HEAD COACH MARY-FRANCES MONROE

Mary-Frances Monroe enters her fourth year as head women's soccer coach at the University at Albany. She previously served as an assistant coach for the Great Danes in 2005.

Monroe has led the team to 13 victories and its two winningest seasons on the NCAA's highest stage. In 2008, the Great Danes stayed in contention for their first bid to the six-team league tournament until the final weekend of the regular season. Furthermore, freshmen Rebecca Lee and Kendra Harrell-Vigil earned spots on the league's all-rookie squad. The 2007 team finished 5-10-3 overall and posted its highest winning percentage since joining Division I in 1999. Teresa Boring became the first Great Dane to be named the America East Conference Rookie of the Year. In 2006, the Great Danes finished with an overall record of 5-13-1. The squad broke single-season records for wins (5), points (64) and assists (16) while matching the school record for goals scored (24).

A four-year college All-American at the University of Connecticut and UCLA, Monroe was a candidate for both the Hermann Trophy and M.A.C. Awards, which are given to the best female collegiate soccer player in the country. During her freshman year, Monroe set UConn's single-season school record with 65 points and finished fourth among national leaders. She was named the Big East Conference Rookie of the Year and earned first-team all-conference honors. Monroe, who was selected Freshman of the Year by Soccer America, finished her three years at UConn with 117 points, which ranks among the school's all-time leaders. She spent her senior year at UCLA, where she tallied 12 goals and four assists.

Monroe has earned nine caps with the United States Women's National Team. She was also a member of the United States Women's U-21 National Team that won the Nordic Cup in 2000.

Monroe is currently playing in the WPS for the Boston Breakers after being named the 2008 WPSL East Player of the Year as a member of the New England Mutiny. Her other professional stints include time in the WUSA with the Philadelphia Charge and Boston Breakers as well as KIF Örebro in Sweden.

A native of Northport, N.Y., Monroe was a two-time Scholastic All-American at Northport High School. She scored 85 goals and added 43 assists while leading her team to the New York State championship in 1996. Monroe currently holds a USSF "B" Coaching License. She earned her bachelor's degree in sociology in 2003 at UCLA.

THE MONROE FILE

- Has guided the Great Danes to their two winningest seasons ever since joining the Division I ranks.
- Has coached one America East Conference Rookie of the Year award winner and four all-rookie team selections.
- Made nine appearances and six starts for the U.S. women's national team.
- Played professionally in the WUSA and just recently in the WPS with the Boston Breakers.
- Named the WPSL's East Player of the Year in 2008 after leading the league in goals, assists and points.
- Four-time All-American at the University of Connecticut (1998-2000) and UCLA (2001).
- Three-time candidate for the Hermann Trophy and M.A.C. Award, given to the national player of the year.
- Named the Soccer America and Big East Conference Rookie of the Year (1998).

ASSISTANT COACH KRISTIN SHAW

Kristin Shaw is in her fourth year as an assistant coach with the University at Albany women's soccer team. She has helped guide the program to its two winningest seasons ever at the Division I level. After recording just 12 victories in a seven-year span, the Great Danes have won 13 matches in three years with Shaw on the sidelines.

Shaw currently coaches the Guilderland Soccer Club's under-14 and under-12 girls' teams after leading the under-11 squad in 2007-08. She also works with Region I Olympic Development Program (ODP) as a staff member at the under-13 level. In addition, UAlbany's top assistant coached the Colorado Springs Premier girls' soccer teams from 2004 to 2006. As a player, she helped lead the New England Mutiny to the 2007 Women's Premier Soccer League Finals and played with the Colorado Springs Sabers in 2006.

Shaw graduated from the University of Washington where she lettered in soccer with a bachelor's degree in English in 2000. She received her master's degree in finance from the University of Colorado in 2004 and holds a NSCAA National License and a NSCAA Advanced National Diploma.

GRADUATE ASSISTANT COACH GENEVA SILLS

Geneva Sills begins her first season as a graduate assistant coach with the UAlbany women's soccer program. She will be responsible for overseeing the training and development of the Great Dane goalkeepers.

Sills comes to UAlbany from Colorado College, where she was a two-time captain and goalkeeper for its Division I women's soccer program which competes in Conference USA. She finished her career with a record of 40-24-7 in 73 appearances and 72 starts. The native of Evanston, Ill. also recorded 22 shutouts, an .830 save percentage and a 1.00 goals against average to help the Tigers post three winning seasons and make an appearance in the 2006 NCAA Tournament.

