What it Costs a Govt Gal To Live in New York City

There were two sample budgets for government girls in The LEADER of September 21. These budgets, prepared by the OPA people in Washington, covered girls in the $1,440 and $1,620 pay groups.

Do you agree with these figures? we asked government girls working in NYC? And back came the barrage of answers, No!

Here's a representative letter from a government girl, Miss Syril Cosner, a War Department employee, who tells why those OPA budgets just ain't so!

Sirs: I am in the category of the $1,620 girls. In the chart given for that amount, I was amazed to find in the column, "Board and Room," the tidy little figure of $57.50 per month. If wishing could make it so, I too, would be paying this pittance for these items. I find that my food bill alone amounts to an average of $2 per day, which is approximatly $60 a month. I am living away from home and have to eat all three meals out.

When the Office of Price Administration arrived at the figure $57.50 for board and room, they must have been contemplating a diet of doughnuts and coffee for breakfast, a sandwich and coke for lunch, and beans for supper. I, however, am not that kind of an eater.

One egg (at least) per day, one portion (at least) of a heavy protein food like meat, fish or cheese; two raw vegetables (one green, leafy and the other yellow or green, one portion (at least) of potatoes, one raw fruit, one cooked fruit, one serving (at least) of a citrus fruit, one pint (at least) of

I consistently watch to see if I am absorbing the proper amount of vitamins, minerals and "protective" foods. This does not make of me a baby blimp, either. I am, as a mat-ter of fact, a few pounds underweight. I am 5 feet 7 inches, 23 years old and weigh 126 pounds, due to the proper nourishment. I have never yet caught trenchmouth or any other disease spread in restaurants with improper sanitation. Paying extra for eating in really clean places makes my food bill even higher.

The High Rents

I have been a Government girl for three years and three months, working all but the last month at Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio. I have spent one whole month here in New York City looking for a habitable place to live. I find most of the buildings quite dilapidated, including the deteriorating plumbing facilities. The rents are prohibitive in the places that are presentable and livable. I am now living in a half-way satisfactory room in a half-way satisfactory building and I am paying $11 per week, which does not include a private bath. This amounts to almost $48 per month, on the basis of four and one-third weeks per month.

So here is one Government girl that is making $1,620 per year and is paying $108 per month for food and lodging, and not the $57.50 per month as prescribed by the Office of Price Administration.

The Trip Home

I venture to state that more than one-half of all the Government girls are working away from their homes and families, and occasionally must make the trip home. The Office of Price Administration failed to include the expensive train fares in their sample budgets.

Medical Care

They also state $50 per year for medical care. Healthy as I am, I need no regular doctor. But I had a tooth pulled once and I now discover I must reit with another if my other teeth near it are not to slanty-wise and crowd into the empty space. I also discovered that this one tooth will necessitate an expenditure of $120. My glasses might need changing this year so that is an additional $15. So my medical care will amount to $135 this year and not the $50 as prescribed by the Office of Price Administration.

Three years ago I paid $1 for an iron and $1 for an alarm clock. Both are quite worn out by this time and any day I shall have to replace them. I have priced these recently, and my $1 iron now sells for $8 and the alarm clock for $5.

Maybe this letter will serve as an additional source of information to those people that cannot understand why seemingly fickle-minded, superficial, frivolous girls do not save any money, even though they are working steadily and earning

SYRIL COSNER.

VETERANS Aided

WASHINGTON.-Civil Service Commission has taken a belated new step to protect the rights of Federal employees who enter the armed services.

It has asked all Government agencies to see that such employees are carried in leavewithout-pay status.

As it happens, a good many agencies have asked such employees to resign. This doesn't affect the worker's right to reclaim his job after the war. It does, however, deprive him of certain other benefits. For ex-

If your agency carries you in leave-without-pay status when you go into the armed service, you then remain, technically, an employee of the agency.

-If you are technically an employee of the agency, you can claim disability benefits under the Federal Employees Retirement System, if it happens you are seriously wounded in the

-Moreover, if you are technically an employee of the agency, you will get six months' retirement credit for every 12 months you actually are absent from your job.

In other words, the advantages of leave-without-pay, in preference to outright resignation, are very great indeed.

If You're a Father

Perhaps you are one of the Government fathers who (apparently) will soon be drafted. If that is the case, you will be wise to insist that your agency follow the letter of Civil Service Commission's instructions.

-Refer your agency to this article.

Insist that you be carried in leave-without-pay status.

Your Pension Rights Safe Under Social Security Bill

By CHARLES SULLIVAN

WASHINGTON-If the Social Security bill now before the Congress should pass, civil service employees will be fully protected. Various employee groups have expressed apprehension, but a study of the bill as it now stands reveals that the points made by these groups have been considered and incorporated into the bill.

Here is what the Wagner-Murray-Dingell bill (S. 1161) says, in plain English, about Federal, State and other public employees:

1. All employees of the Federal Government are entirely excluded. This is because all Federal employees already have their own Retirement Act. The exact words of the bill on this point are:

'employment' "The term means any service . . . except . . Service performed in the employ of the United States Government, . . . (Page 19-20).

2. All teachers, policemen, firemen and any other employees of State, municipal or local governments, who have their own pension plans, are also completely excluded from coverage under the Social Security measure, whether by voluntary compact or otherwise.

This exception expressly applies to new or "future" employees as well as to those now employed.

N. Y. Employees Unaffected

Since New York policemen, teachers, firemen and other State, municipal and local employees have their own pension plans, they are not affected and cannot be touched by S. 1161 as now written.

The exact words of the bill on this point are :

"No present or future employee of such State or political subdivision or instrumentality shall be so covered [under voluntary compact1 while such employee is a beneficiary or contributory member to or possessor of an unrealized interest in any pension, annuity, and benefit or retirement fund or any similar fund by whatever name called which is in existence at the date the compact is entered into, established and maintained by authority of the constitution or statutes of a State, provision of a municipal charter, or ordinance of a municipality or other political subdivision, or by Act of Congress for the District of Columbia or territorial possessions of the United States. Provided, however, That such exclusion shall terminate if such employee is separated from the public service: And provided further, That public employees required to serve a period of probation before becoming members of a pension fund shall be considered contributory members of such pension fund during such probationary periods for the purposes of this subsection: And provided further, That any fund in existence at the date a compact is made which is later reorganized shall be deemed for the purposes of this subsection to have continuing existence, not be to a new fund" (page

These provisions are precisely what Federal and State and municipal employees have long advocated to protect their own retirement plans.

Why Not Get Yourself Part-Time Job? Here Are Some Good Ones

If you've got some extra hours on your hands, and devote that time to helping the war effort, and at the same time adding a bit to your income to take the bite out of the increase in taxes and living costs, why not take a spare-time position?

