Commerce Clubs Schedule Events

The Distributive Education Group and Pi Omega Pi, national honorary society in Business Education held meetings recently, and discussed plans for the year.

Jeanette Scarino '56 announces that a coffee hour will be held next week at a time to be announced for anyone interested in DE. Plans for the year include a trip to the IBM factory in Poughkeepsie the last week in October, a trip to New York City second semester, and a picnic with the Commerce Club second semester.

Pi Omega Pi held a meeting Tuesday evening which was attended by students and faculty members. Plans were made for a schedule of events. Mrs. Marion Woods, formerly of Boston University and now employed by IBM offered suggestions for Social Programs, announces William Behuniak '55, Acting President.

Dr. Edward L. Cooper, advisor of the group served coffee following the meeting.

Students To Conduct Tour Of Open Houses

Alpha Pi Alpha will sponsor an Open House for State Sunday from 3 to 6 p.m. at their residence on 765 Madison Avenue, announces Joseph Duran '56, General Chairman. The following committee heads have been appointed: House Clean-up, Donall Matthews; Invitations, T. L. Ladd; Guides, Edward Rockstroh, Juniors; Refreshments, George Murphy '57.

The Open Houses for sororities are open to all Statesmen. The Open Houses for Alpha Pi Alpha and Brubacher Hall are open to everyone.

The addresses of these group houses are as follows: Brubacher Hall is located at 750 State Street; Gamma Kappa Phi at 292 Western Avenue; Kappa Delta at 380 Western Avenue; and Alpha Pi Alpha is located at 756 Madison Avenue.

Class To Present Reading Series

The Oral Interpretation Class, under the direction of Agnes E. Futterer, Professor of English, is presenting a series of four evenings of readings from literature.

The evenings, commencing October 19, will be held at the college in Draper 349 every other week at 8 p.m.

Each member of the class will give a reading during the eight weeks. The programs will be chosen with adaptability to oral presentation in mind, states Marjorie Jelley '57.

There will be a variety in the selection of material, Miss Jelley reports, ranging from "Alice in Wonderland" to the dramatic monologue, "The Defense of Guinevere."

During the second semester the class will present a series of readings in drama.

Greeks Elect House Officers

In the Boston University News we read that the males on campus are complaining because they have to sign out girls like library books. It also seems that BU harbors a champion girls' rifle team. This sounds forbidding, to say the least. A University of Texas Prof commented: "The trouble with a fellow who thinks he can read women like a book is he's always forgetting his place."

From the Daily Lobo (12), University of New Mexico: He asked me: "When?" - I could not tell. He queried: "Who?" Again I fell. He named a man. To me a stranger. And I could see Myself in danger. What was this plight - this mystery Oh! Just my course in History.

The Ithacan, a couple of weeks ago, ran a very logical headline - "Freshmen Must Wear Beanies - Or Face Exposure." But Freshie, think of the consequences.

Thomson To Lead Upperclassmen Reading Classes

Those upperclassmen who wish to improve their personal reading should leave their names with Francis K. Thomson, Personnel Instructor and Associate of the Student Personnel Services.

The first class in reading improvement will meet at 4 p.m. in Milne 121 on Monday. A series of eight meetings is planned. All interested students, including those who are not free at this time, should leave their names with Mrs. Thomson.

Two other reading groups are planned this year, one for freshmen, in February and another for upper-classmen in March. No outside work will be necessary, although progress is usually more rapid if one hour per week outside the regular class can be devoted to reading.

Peds To Greet Pianist Following Concert In Page

Music Council will sponsor a concert by Seymour Lipkin in Page Hall tonight at 8:30 p.m. A reception honoring the artist will be held immediately following the concert, states Kathryn Johnston '55, President of Music Council.

Lipkin will present a concert of compositions by Beethoven, Chopin, Brahms, Bartok, Debussy and Ravel. First will be "Sonata in B flat Major, Opus 22," by Beethoven in four movements, followed by "Two Nocturnes" and "Scherzo in E major" by Chopin. "Sixteen Variations on a Theme by Schumann, Opus 9," "Suite, and Opus 14" in four movements by Bartok will follow.

Lipkin will then present "Rellets dans l'air" by Debussy and "Toccata, from "Le Tombeau de Couperin" by Ravel.

