2005-06 AMERICA EAST CONFERENCE CHAMPIONS

UAlbany Athletics

The University at Albany athletics program continued its success in the 2005-06 athletic year. With momentum from the 2004-05 Stuart P. Haskell, Jr. Commissioner's Cup, which recognizes the strongest athletic program in the America East Conference, the Great Danes captured five conference championships, two regular-season championships, and saw numerous student-athletes garner individual accolades, including five All-America honorees.

UAlbany won America East championships in men's basketball, men's indoor and outdoor track & field, women's outdoor track & field, and softball. In addition, the Great Danes were runners-up in women's indoor track & field and men's lacrosse. Volleyball and men's basketball also won conference regular-season titles, led by America East Conference Player of the Years and All-Americans Blair Buchanan and Jamar Wilson, respectively.

In addition, men's basketball made its first-ever NCAA Tournament appearance, becoming the first Division I program in the State University of New York system to accomplish the feat. Building on the mantra "Why not us?" the Great Danes nearly became the first 16-seed to topple a one-seed when they faced the University of Connecticut. Softball became the first women's program to make back-to-back trips to NCAA post-season play, while Gered Burns, Joe Greene and Marc Palozzi became the first Division I track & field All-Americans for the Great Danes.

UAlbany sponsors 19 NCAA Division I intercollegiate athletic programs, with 18 teams competing in the America East Conference. Football, a Division I-AA program, has been an associate member of the Northeast Conference since 1999.

UALBANY ATHLETICS

The University at Albany and its intercollegiate athletics program continue to move forward in the 21st century. UAlbany's athletic teams are beginning their eighth year of competition at the National Collegiate Athletic Association's Division I level. The upgrade began in September 1999 and elevated all men's and women's programs, and placed football in the NCAA's Division I-AA classification.

In 2001, UAlbany accepted an invitation to become a member of the America East Conference. Eighteen of the school's nineteen varsity teams are eligible through America East play for conference championships and NCAA post-season competition. Football, as a Division I-AA program, has been a Northeast Conference associate member since 1999.

UAlbany has won 17 conference championships since moving to Division I. In 2005-06, the Great Danes captured America East titles in men's basketball, men's and women's outdoor track & field, men's indoor track and softball. The basketball team produced one of the most significant achievements in the school's intercollegiate history. The program's turnaround from two years ago resulted in a strong showing against No. 2 Connecticut in the NCAA Tournament.

In 2004-05, UAlbany was awarded the Stuart P. Haskell, Jr. Commissioner's Cup, which annually recognizes the strongest athletic program in the America East Conference based on success both during the regular season and at championship competition. UAlbany's point total was bolstered by America East titles in volleyball, men's lacrosse, men's outdoor track and field and softball. The Great Danes were also runners-up in men's indoor track and field and women's golf.

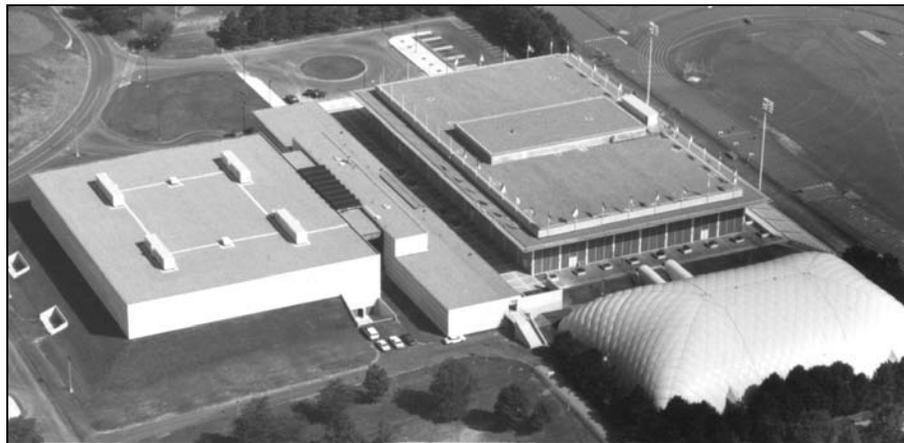

In addition, the UAlbany men's lacrosse program secured its third consecutive NCAA berth. Volleyball and softball became the first women's sports to qualify for NCAA Division I post-season play. Meanwhile, Kurt Campbell became the first UAlbany football player to be selected in the NFL Draft when he went in the seventh round to the Green Bay Packers.

UAlbany has an athletic history that dates back to the late 1890s when the first known intercollegiate teams arrived on campus. Albany competed at the college division level prior to the NCAA's restructuring in 1972. The athletic program moved from Division III to Division II in 1995-96.

UAlbany's intercollegiate program has a new direction, but continues to excel in the athletic realm, producing competitive teams, successful coaches, and outstanding student-athletes recognized for their accomplishments both on the field and in the classroom. The University sponsors 19 varsity sports for men and women. Club sports, an intramural program and recreational opportunities are also offered.

The quality of UAlbany's athletic program is evidenced by some of the finest facilities in the nation. The indoor and outdoor physical education design is among the most comprehensive in the Northeast.

In the spring of 1992, the University opened the Recreation and Convocation Center (RACC), an $11 million state-of-the-art facility. The RACC is the home for UAlbany's men's and women's basketball teams, and has an .11 mile indoor track.

UAlbany's athletic facilities include the RACC, University Gym, University Field, and The Bubble.

The 5,000-seat arena also serves as a major venue for community events such as rock and pop concerts, sporting events and University activities. The playing surface on the arena's three basketball courts and the surrounding track was completely renovated in December 2004.

In addition, the RACC contains a fitness center with Nautilus and Universal machines, rowing ergometers and exercise bikes; four racquetball/handball courts and four squash courts; athletic training and rehabilitation facilities with three whirlpool baths, a musculoskeletal evaluation device and other therapeutic machines.

Adjacent to the RACC is the Physical Education Building which houses University Gym; three full-size playing surfaces which can be used for basketball, volleyball, and tennis; four racquetball/handball courts; four squash courts; a swimming pool; a fitness and weight training center with Olympic weights; an aerobic exercise room, and a dance studio.

The RACC and Physical Education Building were air-conditioned in March 1996, as the state appropriated funds for renovations and permanent improvements to the University's facilities. The $2.3 million in funding was prompted by the New York Giants' decision to hold their football training camp on campus. The project brought together the region's community in what has proven to be a successful partnership.

In addition, UAlbany's air-supported structure, fitted with a brand-new covering with minor interior renovations in the spring of 2003, is located to the east of the Physical Education Building, and may be utilized for tennis, basketball, volleyball, and indoor football practice.

