Affirmative Speakers Clever in Rebuttal

The junior-freshmen debate took place Friday morning, March 5, in Student Assembly. The question debated was "Should the United States own and control its coal mines?" The freshmen, arguing for the affirmative, won, by a unanimous decision of the judges, over the juniors debating for the negative. The first speaker for the affirmative was Agnes Smith, '23, who stated the necessity for a change. James Bucci, '21, her opponent argued that a change would not improve the situation. The second speakers, Elizabeth Kenner, '23, and Nellie Parkhurst, '21, debated the practicability of government control. Helen McKenna, '23, the third affirmative speaker, proved that government control would be beneficial to the public and to the individual; Marjorie Potter, '21, that government control was not necessary. She also proposed a method by which private ownership would continue, regulated by a commission representing both the government and the private owners.

The debate was unusually well prepared and delivered by both sides. The freshmen excelled in the rebuttal, thereby determining the decision of the judges. The judges were Dr. Hopkins, Dr. Creighton Storey and Mr. Hildley.

OMICRON NU PLEDGES JUNIORS

Omicron Nu held its pledge service at the home of Mrs. Frear at 8 o'clock, Tuesday evening, March 2. Beta Chapter welcomes Doris Davey, Florence Fitch, Dorothy Howe and Florence Stanbro as pledge members.

POLITICAL SCIENCE CLUB

The topic of the discussion at the Political Science Club meeting on Monday evening, February 23, was "The Economic Distribution of Commodities." With reference to this general problem, Mr. McClure spoke on "Profiteering," Mr. Emil Polt on "Duplication in Distribution," and Mr. Woodruff on "The Relation of the Consumer to the High Cost of Living." Mr. Breslaw, Mr. Schwadelson and Miss Halstead spoke extemporaneously on the subject. Professor Kirtland acted as critic for the evening.

After the speaking a business meeting was held. The following persons were elected to membership in the club: Miss M. Crane, Miss R. Morris, Miss J. Dobris, Miss M. Edgarton, Miss R. Breslaw, Miss A. Knapp. Mr. McClure asked Miss McCarthy to make a poster advertising the meetings. A motion was passed that an executive council, including all the officers and the permanent committee

Aggies Win Close Game 23 to 22

Thursday night, March 5, State lost the first game of the New York trip to the Aggies at Farmingdale by the close score of 23 to 22. The game closed the Aggies' season, and they found the Purple and Gold one of the strongest teams they have played.

In the first half, State led by a score of 13 to 12. In this period Cassavant made three and Masson one basket from the floor and Springmann put in six consecutive foul shots. Nichols played a strong game for the Aggies, scoring five field baskets. Tuttle scored the other two points.

In the second half the Aggies succeeded in overcoming State's lead. Van Pelt, Tuttle and Powers each scored a field basket, and Nichols scored four foul points and Tuttle one. Springmann led the offensive for State making a neat field basket and four more from the penalty line. Johnson also made a double header. The final score was 23 to 22 in favor of the Farmingdale team.

Nichols was the big man for the Aggies, making a total of 14 points for his team. Springmann's accurate foul-shooting was one of the features of the game. The State center made ten out of twelve tries.

MR. LONG LECTURES ABOUT WIRELESS

A regular meeting of the society was held Thursday evening, March 4, at 8 p. m., in Room 150-A, at which Mr. Long gave a talk on "Wireless."

We heard messages being sent from several stations, but unfortunately Mr. Long was under oath not to reveal the subject matter of any of them. Mr. Long had hoped that we might dance to music transmitted by radio telephone, but the patent held on a part of the apparatus prevented his using it.

However, the meeting was very interesting and we feel that the members and their friends should avail themselves of the opportunity, which the society affords, of keeping up with the science of the day.

Besides the regular members, there were present several students from the night classes of the Albany High School with Prof. B. O. Burgin, head of the Science Department.

The next meeting is to be held on March 25. New members will be initiated, and Professor Hale will speak on the topic "Joseph Henry." Members of J. H. S. be there! The program committee plans an exciting campaign for the new members.

THE DANSANT SATUR- DAY AFTERNOON

The regular Saturday tea will be held as usual Saturday afternoon, March 13, in the college gymnasium, from 3 to 5 o'clock. The hostesses will be Miss Murray, Miss Futterer, Miss Tuttle, Miss Carmody, Mrs. Power, Mrs. De Porte, Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. York.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION SOCIETY INITIATES NEW MEMBERS

"Oh, yes, here we are again. "Here we are again," — etc. We're just coming into our own. Last Tuesday night, March 2, a business meeting was held in the gymnasium, after which we initiated some dozen and a half victims and had our picture taken.

