CSEA County Delegates Hold Own Session; Urge Strong New Attacks On Problems

By PAUL KYER

SARATOGA SPRINGS—A reassessment of the present methods for using fiscal and personnel resources of the Civil Service Employees Assn. in order to bring about stronger and more vigorous approaches to solving the innumerable problems now faced by the Employees Assn. was urged last week in the first delegates session held for CSEA local government representatives only.

The separate meeting for CSEA county delegates was called because recent delegates' meetings have been focused on the vital efforts of the parent organization to force the State Administration back to the bargaining table in order to gain new wage and retirement benefits for State workers before the Legislature adjourns. (At Leader press time, these negotiations were still underway.

S. Samuel Borelly, chairman of the CSEA County Executive Committee said "We are all in the same organization and the needs of State workers have properly demanded priority in the attention of delegates attending the series of meetings, that have had to be called during the past few months.

"A meeting was needed, however, to dispose of the many problems of local government

Nassau Chap. Suspends Plainview-OldBethpage Unit Officers, Charter

MINEOLA—Nassau chapter, Civil Service Employees Assn., announced last week that its board of directors had suspended all officers of the Plainview-Old Bethpage unit of the chapter for alleged collusion between certain officers of the unit and a rival union while the CSEA is in the middle of negotiations for the unit.

The chapter said it was also suspending the unit's charter. "We cannot tolerate the use, by a few individuals, of the fate of hard-working unit members for any personal or political gain," declared Irving Flaumenbaum, chapter president. Flaumenbaum said that the full force of the 18,000-member chapter, with the backing of the 175,000-member parent association was pressing a strong fight for new wage and fringe benefits for all custodial, clerical and cafeteria employees in the Plainview-Old Bethpage unit.

Flaumenbaum said that members of the unit could be assured that their interests will continually be protected during this period by the appointment of three members of the Board of Directors to conduct the unit's affairs. The three, all of whom are school district employees, are Muriel Donohue, Frank Fasano and Edward Perrott. A letter explaining the board's move to protect the unit's membership will be sent shortly to each individual employee in the Plainview-Old Bethpage School District.

Rockefeller The Villain?

City Confusion Is Secret Tactic In Lindsay's Race

MUNICIPAL confusion is the secret tactic in Mayor John V. Lindsay's strategy for victory in his second term City Hall bid. In basic outline, this strategy calls for three essential maneuvers. All of them

BULLETIN

At Leader press time, the Civil Service Employees Assn. reported "no progress" in talks with the Rockefeller Administration.

The delegates meeting, scheduled for Monday, March 24, was to be held as planned.

Retirement-Insurance State Bill Introduced

ALBANY—State Sen. Joseph Flynn has introduced into the Legislature a bill which would allow State employees who terminate their services to the State and defer receipt of their retirement allowances to continue coverage under the State's health insurance plan, bearing the full cost of the plan themselves, but at the lower group rate.

The bill reads, in part: "An employee whose service terminates and who is entitled to a vested retirement allowance may continue to participate in the (health) plan; such condition shall include a requirement that such person pay the full cost of such coverage following termination of his employment and prior to commencement of the payment of his retirement allowance, unless such person becomes currently entitled to, but defers receipt of, a retirement allowance or pension from a retirement or pension plan or system administered and operated by the State of New York, or a civil division thereof, including the New York State Teachers' Retirement System and the optional retirement programs established . . ."

The bill would amend the present Civil Service Law.

DON'T REPEAT THIS!

aimed at Governor Rockefeller's announced budget program.

First, City Hall will make such severe cuts in City services as to jeopardize the City's viability. The political objective is to create such apprehension over the City's future so as to make tension in the schools, strikes by public employees and other municipal ills ascribed to the Lindsay administration, appear like inconsequential warts on the body of a City faced with amputation of vital municipal services.

Second, Lindsay strategists plan to divert voter antagonism and frustration towards Albany, by saddling Governor Rockefeller and the State Legislature with responsibility for chaos in the City, as a consequence of their cut-backs in State financial aid for the City of New York.

Third, these strategists envision Lindsay as a knight in shining armor, leading a crusade against Albany, with insistent demands upon the Governor to call a special session of the Legislature to provide the City with the financial assistance it needs. Such a crusade, these strategists believe, will unit behind Lindsay a City now torn by dissension, doubt, and suspicion.

No Pipe Dream

This is neither a pipe dream, nor an exercise in mind reading. This is the only rational conclusion that can be drawn from emerging City Hall policies shaped by Lindsay's need for victory in the June Republican primary and in the November general election. So sweeping in scope is this strategy, that it threatens to engulf and drown his potential legislative rivals in the Republican primary, Senator John Marchi and Assemblyman Vito Battista.

Notices have already gone out to all the City's schools to terminate after-school recreation centers and adult education courses on March 31. These notices are clearly a reaction to Governor Rockefeller's proposed cut-back in State education aid that would apply in April, May and June, the last remaining months of the school year.

For the City University, Governor Rockefeller cut its budget request by 18 percent. Mayor Lindsay countered with an additional cutback of 35 percent. As a result, the City University will be obliged to deny admission to a freshman class in the Fall semester and to close three senior colleges.

