Commerce Chapter Resolution On PR Program Garner's Much Support from CSEA Chapters

ALBANY, Sept. 7 — Support of more than 25 percent of the membership of CSEA for a Commerce Chapter resolution aimed at strengthening public relations in the Association was indicated by Lorraine Brundage, president of the chapter in Albany.

The resolution has been formally submitted to the Association's Resolutions Committee chairman, Lawrence W. Kerwin. It aims at improving the public attitude toward career State and county employees, with the basic objective of establishing public service as a respected profession benefiting every community and locality in the State.

From The Resolution

Included among recommendations in the resolution are:

- The budget and staff of the Association's Public Relation Office be progressively increased so that it can do a more effective job.
- The Association utilize the services of professional public relations personnel within the State C.S.E.A. membership to help establish the philosophy and procedure for telling the story of the State employee to the public.
- The Association use proved public relations techniques, taking advantage of newspaper, radio, television, advertising, promotional literature and other media, in order to create a proper image of the State employee in the public mind.
- Continuing assistance be given Association chapters in bettering internal relations within the various departments and in enhancing community relations. Such assistance should include improving the attitude of employees toward the public by instruction in proper telephone techniques, in courteous service, in methods of achieving better press relations, and bringing to the public attention outstanding volunteer work and other contributions of State employees to their own communities.

17 Chapters Approve

The Commerce Chapter, according to Mrs. Brundage, recently sent copies of the resolution to chapter and conference presidents throughout the State. Seventeen replies have been received to date. All have expressed approval of the resolution.

Mrs. Brundage said that chapters endorsing the resolution represent more than 22,000 members in the C.S.E.A.

"Our chapter is encouraged by the wholehearted support and comments of the chapters, large and small, which took the trouble to write us on the resolution. We are especially impressed with the wide geographical distribution represented by these chapters."

She said the response was "gratifying during a period when so many are on vacation and meetings are difficult to arrange." Copies of the letters were sent along with the resolution to Mr. Kerwin's committee.

The following chapters approved the resolution. Central Islip State Hospital Chapter; Rochester State Hospital Chapter; Labor Department (Albany Chapter); Hornell Chapter; Mt. McGregor Chapter; Niagara Chapter; Binghamton Chapter; Syracuse Chapter; Willard Chapter; Albany Division, Thruway Chapter; Public Works Chapter (Babylon); Nassau Chapter; Creedmoor Chapter; Bridge Authority Chapter; Craig Colony Chapter; Taconic State Park Commission Chapter, and the Western Conference.

Members of the Commerce Chapter committee who submitted the resolution were: Mildred Cottrell, Darwin Benedict, Jane Venditti, Camilla Petrie, George Savage, Herbert Writer, Ira Gelb (Chapter Executive Council) and Edwin Roeder, Mildred Meskil, Jack Wyld, and Stanley Freedgood (Public Relations Committee).

Vanguard in Space Opens Fair Exhibit Of Commerce Dept.

ALBANY, Sept. 7 — This is what three state agencies had to say about their public exhibits at the New York State Fair, now in full swing.

Commerce: "An electronic impulse from Vanguard I, on its 5,760th orbit around the earth, activated a switch to turn on the lights of the State Commerce Department exhibit Sept. 4th.

"The Commerce Department exhibit epitomizes the 1959 State Fair theme, 'Opportunity in New York State.' The central feature of the exhibit is a map of the State—28 feet long and two feet eight inches high—surmounted by a revolving 46-foot pylon.

"Staff members of the Department will be on hand at exhibits to answer questions and distribute informative literature."

Mental Hygiene: "By popular demand the New York State Mental Hygiene Department is bringing back its Haunted House exhibit to the State Fair.

"The 32-foot exhibit, which

SECRETARIES OF STATE MEET IN OREGON

ALBANY, Sept. 7 — Secretary of State Caroline K. Simon flew to Oregon last week to attend the 42nd annual meeting of the Secretaries of State of the United States.

The four-day session was given over to discussion of mutual problems.

Mrs. Simon is one of four women holding the position in the United States.

Kaplan Cites Civil Service Improvements

ALBANY, Sept. 7 — H. Elliot Kaplan, president of the State Civil Service Commission, believes significant strides are being made to improve the State's civil service system.

In a report to The Leader, Mr.

H. ELIOT KAPLAN

Kaplan said the commission had completed a review of all state exempt jobs to determine which of the positions could be properly filled by competitive examination.

He also said that the commission had directed all state agencies to follow the Civil Service Law by making prompt appointments from Civil Service eligible lists. He said all departments had been reminded that provisional appointees should not serve more than nine months.

Wants To Speed Exams

Listing a "stepping up of the Civil Service examination process" as one of his major goals, Mr. Kaplan said temporary and provisional appointments should be kept at a minimum in the interests of a good merit system.

