolution.

The resolution is similar to a number which in the last couple of years have been adopted to limit the salary ranges of different grades of a position to $600. In some cases, the range between the minimum and maximum of a grade was as much

Acting upon the advice of the ployees in such titles would receive annual increments each year until they reached the top salary.

The proposed resolution covering the Instructional Service would have met the following salary ranges:

First Grade-to but not including Second Grade-$2,100 to but not including $2,700.

Third Grade—$2,700 and upward. The basis of the Budget Director's objection to this resolution was an added paragraph which included a saving clause: "Resolved, That in connection with the ... reclassification the right and status of incumbents as $1,200, which meant that em- shall not be adversely affected ... "

This, said the Budget Director, would have enabled the present employees in the titles to receive increments until they reached the present top of the salary range. He added that the best procedure would be to set up a new grade running from $2,100 to $2,400 for present incumbents; or to classify employees in the Instructional Service receiving more than $2,100 as Senior Instruc-

Wicks Law Attacked

Meanwhile the courts received another case seeking to knock out the Civil Service Commission's interpretation of the original Wicks law, which provided for "blanketing-in" employees of the private transist systems under unification.

John Michael Hartnett, president of the Interborough Rapid Transit Furloughed Association, in a Su-preme Court action maintains that the Commission was "arbitrary" "incorrect" in requiring former employees of the private transits system to have been actively employed for six months prior to unification before Helper lists formed a skeleton organization preparatory to holding a general mass meeting, Friday, March 21, at Washington Irving High School. Temporary officers elected were: President, Claude Peters; Vicepresident in charge of Group D, Sidney Simon; Vice-president in charge of Group C, Igino Pescatori; Secretary, George Brown; Treasurer, Eugene Zurlos.

The temporary officers stated that their groups contain skilled and semi-skilled members of a variety of construction trades, electrical, mechanical, woodworking, metals, painting, plumbing and masonry. They would like to have their lists used under selective certification for as many titles in these fields as possible. Consequently, they urge all eligibles on the four lists to attend the first meeting.

Hospital Attendant Duties

One of the chief reasons for preparing it for the laundry, and tendant declinations has been a failure on the part of many eligibles to understand the duties of the job. To end this, the State Department of Civil Service has just prepared a memorandum of information for eligibles. This is to be forwarded along with the questionnaires asking eligibles in which institutions they will work. Eligibles are particularly urged to read over the statement of duties, and notify District Representatives if they do not wish to accept the job.

These are the duties of the Hospital Attendant jobs:

- 1. Bathing patients Personally bathing patients either in tub, in shower, or in bed.
- 2. Feeding patients Personally bringing trays to them, watching them in the dining room or actually feeding them.

There's just no doubt about it, it'll be merely a matter at the most of several months before new exams are announced for female stenographers and typists and card-punch operators. Open examinations for male typists and stenographers already have been announced and the response has been so slow that Civil Service officials believe the exams will remain open for the duration.

Stenographers and typists are being hired in Washington at the rate of 60 a day, and that rate has been maintained for the past several months. At that rapid pace it just stands to reason that another fe-male typist and stenographer is in the works and will be announced, probably within the next three months. Meantime, readers of The LEADER will have time to brush up.

More than 17,000 females passed the most recent Civil Service test for stenographer, which would be a sufficient number to last for years ordinarily. But these aren't ordinary times and people are getting private jobs and are refusing offers to work for Uncle Sam. The number of refusals for minor jobs, ficials say, are now running as high as 50 per cent. Recently 50 persons were offered clerk jobs at the General Accounting Office. Out of the 50, only 9 accepted.

Card Punch List

The punch-card register hasn't been officially established, but persons are being certified from it daily. Persons certified for jobs are high on the register. The Commission relieved the pressure by certifying from the top of the register and therefore it has delayed setting up the registers officially.

Even if all the card-punch operators on the registers were available for jobs and accepted them with the Government the demand wouldn't be met. That's the opinion of competent Federal officials.

Punch War In fact, officials of War, Navy and Commerce departments and the Civil Service Commission had to get together in Washington one day last week to settle a war between the agencies over card-punchers.

Census has more than 4,000 card and offered them $1,440. Census paid only $1,260. After days of scrapping, Census was ordered to approve the WASHINGTON .- Here is some engineers, and a host of other transfers to War and Navy, but the Civil Service Commission stepped into the picture last week and countermanded the order. Here's the situation as of today:

Pay Increase

Census has agreed to meet the price offered by War and Navy; that is, $1,440. Moreover, Census will put into effect a "bonus" system whereby the card punchers will be able to earn up to $1,620 if they turn out more than average work.

