The strongest GOP combination of presidential and vice-presidential candidates, they add, would be Eisenhower and Warren.

On the Democratic side, the existing uncertainties are reflected in the views of the newsmen. in the views of the newsmen. With many differences of opinion, they give their largest vote to Estes Kefauver as the man who could make the strongest race nation-wide, with Adlai Stevenson second. In New York State, they find that James A. Farley mould be a potent candidate alwould be a potent candidate, al-though not in the nation. As for the strongest combination of Democratic presidential and vice-presidential candidates, no discernible trend is noticeable among the newsmen. The names that come up most frequently as combinations are Kefauver and Stevenson, Stevenson and Kefauver, Kefauver and F. D. R., Jr. But nearly every important name now contending in the race is mentioned by the writers.

On the Democratic side, too, the exit of Governor Stevenson from the race and the entrance of W. Averell Harriman have obviously further confused the picture. It appears that if Stevenson had not announced that he "couldn't" run, he might have fared better from the newsmen. # Dewey Issues Biting Memo With Veto of Bill That WouldTakeAwayPensions his veto of a bill which would have taken away the pensions of dismissed civil service employees or upon conviction of miscandian or upon conviction of misconduct. All employee organizations have fought this measure as one de-priving public aides of their rights.

The Governor took the same view as the employees, adding that he questioned its constitutionality, that he opposed special penalties for public aides, and that the bill was badly drafted.

Mr. Dewey's full memorandum, which is deemed by the employ-ees to have wide significance, fol-tirement is ineligible for retire-ment or pension benefits. To this extent the bill adds nothing to existing law.

"It would, however, weaken existing law by granting 'automatic retirement' to an officer or employee who is eligible to retire, and is dismissed for misconduct or unsatisfactory service. Almost of our important retirement systems require a minimum waiting period before retirement becomes effective. These restrictions have been carefully worked out through the years to prevent collusive and deathbed retirements. certain criminal acts or against whom a judgment is rendered in specified civil actions. City of New York.) In any event an 'automatic retirement' pro-vision in such cases would constitute a most undesirable weak-ening of the present law.

Hits Retired Persons

"The most sweeping change made by the bill would be to deprive persons already retired of their rights to pensions under certain conditions. To the extent that these provisions attempt to take away rights to pensions of persons already retired, they are of questionable constitutionality. (Roddy v. Valentine, 268 N. Y. 228.) To the extent that they at-tempt to impose a penalty for refusal to waive immunity, in addition to that specified in the State Constitution, other fundamental constitutional problems would be posed. The Constitution provides:

'No person shall . . . be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself. (Continued on page 16) every employee and a net increase in take-home pay of at least $300.

The salary expert from Albany Headquarters of The Civil Service Employees Association added that these findings were only tentative, as the analysis of Westchester salaries with those of comparable municipal and business units is still incomplete. He stated that the overall adjustment indicated was merely a basic one and that in the case of individual positions where there had been increased duties or responsibilities there must be larger increases. These would be based on studies of the individual positions.

Higher E. C. Point Value

Mr. Galpin stated also that after the merger of present emergency compensation into base salaries there was need for an increase in the amount of emergency compensation payment per point, from the existing $15 to $23 or $24. This would re-establish the original relationship between point values and minimum Westchester scales. He said that failure to increase the payments from $15 a point to at least $18 or $20 in the past, accounted for a certain amount of the base salary increase now necessary in order for County em-ployee salaries to reach comparable levels of other employment

Barrington Methods Assessed

In assessing methods used by Barrington in past surveys, Mr. Galpin found fault with the inclusion of one and two-man jobs in the making of a "Community Survey" and assigning to them the same weight as to more represen-tative group titles. "The use of such a Community Survey is not realistic in an area like West-chester" he said, "where the County, demanding and obtaining high type employees to perform its services, should expect to compensate those employees in comparison with better paying employers and not on the basis of questionable average between good paying and poor paying employers.