One way to do this, he added, was to step up the examination process so that qualified personnel would be readily available for appointment.

Mr. Kaplan said State agencies are being offered the full cooperation of the commission and Civil Service Department personnel in solving any problems connected with the drive to cut provisionals to a minimum.

Directions To Agencies

Letters to various state agencies have contained the following information:

"Recently we completed an analysis which reveals that despite opportunities to qualify for permanent status, certain employees have been serving as provisionals an inordinate time. In some cases a provisional has been replaced in one position only to be moved to another item or from one agency to another.

"As you are aware, the Civil Service Law provides for a maximum term of nine months for a provisional appointee. It will continue to be our goal to keep the duration of provisional service below such maximum.

"In times of full employment it is extremely difficult to comply with this requirement in all cases. However, we believe that a provisional who has had an opportunity to acquire permanent status and who has served far beyond the law's limit in an occupational field in which there is now a fair supply of candidates, should be separated from the payroll not later than Oct. 7, 1959. Appended to this letter is a list (list "A") of your employees who are in this category."

CORRECTION CORNER

By JACK SOLOD

To Each His Own

Last time out the "Corner" pen pointed the importance of keeping the Wardens job restricted to promotion up through the uniformed ranks. Present plans will permit some departmental educators to take this exam. Letters are still coming in and everyone with two years of high school education is passing me by.

Let's get it straight, I love educators, but believe that they should stick to their business, mainly education.

Letters from Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, Lt. Gov. Malcolm Wilson and Civil Service President Elliot Kaplan, all stress that "treatment experts" must be given the same opportunity to become Warden's as custodial men. Also the point is made especially by Commissioner Kaplan that prior to 1950 Wardens also came from non-uniformed ranks and that some are still serving and doing a good job.

Staff of Lt. Gov. Wilson and Bill Ronan for the Governor made a thorough study of this matter and sent straightforward answers. Thanks for your interest.

How come the Wardens who are "short of help" when it comes to personal business time off, have no trouble sending 10 men to St. Lawrence University for a week each year?

Love in bloom: At California's Chino and Atascadero Prisons, inmates are permitted to take long walks with their wives on visiting days. The California Adult Authority has revealed that love has bloomed among the sycamores at these institutions. Lewis Drucker, presiding judge of the Los Angeles Superior Court Criminal Division says, "Connubial visits are consistent with the penal philosophy which holds that crime should be rehabilitated, not punished." I wouldn't want to be the officer assigned to visits.

Ran into Jan Murray the famous TV comic. He looked swell and I remarked, "You look younger in person than on TV." Quick as a flash he replied, "You must have an old TV set."

"Hot" Fish Are in State Exhibit

ALBANY, Sept. 7 — "Hot" goldfish are working for the State Department of Labor in Syracuse. They started Friday, September 4. They are part of the Department's display on "Protecting the Atomic Worker" at the State Fair. The fish have been made radioactive and will show the sensitivity of detection equipment by setting detectors clicking when they swim near the equipment by their tank.

In the display will be included a mannikin dressed in the correct protective clothing and samples of lead containers and other shielding devices. There will also be periodic demonstrations daily of "remote handling" of radioactive materials.

The Labor Department will also show an exhibit depicting various other services of the Department.

State Fire Protection Comm. Named

ALBANY, Sept. 7 — New York State's three commissioners on the Northeastern Forest Fire Protection Commission, which was established by inter-state compact, are:

William M. Foss, assistant commissioner for Conservation Department; Leo Lawrence, Assemblyman from Herkimer County and Lyman A. Beeman of Glens Falls. The appointments were announced by Governor Rockefeller, subject to confirmation by the 1960 Legislature.

Application of Variable Annuity Plan to Pension

BY PHILIP KERKER

CSEA Public Relations Director

In the previous article on the variable annuity there was a general discussion on the nature and history of the concept. In this installment there will be a brief explanation on how the variable annuity would work when applied to a retirement plan.

The violent inflation which beset the American economy during the decade between 1940 and 1950 caused untold hardship to thousands of people who were living in retirement on pensions received from fixed dollar investments. This was not only true of retired public employees but also of people who had created estates through private insurance companies. The erosion of the purchasing power of their retirement dollars was so rapid that unless they procured employment to gain a supplementary income, they were forced to appeal for public assistance. The dilemma in which these unfortunate retirees found themselves was not of their making or due to any failure of their retirement systems.

Ravaged Incomes

When the original retirement contracts were made out there was no thought of the ravages which would occur to their pension incomes during the 40's. Ten years before the American economy had experienced a great deflation and the termination of World War II bore every expectancy that another deflationary period would follow. Advertisements in magazines were frequent which depicted the pleasures of retirement on annuities of $100 per month in sunny climes, with palm trees, sun, sand and sea.

