Revision Of Overtime Rules Seen Possible In Some Circumstances

ALBANY, May 27—A spokesman for the State Administration has indicated to the Civil Service Employees Assn. that the list of titles excluded from earning overtime credits under new State rules is not firm and could be revised after review.

The indication was in a letter from Charles H. Palmer, acting secretary to the Governor, in answer to recent demands by the CSEA that Governor Rockefeller take action in the overtime situation. The Governor has been on vacation for the past several weeks.

Palmer Acknowledges

Palmer's letter acknowledged that "it is conceivable that some of the employees in this category (excluded from the rules) are under sufficiently close supervision to maintain detailed time records and, thus, should be eligible to accrue overtime credits."

The Employees Association urged employees not satisfied with their status under the new rules to appeal through their departments and to notify the CSEA immediately of such actions, supplying the same information they sent to the department. A CSEA spokesman said reports on employees' appeals were a valuable instrument in mapping further

Hurd To Give Assurances

Long Range Job Control Must Not Interfere With Careers, CSEA Declares

(Special to The Leader)

ALBANY, May 27—The job freeze imposed several weeks ago by Governor Rockefeller on all State departments and agencies has been lifted from at least 30 of them, it was reported last week.

The suspension of the freeze followed approval by Budget Director, Dr. T. Norman Hurd of vacancy control plans submitted by each of the units. Although they may now resume hiring of needed new employees, they have been ordered to do so on a tight economy basis, the Civil Service Employees Association learned.

Earlier in the week, Association representatives, led by Joseph F. Feily, CSEA president, had met for several hours with Hurd and his deputy, Alton G. Marshall, to discuss the job freeze order and the effects of the long-range vacancy control plans.

Specific Requests

The budget director said he would answer specific CSEA requests for assurances that the vacancy program would not interfere with orderly promotion opportunities and would not create other hardships on State employees.

The CSEA representatives had told Dr. Hurd that members were concerned that the economy steps required of departments and agencies might cause employees to work out of title and perform work of a higher title, for which they would not be compensated, and might cause unfair work loads to be placed on employees in agencies where vacancies occur which are not filled.

Dangers of Understaffing

The Association also pointed out that, in agencies such as the

CSEA Acts To Protect Displaced MVD Aides

ALBANY, May 27—The State Civil Service Department has been urged to encourage all State agencies in the New York City area to absorb employees in the Motor Vehicle Department there who are displaced by a proposed centralization of motor vehicle activities.

Approximately 100 positions in the Motor Vehicles Department will be transferred from the New York area to Albany by December 1, 1963, because of the centralization move.

In a message to William J. Murray, administrative director of the Department of Civil Service, Joseph F. Feily, CSEA president, said, "as in previous instances, we urge all appropriate steps be taken by your department to encourage all State agencies in the New York City area to give the affected employees an opportunity to transfer to positions which become vacant in their agencies, for which these employees are qualified."

Enough Vacancies Exist

Feily said the Association "assumes that by next December 1, sufficient vacancies should occur in the New York City area to enable absorption of these employees so that they are not forced to transfer upstate."

He pointed out that such a

Wm. Scanlan, Jr.

William J. Scanlan, Jr., a sales representative for Ter Bush & Powell, agency for the accident and health plan of the Civil Service Employees Assn., died suddenly at his home in Upper Montclair, N.J., on May 18. The Leader learned last week.

Mr. Scanlan had been with Ter Bush & Powell since 1948, serving the Metropolitan New York area.

He is survived by his wife, Betty; four sons, and mother, Mrs. M. Scanlan.

Services and burial were in Montclair last week.

CSEA Members Now Touring Japan, Europe; Next Grand Tours Are July 15, Aug. 16

Two groups of Civil Service Employees Association members took wing this month when some vacationers left May 9 for a Grand Tour of Europe and others left last Friday for Japan and the Orient.

Next departure dates for tours will be July 15 and August 16 and will be one day longer—25 days—than the earlier tours.

All Set to Go

The July 15 date—which will definitely leave on schedule—offers a choice of two routes; one through the Scandinavian countries and England and the other, a typical grand tour of Europe. Price for the northern capitals tour (including jet fare, transportation abroad, all hotels, most meals, sightseeing, etc.) is $879.50. Price of the grand tour, which includes all of the above, is $803. The difference in price is due to the longer distances traveled on the northern route.

The grand tours leaving July 15 and August 16 have identical itineraries and prices—$803. They will go from Amsterdam, down through Germany and Switzerland, to Venice, Florence and Rome, on to the Riviera and up to Paris.

The northern capitals tour will go to Amsterdam, Copenhagen, Stockholm, Oslo (and will include a trip among the Norwegian fjords), to London and surrounding towns and to majestic Edinburgh, in Scotland.

Where To Apply

Both of the July 15 tours—grand tour and northern capitals—are now secure and remaining available space for either one may be had by writing to Samuel Emmett, 1060 East 28th St. Brooklyn 10, N.Y., or calling at CLOverdals 2-5241 in Brooklyn.

Those wishing to participate in the August 16 tour may apply by writing to Civil Service Travel Committee, P.O. Box 4131, Grand Central Station, New York 17, New York.