And Census, with approval of the Commission, has placed into effect a plan that will give the great majority of the card punchers full Civil Service status. Census employees have been hired on a temporary basis and heretofore none were permitted to receive full merit standing.

Here's the lowdown: Census hired most of its operators subject to passing the Civil Service test. The register has been set up and persons are being certified from it. When the name of a person turns up who has a job at Census, that person will start serving his probationary period. After six months he'll get a full merit status.

The effect of the scrap was large benefits to the card punchers.

Meantime, the War and Navy departments are raiding the Social Security Board of its card punchers. Since December 1 it is estimated that 800 Social Security employees, most of them stationed in Baltimore, have quit to go to work for the War or Navy department.

Engineer Shortage

The shortage of junior engineers is so great that defense agencies are sending officials to schools to make offers to senior engineering students who'll graduate within the next few The Junior Professional Assistant test was announced some time ago and junior engineer was one of the options. The demand was so great that the test for engineers was called off and the young engineers graded on their experi-ence and education. Today the list is exhausted. Every single person available has been placed in a job. Therefore the raid on senior students.

But please, don't write the Civil Service Commission to ask when the above exams will be announced. The punchers on a temporary basis, War LEADER will keep you fully informed and Navy wanted hundreds of them and the Commission has enough work to do and it has a policy of never even hinting that an exam is in the works.

U. S. Exam For Typists

The U. S. Civil Commission issued an amendment last week to its open examination for Junior Stenographer (Men only) and included a test for Typist as well. Applications for both Junior Stenographer and Junior Typist will be open until further notice.

The Junior Typist position pays $1,260 to start and offers excellent promotion opportunities. The steno job pays $1,440. There is a considerable demand at the present time for male typists.

There is an age limit of 18 to 53 on the test.

There are no educational or experience requirements for examination and anyone can apply.

Sample tests for this exam can be obtained together with application forms from the U. S. Civil Service Commission's office at 641 Washington Street, Manhattan.

Junior typist.—In the General Test and in Copying from Plain Copy, nonpreference competitors must at tain a rating of at least 70; competirating of at least 65, excluding preference credit; and competitors our advertisers.

granted 10-point preference, a rating of at least 60, excluding preference credit.

Junior stenographer.-The subject of junior stenography is required of stenographic competitors only; it will not be rated unless the competitor qualifies as a Junior Typist. In the subject of stenography, nonprefer-ence competitors must attain ratings of at least 70; competitors granted military preference ratings least 65, excluding preference credit; and competitors granted 10-point preference, ratings of at least 60, excluding preference credit.

In the entire Stenographer examination and in the entire Typist examination all competitors must attain average percentages of at least 70, including military preference credit, if any, to become eligible.

U.S. Steno.-Typist Exam For Upstaters

It will take the U. S. Civil Service Commission five days to test upstate New Yorkers for positions as Stenographer and Typist. The exams are scheduled for March 20, 21, 22, 24 and 25. New Yorkers living outside New York City were eligible.

The mental test is expected to be held in June or July of 1941. Those who pass the mental should be called for the physical in October or November of this year. Both of these tests are expected to be severe and few persons, regardless of their education and physical condition, can hope to attain a high place on the eligible list without specialized training.

Not one man in 190 can hope to attain 80% in the physical examination unless he trains for months in a well-equipment physical under the guidance of experienced instructors.

We invite any citizen between the ages of 18 and 70 to sail at any hour, day or evening, to be examined without obligation by our physician, attend a mental class and observe the physical classes in session.

The present list for Patrolman should be exhausted by January 1, 1942. Therefore, the examination should be held early in the Fall of 1941. We Suggest a Bill

AST year, The Leader editorially advocated a bill to end the difficulties caused by local residence restrictions upon local men and women employed by the State. The suggestion was taken up by Supreme Court Justice Kleinfeld, then a State Senator, and Assemblyman Wagner. The Kleinfeld-Wagner bill sought to exclude State employees from strict effects of any local residence laws, such as New York City's Lyons Law. The bill unanimously passed in the Assembly but was not reported in the Senate.

The Leader suggests that this bill be revived. Under the terms of the Fite bill, many communities are soon to set up residence restrictions. We also suggest that a new provision be added to meet a difficulty that has arisen since last session. Many young men and women who have taken exams are leaving their home towns to accept jobs in defense industries. These positions are temporary, and the workers expect soon to assume their rightful position on local eligible lists. However, under strict interpretation of residence restrictions, they may very well be declared ineligible just because they were helping their country arm itself.

The Leader suggests that when the Kleinfeld-Wagner bill is revived in this session, it include a provision that those employed in legitimate defense positions likewise be excluded from local residence restrictions.