It is true this probably would have occurred if certain world conditions had not intruded, such as the Korean police action and the tensions of a cold war. Be that as it may, instead of the economy either dipping or leveling off after the war's inflation, it went into a drastic upward spiral of inflation. Prices for everything rose and the curve of the cost of living index was practically a straight line soaring upward. Since 1957 the index has slowed down in its upward sweep but, as the latest report from the Bureau of Labor Statistics indicates, there still remains an inflationary tendency.

Alleviation Sought

In New York State the Governor and the Legislature, recognizing the problem of its retirees, tried to alleviate the situation by legislating supplementary pensions so that each retiree meeting certain qualifications of years, service and age might receive at least a minimum of $1,320 per year. While this afforded some relief, it was evident that it was not sufficient. The Civil Service Employees Association received hundreds of letters from all over the state testifying as to the hardships which the pensioners were suffering during this period. A special committee of retired employees to study the problem created within the Association resulted in Association bills introduced into the Legislature. Unfortunately these failed to pass.

With the concept of the variable annuity which came into being early in the 1950's, there was an indication of some hope and relief for future retirees against the creeping or violent inflationary trends which now seem to be an ever present part of our economy. The experience of the College Retirement and Equities Fund or CREP, as well as the Pension Fund State of Wisconsin, are important sources of information as to the operation of the variable annuity concept.

Weinstein's Explanation

To explain how the variable annuity works within the framework of a retirement plan, it would be well to quote at length from a speech made by the Actuary of the New York State Retirement System, Max Weinstein, in a talk before one of the Conference meetings of the Civil Service Employees Association describes the operation as follows: "Under a variable annuity plan, we would invest both the member's contributions and the employer's contributions in common stocks. These common stocks would be broadly diversified and carefully selected by investment experts. The stocks would pay dividends and the value of the stocks would rise and fall in the market. When a member retires we would compute his retirement allowance on the basis of his service and salary and the contributions he has made, just as we do at present, but in addition we would also give consideration to the dividends we have received on the stocks and also the rise and fall in the market value of such stocks. Thus, if the stocks had increased in value, we would pay a larger retirement allowance. Even after the member has retired, we would continue to watch the stock market and if the stocks continue to increase in value, we would correspondingly increase the pensioner's retirement allowance. If the stocks decreased in value, we would decrease the retirement allowance.

The "Unit" Idea

"I must give you a few more details. Our total portfolio of common stocks would be divided up into equal portions, each of which would be called a 'unit'. At any particular time we would find the dollar value of a unit by reference to the current value of all of our stocks in the stock market. Let us say that at a particular moment the value of a unit is $10. When a member makes his contributions to the system, such contributions are immediately converted into units. If he has contributed $15, for example, we would credit him on our books of account not with $15 but with 1½ units. Suppose that, the next time he makes a contribution, the value of a unit has gone up to $10.50. The same $15 would then provide 1.43 units. And so on, during each pay period. Thus the member would be accumulating units, not dollars.

"This process would be continued throughout the active service of the member until, at the time of retirement, let us assume that the member has accumulated 500 units. We would then use our regular procedures, to determine the pension part and the annuity part of the retirement allowance, just as we do at present. But the figures would be expressed in units, not dollars.

Evaluated Annually

"Let us assume that the 500 units which the member has accumulated will provide him with an annuity of 4 units per month. Let us further assume that the pension part of the retirement allowance is computed to be 6 units per month. Thus the member would be entitled to a total retirement allowance of 10 units a month, which we would guarantee to pay for as long as he lives. But at the time of retirement we would not be able to tell him what this would amount to in dollars and cents during each future month, because that will depend on the future value of common stocks.

"At the beginning of each year the Comptroller would determine the value of a unit, based on the then current market price of the common stocks in our portfolio. Let us assume that at the time of retirement this value has been determined as $15 a unit. The pensioner who is entitled to ten units per month would then receive $150 each month. The following year the value per unit might be $13.50, in which case the pensioner would receive $135 per month during that year. And so on, each year the value per unit would be determined and the pensioner would be sent a check which would read:

Committee members are Alphonse F. Mr. McClure, chairman of the committee, described it as "one more channel of communication between Blue Cross and the community it serves."

"In this period of rising hospital costs and growing demand for health care benefits", he said, "there is increasing need for mutual understanding of the problems facing those who provide protection against the cost of hospital care and those who receive it. With the guidance of the community leaders who have accepted membership on the Blue Cross advisory committee we hope to find answers to some of those problems."

The committee will represent subscriber opinion and work closely with the AHS board of directors in the development of new types of coverage, methods of payment to hospitals, and other activities to meet the changing community needs.

City Rammer Starts at $6,280 a Year

Laborers, foremen and assistant foremen, working under the five borough presidents' offices, can apply for the $6,280-a-year position of rammer.