CREEDMOOR CEREMONY — Creedmoor State Hospital chapter, Civil Service Employees Assn., paid its own particular tribute to the hospital director, Dr. Harry A. LaBurt, right, when chapter president Joseph Bucaria presented him with the CSEA "Code of the Civil Servant." The presentation took place at a meeting honoring hospital employees. Bucaria, in presenting the plaque, declared: "The employees who do this type of dedicated work are inspired by the outstanding leadership of our director, Dr. LaBurt."

Are State Democrats Thinking Of JFK?

FEW men ever have the chance to become President of the United States, the acme of political ambition. But beneath this lofty post exists enough senatorial, gubernatorial, judicial, ambassadorial and other positions to gratify the ambitions of many men.

Despite the fact there is "plenty of everything for everybody," moderates in the Democratic party are again decrying new outbreaks of feuding in their ranks. Concern that this could hurt President Kennedy in New York State next year is again on the rise. The pros declare the

With races for senator, governor and mayor in the making; with party control of Federal patronage that provides judgeships, ambassador appointments and other high offices, the party's "elder statesmen" and its moderates find the recurrent outbreaks of personality and political clashes incomprehensible. Reported to be the most disturbing question they are asking is "Are these men out to help the Democratic Party by getting President Kennedy re-elected or are they only interested in their own personal ambitions?"

On the Scene

For many weeks now, bright, smooth Steve Smith, the President's brother-in-law, has been in New York as a good listener and a good reporter talking to all democrats about the State's political problems. He has spoken to county leaders, liberals, regulars, racial groups, civil service spokesmen, pro-Wagner people, National Committeeman Carmine DeSapio—everyone worth talking or listening to—ultimately he will make the decisions that all will heed.

His job is to get the most for the President and his decisions will be final. No one is unhappy about his presence—he counts!

There was much enthusiasm in evidence at President Kennedy's "birthday party" held in New York City last week where the President expressed his own gratification to many over the caliber of candidates the State party can put on the ballots next year and in the years to come. Naturally, the coming senate race of 1964 was the major topic among the small groups of county leaders caucusing with each other and the names of Mayor Robert Wagner, Congressman Otis Pike and Sam Stratton; District Attorney Frank S. Hogan of Manhattan, Supreme Court Justice Anthony DiGiovanna of Brooklyn, and Commerce Undersecretary Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., were mentioned as leading contenders for the senate spot on ticket.

Other Important Races

The senate race is not the only important one, however, and party leaders are reported to be projecting in terms of the future mayoralty and gubernatorial races. The names of Paul R. Screvane, president of the City Council; elder statesman James J. Farley; Comptroller Abe Beame; Surrogate S. Samuel DiFalco; Supreme Court Justice (and former Brooklyn Congressman) Victor Anfuso; U.S. District Attorney Robert Morgenthau and Queens County District Attorney Frank O'Connor as well as those named above must be kept in focus when viewing the New York State political scene.

As one longtime Democratic leader said, "There's enough for everybody. This feuding is silly—and it only hurts the President." Most party functionaries feel confident Kennedy will take New York State in 1964 but the President wants to "run scared" and Stephen Smith, his trouble shooter, will stay around watchfully to make sure that everything goes in the best interests of the President.

Inadequate Staffs Number One Problem Of Public Welfare

ITHACA, May 27 — George K. Wyman, State Social Welfare commissioner, reported here that inadequate public welfare staffs constitute the number one problem of public welfare in the United States.

"When a public welfare agency must operate with a staff that is inadequate in number and skill," he said, "the result is neglected caseloads, unchecked cases, recipients kept in dependency, and welfare grants out of line with actual needs."

New Campaign

He advocated a campaign to interest young people in public welfare careers.

"No business man would try to run a bank, a newspaper, a department store, or any other enterprise without the necessary, well-trained personnel. No public service that requires professional staff—as in public health, mental hygiene, hospital administration, law, public works—can function effectively without that kind of staff," he said, adding: "Neither can public welfare."

Civic Center Synagogue Service Set

On the second day of the holiday, memorial (yiskor) prayers will be observed during the day's services between the hours of 8 a.m. and 2 p.m.

The committee in charge of the memorial prayers services is headed by Jacob J. Rosenblum, president of the Synagogue, and David Drescher, executive vice-president.

Donohue New Pres. Of Troop 'K' Chap.

Troop "K" State Police chapter of the Civil Service Employees Assn. recently elected John H. Donohue as president for the coming year, at a chapter meeting in the State Armory at Peekskill.

Other officers elected were Harry Harkins, vice president; James Cooney, second vice president; Alfred Donahue, secretary; Al Latchford, treasurer; Fred Tudesco, delegate; and William Secor, alternate delegate.

Attending the meeting were Thomas J. Luposello and Thomas Brann, CSEA field representatives who answered questions concerning the chapter.

TA Teamwork Saves Injured Rider's Life

Fred Robinson, 62, a Transit Authority railroad clerk at the Montrose Avenue station of the 14th Street-Canarsie line, was hailed for having saved the life of a subway rider who had fallen to the tracks at the Montrose station.