Speed Welfare Probe

COMMISSIONER OF INVESTIGATION HERLANDS says he's giving all his time to the probe of alleged Communist control in the Welfare Department. Without attempting to advise Commissioner on his methods of procedure, we feel he ought to complete his report and make it public with all possible speed—in the interest of the welfare administration, its employees, and the general public.

11-Squad Bill for Cops

REPRESENTATIVES of New York's policemen have asked Councilman Louis Cohen to introduce the 11-squad bill. Councilman Cohen, we understand, is now considering the measure.

As the Leader has pointed out time and again, the 11-squad chart is a great boon to the city's cops, in that it gives them a real day off each week—something they don't have now. No one has advanced a rational reason why the cops shouldn't have a proper working day.

We hope Councilman Cohen gets behind the 11-squad chart.

A Petition to the Mayor On the 11-Squad Chart for Cops

Dear Mr. Mayor: As a member of New York City's Police Force, I feel that the 11-squad chart, which would give us a 48-hour swing each week, will improve the morale and efficiency of the men. I urge that you, as Chief Executive of the city, get behind the 11-squad plan and help us to gain the decent working hours which it provides.

Merit Men

"YOU'LL NEVER make an engineer," the principal of P.S. 165 told Ladis H. Csanyi, C.E., M.C.E. when he failed an arithmetic examination in the eighth grade. Today, boyishlooking, 39-year-old Csanyi, engineer in charge of Manhattan's huge asphalt plant, is one of the most brilliant of the young engineers who have advanced through competitive civil service.

Csanyi's life reads like a Horatio Alger story. Born in Budapest, Hungary, he came to New York when he was three years old, graduated from P.S. 165 and Stuyvesant High School, studied chemistry at Stevens Institute, switched to engineering at Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute. Appointed an Axeman (Engineering Assistant) in the office of the Borough President of Manhattan in 1929, Csanyi continued to study at Brooklyn Polytechnic, receiving his civil enginering degree in 1937, his master of civil engineering degree last year. He advanced to his present position by finishing number 2 on the departmental list for Topographical Draftsman, Grade 4, in 1937, number one on the departmental list for Assistant Engineer, Grade 4, in 1938. In his present job, he is "Boss" to 190 highway division employees and he has com-plete charge of the block-square plant which produces 600 tons of as-Csanyi won departmental recognition for his engineering skill shortly after his first appointment. He conceived the idea for a foundation map of Manhattan while making testborings for the West Side Highway. The idea met with the approval of department officials, and he was placed in charge of a WPA crew which made 16,000 to 18,000 borings. The resultant map gives a complete picture of sub-surface Manhattan, saves millions of dollars annually for private contractors and engineers by eliminating the necessity for test-The map, copyrighted, hangs in the Borough President's office. Perhaps the most important of Csanyi's accomplishments in the eyes of the average citizen was his invention, after four years' experimentation, of a noiseless manhole cover which has proved a boom to residents of Manhattan who sleep at Most important in the eyes of his superiors were the specifications he wrote for pouring concrete for the East River Drive, a job complicated by the effect of sea-water on concrete. Csanyi's efforts on this particular task won him wide professional recognition.

Last year, Csanyi made a nationwide tour studying the operation of asphalt plants. Much of the information gained on this trip and in one year's research in new processes of manufacturing will be applied in the design and construction of the new city asphalt plant to be built in two months.

Affable, well-liked, Casnyi goes out of his way to help subordinates. An authority in his field, he was recently elected to full membership in the American Society of Civil Engineers. He is on the Board of Directors of the Municipal Engineers, is a member of the Highway Research Board, the American Society for Metals, Association of Asphalt Technologists, the American Academy for the Advancement of Science and numerous other scientific and engineering societies. He is glad he didn't take the advice of his grammar school principal.

A LOT OF men have only a couple of major interests in life. James Joseph Flannelly, big, Irish, bespectacled examiner for the Municipal Civil Service Commission, has lots. He's an expert on gardening, land-scape architecture, fools around with woodwork, and is a licensed radio operator.

Flannelly has been Civil Service examiner for 14 years; before that he taught school. His first job after college (he's attended St. Francis, CCNY, Fordham, Cornell) was as principal, teacher and janitor of elementary school in a small upstate town. Later he taught history in a New York City Junior High School.

As an examiner, Flannelly has prepared many important exams, especially the written exams for Fireman positions in that department. He isn't working on the current Fire exam, however, since he has other assignments. For his connections with previous fire exams, however, he was made a member of the International Association of Fire Chiefs.

At his Sheepshead Bay home, Flannelly has constructed a doll-house for his daughter which is an exact replica of his own house. He's very proud of the doll-house, especially the fact that it has running water in the sinks, wash basins and bath tubs.

