Assm. Henderson Urges Wider Use of Armories At Employees' Conference

"Greater use should be made of National Guard armories throughout the State," according to Assemblyman Charles D. Henderson of Hornell. This was the subject of his talk as principal speaker at the dinner meeting which concluded the annual conference of the New York State Armory Employees Association of the Civil Service Employees Association, held recently at the Sherwood Hotel in Hornell.

"It would be a sound investment," he said, "for the State to provide adequate pay and sufficient manpower to open our armories up so the general public would have a better appreciation of their importance."

In cases of emergency, he pointed out, the people realize their great value, but, he said, "the armory generally is taken for granted as just another Government building."

Mr. Henderson complimented the armory employees on their fine spirit of cooperation in civic activities, but pointed out that not enough people realize the fine contribution and service they make to the benefit and security of the community, the State and the Nation.

"The use of our armories," he concluded, "can be a great benefit not only to our youth but to our senior citizens as well, for recreation and the development of community activities."

Two-Day Session

More than 40 delegates attended the two-day session. The opening meeting was devoted to committee work in preparation for the business meeting.

Principal speakers at the opening meeting were Captain Howard Van Voorhis, a representative of the Adjutant General's Office in Albany; Jack M. DeLisi, New York City, the Association's representative to the C.S.E.A., and Henry Galpin, salary research analyst from the C.S.E.A.

They discussed the classification setup for armory employees which will probably be in effect shortly.

Millard H. Marlowe, Watertown Conference president, conducted the business sessions. The Armory Employees Association has seven chapters with more than 850 members throughout the State.

Emergency Meeting Held By Nassau Non-Teachers In School Budget Crisis

By RICHARD EVANS, Jr.

An emergency meeting of more than 1,000 members of the Non-Teaching Section of the Nassau Chapter, Civil Service Employees Association, was held in the Hempstead Elks' Club June 20 to find a way to protect their jobs.

About 1,500 non-teaching school employees in 11 Nassau County-area school districts face possible layoffs or loss of hard-won pay raises and even regular yearly salary increments, as a result of non-ratification by taxpayers of the schools' budgets. Minimum raises of $200 a year were won in the last legislative session for all State employees, through vigorous campaigning by the C.S.E.A., which has 87,000 public employee members in New York State. In all, 12 school districts had their proposed budgets defeated in the May voting. Of these, only West Babylon has thus far been able to get its budget approved by revote. Budgets in Commack, South Huntington, Babylon, Smithtown and Northport in Suffolk, and Roosevelt and Plainview-Old Bethpage in Nassau, were defeated again this month.

Great Neck, Wantagh and Coney Island tried a second time last week. A second vote is to be held in Levittown on June 25. If budgets are not approved by July 1, the beginning of the fiscal year, the school districts will get austerity budgets set by the Education Commissioner in compliance with State law.

If this happens, there is danger that school officials will scrap planned pay raises and regular salary increments for all non-teaching personnel, and lay-off many of them temporarily.

According to John P. Jehu, director of the law division of the State Education Department, districts that impose austerity budgets must lay off all cafeteria workers, bus drivers and most custodial and maintenance employees. A skeleton staff of custodians can be retained, he said, to do essential chores.

Although details have yet to be worked out, the layoffs appear virtually certain under terms of the State Education policy. It prohibits school districts with austerity budgets from spending teachers' salaries and essential operating expenses.

Nassau Chapter President Irving Flaumenbaum and Edward Perrot, chairman of the Chapter's Non-Teaching Section, said it all boiled down to this: "Non-Teaching employees in the austerity-budget schools might have to bear the whole brunt of the financial squeeze. At least half of them may get lay-offs, and the rest may not only be denied the new pay raise, but may not even get their regular scheduled yearly increments. The teachers, on the other hand, will not feel the squeeze at all.

"While we certainly don't want to see the teachers hurt, we are even more anxious that our non-teaching members should not be hurt. But if the austerity budgets go into effect, the teachers should not be favored at the expense of the non-teaching employees."

Mr. Flaumenbaum said that if the treatment of non-teaching personnel as against teachers is only a matter of State Education Department policy, then this policy should be changed in order that these non-teachers may also get their normal increments and the new pay raises.