The match race between the blindfolded initiates was excruciatingly funny, — and otherwise. (Ask the Count.) Oh, yes, you did dance, didn't you, boys? They made an attempt at "Patriotism" which was truly praiseworthy. Our imagination ran riot when it came to their grace, and suppleness, and daintiness. A certain lassie, Beulah C., tho't the "feed" delicious and Bake was surely in his element while doing "The Boardwalk."

Everybody watch the keyboard for a notice of our swimming party, and sign up.

"You won't regret it."
"A good time promised to all."

FRENCH CLUB TO HAVE A TEA

The members of the French Club will give a tea at 747 Madison Ave. on Saturday, April 17, from 3 to 5 p. m. Elisa Rigouard, '22, chairman of the affair, together with Jean Connors, '20, Elsa Miller, '20, and Ruth Callison, '21, will act as hostesses. Members are warned to brush up their vocabularies, as the affair is to be conducted only in French.

CONSUMERS' LEAGUE DISCUSS IMPORTANT BILLS

At a meeting of Consumers' League, Friday, March 5, Florence Fitch gave a report of the joint conference of national, state, local and college leagues which she attended in New York City, February 20 and 21. Her main message concerned student support of the Roosevelt minimum wage bill and the Simpson eight-hour day bill now before the Assembly. Our cooperation as prospective voters is urged. Do you want fair labor conditions? Then show your personal interest by writing to Assemblymen Roosevelt and Simpson, State Capitol, Albany.

Friday morning you will receive cards asking your backing for Consumers' League. These are the definite things you can do to improve present working laws:

1. Inform yourself as to labor conditions surrounding working women in New York State and familiarize yourself with needed legislation.

2. Help to inform others.

3. Write letters to representatives.

"YOU AND YOURS"

Your college orchestra cannot be efficient without more members. If you play a mandolin, guitar, violin, banjo, lute or cello, your orchestra needs you.

We are privileged in having Dr. Thompson to direct, for his time and effort is much in demand in other musical enterprises.

Practice takes place every Wednesday evening between eight and nine o'clock. Arrange your work accordingly and join.

The Junior class has made this worthwhile organization possible. Now it remains to the whole college to guarantee its success.

TO THE ALUMNI

The end of this month, just before Easter vacation, we are going to publish our annual "big issue" of the "News." Of course, the function of this, being sent to every high school in the State, is to boom State College. We'd like some articles containing "raves" about our Alma Mater, what it does for under-graduates and alumni.

Please make these real "booms" and send them to the editor before March 20.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

We have had something "under our hat" for a long time; and we have kept it there not so much because we were afraid to say it as because we hardly knew how to express our feelings in such a way that they would not be misunderstood. A letter to the editor of the "News" printed in the issue for March 4, although not exactly dealing with the same subject, brought the matter so vividly home to us that we are going to come out with the thing, trusting that if we are wrong we may be corrected but not too severely criticized.

There is a somewhat general feeling that teaching is a woman's job. The great patience and gentle, reasoning faculty which are the necessary complements of modern pedagogy seem to be found mostly in women. Yet we do not agree that this is entirely a profession for the fair sex. We feel that there is a great need for the man teacher. The boy of to-day needs someone to act as a big brother. Who is more adapted than the man teacher? If all the instructors in the United States were women, do you think there would be an adequate development of those vigorous characteristics which live young men impart to a country? We are talking especially of the grammar school and high school pedagogy, for women have not become so common in the faculties of our higher educational institutions but what we always think of the instructor of a college class in terms of short hair, beard, and trousers.

If teaching is not distinctly a woman's position and men are badly needed for this profession, why is it that a man who engages in it is regarded as effeminate? Maybe you think this is nonsense, but we feel that it is a rather deplorable fact. For instance, the other day a man whom we respected asked us, "What college are you attending?"

"Why, I'm going to State College."

"Ah-h, I see, studying to be a teacher. I thought you were interested in electrical engineering."

The tone given the word "teacher" could not be mistaken. Then there followed a rather poor explanation, we fear, of why we had chosen teaching instead of engineering. The interview concluded, and the man walked away with a pitying expression too plain to be misunderstood.

Now we do not feel that people are entirely unreasonable in regarding the man teacher as somewhat effeminate. It is not the whim of one man, but many men seem to take an attitude like that cited above. Do not mistake us. We do not believe, as some folk would have us, that the men of the next generation are going to be like women and the women like men. But we do believe that the world is being cultured to a finer degree causing in some cases a taint of effeminacy among men.

This, also, we think is true of the man teacher.

If we are right, we may attribute this condition to several things. First, there is the law of corporal punishment. In the good old days, a blue-beach gad played a good part in education; and, as we can personally testify, the culprit did not doubt that it was a man's hand that administered it. Then there is the fact that in the teachers' colleges of to-day there are usually a few males and a generous proportion of females.

