PROFESSOR ROBINSON TO LECTURE ON THE SIGNIFICANCE OF ART IN ASIA MINOR

State College students are to have, tonight, the rare opportunity of hearing a man famous and eminent in the world of art. The Dramatic and Art Association are presenting Professor David M. Robinson of Johns Hopkins University, who is not only vice-president of the Archaeological Institute of America, but also editor of the magazine, "Art and Archaeology," associate editor of the "Classical Weekly," editor-in-chief of the "Art Bulletin," and president of the College Art Association of America. He was graduated in 1898 from the University of Chicago. There, the following year, he was scholar in Greek, later, a fellow in Greek and in 1904 received his Ph.D. degree. E. ARCHIBALD RE ELECTED COLLEGE SONG LEADER

McCluer, '21, Made Cheer Leader

Assembly opened Friday morning with the announcement by the President of the Senior Class that the election of College Song Leader was in order. Four candidates were presented, two from each of the upper classes.

Marjorie Potter, Junior nominee, led the sister classes in songs taken from the College Song Book. The Juniors and Freshmen sang "Polly, Wolly, Doodle" and the Seniors and Sophomores sang "College of the Empire State." Next, Mary Whish, the other Junior candidate, led the student body in singing "Nancy Lee" and "Sweet and Low."

ROOSEVELT CLUB

Dr. Brubacher Speaks

Last Wednesday noon about thirty-five students of State College, all of whom are interested in perpetuating the name and ideals of Colonel Roosevelt, met and organized the Roosevelt Club of the New York State College for Teachers. Dr. Brubacher spoke upon the aims of the organization and advised that the method of organization be tentative, awaiting further plans from headquarters at New York University. Plans will be made to send representatives to a State convention to be held in the near future. The president of the Senior Class was elected chairman.

COACH W. J. CLARKE

Varsity Team Begins Practice

With Manager Schiavone's announcement that the basketball season will open December 6, Coach Clarke has started the organization of a team to represent State College. The first practice was Monday, November 3, and the coach will have the candidates out the first four night of each week until the first game.

There are twenty-four men on the squad. All those who showed up well on the class teams are out for the Varsity. They are: Springman, Lohdell, Masson, Nicholson, Ferguson, Castellano, McMahon, H. Pelt, Cassavant, Sherlock, Hathorn, Baker, McCluer, W. Miller, Keenan, Linck, Levitt, Johnson, McCaffrey, Dolris, Riley, Hill, Stewart and Walker.

They are a fine lot, these twenty-four. There are men with speed and ability to shoot far forwards; men with height for centers, and men with plenty of "stick-tiveness" for guards; and there are several men trying out for each position. Among them are some who played on last year's team. The others are mighty promising new material. Every man realizes that he will have to work hard to get a place on the team, and still harder to keep a place.

In W. J. Clarke, State College has a coach who knows the physical needs of the players, and the ins and outs of all kinds of basketball. Mr. Clarke is a graduate of the New Haven Normal School of Gymnastics. He has also received Normal training in swimming and fancy diving from Professor George H. Corsan of Toronto University. He has coached at the St. Joseph's High School, Mo., the New Haven Y. M. C. A., Conn., and the Waterbury Boy's Club, Conn., and has been director of recreation at South Manchester, Conn. He has been captain of three basketball teams: the champion basketball team of the Missouri Valley, 1912; the N. H. N. S. G. basketball team, and the champion U. S. Army team of the Seventy-Sixth Division. He has also played with the Ansonia, Conn., professional basketball team. This rec- Continued on page 4.

INTER-SORORITY TEA

Students Enjoy Annual Affair

One of the most pleasing social events of the College season was the Inter-Sorority Tea, held in the rotunda, Saturday afternoon, November 8. The decorations were hemlock, palms, yellow chrysanthemums, and banners and pillows of the sororities, fraternities and the College. Gregware's orchestra of Albany furnished the music.

Five Colleges Represented

Last Friday and Saturday Gamma entertained the other chapters of Kappa Delta Rho Fraternity during the session of the Annual National Convention. Since a House has not yet been established the Red Room was used for business meetings, and the delegates and officers had their meals in the College Cafeteria. Friday evening an extended business meeting was held. Saturday morning most of the business was finished and the afternoon meeting devoted to a discussion of principles and elemental ideals. Saturday evening an informal banquet was held in the cafeteria at which the delegates from the various chapters, the national officers and our own active members and initiates were present. Mr. G. E. Kimball, '06, of Middlebury, founder of Kappa Delta Rho, spoke on the foundation of the fraternity, and a member from each chapter spoke of local activities during the past year. Dean Horner was the final speaker. His reminiscences of his own fraternity associations and the development of the ideal purposes of all such organizations delighted every one. Philip G. Auchampaigne acted as toastmaster. After singing Kappa Delta Rho songs, the Alma-Maters of the various colleges represented, as well as all the popular songs, new and old, the Seventh Annual Convention came to an end. Next year it will be held at Epsilon chapter, Franklin College, Franklin, Indiana.