The promotion examination requires three years of recent experience in maintaining and repairing highways, or not less than 1 1/2 years of such experience, plus enough vocational or trade school training to make a total of three years—one year of the training accepted for one year of experience.

Further information and application forms are available at the Application Section, Department of Personnel, 95 Duane St., New York 7, N. Y., across the street from The Leader.

State Pays Training for Good Jobs

If you've had accounting experience or college training, New York State offers a one-year training position as accounting trainee, as the first leg up on the civil service ladder.

The red-carpet treatment will be given to candidates for the title from across the U.S.A. Payment for the year will be $4,600.

Once you finish the year, you move up—without an examination—to the grade 14 level, going up from $4,988 to $6,078 in five years.

If you have high enough qualifications, the State will waive the one-year training period, and you can start at the $4,988 level.

Applications will be accepted up to Oct. 19, and the test is set for Nov. 21.

Application forms and further information are available from the State Department of Civil Service, either at 270 Broadway, New York 7, N. Y., or at the State Campus, Albany 1, N. Y.

A 'New Year' Starts

LABOR HAD its day this week and in so doing reiterated to the world that labor's voice in the western world is still free.

The parades, speeches and national day of leisure have also come to mark the end of summer, unofficially, and, for many, September psychologically starts a "new Year." With the bracing fall winds due here soon rise new hopes and new plans.

Civil service workers — although they do not possess the instrument of the strike — will face the usual struggles to keep peace with an ever expanding economy and a still fairly unstable dollar. They are faced more and more with cries and pressures for economy in government. The unofficial New Year, therefore, must be met with considerable planning and spirit if the civil servant is to maintain his place among his fellow workers in private industry.

Government must also do some planning in behalf of its employees. The public worker cannot be called upon to pay the price of reducing inflationary trends when he has never been in the price bracket of his own counterpart in private industry. Wages — higher wages — are still due in civil service.

Labor Day is our country's tribute to the worker. That tribute is for the civil service worker as much as any other knid.

What Sacrifices Does Mayor Wagner Call For?

MAYOR WAGNER should be praised for his drive to raise his city's police force to quota strength. But, in his crash program to arm New York City against the rising tide of crime, he has used words that may unsettle the minds of many City employees.

To recruit more policemen, the Mayor said, other City services must be "sacrificed". That, he implied, is the only way we can get the money.

Which of our necessary services is going to be "sacrificed". And are some employees' jobs in danger because of an emergency economy?

We need those extra police, badly. There should be no question of providing for them. But the other services are necessary, also.

It would be a bad day if some essential services are crippled in the City's headlong dash for law an order.

Law Cases

Sidney M. Stern, counsel, submitted to the New York City Civil Service Commission the following report on law cases:

JUDICIAL DECISIONS

Special Tern

Narell v Falk. The court held that there appeared sufficient factual data to substantiate the determination that petitioner was not qualified for appointment to the position which he sought.

Goldman v Schechter and Chernak v Schechter. In both cases petitioners were classified as supervising claim examiner and sought reclassification to principal claim examiner on the basis of identical or like work by others having the higher title. The court found no violation of petitioners' rights nor any unlawful action in the reclassification of their positions and denied the applications.

Grottano v Kennedy. Petitioner sought to vacate the order of the police commissioner dismissing him from the force on the ground that dismissal is too severe a punishment for the offenses of which he was found guilty. His application was denied, the court refusing to interfere with the determination of the commissioner.

MCCARTHY ASKS "NO RECEPTION"

The following is a memorandum to all employees in the City Department of Welfare:

I am advising the staff of this Department that former Commissioner Henry L. McCarthy has requested that the reception planned by the staff in his honor on September 14 be cancelled.

It is with keen regret that we accede to Mr. McCarthy's wishes because I know, personally, of the spirit and motivation that prompted in the first instance the proposal for this affair. It was a spirit of respect and affection that suggested to so many of us the wish to demonstrate our estimate of him as a person and as our former chief.

To me and to the overwhelming majority of the staff it is human and natural that those who have worked with Mr. McCarthy for over nine years would wish to demonstrate affection and regard to their former chief and to say a fond farewell and God-speed as he leaves the Department to enter a new area of community service.

Considerable misunderstanding has been created in the minds of the public about certain aspects of the planning of the staff committee for the reception. Charges were made that pressure was being exerted on staff to participate in the affair. I am reliably assured that such was not the case.

I have no doubt that the good judgment of our staff and now my directive reassuring that pressure of no kind would be countenanced would preclude other than a voluntary participation in the affair planned for Mr. McCarthy or any similar gesture for a departing member of the staff. Charge was also made that plans were afoot to present Mr. McCarthy with an automobile. There is absolutely no truth in this report. As a matter of fact, the committee had not decided on what form its gift would take.