His yard is well landscaped, and he spends a lot of time with his flowers. He sonce won a prize at a dahlia show for one of his specimens. He's developed a lawn (we forget the kind of grass) which is one of the few of its sort in the city.

He's frank, outspoken, frequently differs with his associates on methods of solving Civil Service problems. But he thinks Civil Service in the city is moving forward. "We've made an awful lot of progress in the last few years," he says proudly.

Transfer Trouble

Sirs: When you finally persuaded the Civil Service Commission to establish a transfer plan, I, among others, was very pleased. It seemed at last that we might have a chance of obtaining a position where we could really use our experience.

could really use our experience.

I received my transfer from the Commission and immediately sent it to my Department (Welfare) head for signature. It was returned unsigned with a memo to the effect that until the Budget Director would allow them to fill positions it couldn't be signed. I then contacted the Commission on the question and they informed me they would accept a conditional form. When I asked for a conditional signature from my Department head, I was informed the situation was the same.

formed the situation was the same.

It seems to me, therefore, the Budget Director is really running the municipal government. I wonder if other departments are under the same restriction or is it only Welfare? Evidently some persons are able to obtain signatures since it was published that the Commission had obtained forms from only fifty persons.

It is my purpose in writing this letter to let you know how the situation stands and to ask you if anything can be done. I know that the Leader will continue to fight on behalf of Civil Service employees.

The Leader has stated editorially that the transfer system worked out by the Civil Service Commission is of little value if it's to be restricted by the kind of red tape you point out. There's no reason why transfer procedure shouldn't be simplified. We can't see why an employee should need to get this signature or that, and become involved in a crisscross between department head, budget director, and Civil Service Commission. Any system that operates like this is too crude for serious consideration. We've suggested a simplified procedure to the Civil Commission. One of these days maybe it will be put into effect.—Editor.

Grade 1 Clerks Wish To Take Bookkeeper Exam

Sirs: Grade 1 Clerks who have served their probationary period but have not served one year should be permitted to take the forthcoming examination for Bookkeeper, Grade 1. This would be in line with the policy of the Municipal Civil Service Commission in making the most recently appointed patrolmen eligible for the Sergeant's examination, and in making promotional opportunities in Civil Service open to all per permanent employees.

Councilman Cohen Gets 11-Squad Bill

The proposed bill to put the 11-squad chart into effect in New York City has been turned over to Councilman Louis Cohen, who now has the measure under consideration. Formerly, Councilman Kinsley was slated to sponsor the bill, but since he didn't get around to it officials of the PBA decided to give it to another legislator.

Even Less Than Expected

A final count shows that 7,192 patrolmen applied for the promotion test A final count shows that 7,192 patrolmen applied for the promotion test to Sergeant. Now that the filing has closed little will happen about the test until Civil Service officials begin to make arrangements for the actual holding of the written part. The date tentatively set for this is Sunday, June 15, but this is subject to change. So far there has been no indication to the part the test will be held or whether it will be in the set. of where the test will be held or whether it will be in one or two sessions.

Speaking of Legislation

Councilman Joe Sharkey has a bill (122) which would provide that all promotion lists continue in existence until exhausted. Another provision is that, in case a promotion test were given for a position while a list was is that, in existence, the successful eligible would be placed at the bottom of the aid list. Joe Burkard, president of the PBA, has submitted an amendment to Councilman Sharkey excluding members of the Police Department from the bill's provisions.

Our guess: the bill will quietly die in committee.

Pension System Reopens

Mayor La Guardia this week will sign the bill, passed by the Council and Board of Estimate, which will reopen the pension system until May 15 and enable men to switch their 20 or 25-year retirement options if they like. A lot of men who selected one or the other retirement period have since had a change of mind and would like to change. They'll now have the chance.

Compensation for Overtime

Councilman Joseph Clark Baldwin's bill to provide members of the Police force with hour-for-hour compensation for overtime work will be amended. Originally the bill provided for compensation for "men who have been assigned to duty aggregating more than 48 hours in any one week." After this provision was studied, it was realized that cops normally work 56 hours on some ordinary tours under the present chart, without working any overtime. So the bill will now provide that men will be compensated for any overtime above 48 hours in any six consecutive days.

Draft Has Little Effect on Police

So far the selective service program has had a negligible effect on the Police Department. Only a handful of men on the force have been drafted, less than one-tenth of one percent.

No one can tell, of course, what will happen in the future, but this column's guess is that the draft will never be a serious problem to the Police force. It is probable that while the draft boards won't adopt a uniform policy of deferments for cops and firemen, the individual boards will be inclined to grant deferments whenever possible.

