CHRISTMAS SHOPPING

Do It Early

Don't forget the Y. W. C. A. Bazaar, Friday evening, in the State College Gymnasium. Come early and have first choice before someone gets ahead of you.

Freshmen! Here is your chance to get that State College pillow, banner, or stationery that you have been coveting ever since you came to college.

Men! Come and get the home-made cake and candy like that mother used to make.

Everyone! Why worry about making all your Christmas presents? Come to the Y. W. C. A. Bazaar and use the gifts that some one else has made for you. In the meantime wend your way to the Y. W. C. A. Canteen and refresh yourselves after your evening's shopping.

There will be a short entertainment at 8:30, but this must be kept secret until Friday evening. Be there to enjoy it.

Remember! Eight o'clock is the hour; December 16 is the date.

SPECIAL TAX TICKETS

Since many faculty members and friends of the college are not interested in all of the privileges covered by the regular Student Tax Ticket, it has been decided to issue special season tickets for the faculty, families of faculty, and families of students.

The Finance Board has authorized the sale of such tickets entitling the holder to admission to all athletic events; all readings, lectures, and plays given by the Dramatics and Arts Association, and all concerts and recitals given by the Music Association. The price of this ticket will be five dollars, a small sum for such an interesting series of events. These tickets will be placed on sale in a few days in Room 203.

ANNUAL MEN'S SMOKER

The men of State College will hold the first of their annual smokers in the college gymnasium on Tuesday night, December 20. All men of the college are invited to attend this event, which will be strictly informal, and whose specific aim is to provide special opportunity for the stimulation and promotion of social purposes.

Among the many features planned there will be staged wrestling matches, a boxing match, (Continued on Page 4.)

SOPH-FROSH CONTEST

Of course all the sophs and all the frosh have signed up for the gym meet on Saturday, December 17. It will probably be very exciting for class rivalry will be at its height. There will be a game of cage-ball, marching, and folk dancing. A silver loving cup will be awarded to the student showing the highest ability. Numerals will be given to the next highest in her class, and numerals to the highest in the opposing class. The judges will be Mr. Hill, Miss Metz, and Miss Osborne. In connection with the meet the majors and minors of the physical education department will give a demonstration of apparatus, aesthetic dancing, and clogging. Come out and support your class by showing your interest.

SONGS OF THE COWBOY

John A. Lomax, of the University of Texas, one who has spent all his life collecting songs, comes to us on January 12th with his pleasing lecture on Cowboy Ballads.

For years Mr. Lomax has delivered lectures before prominent colleges, giving similar lectures, among which colleges are Harvard, Hamilton, Yale, College of the City of New York, University of Idaho, Leland Stanford University, California. Others of his lectures are: (1) Some Types of the American Ballad, (2) Negro Ballads of the Cotton Fields, (3) Negro "Spirituals", (4) Cowboy Verse.

Mr. Lomax combines definite instruction with continuous entertainment. His songs furnish lecture material in a class by itself. He reveals most pleasingly the romantic charm, the pathos, and the humor of cowboy life as reflected in his songs. Quite beyond the mere humor of many of them, it is their fundamental human nature, which takes the audience.

NEW CLUB TO ORGANIZE

The Department of Commercial Education plans to meet this week to perfect an organization or club. The purpose of the organization is educational rather than social. An interesting program of addresses and exhibits by some of the leading business men and concerns of Albany is being planned for the coming winter. All students interested in such an organization are requested to watch the bulletin board for definite announcement as to date of first meeting.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Officers Installed

As a result of the voting for the officers of the Student Association the following were elected: Eunice Rice, president; May Wood, vice-president; Evelyn Dutcher, secretary.

Myskania had charge of the first part of Student Assembly, when the new officers were installed. As a part of the installation the duties of the newly elected officers were read by Mr. Osborne, the officiating chairman. Each person was asked if he would accept the office. The reply was "Yes." Directly after this part of the ceremony the meeting was turned over to President Eunice Rice.