The indoor complex is complemented by fine outdoor facilities, including University Field, which has football seating for 5,000, plus an all-weather, 400-meter track surrounding a natural grass surface. There are 12 lighted tennis courts and numerous fields for football, soccer, softball, baseball, lacrosse, field hockey, and other events.

The practice fields on the Western Avenue side of campus were renovated in June 1996 with 263,000 square feet of two-inch-thick athletic sod. The irrigation system was refurbished, and the area was surrounded with a 3,100-foot chain-link fence.

UAlbany broke ground on the site of what has become two all-weather athletic fields in May 2005. "John Fallon Field" is the home to the men's and women's lacrosse teams, and features a sand and rubber infill turf field that stretches 99,450 square feet. An adjacent surface known as "Alumni Turf Field" is used for women's field hockey in addition to serving as a multi-use recreational field for UAlbany students. The first phase of the complex's construction, which included lighting, landscaping and fencing, was recently completed.

Will Brown is in his sixth season as the University at Albany's head men's basketball coach. In 2005-06, Brown led the Great Danes to their first-ever NCAA Division I Tournament berth after winning both the America East Conference tournament and regular-season titles.

UAlbany set the program's Division I record for single-season victories with a 21-11 record and produced its highest win total since 1993-94. His squad posted UAlbany's first postseason triumph in 11 years with three wins in America East tournament play. The Great Danes, who also established their top conference mark with 13 victories in the regular season, went on to put up a memorable fight against second-ranked Connecticut in a memorable NCAA first-round battle.

At the press conference to announce Brown's five-year contract that keeps him as the UAlbany head coach through the 2010-11 season, Director of Athletics Lee McElroy made the following statement, "Will Brown and his staff have done an excellent job of building a young Division I basketball program. Our student-athletes are following the right path both academically and athletically. The team accomplished many historical things. The foundation has been laid for the program to be successful for years to come, something that our students, alumni and fans can enjoy with great pride."

In 2004-05, Coach Brown led UAlbany to a 13-15 record, an eight-win improvement from the previous season. The Great Danes registered their best-ever league record at the time with a 9-9 mark and a fourth-place finish. UAlbany also tied the fourth-best improvement among Division I teams which recorded single-digit victories in 2003-04, as only Texas A&M, San Diego and Houston were better.

Brown was appointed as UAlbany's head coach on March 13, 2002, and has worked on the collegiate level since 1995. He became the 15th head coach in the history of the program. At age 35, Brown is one of the youngest Division I head coaches in the nation.

Brown, who joined the UAlbany staff as an assistant in Sept. 2001, was promoted to interim head coach on Dec. 20 of that year, and guided the Great Danes to a 7-13 record over the last 20 games. Albany was among the conference leaders in scoring defense. He coached the team to several impressive victories, including a win over Vermont, the America East Conference's regular-season champion.

Brown previously served as the head coach at Sullivan County Community College in Loch Sheldrake, N.Y., from 1998-2001. He led the Generals to a 90-10 record over a three-year period with two regional and two district titles. Sullivan County C.C. posted a 30-2 record and reached the National Junior College Athletic Association (NJCAA) championship game in 2000-01. Brown's first SCCC squad appeared in the NJCAA "Final Four" and finished 32-3 overall. The Generals were ranked second nationally in scoring at 92.9 points per game, and ninth in team defense with a 67.1 average.

Brown was chosen the New York State Coaches Association junior college coach of the year in 1999. He also earned Mid-Hudson Conference coach of the year honors three times, and was District V's top coach twice. In addition, he worked at Sullivan County C.C. as an associate athletic director and as an adjunct professor of sports management.

Previous to his appointment at Sullivan County C.C., Brown spent three years at The College of Saint Rose as an assistant coach on Brian Beury's staff. The Golden Knights made two NCAA Division II "Elite Eight" appearances in that span, and captured three New York Collegiate Athletic Conference (NYCAC) championships and two Northeast Regional crowns. Saint Rose compiled an 88-13 record from 1995-98.

As a collegiate player, Brown was a two-time NYCAC all-star and three-year starter at Dowling College, an NCAA Division II program on Long Island. He is the only player in school history to combine for more than 1,000 points and 500 assists. Brown completed his career as Dowling's all-time leader in assists (591), three-point field goals (181) and free throw percentage (.859). He also played second singles on the school's tennis team.

A native of Miller Place, N.Y., Brown earned first-team Class B all-state recognition as a high school senior, when he averaged more than 35 points per game. He was chosen All-Long Island and was a three-time All-Suffolk County selection.

Coach Brown resides in Clifton Park with his wife, Jamie, and their three-year-old son, Jackson. Brown has a master's degree in management and a B.A. in marketing from Dowling College. His father, William, Jr., has served as director of athletics at Miller Place High School, where he previously was head basketball coach for 17 years. His teams won three Suffolk County League VII scholastic titles.

COACH BROWN TALKS ABOUT:

Repeating As America East Champions: "It was very difficult and challenging to win the championship last year. We face similar obstacles this season, including a schedule that is as difficult as we have had in Division I. We learned about expectations last season. We know we have to have to bring a workmanlike mentality to practice every day.

"I expect Vermont, with all five starters back, to challenge for the conference title. Maine has a nice nucleus with one of the top players in the conference back in Kevin Reed. Bill Herrion had done a tremendous job at New Hampshire and that team has four starters returning."

His Coaching Philosophy: "Offensively, I would like to push the basketball, put points on the scoreboard, plus get some points from our defense. We intend to go up and down the floor. We need to create easy baskets for ourselves, get second-chance points, get to the free throw line and put pressure on our opponents.

"I would like to guard man-to-man for forty minutes on defense and limit teams to one shot every time down the floor. We need to challenge shots on defense to be effective. It's one thing to be tough and talented, but knowing how to play is the key to success."

What Brown Looks For in a Recruit: "We want someone who is a good person and a good student. He needs to be talented, but also have a high basketball intelligence. It's important that he knows the game, wants to get better and wants to win. I believe too many coaches are caught up in the 'great athlete' concept of recruiting.

"I would recruit anyone in the United States or world if I thought he was the right fit for our program and we could put all the pieces of the puzzle together. The University is a strong academic school, so the student-athlete must want that challenge and realize that the school can prepare him for the future.

"Finally, I think we have to recruit people who want to be part of something special, who want to win conference championships and get to the NCAAs every year."

What Albany Offers a Prospective Student-Athlete: "The University provides an opportunity to obtain a meaningful education. You can meet all types of people and go to school in a diverse population.

"The University is located in a city with many colleges and universities, plus you have the best of both worlds with access to the capital of New York and a nice campus setting. We have great resources and outstanding facilities, and a university that is growing in terms of prestige and stature."