In view of this fact it seems unfortunate that Mayor La Guardia remains adamant in refusing to authorize new appointments. Especially so in view of the large number of vacancies that now exist.

Nothing New

All Albany legislation affecting cops is bogged down in committee. There's nothing new to report.

Captain List Expires Soon

The Captain list expires in September; and a lot of Lieutenants are beginning to think seriously about the next Captain test, due this Fall.

The examination was re-advertised on a nation-wide basis and a recruitment program, aided by the American Public Welfare Association, American Association of Schools of Social Work, The Schools of Public Administration, Civil Service Assembly, The Federal Social Security Board and various State Departments of Welfare, resulted in 27 additional candidates filing. Number of Homeless Drops to New Low

The local homeless caseload has reached a new low since 1934.

In January, 1941, a daily average of 5,870 men were cared for by the Division of Shelter Care. This figure compares with the January caseload of previous years as follows-8,567 in 1940; 10,503 in 1939; 11,224 in 1938; 9,161 in 1937; 11,301 in 1936; 7,382 in 1935; and 6,291 in 1934.

Thus, from the peak January, 1936,

May Andres Healy is granted the widest latitude in expressing her views. Her opinions do not necessarily represent the views of The Leader.

HAT strange things are done in the name of politics. Since Governor Lehman's Budget appeared the Republicans have told us that the Governor "sold us short"—that they did not intend to cut State Aid for Education.

Now, after conference, the Republican leaders state that they agree with the Governor's cut of 2 per cent in State Aid for Education. They mention nothing about the admitted surplus in educational funds which accrued due to the Ives law. They had previously stated they intended to make up the difference of the 2 per cent cut by using this surplus.

County roads and county fairs mean more politically, so schools and children can suffer the consequences.

Let me warn these legislative leaders that you get no more than you pay for-if education is to be sacrificed at this critical stage, it will be too late to repair the damage after political patronage is satisfied.

Roads can wait! Fairs can be financed by local communities! But the education of a child must be provided when the child is ready for it!

Why are our representatives so blind? They would do well to observe what is happening in the totalitarian dictatorships. Children are banded together at the early age of five. The dictators do not lose sight of the fact that impressions made at that age are the ones which a child carries through life. In order to inculcate the Fascist, Nazi, and Communist doctrines, the totalitarian dictators specialize in the training of the youngest children. They are not afraid of losing the children after this training, even to the parents, for at this formative age the children's minds are the most plastic.

In the American kindergarten one of the essentials taught young children is to respect the rights of others-our American ideal. In the formal classes later such opportunities do not present themselves as often.

Aid to Kindergartens

What are our legislators doing about State Aid for Kindergartens? It has been proven to, and admitted by the leading legislators, that kindergarten training is an essential part of a child's education. Press reports, however, indicate that the majority party in our State Legislature intends to abandon the bill which has been introduced to provide State Aid for Preparedness and Defense are the magic words which seem to get all the appropriations. What of the part education plays in defense? Without it no intelligent defense could be planned or carried on. Invest in education now. Do not be caught unprepared. Defense will be easy with an intelligent citizenry.

Classified Status

L. A. S.: If an eligible on a federal Civil Service register accepts a position in one of the non-Civil Service agencies, which is later covered into the classified Civil Service, he acquires a classified Civil Service status without further examination. He cannot have his name retained on the register for a classified position if he accepts an unclassified position.

Draft Investigators Unclassified

L. A. S.: Investigator, Selective Service Board, is an unclassified position. Persons who accept such position from a Civil Service eligible list will not acquire classified Civil Servce status. If the position is later abolished, however, they have the right to go on a replacement list for certification to defense agencies.

Reinstatement Not a Right

L. A. S.: If a city employee resigns to accept a position with one of the federal defense agencies, he has no special right to be rein-stated when the federal position is abolished. Of course, any city employee may apply for reinstatement within a year from his resignation, but he is not "entitled" to reinstatement if the department does not want to take him back.

Apply Within Year For Reinstatement

J. J. L.: Persons who served in the postal service less than two years, just as in any other branch of the federal service, must apply for reinstatement within a year after they have resigned unless they are entitled to veteran preference, in which case there is no time limit.

Department Head Judge In Dismissal

M. H.: A permanent employee transferred from one department to a similar position in another de-partment does not have to serve another probationary period. If he is appointed from some other eligible list to a different position he must serve another probationry period in the second position, since the fact that he was satis-factory in one kind of work does not necessarily mean that he would be equally satisfactory in another kind. Before a department head can dismiss an employee from the Federal service, he must furnish him with a written statement of charges and give him an adequate opportunity to answer. The department head, however, is sole judge of the sufficiency of such answer.