Lack of Interest by Officials

QUESTIONS SUBMITTED TO BUDGET DIRECTOR ARTHUR G. SAMMARCO ON APRIL 17, BY THE WESTCHESTER COUNTY COMPETITIVE CIVIL SERVICE ASSOCIATION, REGARDING THE BARRINGTON SALARY SURVEY

I. It appears that except for interviewing and consultation work by Barrington, the County Budget and Personnel Offices are doing the Survey i.e., point evaluating, establishing salary levels and a certain amount of the interviewing, under over-all direction of the Budget Office. Q. True?

II. It is understood the Personnel Office determined the lists of titles for which Position Descriptions were obtained in each department. It has been stated that only about 200 such Position Descriptions have been requested for positions "for which no adequate descriptions are on record." However, it is known that many positions included are ones where there have been changes of duties, (Ed. Note: There are about 700 County titles.) Q. How did the Personnel Office determine, without consultation with the departments, which positions needed review inasmuch as the departments change the duties of positions and in the majority of cases the Personnel Office would not know?

III. It is understood from statements by Barrington representatives that their contract only covers the descriptions for positions originally listed by the Personnel Office. Q. True?

IV. It is understood that some descriptions submitted at the instance of the departments have been reviewed by County and not by Barrington Representatives. Q. Are these to be given less consideration than those on the Personnel Office list? Q. Are position descriptions submitted by the departments, for titles which they believe need reviewing, to be checked by Barrington and treated exactly the same as those on the Personnel Office list?

V. It is known that both Barrington representatives and County personnel are interviewing. Q. How is it determined who handles which interviews and do the interviews have the same importance?

VI. Where Position Descriptions indicate to Barrington (or the County) that the position title is not proper, it is understood (a) in some instances Barrington will make recommendations for a change; (b) in other instances these will be referred for Classification Board action. Q. Who is determining and in what manner, which shall be recommended for change in the Survey Report and which shall be passed to the Classification Board for future action?

VII. It is understood that the Budget and Personnel Offices are actually doing the evaluating of the Position Descriptions after the interviews are completed. Q. True?

VIII. Q. What method of position evaluation is being used? (a) Are the same point values being used as were used by Barrington in 1945 and 1946 to obtain job relationships; (b) Are the point values being used which were used by the former Budget Director in setting levels for new jobs and re-assessing old jobs, after the completion of the 1946 Barrington Survey; (c) Or is an entirely different method of point evaluation to be used and if so, what?

IX. Q. Is the same procedure to be followed as in each of the two previous Barrington Surveys whereby department heads or other interested parties review group levels assigned to the various positions and then indicate re-assignment?

X. Q. In view of the lower method of evaluation used by the former Budget Director in the period following the 1946 Survey in determining group levels of positions, will particular care be taken to re-evaluate the positions affected during the time so as to bring them into line with the other positions evalued by the higher Barrington standards?

XI. The salary levels of some positions and some groups are set in accordance with the pay for comparable positions in various other areas. Q. How is it determined which positions shall be so treated and which shall have salary levels based solely on their point value relationship to other County positions? Q. What is the proper procedure to have the salary level of a position or a group based on comparable outside pay rather than as compared to other County jobs?

XII. Q. How is the determination of proper County salary levels to be made? If outside salary comparisons are going to be made, who is going to make the comparisons?

XIII. Q. Is a Community Survey to be made and a present trend line established by Barrington? If so, is Barrington likely to use the same pay-depressing approach as indicated by their previous recommendations that County salaries be leveled $150 below

XIV. Q. What opportunity is going to be given the Employees through their organization to take part in this Survey and to have a hand in framing its results?

Half-Pay Good

Experience shows that half-pay the inoly a small percentage of cases, for the full basic period of service. The reason is the low salaries of the early years. The employees contributions are a fraction of that salary and constitute the annuity part of the retirement allowance. The employees between ages 55 and 80 averages 1,000 a year. Thus the plan that offers 2 per cent total benefit possibilities is being tested in the next few years for arrest or reversal of this increase. There are 23,000 NYC employees between ages 55 and 80.