This is the way the story unfolded according to the TA: At 7:55 p.m. Conductor Benjamin Goddard, Brooklyn, was approached by a group of anxious passengers from the rear car of his train as it was approaching the Grand Street station of the 14th Street-Canarsie line. The riders told of seeing another passenger running after the train as it was leaving the Montrose Ave. station and falling onto the tracks.

Stopped His Train

Conductor Goddard secured his train at the Grand Street stop, ran up the stairs to a change booth in the mezzanine and called the trainmaster's office to report the incident.

Trainmaster Bolton, on duty at the TA's 53rd Street control desk, immediately called Robinson at Montrose Ave. and asked him to investigate the report. Robinson investigated and found a male passenger, apparently unconscious lying across one of the running rails.

was due momentarily, Robinson moved into action. He gathered a roll of newspaper, set it afire, and threw the flaming bundle onto the tracks between the fallen passenger and the oncoming train. He then ran to the end of the platform, in the direction of the oncoming train, descended to the tracks, moving into the tunnel as far as possible, to try to signal the train in enough time for it to be stopped ahead of the unconscious passenger.

It was the fired newspaper that proved to be the key to this life-saving attempt. Motorman F. Maita, operator of the arriving train, later stated that he first saw the fire on the tracks which alerted him. He began to apply his brakes when he observed Robinson frantically signalling him to stop. Mr. Maita applied the emergency brakes, bringing his train to a halt 60 feet (about the length of a subway car) from the fallen passenger.

The passenger, John Calase, 41 years of age, of 1278 Greene Ave., Brooklyn, was removed to Greenpoint Hospital by an ambulance where he was treated for cuts and bruises and released.

Aides' Careers, Promotions Must Be Protected—CSEA

Departments of Correction and Mental Hygiene and the Division of State Police, understaffing resulting from vacancy control could jeopardize the safety of employees and those under their charge. The CSEA group said they were certain that future efficiency in State service could not be achieved if well qualified employees could not be recruited with the understanding that there were career opportunities available through orderly promotion, reasonable work loads, etc.

Saving Money

It was reported that in lifting the job freeze, Dr. Hurd instructed the 30 departments and agencies to save $5,700,000 this year through personnel cuts and a slower rate of hiring.

According to reports, the vacancy control plans approved by the budget director included such steps as delaying appointments, intensive scrutiny to determine whether a post should be filled, arranging priorities of jobs, operating with a reduced force and planning to operate with only a specified percentage of work force.

None of the plans reportedly call for release of present employees.

Unfrozen

Here are the departments and agencies from which the freeze has been lifted. Including their annual payroll appropriation and the amount hoped to be realized through implementation of their vacancy control plans:

Public Works, $74,400,000—$1,800,000; Mental Hygiene, $207,811,000—$1 million; Tax and Finance, $27,460,000—$300,000; Education, $14,397,000—$100,000; Workman's Compensation, $9,620,000—no cut; Law, $7,356,429—$38,000; Insurance, $4,812,000—$50,000; Agriculture and Markets, $4,600,000—$50,000; Veterans Affairs, $1,374,000—$15,000; Commission of Investigation, $521,000—$31,900.

Rochester CSEA Hears Castle; Dance Is Held

ROCHESTER, May 27—Raymond Castle of Syracuse, a State CSEA vice president, was the principal speaker at the recent annual installation of officers and dinner dance of Rochester chapter at the Hotel Manger.

New officers are Raymond Welch, State Department of Taxation and Finance, president; Ralph C. Neubauer, State Insurance Fund, first vice president; Anthony Bonacchi, Division of Employment, second vice president; Eleanor Cohen, Division of Field Audit in Department of Labor, secretary, and Harold Franke, employment investigative unit, treasurer. Samuel Grossfield, former president, is delegate at large.

Dick Mullaney's Orchestra played for the dance, which later was attended by many State CSEA officers and other guests attending the annual dinner meeting of Rochester State Hospital chapter.

HAPPY ANNIVERSARY — Claude E. Rowell, center, State Civil Service Employees Assn., fifth vice president and delegate of Rochester State Hospital chapter, presents a gift to State CSEA Treasurer Theodore Wenzel and Mrs. Wenzel, at left, on their wedding anniversary. Similar gift was given State CSEA Third Vice President Vernon A. Tapper and Mrs. Tapper, at right, to commemorate wedding date. Occasion was annual dinner dance and installation of officers of the chapter in Towne House Motor Inn, Rochester. Wenzels and Tappers also received crystal plates embossed with sterling silver design.

Wedding Bells Recalled At Rochester State Dinner

(Special to The Leader)

ROCHESTER, May 27—New officers of Rochester State Hospital chapter, Civil Service Employees Assn., were recently installed at the annual dinner dance in the Towne House Motor Inn. The Inn also was the site of the interim meeting of the Western Conference, CSEA.

By the long arm of coincidence, it was also the occasion for two wedding anniversaries—those of CSEA Treasurer Ted Wenzl, and Mrs. Wenzl, and CSEA Third Vice President Vernon A. Tapper, and Mrs. Tapper.