Job Freeze Effect

The other day, the Lindsay administration announced a freeze on the employment of new hospital personnel. As a result, Harlem Hospital was closing its doors as we were going to press and the remainder of the municipal hospital system can collapse like a house of cards.

Budget cuts in State Welfare assistance coupled with those comparatively planned by City Hall, can throw a minimum of 200,000 welfare recipients off the welfare rolls. Resulting demonstrations at welfare centers may make Detroit and Newark seem like July Fourth celebrations in contrast.

This is the pattern of possibilities in the days and weeks ahead. Libraries and museums may close. Our streets may get dirtier. Housing inspection, such as it is, will deteriorate even further. The school system may suffer total collapse from fiscal starvation. With the budget so tight, schools might never open in September because teachers would strike not on decentralization, but on economic issues. In the unfolding Lindsay "plot", only police and fire services may be spared.

The Villain

Governor Rockefeller graduated with his presence Lindsay's ceremonial announcement of his candidacy at Gracie Mansion. Nonetheless, the Governor is destined to become the prime villain in Lindsay's strategy for victory. Thus are strange enmities made in politics.

Senate Minority Leader Joseph Zaretzki and Assembly Minority Leader Stanley Steingut, who dug in, in a last ditch effort to resist Rockefeller budget slashing will have no alternative but to join Lindsay in demands for a special session of the Legislature. Thus are strange bed-fellows made in politics. And this notwithstanding November.

Residents of the City's ghetto and conservative home owners, Queens, special pleaders, watchdog organizations, industry and labor, are all expected to bury their differences and rally behind Lindsay against the common enemy in Albany to save the City from destruction.

The people of the City of New York can look to grim and desperate days in the weeks ahead as both the pawn and the prize in Lindsay's strategy for victory.

And what can Governor Rockefeller say or do about all this? Republican or Democrat, he no longer makes any difference when a candidate is determined to win.

Pay Reductions Could Cause Strike, CSEA Rep. Forecasts Answering Onondaga Threat

SYRACUSE—A Civil Service Employees Assn. official has blasted economy recommendations by a county legislator for increasing employees' hours, refusing pay increases and eliminating personal leaves, early summer closings and longevity pay increases.

John J. Ray, CSEA field representative, termed the suggested "guidelines" to department heads for preparation of 1970 budgets as "provocative" and "the stuff that causes strikes."

Legislator Thoms J. Murphy, majority leader of the Onondaga County Legislature, issued the guidelines last week as an economy move.

CSEA's Onondaga chapter represents more than 2,500 county workers.

Murphy recommended that all 1970 budgets be reduced 10 percent under 1969, freezing of all vacancies, refusing all pay increase requests, extending employees' working day one-half hour daily to 5 p.m., and the elimination of personal leaves, longevity pay increases and the 4 p.m. summer closing time for offices.

Recent changes in the Taylor Law, Ray pointed out, indicate that "the legislative body of a governmental unit should be neutral and impartial and sensitive to the demands of the employee labor organization."

He continued: "What these legislators must realize is that a number of county employees are poor and pay the same taxes as anyone else. They must realize they have a grave responsibility to meet the needs of their employees through the collective bargaining process."

"This responsibility is just as serious as the political desire to placate taxpayers. I am shocked and amazed that the legislators without even listening to our demands and listening to our problems, take this negative approach, which automatically disqualifies them as impartial and responsible statesmen in this critical area of public labor relations."

Ray said CSEA will recommend to the County Legislature's chairman that the legislators agree to impartial binding arbitration conducted by the American Arbitration Association of any dispute that cannot be settled through the normal impasse procedure.

He said that sections of the Taylor Law provide for encouragement.

Capital Conference To Meet At Little Bavarian, March 31

ALBANY—The next regular business meeting of the Capital Conference, Civil Service Employees Assn., will be held on March 31 at the Little Bavarian Restaurant, 221 North Allen St., according to Max Benko, conference president. Dinner will be served at 6 p.m. and the price will be $4 including tax and gratuity.

On the agenda for the evening will be the Mini-Workshop conducted by Abraham Kranker, who is chairman of the State legal committee. The subject will be the grievance and statewide legal assistance program. The mini-workshop will include a question and answer period during which members will have an opportunity to discuss procedures to follow when seeking assistance from the parent association in matters of grievance or legal nature.

The principal business of the evening will be the election of the conference nominating committee in preparation for the annual meeting of the conference, scheduled to be held at Hidden Valley Ranch Resort, Lake Luzerne, the weekend of June 21. Delegates will also take action on the application for membership of the Capital District Armory chapter, CSEA. Following a visit to the chapter recently by Benko, the chapter voted to make application for conference affiliation.

Benko said that members and delegates at the meeting will consider matters that are connected with current labor developments as another item on the agenda for the evening.

For this meeting only, reservations for dinner must be made with Irene Dougherty, of the Corporation Department and must be made no later than March 27. Chapters will be held to all reservations made.

Human Justice

AFTER serving the people of the City of New York for a major portion of his life, what does a retired civil service employee have to look forward to?

Throughout his working career, he had been told that "You civil service employees have it easy. You get a great pension when you retire."