Five-Year Employee Eligible to Return

C. K. P.: A Federal employee with five years' service is eligible for reinstatement, without time limit, to a position of the same class and grade which he occupied hen he resigned or for which he originally qualified. This is true even if he was originally ap-pointed to an unclassified position which was later covered into the classified service.

Effect of Army Discharge

J. D.: The effect of a certificate of discharge from the Army for disability upon your eligibility for a Civil Service position depends entirely upon the nature of the position. There is no general rule.

Federal Residence

N. S. D.: A resident of Maine who is on the eligible list for Inspector of Customs, and who has accepted employment in Brooklyn Navy Yard, and continues his bona fide residence in Maine, may continue eligible for certification from the Customs Inspector list for appointment in the Maine District. If you change your residence to New York, you will not be certified for appointment to the Maine district.

Maine Residents Get Quota Break

N. S. D.: Since certification to positions in the field service are made from Federal eligible regis-ters on a regional basis, it is possible for eilgibles in one state to be certified ahead of eligibles with higher ratings who live in some other state. Certification is made according to the eligible's legal residence, not his temporary resi-dence. Because of activity along the Maine-Canadian border, it is possible that Maine residents on the registers prepared for Immigration and Customs Service positions will have a better chance of appointment than residents of many other states. As to opportunities of promotion from clerical positions in the Customs Service to inspector positions, these are fairly good, since a person holding a clerical position would not only have a chance to compete in competitive promotion examinations, but also under certain circumstances could be given a non-competitive promotion examination.

Mail Clerk Certifications On State-Wide Basis

I. K.: Certifications for Railway Mail Clerk are made on a state-wide basis, and one must be a resident of a state for six months before becoming eligible for the examination. Therefore if you are fairly high on the New York list I would not advise you to move to another state in the hope of getting your eligibility transferred from one state to another.

Mental Hygiene Notes

Attendants as Nurses

Under the rules governing Hospital Attendant appointments, the superintendents may appoint people planning to enter the next nurses' training school, as Hospital Attendants on a non-competitive basis. The number of such appointments cannot exceed the number normally enrolled in a class. Such non-competitive Hospital Attendants receive the $54 minimum wage, and get no increase. If they do not enroll in the training class, their services are ended.

Between the time student nurses complete their training and the time they receive their license, they may continue as non-competitive Hospital Attendants. One year is the maximum time allowed for this, unless they originally enjoyed competitive Hospital Attendant status. In that case they revert back to their competitive status.

New Super

Dr. Kenneth Keill, acting medical inspector in the Mental Hygiene Department, has just taken over as superintendent of Willard State Hospital. The appointment, from the Civil Service eligible list, was effective Monday, March 10. Dr. Keill, a native of Canada, has been in the State service since May 1, 1924. He has worked at Binghamton State, Letchworth Village, Kings Park State, and Pilgrim State Hospitals.

Progress of the List

In zone 4, questionnaires have gone to eligibles down to 6,800 on the Hospital Attendant list. Appointments have gone down to 4,824 among the men, to 3,704 among the women. For certification, 5,272 was the last man certified, and 5,388 the last woman.

Fifty-three permanent and one temporary appointment have been made in zone 2. Numer 1,936 (252 on the zone list) was the last appointment. 130 certifications have been made, down to 2,984 (392 in the zone). 35 certifications are still outstanding. Questionnaires have gone down to 3,903 (525 in the zone) among the men, and to 3,192 (424 in the zone) among the women, Ninety-nine eligibles—49 men and 50 women—have been certified to date in zone 3. 25 refused appointment or failed to appear, two were rejected as unsatisfactory on the basis of past employment records, and one failed the medical example. and one failed the medical exam be-fore appointment. 51 have been appointed-20 men and 31 women. Lowest man certified was 2,969 (281 in the zone), and 2,312 (224 in the zone) was the last appointed. Among the women, the last certified was 5,451 (455 in the zone), and the last certification went to 4,721 (406 in the

Transfer Plan Hits Snag Department Head's OK Doesn't Work

Although nearly 200 requests for transfers have been received from city employees by the Municipal Civil Service Commission, the Commission still has not completed a list of these employees and turned it over to the appointing officers of various departments. Months ago the Commission announced the formal adoption of a program to effect transfers for city workers, but since then little additional progress has been made.

An official of the Commission declares that the first list of 200 names will be ready "shortly." The certification bureau of the Commission is in charge of handling requests for transfers, which must be submitted

It had been expected that a large number of employees would apply for transfers, but a requirement that each request must be oked by the employee's department head has cut down the number of such requests considerably.