Henry Galpin, Civil Service Employ-ees Association salary analyst, has surveyed the wage situation in Westchester County, and arrived at the conclusion that a $300 increase is indicated (story on page 2).

Minimum Agreement On Career-Salary Plan

re we, or are we not, to have a modern career-and-A salary system in NYC?

Do we, or do we not, accept the principle of democratic, fair, even-handed treatment of public employees embodied in that big word-classification?

Can we, or won't we, rise above criticisms, disagreements, recriminations, misunderstandings, and misinterpretations to introduce a system in which we know what every City job is, how much it pays, and what it leads to?

Will we, or will we not, have in New York City a plan in which employees can appeal for proper titles and salaries in terms of the jobs they are actually performing?

The time for decision has come.

Board Has Already Heard Evidence

The Formal Hearings Board set up to hear the pros and cons has already taken the evidence on the Griffenhagen project. The Board heard City employees, department heads, and civic organizations. It listened to hammer-blow criticisms of many Griffenhagen proposals, and also some sturdy defenses. The Board is now weighing the evidence and will, presumably, come up with a proposal of its own.

There is no doubt that the Griffenhagen plan as drafted contained many defects, errors, and shortcomings. Even the Griffenhagen staff freely admits this. We are learning an old lesson over again: perfection does not come in a day. The most significant result of the hearings is perhaps this: that despite the weight of criticism, nearly all recognize that we need classification and modern pay-determining procedures in New York City.

Agreement Can Be Achieved

What is required now is the achievement of a minimum area of agreement. It is our view that such an area is attainable.

We urge that the employee organizations state their basic requirements for such agreement, so that at least the principle of classification can be established in the City and the machinery may begin to function. Mr. John Leavens, who directed the study, has indicated several reasonable bases for agreement; the Formal Hearings and several Supreme Court judges.

Board and the employee organizations ought to give the organization. careful thought to his proposed seven-point plan. We of Appeals to adjust allocations of individual positions.

Adopt the pay scales recommended or any adjustment made by the duly constituted authority.

3. Establish or designate an agency of City government; vest it with power and authority to administer the classification and pay plans.

4. Establish an appeals board within such agency and vest it with quasi-judicial power to hear and decide individual complaints.

5. Require the Municipal Civil Service Commission work out a table of equivalencies and certify its conclusions to the administering agency unless it is itself the agency. (Equivalencies refer to the problem of equitting the titles of existing positions to the new titles devised by Griffenhagen.)

6. Have the Municipal Civil Service Commission apply its conclusions with respect to each "title" and the rights of incumbents related to the title.

are reached on the pay recommendations, to provide for personnel system and superior government.

There is no doubt about the feeling of New York State newsmen. They see Elsenhower as far and away the strongest presidential candidate, both in the State and in the nation.

2. Which of the following prospective presidential candidates would, in your opinion, make the strongest Democratic run (a) in New York State; (b) in the na-tion?

STATE		NATION
Barkley	1	Barkley
Paul Douglas	1	Paul Douglas
W. O. Douglas	2	W. O. Douglas
Farley	16	Farley

Kefauver	13	Kefauver 2
McMahon	0	McMahon
Rayburn	0	Rayburn
Roosevelt, Jr.	6	Roosevelt, Jr.
Russell	0	Russell
Stevenson	4	Stevenson 1 Truman

The confusions and divisions which are rending the Democratic Party show through these results. While Kefauver and Stevenson run ahead of the other prospec-tive candidates nation-wide, the distribution of votes indicates no such clarity of opinion as exists on the GOP side. The newspapermen consider James A. Farley a popular candidate in New York State, but they do not transfer this popularity into the national scene. Six of the writers deem the magic of the Roosevelt name sufficient to pull FDR, Jr. through as the strongest candidate the Democrats have State-wide; six also consider that Avereil Harriman would be the strongest Democratic candidate in New York State. In both cases, however, only ene newsman considers either Roose-yelt or Harriman the strongest Democratic candidate in the national run.