C.S.E.A. President John F. Powers and other Association officers are also working on the problem direct from C.S.E.A. headquarters in Albany. Mr. Powers sent a two-page letter last Friday to State Education Commissioner James E. Allen, Jr., expressing the Association's grave concern over the outcome of the problem.

"A school program cannot be turned on and off like a water tap," said Mr. Powers. "Perhaps the greatest asset an employer has is his work force. The elimination of salary increments or other justified pay raises could not but strike a crippling blow at the morale of that work force. Wholesale layoffs would utterly devastate employee morale."

Western Conference Spring Meeting June 27

The Newark State School Chapter, Civil Service Employees Association, will be host to the Association's Western Conference spring meeting at 2:30 P.M. June 27 in the Newark Elks Club.

Time has been reserved for a tour of the Jackson Perkins rose garden. Cocktails at 5:30 and dinner at 8:30 P.M.

CSEA President Powers, Assm. Van Duzer, Address Southern Conference Meet

"For years the Civil Service Employees Association has tried to be the largest organization anywhere representing civil service employees," according to John F. Powers, CSEA president. "We have now reached the point where we are the largest and the best in the field, and it is primarily due to the hard work done by the conferences, chapters and individual members."

The remarks were made at the annual meeting and election of officers of the Association's Southern Conference, held last week at Bear Mountain Inn, Bear Mountain.

"Our association recently had to increase the dues a small amount," he continued, "but if it were not for efforts on the individual, chapter and conference level, dues for an organization of this scope would be many times what they are now."

The next speaker, Assemblyman Wilson C. Van Duzer of Orange County, an honorary member of the Conference, spoke on the financial problems faced by retired employees.

"How are we going to take care of these people who retired on the basis of their earnings in by-gone days, with pensions they cannot possibly live on now in the face of inflation?" he asked.

"I believe that in solving this problem we have the friendly cooperation of Governor Rockefeller. I think he is friendly to civil service."

Assemblyman Van Duzer, in closing his address, thanked the many officers of the Southern Conference who, over the years, have helped him with problems arising during the legislative session that concerned civil service legislation.

The setting of the Conference's installation dinner was in commemoration of Flag Day, with decorations in red, white and blue.

July 3 Off? Depends On Where You Work

Getting a paid holiday July 3rd? About three-fourths of New York's private employees will. If you are a civil service employee, it all depends on where you work, and the title of your job.

Many fortunate ones will have a three-day week-end—July 3rd through 5th. Many who will have to work on the 3rd or 4th will get time off later. Many had a choice of Memorial or Independence Day for an extra day off. And many will work as though there were no holiday.

July 3rd as a day off has been approved by both President Eisenhower for Federal workers and by Governor Rockefeller for New York State employees, with exceptions. The exceptions run into large numbers.

Post offices will be open the usual hours and regular deliveries will be made on July 3. Operations will go on during Saturday.

However, stated Acting New York Postmaster Robert K. Christenberry, those who work Friday and Saturday will get equivalent time off later on. They must schedule one day off within one week, and the other in 30 days. Some postal executive offices will shut down.

Governor Rockefeller has announced a special holiday for state employees on July 3. He said, "All state offices will be closed on that day except where skeleton staffs are necessary to maintain essential services. Employees of state institutions and others who must carry on their duties will, however, be given equivalent compensatory time off by arrangement with their department or institution head."

One big group of State workers who will not be off for the 3rd are the uniformed law enforcement employees.

A large percentage of New York City employees are covered by the Standard Leave Regulations of the Career and Salary Plan. These simply state that the employees under C&S don't have to work on any of 11 scheduled holidays, including Memorial Day and the Fourth of July. Saturday being a normal day off, C&S people wouldn't work that day anyhow.

However, the City has permitted them to take a day off with pay on either the Friday before Memorial Day or the Friday before Independence Day.

Work schedules for the City's uniformed forces — Fire Department, Police Department, Correction Department, Sanitation Department — are laid out a year in advance, without special concern for any holiday dates. They simply work their scheduled shifts,

Governor Names New Public Service Aide

ALBANY, June 22 — Ralph A. Lehr of Buffalo has been named to the State Public Service Commission at a salary of $22,000 a year.