Tapper ranked as elder statesman by celebrating his 41st year of marriage. The Wenzls marked number 28 and their daughter, Paula, was at the table when the surprise celebration, arranged by the chapter under the direction of Claude E. Rowell, took place.

By means of some ingenious investigation, Rowell astounded the celebrants and delighted the audience by reporting on some first happenings of the married days of the Tappers and Wenzls. Ted Wenzl (referred to by mistake at one point as Ted Weems, the late bandleader) was given a toy auto in remembrance of the yellow roadster with a rumble seat he owned at the time of his marriage. The Tappers were reminded of their train ride from Syracuse to New York following the wedding.

A cake and gifts followed the presentation.

CSEA President Joseph Feily addressed the 110 dinner guests. He reviewed the gains and problems resulting from the 1963 legislative session, explained the nature of the Governor's "freeze" on jobs and its implications and exhorted CSEA members to continue their work at the local level.

Chapter Installation

Robert J. Benedict of Rochester, a member of the Board of Visitors of the Rochester State Hospital, installed the new officers; William Rossiter, president; Mrs. Ellen Stillhard, first vice president; Mrs. Helen Heagney, second vice president; Bruce Corby, treasurer; Jon Richardson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Pearl Miles, recording secretary, and Claude Rowell, State CSEA fifth vice president, delegate.

Paul Kyer, editor of The Leader, was toastmaster.

Conference Elects

Officers-elect of the Western Conference, who will be installed at Batavia June 29, are George DeLong, president; John Hennessey, first vice president; Mrs. Melba Blinn, second vice president; Kenyon Tilcen, treasurer, and Virginia Halbert, secretary.

Central Islip Elects Purtell

Also Elected

Other officers elected with Purtell were Henry Pearsall, first vice president; Larry Doyle, second vice president; Frank Catalano, treasurer; Mrs. Bertha Pearson, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Benjamin Millitelli, recording secretary. Pension Answers

Last week, the Congress approved an appropriation of $30,000,000 which will allow the payment of increases in pensions to some 600,000 federal government pensioners.

The first checks reflecting the increase will be mailed to retirees during June and will include the arrears which could not be paid because of the lateness of the appropriation.

Under Public Law 87-793, the increased pension would have been paid in January, 1963. However, an extra June check, which is separate from the regular monthly check, will include only the five percent underpayment for the months of January through May. The regular July 1 check will show the amount the retiree will receive through this increase.

The Bureau of Retirement and Insurance of the U.S. Civil Service Commission has answered the most frequently asked questions on the annuity system for federal retirees. As a service to its many readers from the Federal Service, The Leader is reprinting these answers.

INITIAL ANNUITY ADJUSTMENTS

Annuities which commenced before January 2, 1963
What adjustment of annuities will be made?

Annuities which commenced before January 2, 1963, will be increased by 5 per cent and rounded to the nearest dollar. For example, the annuity of a person now receiving $165 a month will be increased by 5 per cent and rounded to the nearest dollar so that he will receive $173 a month. There are a few exceptions which will affect only a few annuitants; these exceptions are explained in other questions.

Does this 5 per cent increase apply to survivor annuities?

Yes. It applies to all survivor annuities including those of widows, widowers and children.

When does the 5 per cent increase become effective?
January 1, 1963.

When will the increase be paid?

During the month of June, annuitants will receive a supplemental check representing the accumulated amount of the increase for the months of January, February, March, April, and May. The regular July 1, 1963 check, which pays annuity for the month of June will be the first regular check at the increased rate. Thereafter, monthly checks will be at the new increased rate.

I retired shortly before January 2, 1963, but my retirement claim was not approved by the Civil Service Commission—and I did not receive my first annuity check—until February. Will my annuity be increased by 5 per cent?

If the annuity commenced before January 2, 1963, that is, if it began to accrue before that date, the 5 per cent applies even though the application for annuity was made and the first check was mailed on a later date.

If my monthly check now includes additional annuity purchased by voluntary contributions, will the 5 per cent increase apply to this additional annuity?

No. The 5 per cent increase applies only to regular annuity, not to additional annuity purchased by voluntary contributions.

In 1952 and 1955, when similar annuity increases were granted, I did not get the full increase because my annuity was affected by the 1952 ceiling of $180 a month and the 1955 ceiling of $342 a month. What effect do these ceilings have on the new 5 per cent increases?

The law which grants the new 5 per cent increase also removes these ceilings beginning January 1, 1963. As of January 1, 1963, annuities affected by one or both ceilings will be recomputed and fixed at the amount they would have been if there had never been any ceilings. Then, the recompu-ted annuity will be increased by 5 per cent, the same as other annuities. The recomputed rate of annuity including the 5 per cent increase will be payable from and after January 1, 1963.

I waived a part of my annuity in order to stay within certain income limits. Will I get the 5 per cent increase?

No. You will not get any part of the increase unless you write to the Civil Service Commission to request it.

My annuity is less than $10 a month. Will the 5 per cent increase raise my monthly rate?
No monthly annuities, after being increased, must be rounded to the nearest dollar. Since 5 per cent of any annuity under $10 is less than 50c, the monthly annuity remains the same.