The opinions of the newsmen appear to have been weighted by three factors which may have a bearing on the result: (1) the determined effort being made by Kefauver; (2) the apparent exit of Stevenson from the race, which may have cut his total; and (3) the entrance of Harriman in the race, which came after the poll had been sent to the newsmen.

3. What combination of presi-dential and vice-presidential candidates would, in your opinion, make the strongest team for the Republican Party nation-wide?

Here, again, the newsmen dem-onstrated a high degree of agreement. They see Elsenhower Warren. The breakdown runs like

Eisenhower-Warren	30
Eisenhower-Taft	4
Eisenhower-Stassen	4
Eisenhower-Dewey	2
Taft-Eisenhower	2
Taft-Warren	2
Taft-Warren	3
Taft-MacArthur	3

Six of the reporters saw the strongest ticket as being a com-bination of Eisenhower and Taft Taft and Eisenhower. might seem an impossible combi-nation. But the newsmen show some hard thinking. obviously reach their conclusion on the basis that the two wings of the Republican Party are represented by these two candidates and if they were running together they would bring about a reconciliation of the party and the strongest ticket. Nevertheless, the over-all verdict is clear: Most powerful combination on the GOP side—Eisenhower and Warren.

4. What combination of presidential and vice-presidential can-didates would, in your opinion,

Be Proud of U. S. Public Service, Ramspeck Says

WASHINGTON, April 28-Inject pride, not polson, into the public service, the nation's editors were told by Robert Ramspeck, Chairman of the U. S. Civil Service Commission, at a luncheon of the American Society of Newspaper Editors in the Statler Hotel.

Instead of editorials inveighing in general terms against "too many Government employees," give the people facts about services their agencies are government forming, so that they can decide intelligently where they want economies to be made, Mr. Ramspeck urged. "You can't eliminate employees without eliminating the work they are doing," Mr. Ramspeck said. "If every U. S. employee were fired, we would save 13 percent, about nine billion dollars of our 70 billion dollar budget. Then the government would stop functioning."

These Matters Can Be Adjusted

If the employee organizations cannot accept all of these points, then perhaps they can go along with some of them and add what other requirements they feel are needed. For example, they might want to add that the existing rights of all incumbent employees should be fully protected; they might want to be more certain about the meaning of point 2 in Mr. Leavens category; they might seek a clear-cut statement from the Formal Hearings Board repudiating anything in the Griffenhagen Report which might be extraneous to classification, like the controversial statements about vacations and leave.

With good-will and a mature approach, it is possible to obtain now the principle and elementary machinery of classification, with the hope of laying groundwork for the kind of career-and-salary plan that the employees of New York City will feel gives them the protection they 7. The Aparent and the Real

Of the 25 combinations listed by the newsmen, Kefauver appears on twelve as candidate either for the presidency or the vice-presidency. A glance at these results would seem to indicate that the presidential choice on must fall the Democratic side either to Kefauver or Stevenson, and that the real scramble is for the vice-presidential nomination. This would, however, be the mer-est superficial interpretation. Note, for example, the current of votes for Paul H. Douglas, who appears on no less than seven of these combinations. Suppose he were an avowed candidate? Suppose that Stevenson's announcement were affirmative rather than negative, and suppose that the draft move-ment for him grows? The undercurrent of interest in Harriman is growing. If any interpretation is to be put upon these statistics, it is that the Democratic party is still confused and uncertain, that it is groping toward the team it wants but has not yet found it.