In making the appointment, Governor Rockefeller filled a post which has been vacant since the expiration of the term of Glen

R. Bedenkapp in 1957.

Mr. Lehr is Republican chairman of Erie County and a former member of the State Building Code Commission. He has held numerous city and county positions. Prior to his appointment to the PSC, he had retired and was drawing a state pension of about $4,400 a year.

and are off the rest of the time.

Employees on the basis of prevailing rates or per-diem work either 200 or 250 working days a year, and are paid according to the number of days worked. Therefore, an extra day off would come out of their wages. Their wage scale supposedly compensates them for the lack of holidays and sick leave.

Fire Department civilian workers are under the schedule of the Career and Salary Plan, except for per-diem employees. The same holds true for those working for the Housing Authority.

Employees of the Department of Education are largely governed by their pupils' holiday schedules. The school system must maintain a certain number of school days in the year.

Some City employee units not under the Career and Salary Plan follow its provisions for holidays.

Kennedy Busts Acting Ranks in Police Dept.

"Acting" ranks among Police Department captains, lieutenants and sergeants no longer exist, as of last week, since the order by Police Commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy abolishing them.

The 25 acting captains, 62 acting lieutenants and 37 acting sergeants have now reverted to their permanent rank.

Appointment to permanent captain, lieutenant and sergeant is made by the commissioner from a list of candidates who passed City

Civil Service Commission promotion tests. Over the years, some have received "acting" titles, but never from Mr. Kennedy.

At the same time, Commissioner Kennedy issued orders revising and clarifying the duties of these titles. It was stated that the new rules set up clear-cut lines of authority and responsibility, and they make more flexible the assignment and deployment of the Police Force at the commissioner's discretion.

The revised duties as outlined below are:

Captain:

"To command a precinct, or a unit, squad, bureau or office which, in the opinion of the Police Commissioner, because of its importance or responsibilities requires the assignment of a captain; to exact the proper performance of police duty from, and to supervise, subordinate members of the force assigned to the various branches of the department; to make investigations and reports on police conditions and activities; to perform all additional functions prescribed for the rank by relevant laws, Rules and Procedures, orders or directives of the Police Department; and to perform administrative duties in department offices and commands, and special duties or assignments as directed by the Police Commissioner, in his discretion."

Lieutenant:

"To act as a desk officer in a precinct; to exact the proper performance of police duties from, and to supervise, subordinate members of the force assigned to the various branches of the department which in the opinion of the Police Commissioner, because of its importance or responsibilities, requires the assignment of a lieutenant; to make investigations and reports on police conditions and activities; to perform all additional functions prescribed for the rank by relevant laws, Rules and Procedures, orders or directives of the Police Department; and to perform administrative duties in department offices and commands, and special duties or assignments as directed by the Police Commissioner, in his discretion."

5-County P.O. Exams Open For Sub Clerks, Carriers

A five-county post office examination for substitute clerk and carrier has been announced for the area of the Catskills and Mid-Hudson Valley. The counties are Dutchess, Orange, Rockland, Sullivan and Ulster.

No experience or formal education is required. The career jobs start at $2 an hour, and reach $2.42 an hour through annual increases. An extra 10% is paid for night work.

The examination will cover jobs in 104 post offices. Applications will be accepted until further notice.

Bernard Katz, executive secretary of the Board of U.S. Civil Service Examiners at the New York Post Office in Manhattan, stated that there is no residence requirement.

However, Mr. Katz said, certification for jobs with individual first class and second class post offices will go first to residents within the delivery area, and to those already employed there. Priority will next go to those residing in the county, and then to all others who are eligible.

Required is U.S. citizenship and an age of 18 to 70, although 17-year-olds may apply.

This is the first time a single examination will be held for the entire five-county area. Up to now, each post office more or less went after employees on its own, and was limited to a very small area. A similar area-wide examination began a few weeks ago for Suffolk and Nassau Counties on Long Island.

Examinations will be conducted by the Manhattan P.O.'s Board of Civil Service Examiners, by agreement between New York's Acting Postmaster Robert K.

Christenberry, Regional Personnel Manager and Board Chairman C.B.C. Fellows, and CSC Regional Director James P. Googe.

Written tests will be held at central points such as Middletown, Newburgh, Poughkeepsie and Kingston. Candidates will be notified of the time and place. The eligible list established from this examination will be merged with existing registers for these jobs.

