DEBATE COACHES ELECT PROFESSOR 1933-34 PRESIDENT

The excellence of State college debating received high recognition last Saturday at Cornell when Dr. Harold W. Thompson, professor of English, was elected president for next year of the Association of New York Collegiate Coaches of Debate, succeeding Professor Calvin L. Lewis of Hamilton college, a former instructor of Dr. Thompson.

Colleges represented at the meeting included: Hamilton, Cornell, Syracuse, University of Buffalo, Union, Fordham, Kenika, and Skidmore. The first meeting of the association will be conducted here next October with Dr. Thompson as host. Each college will be represented by one faculty member and one student.

The debate council expects to schedule Oxford university next year for its first appearance in Albany. Freshman debating will probably be developed; two leading colleges have signified their interest in debating State freshmen.

MEMBERS RECEIVED

Epsilon Beta Phi welcomes Lillian Monacelli, '33, and Harriet Bronk, Esther Grammis, Dorothy Rockwell, and Evelyn Wells, sophomores, into full membership.

Lightning Calculator Figures 20 Bookkeepers Out Of Jobs

Cleveland—(IP)—Universities in New England and in California are being visited by Dr. Salli Finkelstein of Warsaw, said to be one of the fastest human calculators in the world.

It is said that the doctor recently obtained a position with a large concern and displaced more than twenty workers and nearly as many adding machines.

He is capable of adding a column of fifteen figures in a quarter of a second, not appearing to look at the figures the while. On his arrival in this country a reporter handed him a paper on which were three figures to be multiplied by three others. Dr. Finkelstein, according to the New York Times, simply glanced at the paper and wrote down the correct answer.

MISS HOWARD IS HANDBOOK EDITOR FOR JUNIOR CLASS

Marion Howard, '34, will be editor-in-chief of the 1936 freshman handbook, according to Maybelle Matthews, president-elect of the incoming junior class.

Six associate editors were appointed by Miss Howard and Miss Matthews to assist in the work. They are: Hilda Bookheim, Frances Higgins, Haniah Parker, Almira Russ, Thomas Ryan, and Robert Stern. Work has already begun in assembling material for the handbook, Miss Howard said. All copy is expected to be in the hands of the printers, Evoy and Son, by Friday, June 10. The handbook will be ready for distribution and mailing by the fifteenth of August.

Miss Howard is associate managing editor elect of the STATE COLLEGE NEWS, to which position she was appointed after having served as desk editor.

IS DELEGATE

William Collins, '33, will represent Gamma chapter of Kappa Delta Rho at the fraternity's annual national convention to be conducted Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, June 27, 28, and 29 at Lafayette college, Easton, Pennsylvania. The Rho chapter will act as host.

Ideals And Friendships Are Valuable Gifts Of College Years, Seniors Aver

By ALMIRA V. RUSS, '31
REPORTER, STATE

New ideals plus faculty and student relationships will be among the lasting impressions which prominent members of the class of '32 will carry away with them after "moving out into the wide, wide world," Friday morning in the annual Moving Up day exercises.

Kathryn Belknap, literary editor of the Pedagogue and president of music council says, "I think that college doesn't teach you things as much as it shows you what you don't know. I think I have learned the fallacies of some of the ideas and values that I had as a freshman and in their places I have substituted other things which still may change, but I know now that they should change." She believes that five or six of the friendships formed in college will become permanent.

Helen Burgher, vice president of the Young Women's Christian association and chairman of lounge committee says, "My greatest debt to State college is due to the interesting acquaintances and invaluable friendships that I have made here. Four years of college would mean little to any of us if it were the book knowledge alone with which we came in contact. Moreover, State has made me realize that the greater and more vast my experiences, the better prepared I shall be to assume the responsibility of my life work."

