PROMOTE 42 TO LARGEST NEWS STAFF ON RECORD

ST. LAWRENCE NINE PLAYS STATE TODAY

Varsity Wins From Jamaica
Teachers by Score 9-1
Saturday

CARR AND GRAHAM HEROES

"We want everyone up at Ridgefield this afternoon, to support the Purple and Gold in its battle with the nine from St. Lawrence university," said Charles Cole, '26, manager of baseball, this morning. "We have a snappy team," he continued, "and I feel that we can duplicate last Saturday's victory with the proper support from the student body."

Joseph Graham will be on the mound for State and he is said to be in perfect form. Last Saturday in the game with Jamaica he allowed only six scattered hits. The team gave him wonderful backing, Baker said.

LaVerne Carr, '29, was the big hero of the game with the Jamaicans last week which resulted in a 9 to 1 victory. He lifted the horsehide far enough to entitle him to a non-stop trip around the bases. He came through again with a triple with two men on and scored both of them. Graham was also in form with the stick, getting three safeties out of four times up. One of his clouts took him to second base and brought in a run. He crossed the plate himself twice.

After the game, Coach Rutherford K. Baker stated that he was proud of his team and that he feels that they will have the higher score after the game this afternoon.

TO ATTEMPT BREAKING COLLEGE JUMP RECORD

State's new high jump record will be put to the test tomorrow on campus at 2:00 o'clock, at the annual track meet, when Lorena Shaffer, '26, and Ethel DuBois, '27, holders of last year's record of 4 feet, 6 inches, compete with Leah Cohen, '28, who at the recent preliminaries set a new standard of 4 feet, 7 inches. The meet tomorrow will replace the one usually held the afternoon of Moving-up Day, and counts five points in freshman-sophomore rivalry.

Running broad jump, standing broad jump, basketball throw, 50 yard dash, and a relay race will be the other events. "The preliminaries were very successful and a large number of entrants are expected in the final meet." Miss Isabelle Johnston, instructor in physical education, said.

"MR. PIM PASSES BY" WILL BE PRESENTED TODAY AND TOMORROW

Mr. Pim, the absent-minded old Englishman, impersonated by S. Niles Haight, will pass by tonight and tomorrow night in the auditorium of the Historical and Art Society on Washington avenue. The performance of A. A. Milne's "Mr. Pim Passes By" will begin promptly at 8:15 o'clock. Students may gain admission upon presentation of student tax tickets.

The play is the annual public production of the advanced dramatics class, and is said to be the most finished production yet turned out by the class.

It is a comedy of high English society life and has been perfectly cast and directed by Miss Agnes Futterer, director of dramatics.

The cast of the play is: Mr. Pim, S. Niles Haight, '26; Olivia Marden, the English girl with a sense of humor, Isabelle Plude, '26; George Marden, the narrow-minded Englishman of the conservative type, DeWitt Zeh, '27; Dinah Marden, the vivacious young girl, Marion O'Connor, '26; Brian Strange, the painter-chap, Edwin Van Kleeck, '27; Lady Marden, the proud old English dowager, Ethel Bisland, '26; and the maid, Ann, Mary Nolan, '26.

Committee heads who are respon-

TO INSTALL OFFICERS IN CHAPEL JUNE 4

Installation of student body officers will be an added feature of Moving-up Day this year, due to the fact that there will be no student assembly after that day. Helen Elliott, '26, general chairman of the committee, announced today that in other respects the ceremony in the auditorium will be the traditional one. Ruby Herman, '26, will be the ivy speaker at the planting of the ivy immediately afterward.

Class stunts will take place on the campus in the afternoon, replacing the usual track meet which is being held on campus tomorrow. Syddum hall girls will sell balloons in class colors.

The tug of war between freshman and sophomore girls Thursday night, June 3, is in charge of Caroline Schleich, '29, and Kathleen Doughty, '28. The banner rush committee is Joseph Herney, '29, and Howard Goff, '28.