Sills earned a bachelor's degree in fine arts from Colorado College in 2009. She is currently pursuing her master of fine arts in sculpture at UAlbany.

2009 SEASON OUTLOOK

After posting a Division I program record for victories in 2006 and 2007, the University at Albany women's soccer team stayed in contention for its first bid to the America East Conference Tournament until the final weekend of the regular season last year. Head coach Mary-Frances Monroe, who enters her fourth season at the helm of the program and fifth overall, is hoping to break through the barrier this fall and reach the postseason for the first time in school history.

In addition to bringing in the program's largest recruiting class in her tenure with 11 players, including eight Olympic Development Program (ODP) players and four 2008 NSCAA/adidas All-Region II selections, the squad returns eight of its 11 starters and nearly all of its scoring production. Teresa Boring, the 2007 America East rookie of the year, as well as Rebecca Lee and Kendra Harrell-Vigil, a pair of 2008 conference all-rookie team selections, are among the returnees.

To prepare for the upcoming campaign, the team had one of its longest and most demanding spring seasons in program history. The biggest highlight was winning a tournament played at Varsity Field with victories over Colgate, a Patriot League Tournament participant, Syracuse of the Big East Conference and Saint Rose, which advanced to the NCAA Division II Final Four last year.

"We had a competitive spring schedule to make our team better," Monroe stated. "Earning wins over top programs gave our girls confidence that they can compete against great teams and win."

The team will once again be very young this year. There are two seniors, two juniors, nine sophomores and 11 freshmen. Seniors Jaclyn Rosada and Ashley Tirabassi, the team's co-captains, and Boring, have all been starters since they were freshmen. Five of the nine sophomores are also returning starters and several others played key roles and saw lots of playing time as first-year players last season. Even though the Great Danes are going to field the youngest team in the America East Conference and one of the youngest in the nation, Monroe believes the amount of game experience which all of the returners have will blend in well with her latest recruiting class and allow the team to be competitive.

SENIOR CLASS

"Ashley and Jaclyn enter their senior year being two of the most successful student-athletes that have ever come through the UAlbany program. Ashley encompasses a competitive spirit that should inspire the rest of the team to leave everything on the field. Jaclyn is the most consistent player that we have ever had. She is very versatile and could play any position for us on the field. She will step up to any role we give her," Monroe said.

Monroe is looking for Rosada and Tirabassi to lead the team and instill a tradition that began three years ago as members of Monroe's first recruiting class. Both players are forwards who have never missed a match, while Rosada has yet to miss a start.

Rosada, who has also played in the midfield during her career, will look to continue to show her versatility as a back. She has rarely come off the field in each of her four years, and does all the little things that don't show up in a box score. Rosada, who Monroe described as the unsung hero of the team since she was a freshman, has recorded six goals and four assists in her career.

Tirabassi is on the verge of becoming the most prolific scorer in program history. She needs just four goals, three assists and five points to break the all-time school records in each category. After registering seven goals and four assists in her first two seasons, Tirabassi broke out last year by netting a team-high six goals to go along with three assists.

JUNIOR CLASS

"Teresa will vie for playing time up top. She brings height and size to our team that compliments our other forwards. When given the opportunity, we will look for her to create dangerous chances in the box. We are also looking for Kayla Johnson to contribute up top," Monroe said.

Boring was the program's first player to earn America East rookie of the year honors two years ago. The forward already has 12 goals, including four game winners, and three assists in two seasons to her credit. Like Tirabassi, she is on pace to break several of the school's scoring records. Kayla Johnson will also look to make contributions on the front line.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

"We are expecting our sophomore class to continue to lead by example. Having significant playing time their freshman year will enable them to be more confident and help our large freshman class this year. We are expecting each and every one of our sophomores to step into big roles this fall," Monroe said.

Katie Grant, who plays multiple positions, accumulated seven of her eight points last year versus America East opponents.

Five members of the sophomore class started as freshmen last season, and all of them made at least three starts. With all this playing experience between them, Monroe is looking for this group to act more as upperclassmen on and off the field.

Leading the way among the second-year players should be Rebecca Lee and Kendra Harrell-Vigil, who were each named to the league's all-rookie squad last year. Lee finished her freshman campaign with five goals and a team-high four assists. The creative midfielder has been starting ever since the second match of the 2008 season when she netted the equalizing tally against Colgate to force overtime and later set up Tirabassi's golden goal in the extra frame. She also scored twice in the final match of the regular season. Harrell-Vigil, a defender, started every match for the Great Danes last season and netted two goals. Monroe described her as a very solid player who is fantastic at getting forward into the attack.