When the flood of Christmas mail hits the Post Office, they'll need plenty of extra part-time workers. They're accepting appreations now, and the work should materialize very soon.

Postal clerks get 74 cents an hour, for day work, 81 cents at night. Chauffeurs get the same rate, the higher figure when they drive, the lower price when they're doing other work. Postal laborers get 63 and 68 cents. Apply at the General Post Office, Room 4500. It's at Eighth Avenue and 33d Street. Bring along your birth certificate, or proof of citizenship, two passport size photos, and two letters of recommendation from reputable friends or business associates. Your past experience will determine the type of work you

City, State and Federal employees are barred from these part-time jobs, but teaching employees of the Board of Education may apply, says Postmaster Albert Goldman.

Men are preferred, but if the man-supply runs short, they'll hire women.

The rate of pay is 85 cents an hour.

The Tonefsen employment office is located at 128 Beard Street, Brooklyn. A bus will get you there from the Smith-Ninth Street station of the 8th Avenue Subway, or the trolley to Erie Basin. The work may be anywhere around the waterfront. You must be a citizen. They're glad to have government workers-City, State, and Federalon these jobs.

Freight Jobs

The United States Railroad Retirement Board hires help for the railroads around New York City, and now they can use some strong men to work in Jersey and New York City, unloading and loading freight cars.

The Jersey job is from 7-12 p.m., six days a week, and pays 89 cents an hour. In New York work starts at 8 a.m. and 10.30 a.m., and they'll take you on for as many hours as you have to offer. Pay here is 68 cents an hour.

You must be healthy for these jobs, and weigh over 130 pounds. The stuff you move around often weighs, 150 pounds, and seldom under 100, so it's no place for a little guy. Coast Guard Pass is needed, they'll help you get it. Apply at Room 115, 50 Hudson Street, Manhattan, during business

Apply at the United States Employment Service, 87 Madison Avenue, Section 614. Ask for Mr. Lansing, and tell him you read about the job in The LEADER.

Drivers

If you like to drive, and have a car, here's your opportunity. Long Island Acres, at 500 Fifth Avenue, wants people driven out to their property. You'll get at least $10 a day, maybe more, depending on the number of trips you can make.

Judge Exposes Harsh Loan Shark Operations Upon City Employees

Branding loan-sharks and sales racketeers as "rapacious wolves preying upon large numbers of New York City employees," Judge Cornelius F. Collins, formerly of the Court of General Sessions, revealed last week that the money-lending racket is increasing under the stress of wartime conditions.

Judge Collins, who is legal advisor for the Mayor's Committee on Credit Counseling, at the same time invited employees in financial difficulties as well as those already in the clutches of money racketeers to avail themselves of the services of the recently created Committee on Credit Counseling. The service was set up under the direction of Harry W. Marsh, Civil Service Commission head, to aid City employees in debt.

How It Works

Judge Collins said:

"The evil itself is cunningly conceived, unconscionable penalty dodging usury. It is being practiced against a particularly vulnerable group—the City employee. The loan is secured by the 'victim's' weekly or monthly pay-check - subject to collectible judgment and salary garnishment-making him a veritable 'set-up victim' for the ravenous, extortion - minded usury racketeer.

"This is, of course, not a new situation. Now, however, because of wartime trends, the offenders have been afforded added opportunities and a greater scope of activity. They have developed their systems to an alarming extent.

"In 1942 a total of 11,445 garnishment executions and 1,-900 wage assignments was filed in the Comptroller's Garnishment Bureau, a rate of 70 wage executions per 1,000 employees. It is estimated that these original judgments exceed $4,000,-000. It would be difficult to estimate the number of victims avoiding judgment.

The Subway Men

"It should be borne in mind that within the last few years the roster of City employees has been greatly augmented by the addition of the subway employees, who have their own particular cares and financial vicis-

"I would like to point out the peculiar position of Civil Service employees, generally in these trying times. Their many living problems are a strain unrelieved by increased earning power, or the immediate hope of greater prospects in the near future. Their actual needs in a very large number of instances, particularly

Department of Sanitation, are such as to necessitate unavoidrecourse to the moneyable lender.

"The duty of the Credit Counsel, is to give efficient advice and guidance to the City employee in an effort to aid him to rehabilitate himself financially, so that he can meet his obligations as comfortably as conditions will permit.

"A favorite weapon of the bullying sales-racketeer and loanshark is to terrorize the employee-borrower by threat of exposure imperiling his job. He is thus coerced into readiness for further mulcting and extortion.

Employee Protected

"It cannot be too emphatically stated that the employee will be fully protected against any such intimidating culprit, and I am authorized to give my word to this effect. It is only necessary for the employee to get in touch with the Credit Counseling Service by telephone, in writing, or in person at the office of the Municipal Civil Service Commission, 299 Broadway.

"Public hearings may become necessary. It may become necessary to make available the services of volunteer civil legal counsel. Enactment of reforms through the legislature may become an important part of our

Confusion Department

The City Civil Service Commission will hold an examination in the near future for the position of director, Bureau of Nursing, Health Department.

The job is vacant at present, but a bill introduced at the last City Council meeting by Genevieve B. Earle would allow the Commissioner of Health (Ernest L. Stebbins) to appoint until July 1, 1944, a person to this position who is not a citizen, but has declared intention of becoming a citizen.

Combination of Errors

But, it appears that by a combination of errors, things got twisted around, and this isn't the bill that was supposed to have been introduced.

What should have been done was to fix things so that the Health Department could point an out-of-towner to the position. This appoint ment would be on a provisional basis (until a civil service examination is given and a regular appointment made.)

Meanwhile, the City Civil Service Commission has been accepting applications from people who would like to get the $6,500 a year job, but the requirements are so tough that only 18 candidates have dared to file their applications.

Anyway, at this week's Council meeting, Mrs. Earle straightening out the confusion, She's killing this bill, and introducing one to give the Health Department what it wants.

POSTAL They're MAD!

Postal clerks and carriers aren't talking to each other. The carriers think they've been clipped, and the clerks think justice has been done.

Here's what happened:

On September 16, the reduced delivery schedule for mail went into effect. Which meant that a lot of carriers didn't have anything to carry, so they transferred over and became clerks for the duration of the curtailment.

Must Sacrifice Place

But, there is an old rule in the Post Office that when a clerk shifts over to the carrier force, or vice versa, he has to sacrifice five years of seniority to make the change.

However, early this month the carriers were notified that in recognition of the emergency, they wouldn't have to sign away five years of service when they became clerks.

Then, a few days later, the department officially ruled that carriers moving over to the clerks' side would have to give up the seniority.

The National Federation of Post Office Clerks didn't do much to make the carriers feel better when resolutions were submitted to their executive board which stated that the "five year loss of seniority regulation is the only safeguard the clerks have of their seniority rights. The carriers should understand this position.'