The committee for Moving-up Day is Helen Elliott, '26, chairman; Georgia DeMocker, '26, Mildred Loman, '26, Gertrude Sweetman, '27, Hilda Sarr, '27, Katharine Blenis, '27, Margaret Stontenburgh, '28, Dorothy Lasher, '28, Betty Eaton, '29, and Thomas Fallon, '29.

NEWMAN TO HOLD LAST QUARTERLY COMMUNION

The last Quarterly Communion and Breakfast of Newman Club will take place Sunday, May 23, at St. Vincent de Paul's Church and the Academy of the Holy Names. Due to A. R. Brubacher's enforced absence from the city he will not be able to attend, but it is expected that another speaker, whose name will be announced later, will address the club.

Grace Chippendale, '29, will sing and Mary Wenetawowitz, '27, will give several violin solos, accompanied by Agatha Flick, '27.

Sunday night, May 23, at 7:30 o'clock there will be a meeting of old and new officers and councillors at Newman hall. Father Dunne will address the council, and plans will be made for the coming year.

Zimmerman Chosen Business Manager; Higgins to be
Managing Editor

BARKLEY GETS NEW JOB

Forty-two promotions to positions on the 1927 staff of the State College News, the largest number in the paper's nine years, are announced today by the News board. The new staff will operate a newspaper which will be sixty per cent larger than the present News.

Five major officers on the board were elected, besides four senior associate editors, four junior associate editors, twenty-one reporters, seven assistant business managers, and an assistant subscription manager.

Edwin Van Kleeck, '27, managing editor of the State College News is announced today by the News board as editor-in-chief for next year, as a result of the annual election made Monday. He succeeds Harry S. Godfrey, '26.

Helen Zimmerman, '27, is elected business manager to succeed Helen E. Elliott, '26. Thelma Temple, '27, is elected subscription manager to succeed Helen Barkley, '26. Both are now assistants in their departments.

Virginia Higgins, '28, is elected managing editor to succeed Van Kleeck. She is now a reporter. Sara Barkley, '27, associate editor, is elected-I associate managing editor, a new position on the News board created by a revision of the constitution. A News pin will be awarded this position annually.

The position of copy reader was abolished. The work of this position will be done by associate editor, Margaret Benjamin, '26, is retiring copy reader.

Julia Fay, '27, assistant copy reader; Katharine Blenis, '27, associate editor; Louise D. Gunn, '27, associate editor, and Thelma Brezee, '27, reporter, are promoted to senior associate editors, a new classification created by another constitutional revision which divided the associate editors into two groups, junior and senior associate editors.

These reporters are promoted to be junior associate editors: Adelaide Hollister, '28, Lela Van Schaick, '28, Dorothy Watts, '28. Mary Langdon, '28, a cub, is also promoted to this position.

Bertha Zajan, '27, and Leah Cohen, '28, are retained as reporters. The cub cubs are promoted to be reporters: Ruth McNutt, '27, Kent Pease, '27, Margaret Provost, '27, Kathleen

DR. MOLDENHAWER ENDS Y. W. LECTURE SERIES

"Our Prayer" was the title of the last of a series of four lectures given by Dr. Moldenhawer of Westminster Presbyterian Church, at the meeting of Y. W., held at College Thursday.

"Prayer is the purified expression of the soul," said Dr. Moldenhawer, in urging the students to consider seriously that "more things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

At this meeting, the installation of the new cabinet took place.

Ethel Dubois, in a short impressive ceremony, formally became president.

The other members of Y. W. cabinet are as follows: vice-president, Hilda Sarr, '27; secretary, Margaret Palst, '27; treasurer, Mildred Lansley, '29; undergraduate representative, Margaret Stoutenburgh, '28; chairman of meetings, Ruth Emory, '27; music, Ruth Lane, '28; membership, Georgia Maat, '27; correspondence, Kathleen Donohy, '28; social secretary, Hilda Sarr, '27; assistant secretary, Dorothy Watts, '28; business manager, Margaret Benjamin, '26.