The remaining time was given up to a speaker from the Armaments Committee, a speaker from the Pedagogue Board, and singing. The Pedagogue announces a prize to be given to the student contributing the best joke on a student and a prize to be given to the student contributing the best joke on a member of the faculty.

INFIRMARY PRIVILEGES

Arrangements have been made with the Albany City Hospital for State College students to have infirmary privileges there if they so choose. This plan would include the medical attendance of the head of the hospital staff, a private room, care by the ward nurse, board, and the attendance of the interne. On a basis established by previous years' records, each student might avail himself of hospital care through five days of illness each year. Of course we are very glad all of us do not require five days hospitalization, but it is good to have the assurance that we may have adequate care if we are ill.

Now that the obligations of the hospital have been explained, what are our obligations for these benefits? By a system of blanket taxation each student is to pay one dollar and a half. The saving of this system is very clearly seen. The minimum price for five days' illness in the Albany City Hospital with such provisions as are planned under the new system, is thirty dollars. Surely a saving of twenty-eight dollars and fifty cents is worth while. Nor need anyone fear that he is living on someone else's money while he is in the hospital. Mary Jones is ill five days this year; she receives treatment from the infirmary fund. Jane Smith is ill next year and receives infirmary care for which Mary Jones has helped provide. So Mary has paid her debt in helping others receive benefits such as she had.

These privileges are for positive illness, and a system such as this must be arranged: one of our college doctors will certify that the student needs hospitalization, that is, she is ill enough to require it. Then the student will be admitted to the hospital. It is a question whether or not nose and throat operations should be included in this fund. If acute illness requires an immediate operation, then of course the infirmary fund takes care of the expense. But if a student should have an operation performed for adenoids or removal of tonsils, should the infirmary fund also take care of that? The person is not acutely ill; he is but taking a healthful measure. When he has his teeth filled, he is also taking a healthful measure, but should the infirmary fund cover a student's dentistry?

Students living at home are likely to say, "If I am ill, my parents will take care of me." Even when people are living in their own homes, hospitalization is sometimes necessary, or at least preferable. Students living in this city or community from the vicinity are permitted infirmary privileges the same as those permitted the other students.

Students may say they can go home if they are ill. It is the policy of our medical department to send home a student who is not physically fit to be carrying on his college work, but who is not ill enough for hospitalization. If a physician states that a student is ill enough to be in a hospital, it is surely unsafe for him to lower his resistance power by travelling a long distance on the train.

There is but one remaining objection. There are still those—few in number, we hope—who are provincial enough to have a dread of a hospital. Surely an institution which will so carefully provide comfort and aid for us, is beneficial. The aim of the hospital is to save life and aid toward physical fitness, and in a personally kind way. After all, do we not wish most of all for aid and comfort in time of illness, and is not a hospital the most efficient place to provide these essentials?

A Senior.

STATE, A MUSICAL COLLEGE

When we go over the list of noted colleges in the country, have we not the tendency to characterize them according to their leading interests? When we mention Yale, Colgate, Harvard, Vassar, Princeton, Wellesley, Hamilton, do we not think immediately of the various types of college which they represent? Certain ones are of the athletic type, some are of the literary type and others excel in music.

State College, besides being a teacher's college, is characterized by its literary publications and its music. Crippled by our nature we cannot excel in certain lines; however, in these, our dominant interests, we are qualified to compete with any other college.

Our classification as a musical college has been affected largely by the efforts of our department director, Dr. Harold Thompson. Moreover, very fortunate for the college is the fact that we have as instructor in music and accompanist, an artist and composer of note, Professor T. Frederick Candlyn, whose services have been given to college in various concerts.

State has a college chorus which can compare favorably with that of any other college. Who of you attending the Colgate-State concert did not judge our numbers on a par with Colgate? Our chorus excelled in many respects and is worthy of praise for the general impression it gave.

The college orchestra has always been held in high regard by students. Its appearance in public is at all times enjoyed and appreciated, which shows the general desire for and interest in good music. Our large orchestra this year shows talent among us.