Meanwhile, the 325 former carriers who transferred to the clerical force have been assigned to the Morgan Annex, where they are working on military mail, and not interfering with the clerks' routine in other branches of the department. And they are MAD.

State Civil Service Reorganized

ALBANY-Adoption of a plan, prepared by Judge J. Edward Conway, president of the State Civil Service Commission, providing for sweeping reorganization of the civil service department—"to coordinate activities, increase efficiency, and materially improve the service" -was ready for announcement this week.

More than a dozen looselyknit units are combined into seven major operations; three new positions are created; two are abolished, and there is added to the department an investigating staff to operate

Judge Conway's plan was formally approved by his associates, Commissioner Louise C. Gerry, also a Republican; and Commissioner Howard G. E. Smith, a Democrat.

In order to "pull together the many details of daily opera-tions," and to streamline the tions," and to streamline the routine work of the entire department to procure "speed and the Conway plan accuracy," calls for the creation of the Office of Administrative Director, which will have charge of main departmental di-

Final plans are being made for the third annual entertainment and dance to be held November 20. Tickets for this event are already available. They may be procured from Mrs. Fannie Gassman. Albert Doerbecker is general chairman. Rev. A. Hamilton Nesbitt is spiritual adviser.

UNDERTAKERS, NOTE!-

The eligible list for Superintendent of Mortuaries is appropriate for appointment as Mortuary Caretaker, Grade 2. That was a ruling of the Municipal Civil Service Commission last week.

visions-Administration, Examinations, Classification, and Municipal Services.

Charles L. Campbell, a veteran employee of the department and presently director of classification and chairman of Classification Board at $7,200 a year, will be promoted to top place in the operations set-up as Administrative Director at $8,500 a year. The plan provides that the job he is vacating will be dropped one grade and his successor, who probably will be named soon, will start at $5,200. Mr. Campbell, incidentally, is a LEADER Merit Man.

Densler Consultant

Frank H. Densler, for many years the executive director of the department, will be given a new title, "Consultant to the Commission," but with no change in his present salary, $7,800, or his salary grade.

"It will be the task of the administrative director, Mr. Campbell, to see that all units mesh properly into one smooth-working machine with these specific objectives; to render prompt, efficient service to State and municipal operating officials; to provide uni-form, equitable treatment for employees; and to create and maintain confident support of the public—the senior partner in this business of government," said Judge Conway.

Jobs Abolished

Jobs abolished are those of Secretary to the Commission, from which George R. Hitchcock resigned last week, and Senior Administrative Assist-ant at $5,000, now vacant. Under the new plan, Hitchcock's old position as secretary to the Commission, is superseded by a new title, Secretary to the Department. The new position will carry fewer duties and less responsibility as well as much less than the $6,450 which Mr. Hitchcock received.

CHARLES CAMPBELL, Classification Director of the State Civil Service Commission, has been named Administrative Director of that body, with wide powers over the State's personnel matters.

Administrative Director Campbell will have as his immediate deputy an assistant administrative director, who not only will supervise various bureaus but will take over several of the functions of the former Secretary to the Commission. The new assistant administrative director, whose job will pay from $6,700 to $8,200 a year, has not yet been selected.

Investigating Staff

With respect to the installation of an investigating staff, Judge Conway said: "The department never has had an investigating staff to check on the reliability of statements made by applicants for examination for civil service jobs, or to follow up complaints of collusion and fraud, or to trace down criminal records. It is known that the department is sometimes misled deliberately by unverified statements of candidates. The public service has no place for doubtful charac-

City May Suspend Exams For Duration of the War

The series of examinations given for jobs with the City, applications for which were accepted between September 14 and 28, may be the last to be held for the Officials of the Civil Service Commission feel that it may be unfair to hold tests for permanent jobs while so many men and women are in the armed services. Also, with employment at a high peak and larger salaries being offered by private industry and the Federal Government, the City is unable to get the type of person who would normally file for a civil service test.

From another point of view, the turnout for City examinations during the past year has been unsatisfactory as regards the number of applicants.

Many examinations have been given although the Commission realized that the vacancies could not be filled even if an unusually large proportion of the candidates qualified.

Some City departments have been forced to by-pass the Civil Service Commission and look for help in the open market to fill their urgent posts.

The Board of Transportation, for example, maintains its own hiring office where it takes on persons for jobs on a duration basis.

In order to meet the needs of the Police and Fire departments, the City had to establish a list of men who would accept duration jobs on the force. Recently the Police Department hired a large number of civilians to man its switchboards and release uniformed men for patrol

Other Tasks

If examinations were suspended for the duration it would allow the Commission to com- Duty to Purchase Bonds? Sure, streamline its procedures for an

PUBLIC WORKS Cleaning Women Aren't Happy

Department of Public Works is trying to straighten out their cleaning women problem with the Budget Director's Office.

They now have temporary cleaning women getting $940 a year, for a 30-hour week, and permanent women getting $860 for the same work.

For a long time they were hiring women to do the early morning clean-up jobs in the City buildings and paying them $940 (which included an $80 cost-of-living bonus). Then the Municipal Civil Service Commission took over, accepted applications, drew up a list, and told the DPW to hire them on a permanent basis. But the Budget Office said: "They can only get $860.'

So, the jobs were filled on a permanent basis at that figure. But some of the women wouldn't take a permanent job at a lower salary; others, who had been hired to replace men in the service, were allowed to stay on as temporary workers. The result is a group of women getting $80 a year less than who work alongside others them.

The women (those who get the lower salary) aren't happy about it. The Department isn't happy about it. The AFL, American Federation of State. County, and Municiupal Employees isn't happy about it. They're all asking the Budget Office to do something, but so far no result.

Almost Time for Clerk Promotion Test, But Plenty of Unsettled Angles Remain

The Municipal Civil Service Commission will hold examinations for promotion to Clerk, Grade 3 and 4, in November. The Commission has found that it isn't possible to please everybody.

To begin with, some people have the ability to do well on tests; they feel the grade made on the written examination should be the determinant for promotion. Others with long years of work for the City behind them, feel that experience is the factor which is important, and that the examination shouldn't mean so much.

Group Complaints

Then, there have been specific complaints from employee organizations against the way the test is being conducted:

The State, County and Municipal Workers of America, CIO, have protested the experience requirements for these promotion examinations. say the two-year waiting period isn't necessary, hampers the advancement of efficient employees, and isn't found anywhere in the City service except in the clerical groups.

They also say that according to present methods, only about 200 clerical workers are promoted each year. With about 15,000 clerical workers in the City employ, this means that some employees will have to wait 75 years for their promotion, they figure.

They'd like to see a six-month experience requirement with the extra credit given for seniority adding to the older worker's chances of making a high spot on the list.

The Civil Service Forum adds another objection. Their plaint is against the manner in which the two parts of the test are being given.