The totals in the various tallies do not match, because not all the newsmen answered all four questions. Fifty-three newsmen responded in the poll; 50 question-naires were valid; 3 were disal-lowed because they were marked with the names of local personages or because the responses were not comprehensible.

the political situation Because is in such flux, and because Democratic sentiment is so far from Jelling, this column will run additional opinion questionnaires in order to gauge public views of the presidential candidacies.

A detailed analysis of this poll n light of current political events will appear in next week's column.

Point Preference for Veterans DO THE ADDED POINTS for veterans help them to pass exam, or are they added only after one passes the exam?—O.P.

In Federal service, the additionpoints count toward passing the exam. In New York State and NYC the veteran first must pass the test, before he gets the added

Telephone Operator Promotions WHAT ARE the prospects of telephone operator, grade 2, pro-motions being made in NYC departments? LOR.

Good, as the result of action taken last Friday by the Board of Estimate. As the lists have only a few months to run, the Board voted a policy of promoting the eligibles on all of the lists.

New Internal Revenue Jobs WHAT ARE the prospects of an exam to fill the new district commissioner Jobs in the U.S. reau of Internal Revenue?-K.E.C.

Some Jobs are now being filled through promotion of career employees of the Bureau. The New York and Chicago district commissionerships have been filled that way. The IRB in Washington has set up a board to select employees from within that agency to fill the remaining jobs.

Minimum U. S. Pensions AS I AM a former U. S. employee receiving a pension of only $900 a year, I am wondering what is being done about minimum penlaw for us pensioners? J.T.W.

There are bills in Congress on the subject. The U. S. Civil Serv-ice Commission is now in favor a minimum pension law, but wants Congress to make an ap-propriation. The Smaters bill would require that the cost be defrayed by the U. S. Retirement System for the first 18 months, with increases to $324 a year, and lapse thereafter, if Congress then fails to appropriate funds to con-tinue the benefit. Some Congres-sional action now seems likely at this session of Congress.

Basis of Retirement Allowance THE AMOUNT of retirement allowance that I will receive when I retire next month is far short of what I expected from the State Employees Retirement does it happen that instead of half pay, after many years of service. I get only about one-third pay? I put $3,000 into the System and my annual allowance will be only about half of that. P.W.C.

The retirement allowance is granted on the basis of the re-tirement law. It consists of the employer-paid pension, based on the average of any five consecu-tive years of pay, and the annu-ity account, which is the $3,000 you contributed. That contribution on your part applies not to just five consecutive years but to all of the years of your service, including the early years when your pay was probably much low-er than now. Pailure to achieve half pay or more, for the basic service period, results from the annuity account being too small to buy the same quarter-pay benefit that the pension provides. The State pays every cent it is required to pay, no more, no less, and the pensioner gets the annuity value of his contributions with interest, no more, no less. Unless an employee voluntarily contributes more than the minimum to his annuity account, which he may do, the annuity benefit is almost bound to be less than the pension benefit. When time comes to retire it is too late to make amends. Employees should start early to buy additional annuity in the System.

Bill Ends Dispute Governor Thomas E. Dewey re-cently signed a bill amending the education law, to clarify pay and civil service status in the Board of Higher Education, and includ-ing a proviso that the Commission says authorizes the Board to hold its own exams. The law also guarantees annual increments to clerical and laboratory assistants after the salary reaches $4,000 on the existing schedule. The applicable sentence in the new law reads: "The Board of Higher Education shall, by appro-priate by-law, determine from time to time the qualification requirement for all positions."

More Exams by Board

Since the law grants such au-thority regarding "all positions," others also are included, such as director of the Medical Division. There has been a long dispute, including law suits over the filling of this post by a doctor provisionally promoted.