Right here is a good place to state that our purpose is not to slam the women or to advocate the abolition of co-education. But we do think that if a man is constantly in the society of women, he will either partake of the gentle manners of woman-kind or flee in despair to some isolated island or wilderness far from society. In either case he is unfitted to become a teacher, for what boy would respect a lady-like man? It is likewise true that a woman constantly in society with men may become mannish. Either case is lamentable.

The remedy we propose is simple. In colleges like our own State College, there should be more men's get-togethers, smokers, clubs, etc. Yes, have a lodge out in the woods, but have it exclusively for men where they can rough it. If the men could be together more of the time, it would be better for them. The kind of man who is a man and knows men's ways of life is the one that will gain the respect of boys and help the country by becoming a teacher.

AT THE MANHATTAN GAME

Talk about your college spirit—it takes the alumni to set the pace for us! When the team played Manhattan at New York last Friday the weather was precipitous—it rained bucketsful all evening. Not discouraged by the weather conditions a number of alumni braved the elements and wended their way to Broadway and 131st street to the college only to find that the game was to be played at 59th street. With the dauntless spirit of "State" the crowd floated its way down to 59th street and then climbed five flights of stairs to get to the gym. There they inspired the team by their encouraging words throughout the game and ended up by giving the old "Locomotive" for the team and for "State College." It surely sounded good to hear the old cheer, as you can well imagine. Such spirit is what one can't help but admire. These alumni had come from various places in and about New York, disregarding all inconveniences to themselves, to see the team in action and to help the boys win. If any who read this think they have been lacking somewhat in their spirit at our home games—they shall have a final opportunity to square themselves on Saturday when we will close our season with a victory over Hobart.

Among the alumni present at the Manhattan game were—Irma Patterson, '18, Eloise Lansing, '18, Janet Wall, '18, Dorothy Burton, '18, Clara Holder, '18, Lillian Magilton, '18, Vera Comstock, '14, Alice Howell, '18, Edna Berwald, '18, Violet Downsborough, '18.

TARDINESS AT ASSEMBLY

It is absurd, to say the least, for us to endure the annoyance of having so many students coming late to Friday assembly. This seeming lack of intelligence on the part of so many students can be cured to some extent by stationing monitors at all doors, prohibiting entrance after 9:05. This, however, should be a last resort. Such an arrangement does not provide for keeping silent those groups of tardy people outside. No strict rule can be enforced causing students to either be on time at these assemblies or stay away. A partial honor system in this respect might be effective, but it's up to the student body as a whole to realize that such a system is in operation.

No drastic steps can be taken if students absent themselves from Friday assembly, but none should be necessary. These meetings are practically the only occasions when we are all together to give evidence of what loyalty we have for State College.

Effective measures for curing annoying tardiness can be executed and certainly will be, when an audience comprised of our fellow students plainly shows its disapproval and disgust occasioned by habitual tardiness and annoyance.

Friday assembly period begins at 9:05. A good suggestion is that some class, say 1923, set the example of being in their seats at 9:00. 1920 once created a precedent of voluntarily remaining seated while the other classes passed out. If freshmen can make such a sacrifice to be on time certainly the rest of us can follow.

WITH THE N. Y. AGGIES

While going to Farmingdale, the team was treated to a race between electric and steam engine trains.

A stranger (while driving in at the Farmingdale station):
"What you all looking at; anything strange 'bout me?"

Schiavone—"No. Only we hadn't seen a horse since we got here."

The Aggies are to be congratulated for their success in towing us between the station and the college. Each time the horses swam a distance of two miles without losing any part of their load—our condolences to the "Ped" for missing this "snap."

Before and after the game the team enjoyed a swim between the dressing room and the gym. Water wings and life savers were furnished free. Next year we are proposing to add fishing tackle to our equipment.

McCafferty has found his idea of a wonderful time in the moving staircase. At first he had a hard time getting his feet to harmonize with the motion of the stairs.

To the Editor of the "News":

America is to-day shaken to its very foundations by anarchy, Bolshevism and many other "isms" until one wonders as to the final outcome of it all. The ultimate outcome will be fatal to America, to our unique Democracy, if America departs from her ancient traditions. And America must depart from her traditions, from the teachings of her founders, unless American teachers adhere to American ideals, love them and teach those in their charge to know and to love them.

The fate of America, of democracy, of civilization, rests in the hands of the American school teacher. It is our duty to prepare to accept our great responsibilities, to prepare for our great task. We are at present shamefully negligent. We are dabbling around with childish things, when we should prepare for our struggle.

In Chapel we sing "Ha! Ha! I'm Wild" and other foolish trash. It has been a long time since we Americans have been called to our feet to sing "The Star Spangled Banner." We have been too busy with our silly, infantile whims to be true Americans. Let us show that we are still Americans by singing our National War Anthem—and sing it as It Is Written! ! ! ! ! Let us include the Third Verse which has been stricken from that song by traitors. For those who do not know it we are putting it down here:

And where is that band who so vauntingly swore

That the havoc of war and the battle's confusion

A home and a country would leave us no more?