Application forms and further information are available at almost any local post office in the five-county area. The completed forms should go to the Board of U.S. Civil Service Examiners, General Post Office, New York 1, N. Y.

People To Do the Job

WHEREVER LARGE SUMS of money are handled, you have to have a strict standard of procedure, strictly kept. Otherwise, you open the door to trouble.

The Support Bureaus of the Domestic Relations Court collected last year more than $16,000,000 for neglected families. That's more than three times the total for 1946, and indications are that it is still going up.

During the dozen years that this work load boomed, the staff of the five Support Bureaus also increased—from 57 to 677 employees. If an employee falls sick, goes on vacation or quits, the Bureau is in a hole. So are the abandoned families who need the support money.

Cash that comes in from the delinquent men must be mailed on the same day. So the understaffed organizations have to cut corners. It is a wonder that big trouble hasn't cropped up yet.

John Warren Hull, Presiding Justice, has warned that if things are allowed to rock along as they are, the Court cannot be held responsible for whatever unpleasant situation develops. More people are badly needed, to let the Bureaus do at least an adequate job.

Vets' Pension, Vets' Compensation—How Do You Tell the Difference?

There is a lot of confusion among veterans about "pension" and "compensation," reports the New York State Division of Veterans Affairs. The terms are not interchangeable, it is stated. There are definite differences.

A veteran's pension is payable to a veteran of World War I, World War II, or the Korean Conflict who is permanently and totally disabled from a disability which is not connected with his service; and which is not the result of the veteran's willful misconduct or vicious habits.

If the veteran has a total and permanent non-service-connected disability, and if he is unemployable and meets the service requirements, the VA will pay him a monthly pension of $66.15. If he is rated permanently and totally disabled for a continuous period of 10 years, or upon reaching the age of 65, and is unemployable, he will receive a pension of $78.75.

Veterans requiring aid and attendance are entitled to an additional pension allowance if they are not being cared for in a VA hospital.

Compensation is payable by the VA to veterans of either wartime or peacetime service, who suffer from a disability of 10% or more which is connected with their service. Peacetime veterans who served under conditions equal to that of war may be entitled to receive compensation at the wartime rate; the peacetime rate amounts to 80% of the wartime rate.

The rates of compensation range from relatively small amounts to substantial sums, depending on degree of disability, anatomical losses of use, and peacetime or wartime service, says the state division.

Personnel Council Elects New Officers

John Lagatt, personnel officer of the New York State Thruway Authority, has been elected chairman of the State Personnel Council. The council is composed of the personnel officers of State departments and agencies.

Elected as members of the executive committee were: John Denn, director of personnel, Department of Taxation and Finance; Sylvester J. Bower, acting director of personnel, Health Department, and William E. Byron, director of personnel, State University of New York.

Three other members of the executive committee will be appointed by the chairman.

Kings DA Clerks Ask Higher Pay

The clerical forces in the Kings County (Brooklyn) District Attorney's office have protested their salary slot and grade in an appeal filed with the State Civil Service Commission.

The employees claim they perform the same duties as the clerks in the New York County (Manhattan) District Attorney's office, the latter are in a higher classification and receive more money. The group is represented by attorney Samuel Resnicoff.

A hearing will shortly be scheduled on the complaint.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

AGREES WITH LEADER ON COST OF LIVING

Editor, The Leader:
Amen to your editorials on the high cost of living! My father had an income just before the war of about $60 a week. And he supported a family of four in pretty good style. Today, a man needs a weekly wage of more than $130 to support a family in the same way.

It's not just the cost of living that has doubled the load on the breadwinner in the past 20 years—the tax bite is bigger. I figured that Dad didn't have to pay much more than 60 cents of his paycheck in taxes. These days, from wages that keep us enjoying the same comforts, we have to pay more than ten cents on the dollar in taxes. It's a funny kind of progress.

J. A. JOHNSTON

CALLS PARK PROMOTIONS UNFAIR AND ILLEGAL

Editor, The Leader:
I sometimes wonder if city civil service is all it's cracked up to be. I work in the Park Department, and do a good job. I have worked there a long time and done a good job and it looks like I can't get the kind of promotion I'm entitled to.