Miss Johnson also states that a reception for Mr. Lipkin will be held in the Upper Lounge in Brubacher immediately following the performance. Everyone is invited to attend.

No one will be admitted to the performance without their Student Receipt Cards or their Student Activity Cards.

Lipkin has studied under Rudolf Serkin at the Curtis Institute in Philadelphia. Later, Lipkin studied in conducting with Serge Koussevitzky and was apprentice conductor and guest soloist with George Szell and the Cleveland Orchestra.

In 1948, Lipkin won the Rachmaninoff Award in a nationwide concert. He has conducted several tours in Europe and in the United States. Lipkin has also appeared with more than fifteen major orchestras in this country.

The remainder of the evenings will be on November 2, November 17, and December 14. Following these dates, the Oral Interpretation of Drama Class will begin play readings. These readings will be similar to those given by Emily Williams, a man famous for readings of Dickens. Williams visited NYCST two years ago under the sponsorship of D&A.

All these readings are open to the public.

United Nations Week will be observed at the Cathedral of All Saints Sunday at 4 p.m. The observance will be sponsored by Canterbury Club, announces William Small '56, President.

The observance will feature a presentation of the Flag of the United Nations by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt. Mrs. Roosevelt will also deliver an address, after which there will be a panel discussion, including a question and answer period.

All students interested in the United Nations are invited to attend this free lecture and participate in the question period.

The Cathedral of All Saints is located on South Swan Street, at the rear of the State Education Building.

Students To Pick Up Student Activity Cards

All upperclassmen can pick up their Student Activity Card today in the Rotunda from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. The cards will only be given out with the presentation of your Student Receipt Card.

State Welcomes Alumni At State Homecoming; Music Council Presents Lipkin Concert Tonight

Student Council Hears Reports; States Agenda

Student Council heard committee reports, discussed a new school mascot and colors, an exchange program and presented the agenda for this week's assembly in their meeting Wednesday evening.

The agenda for assembly is: Introduction and speech by the foreign student, vote on the financial motion to change three dollars to faculty, faculty wives and housemothers for an Activities Tax Ticket, Student Council motion to allot $350 from surplus for All-College Revue, and a motion to allot $25 from surplus for All-State Day, Sophomore sing challenge, freshmen apologies and announcements.

Attendance will be taken in assembly this week for the first time this year.

Robert Betscha '56 moved that $25 be borrowed from surplus for All-State Day. In order to obtain the money this week a motion to suspend the rules will be made, thus allowing voting on it today. The money will be returned to surplus from the money taken in on All-State Day.

Charles Beckwith '55 reported to Council the possibility of having a concert by Wood Herman November 3. The administration will be contacted for approval. The admission will be $1.

Myskania announced that it has suggested to divide the Campus Commission penalties into major and minor offenses. Persons receiving one major or two minor offenses will have their names printed in the State College News. The possibility of revoking certain activities from student's Activity Card is being looked into.

Publicity for assemblies was reviewed; it was decided to have some Student Council members work on posters and runners to publicize assemblies. Theresa Barber '56 and Ann Vigilante '55 volunteered for the duty.

The remainder of the evenings will be on November 2, November 17, and December 14. Following these dates, the Oral Interpretation of Drama Class will begin play readings. All these readings are open to the public.

Campus Chest Opens Drive, Schedules Auctions, Skit, Dance

Next week State students will be asked to open their pocket books to contribute to the Annual Campus Chest Drive. This campaign will continue for one week only, but in this short time, it will strive to make every State student a participant. The Drive officially opens in assembly next Friday, and will close with a dance the following Saturday night.

Campus Chest is an organization dedicated to the raising of funds for educational causes. Fifty percent of these funds will go to the World University Service which aids foreign and American institutions of higher learning. Twenty percent is contributed to the National Negro Scholarship Fund which is available to any Negro student desiring financial assistance in furthering his education. Another twenty percent goes to the support of Athens College in Greece, and the final ten percent is given to the Community Chest of Albany to be used as the community desires.

The Campus Chest Drive this year is under the leadership of Todd Cushman '56 and Leon Ogrodnic '57. Dolores Price is Secretary, William Schubert, Treasurer, Juniors, and Publicity will be handled by Barbara Paulson '57. Dr. Frances of the dance.