Their blood has washed out their foul footsteps' pollution.

No refuge could save the hireling and slave

From the terror of flight or the gloom of the grave,

And the Star Spangled Banner in triumph shall wave

O'er the land of the free, and the home of the brave.

U. S. COAST GUARD

London, Conn. The regular course for cadets covers three years, and that for cadet engineers covers one year.

Each summer the students are taken on an extended practice cruise. These cruises have included visits to ports on the Atlantic Coast and in the West Indies, and to the Canal Zone, and visits to European ports when conditions permitted.

Cadets receive the same pay and allowances as midshipman of the Navy ($600 per annum and one ration per day). Cadet engineers receive $75 per month and one ration per day.

Upon graduation from the Academy, a cadet is commissioned by the President as a third lieutenant in the Coast Guard. A cadet engineer, upon graduation, is commissioned by the President as a third lieutenant of engineers in the Coast Guard. Commissioned officers of the Coast Guard hold relative rank with officers of the Army and Navy.

The examination is strictly competitive; appointments are made strictly on merit.

Every effort will be made to hold examinations at points convenient for candidates. The examination for cadets may be expected to take four days, and that for cadet engineers five days.

The opportunity this year is particularly favorable because it is hoped that an exceptionally large number of cadets and cadet engineers will be appointed.

Write to Commandant, U. S. Coast Guard, Washington, D. C., and you will be sent a circular giving full information about the examination. You may also obtain, upon request, any special information desired about the Coast Guard Academy or the Service.

Losing to the Aggies seemed to spur State for a victory over Manhattan. The teams played on even terms for the first ten minutes when State broke into the scoring column and in quick succession scored four field baskets. Masson counted four times from the field during this half.

State let up during the second half and Manhattan scored eight points while State scored nineteen.

Masson featured for State while Springmann played his usual good game.

Game Saturday night

SENIORS WIN TWO GAMES FROM FROSH

On Monday afternoon, March 1, the senior and freshmen girls played basketball. They also played another game on Wednesday afternoon, March 3. The seniors were successful in both. The score on Monday was 13-7, on Wednesday 14-10. The line-up for the seniors was: Isabelle Johnson, c.; Florence Van Ness, sc.; Florence Bohne, rg.; Sarah Adriance, lg.; Marguerite Alden, rg.; Dorothy Mulholland, lg.

The line-up for the freshmen was: Evelyn Waugh, c.; Margaret Hutchins, sc.; Helen McKenna, f.; Martha Bailey, f.; Marjorie Matthewson, g.; Mary Connellick, g.

On Wednesday the line-up for each team was the same with the exception that neither team had side centers.

Referee — Miss Bennett. Time-keeper and scorer — Ellen Donohue.

CHEMISTRY CLUB

The last meeting of Chemistry Club was held on Friday, March 5th. Marcella Ryan gave a paper on "Fabiakoid," the imitation leather fabric on the market.

A design for a Chemistry Club pin was adopted. It is to be a naphthalene ring with a red enamel center. The pin itself is of silver.

MUSIC CLUB

Music Club met Monday, March 8, 1920, at four o'clock in the auditorium. The program, which was in charge of Marjorie Bryant, consisted of piano solos by Katherine Ball and vocal selections by a male quartet. The members of the quartet are Ed. Springmann, Ted Casavant, Chas. Keilly and Paul Henninger. A large attendance was urged for the next meeting.

The basketball management intends to produce a play entitled "How Room 99 Became Room 62." Each player is writing his own part.

Lost.—Two brass beds of antique lineage disappeared mysteriously from the 5th floor of Hotel G—— last Friday night. Foul play was suspected, when dissected parts of the beds were found in the fireplace, bureau, book case and bathroom. Rumor has it that a number of valises in their exit from said hotel the next morning gave forth metallic jingles. Any information leading to the restoration of the property mentioned will be amply rewarded. Hotel G——, N. Y. C.

Hugo Polt is going into the directory business very shortly. He is getting into practice already by carrying with him in his valise wherever he goes the latest issue of the N. Y. Telephone Directory. "How could you do dot, Hugo?" (P. S.—Said directory has been missed by the telephone patrons where Hugo was stopping.)

Dear Annabelle:

Not long ago I attended a dance with a young man. The chapones left just before the last dance. Before they went I and my darling boy solemnly promised not to turn out the lights. Some other young men turned the lights out. We immediately put them back on, feeling it was our duty. Did we do right? We are both wasting our young lives by worrying.

Anxious N. F.

That depends. You apparently felt you could not trust yourself in the dark. Altho' somewhat unkind to the others who could stand the excitement, still on the whole you know your failings.