Much is being done by the College Music Association to promote State College's musical reputation. Besides a systematic study of music it provides us with concerts by various artists. Money for this purpose was unanimously voted by the student body. The great success of the first concert of the year, that of Gilman Williams, baritone, accompanied by Mr. Candlyn and the enthusiasm with which it was received by a large audience, proves without doubt that we are musical. Let us encourage this interest among the student body and make ourselves a true "Singing College."

GIVE YOURSELF A MENTAL SHAKE-UP

Thinking, it seems to us, might well be defined as a form of amusement which requires a greater expenditure of effort than the ordinary individual is willing to put forth. At any rate, there are few who indulge to any great extent. We are content for the most part to do no more than is required of us, and what little we do is not infrequently of an inferior and listless type. But to think is to live, and the less thinking we do, the less living and the more existing we are guilty of. For, although it is true that the flow of consciousness never ceases, it is equally true that a dynamo may run until it wears out without accomplishing much of anything. So it doesn't excuse us to say that we are always thinking. We aren't getting anywhere in particular unless there is a purposive factor in our thinking—and it is the introduction of a purposive factor that requires the effort.

Mental laziness is a habit—a bad one. We all have the habit to a greater or less extent. That is why we don't reform more strenuously. We are practically all of us afflicted, and we are all too content to live a life that is partially successful. We are too prone to measure ourselves by those around us. Incidentally we fail to learn that thinking is a form of amusement that affords considerable pleasure and exceedingly gratifying results to those who play the game. And like any game the harder you play, the more you get out of it. But like any other game the players need a periodic shake-up and a new standard to hold their interest and keep them out of a rut.

YE OLDE CHRISTMAS CAROLS

The spicy odor of firs, the happy jingle of sleigh bells on frosty air, red holly berries in the windows, and the beautiful old carols, all these go to make up the spirit of Christmas as we have come to understand it. We do not have much chance here at college to catch anything of the spirit of Christmas before we go home, and then there is such a short time left that it is all over before we have begun to throw all of ourselves into it, and we realize that the last candle on the Christmas tree has flickered out, and we must wait again three hundred and sixty-four days.

But this year we are going to begin early, and we will be all in tune long before we ever start for the station Wednesday. Monday night, December 19, all of us with our friends, if they would like to come, are going to gather in the auditorium to sing the old Christmas carols for an hour or so. The Music Council has planned this sing, and the choruses, the orchestra, and Doctor Thompson and Mr. Candlyn will all be there to help start the Christmas season right.

Mrs. Marietta White and Mrs. Louise Heafner, soloists in the First Presbyterian Church, will also help with the singing. Show your appreciation for the lovely old Christmas songs and the Christmas season by being on hand promptly at eight o'clock. Books of carols from which the songs will be selected will be on sale that night at the door for five cents.

NOTICE

Will the students who are in the college building in the evening please turn out the lights when they leave the locker rooms?

FRANKLIN CONCERTS

Special Offer

This year 1921-22 is the ninth season for the Franklin Subscription Concerts which are given at the State Armory. There are four special attractions this season: a song recital by Reinald Werron, rath, baritone, December 14; violin recital by Miss Erika Morini, the world's greatest woman violinist, January 9, 1922; recital by Ignaz Friedman, celebrated Polish pianist, January 25, 1922; and Miss Frieda Hempel, the distinguished soprano, with assisting artists, April 19, 1922.

The prices of tickets for each performance range from $2.75 down to $1.10, while the subscription price is $6.60 for the four events. The Concert Company is offering special subscription rates to State College students if a sufficient number can be interested in the proposition. This proposed plan is a rate of $5.50 per subscription rather than $6.60 which will save $1.10 on the regular subscription rate and will entitle the subscriber to the very best seats at an average of $1.36.