Samuel Dorrance, editor of the Echo and member of Myskina, revolted against the opinions expressed by his representative classmates. He

TEAM WILL PLAY GAME TOMORROW

State to Oppose Cooper Union;
Ridgefield Park To Be
Scene of Contest

By Kenneth Miller, '32
Sports Editor, THE NEWS

The baseball team will play the Cooper Union institute nine tomorrow afternoon at Ridgefield park, at 3:00 o'clock. The Cooper Union outfit has shown good batting ability in their early contests and a hard game is expected.

"Ossie" Brooks, righthander, will be in the box for the Purple and Gold team, and "Bob" Goodrich, captain of the nine, will catch.

"Don" Benedict, State's clean-up man will be at first. Lloyd Moreland will work at second. Jack Saunders or Gil De Laura will play short, and Ken Drake will hold down the hot corner.

Johnnie Detlefson, Fay Blum, and Hack Young will patrol the outfield posts.

The State college nine turned back the St. Stephen's baseball team, 2 to 1, Wednesday, May 4, at Amundale. "Ossie" Brooks allowed six hits and struck out fourteen batters while Weaver, St. Stephen's moundsman, was found for five hits by the State players. Brooks had better control than his opponent. The State pitcher gave no passes while the Amundale beehive gave away three.

State scored a run in the second inning when Don Benedict smashed a two-bagger to centerfield and scored on a St. Stephen's mishap.

Fay Blum singled in the ninth and went to second on Drake's hard smash to center. Blum went to third on a beautiful sacrifice bunt by Moreland and scored when Young made the second sacrifice hit of the inning.

The game with Drew last Saturday was cancelled due to weather conditions.

BOARD TO ELECT

The Echo board will meet Monday noon to elect the editorial and business staff for the next year, according to Samuel Dorrance, '32, editor-in-chief.

ALVINA LEWIS, '33, TO BE EDITOR; SIX TO DIRECT STATE COLLEGE NEWS

Bernard Kerbel, '33, Will Be Managing Editor With Miss Styne
and Miss Howard As Associate Managing Editors;
14 "Cubs" Are Promoted To Staff

Thirty-seven appointments and promotions are announced today to the 1932-33 staff and board of the STATE COLLEGE NEWS by the retiring board. The only vacancies in the higher staff positions—those of the desk editorships, were left unfilled until next year.

The board considered number of inches, ability in headline writing, and general ability and dependability in news work.

Editorial Directors

Above are Alvina R. Lewis, and Bernard S. Kerbel, junior, who will direct the editorial policy of next year's NEWS, as editor-in-chief and managing editor, respectively.

Detlefson Will Head Fall Freshman Camp

Plans are under way for the annual freshman camp for men, according to Samuel Dorrance, '32, last season's director. The camp will be located at the Young Men's Christian association camp, Camp Albany on Lake Gossayama.

This will be the third year the camp has been opened. Mylin Schatz, ex-'33, was the first director, and Dorrance followed him in 1931, assisted by Andrew Hritz, '32. This year, the camp will be directed by John Detlefson, '33, assisted by Gernell Rand, '34, who will be director in 1933.

The tent leaders have not been picked, but the number will be greater than last year. There is room for every man in the school, but the number of upper classmen will be limited.

Tent leaders will be picked next week, and the publicity campaign will be launched soon.

The main purpose of the camp is to get the freshman men acquainted and to begin their orientation.

Alvina R. Lewis, '33, heads the incoming board of six members. Bernard S. Kerbel, also a junior, will be managing editor. Two associate managing editorships will be filled by Laura Styne, '33, and Marion Howard, '34. The two board positions in the business department will be filled by Mary Doherty, '33, finance manager, and Jean Craigmire, '34, advertising manager.

Gold keys will be presented to the members of the incoming board on Moving-Up day. Two silver keys will be awarded to Frances Keller and Vera Burns, seniors, for outstanding work. The presentation will be made by Dr. A. R. Brubacher, president.

Fourteen "Cubs" Promoted

Three senior associate editors and four junior associate editors were appointed. The senior associate editors will be: Margaret Service, Ruth Putnam, and Harriet Dunn. The junior associate editors will be: Almira Russ, Elizabeth Sales, Thelma Smith and Kathryn Wilkins.