Annuities Commencing Between January 2, 1963 and December 31, 1966

Will there be any adjustment in annuities which commence after January 1, 1963?

Yes. The annuity of each retired employee and survivor of a deceased employee which commences between January 2, 1963, and December 31, 1966 (both dates inclusive), is increased according to the following schedule: Annuities which commence between January 2 and December 31, 1963, are increased from the commencing date by 4 per cent; January and December 31, 1964, 3 per cent; January 1 and December 31, 1965, 2 per cent; January 1 and December 31, 1966, 1 per cent.

Why does the percentage of increase become smaller each year?

The smaller percentages after January 1, 1963, are to allow for the higher 5-year average salaries—and annuities—resulting from the salary increases which began in October 1962.

Will these increases affect annuitants' survivors?

Yes. Whatever percentage (5, 4, 3, 2, or 1 per cent) was based on increasing the annuity of an employee who retired on or before December 31, 1966, will also be applied to the regular amount of his designated survivor's annuity from the date the survivor's annuity commences.

Effect of Health Benefits Deductions or Contributions on Increases

I am enrolled in a health benefits plan. Deductions are taken out of my monthly annuity. Will these deductions be included as part of the annuity which is increased?

Yes. The total regular annuity is increased and rounded to the nearest dollar. This new rate is then reduced by the amount of the health benefits deduction.

I retired before July 1, 1960, and a Government contribution for a qualified private health plan is added to my monthly check. Will this added Government contribution be included as part of the annuity which is increased?

No. The Government private health plan contribution of $3 a month for a self-only enrollment or $6 a month for a family enrollment which is paid to some annuitants who retired before July 1, 1960, is not part of the annuity. The total regular annuity is increased and rounded to the nearest dollar. The Government contribution is then added to the new rate. However, effective July 1, 1963, the Government private health plan contribution is being increased from $3 to $3.50 for a self-only enrollment and from $6 to $7 for a family enrollment. Therefore, the regular July 1, 1963, annuity check will be for a new amount which includes, for the first time, not only the 5 per cent annuity increase but also the increased Government private health plan contribution.

I retired before July 1, 1960, and elected to join the Uniform Plan. How will this affect my regular monthly annuity checks?

Premium rates for the Uniform Plan are being increased effective July 1, 1963. The Government is increasing its contribution to an annuitant who is enrolled in the Uniform Plan and the annuitant's share of the premium, which is deducted from his annuity check, is also being increased. Therefore, the regular July 1, 1963, annuity check will be for a new amount which reflects, for the first time, not only the 5 per cent annuity increase but also the higher deduction for the Uniform Plan.

I retired after July 1, 1960, and am enrolled in one of the health benefit plans approved by the Civil Service Commission. A deduction is made from my monthly check. Will this deduction be increased?

No. Although deductions for the Uniform Plan will be increased, there will be no increase in deductions for other health plans on July 1, 1963. If and when deductions for other health plans are increased, enrolled annuitants will be notified.

FUTURE COST-OF-LIVING ANNUITY ADJUSTMENTS

What are future cost-of-living adjustments?

Until now, the Congress has had to pass a law to increase annuities whenever they fell seriously behind the cost of living. From now on, annuities will be automatically increased to keep up with increases in the cost of living. These automatic cost-of-living increases will stabilize the purchasing power of annuities and remove the financial uncertainties of living on a fixed income for present and future annuitants.

What standard is used in deciding when a cost-of-living annuity increase is necessary?

The nationwide cost of living, as reflected by the Consumer Price Index which is published monthly by the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the U.S. Department of Labor.

Cooper's Our Boy

MAJOR L. Gordon Cooper is a hero in every sense of the word. His performance in orbiting around the earth not only aroused enthusiasm but also created awe at the spectacle of man against space. He came home as the true conquering hero.

Civil servants can take pride in Cooper's accomplishment in terms of his being a fellow American. They can also take pride that the Major and the team behind him were fellow workers in the public service. Gordon Cooper did not take his historic flight into outer space for money; he could command a far greater salary as a test pilot for private industry. He did it in the spirit of the American love of adventure, of service and of loyalty to his country.

In saluting Major Cooper's accomplishment, every public employee is entitled to think "That's our boy!"

Reader Seeks Action On Pension Injustice

Editor, The Leader:

In 1962, the Retirement System opened applications to members who desired to change their rate of contributions to the 1/100 Plan to give a retiree a greater pension allowance. The last day to file applications was set as June 30, 1962.

For various reasons many filed their applications subsequent to June 30, 1962. Some hesitated to file because they believed the amount to be paid back would be too much of a drain on their finances, others filed late because the change over was not publicized properly to inform the employees of its cost and benefits.

At the last session of the State Legislature a bill, introduced by State Senator John J. Marchi (Bill 3676—Intro. 3413) and signed by the Governor, did not reopen applications but extended the filing period to August 31, 1962 to benefit a certain few who filed late.

Many who could have filed within the period covered by the new bill did not do so under the impression and understanding that same would be invalid and without legality. The present bill penalizes those who advisedly did not engage in what was then an empty, meaningless gesture.