Test in Two Parts

The Commission has announced that the first part of the examination will be a general test; those who pass the first part will later be called for a departmental test based on their specific work.

The Forum thinks that the departmental test should be given first, to give the older employees a better chance. They're afraid that a general test will eliminate too many of the oldsters in favor of the newer employees who may be better equipped with book learn-

However, President Marsh of the Civil Service Commission, has assured Philip Brueck, Forum president, that the examination will be carefully drawn so as not to be unfair to any candidate no matter what his

The Important Thing

The most important feature of a promotional examination, from the employee's point of view, is the chance of getting a job after the examination has been passed, and the list established. The chances of getting a promotion rest largely on the policies set by the City Budget Director's Office, and those policies don't bring too much cheer to the employee who has ideas of rapid advancement.

The Budget office sees promotion up the ranks as a gradual process. They like to see an employee start in the City service and get all his increments. Then when he is at the top salary of his grade, and has won a place on a promotion list, he is due for advancement. That office feels that the McCarthy Increment Law provides satisfactory increases and that the employee should be satisfied to reach his top salary by the annual $120 raises before he begins to think in terms of the next grade and the higher salary. This point of view may have influenced the Civil Service Commission in its establishment of requirements for clerical promotion.

think of the Budget office in uncomplimentary terms can't PAWNBRO agree with the policy of only promoting employees when the promotion means an increase of $1. The civil service rule of 659 10th Ave., Nr. 47th Street one out of three regulates the manner of making promotions from the civil service list, but the Mayor has the power to authorize the skipping of employees when the promotion would mean a sizeable increase in pay, and he has been cooperating with his Budget of-

General Bradley's Column

Brigadier General John J. Bradley (Ret.)

Vocational Education for Servicemen

This is a continuation of General Bradley's series of articles dealing with education in the armed forces. They will appear in several succeeding issues, and cover the various opportunities available to servicemen and women to continue their peacetime training, learn new skills, go to college. Many questions have been received from readers concerning this data. General Bradley cannot undertake to answer them individually. However, those questions of general interest will form the basis of additional articles in this column.

The serviceman has at least as good a chance to get a vocational education in the armed services as in civilian life.

The Navy maintains 558 technical schools. The Army plans to send 1,500,000 men through its vocational schools this year, for technical training.

Pilots, motor mechanics, radio operators, machinists, meteorologists, cooks, bakers, tailors, printers are getting direct preparation for civilian jobs. In hundreds of other service jobs, men are receiving indirect preparation.

A fire controlman works with the firing mechanism of a ship's guns. He must use and adjust optical instruments, know electricity well enough to diagram and build circuits, inspect and repair the delicate mechanism that controls the timing and aiming of a big gun. In short, he must know many of the things that an electrician, an optical maker, or a worker in an instrumentmaking plant must know. With a very little added instruction he can step into one of those jobs when he returns to civilian life.

An aviation metalworker may not seem to be preparing for a civilian job. But he learns to repair radiators, pipe connections, instruments, and joints; becomes familiar with all the kinds of metal used on aircraft, learns to forge, brace, weld, electroplate, bend pipe, use an acetylene welding and cutting outfit, operate hand and power wood-working tools. He learns the principles and theory of flying. When he is ready to return to civilian life he can return as a metalsmith, a shipfitter, a tinsmith, a plumber, or an aviation maintenance man.

THE KIND OF TRAINING

Here are a few of the vocational jobs for which training is given in the vocational schools of the armed forces: Motor mechanic, aviation mechanic, automotive mechanic, armorer, welder, metalworker, machinist, gunsmith, meteorologist, pilot, telegrapher, radio operator, radio maintenance man, electrician, carpenter, boilermaker, molder, photographer, printer, cook, baker, steward, painter, patternmaker, clerk, typist, secretary, truck driver, telephone maintenance man, dial telephone mechanic, draftsman, mapmaker, surveyor, optical maker, blacksmith, saddler, horseshoer, Diesel engine mechanic, fireman.

This training has to be thorough, and here is the curriculum of one course designed to train men for engineroom duties aboard the Navy's Diesel-powered boats:

Diesel mechanics-theory and operation of Diesel engines.

Diesel operation and maintenance-practical problems of operation and care. Applied electricity-electrical gear aboard naval craft.

Electricity—motors, generators, controls, sound equipment. Refrigeration-freon, ammonia, and sulphur-dioxide machines. Gasoline engines-emphasis on carburetion and ignition. Steam—an introduction.

Mathematics-basic arithmetic and its application to practical Problems.

Welding-gas and electric.

Use of small tools.

Practice in the disassembling, repair, and rebuilding of Diesel engines.

That is a thorough course. Yet, to be of maximum use in this war, it must also be a fast course. Therefor, the teachers make every possible use of training-aids-sound films, cutaway engines, working models, charts, "mock-ups" or Diesel parts. They plan this and similar courses so that every possible moment can be spent on actual laboratory work, and only the barest necessary minimum on theoretical instruction.

NOW, on motion of MAXWELL WOLF-

WELFARE Mimeograph And a Grudge

Someone with a mimeograph and a grudge against the City Welfare Department went to town lately and sent a flyer around to a number of City of-ficials and to the press. The note asked several questions, but was unsigned, and therefore ignored in most quarters. However, Commissioner Leo Arnstein is ready with the replies.

The questions and the Commissioner's answers follow.

The Queries

Here are the questions:

-Are 23 Department of Welfare Supervisors to get full City salary for nine months' educational leave, while taking courses at half-rate at the New York School of Social Work? They report one day-study 4

2-How were these favorites selected?

3-Why were no worker-investigators selected for nine months' leave with full salary? They do the work.

4.-When did the City become so rich?

The Replies

And here is the Commissioner's answer:

1-Eight assistant supervisors in the department have been jointly chosen by the New York School of Social Work and the Welfare Department for a workstudy plan. During this six months, they are given one day a week in which they may take courses at the school. They'll get school credit for the departmental field work towards their master's degree in Social Science. The employees chosen pay the full tuition at the school. Similar plans are being worked out with Fordham University. The assistant supervisors will put in 41/2 days' work each week. They are under contract with the City to continue working in the department for one year after they have completed the work for their degree.

Manner of Choice

2-As to the manner of selection, here's how it was done: The New York School of Social Work established the standards. They wanted persons who had eight points of credit at the school; who had above average evaluations in the department; and who seemed to be logical candidates for future administrative and supervisory positions.

The names of all 250 assistant supervisors on the Welfare payroll were submitted to the school. Of these, about 50 had the required credits at the school. Then representatives of the department and the school went over the list and reduced it to 10 or 12. Of these, the school agreed to take eight.