ASSISTANT COACHES

ERIC EATON ASSOCIATE HEAD COACH

Eric Eaton, who is in his second season on the UAlbany staff, was promoted to associate head coach on May 4, 2006 after the Great Danes captured their first-ever America East Conference championship and reached the NCAA Division I Tournament for the first time.

In his position, Eaton is responsible for a wide range of duties including recruiting, on-court coaching, scouting, coordinating individual workouts and managing the team's academic progress.

Eaton coached at the College of the Holy Cross from 2000-04 as a member of Ralph Willard's staff. He assisted in all aspects of the program, including recruiting, player development and scouting. The Crusaders won the Patriot League championship and reached the NCAA Tournament in three consecutive seasons. In 2000-01, Holy Cross achieved one of the greatest turnarounds in school history by posting a 22-8 record. The 2002-03 squad tied the program's standard for most wins in a season with a 26-5 record.

During that period, Eaton recruited the Patriot League's rookie of the year and assisted in the development of 15 players who earned all-league and/or all-rookie recognition, including three player-of-the-year award winners.

Previous to Holy Cross, Eaton was an assistant coach for one year at Assumption College in Worcester, Mass. He also worked at Anna Maria College from 1997-99 and was a volunteer assistant at UMass-Dartmouth when that program won 20 games and made an NCAA Division III Tournament appearance.

A member of the UMass-Dartmouth Athletic Hall of Fame, Eaton played on three Little East Conference championship teams that reached the NCAAs in the mid-1990s. He averaged 11.7 points per game as a senior, when the Corsairs won the Little East regular-season title and advanced to the ECAC semifinals. He earned his undergraduate degree in business management.

Eaton, 33, is married to the former Alexis Leacu, who played as a collegian on the Assumption College basketball team. They are the parents of infant twin boys, Evan and Owen.

PAT FILIEN ASSISTANT COACH

Pat Filien is in his second year on the UAlbany staff. He took on additional duties last spring with regard to player development and coordination of strength and conditioning. He previously was a four-year assistant at the University of Vermont from 2001-05.

Filien was responsible for recruiting, scouting and skill development as a member of Tom Brennan's UVM staff. The Catamounts enjoyed unparalleled success during his years with the program. Vermont made three NCAA Tournament appearances, captured three America East Conference championships and posted four consecutive 20-win campaigns.

Coach Filien played a key role in the progress of three-time America East player of the year Taylor Coppentrath, who led UVM to a 25-7 overall record in 2004-05 and an NCAA first-round upset of Syracuse.

A native of Queens, N.Y., Filien was a two-year starter at the College of Saint Rose, where he received a B.A. in public communication in 1993. He was named to the All-ECAC-South second team as a senior, when the Golden Knights posted a 25-6 record and reached the NCAA Division II Tournament.

Filien began his coaching career at Southern Vermont College, where he worked from 1994-96. He then moved to Lock Haven University in Pennsylvania for two years, before a three-year stint at C.W. Post-Long Island in Brookville, N.Y.

Filien, and his wife, Tiffani, have two children, Marcus and Lauren, and reside in the Capital Region.

CHAD O'DONNELL ASSISTANT COACH

Chad O'Donnell is in his third year as a member of Will Brown's coaching staff. O'Donnell, who was hired as an assistant on July 6, 2004, is the UAlbany program's recruiting coordinator.

O'Donnell, who has worked on the collegiate level since 1993, assisted College of Charleston coach Tom Herrion as director of basketball operations in 2003-04. He was responsible for academic monitoring, directing conditioning and weightlifting, managing recruiting efforts and organizing summer camps. The Cougars went 20-9.

Prior to Charleston, O'Donnell served in the same capacity for one season at Robert Morris University after spending two years in the private sector. He was also an assistant coach at the University of New Hampshire in 1999-2000, and worked for a three-year period at the College of the Holy Cross. He directed all national recruiting efforts for the Patriot League program and coached the junior varsity squad.

O'Donnell, 35, began his college coaching career as an assistant at Worcester State College in Massachusetts. From 1993-95, he handled the Division III program's recruiting, scouting and practice preparation, plus was the junior varsity head coach. He went to work at Bryant College in Rhode Island the following year.

A native of Mendon, Mass., O'Donnell received his B.S. in physical education from Springfield College in 1994. He has authored several articles in coaching magazines and published a book on college basketball recruiting. He and his wife, the former Anna Tamborra, reside in Troy, N.Y.

It all came together for the University at Albany basketball program last year, as the Great Danes shook off an indifferent start to win 19 of their last 24 games. The results were an America East Conference championship and the school's first NCAA Division I Tournament appearance.

Despite losing three players who played a major role in that run to the championship, UAlbany still has a solid corps of players that could possibly turn in a repeat performance.

"This is new territory for us," says UAlbany coach Will Brown, who signed a contract last spring that will keep him at the school through the 2010-11 campaign. "We enjoyed the taste of last season but now we want more. Our team learned about expectations last year and we will face similar obstacles this season."

The Great Danes return three starters, including the conference player of the year, from a squad that established the program's Division I victory record and led national power Connecticut deep into the second half in an NCAA first-round game. The roster features two seniors, six juniors, two sophomores and four freshmen.

"We have a nice mix of veterans and newcomers," Brown states. "We are deep on the perimeter and can play a variety of ways. Our team will be paying attention to detail as we prepare, especially with regard to defense, rebounding and execution."

UALBANY BY POSITIONS

GUARDS: Any talk about UAlbany's backcourt begins with Associated Press All-America guard Jamar Wilson, a difference-making player who was named the 2006 America East player of the year and the championship's most outstanding player. He averaged 17.7 points, 4.9 rebounds and 3.9 assists.

"When your best player is your hardest-working player then you have a chance to be successful," Brown states. "Jamar makes plays and loves a challenge with his fearless style. The bigger the game, the better he is."

Wilson, who totaled 19 points and six rebounds in his team's first-ever NCAA appearance, also picked up valuable experience on a collegiate all-star tour of France in August.

"He came back from that trip with a great appreciation for this program," Brown explains about Wilson, who is within range of becoming the school's all-time leading scorer during the season. "His teammates knew about UAlbany and what the basketball team was able to accomplish last year."

While Wilson is a marquee performer, Brian Lillis, a 6-foot-5 junior, is the glue that holds the team together. All UAlbany did was win after Lillis was inserted into the starting lineup at the lead guard spot last December. His numbers are not dramatic, but he does something in every category.

"He can play almost every position on the floor and competes with great energy," says Brown about a player who contributed 4.4 points, 4.2 rebounds and 2.1 assists per outing. "He has the ability to expand his game and has been encouraged to be more aggressive on offense."

