

Board Sets Weekend Conference To Acquire Ideas For Camp

Plans for a conference to acquire ideas for the development of the Warrensburg campsite were put in effect at the Tuesday night meeting of the College Camp Board this week. The conference will be held Saturday and Sunday, the weekend of April 28.

Myskania Plans New Penalties

Myskania, in its meeting Tuesday evening, moved to recommend to Student Association that the compulsory legislative convocations be enforced by the following penalties. Each student shall be allowed one unexcused absence per semester, and if they cut once again, Pedagogue will be removed from their student tax card. Any absence after that will result in a fine of one dollar, payable to the Convocations Committee who will place it in the Convocations fund, to be used for the assemblies.

Attendance at these Convocations will be taken by the Committee by means of slips of paper handed to the students at the beginning of the Convocation, and returned at the end, signed by the student to show that he attended. The Committee will then compile the slips and notify the absentee students of their fines. The student will receive a warning after their first cut.

Failure to pay the fines will result in the administration withholding release of grades and or registration.

This recommendation will come before Student Association today for discussion and possibly for a vote. If passed, these penalties will not go into effect until next year.

A large and competent staff will be needed to make a success of the Camp program. All women are eligible to try out and are urged to do so, states Miss DeSanta.

Chemical Society Plans Russell Sage Parley

The Student Chapter of the American Chemical Society announces that there will be a Symposium at Russell Sage College. The event will take place on Saturday and will begin at 12:30 p.m. The event is sponsored by the Educational Committee of the American Chemical Society.

The Symposium will be composed of the following events. Registration at 12:30 p.m.; speech by Valney Wilson at 1:30 p.m.; and student speakers at 2:30 p.m. The program will be concluded by a coffee hour at 5:30 p.m.

Victims Recover From Explosion

An explosion occurred March 22, about 5 p.m. in the storeroom of Husted. The four persons involved were George Murphy, Professor of Chemistry, Robert Levy '56, John Knar '59, and John Plieger, a Civil Service stockroom assistant.

The explosion, as well as can be reconstructed, came as a result of an attempt to transfer phosphorus in water. The sticks of phosphorus were being stored under xylene. When exposed to air, phosphorus readily ignites. The first transfer was conducted without incident, but when removing another stick of phosphorus from a jar, the volume of xylene was lowered, thus leaving the tops of the phosphorus sticks exposed to the air. When smoke was detected issuing from this jar, a Co2 fire extinguisher was brought into play. However, the jar exploded about table height, burning the four people about the hands and arms.

Dr. Murphy and associates are recovering nicely and should be released from the hospital soon.

Poring Over The Exchange

March 10 was a "number one day" for students of Hobart and William Smith Colleges. As the result of an intensive food survey made by Sara Dining Halls, Incorporated, the students were served their favorite foods. The survey involved food preferences of almost 3,500 students fed by the organization at 9 colleges throughout the East and Midwest.

The menu included frozen orange juice, assorted cereals, oatmeal, scrambled eggs, toast, coffee, tea, and milk for breakfast. Lunch featured hot beef sandwiches with gravy, french fried potatoes, toss salad, and ice cream. Dinner included an entree of steak, mashed potatoes, frozen peas, homemade rolls and apple pie with cheese.

Yale has raised the requirements for being named to the Dean's List because today's students are getting higher marks. The purpose of the revised regulations is to preserve the prestige of the Dean's List which in the past 10 years has grown to the point where it contains the names of almost half the undergraduates in Yale University.

The Spectrum recently printed the following bits in its college life series:

- Ambition
1. Freshman—To graduate with an A average.
 2. Sophomore—To graduate with a B average.
 3. Junior—To graduate with a C average.
 4. Senior—To graduate.

- Teachers
1. Freshman—They know everything.
 2. Sophomore—They know something.
 3. Junior—They don't know anything.
 4. Seniors—To err is human.

A few collegiate quips and quotes from the Central Michigan Life:

A coed who was practice teaching at a junior high school, showed two films to her class one day. Just before the second film was over, a student nudged her and said, "I thought you would like to wake up undergraduates in Yale University before the lights go on."

The Best Years . . .