Why No Investigators

3-The following reasons were given by Mr. Arnstein for not choosing investigators for this training:

a. With 1,800 investigators in the department, the selection of eight for training wouldn't accomplish much in lifting the calibre of staff work.

b. The smaller number of assistant supervisors, and the fact that they supervise other employees, will result in widespread benefit from the courses. The better-trained supervisors will be able to improve the work of their investigators, and they will be better equipped for greater responsibility in the future.

4.-As to the question of the City's new wealth, the small cost of the program to the City answers that, the Commissioner

Typists in Arms

There's a minor revolution in Welfare. This time it's the typists who are up in arms, and they're burned up about the restoration of the "line count."

A few years ago, the department gave up the habit of counting each typist's work at the end of the day to see if she was keeping up to quota.

Then, after the recent batch of newly-appointed typists started to work, officials decided they weren't getting . enough work out of them, and ruled that 230 lines an hour constituted production.

Herlands Back

The Herlands investigators are back in Welfare again. They don't announce the purpose of their visits, but the story is that they're looking over the relief rolls to see if there are any people on the relief rolls who could be out working and helping the war effort.

In the meantime, Welfare workers have started a new project. They have taken about 100 women between the ages of 50 and 70, and they're training them to do house work. It seems that houseworkers can get about 50 cents an hour now. and the department has lost the service of some women who couldn't get anyone to take care of their children while they were at the office.

Employees are in general pretty angered by the intervention of Herlands men, which is in effect a reflection on their own work. They say that the only persons now remaining on the rolls are the physically or mentally incapacitated.

Vivian Mason

Reports to the Department of Welfare say that Vivian Mason is doing nicely, and that here injuries weren't as serious as first feared.

But she's still in a Philadelphia hospital recuperating after the train wreck in which she was injured. Miss V. Charlotte Authier is filling in for her as director of Division of Social Service, Miss Pearl B. Zimmerman is now acting assistant director of the division.

These assignments will remain in force until Mrs. Mason's re-

CAFETERIA Ya Gotta Eat

The cafeteria in the Municipal Building goes under the fancy name of the Woman's Municipal Luncheon Club, but a lot of the people who work and eat at the building on Park Row, have their complaints.

Eggs is one complaint. As the story is told, a part of the the egg-boiling machine broke. Because of the priority situation, it wasn't possible to get the part, so for about ten days there weren't any boiled eggs to be had. Seems that no one thought of the simple process of putting a pot of water on the stove, and when it began to boil, dropping eggs into it.

No Butter

Next is butter. Seems that many mornings there isn't any butter around, and the poor City workers have to start their day off with dry bread.

Third is waiting. On rainy days, there is a long, long line stretching down the corridor, and often a half-hour wait. Employees feel that with a little efficiency, the process of getting the diners and the food together could be speeded up.

Prices are OK, they admit, but then add that at times the food is a bit mediocre

HOUSING Mayor Was Feeling Good

The Budget office and the Mayor were in a good mood recently, and handed some raises out to employees in the Department of Housing and Buildings.

These men have taken over extra duties as a result of the war manpower shortage and the Department figured they were entitled to another $120 a

Applications for the scholarships, which are open to men and women of all ages and carry costs of tuition, books, and uniforms, are now being received at the Office of the Dean, New York Institute of Dietetics, 660 Madison Avenue, New York 21, N. Y.

Indicative of the need of artificial dental restorations is the fact that in the Army where ages are up to 3s, there are being made according to statistics given out by the Army Dental Corp., 72,000 dentures a month. In addition, there are 1,500,000 fillings a month in the Army alone, according to Dr. Chellis Chasman of the New York School of Mechanical Dentistry.

An all-time high in traffic placements is recorded in a recent issue of the A.A.T. Reporter, publication of the Academy of Advanced Traffic, 299 Broadway. Listing in detail, the new jobs and promotions obtained by scores of students and graduates of this school, a break-down of types of employment shows the interesting vocational opportunities that exist in the traffic field.

Necessity for repair instead of replacement, breakdown of ice distribution due to manpower shortages, greater mechanical breakdowns due to ageing, have all added to need for refrigeration repairmen. This tendency has caused the YMCA Trade and Technical Schools to epand its Electrical Refrigeration Course, founded in 1932.

NASSAU COUNTY

OFFERS AT PUBLIC AUCTION!

Hundreds of lots—Nouses—Stores—Farms—Estates for the amount of taxes due.

These properties are owned by the County absolutely. This is not a tax sale. What you buy is yours. Title Insurance can be obtained from The Title Guarantee and Trust Company.

A RE you interested in Real Estate? Have you ever studied the advantages of Nassau County? If you have not done so do it now, for Nassau County is

THE MOST PROGRESSIVE COUNTY IN AMERICA

What makes real estate values: Churches, schools, theatres, clubs, Recreation Centers, golf courses, tennis, racing, polo, bathing, boat-ing, fishing, desirable neighbors, and well planned public improve-ments. Nassau has every one of these in abundance and besides all this Nassau has that which makes real estate most desirable.

SPLENDID ACCESSIBILITY

The Long Island Railroad covers Nassau like a blanket. Its many lines give splendid service, both to New York City and Brooklyn. It is a fact that a resident of Nassau can reach his or her place of business far more quickly and certainly much more comfortably than many residents of New York City proper. There are many indications that we are rapidly approaching a very active and

John L. Lewis Muscles In

OHN L. LEWIS, through his United Mine Workers Union, has wedged his way into New York City's municipal civil service.

This grave event, frought with serious implications for every City employee, carries a moral: You can't kick employees around forever!

Here's how it happened:

The custodial workers in New York City's school system have gotten a deal that must be called "raw." The workers themselves use harsher, and sometimes obscene words, to describe their condition-and we must agree with them. They've been kicked around by their bosses, the custodial engineers; they've been denied civil service status by the City; they are badly underpaid; they get their pay indirectly, the way no other City employees do; for years they were hired, punished, and fired at will by their bosses. Finally they got together in a union, Local 74, of the Building Service Employees, AFL. They got a closed shop contract, which was upheld by the courts, and improved working conditionson paper. However, when it came to the showdown, their own international, they say, didn't stand up behind them; their bosses (who belong to another AFL union) set up a subsidiary of that union and began digging into their membership.

Finally, in desperation, they severed their ties with the AFL. Realizing that they are too weak to act on their own as an independent organization, they asked a charter of John L. Lewis's United Mine Workers. They expect they will now get the aggressive backing they were unable to procure before.

CUSTODIAL WORKERS, LISTEN!