As a result of last Thursday's and Friday's absentee voting, the names of twenty-four Seniors have been selected for submission to "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities," a national publication containing the names of prominent students in schools in America, reports Joan Carlin '55, Chairman of Myskania.

If accepted by the "Who's Who" Board, the names of these students will appear in the 1954-55 issue of this publication: Mary Battisti, Charles Beckwith, Joan Carlin, Robert Coan, Nancy Evans, Marilyn Gadd, Donna Hughes, Mary Iacovine, Mary Ann Jolipoli, Angela Kavanagh, Olga Komonowski, Ronald Koster, Ronald Lackey, Zoe Ann Laurie, William Lindberg, Frank Lo Truglio, Doris Mehan, Thomas Mullen, Dolores Mantalino, John Orser, Gustor Quirk, Robert Sage, Ann Tobey and Marilyn Wittschen.

The names of the twenty-four candidates will be subject to the approval of the Board.

Needed Powers . . .

During the past couple weeks Myskanla and Campus Commission have been putting their heads together in an attempt to discover some means to add more power and prestige to the latter. Owing to the fact that at present the Commission has no power to enforce any of its regulations, to speak frankly, efforts to correct this shortcoming were initiated. Since the administration feels that the students should assume the responsibility of handling such matters, within their limits, the Commission has a tentative system of steps it may take to indicate those "students" who continually misuse student property and facilities. Presently the Commission is amending the by-laws of its constitution to include a listing of major and minor offenses. Under this set-up the News will carry a listing of those offenders who initially commit two minor offenses or one major offense, as designated by these by-laws, and as submitted to the paper by Campus Commission. If this is not sufficient to discourage further violations, Myskanla is investigating its own power, to determine whether it may penalize habitual offenders by taking away certain of the privileges offered to a member of Student Association, as a holder of a Student Activity Card. Sentences from this judicial body, if so empowered, would enable it to negate some of these privileges, i.e., the receipt of college publications, admittance to various functions, etc. And thirdly, if the foregoing are not sufficient to serve the purpose, Campus Commission and ourselves feel that the administration should take over at this point. It would be quite evident that student action had about run its limits. The penalty at this stage should be temporary suspension, the maximum. We ask you again, is all this necessary? We have shown you in a previous issue, by photograph, an example of typical violations, and we attempted to impress on you the need for a little effort and co-operation on your part. Again we suggest, we urge, that you heed the rules, especially in light of these latest developments. Campus Commission does not intend to function as a police agency, let us not make it such.

Compulsory Assemblies. . .

Since attendance will be taken in Assembly today (be sure to check the Assembly seating charts) the question arises, "What happens if I do not go to Assembly?" Frankly, the answer at present is nothing. However, let us inform you that the committee on Student Council in charge of Assembly planning, is presently investigating the possibilities of securing speakers and other entertainment, amounting to the scheduling of paid assemblies. This is an attempt to make assemblies more interesting. We want them, the need is evident, and has been for quite some time. As to enforcing compulsory assemblies, Student Council passed this problem on to Myskanla. Here again, penalties have been discussed, ranging from the possibilities of depriving an SA member of the right to vote, administrative handling of the case, to the previously discussed penalty of denying certain of the privileges offered by the Student Activity Card. It all boils down to the same thing . . . students do not care, whether it be an infraction of a Campus Commission rule, or complete indifference to school government. We believe some serious thinking is due on your part, too, and behavior relevant to the fulfillment of your obligations. Keep in mind who set up all these rules, and also made assemblies compulsory.

MUSD In Technicolor

By DON LEIN

By the hundreds they came. Tired, taunted faces mirrored their anticipation of the great battle that was to come. They mobbed Page Hall, entirely oblivious to the pleading Campus Commission members, fighting for the few seats that were available. No one wanted to miss the oratory that was about to take place on this earth shaking project. This color of was "shall we change the color of the beanie from purple and gold to the four class colors?" Finally, the president's gavel resounded and a hush fell over the assembly as the first speaker took the floor and presented the motion. As the last words of the motion reverberated from Page, pandemonium broke loose. Throughout the hall small groups huddled together and an angry murmur arose from certain quarters. Copies of the State College News dropped to the floor and a sea of hands arose, all anxious to be recognized to express their feelings and the opinions of their corp.