SENIORS OVERWHELM SOPHS

1920 Scores Easy Victory Over Opponents

The Seniors won over the Sophs Friday by a score of 34 to 12 in an interesting, though rather one-sided, contest.

Both teams started off well and the scoring was evenly divided in the first few moments of play. The Seniors soon went into the lead, however, and by the combined efforts of Nicholson, Masson, Lohdell and Ferguson, they scored seven field baskets, while Springman put in seven free throws.

The Sophs were held down to two field baskets, one by Linck, a spectacular shot, and the other by Keenan, and to four foul baskets. When Continued on page 3.

MUSIC CLUB CONCERT, NOVEMBER 19

Invitation Extended to Student Body

Music Club will give a concert Wednesday evening, November 19, at 8 o'clock in the College auditorium. There will be no admittance fee. The entire student body is invited to come as guests of the Club. The purpose of this concert is two-fold; to show you what Music Club is doing and to entertain you for an hour.

SENIORS TO ENTERTAIN STUDENT ASSEMBLY

Novel Program Planned For Tomorrow

The first class morning will take place tomorrow during the Assembly period. The committee for the event, of which Sally Roody is chairman, have planned a program that is unique. Judging from the amount of time and practice put in rehearsals, the entertainment should be very successful.

SENIORS WIN THIRD GAME

Frosh Lead in First Half

In the closest game so far played in the interclass series, the Seniors won from the Frosh by a score of 23 to 18. The contest was well played and interesting throughout.

In the first five minutes the only scoring was two foul points on each side. But Johnson finally found the basket and the Frosh went steadily in the bad. Springmann played a good game for the Seniors in this half, scoring eight points. Stewart also scored eight points for the Frosh. When half-time was called the score stood 14 to 10 in favor of the Freshmen.

The Seniors started out with a rush in the second half in an effort to cut down the four-point lead of the Frosh. They played good basketball, and five minutes before the final whistle the score was tied at 16 all. At this critical moment Springmann made a long pass to Masson and the latter found the basket, putting '20 in the lead. Johnson came back for his team with a neat field basket. The Seniors, however, increased their lead until the final whistle left them victors with a score of 23 to 18.

The class teams have each played three games at the present time. The Seniors have won three, the Juniors two, the Frosh one, and Sophomores none of their games. Score: Continued on page 4.

ONCE MORE

Will all those people who are responsible for some notice or write-up for the "News" please read this, and heed!

As we have so many times previously announced, all material for the following Thursday issue must be in the publication office by noon on Monday. This does not mean that you can hand in some pet announcement or "rave" about five o'clock on Monday, or send it down by the proofreader on Wednesday, and expect to see it published Thursday.

We have hitherto published the fact that the "News" Board declines all responsibility for the non-appearance in the paper of any material not fulfilling these conditions. We have received several complaints lately because certain things were omitted, and the writers got "sore" when we asked them if their articles were in accordance with our rules.

We have decided that absolutely no material will be considered for that week's issue of the "News" which is not in the publication office by Monday noon. We can fill our pages with "Smiles" and blank columns under headings where articles were scheduled to appear if work isn't done on time.

Material for the issue of the week of November 24 must be in the office some time Saturday, November 22, so that the "News" will be ready early on Wednesday. Don't forget these rules, unless you wish to read titled blank columns!

THIS MEANS YOU

Next Monday night, at Chancellor's Hall, the Jubilee Singers will give a musical concert for the benefit of our College orchestra. Realizing that Albany is the capital of the Empire State, they have arranged an unusually attractive program, which promises to be one of the best ever offered in the Capitol District.

Already tickets placed on sale outside the College are being rapidly sold. This means that the people of Albany are backing our project. Are you, as students of State College, sincere in helping us to establish a College orchestra? Are you doing what you can to bring this successful about?

You know you want an orchestra. You know that with real music we can make our days at State College replete with "college life." You know how much better we would enjoy chapel exercises, class days, "soirees," Moving-up Day, Friday nights, if only we had an orchestra of our own. You know, too, that just such a concert as this will start us in the right direction.