The payments may be made in two installments if this is desired and more convenient, or it may be paid in full and before the first concert. If two payments are made, half should be paid before the first concert and half in January. If you wish to take advantage of this opportunity sign on the bulletin board by Tuesday night.

QUARTERLY NOTICE

Material for the second issue of the Quarterly must be in by Wednesday, December 21. The Quarterly urges you to submit stories. Freshmen, if you are doing good work in written English, write something for the Quarterly. Now is the time to begin. Manuscript must be written on one side only, on large paper, and must have your name and class attached. It may be put into the mailbox under Q or handed to any member of the Quarterly board. Support your college magazine.

CLARKSON WINS

The Clarkson Tech basketball team got ample revenge for last year's defeat when they defeated State by the overwhelming score of 35-7. The excellent passwork of the visitors featured. At times the teamwork of the Purple and Gold showed improvement but it was not a constant quality.

'ROUND THE COLLEGE

Dora Garbose, '22, and Fanny Schulman, '22, spent the week-end in Syracuse as the guest of Iota Chapter, Alpha Epsilon Phi.

Helen Leary, '23, attended a luncheon in New York city given by the New York branch of Kappa Delta Alumnae on Saturday.

Psi Gamma welcomes Margaret Smith, '22, as a housegirl.

Queenie Homan, '23, has recovered from her recent illness and is back at college.

Delta Omega welcomes Mabel Stevens, '24, as a pledged member.

Gamma chapter, KAP welcomes the following into full membership: Otto Huddle, '22; Rudolph Linderman, '22; Ralph Beaver, '24; Edwin Juckett, '25; Harvey Fenner, '25; Lyle Roberts, '25; Harry Rude, '25; Edmund Crane, '25; Floyd Landon, '25; Charles Cole, '25.

The Juniors in Home Economics were guests of the Seniors of the Home Management Family on Sunday evening, December 4.

ORGANIZATIONS

Newman Club

The members of Newman Club will receive Communion in a body on Sunday, December 18th, at 9 o'clock mass at St. Patrick's Church. A breakfast will be served later in the cafeteria. All those desiring to attend are asked to sign on the bulletin board.

Political Science Club

Political Science Club held a special meeting Wednesday afternoon, December 7th, for a discussion of the disarmament conference and what effect disarmament would have upon the different great powers. Arline Werth discussed it from the viewpoint of China, Doris Butler, Japan; Kathrine Driscoll, France; Edith Saunders, Great Britain; Clara Belle Whitcombe, the United States. This was only the first of many interesting discussions that the Club expects to have upon the work of the conference.

This Wednesday, December 14, the regular mid-monthly meeting will be held, and Doctor Richardson has consented to speak informally on "Student Life in Oxford." The Old World universities, with the romanticism of the Middle Ages still clinging about their gray spires, have always had a very strong and beautiful appeal to men's imaginations, until their magic names now need merely to be mentioned to fill one with a humble and sincere reverence. And among these universities, "storied in prose and sung in verse," Oxford holds a foremost and enviable position. Political Science Club extends a warm welcome to all who wish to come Wednesday.

Chemistry Club

At the next meeting of Chemistry Club, to be held Friday, December 16, at 4 o'clock in room 250, Miss Fannie Schulman will read the address delivered by Dr. Edgar F. Smith to the section of Eastern New York, American Chemical Society. The address was given at Union College, Schenectady, N. Y., November 11, 1921. Miss Schulman was present at this meeting and the address was sent to her directly by Dr. Smith.

Mathematics Club

Mathematics Club will hold a regular meeting this (Monday) afternoon at 4:30, in room 200. Marion Van Buren and Dora Boyce will be the speakers.

Press Club

An outside speaker will address Press Club at its regular meeting Wednesday, December 13, at 5 o'clock. The meeting will be well worth your attention; so everybody come.

Here is the questionnaire that the Press Club will present to the student body Friday. The Press Club wants data on the reading of newspapers by college students. Also in its work as a publicity bureau it desires the names of those who will agree to send notices of college events to their home papers and thus advertise State College. These questionnaires need not be signed unless you agree to become a correspondent to your home paper.