The other returning starters are midfielder Chrissy Klepper and defenders Katie Norwood and Jenna Burke. Monroe praised Klepper, who made 14 starts last year, for her outstanding leadership qualities as a competitor and a teammate. The head coach will look for her to fill many roles this season. Norwood started every match on the left side for the Great Danes last year. An excellent one-on-one defender, she came to UAlbany from the nation's top-ranked high school program. Burke got the nod to start in every match except Senior Day as a redshirt freshman in 2008. She will continue to act as an anchor in the middle of the back line.

Forward Katie Grant, goalkeeper Cate Crenson, forward Makenzie Baratta and midfielder Nicole Berard round out the list of sophomores with starting experience. Grant, who can also step back and play defense, accumulated seven of her eight points last season against league opponents. She most notably scored the game-winning goal and set up Boring's insurance tally in the closing minutes in leading the Great Danes to their first victory over New Hampshire. Crenson started the first eight matches last year. She was credited as the winning keeper in two of the first four matches, which included a double overtime road victory against Colgate. A vocal leader, she was able to gain valuable experience during the spring season. Baratta is one of the fastest players on the team who earned a starting role at the end of last season. Monroe hopes her speed will unbalance opposing defenses to create scoring opportunities. Berard is one of the most creative players on the team with a niche to find seams through and behind the defensive line, which should help the Great Danes be successful in the attacking third part of the field.

FRESHMAN CLASS

"We have a very competitive team with the addition of our strong freshman class that will help guide us to much success. We are expecting each and every one of our freshmen to step into big roles this fall," Monroe said.

This season's highly-touted freshman class fills needs at every position for the Great Danes. The group includes forwards, five midfielders, a goalkeeper and five players who can play on the back line when needed.

Chelsea DeVerna and Olivia Guy, both NSCAA/adidas All-Region II picks, will look to make immediate contributions on the front line. DeVerna, the Suffolk County Player of the Year, finished her high school career with 40 goals, including 19 as a senior, to garner Class AA all-state first-team laurels. Guy, a tall and athletic forward who was also a Section V champion in the long jump and triple jump, was a Class AA fourth-team selection who led her team to state title and finished her career with 76 goals and 41 assists.

Maggie DeVerna and Casey Marks, another pair of NSCAA/adidas All-Region II selections, and Despina Psomopoulos highlight the talented crop of newcomers in the midfield. DeVerna is a two-time Class AA all-state selection. Marks, who can play practically anywhere on the field, finished her high school career with 35 goals and 35 assists despite being a more defensive-minded midfielder. Psomopoulos was a goal-scoring machine who was named the Queens County Player of the Year as well as her league's player of the year multiple times after amassing 75 career goals and 42 assists.

Jess Baccaglioni, Regina Nowicki and Julianne Hayes will all be battling for time in the back. All three freshmen played significant roles for winning high school programs. Baccaglioni, a player with great field vision who led her high school team to three consecutive Class A state championships, can close opposing players down and place balls in the to set up goals. Nowicki, another very intelligent player, helped her high school garner a national ranking after winning the sectional championship and advancing to the state title match. She also won a national championship with her club team. Hayes, who won four league championships in high school, will play on the outside. In addition to her commitment to defend, she will also look to get involved in the team's attack.

If goalkeeper Breanna Maggio, another all-state pick, got the starting nod from Monroe in the opener against Sacramento State, it would come as no surprise. A five-year starter who was the first eighth grader to make the varsity squad at Wayne Central, she registered 46 shutouts in 100 matches and made 467 saves while eclipsing school records to shutouts and goals against average. Maggio also led the Rochester Junior Rhinos to a pair of state titles and a national championship on the club scene.

Midfielder Danielle DelNero and Lily Honor, a midfielder and defender, will also look to make strong contributions to the program. DelNero was a three-time all-division honoree as well as an all-conference selection in high school. She brings a strong work ethic which pushes her teammates to improve every day. DelNero, who finished her high school career with 26 goals and 14 assists, led her team to three consecutive Class AA Section IV championships. Honor's playing experience ranges from playing at the high school level for three seasons to the Mamaroneck Junior Soccer Panthers at the club level. She is also one of eight freshmen who was a member of her area's New York State Olympic Development Program. Honor has strong technical skills and a tactical understanding of the game which Monroe believes will allow her to succeed at the collegiate level.