If people outside the College are supporting us, surely you can. We want every student to come with as many friends as he can afford to bring. We want to see no less than 500 State College students Monday night at Chancellor's Hall, State Education Building, at 8:15 p. m.

FACULTY

This week the student tax is being collected. Part of this money is to go for the expenses of publishing the "News." We have decided that we will deliver copies each week to only those members of the Faculty who either pay their blanket tax, or subscribe with us before December 1. If you do not receive your copies after Thanksgiving vacation, recollect whether you haven't forgotten to do one of the above things.

To the Editor of the "News":

A movement has been started in State College for the furtherance of Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. work in the College and the sending of delegates to a national convention. It will undoubtedly be worth while for us to be represented, but it will cost money, and it is this problem of raising money for such a purpose that occupies a part of our attention at present. A part of the money, at least, must be sought from outsiders, as subscriptions. But it is not fair, to me, to seek any more from the outside than is absolutely necessary, and the question of a subscription dance has been brought up. It has met with the objection of being scarcely a legitimate way of raising money for "Y" work. To many of us, however, it seems to be really less objectionable than seeking aid from those who so generously open their pocket-books for similar movements. The dance gives those who attend clean amusement for their money and should be all the more preferable, in that the proceeds will be used in a worthy manner. We shall, no doubt, spend the money some way, so why not spend it for something worth while? Surely a College dance ought not to be considered objectionable in any way.

A system of begging seems objectionable to us all, so why not give something in return to contributors to such a project? Greater satisfaction will result to us all if we are allowed to raise the necessary funds by giving a subscription dance. —21.

ALUMNI

You alumni readers of the "News," what would you take for your "Pedagogue" of 1919, 1918, or 1917? How many times have you referred to it in the last year? You are so busy you can't get back for commencement this year; what will help keep you in touch with State College? Being "rich school teachers" what is a mere three dollars to you? We know you want a "Ped" for 1920. We don't have to tell you how much Enclosed please find three dollars ($3.00) for a copy of the 1920 Pedagogue to be sent, prepaid, to the following address before June 1, 1920.

HOME ECONOMICS GIVE ANNUAL PARTY

Faculty Have Most Original Stunt

The annual Home Economics party was held in the gymnasium Friday evening, November 7, from 8 to 11. The class stunts formed the main feature of the evening; the Faculty, with their usual originality, being voted the best. After guessing the identity of each advertisement present the evening was given over to dancing. Refreshments were served at 10.

fun you will get out of it. But if any of you will write a letter back to the "News" telling what your "Ped" has meant to you, we will publish it so that our under-grads will wake up to its value. Below is a subscription blank. There is no time like the present. Buy a 1920 "Ped" as a Christmas present for yourself or your room-mate. Put your blank, together with your $3.00 in an envelope and send it to Marion Beale, Editor of the "Pedagogue," State College, Albany, N. Y.

ALUMNI

No copies of the "News" will be sent to those whose subscriptions are not paid December 1.

CHEMISTRY CLUB

The meeting of the Chemistry Club last Friday in Room 250 was one of the most interesting meetings of the year. The new members were given pledge emblems consisting of test tube brushes on cords of red and silver, the club colors. Richard O'Brien read a paper on "Helium," giving the history of the gas, an account of its discovery in the oil fields of the south, and how the gas is extracted and used to inflate dirigibles.

A committee was appointed, of which Dorothy Banner is chairman, to consider and report on the advisability of a club pin. Plans were made for the initiation party to be held this Friday night in Room 250.

Chemistry Club proposes to issue a club paper the "Harmonie." Richard O'Brien, Marcella Ryan, Frances Stillson, Gertrude Busby and William Strain constitute the Board of Editors.

SYDDUM HALL

Hazel Brimmer, '20, spent Sunday with her parents at Petersburg, N. Y. Dorothy Howe spent Sunday at Hoosick.

Last Monday a meeting of the House was called in order to determine the rules for Syddum Hall. Besides the regular College rules the following rules were made:

1. Two Freshmen were appointed to answer all telephone calls, doorbells, etc., for two weeks.

2. Each Freshman had a room assigned in which she was to shut the windows every morning till Moving-Up Day.

3. A Sophomore was given the duty of seeing that lights were out; the chain on the front door, etc. This lucky person was Twyhill Purdy.