The bill as passed in the last session is unjust, arbitrary, capricious and promoted to benefit a certain few who have filed late; many employees in my office whose applications were received by the Retirement System in September 1962 and many who have not filed at all are penalized by not receiving the same privilege as those who filed two months late (period between June 30th and August 31st.)

As a constant reader of your paper for the last 25 years, I am appealing to you for your co-operation in what manner you can to see what could be done to rectify this injustice of this bill.

Your Public Relations IQ

By LEO J. MARGOLIN

(Mr. Margolin is Adjunct Professor of Public Relations in the New York University School of Public Administration and is Vice President, Public Relations, of A. J. Armstrong Co., Inc.)

The views expressed in this column are those of the writer and do not necessarily constitute the views of this newspaper.

Little Things

"LITTLE THINGS" can muddy up a government agency's good public relations with devastating speed. At the same time it can make the job of winning good public relations that much harder.

ALMOST ALL of these "little things" happen among lower echelon staff members. More often than not, these "little things" are thoughtless omissions. Example: putting a letter carelessly through the postage metering machine, thus making it a "postage due" letter at the receiving end.

SOMETIMES THE "little things" are careless commissions. Example: mumbling an answer over the telephone, thus causing a serious misunderstanding at the other end of the wire.

THESE "LITTLE things" are so easy to avoid. All that is necessary is a tiny bit of thought and patience.

THE COST IN dollars and cents for this minimal thought and patience is zero. But the dollars and cents cost on the final result of a little omission or commission could reach into the thousands of dollars. Example: the mumbled request for a quantity of asphalt for a highway repair results in too little delivered, and 25 men are idled for a day and a repair delayed 24 hours.

ALL THIS discussion of "little things" may seem to add up to "small potatoes." Actually, it adds up to a king-size problem in many government agencies.

TAKE THE CASE of the nice lady who stopped into a government agency's office to extend thanks for an unusually informative, helpful and polite letter. Before she could explain the purpose of her visit, the receptionist growled: "Sid-down, n'wait yer turn!"

OR THE CASE of some employees of a government department who thought the attorney who visited their offices regularly was "a funny little man." On one visit they hid the "funny little man's" hat. Not many years later, "the funny little man" became mayor of that city.

FOR AS LONG as "the funny little man" was mayor, that department was the last to be considered for a budget increase, which it usually didn't get.

THE RESULT WAS not much different in the case of the government organization which received a phone call from a prominent state legislator. The phone operator was so busy yakking with her friends she left the legislator "hanging." The result was no extra budget badly needed by the agency.

UNFORTUNATELY, government agencies are most vulnerable to the disasters which sometimes result from the "little things." Everyone feels they have a vested interest in any government organization. So when someone in government slips on a "little thing," the resulting fireworks are always louder.

IT'S DIFFICULT to set up a list of "do's" and "don'ts" to prevent the "little things" from happening. The best method of attacking the problem is this:

MAKE A LIST of the "little things" which could happen in your particular job. Then do everything within your power to avoid them like a plague. Thus, you will be making an important contribution to your own job efficiency and career, as well as to your agency's overall good public relations.

IN 1786, LIONEL LUKEIN INVENTED THE LIFE-BOAT, a craft especially designed to save lives in case of shipwreck. It protected its passengers through its buoyancy, stability and power to right itself when capsized. Today, it is required equipment on all seagoing vessels.

Pioneers in Protection

Just as Luken's invention was the first real safeguard for the shipwrecked mariner . . . so the STATEWIDE PLAN was the first program of protection against the costs of hospital, surgical-medical and major medical care for the employees of the State of New York.

This three-part program — Blue Cross, Blue Shield and Major Medical — offers most State employees, active or retired, the most liberal benefits at the lowest possible cost. That's why more than 425,000 State employees and employees of many local subdivisions of New York State and their dependents are now subscribers.

If you are not a subscriber and would like all the facts on the STATEWIDE PLAN, see your payroll or personnel officer.

Job Eligibles Get Extra Day To Answer Telegram Canvass Or Appointment

ALBANY, May 27—The Civil Service Employees Association has been informed that the State Civil Service Law has been amended to allow job eligibles an additional day to answer a canvass or appointment offer when made by telegram.

The amendment allows a period of two days for replies to telegram canvasses instead of one day as set forth in the previous rule. The change, in paragraph 2 of Rule 20, was contained in a resolution of the State Civil Service Commission which was signed by Governor Rockefeller and filed with the Department of State.

Amended Rule

The amended rule states that "when an eligible is canvassed for or is offered appointment in writing, and fails to state his willingness to accept such appointment within five business days after the mailing of such canvass or offer, or before the end of the second succeeding business day if such canvass or offer is sent to him by telegram, he may be considered as ineligible for purposes of making selection for such particular appointment."

Revision of the rule followed a CSEA request made last year to the Department of Civil Service asking for elimination or improvement of the "canvass by telegram" section of the code.

In stating the Association's position, CSEA President Joseph F. Feily said the future of an employee "should not be decided by the requirements of response to a telegram canvass by the end of the next succeeding business day." He cited instances where the canvass rule led to complaints, especially when it was known that certain eligibles were indisposed or temporarily unavailable.