Now, a word to the custodial men and women. You have joined the organization of a man who didn't cavil at calling a strike in time of national peril. You have joined the union of a man who can take you into his bosom only through subterfuge—for you aren't mine workers, nor do you fit into any of the groupings which the "catch-all" District 50 of the UMW has taken in. If they've accepted you as members, isn't it clear that the primary reason is your dues and the increased power that will come to Lewis from ruling government employees? You think that John L. Lewis is aggressivebut is the sort of thing he did with the miners the sort of aggressiveness which will help you? Your plight is bad, and you deserve the sympathy of this City's people. But you have taken the "out" of a petulent child. You'll get nowhere without the people's sympathy, and you won't get that sympathy through lining up with Lewis. Let's be frank and admit that you haven't thought the thing through as mature men and women. And remember this: What has been done, can be undone.

A WORD TO CITY EMPLOYEES

A word, too, to other City employees: The UMW isn't going to stop with the gain of one union amongst City employees. Keep your wits about you when you hear the siren song.

TO THE POLICY-MAKERS

And to the policy-makers of the City administration, a word: Just read that moral at the top of this editorial. Let it sink into your heads! You can't get away with kicking employees around!

Don't Stop Now!

HE Third War Loan drive is finished. That doesn't mean, however, that the time for investing in war bonds is finished. The crescendo of bond-purchasing, particularly for government employees, must rise and rise until the war is won. And NOW is the time to buy that extra Bond you meant to get during the drive-but didn't!

Repeat This!

A delegation of bigshots from the AFL Central Trades and Labor Council called on LaGuardia last week. The subject was organization among municipal employees. What they told him went something like this: "You can deal with us, or you can have John L. Lewis or Earl Browder. Take your choice!" . . . Up in Harlem, Sanitation men have been assigned to clean off the roof-tops as well as the streets, and they've found collections of milk bottles and bricks piled up where they would make ammunition for a street fight. . . . One of the sorriest spectacles we've seen in many a day is the national office of the Railway Mail Association fighting its New York local through the courts, because the New York local voted to admit Negroes to membership . Racial hatred of this sort has no place in civil service or in civil service unions. . . . The War Department is trying to spike a rumor that me who get posts with AMG must sign up for 10 years . . . At War Production Board, officials are concuding that resignations fluctuate with the trend of war. The week that Italy surrendered, more than 200 left their jobs. When the grim news from Salerno came in, resignations dropped to a mere 21 . . . Rep. Robert Ramspeck was the man responsible for the big recent reduction in Army Service Forces civilian employees. But it boomeranged on him, because several hundred of those released were in his own district. Everyone of them came to me to complain," he explains. "What could I say? . .

Merit

"A NICE GUY." That's the way almost everybody in the Association of State Civil Service Employees refers to John F. Powers. And that's the way he'll impress you when you meet him and talk with him for five minutes. It's that nice smile, the friendly, unpretentious manner, and the slow, considered way of putting his thoughts into words.

John is a senior underwriter for the State Insurance Fund, up at 625 Madison Avenue, Manhattan. He's been with the Fund going onto 19 years now, and for 8 years before that he was doing marine and fire insurance brokerage. Which means that John Powers got started on his career pretty early-when he was 15 years old, to be exact. Maybe the necessity of always having to deal with people, negotiate with them, and help them with matters which they thought important, imparted to John his "bedside manner."

Heads ASCSE Here John is president of the New York City Chapter of the Association of State Civil Service Employees, a potent organization of some 35,000 members. And to watch him at a meeting is something! He is just the opposite of the tyrannical chairman who wants everything his own way. He lets everybody else have a say. But with tact and grace, he sees to it that the important business gets done-and done with efficiency. Right now, the Association has plenty of war-borne problems, and John, together with his executive board, are doing their best to find the right solutions. What about the returning veteran? What about the present influx of temporary employees into the service? What about the "higher-paid" civil service employee (he wouldn't be called higher-paid in private industry), who hasn't seen a raise in pay since the war started?

The matter of returning servicemen is considered by the New York Chapter as one of the pressing problems that must be solved before very long. Says Powers: "It is our job to obtain for the civil service soldier or sailor the protection he can't get for himself." The State Association is having its big annual convention in Albany on October 19, and this matter is coming up for heavy discussion.

The Draft

"Another problem that's beginning to raise its head," says Powers, "is this: More and more, the employee—I'm talking about fathers with children-is being offered the choice by his draft board to get into the Army or take an essential job. Now, it may be that many employees who have no desire to avoid Army service, may yet be forced to accept other jobs in civilian life considered more essential than working for the State de-partments. We want to make sure that this man's rights as a State employee aren't lost."

Personnel Problems

In dealing with management at the Insurance Fund, Powers operates through a Personnel Committee. Main job of this committee is to take up the problems-"we don't the to call them grievances" of individual employees with the officials. "It has been my experience," says John, "that we can usually iron out these problem quietly. We have found that when we approach officials as gentlemen, they respond without a chip on their shoulders. I look upon our task as a way to bring employees and management closer together rather than as a means of bludgeoning management into doing something it doesn't want to do or can't do."

Have these methods been successful?

"We don't make a habit of publicizing the results. Our efforts have been substantially effective," says Powers. His committee meets every two weeks with the management. But if an emergency should arise, they get together at any time.

So absorbed is John Powers in the work of the ASCSE that he doesn't have much time left for friends. However, he has one "hobby"—the Freeport Fire Department. He's a volunteer fireman, and can talk about the subject of fire-fighting for hours on end. He's been in some pretty dangerous spots during his work as a fireman, but he loves it. His spare time, if any, is spent with his wife and child, and an occasional foray over to the Knights of Columbus, of which he's a member.

When Should U.S. Employees Retire

Sirs: Your articles in the Civil Service Leader tell a tragic story for thousands upon thousands of Federal civil service employes who will inevitably be let out from their jobs after the war ends.

But, there is a silver lining for these thousands of employes, an easy solution, and one wonders why no one has struck upon it: Why do not these employes have their Congressmen and Senators introduce an amendment to the Federal Civil Service Retirement Law, to so make it read that employees may retire, regardless of age, after thirty years of service. (In other words, remove that age-factor, which prevents thousands of them from retiring unless they are near ready for the undertaker).

Did you know that there are thousands upon thousands of old-time civil service employes who have anywherε from 25 to 30 years of service, whose retirement after the enactment of such a law (or within a few years for those nearing their 30-years) would make vacancies for the newcomers? It is up to the wartime employees to see such an amendment to retirement law enacted, and to push for it. In many cases, if they wait for deaths and voluntary retirements to make room for them. they will wait too long, and mostly in vain. They are the ones most vitally interested, and they had better get this done as soon as possible. JAMES W. WATSON.

Oh for the Life Of a Laborer!

Sirs: It seems strange that a classified labor starts at $6.40 per day and six to eight months later goes to $6.88, and then stops for lifetime. If that is Civil Service, then I have had the wrong impression of the term. I always thought Civil Service was a career in which you started from the bottom and worked yourself to the top. There should be some way to classify us, so that we could get raises the same as the rest of the Civil Service employees. If there is, we would appreciate finding out how to go about being reclassified.