Doughty, '28, Ruth Flanagan, '28, Mildred Gabel, '28, Ruth G. Moore, '28, Gertrude Braslow, '29, Rose Dransky, '29, William M. French, '29, Mollie Kaufman, '29, May Kliwen, '29, Florence Koen, '29, Bessie Lapedes, '29, Lorena Marcus, '29, Elizabeth Pulver, '29, Caroline Schleich, '29, Robert J. Shillinglaw, Jr., '29, Vera Belle Wellott, '29.

In the business department, Dorothy Handlon, '27, Erwin Baker, '27, Katherine Saxton, '28, Francis E. Griffin, '28, Anne Holroyd, '28, Thomas P. Fallon, '29, and Mildred Lansley, '29, were promoted to be assistant business managers.

In the subscription, Ruth Kelley, '28, was made assistant subscription manager.

Anne Koff, '26, and Joyce Persons, '26, are retiring associate editors. Elnah Krieg, '26, retires as reporter.

The list of promotions was the longest in the News' history. Promotions, the board announced, were, as always, made on merit. Van Kleeck, the editor-in-chief, was first of the staff in amount of copy in the paper this year. In the tabulation made of the issues from September to the middle of April, he contributed 491 inches. Barkley, associate managing editor-elect, was second with 174 inches, and also conducted one section of the news-writing class. Brezee, who was promoted from a reportership to be a senior associate editor, followed with 151 inches. Higgins, new managing editor was fourth with 140 and also did a major part of the year's proof-reading. Blenis, Fay and Gunn, all promoted to be senior associate editors, were next in order.

Zimmerman, business manager-elect, led her department in amount of advertising sold. Similar standards were followed in the other promotions.

Several of the staff are also employed on other newspapers. Brezee is State College reporter for the Albany Times Union and Van Kleeck occupies a similar position for the Albany Evening News and the Knickerbocker Press. Zajan corresponds for the Schenectady Gazette. Shillinglaw is also employed by the Times Union. Many of the staff are former editors of high school newspapers, and many zincs.

MUSIC ASSOCIATION
SPRING CONCERT GIVEN;
CANDLYN IS DIRECTOR

The Music Association under direction of T. Frederick H. Candlyn, presented its Spring Concert in the College auditorium, Saturday evening, May 15. The orchestra, the women's chorus and the mixed chorus each presented several groups of selections.

The assisting artist for the evening, Earle Hummel, violinist, was accompanied by his brother, Stanley Hummel. Mr. Hummel is well-known to Albany audiences and was enthusiastically received by the students. The technic displayed by Mr. Hummel in playing "Spanish Dance, No. 8," by Sarasate won great applause. The program ended with the singing of the Alma Mater by the entire audience, led by Professor Candlyn.

Accuracy, Initiative Keys to Journalistic Success, Barkley Says, Sketching News' History for "Cubs"

"Accuracy and initiative are the keys to success on the News staff," Sara Barkley, '27, associate editor, declared at the meeting of the News' newswriting class devoted to a discussion of the college newspaper. The News has gradually yet surely improved, Miss Barkley said. She compared the News as it was in 1917, when the first issue was published, with those succeeding years to the present time.

"October 4, 1927, will be the News' tenth birthday," Miss Barkley said. "The paper started as a project of the class of 1918, under the editorship of Alfred Dedricke. At first it was financed by advertisements and subscriptions. Editorials and jokes were featured. In the spring of 1917, the News was taken over by the college and it has remained a college project since, supported by a part of the student budget.

"President A. R. Brubacher has never ceased to encourage college students interested in this work," Miss Barkley continued, "and its success is to a great extent due to this encouragement." Dr. Harry W. Hastings, now chairman of the English department, organized a Press club also.

Miss Barkley said the number of candidates for positions on the News staff is rapidly increasing. This year there are about thirty cub reporters, more than ever before.

"Promotion of staff members only through merit is one of the News' mottoes and one of the main reasons why the News is becoming a bigger success each year," she concluded.