Jon Iati, a sharp-shooter with a quick release, and Jason Siggers (6'4") were proven scorers off the bench last season. Iati scored at a 6.7 clip and drilled 40 three-point field goals. Siggers, who played in all 32 games in his first year with the program, averaged 5.0 points and improved as the season progressed.

"Jon is as good a shooter as there is in the conference," Brown states. "You know you are deep when he is coming off the bench. I defended Jason (Siggers) as well as anyone last year because I didn't play him enough early on. He could be a consistent double-figure scorer for us."

The Great Danes dipped into the junior colleges for depth with the addition of backcourt players Michael Knight (6'3") and Carl Ross (6'4"). Knight made 41 three-pointers in the Florida JUCO ranks as an all-region performer. Ross, an explosive athlete, averaged 13.7 points as an all-conference star in California. David Bauman (6'2") and freshman Lance James (5'11") are available here.

FORWARDS: The Great Danes also return an All-America East player in the frontcourt. Brent Wilson, a 6-foot-8 junior, made the all-conference third team in 2005-06. He averaged 10.4 points and 4.3 rebounds, plus led the team with 56 three-point field goals.

"He's ready to build on his successes over the last two years," Brown offers. "He is the best shooting big man in the conference, and has developed his post play by adding a jump hook with either hand."

Brian Connelly (6'8") showed a tremendous upside to his play as a freshman. He even saw quality minutes in all three America East postseason tournament contests.

"He is a skilled four-man who could steal minutes at the 'five' spot," Brown says. "He has an excellent mid-range game and has spent a lot of time in the weight room."

Mike Yocum, a 6'9" freshman, may also get an opportunity to play on the baseline with his athleticism. Freshman Reid Anderson (6'5") will move between the two-guard and small forward positions, plus can do a little bit of everything with his active style.

CENTERS: UAlbany will have to replace a key component to last year's success, as 7-foot-1 Kirsten Zoellner has graduated to the Greek professional league. Sophomore Jimmie Covington (6'7") and Brett Gifford, a 6-foot-11 freshman, are the immediate options.

Covington, who spelled Zoellner last year, has both the size and strength to play center and the experience of appearing in 31 games last year. Gifford, an all-state selection in Missouri, brings a solid set of offensive skills.

"Jimmie is a more confidence player and has used the offseason to his advantage," Brown comments. "Brett has a nice touch with both hands around the basket but will have to get acclimated to the college game's pace."

OUTLOOK: UAlbany's rise has come in defined steps over the previous seasons, and now comes the business of defending a title. "Repeating is tough, but that comes with doing something for the first time," Brown explains. "We welcome the new challenge with open arms. In a league like the America East, there is no room for error. We need to put ourselves in a good position to take care of business in conference play."

UALBANY WINS AMERICA EAST

Jamar Wilson scored 29 points in leading UAlbany to its first-ever America East Conference championship and NCAA Division I tournament berth in an 80-67 victory over Vermont before a capacity crowd of 4,538 fans on Saturday, March 11, 2006 at the Recreation and Convocation Center.

UAlban rolled to an 18-4 lead in the opening seven minutes and never trailed. Lucious Jordan scored seven of his 18 points in that outburst, including a three-point field goal from the top of the arc on his team's first possession. Wilson added a three-point play when he was fouled in transition. Brian Lillis' tip-in of a missed foul shot and Jordan's driving layup finished the run.

Vermont captured the previous three America East titles, but the Catamounts could never get closer than 10 points the rest of the way. UVM was held to 8-of-26 shooting in the period. Meanwhile, Wilson, the championship MVP, buried a three-pointer at the halftime buzzer to give his squad a 44-26 lead at the intermission.

In the second half, Wilson, who made 10-of-18 from the floor and tied a season-high with eight rebounds, increased his team's lead to 58-36 when he made another three-point play when he was fouled while going underneath a defender to the basket. The Great Danes would later push out to a 27-point advantage when Jordan drilled a 3-pointer from the left corner with 7:14 remaining.

"My goal when I got here was to put this program in a position to compete for an America East title every year," UAlbany coach Will Brown offered. "We've won one this year and I don't see why we can't compete for another one next year."

UAlbany's all-time leading scorer Gary Holway (12) was a member of the 1955-56 team. He tallied 1,851 points during his career and played on two NAIA Tournament squads.

UAlbany reached the 20-win plateau for the first time since 1993-94 with last year's 21-11 record. The Great Danes, who set a school standard for single-season wins with a 25-3 mark in that season, first reached 20 victories in 1960-61.

Great Dane Awards

The University at Albany's Department of Athletics hosts the Great Dane Awards every May as a celebration of the current academic year's athletic achievements. The most valuable players on each of the 19 intercollegiate teams for men and women are recognized, along with members of the UAlbany Athletic Director's and Athletic Academic Honor Rolls and the Student-Athlete Advisory Committee. Featured award presentations include the Presidential Scholar-Athlete Awards and ECAC Merit Medal recipients.

Basketball's Jen Schumacher and track and field's Andy Allstadt received the 2005-06 Presidential Scholar-Athlete Awards as the senior male and female with the highest cumulative grade point average. Volleyball's Ashlee Reed, the America East Woman of the Year, and Stephan Hall, a men's soccer Academic All-American, were given ECAC Merit Medals. Basketball's Jamar Wilson, volleyball's Blair Buchanan and softball's Casey Halloran were voted the male and female athletes of the year.

What is a Great Dane?

The University at Albany adopted the nickname "Great Danes" in the spring of 1965. UAlbany's mascot was founded in a contest on campus for a $25 savings bond. The judging committee made the choice noting, "The Great Dane is noted for its grandeur, its alertness, and its intelligence. It is an animal whose prowess and strength are easily recognizable and readily admired." Contest winner Kathy Earle explained the Great Dane was renowned for its "size, weight, strength, character, courage, speed, and stamina."

In the 1960s, UAlbany grew from a college for teachers to a top research university. The old school mascot, "Pierre the Pedguin," representing the Pedagogues, seemed inappropriate as the University's mascot and nickname.

ESPN Bracket Buster 2007

The University at Albany men's basketball team has been invited to participate in the BracketBusters series on Feb. 16-17, 2006. The Great Danes are among 102 teams representing 16 conferences in the event. UAlbany, the defending America East Conference champion, is joined by Maine in the field.

In its fourth year, BracketBusters is an ESPN television property that provides potential NCAA Tournament-caliber teams the opportunity to meet in a two-day, 51-game event. The format involves "wild-card" pairings for the pool of participating teams, with half of the BracketBusters teams pre-designated as "home" and the remaining half as "road" teams.

In an effort to provide an even greater showcase for these programs, the event has expanded its pool of teams each year to produce a better cross section of squads. The actual pairings take place three weeks in advance of the event, and those match-ups are determined on the basis of regular-season play.