You will each be given a questionnaire as you leave chapel Friday. There will be someone in the rotunda all Friday afternoon to take them.

Fill out your questionnaire!
Agree to boost your college!
Show some pep!
Your confessions will not be used against you; so please co-operate with the Press Club.

French Club

The success of the French fête was so tremendous that, like a dream, it is almost impossible to conceive. After all bills were paid the proceeds exceeded fifty dollars. The committees in charge of the fête were headed by the following: Dorothy Bennit, decorations and publicity; Mary Allen, perfume; Jacqueline Monroe, cards; Mary Hayes, dolls; Ruth B. Hemmover, novelties; Hilda Hayes, candy; Elizabeth Renner, refreshments. Although only the chairmen of the committees are listed, a tremendous part of the work was done by those many people whose names do not appear here. French Club extends her heartiest thanks and appreciation to those teachers and students who contributed so much time and energy to the success of the fête.

Wednesday, December 14, there will be a very important meeting of the Club at which a Christmas program will be given. The time—4 o'clock; the place—Milne High Chapel. Be there!

SOPHS AGAIN

The Sophomore girls scored a victory of 16-7 over the Freshmen last Monday. Although the Freshmen have made fine progress, the superiority of the Yellow and White was made apparent early in the game. The rapid pass-work and guarding of Liebh, the Sophomore center, made scoring almost impossible for the Freshmen. The score at the end of the first half was 10-3 in favor of the Sophs.

During the second half of the game the Sophomores scored three baskets in rapid succession. This roused the Freshman forward who retaliated with two baskets. When the final whistle blew the score stood 17-6 in favor of the Sophs.

The following is the box score of the game:

CHANGE IN G. A. A. POINT SYSTEM

A change in the G. A. A. point system was discussed at a meeting of the Athletic Council held Wednesday evening, November 30. Among other things it was thought advisable to increase the number of points required to win letters and numerals. Because of so many opportunities, many people have already won thirty or more points toward them. Accordingly at the frolic held last Saturday, December 3, the Council recommended to G. A. A. a change which includes an increase of from forty to fifty points to win numerals, and from sixty to seventy points to win letters. The change in the point system was voted on and adopted as an amendment to the by-laws.

Amendment to By-Laws.

At all colleges Mr. Lomax has been received and spoken of with great enthusiasm by both faculty and students. They clamor for his return.

Hamilton says to him, "Copies of Cowboy Songs and other frontier Ballads were in demand among our students for days after your lecture."

Those who desire a novel sensation should hear Professor Lomax recite and interpret American Folk songs. You will also discover that elements of poetry are alive and in the making.

Remember the date, January 12, and the place, College Auditorium. Given by the Music Association, admission 50 cents for those without student tax tickets.

GERMANY SENDS FIRST ENVOY HERE SINCE GREAT WAR CAME TO AN END

Washington, Nov. 26.—Baron Edmond von Thermann, the first diplomat to represent Germany in the United States since the war, has arrived from Berlin. He comes to America as a sort of advance agent of the new ambassador who, however, has yet to be chosen.

This is von Thermann's first trip to America. He is 37 years old, a graduate of several universities and was an attaché of the German embassy at Madrid before the war.

He served in the German army as a lieutenant of cavalry on the eastern front in 1914, was captured near Koenigsberg by the Russians and spent some time in an internment camp. He attributes the retention of his health during imprisonment to the welfare work done by the American Red Cross and Y. M. C. A.

Discussing conditions in Germany, which he said were bad, von Thermann said that of the three classes—the titled class, the professionals and the workers—the workers seem to be faring the best. Most of these are employed and getting good wages, he said. The class corresponding to the titled class of before the war is complaining of enormous taxes imposed upon incomes, and the professional class cannot get enough employment.

Speaking of the American occupation, he said the German people were glad to have United States soldiers in their country. With regard to the indemnity he said Germany would pay it as long as she could.