Taking Office

ALBANY, May 27—Seymour Eskow of Utica will take office as president of the Rockland Community College Sept. 1, it was announced by the State University.

When you give this pen, you give a jewel...literally! It has diamond dust in the tip. The ball is textured to hold the paper better, and rides in a stainless socket, so the pen won't "stutter" even after long usage. Very long-winded; should write 80,000 words between refills. Makes sense—perhaps. But one thing is sure, electricity is "cheaper by the dozen." The more you use, the less it costs per kilowatt-hour. And that's important, because most families are using twice as much electricity as they did only 15 years ago. Yet, because of Con Edison's step-down rates, double the use doesn't mean double the bill. Over the years, Con Edison has been able to keep electricity one of the big bargains in your household budget.

ALBANY, May 27—Ralph W. Jackson Sr. of Buffalo has been named an assistant attorney general and assigned to the Department of Law's Litigation and Claims Bureau.

Pass your copy of the Leader To a Non-Member

Office of Counsel and Secretary: Felix Infausto.

Division for Medical Services: (appointment to be announced) Staff services that have been reorganized include:

Office of Administration and Fiscal Management: James J. Sullivan, administrative officer, former director of personnel.

Office of Medical Economics: administrator, Dr. David M. Schneider.

Office of Social Research: Herbert D. Bardack, officer in charge.

Office of Professional Training and Development: (appointment to be announced).

All Are Career Men

All deputy commissioners involved in the reorganization are career staff members, having held competitive civil service posts in the department for many years.

Commissioner Wyman said the Budget staff "have done a painstaking, exhaustive job, studying activities at first hand throughout the State. They have also given consideration to the reports of the Temporary State Commission on Coordination of State Activities and the Moreland Commission on Welfare.

"This is one phase in the Department's reorganization, but a major one. When the reorganization lines are straightened out, we will have a better means of judging the adequacy of staff in the various smaller units of the department. These and other efforts to achieve our potentials for efficiency and economy—and be in a position to help local welfare departments do so—will be taken in the immediate future. This reorganization will make it possible to carry out, more effectively, recommendations of both the Moreland Commission on Welfare and Temporary State Commission on Coordination of State Activities."

University Construction Fund Aides' Benefits To Improve

ALBANY, May 27—The Civil Service Employees Association has been assured that the recently created State University Construction Fund plans to implement its present personnel practices with a program that would make available to its employees many of the provisions and benefits guaranteed to state employees under the Civil Service Law.

The Construction Fund is a government agency organized in 1962 as a public benefit corporation whose officers and employees are not subject to the Civil Service Law, by ruling of the attorney general.

Earlier this year, Joseph F. Feily, CSEA, president, wrote to officials of the Construction Fund expressing the Association's view that "the Civil Service Merit System should apply to all public agencies." He asked the Construction Fund for confirmation that its compensation will follow general State practice and that its positional and jurisdictional classification practices would be applied as in other state agencies.

Members Complained

Feily said that complaints were received from members who feel that they are fully qualified for and should have been given the opportunity to promote to positions in the State University Correction Fund.

In reply, David W. Traub, general manager of the Fund, said his agency had hired a substantial number of employees from other State agencies. He said "such employees voluntarily resigned their former positions to accept employment by the Fund." He said "all individuals employed by the Fund were hired on the basis of their proved training and move would not be economically possible for many employees in low salary positions. He noted that the employees could be placed on preferred eligible lists which would be used in preference to open competitive and promotional eligible lists to fill vacancies which occur, but said "it would be much more economical and humane for all the State agencies in New York City to make available to these employees, on a transfer basis, positions which become vacant."

In addition to his chapter activities, Mr. Beale was active in the Boy Scouts, holding a national office and held memberships in the American Legion and the Fulton Rotary Club.

Feily, Hungerford Major Speakers At Watertown's Annual Dinner Meeting

(From Leader Correspondent)

WATERTOWN, May 27—Joseph F. Feily, Civil Service Employees Association president, said here recently that if people want State services "they've got to expect to pay for them."

The State CSEA president, speaking on a program with I. S. Hungerford, administrative director of the State Retirement System, told more than 200 members and guests attending the 15th annual Jefferson chapter banquet that he decried the Albany legislative fight "over taxes and fees."

He predicted the tax structure would remain a top problem for the Legislature next year.

Feily also forecast that the ban on overtime pay will be resolved "probably on a piecemeal basis."

Vetoed Decried

The State president decried veto of "important" bills by the governor following their passage by the legislature. He was particularly critical of the so-called "tenure" measure which Gov. Rockefeller charged had been "badly drawn." The bill proposed tenure for non-competitive civil service employees after five years of service.

"The bill was in fact one of the best drawn we have ever had before the legislature," Feily said.

Feily heaped praise upon Assemblyman Orin S. Wilcox, chairman of the Assembly civil service committee, for his continuing role in passing beneficial legislation in Albany. Assemblyman Wilcox attended the meeting as guest of the county CSEA.

55-Year Plan Stressed

Hungerford stressed the importance of retirement system members enrolling in the 55-year retirement plan.

"Not that many people retire at 55, but on the average the program means about 16 percent more retirement benefits for those retiring at 60 or later," Hungerford said.