DONALD MURPHY.

POLICE CALLS

New Police Organization

About six months ago - on April 13th, to be exact—we ran a piece here entitled "PBA Split in the Making?" In that article we discussed the many grievances of the younger patrolmen and the danger that those grievances might bring to the PBA if some steps weren't taken to alleviate them. We urged that the men and officers of the PBA do everything to keep their organization together.

In that article, after discussing the complaints that the younger patrolmen had about their working conditions-mostly matters of high pension rates and low salaries—and the fact that they blamed the PBA for inaction on these complaints, we said:

"It is small wonder, then, that a split away from the PBA is a subject discussed with increasing frequency among these young patrolmen. The greatest danger of such a split, we believe, lies ahead in the near future. If it doesn't occur within the next months it will be because the prospective leaders of such a movement will await the entrance into the Police Department of the large number of new men who will have to be appointed immediately after the war. . . . Right now we hear much about a nucleus of men and surprisingly enough it includes some older men wellknown in organization activities and advisers of high rank in the department - who are laying their plans. . . ."

We would have liked to print more news about the proposed organization but we simply could not obtain it. The groundwork was being laid quietly and publicity was not being sought.

Now, however, it can be revealed definitely that a call soon will go out to every young patrolman to join a new organiza-

The new organization, however, will not mean a split in the PBA. Members of the new group will be urged to continue their PBA membership. In instances where PBA membership has been discontinued-and these have been numerous among young patrolmen -members of the new organization will be urged to re-establish their PBA membership.

The initial purpose of the new association will be to revise the pension system of the young patrolmen so that the present high rates will be substantially lowered. These patrolmen know that every cop on the job sympathizes with their pension plight and would like to see some relief for them, but our informants tell us that "the PBA has not shown much disposition to tackle this problem seriously." The new organization will work on PBA delegates with the hope of convincing a majority of them that revision of pension rates of the younger patrolmen must become the first order of PBA business.

Bureau of Orders

We have had occasion to comment here on the general excellence of the work of the Bureau Orders. There are some mighty fine men in that bureau.

Now, however, it seems that they have pulled a boner that is causing a number of patrolmen to squawk like unspent fury. Here's the story:

Special Order No. 236, issued Sept. 20th and entitled "Details for Registration Day" provided for the assignment of patrolmen to registration duty at polling places. Under the provisions of that order, members of Squad No. 7 and No. 10 who are assigned to registration duty on October 6, are excused for one tour of duty. Yet compared with the deal that members of the 9th Squad are getting on registration duty, cops in the 7th and 10th Squads are in a bed of roses.

Let's compare the breaks of the men in these squads from the time registration duty was begun until the normal working chart is resumed. In most precincts men were assigned to registration duty for the entire registration period, rather than for one day.

Members of the 7th Squad who were assigned to registration for its duration began by swinging from their 3rd 8-4 tour on Sunday, Sept. 26th. Members of the 10th Squad began by swinging from their 4th 4-12 tour on that day. Members of the 9th Squad, however, got the worst break by swinging into registration duty right after their sixth 4-12 tour.

From the time that these men swung into registration duty until one day after registration is completed-at which time things will become normal again-here is how the men on these squads will have fared:

7th Squad-will have had one 24-hour swing, two 32-hour swings, and one 40-hour swing.

10th Squad-will have had three 24-hour swings and one 32-hour swing.

9th Squad-will have had three 24-hour swings, no 32-hour swings, and, in addition, will have been stuck with an extra 8-hour swing that the other squads missed.

It's obvious that the 9th Squad got the short end of the Registration bargain. But here's the pay-off: To compensate cops for time lost in Registration, the 7th and 10th Squads will get an excusal for one hour of duty. The 9th Squad, which loses the most time, gets no time back at all.

If you've been hearing howling in the backrooms this past week it's a sure thing that it came from cops of the 9th Squad. They're claiming that they should get two hours off. And it looks to us as though they're right.

For Vetgossip

By ARTHUR LIEBERS

The Unflattering Vet People

Here's a Vet who looks around and comes out with a letter making some unflattering observations about the people at 346 Broadway. Anybody ready with an answer?

Here's her letter:

"Let's start with the newcomers. Out of every ten hired, you would be likely to find one conscientious worker. . . . The others are inefficient, lazy, bold, almost illiterate, mannerless, and absolutely without conscience. They haven't any idea that their work expedites our boys' claims, policies, insurance tangles; that we should sholder our jobs as they do theirs-except that ours are safe and well paid.

"I have watched some girls at the files. They file two or three cards, talk, write letters (under supervisors' noses), complain about conditions, discuss promotions; in short, wouldn't be worth two dollars a week in private industry. These are likely the ones that write letters to you complaining of bad conditions and that supervisors watch their comings and goings. (They only spend from a half hour to an hour in the ladies room putting on complete make-up, new hair-do, etc.) Can't they be made to understand how unjust their loafing is? . . . When these workers go into private industry after the war, their hardships will hit them between the eyes.

Over-Efficient

On the other hand, you have the too-efficient worker. She demoralizes the entire department-is thoroughly disliked and justly so. I am referring to the worker who is out deliberately to break records, to She kills herself show off. working unnecessarily hard, becomes a recluse, has no time for friends. She pitches in before her lunch-hour is up. She never raises her head, never leaves her seat, and sets a record that no one else can equal. Then sometimes the supervisor tries to set that as the standard for the office. Errors set in because of the speed-up, the girls are on edge, and the employee is to blame.

"Can't supervisors learn to guage the true merit of a worker? Create a friendly and cooperative spirit? They spend their time sitting at a desk and doing grade work instead of seeing that the work is distributed to get the most out of the staff by assigning the proper work to the proper people."

Well, Vets, who'll be the first to stick up for you?

THE JOB MARKET

The Job Market is designed to help readers and jobs get together. The positions listed are gathered from advertisements of all the newspapers, periodicals and communication with personnel managers. These jobs are analyzed and arranged in categories which will be most helpful as a basis for selection. However, it is wise to read the entire column rather than limit yourself to any one item.

NAVY YARD GAZETTE

Justice in the Yard

There is nothing in the Navy Yard which gets a worker down more than to receive a mimeographed form letter warning him of excessive loss of time or charging him with misconduct. There is nothing more disconcerting to those charged with the responsibility of enforcing discipline than to receive open criticism for the handling of such problems. Again and again it is repeated that the number of employtes involved does not permit the exercise of individual attention. The employee receives his charges and is given twentyfour hours in which to reply. There is no personal hearing. There is nothing he can do about it until after he receives a mimeographed form containing the decision in his case. If, after receiving this decision, he wishes to take the matter up with higher authority, he may do so at the Personnel Office. There does not appear to be any specific provision in Yard regulations for such a personal appearance, and it is not generally known that this is permissable; but charges have been known to be cancelled as the result of interviews granted.