As you graduate from high school, four long years of college loom ahead. The end seems very far in the distance. Yet here you are again with Moving-Up Day only two weeks away. Each class will move up, some with glee and some with a touch of nostalgia in their hearts. We think the latter is a more appropriate emotion to describe what is in the heart of all Juniors.

For three years the Class of 1957 has been "Jolly" and active and now it is ready to step into the final spotlight and start to assume the professional responsibilities of the college. They have had three very active and successful years. They were apprehensive their first day at Fresh Camp and their first day of college classes. They lost rivalry that first year but fought back as Sophs. They complained about class apathy and forepart presidential candidates.

But in their Junior year they hit a new height. They made themselves the Jolly Juniors. They initiated a Junior Prom in the fall and made it the first and most successful formal dance of the year. They took advantage of every year and initiated a Satcho Hawkins dance. They have had new ideas and good leaders. For this they owe a vote of thanks to their Junior Class President, Sara Jane Darr, and their Vice-President, Michael Maxson, and all their officers this year. Clyde Payne and Bruce Rogers, two freshmen and Sophomore President, helped to guide the class into a college group. This Junior year has opened the class to a new height.

As you put your college plans before you, remember to give your Junior year the responsibility it deserves. You have had a hard 3 1/2 year experience, and you will be glad to look back on 1957.

Listen, Think, Act . . .

Would you like to be a leader? You probably have had the idea of being a leader since you were a child. It is a noble work. That is why it is one of the most important of all jobs.

It is not a job that is done in a day and done once. It is a job that is done every day and every hour. It is a job that is done in the heart and in the mind. It is a job that is done in the soul and in the spirit. It is a job that is done in the body and in the mind. It is a job that is done in the heart and in the mind. It is a job that is done in the soul and in the spirit. It is a job that is done in the body and in the mind.

This is a job that is done every day and every hour. It is a job that is done in the heart and in the mind. It is a job that is done in the soul and in the spirit. It is a job that is done in the body and in the mind. It is a job that is done in the heart and in the mind. It is a job that is done in the soul and in the spirit. It is a job that is done in the body and in the mind.

There will be an election in the near future. It is a time when you can make a difference. It is a time when you can be a leader. It is a time when you can be a part of something great. It is a time when you can be a part of something that will last. It is a time when you can be a part of something that will make a difference.

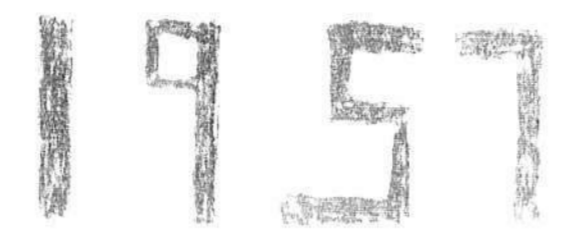

If you are a student, you should be a leader. You should be a part of something great. You should be a part of something that will last. You should be a part of something that will make a difference. You should be a part of something that will be remembered. You should be a part of something that will be a source of pride.

Swizz Says . . .