Really? The facts do not bear this out. Ask any retiree!

Policemen who retired in the early 1950's receive about $2,600 a year. Clerks receive even less. Those who retired in recent years fare much better however. But, where will they be in 20 years?

They will be in the same position that the 1950 retiree is today. That is unless a bill introduced by Assemblyman Martin Rodell and State Senator Murray Schwartz receives favorable action by the State Legislature and Governor Rockefeller.

The bill, Assembly Intro 876, would tie pensions to cost of living index. Another humanitarian bill by Senator John Marchi (S. 776) and Assemblyman Stephen Greco (A. 526) would grant supplemental allowances to retirees based on the index.

We urge the Legislature to approve these bills and send them to Governor Rockefeller for approval.

Those who have served the City so well during their working career should not have to suffer the indignity of standing in Welfare Department lines to receive the dole. They have paid for their pensions and they are entitled to better treatment.

Education In Danger

THE GOOD PUBLIC relations of New York State, earned in good measure by a topnotch system of public higher education, is in danger of evaporating.

EVERY CIVIL servant in the state is directly involved because a first-rate system of higher education is the key to a first-rate civil service corps.

HOBBLE A STATE'S educational system, and your civil service system must suffer. Such action is practically a guarantee that your civil service will become second rate.

THEREIN LIES the clear and present danger to the good public relations of the Empire State, so laboriously built up over the years—including a sizeable contribution from the State's civil servants on all levels.

REGARDLESS OF the direct and indirect causes, we cannot believe that Governor Rockefeller and the State's legislators will allow the State of New York to become second rate, thus dissipating the State's hard-earned good public relations.

THERE IS A lot at stake, not the least of which is the fact that business and industry do not want their headquarters and/or their manufacturing plants within the borders of a second-rate state with a second-rate work force.

THE LESSONS of second- and third-rate states around the country with their school desegregation disorders and other dislocations of social stability should be lesson enough for the political powers that be within New York State.

IT WOULD appear that the budget axe is about to fall on the State University of New York as well as on the City University of New York. The latter is the largest urban university in the world and the incubator for tens of thousands of the most skilled public employees in the United States.

DIFFICULT as it is to pinpoint, a multi-faceted tug-of-war has caught these two great universities in the middle. The results could be deadly for both educational complexes—and for the entire state, which is so de-

Civil Service Law & You

By WILLIAM GOFFEN

(Mr. Goffen, a member of the New York Bar, teaches law at the College of the City of New York, is the author of many books and articles and co-authored "New York Criminal Law.")

Superannuation

AN EMPLOYEE would not ordinarily retire from his government employment at a time when an amendment of the law was imminent which would increase retirement benefits. However, Section 70 (a,b) of the Retirement and Social Security Law, entitled "Superannuation Retirement," apparently leaves little choice to an employee who has attained age 70. To stay on even for a short time beyond his 70th birthday, he needs the approval of the State Civil Service Commission. Such approval may be given if sought by the head of the department to which the employee is assigned and upon certification by the Medical Board that the employee is physically fit to perform the duties of his position. Moreover, the State Civil Service Commission must find that the employee is less than 78 years of age and that his continuance in service would be of advantage because of his expert knowledge and special qualifications.

ISAAC TOBAN, an associate compensation claims examiner with the State Insurance Fund, had completed 40 years of service, reached age 70, on February 10, 1968. Efforts to secure an extension of his service beyond age 70 were futile. He therefore had no choice but to apply for superannuation retirement to take effect on March 1, 1968.

ON MAY 7, 1968, the Retirement System informed the petitioner of the approval of his retirement and enclosed a pension check covering the period from March 1, 1968 until April 30, 1968. Toban then wrote back to the Retirement System that if pending legislation to improve pension allowances were enacted into law with an effective date prior to April 12, 1968, he would be entitled to the additional benefits. As he explained, on the date of his mandatory application for superannuation retirement, he was entitled to six weeks' vacation pay (30 working days). On April 1, 1968, he received a single check covering this period which expired on April 11, 1968. Deductions from the check were the usual ones for a six weeks' period including a deduction of $103.55 for normal retirement deduction for such a period from March 1, 1968 through April 11, 1968.

WITH THE enactment of the new legislation, however, effective as of April 1, 1968, the Retirement System denied the petitioner's request for retirement in accordance with the amended legislation on the bald decision that his retirement was effective March 1, 1968.

PETITIONER sought a judgment directing the Retirement System to retire him as of April 11, 1968, his last day on the payroll, so that he would benefit from the new legislation. The respondents, instead of interposing an answer to Toban's petition, moved to dismiss it on the ground that he had failed to exhaust his administrative remedies. The remedy to which the respondents referred is provided by the Retirement and Social Security Law at Section 74 (d). It authorizes the applicant for a retirement allowance to make demand upon the Comptroller within four months after denial of his application. After service of the demand, the Comptroller holds a hearing and redetermines the application. The redetermination is subject to review under Article 78 of the Civil Practice Act.