The Commission's explanation for this requirement is that it is useless to arrange a transfer, only to find later that the department head will not allow an employee to leave.

Lists Sent to Departments According to the Commission's program, lists of employees interested in transfers will be made up periodically, probably once each three months. These lists will be sent to the appointing officers of all city departments, and they will be asked to use them to fill vacancies whenever possible instead of having certifications made from an eligible

Up to now there has been no workable plan devised which would solve the problem of job transfers; the Commission admits that its present procedure is "an experiment." vigorous campaign was conducted by The LEADER last year calling on the Commission and city officils to adopt some simple and efficient method by which transfers would be made.

Inspector contains approximately 1,900 persons selected from approximately 40,000 applicants who filed for this position. Those selected for the register were examined during the summer and fall of 1939 in both written and oral examinations in addition to thorough investigation of previous experience requirements in executive and administrative capacities. It will be the aim of the association to have this register used for such positions as the eligibles are qualified to fill, as indicated by their experience and qualifications which are already known to the U. S. Civil Service Commission.

At the luncheon, booklets on the devotions, history, and Catholic regulations for Lent were read. This pamphlet policy in the past has brought the latest Catholic position on public and religious questions to the attention of Catholics in Civil Service.

Maintainer's Helpers

All Provisionals to Go in One Month

All four Maintainer's Helper eligible lists were certified to the Board of Transportation last week by the Municipal Civil Service Commission to fill vacancies as follows: 100 in Group A; 300 in Group B; 40 in Group C; and 40 in Group D.

While these certifications were made last week, it will be fully another month before all provisionals are replaced. The Civil Service Commission and the Board of Transportation point out that it would cause a serious disruption in ordinary service to replace 500 men at one clip with new employees. Therefore a staggered system will be used.

Practical test for the four groups have been completed and 960 candidates have been examined. This means that the Commission will have tested enough candidates to fill normal demands for the next six After that period additional eligibles will be called in to take the practical tests and to qualify for appointment.

Eligibles Celebrate, Despite Sad Plight

The License No. 1 Eligibles Association celebrated the tenth anniver-sary of the promulgation of their list with a dinner Saturday night at Childs restaurant, Madison Ave. and 46th St., Manhattan. Dr. George S. Counts, president of the American Federation of Teachers; Joseph A. Palma, borough president of Richmond; Assemblymen Austin, David-son, Glancy, Oliffe and Wachtel were among the speakers.

The License No. 1 Eligibles have been serving as substitutes for ten years. Because of declining registers and class consolidations, their list is threatened with expiration in 1942. The eligibles intend to fight such action as it would mean the virtual death of their professional careers. The eligibles feel that their plight is bad enough inasmuch as they have the same responsibilities and duties as regularly appointed teachers without such rights and privileges as tenure, annual salary, pensions, or paid vacations.

Fifty eligibles on the two lists attended an organization meeting last Thursday at Washington Irving.

P. O. Eligibles

The Post Office Eligibles Association meets every Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the Henry St. Settlement House, 265 Henry St. All eligibles are urged to attend these meetings. Cooperation is needed, according to officials, In the forthcoming campaign to secure more appointments.

According to the annual report of Postmaster General Walker: On June 30, 1940, there were 1,275 postoffices of the first class, 3,652 offices of the second class, 10,068 offices of the third class, and 29,100 offices of the fourth class in the U. S. . . . During the year, 1,893 employees were retired with annuity, 986 of whom were supervisors, clerks and laborers, 907 city and village delivery carriers.

Pay Cut Proposed

This editorial is so good we're reprinting it in full. It's from the National Federation of Postal Office Clerks. Every Civil Service employee should read it:

Representative Clare Hoffman of Michigan has introduced a bill to cut the salaries of government employees, providing a 10 percent cut for our own particular wage level ($1,000 to $2,500). What interests us exceedingly is not only the actual pay cut provisions, but also the introduction of the bill, which states that it is to "provide for" common defense." Essentially, this is the trick known as hitting below the belt. It sweeps aside all reasonable argument and says in effect, 'If you dare to oppose this bill, you are selfish, and a traitor to your

It appears to Representative Hoffman that this cut is necessary, for, another statement of the bill is that it is to last as long as there is a "national emergency." Is there an emergency so great as to justify this cut? Let us see. The "excess profits" tax bill, passed by the last Congress on national defense orders, provided for a tax reaching a limit of 50 percent, not on normal profits, but only on "excess" profits, at the same time allowing deductions from the tax for the cost of new plant expansion. We will not go into the intricacies of these provisions here, but it must be obvious to anybody that no sacrifice is being called for from the corporations that are making the armaments. the contrary, the benefits are quite liberal. In that case, why should the call to "sacrifice," and the accompanying threat, be thrown This cut, to the average Post Office clerk, is not one of "profits," but one that will cut his food, clothing and medical care.