It is true that one member of the committee suggested an automobile.

It is also true that many other suggestions were made including the creation of a scholarship fund staff in honor of Mr. McCarthy and a gift to Mr. McCarthy's favorite charity. The suggestion concerning the presentation of an automobile was taken out of context to the discredit of the staff of this Department and to the embarrassment of Mr. McCarthy whom we wished to honor.

In advising the staff that we must respect Mr. McCarthy's request that the reception be cancelled, however much we regret it, I am directing that the price of the reception be returned to those who had indicated their intention to attend. Monies already contributed for a gift will be turned over to any charity designated by Mr. McCarthy.

Hospitals Director Must Tend Employees' Problems As Well as the Patients'

Labor relations, engineering problems, fiscal battles and administrative responsibility for 37,000 persons are not ordinarily in the line of work of a physician. But Dr. Morris A. Jacobs, New York City's Hospitals Commissioner says the combination is invigorating. His main job, of course, is providing medical care for the City's needy.

"My overall goal," he said, "is to give even the poorest patient the best possible medical care.

"The hospitals or other institutions under the jurisdiction of the New York City Hospitals Department shall be primarily for the care and treatment of the indigent sick of the City and for the protection of the public health, but the Department may receive other sick or injured persons in emergencies. That is the definition in the City Charter and therein lies the story of my life's work," he added.

Dr. Jacobs' service with the municipal hospitals began in 1926, when he took his internship at City Hospital. He became a resident at the New York City Cancer Institute the following year, and in 1928 won a promotion to the position of Deputy Medical Superintendent at City Hospital. He held this post until 1935, when another promotion took him to the Medical Superintendency of Seaview Hospital in Staten Island, a position he occupied for four years.

His next step upward came in 1949, when he was named General Medical Superintendent for the Department of Hospitals. In 1955, Dr. MacLean, the retiring Commissioner, selected Dr. Jacobs as Deputy Commissioner of Hospitals in charge of all medical activities.

He was named Commissioner of Hospitals by Mayor Robert F. Wagner in February, 1957. At that time the Mayor called him "a physician of unusual competence, an administrator of demonstrated ability."

His Problems

Dr. Jacobs said that some of his present administrative problems concern the controversy over meal charges for employees not living at the hospitals, getting pay increases for employees, keeping the Department's facilities equal to the need for them and changing the Department to meet changing conditions.

"I am no stranger to employee problems," he said, "I have spent most of my life as an employee and I am one still. I worked for most of the money to get through medical school, mostly as a taxi driver or welder. Some of the oldtimers in the Department still remember me as an intern, and I personally know a tremendous number of them."

Meal Charges

The meals charges issue is strictly a top-level policy problem, Dr. Jacobs was quick to point out. "Any decision rests with the Board of Estimate, the Mayor and the borough presidents," he said.

"If the Board chooses to eliminate meals charges I shall be happy to execute their decision."

Personnel Stability

Dr. Jacobs said that employee turnover since the inception of the Career and Salary Plan has been much less than before. "The present minimum," he said, "ranges from about $55 a week starting pay to $70 after five years."

"This is for completely inexperienced persons, and is quite a bit higher than other hospitals in the City pay. The employees also appreciate our pension system and the month's vacation we give them after their first year in the Department."

His first City Civil Service salary, he said, "was $2,760 a year as deputy medical superintendent at the old City Hospital on Welfare Island. That's what attendants start at now."

The persons for whom he feels pay raises now are most urgent are registered nurses, he said. "Their starting pay now is only $3,750 and the top is $4,800. I would like to see them in the $4,500 to $5,990 range. We have 8,000 jobs for registered nurses and only 3,400 qualified persons to fill them. The vacancies are now being filled by practical nurses and attendants.

"Registered nurses take at least three years of specialized instruction after high school graduation and they deserve more money. But wages in the Department generally are beginning to approach what they should be."

Problem of the Aged

Another problem, said the Commissioner, is the increasing numbers of aged patients the City must care for. Life expectancy has increased 20 years in the past half-century, he added.

"Our problem is how best to care for those older patients with no acute ailments. They don't require the constant and detailed attention needed by those stricken by violent disease or accident, and since these oldsters often require in-hospital care on a more or less permanent basis, we must make their quarters as much like a home as we can.

"Our solution is to set up 'public home infirmary' areas in the hospitals. When these patients are more acutely ill, the physician can go to them or have them brought to him in the regular part of the hospital with a minimum of delay or inconvenience."

Enjoys His Work

"I enjoy this work," said Dr. Jacobs, "because it gives me the opportunity to deal with patients from every imaginable angle. I'm interested in the overall administrative problem, the social

Navy Pay Shift Still 'Studied'

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 — The Navy hasn't made up its mind yet as to whether it will pay its wage board employees once a week or every two weeks, Rear Adm. Robert E. Cronin has told that the Federal employees' District 44 of the International Association of Machinists.