THE MATTER came before Justice Edward S. Conway at Albany County, Special Term of the Supreme Court. The Jurist reviewed the petitioner's contention that the check received by him on April 1, 1968, though purportedly compensating him for the pay period ending March 27, 1968, actually compensated him for the pay period ending April 11, 1968. The amount of such check in the sum of $1446.90 was exactly three times the petitioner's regular salary of $482.30 for a bi-weekly period, and the deduction of $133.55 for normal retirement is three times the petitioner's normal bi-weekly deduction of $44.52.

JUSTICE CONWAY then considered the respondents' objection that the petitioner had not exhausted his administrative remedies. He observed that the petition sought relief in the nature of a mandamus; i.e., an order directing the Retirement System to perform a duty imposed by a law. Justice Conway's ruling, therefore, was that there was no room for discretion and that the prerequisite of exhausting administrative remedies was inapplicable to Toban's case. The Jurist granted time to the respondents to serve an answer. The eventual outcome of the petition is the subject of a subsequent column.

Volkswagen brings you an exciting old idea.

We don't expect a standing ovation. But we do think our belated automatic transmission* deserves at least a smattering of applause. After all, it does let you drive without shifting and still get up to 25 miles to the gallon. (You know what ravenous appetites other automatics have.) It does have the fewest moving parts of any 3-speed automatic. (You know how depressing transmission repair bills can be.) It does offer you the lightest, most compact 3-speed automatic transmission you can buy. (You know how an automatic can take the oomph out of a car.)

And where can you find our latest triumph? In the Volkswagen Squareback Sedan and the Volkswagen Fastback Sedan.

Now do you feel like applauding? Thank you, thank you very much.

The truth about the "Fourth Platoon."

With a Mayoral election campaign just around the corner, the citizens of New York are once again being sold a shoddy bill of goods by City Hall.

This time, we are told that the instant cure-all for New York's crime problem is to be found in Albany. Mayor Lindsay has asked the New York State Legislature to adopt a law which would grant the Police Commissioner unlimited authority to assign patrolmen to odd tours of duty, and to change those assignments whenever he chooses, for whatever reason—even daily.

If the law were passed in keeping with Lindsay's wishes, a patrolman could be made to work from 8 AM to 4 PM on Wednesday from 10 AM to 6 PM on Thursday from 11 AM to 7 PM on Friday from 1 PM to 9 PM on Saturday from 7 PM to 3 AM on Sunday...

and so on through the year, with a different schedule every day, and only a day's notice of each new assignment. Lindsay is asking you to believe that he wants a 6 PM to 2 AM "Fourth Platoon". There is no "Fourth Platoon" bill before the State Legislature. The bill that is under consideration would give Lindsay the uncontrolled right to play field marshal with New York's law enforcement officers! Vesting of such arbitrary power when no emergency exists is unthinkable! Under emergency conditions, present law already gives the Police Commissioner absolute authority to deploy his forces in any manner he sees fit.

Why The Present Law Was Passed

The purpose of the Three-Platoon Law was to insure that police officers would be given the security of regular tours of duty according to a pre-determined schedule, and to guarantee that at least one-third of their working time be scheduled during normal daylight hours except in emergencies. This assurance of regularity is essential if patrolmen and their families are to adjust to the unnatural demands of around-the-clock service. Even under the mild limitations of the present law, a patrolman's customary working hours change every week.

The Real Solution

If the New York City Police Department requires greater flexibility in fighting crime, the real solution is to be found in a system of voluntary assignment to steady tours. Under such a plan, the Police Commissioner could set up any duty chart he deemed appropriate and decide how many men were needed on each tour. Patrolmen would then be allowed to select the tour of their choice, and be assigned to it on a permanent basis. Thus, the needs of the City and of the Police Department would be well served, and the patrolmen could lead more normal lives as husbands, fathers, and members of the community. The Patrolmen's Benevolent Association has repeatedly proposed the institution of voluntary assignments, and has guaranteed that sufficient volunteers are available for any chart the Department might create. Yet despite unassailable evidence that a voluntary system will work—despite the fact that it actually is working in the Police Department today—the City has consistently refused to adopt this practical solution. Instead, Mayor Lindsay is trying to strip patrolmen of even the limited safeguards they now enjoy, and hoodwink the public into believing that he has found the "magic" formula.

Why The Volunteer System Will Work

Voluntary assignment to permanent tours of duty have already been adopted by such cities as Los Angeles, Syracuse, Berkeley and Jacksonville. In every case, the International Association of Chiefs of Police reports that the system works to the complete satisfaction of both police officers and city officials. But more important, a system of voluntary assignment to special tours is used—and used successfully—in the New York City Police Department today!

The 1200-member Tactical Patrol Force works a special tour. All of them are volunteers.

The 400-member Special Events Squad works a special tour. All of them are volunteers.

In addition, 17 other groups within the Police Department are working special tours. All of them are volunteers.

Everyone of these men is permanently assigned. And in many commands there exists a long waiting list of applicants for available openings!

The patrolman who volunteers for a permanent assignment finds many incentives. The foremost among them is the ability to schedule his life on a regular basis. Many patrolmen have taken advantage of the opportunity to further their educations. Some have accepted part-time jobs, a benefit made available last year under the "moonlighting" bill. Those who volunteer for evening tours earn substantial extra pay in the form of a five per cent night differential.