THE SCHEDULE

"Each year we look to make a schedule as competitive as we possibly can. We are excited about the teams we are playing this fall. They are all very talented teams that will allow our players to compete, get better and find ultimate success. The America East Conference is a highly respected conference. We hope to find that we have two teams make the NCAA Tournament," Monroe said.

This season's 18-match schedule features includes non-conference dates against five opponents which finished with a winning record last season. Nine of the matches will be played at Varsity Field.

UAlbany's 10-game non-conference slate begins with a trip to California for a pair of matches against two opponents the program has never faced before. The Great Danes kick things off at Sacramento State on Friday, Aug. 28 and conclude the West Coast swing at Pacific on Sunday, Aug. 30.

The Great Danes will return to the Capital Region for two dates at Varsity Field. UAlbany will host Iona in its home opener on Friday, Sept. 4 at 4 p.m. Two days later, the squad will look to avenge a narrow loss on a last-minute goal to Lehigh when the Mountain Hawks visit Varsity Field at 2 p.m.

UAlbany will continue its schedule with three consecutive road dates against Atlantic 10 Conference foes. The squad will visit Massachusetts on Wednesday, Sept. 9 before heading to Philadelphia to face La Salle on Friday, Sept. 11 and Temple on Sunday, Sept. 13.

The Great Danes' non-conference portion of the schedule concludes with home matches against crosstown-rival Siena, Niagara and Colgate. Siena visits on Wednesday, Sept. 16, the Purple Eagles come to town on Friday, Sept. 18 and the Patriots make the trek on Sunday, Sept. 20.

UAlbany begins America East Conference play on the road against Vermont on Sunday, Sept. 27. The Great Danes also have road matches against New Hampshire, UMBC and Stony Brook. The squad's conference home opener at Varsity Field will be on Thursday, Oct. 1 against Binghamton at 3 p.m. UAlbany will also welcome Boston University, the two-time reigning conference tournament champion, as well as Hartford and Maine.

The top six teams at the end of the regular season will qualify for the America East tournament. The winner will receive an automatic bid to the NCAA Tournament, while the other contending teams will be eligible for an at-large selection.

AMERICA EAST CONFERENCE

Founded: 1979 (as ECAC North, men's basketball only), 1988-89 (all sports)

Membership (year joined): Albany (2001), Binghamton (2001), Boston University (1979), Hartford (1985), Maine (1979), UMBC (2003), New Hampshire (1979), Stony Brook (2001), Vermont (1979)

Now in its third decade of operation, America East has evolved into one of the most comprehensive NCAA Division I conferences with a commitment to broad-based, competitive athletics programs, complementing the academic integrity and missions of the member institutions.

Progressive in its approach to its more than 3,200 student-athletes, America East recognizes champions in each of its 20 sports: baseball, men's and women's basketball, men's and women's cross country, field hockey, men's and women's indoor track and field, men's and women's lacrosse, men's and women's outdoor track and field, men's and women's soccer, softball, men's and women's swimming and diving, men's and women's tennis, and women's volleyball. America East also conducts the nation's most comprehensive academic recognition program for student-athletes.

With a geographic footprint covering the Mid-Atlantic to Northeast regions of the United States, America East strives to develop champions in academics, athletics and leadership at its nine member institutions: University at Albany, Binghamton University, Boston University, University of Hartford, University of Maine, UMBC, University of New Hampshire, Stony Brook University and University of Vermont.

Academics...

- University of Vermont captured its fifth straight America East Academic Cup in 2009 after its student-athletes registered a cumulative 3.14 grade-point average, which tied the league's best mark ever. Six other schools also earned a 3.0 GPA or better.
- America East's 3,200 student-athletes registered a combined 3.05 GPA during the 2008-09 academic year, and over 60 percent of them were named to America East's Academic Honor Roll for recording a GPA of 3.0 or better.
- Connor Tobin (Vermont), Dan Schultz (Boston University) and Cornelia Carapcea (UMBC) were tabbed ESPN The Magazine Academic All-Americans, while 26 others were All-District selections.
- University of Vermont's Connor Tobin (soccer) and Kristen Millar (lacrosse) were the America East Male and Female Scholar-Athletes of the Year, respectively.
- Twenty-one student-athletes were recognized as America East Scholar-Athletes and 167 received All-Academic recognition in their respective sport.
- Nineteen America East teams were publicly recognized by the NCAA for their multiyear Academic Progress Rate (APR), finishing among the top 10 percent of teams in the nation, with nine programs receiving perfect scores of 1000.

Athletics...