The Navy is now studying the shift, under pressure from the general Accounting Office and Congress.

But the study, said the admiral, "does not mean we have decided to change to a bi-weekly plan. We are merely getting information to determine if our decision to retain the weekly system was the right decision."

State Aids Those Who Seek Good Jobs

ALBANY, Sept. 7 — Employment opportunities in the State civil service are the subject of a new folder, "Looking for a Good Job?" published recently by the New York State Department of Civil Service.

The publication is aimed chiefly at high school graduates, soon-to-be graduates, and others without college training. It discusses positions for office workers, including clerks, stenographers, and typists; engineering and drafting aides; and stock-room workers.

The folder points out that the typical employee working in one of the jobs described earns $60 to $70 a week and that promotions can lead to higher-paying positions.

Colorfully illustrated and plainly written — much of it in conversational question and answer style — the publication spells out the many advantages of working for the State. Additional information is included in the location of jobs, the approximate dates announcements are issued, and the frequency of examinations.

Early this fall the Department of Civil Service will publish a booklet that rounds out the picture of opportunities in State employment. The 24-page publication, "careers for College Graduates in New York State Government," will be comprehensive and thorough, describing in detail the large variety of positions open to college trained men and women.

The State will send a copy of "Looking for a Good Job?" to anyone dropping a post card to the State Department of Civil Service, the State Campus, Albany 1, New York.

Parole Officers Start at $5,246

New York State is seeking qualified applicants for the post of parole officer (No. 196), paying $5,246 to $6,376 a year, and not requiring state residence. The state now has about 200 parole officers.

Needed are citizenship, age of 21 to 60, a bachelor's degree, and (1) two years of guiding or counseling correction institution inmates; (2) two years of agency social case work; (3) a year of graduate study or a master's degree in correction treatment or education in sociology, psychology or criminology; (4) a law degree; or (5) a satisfactory combination.

Write the State Department of Civil Service at 270 Broadway, New York 7, N. Y., or at the State Campus, Albany 1, N. Y., or visit a local office of the State Employment Service.

Court Calls Uniform Money Pay, In Setting Pensions

Retired police and firemen have won a new pension case in the Los Angeles District Court of Appeals.

The court, in the case of Anderson vs. the City of Long Beach, held that an increase in the uniform allowance is an increase in salary although not set forth in the annual salary ordinance. Thus, an increase in their fluctuating pensions.

Prior to October 1, 1954, each of the petitioners had retired and had been granted and paid a pension in monthly payments equal to the applicable percentage of the current salary provided for the position (fluctuating pension) upon which such pension is based.

Each policeman and fireman had furnished his own uniform, as required by the City, prior to October 1, 1954, and did not receive any reimbursement whatever therefor from the city.

The petitioners urged in the lower court that the uniform allowance was in fact an increase in the "salary attached to the rank or position" held by respondents prior to their retirement.

The appellant City of Long Beach argued that the so-called "uniform allowance was not set forth in the annual salary ordinance, but in a separate one, that none of the petitioners had "on duty days" or was required to maintain uniforms and accessories.

In affirming the lower court decision, the appellate court stated, among other things: "The fact that respondent petitioners did not serve during 'on duty days' . . . is not relevant to the determination of the amount of their pensions. Their pensions are based upon their contracts (already fully performed by them) relative to active service rendered by them, for which they were to and did receive certain compensation at the time, and also for which the city promised they would, after retirement, receive certain percentages of the amounts paid by the city to others from time to time rendering the same services.

"The actual effect, not the wording, of the ordinance determines whether it is added remuneration for services rendered. Under the facts of the instant action $180 per year was added to the pay for work done by each employee who worked full time. Therefore the court correctly determined that the pensions of petitioner-respondents should be based upon such increased compensation being paid to others later rendering the same services."

Rockefeller Names Erie County Sheriff

ALBANY, Sept. 7 — Governor Rockefeller has named B. John Tutuska as sheriff of Erie County for a term expiring Dec. 31, 1959. Mr. Tutuska will fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Robert A. Glasser to accept appointment as chairman of the new State Harness Racing Commission.

The new three-member trotting commission was sworn in last week in New York City. It replaces the one-man rule of George P. Monaghan, a Dewey appointee.

Mr. Tutuska is a career law enforcement official and was appointed to the Buffalo Police Department as a patrolman in 1936. He was named Under Sheriff of the county in 1956. His salary will be $15,000 a year.