Again frenzy ruled the masses. As the SA president calmly brought the group to order, the first of the many orators arose. "The starting gun of the campaign was fired, the speakers arose and presented their arguments. Cheers and a quiet huzzah arose following each golden gush of information.

As the discussion proceeded, many things became evident. In the eyes of many it appeared that the de-

Communications

To the Editor:
Many of the interested upper-classmen of our school, people who are interested in maintaining and enlivening school spirit, seem to be quite concerned with the very small factor of class beanies to the maintenance and thriving of school spirit. It would seem that school spirit seldom, if every, is dependent upon the color of class beanies. It would also appear that it will take more than class beanies and their class-defining colors to reconstruct the school spirit which once was.

True, there is a need for and a use for rivalry on the part of students at our college. But certainly, school spirit does lie deeper than a cap or color. It is that deeper cause for which we must search if we are to ever reconstruct that school spirit which is reminiscent of our Senior's freshman year.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

Common-States

By GADD and LO TRUGLIO

HOMECOMING
Tomorrow at our second annual Homecoming Weekend we will have the chance to see our long lost alums. This weekend was initiated last year and we're hoping it will become another "tradition" here at State. Let's all attend the activities planned for the day and, above all . . . don't forget the "tea party" at Herbert's.

INTERIOR DECORATING
Will someone please answer just one question for us? Why wasn't the Commons painted at some time when so many people wouldn't have been inconvenienced? The way it is now, it's just too bad if you have a twelve and a one o'clock class. The place is so mobbed from 12:50 to 1:50 p.m. that it takes you 10 minutes to get one foot over the threshold. It seems to us that the mailboxes could be put on tables in the hall outside the Richardson locker-room until the Commons is reopened.

ASSEMBLY
Hope everyone has checked the Assembly Seating List by now and will trip over to Page to find his or her personalized seat. Let's have a full house every Friday from now on—last year we voted to have compulsory assemblies—we wanted them!—so let's attend. We felt that if there had been more people in assembly last Friday, a few things would have been different.

LAUDE
Congratulations to the Soph girls and freshmen on winning their respective Rivalry softball games last Saturday. The Soph's pep band and snazzy cheerleading outfits showed their tremendous spirit.

UNCOMMENDABLE
Though sorority rushing has not "officially" begun, there is an undertone present in the favorite spots around campus. Girls, "It's too early to start 'sharpening your axes.'" Why not give the frosh a chance to really see what the other groups are like. Don't let insincerity overlap with State's reputation for friendliness.

MISCELLANEOUS
Hey Gals!! It seems that we have a new Mambo King on campus. He can usually be found "tripping the light fantastic" to the tune of "Papa Loves Mambo" every afternoon in the Game Room. This semester, in order to replace the A. D. Plays, the Oral Interpretation class will present Readings of Literature. Their first reading will be Tuesday night in Draper 349. The A. D. plays had good attendance last year and we hope that the frosh and upperclassmen will attend these readings as well as they did the plays. We recommend the well-dressed male to stop in Room 147 New Draper to see the display of "Fabric and Fashion." The real college guy will appreciate these new styles set up by the Distributive Education Workshop.

SOMETHING NEW
That room in lower Draper isn't a new branch of Macy's basement . . . it's just the rejuvenated Co-op. Thanks to the new manager, things don't seem to be in a confused state as they were in previous years. Just one suggestion — how about handing out floor plans of the new arrangement? One poor soul went in to buy an article between classes and it took her ten minutes to find what she was looking for.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK?
Anyone for returning coke bottles and coffee cups to their proper places?

Eat, Drink, Be Merry

An apple a day keeps the doctor away.
Laugh today to chase your blues away.

Student mail is available to a select few upon request. The Commons will be open at the specified hours only. Those are the only hours that it is positively closed.

Those with a thirst for knowledge and a hunger for details are starving. The Snack Bar is arid. No H.O.