Despite this overwhelming weight of evidence, Mayor Lindsay claims that a voluntary system will not work in New York. But the facts say that the Mayor is wrong.

Let's Separate Facts from Fiction

Fiction: Mayor Lindsay has stated that "the proposed change in the law would preserve for our police every basic protection from arbitrary working hours."

Fact: If the present law were repealed, the Police Commissioner would have the arbitrary power to assign men indiscriminately to any working schedule he pleased, for any reason whatsoever, even on a day-to-day basis.

Fiction: Mayor Lindsay has stated that "attempts to get more policemen to work the high crime hours on a voluntary basis have met with little response despite the incentives offered."

Fact: No honest attempt to expand the voluntary system has been made by the Police Department in more than two years, except for the creation of special groups such as the Tactical Patrol Force and the Special Events Squad, which have been an unqualified success! Within the past month, the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association has cooperated with the Police Department in the creation of a comprehensive questionnaire designed to test the impact of recently-developed incentives for voluntary assignment to odd tours. In the hope that Mayor Lindsay could force passage of state legislation granting unrestricted powers to himself and his Police Commissioner, that questionnaire has never been circulated among the members of the Department!

Fiction: Mayor Lindsay has stated that "despite repeated attempts to find volunteers, only 155 patrolmen out of a 20,000-man patrol force now work various volunteer shifts between the hours of 3 PM and 4 AM."

Fact: The Tactical Patrol Force consists of 1,200 men who work from 6 PM to 2 AM as volunteers. Hundreds of additional volunteers work from 3 PM to 11 PM from 3:30 PM to 11:30 PM
from 5 PM to 1 AM
from 7 PM to 3 AM and from 8 PM to 4 AM.

Come on, Mr. Mayor. Who's kidding whom?

An End To Politics

The needs of our city cry out for creative, forward-looking solutions, but instead, the citizens of New York are being offered yet another giant step backward. As so often in the past, the police have been made pawns in a political chess game, in which the safety of the community takes second place to political image-building and self-serving grandstand plays. We urge the citizens of New York not to be taken in by a proposal that would restore 19th century conditions to the Police Department. A tested, modern approach to the city's needs is ready and waiting.

You must act at once! Wire your State Senator and Assemblyman today! Demand that they vote to retain the Three-Platoon Law. More effective law enforcement can only be accomplished through high police morale and total dedication to the public safety by city officials. It can never be achieved by political trickery!

EQUIPMENT TEST REPORT

By Hirsch-Houck Laboratories

The outstanding performance of past Tandberg recorders is a matter of record. In our comments on the original Model 64 (HIFI STEREO REVIEW, October, 1966), we pointed out that, almost alone among home tape recorders of that time, the Tandberg 64 at 7 1/2 ips did not in any way change the sound of a recorded program when played from direct or FM.

It is difficult to improve on a record of performance, but Tandberg engineers have done so. The new Model 64X is externally identical to the Model 64, but it is internally better in many respects. It has a new tape transport mechanism, a new amplifier system, and a new signal-to-noise ratio.

Our tests show that the new Model 64X and the older Model 64 are equal in the equalization at 1 1/2 ips. The only significant change is the addition of a separate head for the recording side of the tape. This is largely responsible for the improved frequency response and signal-to-noise ratio of the Model 64X.

At 7 1/2 ips, we measured the overall record-playback frequency response of the Tandberg Model 64X as an excellent +0.5, -2.5 db from 40 to 20,000 Hz. The playback response was similar to that of the Ampex 1121-04 test machine, which is widely regarded as the best in its class.

The 64X offers the highest caliber of performance presently obtainable in a home tape recorder ... we could not find fault with it in any respect. The Tandberg 64X sells for $549 and is well worth it."

Board Receives Record Number of Applications

A record number of applications, 77,420, were considered by the Board of Examiners during the academic year ending June 30, 1968, according to the Board's annual statistical report. During the previous year 65,303 were considered and the year before there were 56,239.

During the year, 16,428 regular teaching licenses were issued and 7,684 substitute teaching licenses. Allowing for doublers, about 30,000 individuals have been licensed as teachers.

In issuing the report, Dr. Jay E. Greene, Chairman of the Board of Examiners, declared that since normal replacement needs for new positions created and for retirements have been about 5,500 per year, a major personnel problem is staff retention. "We are still in the position of licensing 4 or 5 qualified persons for everyone who remains. Available information indicates that increasing numbers of young people, because of personnel conditions, are reluctant to take teaching positions in New York City, and too many experienced teachers are either retiring, resigning or seeking jobs outside the City."

Training Seminars For Junior HS Principals

A training seminar for prospective junior high school principals is being conducted in each of the five boroughs, in a Board of Education drive to prepare an anticipated 1,000 candidates for a qualifying examination.

The program is aimed at candidates from minority groups. No test date has been announced as yet.

According to Dr. Bernard E. Donovan, superintendent of schools, "The public schools are faced with the need for vigorous and stimulating leadership, including the need for a greater number of Negro and Puerto Rican supervisors and administrators.