A total of 13 games will be televised, including six games on ESPN2, five games on ESPNU -- ESPN's collegiate network that was launched on March 4, 2005, and ESPN 360 - ESPN's broadband network. ESPN, in consultation with the conference commissioners, will make pairing decisions for the 13 televised games on Sunday, Jan. 28. Pairing decisions for the remaining 38 contests will be announced on Monday, Feb. 5.

"Having been fortunate enough to receive nationally televised games for the past two BracketBusters series, we extremely excited once again to have two teams chosen to the BracketBusters pool," America East Commissioner Patrick Nero said. "Albany and Maine are expected to be two of our top programs for the upcoming season, so we couldn't be happier to have them included in this tremendous event. The chance to gain national exposure through ESPN's various networks is a great opportunity for not only Albany and Maine, but also America East."

Another important component for BracketBusters participants is future scheduling. Each team that participates in the event agrees to enter into a home-and-home series with its to-be-named opponent. The return game is made in November or December of the following season. This contest allows for completion of the two-game series contract and is not part of the BracketBusters event in that second year.

"We are looking forward to once again participating in this prestigious event," said UAlbany coach Will Brown, whose team dropped a thrilling 70-67 decision to Virginia Commonwealth in last year's BracketBusters. "Our team enjoyed playing at VCU on ESPNU last season. It was a great experience for our program. This event also provides us with an opportunity to start a home-and-home series against a quality opponent."

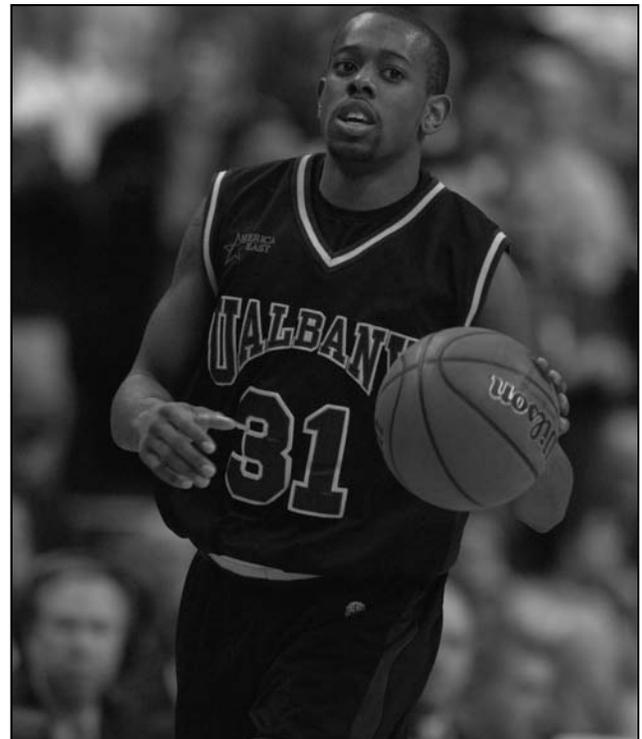

The 102-team field will feature 12 teams from the Mid-American Conference and Colonial Athletic Association; 11 from the Ohio Valley Conference; 10 from the Missouri Valley and Metro Atlantic Athletic; nine from the Western Athletic Conference and Horizon League; eight from the Big West; four from the Big Sky and Southern; three from the Patriot League and Big South; two from the America East, Mid-Continent, Southern, and Southland; and one from the West Coast.

The pool of teams in 2007 represents six Sweet Sixteen squads, a regional finalist and a Final Four participant from the last five NCAA Tournaments. George Mason reached the national semifinals of the 2006 NCAA Tournament, Kent State advanced to an Elite Eight game in the 2002 NCAA Tournament, while Southern Illinois (2002), Butler (2003), Nevada (2004), UW-Milwaukee (2005), Bradley (2006) and Wichita State (2006) have made Sweet Sixteen appearances.

HOME TEAMS -- Akron, Boise State, Bucknell, Buffalo, Butler, Cal Poly, Cal State Northridge, Coastal Carolina, Creighton, Delaware, Drake, Eastern Illinois, Eastern Michigan, Fairfield, Fresno State, George Mason, Georgia State, Hofstra, Idaho, Illinois-Chicago, Illinois State, Indiana State, Long Beach State, Loyola (Illinois), Marist, Missouri State, Montana, Morehead State, Nevada, New Mexico State, Niagara, Northern Illinois, Northeastern, Oral Roberts, Rider, Samford, San Francisco, Siena, Southeast Missouri State, Tennessee-Chattanooga, Tennessee Martin, Tennessee State, Tennessee Tech, Toledo, UC Santa Barbara, UNC Greensboro, Virginia Commonwealth, Western Michigan, Wichita State, Wright State, Youngstown State.

VISITING TEAMS -- Albany, Appalachian State, Austin Peay, Ball State, Bowling Green, Bradley, Cal State Fullerton, Canisius, Central Michigan, Cleveland State, Colgate, Detroit, Drexel, Eastern Kentucky, Eastern Illinois, Eastern Washington, Elon, Evansville, Hawaii, Holy Cross, Iona, Jacksonville State, James Madison, Kent State, Liberty, Louisiana Tech, Loyola, Md., Maine, Manhattan, Miami (Ohio), Murray State, Northern Iowa, Northwestern State, Ohio, Old Dominion, Pacific, Portland State, St. Peter's, Sam Houston State, San Jose State, Southern Illinois, Towson, UC Irvine, UC Riverside, UNC Wilmington, Utah State, UW-Green Bay, UW-Milwaukee, Valparaiso, William & Mary, Winthrop.

The National Football League's New York Giants made the University at Albany its summer training camp home in 1996. UAlbany has played host to the second-longest stint of any Giants' training camp. New York Giants training camp, which is averaging nearly 31,000 fans per year, begins in July and continues for a four-week period.

Dr. Lee A. McElroy Jr. is in his seventh year as the University at Albany's Vice President and Director of Athletics. McElroy, who provides leadership for UAlbany's NCAA Division I 19-sport intercollegiate athletics program for men and women and is a member of the University's Executive Committee, spearheaded a successful search for a broad-based athletic conference when the University accepted an invitation to join the America East Conference in the 2001-02 academic year.

During his tenure, UAlbany has won 17 conference championships and made NCAA appearances in men's basketball, men's lacrosse, softball, women's volleyball, and men's and women's track and field. In 2004-05, the Great Danes were awarded the Commissioner's Cup as the America East Conference's top athletic program. McElroy has also worked to renew the men's and women's basketball crosstown rivalry with Siena College, led the development of a master plan to upgrade the school's athletic and recreational complex, plus has energized athletic development efforts.