4. On each floor two proctors were chosen. This is a very notable fact. On the third floor, occupied almost entirely by upper classmen, two Freshmen were appointed proctors. (It takes the Freshmen to chaperone Seniors, Juniors and Sophs.)

Saturday evening Dr. and Mrs. Brulacher were entertained at dinner. After dinner everyone assembled in the large living room where Dr. Brulacher gave a delightful talk on "How to get the most out of our College life." It gave the girls much food for thought, and they discussed the details of the subject at length after their guests had gone.

SENIOR OVERWHELMS SOPHS

The whistle sounded for half-time the score stood 21 to 9 in favor of the Seniors.

In the second half the Seniors continued to score, but the Sophs could not find the basket from the field. Their scoring was limited to three foul points, while '20 put in six field baskets and one free throw. All efforts of the Sophomores to stop the rush of their opponents were unsuccessful and with the final whistle, the Seniors were declared victors by a score of 34 to 12.

All the members of the Senior team played a good game, but Masson and Ferguson especially featured. Masson made eleven points and Ferguson eight. Springmann, although he made no field baskets himself, was largely responsible for the heavy scoring of his team-mates, because of his excellent passwork.

Lueck and Keenan played a good game for the Sophomores. The former scored six points while the latter scored five points.

sing, Miss Stubbs appealed to our patriotism with "O, Columbia the Gem of the Ocean," and ended the contest with "The Rose of No Man's Land."

Mr. Schiavone then called for a ballot and also presented Mr. Bentley and Mr. Neumer, as candidates suggested by the Athletic Council, for track manager.

While the votes were being counted several notices were read. Among these was one from the Board of Finance, which stated that students are asked to pay their subscriptions to the "Pedagogue" at the same time they pay the Student Tax.

Elizabeth Archibald, representing the Dramatic and Art Association, announced that Dr. David M. Robinson, a professor in Johns Hopkins University, will give a stereopticon lecture on "The Significance of Art in Asia Minor," Thursday, November 13, at eight o'clock. Dr. Robinson has studied in museums, not only in Asia Minor, but in nearly every other country, and his lecture should be very interesting. Students are admitted on the Student Tax Ticket, but tickets for outsiders are to be obtained from Ethel Huyck.

At the suggestion of the Athletic Council, the student body elected for baseball manager, Louis Hoffman; for hockey manager, Theodore Cassavant; for cheer leader, John McCluer, and for assistant cheer leader, Julius Fiscus.

Mr. Schiavone next spoke of meeting some strangers in the hall who insisted that they must appear in Student Assembly. At that moment the door opened and in tumbled eight of the jolliest negroes ever seen. After many flourishes and bows, as well as good-natured jests at each other, the sunny "Sons of Africa," lined up and sang two good old Southern songs: "Old Black Joe" and "Swanee River," in a manner creditable to professionals. It is generally understood that these entertainers form a part of the company of Fiske Jubilee Singers, who are to appear at Chancellor's Hall, November 17. Surely no one would miss anything like that, even if the proceeds were not to go toward organizing a college orchestra!

John McCluer, '21, attempted to rouse public sentiment in favor of a subscription dance for the benefit of the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. The difficulty was in deciding on a suitable date for the dance and as the Assembly period was already over nothing definite could be done.

The results of the College Song Leader Contest were in favor of Florence Stubbs and Elizabeth Archibald; therefore, it was necessary to cast another ballot, resulting in the election of Elizabeth Archibald as College Song Leader for the ensuing year.

Mr. Bentley was elected track manager.

Meeting Open to all College Students

George W. Franklin, chairman of publicity for the New York State Republican Committee, will talk to the Press Club and the members of English 25 Monday afternoon at 3.55 o'clock.

Mr. Franklin is one of the best newspaper men in New York State. He was for some years connected with the "Troy Record" and other Troy papers. He was later State political reporter for the "New York Herald." During the two administrations of former Governor Charles S. Whitman, Mr. Franklin was deputy superintendent of prisons, a position which he lost when Governor Smith took office. Since that time he has been director of publicity for the State Republican Committee, feeding all the Republican political news from headquarters to the public which it will swallow.

And that has been no simple task. It has required pioneer work, for heretofore there has been no regular director of publicity. The public, always a psychological problem, has demanded education as well as information along political lines. Women, the new element of the electorate, have needed political food very different from that dealt out to men readers. Mr. Franklin, however, has turned the trick. He is going to tell the Press Club how he did it. He will talk for a half hour, and what he has to say will be worth while.

Notice of the room will be posted. Watch the bulletin board.