FILTER-FLO® Washer

Touch one key and turn the dial to matching number... It's as easy as pointing

AN AUTOMATIC CYCLE FOR ANY WASHABLE

Cycle 1 Gets cottons and linens really clean. Cycle 2 Warm wash water (instead of hot) cleans without dulling colors. Cycle 3 No deep set wrinkles in wash 'n wear clothes. Cycle 4 Gentle washing for delicates. Cycle 5 Gives just-right care for "specials" like wool blankets or silks.

Wash by Number!

Choose the cycle for the clothes load, touch one key and turn the dial to the matching number... that's all there is to it! You get the just-right washing conditions for your clothes. There's no risk of wrong wash and spin speeds, water temperatures or wash times.

Non-Clogging Moving Filter

Lint is caught in the filter... not on your clothes. All recirculated water is filtered... no by-pass openings to let lint slip through to your clothes. Filter is easy to remove and clean... no jamming or clogging. Filter also serves as handy detergent dispenser, too.

U. S. Job Openings on Rise In Many Federal Agencies

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 — A growing number of "single spot" vacancies is being reported by various Federal agencies and their regional offices. These are not vacancies declared open in any recruitment program, but openings in individual offices as the stress of turnover grows.

There is an increasing proportion of lower-grade job openings, despite the usual shortages in the scientific, technical and engineering fields. There are definite shortages in some agencies in clerical and stenographic categories.

Known Openings

Openings known to personnel offices of the Federal government are listed below. These positions are open until further notice, unless a closing date is given. Salaries range from $3,000 to $10,000 and above; the U.S. adds to the basic pay quoted here in many cases authorized overtime, overseas duty, etc. (Asterisked jobs may be overseas.)

The number of the job is listed. Give both number and title when you ask for information. Announcements are available from the Director, Second U.S. Civil Service Region, Federal Building, Christopher Street, New York 14, N.Y.; from the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D.C.; from local installations where the jobs are located, and from many main post offices.

situation and the engineering aspects. This job is a very diversified responsibility.

"We have 28 hospitals, an ambulance corps with 92 ambulances with more than 350,000 calls a year, and 37,000 employees. We license 127 nursing homes and 45 proprietary hospitals.

"We also have 2,200 persons on home care, which means they convalesce at home and are visited regularly by nurses and physicians — even housekeepers. This is considered an extension to our hospitals, but instead of the average $28-a-day cost for in-hospital patients, these patients only cost us $3 a day on an average. It also saves a lot of bed space."

His Background

Dr. Jacobs was born in Brooklyn in 1898. His family moved to New Jersey, and he attended school in South Orange and Short Hills. His pre-medical education was obtained at New York University Medical College.

He received his medical degree from New York University-Bellevue Medical College in 1925. He began his internship in North Hudson Hospital, New Jersey, transferring after a year to New York City Hospital.

Dr. Jacobs resides at 1170 Manor Road, Port Richmond, 14, Staten Island, with his wife, the former Anne Platt, and their children, Ruth, 20, and Richard 17.

On all the Walt Bell fine country bargains. Last weekend several people through the State (especially N.Y., City and Long Island) drove way up here in response to 2 and 3 week old ads in this paper, only to find the places sold. It's embarrassing to both you and ourselves. When you see an ad you like, pick up the phone and say "I'm coming" and I'll hold the place until you get here. This week we offer you a 40 acre property with a lake, 9 room home, chicken houses, barns, etc. Electric and water in, bath started. 24 miles from Albany and it's secluded. Taxes only $80 yr. Price $8,700. Was a show place but now run down. Circular No. 180, mailed free, gives descriptions of many other properties.

Social Security Answers

I am receiving Workmen's Compensation for an injury in-curred in December, 1958. I have recently begun to receive social security disability checks. Am I entitled to keep these checks?

Yes. Since August, 1958, any-one who is so disabled as to meet the requirements of the social security law may receive the so-cial security disability payment and any additional disability payment to which they might be entitled.

I filed a claim for disability payments some time ago and was turned down because I had not worked for 1½ years out of the last 3 years before I became per-manently disabled. Has there been any change made in the law?

Yes. 1½ years work out of the last 3 years prior to disability is no longer required. Under recent amendments, a disabled worker is required to have only 5 years of work out of the last 10 before the disability date. Possibly you may qualify now. We suggest you get in touch with your social security office again.

I was supported by my son for many years up until his death in 1947. I tried to get social securi-ty payments as his dependent mother but was turned down be-cause he was married and left a widow surviving him. I heard recently that I might be eligible under the new change in your law. Is there any truth to that?

We suggest you contact your social security office as soon as possible. Under the 1958 amend-ments, dependent parents became eligible for payments even though a deceased son or daughter might be survived by a widow or minor children.

I am drawing social security retirement benefits. My wife is 49. We are considering the adop-tion of our granddaughter, age 11. If we adopt her how will my benefits be affected, and when?