The college clerk jobs were sup-posed to be filled from the NYC clerk, grade 2, list, by selective certification. Those candidates who had a high school education and had a high school education and who could type were to be certified. However, the Board never showed any interest in using the list, as indicated by the fact that many provisionals are now serving in the clerical assistant title. This was technically possible, since the title is not clerk, grade 2, even though the last grade 2, even though the last clerk, grade 2, exam notice gave encouragement to eligibles of possible appointment to the college

The Commission will not be responsible for the number of provisionals in any of the jobs for which the Board will hold its own exams, and is not unsympathetic to the manner in which long-standing differences between the Board and the Commission have been settled by law. Citywide Title the Strong Magnet

Many provisionals in the college jobs, since they never passed an exam, will be glad of an opportunity of obtaining permanency However, by far the greatest re-sponse would be produced by the clerk, grade 2, test, because of the easy requirements, the wide age limits, 18 to 69 years, and the hundreds of job opportunities. There is no minimum age for graduates of a senior high school. Also, the list moves fast, and is now practically exhausted, save for names being restored to the list on withdrawal of declinations. Many withdrawals were for insufficient salary, but the pay will rise on July 1 to $45 a week, the highest NYC has ever paid for those who start out as clerk, grade

Those who pass must show that they lived in NYC continuously for three consecutive years immediately preceding appointment. That does not apply, however, to jobs with the Authorities, and in some instances to veterans, If veterans who were NYC residents can prove that, on their discharge from military service, they couldn't find a place to live in NYC, a concession may be made, under a Commission regulation, but it is strictly applied, and few such requests are granted.

Excellent Job Prospects

The 40-hour week is to begin, on or soon after July 1, although it will not affect all NYC employees at once. No matter in what way it will be begun, many clerks, grade 2, are bound to be included at the start, since they represent one of the largest groups in NYC service, now total about 7,260, and are in all departments.

Candidates for the clerk, grade 2, jobs will have to pass a written test. It is expected the pass mark will be 70 percent. The written test will be designed to show the candidate's general intelligence. ability to follow directions, and knowledge of office practice, grammar, spelling, vocabulary, arithmetic and civic affairs. If the number of candidates reaches the 10,000 to 12,000 figure expected by the Commission, the resultant eligible list normally would be large enough to fill the City's needs for two or three years, though possibly not for the full four-year legal life of the list. Hence all eligibles could expect to be called to a job interview, sooner or later, depending on their stand-ing on the list.

Opening Date Awaited

The Commission has not decided when to begin receiving applications for the clerk, grade 2, jobs. As there is also urgent need for social investigators, it is considering receiving applications for both tests at the same time, and may add either or both to the monthly series any month now. The Civil Service LEADER will help its readers prepare for these exams.

Discontinuance of 52 companies has been recommended by the Mayor's Committee on Management Survey.

In a joint effort, the Uniformed Fire Officers and the Uniformed Firemen's Association have issued a petition calling for public protest against the contemplated move. It has been pointed out that in the huge fire which took place on Reade Street, Manhattan, last Wednesday, five of the companies which responded were among those slated for elimination. Theme of the two organizations

"False economy will increase loss of life and property!"

In a petition which they ask citizens to sign, the firemen and officers make the following points: "The New York Fire Department's proud tradition of being the quickest agency to respond to any emergency at any time may become a thing of the past. "The Mayor's Committee on Management Survey has recom-mended the elimination of 52 fire companies protecting you. This will mean delay in apparatus reaching the scene of fire or emergency. Precious moments lost cannot be regained.

Wurf Urges Laborers to Sign Higher-Pay Pact

Laborers to whom proposed agreements were submitted, whereby higher pay rates would be es tablished, and back pay obtained, were encouraged by Jerry Wurf, general representative, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, to sign

"The sooner you sign them, the sooner the higher rates will go into effect," he told them.

The agreements have to be ap proved by the Board of Estimate before they become effective. They involve more than $2,000,000 back

Mr. Wurf said reports that lawhen the 40-hour week goes into effect were groundless. Also, he said the laborers would receive the same percentage increases that other employees will get on July I, pending final ratification of the agreement

He emphasized that the pro-posed agreement is a firm one and laborers run no risk in sign-

"It now costs less than two cents a day per person to oper-ate the New York Fire Department. How can New York City afford to gamble with human lives in an effort to save a fraction of a penny per day per person?