McElroy, who serves as president of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) in 2006-07, was also a key figure as the University successfully completed the NCAA's second cycle of Division I athletics certification. He was honored with the 2004 General Robert R. Neyland Outstanding Athletic Director Award by the All-American Football Foundation.

McElroy, who played football at UCLA in the late 1960s, was previously American University's director of athletics for four years. American, a Division I school in Washington, D.C., competed in the Colonial Athletic Association. In that period, the AU athletic department upgraded to 19 sports, expanded corporate partners by 400 percent, and planned capital projects for a fitness facility, intramural field and soccer stadium. McElroy founded the Eagle Club, the department's fundraising arm, and developed a program rated as one of the top ten in the nation in its compliance with NCAA gender equity requirements.

Dr. McElroy served as president of the America East Conference Executive Committee in the 2003-04 academic year, and has gained national prominence for his roles with numerous professional organizations and NCAA committees. He served a three-year term on the NCAA Division I Management Council as one of four at-large representatives from I-AA or I-AAA conferences. McElroy previously worked on four prestigious NCAA Committees: Athletics Certification, Financial Aid, Degree Completion Program, and the NCAA Special Committee on Agents and Amateurism.

In 1998, McElroy was named to the NACDA Executive Committee for the University Division, and chair of the Sears Directors Cup Committee. The Sears Directors Cup is the only national award and academic scholarship program to recognize all NCAA and NAIA championship sports for women and men.

From 1989-96, McElroy was the director of athletics at California State University-Sacramento. He led the program's transition from Division II to Division I and engineered a move to the Big Sky and Big West conferences. He also implemented a strategic plan that developed a corporate partners plan, created an effective fundraising and marketing program, redesigned academic support services, improved the athletic facilities complex, and provided for campus and community outreach programs.

McElroy also worked at the University of Houston from 1981 to 1988 as an assistant director of men's and women's sports and as an associate director of athletics, and for one year as the director of athletics at The University of the District of Columbia. Before joining the Houston staff, he taught in the public school systems of Santa Monica, California and Beaumont, Texas, and was a high school principal in Beaumont.

Along with his duties for the NCAA, McElroy has testified before congressional committees on issues in college athletics, such as gender equity, the welfare of the minority student-athlete, and the academic/athletic balance. McElroy serves on the boards of the National Consortium of Academics and Sports, Athletic Business magazine, and the National Minority Golf Association. He is also a fellow at the Institute of Ethics and Sportsmanship at the University of Rhode Island.

McElroy, who resides with his wife, Karen, in Slingerlands, earned his B.S. in political science and history from UCLA in 1970. He later received a M.Ed. from the University of Southern California, and an Ed.D. from the University of Houston.

Since its modest beginning as a men's basketball-only conference in 1979, America East has evolved into one of the most comprehensive NCAA Division I conferences with a commitment to broad-based, competitive athletics programs, complementing the academic integrity and missions of the member institutions.

Each of the nine institutions - University at Albany, Binghamton University, Boston University, University of Hartford, University of Maine, University of Maryland-Baltimore County (UMBC), University of New Hampshire, Stony Brook University, and University of Vermont - offers a unique blend of academic and athletic tradition.

Progressive in its approach to its more than 3,500 student-athletes, America East recognizes champions in each of its 22 sports: men's and women's basketball, baseball, men's and women's cross country, field hockey, men's and women's golf, men's and women's indoor track and field, men's and women's lacrosse, men's and women's outdoor track and field, men's and women's soccer, softball, men's and women's swimming and diving, men's and women's tennis, and volleyball.

America East also conducts the nation's most comprehensive academic recognition program for student-athletes. More than 1,800 student-athletes with grade-point averages of 3.0 or better were honored in 2005-06 alone.

With a geographic footprint covering the Mid-Atlantic to Northeast regions of the United States, America East has a population base of more than 50 million people and nearly 30 million television homes. America East member institutions include more than 106,000 students on the nine campuses and boast nearly one million living alumni.

Athletic Success...

America East enters its 19th year of all-sports championship competition on the heels of one of the most successful seasons in history as four of its 10 team sport champions won at least one game in the NCAA Championship.

Hartford advanced in the NCAA Women's Basketball Championship with a 64-58 upset win over Temple in the first round. In addition, America East sent Stony Brook to the National Invitation Tournament in women's basketball.

Albany's men's basketball team earned its first-ever trip to the NCAA Championship by capturing the league's regular season and tournament championships. The Great Danes held a double-digit second-half lead, but could not upset top-seeded Connecticut.

Stony Brook's Leonora Joy and Maine's

Kirby Davis, the 2005 America East Women's and Men's Individual cross country champions, respectively, were also the top league finishers at the NCAA Northeast Regionals. Joy finished 12th, while Davis was 29th.

The 17th-ranked Boston University field hockey team captured a 5-3 victory over Central Michigan in an NCAA Play-In Game. With the win, the Terriers advanced to the NCAA tournament for the first time since 2000. They were narrowly defeated in a 4-3 overtime decision by Michigan in the first round.

The Stony Brook men's soccer team won its first-ever NCAA Division I Tournament game with a 2-1 overtime victory over Yale. The victory marks the fifth straight season the America East Champion has won a first round game in the NCAA Tournament. The Seawolves advanced to the second round where they were defeated by eighth-ranked Connecticut, 2-0.

The Boston University women's soccer team earned a 1-0 win over the University of Connecticut in the first round of the NCAA Tournament. The Terriers season came to an end as they lost 1-0 to Boston College in the second round.

New Hampshire's Shannon Daly and Kary Goodman both competed at the 2006 NCAA Division I Women's Swimming and Diving Championships.

Albany's Marc Pallozzi and Joe Greene, Binghamton's Rory Quiller and Boston University's Andrea Walkonen all competed at the 2006 NCAA Outdoor Track & Field Championships. Pallozzi and Greene earned Division I track and field All-America honors, as announced by the U.S. Track & Field and Cross Country Coaches Association.

Academic Success...

America East institutions boasted eight Academic All-Americans in 2005-06 while another 30 were named All-District.

The conference also honored a top-scholar athlete in each of its 22 championship sports. 2006 America East Scholar-Athletes were Kirby Davis (Maine men's cross country), Marisa Ryan (Boston University women's cross country), Merrie-Beth Maynard (Vermont field hockey), Stephan Hall (Albany men's soccer), Debbie Newman (New Hampshire women's soccer), Ashlee Reed (Albany volleyball), Brendon Hitchcock (Binghamton baseball), Martin Klimes (Vermont men's basketball), Jessica Smith (Stony Brook women's basketball), Jeff Wolniewicz (Binghamton men's golf), Juliana Carrillo (Hartford women's golf), Kevin McKeown (Binghamton men's lacrosse), Marrisa Trachtenberg (Stony Brook women's lacrosse), Brit-tany Cheney (Maine softball), Brian Koizim (Binghamton men's swimming & diving), Lidija Breznikar (Boston U. women's swimming & diving), Tal Meir (Stony Brook men's tennis), Lya Kushnirovich (Binghamton women's tennis), Andy Allstadt (Albany men's indoor track & field), Marisa Ryan (Boston U. women's indoor track & field), Adam Grossman (UMBC men's outdoor track & field) and Alyssa Lotmore (Albany women's outdoor track & field).