- Boston University won the Stuart P. Haskell, Jr. Commissioner's Cup for the fourth straight year and seventh time in the last eight seasons after capturing a conference-best seven championships, four regular-season titles and four runner-up finishes during the 2008-09 season.
- Four America East programs won postseason games in 2008-09: Boston University men's soccer (NCAA), Boston University women's basketball (WNIT), Vermont men's basketball (CBI) and Boston University softball (NCAA).
- Nineteen America East student-athletes earned All-America recognition, including one in men's basketball, one in men's soccer, six in men's lacrosse, four in women's lacrosse and nine in cross country/track & field.
- America East improved 10 positions in the men's basketball conference RPI to No. 17, its fifth-best finish ever, and sent two teams (Binghamton, NCAA; Vermont, CBI) to the postseason for the fifth time since 2003.
- Three women's basketball teams – Boston University, Hartford and Vermont – reached the postseason, tying a conference record set in 1999.
- Boston University defeated Fairleigh Dickinson in the first round of the NCAA Men's Soccer Championship to give America East at least one NCAA win in seven of the last eight years, and the conference RPI (No. 6) was America East's highest ever.
- Boston University became the first women's soccer champion to complete an unbeaten and untied conference slate since 2000 and made its fourth straight NCAA appearance.
- UMBC (No. 9), which won its second straight America East Men's Lacrosse Championship, and Stony Brook (No. 20) were ranked in the final USILA national poll, while Albany was also ranked during the season.
- Sarah Dalton, a first-team All-American in women's lacrosse, led Boston University to its fifth straight conference title. The Terriers (No. 11) and New Hampshire (No. 20) were ranked in the final IWFLCA national poll.
- Stony Brook women's cross country competed at the NCAA Women's Cross Country Championship for the second straight season.
- Boston University reached the championship round of its NCAA Softball Regional with wins over Iowa and Auburn, matching the best finish ever by an America East team.

Leadership...

- University of Vermont women's lacrosse standout Kristen Millar was selected the 2009 America East Woman of the Year for a distinguished career in the areas of academic achievement, athletics excellence, service and leadership.
- Hartford tennis player Rich Leiberman and the Maine softball team were named the America East Male and Female Sportsmanship Award winners.
- University at Albany appointed George M. Philip as its 18th president, while Stony Brook University named Dr. Samuel Stanley its next president.
- Patrick Chambers, who helped lead Villanova to a Final Four as a men's basketball assistant coach in 2009, took over as Boston University's next head coach. Binghamton's Kevin Broadus, New Hampshire's Bill Herrion and Stony Brook's Steve Pikiell all received contract extensions.
- Several former America East athletes have made a positive impact in the professional ranks:
- Three-time All-America East selection Jose Juan Barea (Northeastern) averaged 7.8 points and 3.4 assists in 79 games for the Dallas Mavericks in 2008-09, while three-time America East Player of the Year Malik Rose (Drexel) played in 38 games for the New York Knicks and Oklahoma City Thunder.
- Former Hartford star Vin Baker and three-time America East Player of the Year Reggie Lewis (Northeastern), who captained the Boston Celtics at the time of his premature death, combined to make five NBA All-Star appearances during their careers.
- Current women's basketball coaches Jennifer Rizzotti (Hartford) and Cindy Blodgett (Maine) have appeared in WNBA action.
- Carlos Pena, the 1998 Baseball Scholar-Athlete at Northeastern, has made an impact each of the past three seasons in Tampa Bay, earning American League Comeback Player of the Year honors in 2007, winning an American League Gold Glove at first base in 2008 and making his first All-Star appearance in 2009, while the Minnesota Twins' Joe Nathan, a former Academic All-American at Stony Brook, played in his fourth Mid-Summer Classic.
- Seven former America East men's lacrosse standouts appeared in the Major League Lacrosse All-Star Game in 2009, including Merrick Thomson, a four-time all-conference selection at Albany who was named the 2008 Warrior Most Improved Player. John Grant (Delaware), the 1999 America East Player of the Year, was the league's Most Valuable Player last season.
- Albany's Steward Ceus became the third America East player taken in the Major League Soccer Draft, going 37th overall to the Colorado Rapids. Fellow former Great Dane Bouna Coundoul recorded 16 career shutouts in 52 career games for the Rapids before signing with the New York Red Bulls in July.

Give back to the community that supports you by participating in programs such as: Paw Pals, the Student Athlete Advisory Board, the Great Danes Reading Program & local school visits, among others.