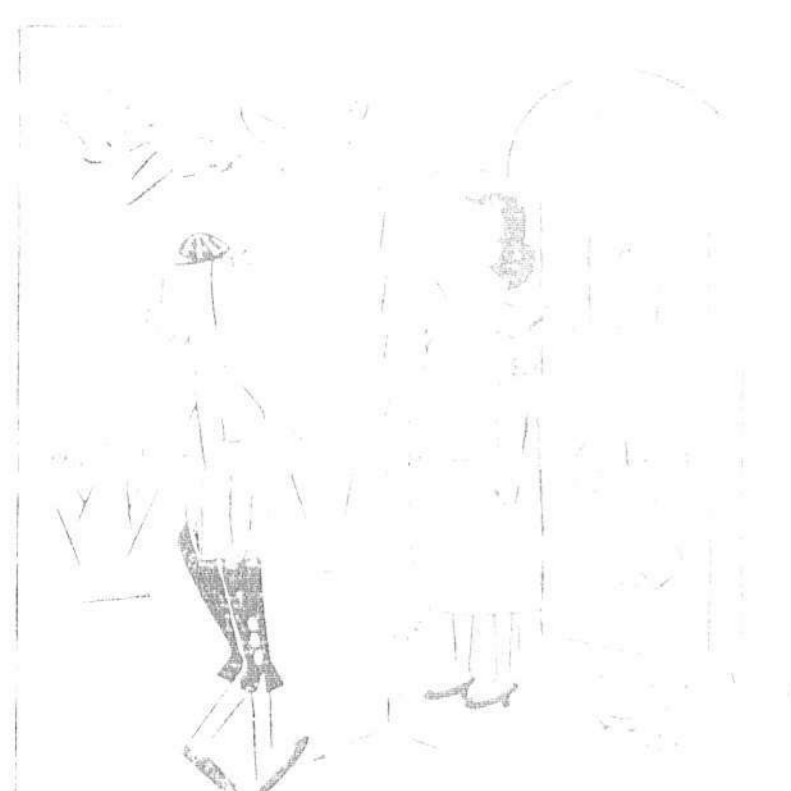

It was late in the spring of '55 the drive was on. A few highly enthused individuals thought this was the time. An appeal was made. A meet was scheduled. A sign-up sheet went up and names began to appear by the dozen. Four dozen in fact. Athletic Advisory Board took all this enthusiasm to heart. Over $1,000.00 was appropriated. A schedule was drawn. The stage was finally set. Track was to make it, but at State.

Enthusiasm Going, Going
 Today over two-thirds of the enthusiasm is gone. The greatest men sit for their practices and from twelve to twenty-five. These studies are heavy. The meet with RPI and The State is not a picnic. There are no more men sitting on the sidelines. It should be there.

But what about the future? The year is over. The meet is over. The season is over. The year is over. The meet is over. The season is over.

To begin with the large number of names on the sign-up sheet should have been taken more seriously with a grain of salt. The meet was a disappointment. The year was a disappointment. The season was a disappointment.

What about the future? The year is over. The meet is over. The season is over. The year is over. The meet is over. The season is over.

Golf and badminton are the current subjects of tournament play in intramural sports, so grab your spurs and bishes men and get in line for their "sign-up sheet" set up in the AMIA building near new dock. It's a long and busy one, about one in a hundred of the campus and "Mid-Rate" has a good chance of getting in.

 The IM system for the year is over. The meet is over. The season is over. The year is over. The meet is over. The season is over.

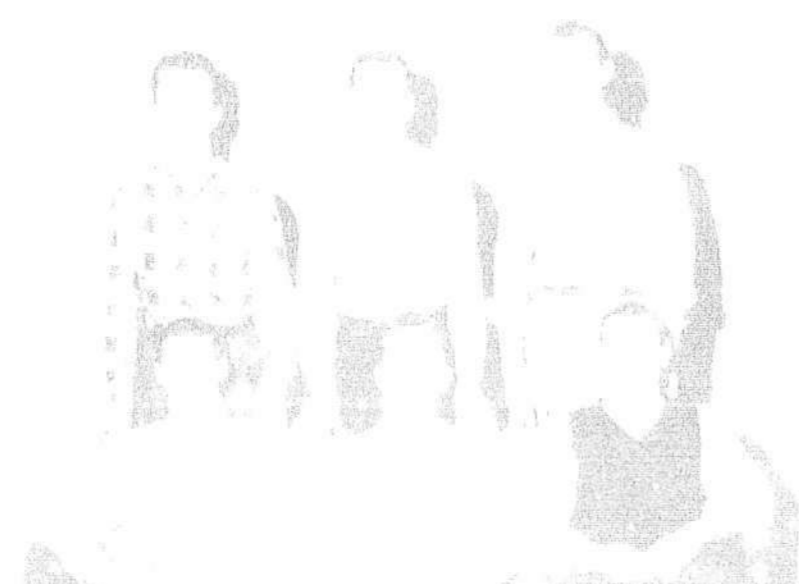

If one can judge by early results, there seems to be a determined effort in the intramural league to make up for a late start. In fact, the opening scores are high. The IM system for the year is over. The meet is over. The season is over. The year is over. The meet is over. The season is over.

The IM system for the year is over. The meet is over. The season is over. The year is over. The meet is over. The season is over.