Does Representative Hoffman realize this? What is going on in his mind we do not know, but we do know the general mentality that lies behind such ideas. It is a program not of national defense, but of one group taking advantage of an announcement of "emergency" in order to feather its own nest at some one else's expense. We ran against this mentality during the depths of the depression, when a powerful group of lobbyists fought every measure that would help lift the people of the country a little, such as shorter hours, a minimum wage law, housing, W.P.A., the right to join a union, etc. gave many fine-sounding reasons, but the essential one was that these measures raised "the price of labor" to them, and so prevented them from making the fullest profit out of the people's misery.

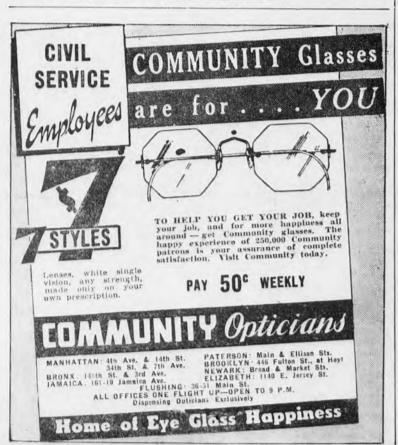

So it is with this bill. Behind it lies a general move to push down wages. As experience has repeatedly shown when fighting for an increase, the movement up or down of the pay of government employees seems to be regarded as a guidepost for the movement of pay in outside industry.

It is a peculiar thing that whenever the sound of "emergency" rises, a group of minds should immediately shout "Get after labor! Cut costs (meaning wages)! Increase hours! Take away their right to organize, to speak freely for themselves, to strike," etc., etc.!

should labor be suddenly regarded as a dangerous element?

It is not that we, or the rest of labor, have any interests apart from the interests of our country. For one thing, labor constitutes by far the largest body of people living in the country. It is rather that labor is dangerous to those who would aggrandize themselves under the cover of "emergency" cries. Labor fears that it is too easy to take the next step, of deepening the emergency to increase the aggrandizement. Labor might point at some who advocate cuts in wages for "emergency" but number among their customers countries which the headlines say are causing the "emergency." Labor does not believe in an "emergency" that attacks only the health and manhood of the country, the economic life of the workman and the small business man who work on a small enough margin as it is.

The Courts This Week Held

Vets Vs. Investigators

Veterans in the Welfare Department holding positions to which Social Investigator eligibles are entitled must give up their jobs of "Veteran Relief Investigator." Supreme Court Justice Valente held this in the case brought by H. Eliot Kaplan on behalf of Richard Welling, president of the Civil Service Reform Association, against the city. The Court held invalid the resolutions adopted by the Board of Estimate last August at the request of Mayor LaGuardia. These charged the Social Investigator titles to "Veteran Relief Investigator" to beat Social Investigator eligibles out of their jobs after the eligibles had won the court decision in the Sher-man and Moats cases. The decision of Justice Valente may put a crimp in the latest move of Mayor La-Guardia for a declaratory judgment. This was instituted last week as another means of trying to head off the replacement of the veterans in the Welfare Department by eligibles. Justice Valente called the defenses interposed by the city as "puerile" and "disingenuous." He saw no reason for permitting the case to go to trial on the facts as claimed by the veterans' attorneys and the Corporation Counsel. The Court held there was no defense to the proceeding, and ordered a permanent injunction against the city officials continuing the veterans in their jobs and order-ing the payment of their salaries stopped.

Seniority

Seniority in the service must be on the basis of original standing on eligible lists. Supreme Court Justice Denis O'Leary Cohalan ruled this in the Tilles case, involving Em-ployment Interviewers, Senior Employment Interviewers, Employment Counsellors, and Senior Employment Counsellors in the DPUI. The Court upheld the contentions of the State torney General Bernard L. Alderman), and the intervenors claiming priority (represented by H. Eliot priority (represented by H. Eligibles near the bottom claimed seniority over those near the top, on the ground that they had actually been assigned to work first. It was brought out at the trial, however, that the employments out of order on the list were irregular and not intended to affect the Civil Service status of eligibles according to their original standing. The case involved the status of more than 150 employees in the DPUI. It establishes this important precedent: where a large number of appointments are made to existing vacancies filled at the same time, seniority depends upon the original standing on the list, regardless of the dates of assignment to work, where there is no evidence that those assigned later (and out of their order on the list) did not decline appointment, defer their appointment, or were not le-gally passed over by the appointing