"It is unfortunate that only 55 percent of the system members are in the 55-year retirement program," he said.

"We're doing all we can to encourage it but it is up to your association and to individuals to convince others they should take advantage of the benefit."

Hungerford said that 92 percent of the total system membership is under the five percent extra take home pay program of the State.

"Most cities and counties have taken advantage of it," he said. "It is beneficial both to the employee and the community tax-wise."

Retired Members Honored

During the meeting, attended by more than 200, retired members of the chapter were publicly honored. Past presidents took part in a birthday cake-lighting ceremony and Mrs. Fannie W. Smith, chapter president, briefly related the 15-year history of the civil service organization.

Harvey A. Fields, a past president, presided over the program as toastmaster. Among the guests at the banquet, one of the largest attended in chapter history, were: Raymond Castle, Syracuse, second vice president of the State association; Vernon Tapper, Syracuse, third vice president; G. Ambrose Donnelly, Utica, field representative; Assemblyman Wilcox, and S. Sam Borelly, Utica, central workshop president.

Three Receive Merit Awards From Thruway

ALBANY, May 27 — The State Thruway Authority has awarded cash prizes to three of its maintenance crew for suggesting better ways of keeping the State's super-highways in tip-top shape.

R. Burdell Bixby, chairman, announced the merit awards had been given to:

Edwin J. Wagner of Durhamville, a motor equipment repairman with the Verona Division; David Feuerstein of Lancaster, and Gordon Pegler of Buffalo, both with the Buffalo bridge crew.

Wagner received $200 in cash for suggesting a bib be placed on snow plow blades to deflect flying snow. The manufacturer of the plows liked the idea so well he is incorporating it.

Feuerstein and Pegler received $100 each for developing an easier way to place stone facing on slopes under Thruway bridges.

Southern Conference Asks Continued Fight On Overtime Exemptions

Delegates to the recent spring meeting of the Southern Conference of the Civil Service Employees Association voted to continue protests against new State overtime rules through CSEA action and, possibly, the courts.

They also voted action, in the form of resolutions, to continue the fight to give job protection for non-competitive employees who have five years continuous service with the State.

Retirement Debate

A major discussion took place over the need to cover employees in the Retirement System who die before age 55 and whose families lose all benefits because the employee's illness lasted too long. An example cited was the case of a young employee who contacted a serious disease, used up his sick leave and leaves of absence and was completely off payroll status when he died. His family received nothing from the Retirement System. The example stirred considerable debate and resulted in a resolution to seek means of helping persons in such circumstances by amendments to the Retirement System.

The Conference also went on record to continue aiding institutional painters against any downgrading in title.

Major speaker for the evening was Harry W. Albright, Jr., CSEA counsel, who gave a report on the recent legislative session.

A plea for wider expression of opinion through the "Letters To the Editor" was made by Leader editor, Paul Kyer. He also congratulated the delegates for their wide use of the Leader correspondent for the Conference area.

Election Date Set

Other guests in attendance were Stanley Mailman, CSEA regional attorney; Joe Deasy, Jr., city editor of The Leader; Ted Wenzl, CSEA treasurer; Tom Brann and Tom Luosello, CSEA field representatives.

William Hoffman, Conference president, announced that the annual meeting and election of officers would take place June 22 at Poughkeepsie.

Overtime Revision

appeal action by the Association itself.

Palmer also said he had been advised by Dr. T. Norman Hurd, Budget Director, that his Division "does not plan to institute a new appeals procedure because the present procedure appears to be adequate." The CSEA had urged the Governor to create an appeals procedure which would bypass departmental appeal and would be conducted directly by the Division of the Budget.

40-Hr. Week Assured

Palmer, who is acting secretary during the absence of William J. Ronan, said Dr. Hurd feels that "the revised rules adequately reflect the State policy of maintaining the maximum 40-hour work week as required by law." This statement was the result of a CSEA request for assurance to all employees of the State's intention to maintain the 40-hour week, except in emergencies.

25-Year Awards Given Westchester Employees

WHITE PLAINS, May 27—County Executive Edwin G. Michaelian honored County employees who have served 25 years or more at a ceremony held recently in Room 104, County Office Building. The County Executive presented the employees with 25 year pins.

The 23 honorees, of whom five have already retired from County Service included:

Robert Butler and Max Garfinkel of the Bureau of Purchase and Supplies; William Van Wart, Board of Elections; Leonard Desio of Public Works; Barbara Golecki of the Department of Laboratories and Research; and Edna Hulme and Pasqua Prisciantelli of the Division of Family and Child Welfare.

Also, from Grasslands: Matilda Bogle, James Sherman, Florence Franke, Dr. Harold Bishop and Gordo Willson.

Others Honored

Also, from the Department of Law, Umberto D'Allessandro; from the Department of Parks, Recreation and Conservation: John F. Durniak, John Anderek, Charles J. Marasco, Frank Camp, William Trask, Michael Lucas, Charles Pivarnik and John Soltis; and from the Family Court, Louis Mazzaferro.

Walter M. Bogle, formerly with the Division of Facilities and Services and now retired, received a special award.