"In order to give the local districts a wider choice in selecting principals I am going to provide wherever possible under the law a larger pool of available eligibles with licenses as junior high school principals. Appointments under this license can be made to intermediate and junior high schools," he said.

Applications are being received on an "open-end" basis for the 14-week series of seminars, which started last week. While no deadline has been set, Deputy Superintendent Dr. Theodore H. Lang of the Office of Personnel urges that applications be filed immediately.

The program calls for four hours of study each week. The seminars are scheduled for Saturday mornings from 9:00 to 11:00 and 6:00.

The training centers are at the following locations: Manhattan: IS 70, 333 West 27 Street; Bronx: JHS 117, 1865 Morris Avenue; Brooklyn: IS 49, 233 Graham Avenue; Queens: JHS 192, 109-89 04 Street, St. Albans; and Richmond: JHS 27, 11 Clove Lake Place.

Tape Technology Used In Adult Teaching

The Board of Education, at their meeting last week, passed the adoption of a new approach to adult basic education which utilizes modern scientific advances.

The "learning lab" established by the Board's Department of Continuing Education will be located at 1910 Arthur Ave. in the Bronx and will begin May 1. It is planned to train adults in enough basic reading and other learning skills to admit to regular evening adult education courses for which they are not yet eligible.

The students are referred to the "learning lab" by the Department of Social Services, the Human Resources Administration and other agencies, including local community groups. The only requirement is the lack of enough education to be admitted to existing evening adult education classes.

The "learning lab" contains 20 booths with small tape recorders and other equipment for students.

It will provide instruction for 60 students in three sessions daily: 9:00 a.m. to noon, 1:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m., and 7:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m.

Individualized attention to the education needs of the students will intensify their progress in the 200 to 400 hours of instruction which will be needed to qualify each student for adult education courses leading to a high school equivalency certificate.

The $35,870 cost for the operation of the "lab" for a year beginning this May will be Federally funded under the Adult Education program of Title III, Elementary and Secondary Education Act.

Educational Construction Readied In All Boroughs

The Board of Education has taken action on new school facilities costing an estimated $87 million, including $33.3 million in construction of new buildings since January 1. These include projects in each of the five boroughs.

In addition to construction projects, the program includes selection of sites for new schools, preparation of plans and cost estimates for new projects and lease of non-school spaces to provide temporary relief of school overcrowding.

Some Projects

Among the Manhattan sites already approved by local school boards, and later approved by the Board of Education, are the following:

PS 141, Manhattan, which will be part of a residential tower project planned by the NYC Education Construction Fund, will be built on a tract comprising DeKovats Park, and air rights over a 30-foot strip of land running from York Avenue to East 91 Street and the land bounded by Franklin D. Roosevelt Drive, East 90 Street, York Avenue and 91 St. PS 159 Manhattan, another "air-rights" project combining a school with a residential structure, will rise on a tract of land bounded by East 78 Street, Cherokee Place, East 77 Street and York Avenue.

A third "air-rights" project combining PS 220, Manhattan, with a residential tower will rise on a parcel of land at 82 Street and Second Avenue. The area, 22, 120 square feet, is valued at $119,000.

The fourth "air-rights" project combines PS 213, Manhattan with a residential tower, rising on a plot in the block bounded by East 92 Street, First Avenue, East 91 Street and Second Avenue. The land, measuring 27,620 square feet, is valued at $80,000.

In Manhattan, the new Martin Luther King Jr. High School, will be built at West End Avenue and West 65 Street. The cost is expected to be approximately $13,144,700.

The new John F. Kennedy High School at 230 Street and Ewen Avenue, Manhattan, will have more work done on the site. The school, which was to cost $13,167,380, will now cost an additional $990,206 for the reconstruction, making the total cost for this school $14,157,586.

Bronx Buildings

In the Bronx, the new IS 162 will be built on a site bounded by St. Ann's Avenue, Westchester and Eagle Avenues, and East 149 Street.

The temporary building which will house classrooms as an annex to PS 111, Bronx, will serve children of residents in the new housing project known as the Boston-Secor Houses, and is located on a parking lot of the development, to the north east of Co-op City.

The site for IS 193, Bronx, is bounded by Clinton, East Tremont and Prospect Avenues and East 176 Street. It includes the bed of Fairmont Place which intersects the plot.

Brooklyn Schools

PS 125, at 264 Blake Avenue, Brooklyn, will be modernized at a cost of $443,790.

A site for IS 383, Brooklyn, has been approved on a block bounded by DeKalb and Wyckoff Avenues, Stockholm Street and Irving Avenue. The area of 132,500 square feet is valued at $560,900. Local school board number 16 will consider approval.

In Brooklyn, IS 390 will be constructed on a plot taking up most of the block bounded by Park Place, Troy Avenue, Sterling Place and Albany Avenue. The 126,000 square foot area is valued at $401,000.

Also in Brooklyn, Boys' High School, at 832 Marcy Avenue, is to be replaced with a $12,743,000 structure. The new high school in line with the Board's established policy, will be co-educational, and will provide a comprehensive secondary school education to its students.