Here the city promoted a whole bunch of people without any examination. They were named park director, assistant park director, director of concessions, director of golf courses, director of mechanical equipment and assistant director of maintenance and operations.

I hear the City is trying to put these jobs into a set-up where no examination is needed, by monkeying around with titles. That is unfair and illegal. Most of the jobs are regular civil service jobs. They are already down on the classification lists.

The thing was heard a few days ago in the Appellate Division. Now I hear the decision will be put off for two or three weeks. Until then, I'm sitting tight.

Delehanty H.S. '59 Graduates In Ceremony

A capacity audience in Town Hall, Manhattan, heard Justice James B. M. McNally of the Appellate Division, 1st Department, at the recent commencement exercises of the Delehanty High School, Jamaica. Justice McNally, a member of the school's Board of Trustees, congratulated the graduates.

Diplomas were presented to 132 graduates. M. J. Delehanty, founder and director, conferred medals and special awards. Bernard B. Galway, principal, announced that New York State Regents Scholarships had been won by William R. O'Neill and George N. Stewart.

It was also announced that the Agnes Cully Memorial Scholarship for 4-years of study at Delehanty High School had been awarded to Judith M. Anderson of the graduating class of St. Stanislaus Kosika parochial school, Brooklyn.

Questions Answered On Social Security

Will I need any proofs other than proof of my age and recent earnings for my social security retirement claims? What about my wife and minor children?

Sometimes other proofs are needed. The exact proofs needed will depend on the circumstances. If your wife is filing at the same time, proof of marriage may be needed. If you or your wife were married previously proof of the termination of the former marriage may be required. When there are minor children, their birth certificates should be brought in. If any of the children are adopted children, a copy of the adoption papers would be necessary.

I was receiving widow's social security benefits from 1957 until May, 1958. I remarried in June of 1958 and my checks were stopped. I heard the law was changed so that I may now qualify for benefits again. Is this true?

The new amendments do make changes in the provisions regarding remarriages. You did not furnish enough information for us to advise you definitely on whether you can now qualify for benefits. You should contact your social security office. They will advise you if you are eligible for benefits under the new rules.

I have been totally disabled 4 months. When should I apply for disability benefits under social security?

If it appears that you will continue disabled indefinitely, you should report to your social security office for filing.

I never worked under social security and never served in the armed forces, nor have I worked in railroad employment. Will social security pay any benefits to my wife if I should die?

No. Nothing is payable under situations of this kind.

Although I am 65, I plan to continue working. I understand that I will qualify for $116 based on my average earnings of $350 a month. Now that the social security tax is being withheld on $4,800 ($400 a month) would a couple of years earnings at that rate qualify me for the new maximum of $127?

No. It is not possible for you to draw the $127 maximum. However, two years of $4,800 earnings would increase your retirement benefits to about $120 a month.

I haven't worked since 1956 and would like to go back to work but find my age is a drawback. Would a company find out your age when sending in social security?

No. Although your age is shown in the social security records, this information is for identification only and is confidential by law.

Law Cases

Sidney M. Stern, counsel, submitted to the New York City Civil Service Commission the following report on law cases:

Court of Appeals

Grottano v Kennedy. Petitioner walked out of a disciplinary hearing and was then charged with insubordination in addition to the original charges. The court held that the commissioner had the right to try petitioner in absentia. He was found guilty and dismissed from the police force. However, the court found that the insubordination charge could not be sustained since the commissioner was not acting in the capacity of superior officer but as judge when he ordered petitioner to proceed to trial. The matter was remitted to the commissioner to redetermine punishment in the light of the charges that have been sustained.

Appellate Division

Patton v N.Y.C. Transit Authority. The court held that there was sufficient and substantial evidence to sustain determination as to petitioner's misconduct, and on examination of the whole record dismissal was not so disproportionate to the offense as to be shocking to one's sense of fairness.

Edelstein v Davis. Petitioner's dismissal was unanimously confirmed and the petition dismissed.

Special Term

Dentino v Schechter. Petitioner, a candidate for promotion to assistant captain in department of marine and aviation, failed to claim credit on his experience paper for certain time during which he claimed employment as an acting captain. He did make such claim after the list was promulgated, but it was denied as the regulations state that no supplemental claim will be allowed. The court held that the refusal to allow the supplemental claim was not arbitrary, capricious or illegal and accordingly dismissed the petition.