The Right of Appeal

Whether the employee's discontent is due to charges unairly administered, promotions unjustly withheld or efficiency ating improperly calculated, there are established ways of Securing favorable considera-lion. Navy Yard workers are leferred to the booklet, "You and The Navy Yard," which las been specially prepared and distributed for their informaion. The procedure for lodgng complaints or grievances of any kind is quoted on pages 21-25. Per-annum employees may appeal their efficiency ratings in accordance with the procedure outlined on page 54; they may appeal their job classification allocations as described on page 56. Shop workers encouraged to take up their problems with their respective Shop Personnel Supervisors.

The Shop Personnel Supervisor

The greater bulk of Navy Yard employees is employed in the shops of the Production Division and is under the general supervision of men termed "Shop Personnel Supervisors." The idea of the Shop Personnel Supervisor is a relatively new one at the Navy Yard. The Shop Personnel Supervisor has been found to be a valuable advisor to employees under his jurisdiction and also in serving at a tie between the interests of production on one side, and those of personnel administration and industrial relations charged to "topside." They have also notably served to relieve the various officials of "topside" of direct responsibilities which they are more logically in a position to fulfill. It would seem from this that the management has found the solution to the problem of administering justice more equitably.

Administration of Justice

The New York Navy Yard has the highest reputation of all United States Navy Yards for the development of training programs for mechanical workers and mechanical instructors, particularly in the field of apprenticeship, and has recently embarked upon a commendable curriculum for the training of Supervisors. This has been accomplished under the direc-tice school supervisor. It is our conviction that an institution possessing leaders such as these can similarly train men such as Shop Personnel Supervisors in the handling of disciplinary actions. It would seem only fair that charges be preferred by these men on the basis of reports submitted by the prosecuting officers who are usually foreign to the specific employees involved; and then only after the employee was given a personal interview. "Top-side" would be the final judge only in borderline cases and cases of a more serious nasuch as Shop Personnel Superture. The training of men for a job of such great responsibility would be no easy task. But if morale has an important bearing upon productivity, we should say that such a system would be more than worth the effort. If the United States armed forces can go to tremendour extremes to preserve the morale of its men by insuring the delivery of such a small item as mail, why can't the Navy Yard go to half the trouble of bolstering Yard morale by insuring an item which has far greater consequence?

Tardiness

Commandant's Order 23-43, defines tardiness as "any lateness in reporting for duty after the regular beginning time of the shift an employee was scheduled to work, for which prior authority was not obtained". Employees who are considered tardy within the meaning of this definition, will not be permitted to work during the hours of their tardiness. For example, if an employee who is required to start work at 8 a.m. musters at 8:01, he will not be permitted to work until 9 a.m., and he will be docked an hour's

Here's the Newest Listing Of U.S. Jobs to be Filled Now

Below is the latest list of jobs for which the U.S. Civil Service Commission, New York City area, is recruiting. The salary cited isn't quite as high as that paid, because it's geared to a 40-hour workweek, whereas you actually work 48 hours a week. This means you can add 21 percent to the stated pay figures. You may be hired immediately, if you qualify (unless you are now engaged in war industry at your highest skill). So run over the list, and if you see something that strikes you, go to the offices of the Commission, 641 Washington Street, New York City.

"Our daughter has a hope chest ... in an envelope"

"When our little girl's great day comes-and it may not be more than 10 years off-she's going to have all the things a girl dreams about.

"Bright-flowered luncheon sets and fine Irish linen . . : satin-smooth percale sheets and soft fluffy bath towels : : : and lovely laceedged lingerie : : :

"A setting-out like that will cost at least $400! "We'll only pay $300. Because, you see, we're buying War Bonds for her. And for every $3 worth we buy we get $4 back in 10 years. "So every single month we buy a $25 War Bond which costs us only $18.75.

Buying freedom

"And there's something else you can't help but think about when you buy War Bonds. We're doing more than saving money and making a good investment for the future. We're buying the guns and planes and tanks to defend our home. If we don't help our country now to defend our little girl's future, she won't have any future. Except a short and terrible life of slavery to a Jap or Nazi master."

* * *

This little girl's father is putting every spare cent of cash into War Bonds, through the Pay-Roll Savings Plan. So are the great majority of Americans.

But there are still some Americans who ought to be buying War Bonds through the Pay-Roll Savings Plan . : : and aren't.

Others are in, but haven't hit their 10 percent yet. Some could stretch it to 12 percent or 15 percent, just as thousands of other hardworking people are doing.

Everybody—every pay day—10 percent or more

Uncle Sam hopes that every person on a pay roll will be in the Pay-Roll Savings Plan by New Year's. And that we'll top the 10 percent goal. Yes, top it . . . because we know now it's going to take more than 10 bercent to win!

Your comforts and your fun must wait. Your Bonds will buy them all some day : : : more of them than you can ever buy now.

If you are in, be sure you're putting not 6 percent or 7 percent or 8 percent, but at least 10 percent into War Bonds every pay day! If you aren't in the Pay-Roll Savings Plan : . : sign up tomorrow!

WHAT YOU SHOULD DO

If you are . .

- 1. Already setting aside 10 percent of your pay for War Bonds through the Pay-Roll Savings Planboost that 10 percent if you can.
- 2. Working in a plant where the Plan is installed, but haven't signed up yet-sign up tomorrow.
- 5. Working in a plant where the Pay-Roll Savings Plan hasn't been installed, talk to your union head, foreman, or plant manager, and see if it can't be installed right away. The local bank will be glad
- 4. Unable to get in on the Pay-Roll Savings Plan for any reason, go to see your local bank, or other issuing agent. They will be glad to help you start a plan of your own.

Protection

A banana peel or a loose roof board can cost your equity in a home—if it results in an accident and a law suit.

Insurance against these and other hazards should be considered a part of your upkeep expense, says Dalton C. Stapleton, insurance expert. The coverage against public liability, theft, fire, etc., are so broad today, that a small investment, wisely made, can free you from worry and loss. However, buying insurance is quite a business.

"It is extremely important to read and understand your insurance policy," Mr. Stapleton says, "Each person has his individual needs, and not all policies meet all of them. Alterations or additions to your home, may void the entire policy. A chattel mortgage which changes the insurable interest may void the policy. Change in ownership from husband to wife, or change from joint ownership may make settlement difficult or even nullify the contract.

"Insurance is a profession in itself and its problems should be handled by professional men," he concludes.

Without Tests

The City Civil Service Commission last week took another step to help the Board of Transportation meet its manpower problem.

The Commission ruled that the following positions could be filled by hiring temporary workers without giving examinations or making appointments from a civil service list.

Car cleaner, and maintainer's helper, group B are the positions; but these can only be temporary appointments to fill war vacancies.