More than 1,800 of America East's 3,500 student-athletes were named to the Academic Honor Roll after receiving grade-point averages of 3.0 or better. Included in that total were 757 student-athletes who earned a 3.5 or better.

Vermont, whose student-athletes maintained a 3.14 grade-point average, has been awarded the America East Academic Cup for the second consecutive season and becomes the first institution in conference history to win the award three times. It ties the highest grade-point average in the 11-year history of the award, which the Catamounts set last season.

Commissioner's Cup...

Seven league titles, three runner-up finishes and one third-place showing by its women's programs led Boston University to the 2005-06 Stuart P. Haskell, Jr. Commissioner's Cup. For the fourth time in five years, the Terriers earned the conference award that annually recognizes the highest scoring athletic program in America East as determined by a points system, which rewards a school for success both during the regular season and at championship competition in the league's 22 sports. Boston U. took home the conference crown in women's cross country, women's soccer, field hockey, women's indoor track & field, women's tennis, women's golf and women's lacrosse. The Terriers were also runners up in women's basketball, women's outdoor track & field and softball, while winning regular-season titles in women's soccer, field hockey and women's lacrosse.

America East in the Pros...

Several America East athletes have extended their playing careers beyond the collegiate level. Former two-time America East Players of the Year Craig Claxton of the Atlanta Hawks, and Malik Rose of the New York Knicks, helped lead the San Antonio Spurs to a World Championship in 2003. Former Hartford star Vin Baker of Los Angeles Clippers continued the legacy of the late Reggie Lewis, when he was selected as an NBA All-Star. In addition, three-time America East Player of the Year Taylor Coppentrath has been invited to preseason camp with the Indiana Pacers.

America East has also been well-represented in the WNBA as current Hartford head coach Jennifer Rizzotti and former America East Players of the Year Cindy Blodgett (Maine), Jamie Cassidy (Maine) and Katasha Artis have played in the top women's professional league.

Former Hartford star Jeff Bagwell of the Houston Astros became the 35th player in Major League history to hit 400 home runs when he homered in a game on July 20, 2003. More recently, he also helped the Astros reach the World Series for the first time in franchise history in 2005. Joe Nathan, who played at Stony Brook and is now a top reliever for the Minnesota Twins, was selected to the Major League All-Star game in both 2004 and 2005. Former America East Players of the Year Mark Sweeney (Maine) of the San Francisco Giants and Kevin Mench of the Texas Rangers are on 2006 Major League rosters. Jay Witasick of the Oakland A's, who played at UMBC, is in his 10th season in the majors. Several other former America East players, including 11 draft choices from 2004-05, are presently in the minor leagues.

Hartford's Jerry Kelly, who recently finished second at the U.S. Bank Championship in Milwaukee, joined the PGA Tour in 1996 after turning professional in 1989. Kelly has earned more than $2 million in each of the last three seasons. He's joined by former Hawk golfers Tim Petrovic and Patrick Sheehan on the Tour.

America East also has a number of former men's and women's soccer and men's lacrosse players in various professional leagues, including former Boston University standout Andrew Dorman, who is in his third season with the New England Revolution of the MLS.

UMBC's men's lacrosse player Brendan Mundorf, the 2006 America East Player of the Year, recently concluded his first season with the Denver Outlaws of the Major Lacrosse League. He is one of the top rookie scorers in the league with 17 goals and 21 points for the Western Division leaders.

History...

To see how far America East has progressed, consider the conference was established in 1979 as the ECAC North. The conference at that time consisted of 10 institutions and sponsored league competition only in men's basketball, with the champion receiving an automatic bid to the NCAA Championship.

Men's basketball remained the lone league sport until the 1988-89 academic year. At that time, the conference's Board of Directors made a new commitment to an all-sports association, creating the North Atlantic Conference by establishing an office, hiring a full-time commissioner, and embarking on a building program.

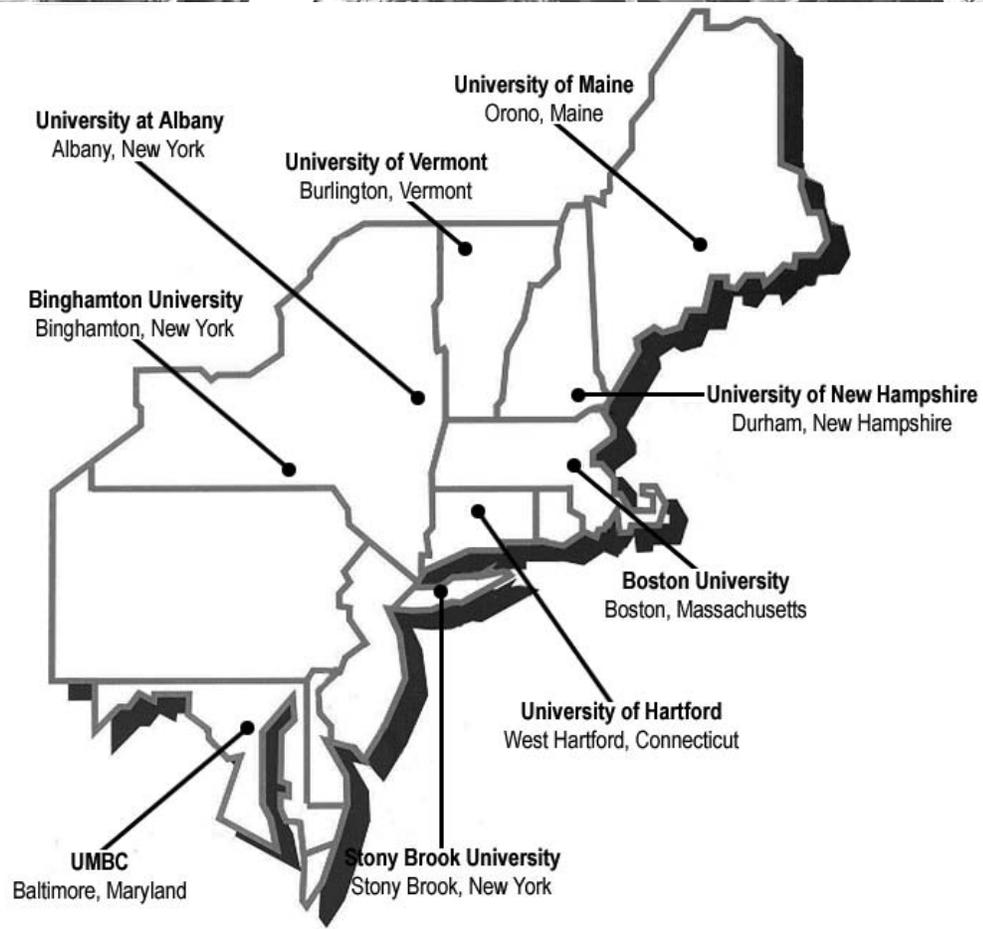

The North Atlantic Conference merged with the Seaboard Conference (the league in which Boston University, Hartford, Maine, New Hampshire, and Vermont, among others, competed in women's basketball) in 1989 and the NAC looked to establish conference championships in several men's and women's sports.