Rainbow v Schechter. Classified as "assistant chief accountant" in the comptroller's office, petitioner claims he should have been classified as "chief accountant - comptroller's office". The court ordered a trial of the issues of fact involved.

Blackwell v Kross. After being discharged from his position as correction officer, petitioner brought this proceeding complaining of the severity of the punishment. He had pleaded guilty to three charges of infractions of rules. However, in determining the punishment there had been considered seven prior established infractions and charges relating to the failure to register the purchase and sale of a pistol. The court found no rational basis for disturbing the discharge.

PROCEEDING INSTITUTED

Chernak v Schechter. Petitioner, a supervising claim examiner in comptroller's office, seeks to be classified as principal claim examiner.

Sheridan, et al v Kennedy. Petitioners, patrolmen, sergeants and lieutenants in the police department, seek to review the alleged action of the police commissioner in recurrently and permanently designating members to perform duties of acting sergeant, acting lieutenant and acting captain, respectively.

ACTIVITIES OF STATE EMPLOYEES

Cattaraugus

The Cattaraugus County Chapter, Civil Service Employees Association, will hold a farewell dinner for its president, Edward Catlin, at Holiday Inn, Ellicottville, at 7:30 P.M., Thursday, June 25.

Mr. Catlin has accepted a position with the Water and Sewage Department of the City of Batavia. His new appointment is effective July 15.

"During his two-year term as Chapter president, Ed has made many friends and will be missed throughout the county," said Chapter spokesmen.

The mayor and common council of the City of Olean have approved partial payment of hospitalization for city employees in response to a petition presented by the public relations committee of the Chapter. This is comparable to the plan adopted by the County Board of Supervisors for county workers.

ARMORY EMPLOYEES

Chapter 418 of the Laws of 1959 amends Section 187 of the Military Law with respect to the classification and allocation of Armory employees. The amendment is of more technical than substantive importance. Essentially, it formalizes the relationships that occur when an Armory employee is allocated or reallocated, classified or reclassified, to one of the salary grades provided in Section 187. The section also provides that eligibility of Armory employees for increments shall be determined in the same manner as eligibility of employees allocated under the Civil Service Law, and that the salary after promotion, demotion, transfer or reinstatement, or reallocation shall be determined in the same manner as provided in the Civil Service Law.

ACTIVITIES OF EMPLOYEES IN STATE

Creedmoor

Plans are being made for members of the Creedmoor State Hospital Chapter, Civil Service Employees Association, to attend the C.S.E.A. Metropolitan Conference annual outing at Jones Beach June 27. All Chapter members are invited and are urged to attend. As in past years, a wonderful time should be had by all. The cost of attending will be nominal and it includes the dinner and the use of all recreation facilities at the park.

The Chapter extends its heartfelt sympathy to Mrs. Elizabeth Burbury, supervisor of Building P, on the loss of her husband. Mrs. Burbury is one of the most active members in the Chapter and her late husband attended many of the Chapter's social affairs in the past.

Those magnificent murals on the walls in Building P are the work of one of our attendants. His name is Edward Winiarski. The Chapter finally signed up Bill Bally of Building 39 as one of its members. Both Joe Bucaria and Ed Sottong made a concerted effort to sign him up Welcome aboard to Bill.

Ed Sottong and his son George are spending a month in Florida. He said that anyone can go to Florida in January, but he prefers July because it's cheaper. Charlie Fox was seen recently sunning himself on the Duffy lawn and seems to be nearly recovered from his recent operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Hart are on vacation at his parents' home in Colorado. We asked Mr. Lanzara of maintenance why we have been calling him Frank all these years when his name is Florio, and he said we just weren't educated. Curtis Ferguson of Building P is proud as a peacock of his new Rambler. Helen Poran bought a new battery for her car

PUBLIC EMPLOYEES — HARNESS RACING

The Governor vetoed one bill which we supported. This was a measure which would have permitted a public employee with a salary of less than $7,500 (except for law enforcement officers) who had been employed at harness racing tracks during 1953 to work part time at such harness racing tracks. While this measure did not coincide with the Association measure which would have raised the limit to $7,500 irrespective of previous employment, we did support the Albert bill, Senate Intro. No. 1945, Print No. 4907, which would have at least assisted some public employees in connection with employment at harness racing tracks. The Governor's message in disapproving the legislation reads as follows:

"This bill would permit the employment at harness race tracks of public officers and employees whose government salaries are not more than $7,500 per year, and who were employed at harness race tracks prior to 1954. Presently, only those who receive less than $6,000 may be so employed. Somewhat similar bill were vetoed in 1956 and 1957. A sufficient showing has not been made that this legislation is either necessary or desirable.