If you and your wife adopt this child, both your wife and the child will become immedi-ately eligible for benefits. Each will receive a benefit equal to one-half of the amount of your benefit, subject to a maximum amount. You should get in touch with your social security office when the adoption is final.

500 Jobs as Social Investigator

New York City employs more than 500 social investigators in the Department of Welfare, with vacancies coming up all the time.

The City is now accepting ap-plications for social investigator—and will keep on taking applica-tions for the $4,250-a-year posi-tions until its needs are met.

All that's needed is a bachelor's degree from a college or univer-sity. Seniors who will graduate in June, 1960, can take the exam and have the job waiting for them when they get their dip-lomas.

The multiple-choice tests are given in monthly batches generally on the last Friday or Satur-day of the month after you file your application. The fee is $4. Annual salary goes up in reg-ular raises to $5,330, and there are many opportunities for advancement. For further information and application blanks, go to or write the Application Section, Depart-ment of Personnel, 96 Duane St., New York 7, N. Y.

During the dinner Mrs. McGrath congratulated and thanked her on behalf of the department and her patients for the many years of faithful and loyal service; she also read a telegram from Virginia Scullin, director of occupational therapy services, Albany, extending greetings and congratulations, and expressing personal appreciation and that of the Department for her many years of dedicated service to the patients at Kings Park State Hospital.

Mr. Kosstrin congratulated Mrs. Leary and read telegrams and letters from Dr. Buckman, director of Kings Park State Hospital, and many other well-wishers who were unable to be present.

Mrs. Caroline Hiller, supervisor of occupational therapy at Kings Park, presented her with an exquisite grained leather handbag, token of love and esteem from her co-workers. Mrs. Hiller expressed her personal thanks and good wishes for the future.

State Bureau Gets Robot Filing System

Thirteen motorized filing consoles have been installed to replace nearly 200 old-style filing cabinets in the Unemployment Insurance Accounts Bureau in New York City. The Bureau is part of the Labor Department's Division of Employment. The new installation is the first large-scale automatic filing system to be used in State government work.

Each of the new consoles can hold 132,000 file cards, arranged alphabetically on trays. The operator touches a button and the tray she wants revolves automatically into place in front of her.

"Now," one of the file clerks in the Bureau said, "all I have to do is sit in a posture-form chair, press a button and the files come to me. My feet are beginning to live again."

When the executive director of the Division of Employment, Alfred L. Green, had the machines installed, he brought near zero the scurrying around acres of file cabinets and the bending, stooping, pushing and pulling that are the bane of a file clerk's life.

The Unemployment Insurance Bureau each year must make more than a million references and cross-references to the cards of some 300,000 New York State employers registered under the Unemployment Insurance Law.

"In addition to the 450,000 cards now in our files," Mr. Green said, "we'll be dealing with some 150,000 more employers after next January, when the Law will be extended to cover those in the State who employ only one person."

"Altogether," he said, "the number of records we'll have on hand by then, counting employers in business and those who have gone out of business, but whose cards we must keep, will exceed 1,280,000."

The new motorized file set-up will be able to handle this increase in records with ease, the State official said. He pointed out that the new equipment has increased the efficiency of the filing unit by 20 per cent and has removed the need for four extra fileclerks to handle the additional records.

"There are other savings too," Green said. "With the old filing cabinets gone, we operate on 1,000 less square feet of floor space, which saves a bit more than $3,000 in rental. And we realized $4,000 on trading-in the old file cabinets."

These savings are all well and good, of course, but they can't compare with "my feet are beginning to live again!"

AUTOMATION IN ACTION FOR STATE

Alfred L. Green, executive director of the State Labor Department's Division of Employment, looks on as filing supervisor Mrs. Margaret Derkowski points out features of one of the Division's 13 new motorized filing cabinets to Marilyn Smith, a division employee. The new equipment, first of its kind in State service, brings complete automation to the job of making more than a million references yearly to the 300,000 file cards of employers covered by the State Unemployment Insurance Law.

STATE EXHIBITS AT THE FAIR

asks 'Are You Living in a Haunted House?' deals with fear, the basis of most emotional difficulties.

"To illustrate this theme, the humorously designed inhabitants of the house and their creeping, crawling and slithering companions promise to raise the hair on even the baldest head."

Health: "Opportunities in Health will be the subject of a State Health Department exhibit at the State Fair in Syracuse. Dr. Herman E. Hilleboe, State Health Commissioner, said the purpose of the exhibit was to show the many career opportunities in the field of health.

"Information is available concerning more than 35 different positions in the health field, particularly in public health. Included are such positions as physicians, sanitary engineers, nurses, administrators, dentists, pharmacologists and laboratory workers.

"In addition to the exhibit on health careers, the State Health Department will sponsor a poliomyelitis vaccination clinic in cooperation with the Onondaga County Medical Society and the Medical Society of the State of New York."