What happened to the good old days when the cafeteria ran an ad in the "News" offering a special student's lunch—meat, potatoes, vegetables, beverage and roll; salads, soups, desserts—for twenty cents? You can't get a cup of coffee and a doughnut for that anymore. Why not? The doughnut bakery burned down.

SPO Releases Chaperone List

Student Personnel Office and Teacher Placement Bureau have released the following notices:

Beginning Monday there will be available in the Student Personnel Office a file of faculty members who will be happy to act as chaperons for student functions. Chairmen of chaperon committees are urged to consult this file before they approach faculty members.

The Teacher Placement Bureau has an information file on opportunities for teaching overseas. A student interested in teaching abroad might find this material useful.

If any students desiring teaching jobs in January have not yet registered with the TPB, they are requested to do so immediately.

Students To Take First Grammar Test Try Tuesday

The English grammar test will be given Tuesday at 10 a.m. in Draper 349 by the English Department. Students doubtful of their status should check the bulletin board outside the Student Personnel Office.

Owing to the limited Student Mail facilities this week, it is important for students to keep track of this obligation for themselves. Attempts to communicate with these students may be delayed or unsuccessful, states Francis Colby, Associate Professor of English.

For those who must repeat the test the try next week will replace the former system whereby repeaters took the test in any of the current English 1A sections.

Most of the present freshmen have already taken this test once as part of their entrance examinations in September. The present sections will therefore not be tested until near the end of this term, in January. That time any people who received incomplete grades in the Spring semester of 1954 and who still do not pass the test next week will be eligible for a final attempt. Thus, failure to take the test Tuesday constitutes a forfeiture of one of the remaining chances to clear the requirement.

Freshmen currently enrolled in English 1A will be tested or excused in January according to the scores already on record. Full information will be given the freshmen in each section at a later date.

Student Council Approves New PB Constitution

SC Votes To Combine AD, ED Budget Lines

The Student Council Wednesday evening discussed at length a new by-law to be added to the Campus Commission Constitution. He heard committee reports, discussed the possibility of bringing a jazz band to State, approved 16 changes to go into the Press Bureau Constitution, and heard a motion by Alan Weiner '56 to incorporate the Advanced Dramatics line totals with the Elementary Dramatics line totals into one body to be known as State College Theatre.

Rosa Colacicco '55 presented the new by-law to be added to the Campus Commission Constitution. This amendment was to allow punishment of violators of Campus Commission Rules. It was passed by the Council. C.C. will revise the rules and bring them to the next regular meeting of the Council, and the amendment will be brought before S.A. for a vote of confidence on October 29.

The Council voted to accept the responsibility of engaging a jazz band for a concert in Page Hall Thursday, November 11.

Sixteen changes were approved to the Press Bureau Constitution presented by Esther Goldstein '56.

The combining of the AD and ED lines is planned so that better plays will be offered, and any student of State can try out for plays, states Weiner. The Council passed the plan 8 to 6, with one abstention.

The meeting was concluded by the reading of the social calendar for the coming week.

Rampant Wreckers Confound Chords

Drills drive debaters daffy as Music majors compose Jackhammer Hve.

Student insurance premiums are bound to rise with the added risk of dodging nocturnal drills, lead pipes and acetylene torches. Strolling out of the back door of Richardson affords the pedestrian a chance for receiving an exhaust blast in the eye while walking between flying cement chips.

Beethoven's Fifth now has six movements as the Music 4 classes attempt to appreciate punctuated records. Schubert's Unfinished Symphony has at long last been furnished with a classic ending — by the construction gang.

All this pandemonium is accompanied by lowered grades as future teachers take up the honorable trade of sidewalk supervisors. Anyone for dodge ball?

Drive Features Oriental Sales, Annual Dance

Today's Assembly will launch State College's annual Campus Chest drive for funds to aid philanthropic organizations throughout the Albany area and the nation. Under the direction of Todd Cushman '56 and Leon O'Brodnick '57, Campus Chest hopes to reach a goal of $1,500. The drive will officially close next Friday with a dance.

A tentative program consisting of a movie, skit and explanatory talks will highlight this morning's Campus Chest Assembly. Student Association will be informed as to where their donations will be spent.

Campus Chest will continue its drive for $1,500 through the following week by use of solicitation, Chinese auctions and a donation booth.