Do you know that the number of fire companies in New York City are 1.5% less than in 1929 yet since that time population has increased 33%, fires have in-creased 77%, registered motor vehicles have doubled, fuel oil burner installations have tripled and airplane flights over the city are approaching 200,000 annually."

New Statute Legalizes 27 Promotion Lists With 1,020 Eligibles

The Federal Employee

the U. S. Civil Service Commission in Washington and who remember when there was no complexity in the terms used to describe a job's standing, are trying to re-establish simplicity. They have come up with recommendations for a complete change in the ever-changing U.S. status nomenclature, whereby such terms as "probational (indefinite)" and "probational (permanent)" are bandled about.

Career appointments would occupy top position. These would describe the present probational (permanent) jobs.

The other types would be:

Reserve, resulting from passing open-competitive exams, where the hiring is done on a more or less emergency basis. This is the pres-ent probational (indefinite) type

Indefinite would be the word for appointment made without pass-ing one of the regular exams.

Temporary would describe, as now, jobs filled for a specific pe-riod or which are not to last beyond a set time.

Excepted appointments, as now, would be those made outside of civil service, although only on ap-proval by the Commission of filiing jobs that way.

The three new designations of existing degrees of standing, and the retention of the two others, would make for simplicity, the planners say. The Commission is weighing their recommendations,

PAUL F. JOYNT has been appointed to a supervisory job in the Decatur, Ill., post office. He resigned the vice presidency of the United National Association of Post Office Clerks so he could take the job.

REPRESENTATIV'S in Congress from the metropolitan dis-trict will be the guests of the American Federation of Govern-ment Employees at the Hotel Vanderbilt the night of Friday, May 16.

FEDERAL AGENCIES have been asked to nominate employees for participation in the fourth annual "junior management in-tern program," the U. S. Civil Service Commission announced.

Each year, a small group of Federal employees—the number selected is limited to 30—participate in the program, which consists of 5 months of training designed to develop management skills. Their aim is to prepare for eventual assignment to adminis-trative positions in the Government.

Agencies will nominate candidates for the new program by July 14, after which the selection of the interns will be made by an interdepartmental committee on the basis of interviews and written tests.

The Commission said there is a mistaken impression that college education is necessary in order to be nominated or selected for participation in the program. Actu-ally, there is no specific educa-tion requirement. Neither is there an age limit. Candidates must have had 2 years of federal service, or 4 years of college education, or a combination of both-or they must have received an eligible rating in the Junior Management Assistant examination.

The program is open to employees in grade 7 ($4,205) or below.

WASHINGTON, April 28 — A study of annual leave, especially an evaluation of its monetary value, has been ordered by the House Subcommittee on Appropriations. The chairman of the subcommittee is Representative Albert Thomas of Texas, who has been pressing for passage of his rider to require that all annual leave carned during a calendar leave earned during a calendar year must be used by June 30 of the next year. That would require liquidation of unused leave either during the remainder of the year in which it was earned or between January 1 and July 1 of the next year.

The fact that a study has been ordered was taken by employee leaders as indicating that sentiment for the rider is not too keen in the committee. One way to express an adverse attitudes they said, is to introduce delaying tactics. The study is expected to are breathing easier.

An unofficial estimate of the value of unused leave, as of January 1 last, is $700,000,000. Converting leave to dollars, and calling this a debt of the U.S. that must be liquidated as Representamust be liquidated, as Representa-tive Thomas did, is considered by employees as an attitude hostile to them.

Some doubt was expressed by employee groups whether annual leave accumulated prior to 1951 would be lost, if not used before the June 30 deadline, should the rider be enacted. Mr. Thomas gave assurances that the rider intended no such penalty.

Leaders of employee groups state that if it means that pre-1951 leave would be taken away it is unconstitutional as an invasion of established legal rights.