In Queens, Hillcrest High School will be built in conjunction with PS 86, on a parcel of land bounded by Parsons Boulevard, Highland Avenue, 86 Street and Glen Avenue. The two schools will cost a total of $13,923,429.

PS 147, at 218-01 116 Avenue, Cambria Heights, Queens, will be modernized at a cost of $332,160.

The two new playgrounds to be built will be at PS 155, 130-02 115 Street, South Ozone Park, Queens, and PS 33, at 91-37 222 Street, Queens Village.

In Richmond, the new Huguenot High School, formerly known as South Richmond High School, will rise on a site bounded by Molfe's Pond Road, Jansen Street, Luton Avenue and Eylandt Street. The total cost is $12,354,950.

At the higher levels some experience or training may be necessary. Applicants with such experience or training will be rated for these jobs.

Candidates must be 18 years old unless they are either high school graduates, have completed a formal job training program such as the concentrated employment program, job corps, etc., or have been out of school for at least three months and have the approval to work from school authorities.

Appointments to some jobs will be made to veterans first before they can be offered to non-veterans. There will be positions on a part-time basis and some summer jobs will be filled. In addition, for a few of the openings, candidates must demonstrate that they can

CORRECTION CORNER

ALBANY — State Correction Commissioner Paul D. McGinnis has announced promotion of 15 employees of the State Department of Correction.

Promoted were: Mrs. Beryl B. Moris, of Bedford Hills, to the position of Deputy Superintendent of Westfield State Farm for Women. Mrs. Morris has been on the staff of the prison since 1955. Previously she served as supervisory correction officer and lieutenant.

Sgt. Kenneth F. Roden, of Carmel, to the rank of correction lieutenant at Green Haven Prison, Stormville, at an annual salary of $10,140. Lieut. Roden joined the Department in October, 1949 as a correction officer and was promoted to sergeant in 1961.

Both new lieutenants attended the Moran Institute on Crime and Delinquency at St. Lawrence University.

Other permanent appointments are:

Robert Van Buren, of Attica, to the position of permanent industrial superintendent at Attica Prison, at a salary of $13,640 to $15,955. Van Buren has been on the industrial staff at Attica since 1966, when he left the Westinghouse Corporation to join the Department of Correction.

Joseph Golovach, of Dannemora, to the position of general industrial foreman (garment manufacturing) at Clinton Prison, Dannemora, at an annual salary of $9,319 to $10,540.

Correction officer Joseph A. Demski of Fishkill, to the rank of sergeant at a salary of $8,051 to $9,450 at Woodbourne Rehabilitation Center.

Correction officer Walter Jackson, of Ravena, to the post of sergeant, an annual salary of $8,346 to $9,450 at Woodbourne Rehabilitation Center. He formerly was on the staff of the State Vocational Institution at West Coxsack.

Correction officer Susan M. Levine, of the Bronx, to the rank of correction sergeant at Westfield State Farm, at a salary of $8,346 to $9,450.

Theodore Ogden, of Peekskill, to the post of stationary engineer at Sing Sing Prison, Ossining, at a salary of $7,040 to $8,010. He has been on the staff of Sing Sing since 1958.

Commissioner McGinnis said the nine appointments were made after the new appointees successfully passed written civil service examinations and met qualifications of the Department for promotion.

Joseph C. Snow, formerly principal account clerk at Wallkill Prison, has been promoted to institution steward at Wallkill at an annual salary of $11,985 to $14,390. He replaces William J. Ahearn, who resigned from the institution's chief business position in December.

Snow joined the Department of Correction in 1955 as a senior account clerk at Dannemora State Hospital. He was appointed principal account clerk at Wallkill Prison in October, 1965. Snow was named senior business management assistant in April, 1967.

Promoted to correction sergeant at Auburn Prison, effective March 6, was correction officer William J. Thompson, of Wappinger Falls. He is presently on the staff of Green Haven Prison at Stormville. Salary in the new position will be $8,346 to $9,450.

Commissioner McGinnis said three promotions at Matteawan State Hospital are now effective;

Mrs. Eileen Reese, of Fishkill, to the position of correction hospital charge officer, at an annual salary of $9,100.

Institution Teachers Committee Endorses Career Ladder Plan

(Special To The Leader)

ALBANY—The Special Institution Teachers Committee of the Civil Service Employees Assn. has endorsed the proposed Career Ladder Plan for teachers and vocational instructors in State institutions.

CSEA president Theodore C. Wenzl has sent a letter of support for the Career Ladder, with minor amendments added by the committee, to the Department of Civil Service, it was learned last week.

The special committee, which met on March 14 here in Albany, includes George Bracy, chairman, of Wassaic State School; William Deck from Marcy State Hospital; Joseph Corso from Syracuse State School; Marion Springle of the Hudson Training School for Girls; Ralph G. Offen of the State Industrial School; Joseph Cambria from New Hampton Training School; Richard Gibbs from Auburn Prison; Jeanne Sweet of the State Rehabilitation Hospital; Henry Bingham of Willowbrook State School; Elmer Riley from Catskill Reformatory; Patrick J. Sullivan of Elmira Reformatory; and William J. Boone from Hudson River State Hospital.