Compliance Guidelines for Boosters

For the benefit of the many alumni, fans and booster club members who are so active in supporting and assisting the the Great Danes throughout the year, UAlbany Athletic Compliance would like to remind everyone of a few definitions and rules that apply to all athletic representatives and boosters.

UAlbany is committed to observing the NCAA guidelines concerning representatives of athletic interests (aka boosters) and institutional control. Our institutional responsibility to rules compliance includes responsibility for actions of all individuals and organizations engaged in activities promoting UAlbany's athletics interests.

Institutional Control -- It is the responsibility of UAlbany to control its intercollegiate athletics program in compliance with the rules and regulations of the NCAA.

Responsibility -- UAlbany's responsibility for the conduct of its program includes the responsibility for the actions of its staff members and for the actions of any other individual, booster or organization engaged in activities promoting the athletic interests of the institution.

Serve As A Resource -- Help support UAlbany Athletics by serving as a resource for community service, career development or other programming activity.

Available Resources -- Financial Aid/Scholarship Materials, Graduate School Information, Individualized Counseling, Career Fairs, Computer Lab Access, Internship & Job Postings

Student-Athlete Advisory Committee -- The purpose of the Student-Athlete Advisory Committee (SAAC) is to serve as liaisons between the athletic administration and student-athletes. The members of SAAC act as the "voice" of the student-athletes and disseminate information given to them, by administrators, to their respective teams. SAAC is a vehicle for student-athletes to improve upon student-athlete welfare, as well as help coordinate community service, life skills and various other activities for the athletic department.

Compliance -- UAlbany must monitor its program to assure compliance and to identify and report to the NCAA such instances in which compliance has not been achieved. An institution found to have violated NCAA rules is subject to disciplinary and corrective actions as determined by the NCAA.

Athletic Representative/Booster -- You are considered to be a UAlbany athletic representative if you are a present or past member of a UAlbany booster club or agency that promotes the intercollegiate athletics program; have made financial contributions to the athletic department or to an athletic booster organization; are, or have been providing benefits (e.g., summer jobs, meals, etc.) to enrolled student-athletes, their family members or friends; are, or have been involved in any manner of promoting the UAlbany intercollegiate athletics program.

Prospective Student-Athlete -- A prospective student-athlete is a student who has started classes for the ninth grade or above, including students in prep schools and junior colleges as well as students who have officially withdrawn from a four-year institution and plan to transfer to another institution. In addition, a student who has not started classes for the ninth grade becomes a prospective student-athlete if the institution or a booster provides the individual or the individual's relatives or friends with any financial assistance or benefits that the institution does not provide to prospective students in general.

Strategically located in the state capital of New York, the University at Albany is an internationally recognized public research university that puts the world within reach for approximately 18,000 students.

Outstanding faculty, an innovative curriculum, and student-centered services provide students with a strong foundation for academic and career success. Students benefit from UAlbany's location and rich diversity, with nearly 200 undergraduate, master's and doctoral degree programs offered through nine schools and colleges.

More than 300 study-abroad programs help prepare students for the global economy, and extensive internship opportunities in New York's bustling capital and surrounding region offer real-world experience. Approximately 40 percent of undergraduates participate in faculty-mentored research. An Honors College offers opportunities for students to work closely with faculty and achieve at the highest levels.

The University boasts academic strengths in sociology, demography, education, anthropology, social work, clinical psychology, creative writing, earth and atmospheric sciences, ethics, public policy, criminal justice and nanoscale science. Majors in public health, journalism, and documentary studies were recent additions to an already comprehensive undergraduate program.

The latest rankings of graduate programs by U.S. News and World Report place 10 programs in the nation's top 30. The School of Criminal Justice is ranked No. 2. Programs in Rockefeller College of Public Affairs and Policy are ranked in the nation's top 10. The School of Social Welfare is ranked 12th. The College of Nanoscale Science and Engineering, located in the most advanced research complex of its kind, is ranked first in the world by Small Times magazine as the leading college for nanotechnology and microtechnology.

Both the UAlbany campus and the region are bustling with extracurricular opportunities. Students participate in more than 150 student clubs, honor societies, and other campus-related groups, and choose from a busy calendar of campus events, including spirited Division I athletic competition in 19 sports and a rich array of cultural activities.

Since its founding in 1844, the University has graduated generations of leaders in all fields. Today, more than two-thirds of undergraduates go on for advanced degrees, and acceptances to law and medical schools are above the national average.

UAlbany plays a major role in the economic development of the Capital Region and New York State, particularly through its programs in nanosciences and biomedical sciences.