"Accordingly, this bill is disapproved."

BILLS WHICH BECAME LAW BUT WERE OPPOSED BY THE ASSOCIATION — PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS — CERTIFIED PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS

Chapter 713 of the Laws of 1959 enacted into law a measure which restricts the practice of Accountancy in the future to two Classes—Certified Public Accountants and Public Accountants. The requirements for Certified Public Accountants are basically what they have always been, but this law requires the enrollment of anyone else who wishes to practice as a Public Accountant. To enroll as a Public Accountant, one must be 21 years of age, a citizen, and a resident of this state. In addition, he must submit evidence that he was engaged in the practice of Accountancy on July 1, 1959 as his principal occupation, or that for six of the last ten years, he, as an employee of the United States, the state, or a political subdivision, performed duties entailing accounting or auditing or the examination or investigation of tax returns.

Anyone who wishes to so enroll must do so on or before October 1, 1959.

Basically, the Association objected to this legislation on the civil service ground that the restrictions with respect to public employees qualifying were more stringent than those for other individuals — that they therefore were discriminated against by the legislation.

On a broader basis, not purely civil service, it was felt both last year and this year that this legislation was the strictest licensure bill that we had ever seen, and that it assures monopoly in the practice of accounting to certified public accountants after approximately one generation has expired. While we know, utilize, and appreciate the professional services performed by CPA's, we still feel that there is plenty of room in our society for accounting services which are not of such complexity and magnitude as to require the services of Certified Public Accountants. As noted above, our objection was not successful since the Governor signed the bill.

In commenting on the approval of the legislation, the Governor stated as follows:

"At present, certified public accountants are subject to licensing requirements and regulation by the Education Department. There is, however, a substantial number of public accountants who now practice in New York State and who are neither licensed or subject to any regulation whatsoever.

"This bill would provide for the licensing and regulation by the Education Department of all accountants. Adequate provision is made preserving the status of public accountants who are now in either public or private employment.

"There are certain ambiguities in the bill which are not of sufficient merit to warrant disapproval. The bill does not clearly permit corporations duly chartered to engage in public accounting in the state prior to July 1, 1959, to continue to do so. Nor does it unequivocally afford experience credit to accounting employees of such corporations. The New York State Society of Certified Public Accountants, the Accountants' Association of New York and the Empire State Association of Public Accountants have assured me that they will support clarifying amendments in this area.

"The Education Department, the accounting associations mentioned above, the Association of Civil Service Accountants, the New York State Bar Association, the Commerce and Industry Association of New York, and Local 1497 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees all urge approval.

"This bill is approved."

"Say You Saw It in The Leader"

Employees Buying Plan Is Getting Ever More Popular

Rebates varying from seventy cents to twenty-five dollars have been flowing to the members of the Civil Service Employees Association as a result of participation in the Public Employees Buying Plan, for which all members are eligible.

Almost 1,000 stores throughout New York State have now agreed to make these rebates, and additional stores are being entered each week. It is hoped that a cross section of the State's merchants will be enrolled within a year.

Members of the Association have been "nominating" stores for participation in the Plan and many of these have accepted participation, the Plan management announced. Any reputable merchant or service agency may be suggested. The Plan then extends an invitation for participation. The complete list of merchants appears in The Leader from time to time.

Essentially a money-saving device for Civil Service Employees, Public Employees Buying Plan was formed as a non-profit corporation a few months ago.

Civil Service Association members may send any sales slips from participating merchants to the plan at 97 Duane St., New York City. In most cases the plan rebates 7½ percent of the sales slip, but in a few cases involving discount houses the rebate is half this amount. The plan forwards the sales slip to the merchant who reimburses the Plan. Thus the employees may save a substantial sum on most items purchased.