But, again, when it comes to the golf tourney, the IM system for the year is over. The meet is over. The season is over. The year is over. The meet is over. The season is over.

Democrats Continue Search To Find Candidate To Defeat Eisenhower

By DONALD DAME

Who's on first, what's on second? This is the question regarding the various candidates aspiring to be the Democratic Presidential nominee.

VOTE!

SA Will Vote For New Officers, Myskania Today In Assembly; Students Without Seats Vote Absentee

An Individual Challenge . . .

VOTE, VOTE! Today is the day for action. Talk is over. Now we need to elect capable people to lead our student government and classes.

This year we have been faced with many unforeseen problems and situations. We lost the use of our meeting place and had to initiate a type of representative government; we bought a college camp this year; we have amended our constitution and formulated a new type of student government.

In the past years we have made mistakes and we did this year. People have been elected who were not prepared for their new responsibilities. They were elected because of personal reasons.

Next year our officers will face new problems; our college is continuing to grow and to bring new problems to the surface. The problems of off-campus teachers losing contact with their college will become a reality with the new Education Department plan for student teaching.

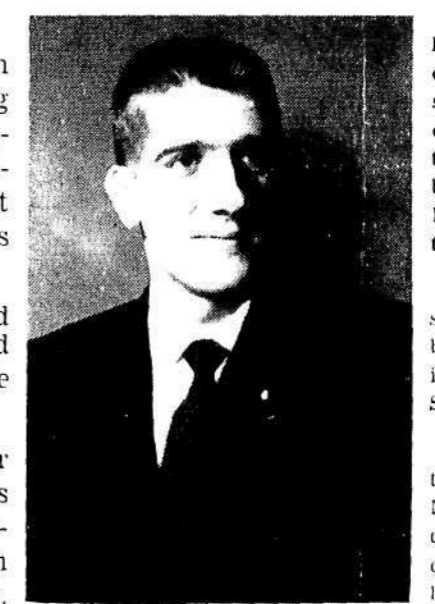

Each one of us will have to live under the leadership of the new officers who will try to cope with these problems. None of us can escape the effects of our student government.

It is the responsibility of every member of Student Association to cast his vote for the candidate he thinks best qualified. If you have an assigned seat in Assembly you must vote in assembly. You need not sit in your assigned seat. Check the list on the Student Council bulletin board in Upper Husted to see if you have a seat. Those excused from assembly and those who do not have a seat vote absentee from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the voting desk in Lower Husted.

A few minutes taken to select good candidates may make a great deal of difference next year. Let's prove that we are not apathetic. Today is V-Day. It is the end of one battle and the beginning of another.

You can make the difference. No one can make a mess of student government and activity more than you do when you don't vote. Instead of just complaining most of the time take an active stand. Your college can only be as great as you make it. It is an individual challenge. To rephrase the motto of the State University, "Let each do all he is capable of doing."

Candidates DeCecco, Payne Oppose Each Other For Presidency Of SA, State Political Platforms

DOMINICK DECECCO

Mr. President, members of Myskania, Students, I come before you today as a candidate for the office of Student Association President.

I feel that the general air of apathy which pervades this school is not caused by students in general. I feel that this feeling of apathy has been built up by some people to such an extent that it has been used as an excuse for many of the failures present in our government today.

This is the voting procedure to be followed after the adjournment of the assembly: Sophomores who will be seated in the right section and the first ten rows of the center section of the auditorium will file out the right center aisle to the rear of Page Hall where they will cast their votes.

This morning at 10 a.m. in Page Hall all members of Student Association who have seats in the Assembly may vote for Student Association and Class Officers.

These people have seats in assembly: freshmen, A through Sgambati; Sophomores, A through and including R; all Juniors; and no Seniors.

All members of SA have the right to vote for the following officers: Myskania, SA President, Vice-President, and Secretary; Student Council-at-large; SA Songleader; members of Student Board of Finance from all classes, and delegates to the College Athletic Advisory Board.

People legally excused from assemblies are: Veterans, married people, persons not assigned seats, those with class or job conflicts, and those who have been excused by Marilyn Leahy '58, member of Student Council.

Candidates for all offices may take part in the assembly discussion, but they may not make any announcements. Anyone doing this will be disqualified for election.