Picket Plans

sion to picket the bank's 17 offices was made after it was disclosed that the cooperative effort of the bank and the State was to be implemented.

CSEA president Theodore C. Wenzl had earlier warned that "Any such action which would directly or indirectly affect the welfare of State employees because of Governor Rockefeller's proposed budget cutbacks will be dealt with accordingly."

"Despite the fact that motor vehicle employees have been advised that their jobs would not be affected," Wenzl stated, "we intend to make a full study of the matter to determine whether the normal hiring procedures, filling of vacancies, promotions, or any other personnel policies normally followed will be affected."

The Leader learned that the bank will receive 50 cents for each renewal processed. This charge will be added to the cost of the renewal fee.

"We strongly object to this action on the part of the Governor which smacks of nothing more than political expediency," Wenzl concluded.

aging public employers and employee groups to agree on procedures for resolving disputes—procedures which may include impartial arbitration.

The law also provides for the Legislature to hold a hearing during which both the employer and employees can explain their position on the report of a fact-finding board, Ray said.

After that hearing, he said, the legislative body can take any action it believes to be in the public interest—"including the interest of the public employees involved."

County Delegates Urge Expansion For Progress

which have accumulated for our county chapters during this time and I am happy to note that it was a most productive and imaginative meeting".

In the two-day session delegates were primarily concerned with obtaining better service for current members and obtaining funds for expanded membership drives.

One proposition—one of many which will be recommended to the entire CSEA delegate body was to rescind a mandate which called for complete payment of the new CSEA headquarters building by the end of this year. Delegates asked, instead, that the mortgage payments be extended and that the estimated $300,000 plus which would become available be used to hire at least 22 new field representatives. A second proposal called for the creation of regional offices in each of the major cities of the State, of which one of the staff members would be a full-time public relations man. A third proposal called for a study of the CSEA's legal program in order to find means of providing more legal funds to combat adverse decisions by local boards of the Public Employment Relations Board.

Underling the whole two-day session was an ardent desire on the part of all the delegates to keep the Employees Association in the forefront, not only as the biggest public employee union in the State but the one that gives the most efficient and dedicated service to its members.

In one other action, delegates directed Dr. Theodore C. Wenzl, CSEA president, to appoint a panel to settle immediately the issue of whether or not affiliation with another labor organization would be in the best interests of the Employees Association.

Dr. Wenzl presided over the meeting briefly but was forced to leave the session to attend negotiations with the Rockefeller Administration on behalf of State workers. His duties were assumed by Irving Flaumenbaum, second vice-president of the organization.

A new pattern now appears to be set for future delegates meetings. County and State delegates will hold separate sessions in the future to deal with their own specific problems and will continue to meet in joint sessions on matters affecting the CSEA and all public employees in general. The first of these latter meetings is set for September 2 through 4 at the Statler Hilton Hotel in New York City.

Underlining the whole two-day Special plaques were awarded to Borelli for "outstanding service to the County Division, CSEA" and to Joseph Dolan, director of Local Government. Dolan, toastmaster for the concluding dinner was Jason Roulier, CSEA Director of Public Relations.

GSEA Protests Delay In MH Career Ladder

ALBANY—The Civil Service Employees Assn. will protest a delay in the Mental Hygiene Career Ladder program for ward service personnel to Dr. Hugh LaFave, Associate Commissioner of the Office of Manpower and Training of the Mental Hygiene Department.

It was learned late last week that the Office of Manpower and Training had refused to give out to CSEA the details in its proposed Career Ladder for ward service workers. The department's reason for the denial, a CSEA spokesman said, was that the matter is currently pending before the Legislature for a budget appropriation. "This does not mean that the Career Ladder is anywhere near being acted upon by the Legislature," the spokesman emphasized.

"It's a disgrace," was CSEA president Theodore C. Wenzl's comment. "Reorganization of the Career Ladders in ward service is long overdue. The Mental Hygiene Department may be cutting its own throat by this secretive delay."

pendent on both for the highest quality personnel for the public and for private industry.

ALSO DUE for a clobbering are the community colleges, which are helping to write the passports for thousands of disadvantaged out of the ghettos into a life of economic viability and dignity.

THE TROUBLE could be that a reaction has set in against unrest and activism on many campuses.

THERE IS considerable evidence that this backlash is spreading nationally. Strong support is building up for the "hard line" in dealing with campus disorders. Public opinion polls confirm this.

WE BELIEVE New York's legislators are too forward-looking to take out of the hides of approximately 250,000 State U. and City U. students the sins of a tiny handful of activists.

REMEMBER what the genuinely serious students at Brooklyn College, a unit of City U., did when a group of outside troublemakers invaded their campus? They literally threw the bums out on their ears.

IN THIS TIME of creeping inflation, there aren't too many bargains around. But the State of New York is lucky. It still has as its biggest bargains State U. and City U. and its treasure chest of community colleges.

Following the negotiations for State employees, you're going to hear a lot of loud claims from little sources. No matter who says what, the name of the game is still membership.

The score? . . . CSEA has 172,000 members — State and local government employees. Council 50 has about 12,000.

When better benefits are won, you know who wins them. That's why you joined CSEA.