The conference changed its name to America East prior to the 1996-97 academic year and moved the conference headquarters to its present location in downtown Boston in 1997.

In 2005, America East hired Patrick Nero, most recently the Director of Athletics at Maine, as the conference's third commissioner.

Previous to his present appointment, Geiger served as assistant athletics director and head trainer at the College of Saint Rose since 1996. He supervised an assistant, three graduate assistants and 20 student interns who provided a sports medicine service for the school's 220 student-athletes. Geiger began his career as an intern on the athletics training staff at Siena College. He later went to Saint Rose as a graduate assistant in the fall of 1994.

A certified athletics trainer according to the NATABOC requirements, Geiger is a member of the National Athletics Trainers Association (NATA) and is a certified sports psychologist in accordance with the American Coaches Effectiveness Program. # ALBANY

NEW YORK'S CAPITAL

Albany, the state capital of New York, offers something for everyone, and is the center of a region remarkable for its natural and cultural resources.

The Capital District area represents the cities of Albany, Schenectady and Troy, and has a population of approximately 875,000. Within a short distance are the Berkshires, the Catskills and the Adirondacks, the largest wilderness area east of the Mississippi River.

Major ski areas such as Killington, Gore, Hunter, Bromley, Stratton and Mt. Snow are within easy commuting distance. Saratoga Springs, 25 miles to the north, is internationally known as a sports, concert, and cultural center, and features outstanding thoroughbred and harness racing at Saratoga Race Track.

Geographically, the city of Albany is only 150 miles from New York City, 175 miles from Boston, and 225 miles from Montreal in Canada. The New York State Thruway and two major interstate highways intersect one mile from the main campus. Bus, rail, and air terminals are all within ten minutes of the University.

Designated an All-America City by the National Civic League in 1991, Albany is dominated by the Nelson A. Rockefeller Empire State Plaza, a billion-dollar complex. It includes government buildings, a convention center, the state museum, and the state library.

Directly across from the Plaza stands the State Capitol Building. This majestic five-story structure, in existence since 1879, houses the governor's offices and the chambers of the State Senate and Assembly.

The Plaza has spurred the renovation of a large portion of historic downtown Albany. You will enjoy exploring the cosmopolitan area of old townhouses, boutiques and restaurants, or attending major sports, entertainment or cultural events at the Pepsi Arena, the host site for the 2001 NCAA Division I Ice Hockey Frozen Four, 2002 NCAA Division I Wrestling Championships, and 2003 NCAA Division I Men's Basketball East Regional.

This $65.4 million arena seats approximately 17,500 with a 1,700-car parking facility. Pepsi Arena hosts nearly 200 events a year including professional basketball and hockey games, arena football, rock concerts, trade shows, and conventions. The arena previously hosted UAlbany's spring commencement.

The City of Albany has experienced unprecedented progress and development during the past fifteen years. Over $1 billion in economic development projects have been implemented. The historic link between downtown Albany and the Hudson River was restored with the opening of the Hudson River Way Pedestrian Bridge and the construction of a multi-purpose amphitheatre at the Corning Park. The restoration of the historic Palace Theatre now provides a venue that complements the Pepsi Arena as a host to world class entertainers and cultural events.

Four major malls and shopping centers, including Crossgates, Stuyvesant Plaza and Colonie Center, fall within one mile of campus. Nightlife in Albany is lively with concerts, movies, theatre, dancing, and just about every kind of restaurant or eatery you can imagine. Most attractions or activities are a short walk or accessible through the local bus system.

UNIVERSITY AT ALBANY

State University of New York

The University at Albany today is an internationally recognized public research university with a broad mission of undergraduate and graduate education, research and service. More than 17,000 students are enrolled in ten schools and colleges offering 177 undergraduate, master's and doctoral degree programs.

Outstanding faculty, an innovative curriculum, and student-centered services create a distinctive learning environment that nurtures student success.

Undergraduates choose from 55 majors in the arts and sciences, business and accounting, public policy, criminal justice, information science, pre-law and pre-health; approximately 40 percent of undergraduates participate in research with faculty.

Innovative degree programs with an international focus and more than 300 study-abroad programs prepare students for the global economy. A new Honors College offers high-powered academic challenges for the best prepared students. Extensive internship opportunities offer real-world experience in New York's capital and the surrounding region.

The University boasts academic strengths in sociology, demography, education, anthropology, social work, clinical psychology, creative writing, earth and atmospheric sciences, ethics, public policy, criminal justice and nanoscale science. According to U.S. News and World Report, many of the University's graduate programs rank among the nation's best.

Both the UAlbany campus and the region are bustling with extracurricular opportunities. Students participate in more than 150 student clubs, honor societies, and other campus-related groups, and choose from a busy calendar of campus events, including spirited Division I athletic competition in 19 sports and a rich array of cultural activities.

Since its founding in 1844, the University has graduated generations of leaders in all fields. Today, more than two-thirds of undergraduates go on for advanced degrees, and acceptances to law and medical schools are well above the national average.

UAlbany has more than 134,000 living alumni, including: Norman E. Snyder Jr., B.S. '83, chief operating officer of Rheingold Brewing Company and former partner of the South Beach Brewing Company (SoBe); Marcia Brown, B.A. '40, three-time Caldecott Award-winning children's book author; Tom Clarke, B.A. '73, president of new business ventures, Nike, Inc.; and Maureen Baginski, B.A. '77, M.A. '79, former director of the FBI Office of Intelligence.

UAlbany, working with governmental and business partners, plays a vital role in the economic development of the Capital Region and New York State. The University is a major international center for research and development in the fields of nanosciences and nanoengineering. An economic impact study in 2004 estimated UAlbany's economic impact as $1.119 billion annually in New York State -- $1.005 billion of that in the Capital Region.