Thomas Ryan, '34, was appointed sports' editor. This year Kenneth Miller, '32, filled the position.

Fourteen "cubs" were promoted to the rank of reporters. They are Beatrice Coe, '34; Ruth Brooks, Florence Ellen, Irwin Friend, Dorothy Galagan, Bessie Hartman, Hilda Hennes, Emily Hurlbut, Olga Hyra, Anna Koren, Valentine Kentovich, Esther Rowland, Ruth Williams, and Dan Van Leuven, freshmen. Last year thirty "cubs" were promoted to reporter's positions.

Business Staff Named

Jean Watkins, '33, will be circulation manager. Her duties will be to deliver the copies of NEWS; mail them to advertisers, exchanges, and subscribers; and take charge of distribution each Friday. Katherine Haug, '34, will act as assistant finance manager. The rest of business staff includes Beatrice Burns, Mildred Facer, Edith Garrison, Francis Maxwell, Elizabeth Premer, Alma Quincy, Julia Rich, and Margaret Walworth, freshmen. The business staff will assist the finance, advertising and circulation managers.

Kerbel next year as managing editor will oversee the work of the two associate managing editors. Miss Styne will be in charge of teaching the "cubs." Miss Howard will be in charge of assigning stories to the members of the editorial staff.

Miss Lewis, the editor-in-chief elect, has been a member of the News staff for the past three years. She was promoted to the position of desk editor in the first semester of her sophomore year, after having served as a "cub" reporter and reporter. During the past year, she has filled the position of associate managing editor. While in this capacity, she had charge of assigning stories for the first semester, and teaching the "cub" classes during the second semester. Last year she edited the Girls' Athletic association handbook, and was an associate editor of the 1935 freshman handbook. She is member of Alpha Phi Gamma, national honorary journalistic fraternity. Miss Lewis has served as secretary of her class for the past year.

FRESHMAN ENTHUSIASM

Freshman enthusiasm in the search for the elusive sophomore mascot revived pleasant memories for many upper-classmen this week.

The sight of begrimed men in old clothes and women wearing overalls and other habiliments more suited to members of the janitorial force proved the earnestness of the class in its search.

Rivalry seems to wane during most of the year, since 1930, save as Moving-up day approaches and then it is fanned into flame. The more rivalry that can be stimulated, the better it is for both of the classes. This may be a teacher-training institution, but the two under classes always serve as a pleasant reminder that its students have the same desire for fun as do those of other colleges. It is good to lay aside the books and papers and join in the fun Upperclassmen feel envious.

It is a difficult task for the sophomore committee, presumably limited in number, to select a position secure from the curious gaze of some two hundred yearlings. For two of the past four years the mascot has been found. While the sympathies of the College at large lie with the freshman seekers, that feeling can take only an intangible form unless until the freshmen do their snake-dance on the campus with the sophomore mascot at their head.

Alma Mater News

COLLEGE SENIORS AND JOBS

These are not the best of times for graduates of colleges to get jobs when they leave their alma maters in June yet youth is ever confident and while it makes allowances for the times it is optimistic. The questionnaire which, like the poor, is always with us gives an interesting viewpoint on the expectations of seniors.

This questionnaire was taken among seniors of the College of Arts and Pure Science and the Colleges of Engineering of New York University. Last year the questionnaire revealed that seniors expected to be earning $1,500 a year by the first of September after graduation but this year they expect to earn only at the rate of $1,200. They expect to be earning $3,000 annually within five years and $5,000 in 10 years. Last year the expectations were $4,500 in five years and $10,000 in 10 years.

It is apparent that ideas have changed a bit and "big money" is not expected to come so soon after beginning life work. As someone observed recently, the time is gone by when we hear youth say, "Aw, 30 a week isn't cigarette money."

But times will change again and the college men with the right stuff in them will succeed. It is better if they do not expect as much as they expect of a few years ago.

SENSE AND SENSIBILITY

State college women are well trained in some ways. An almost unanimous opinion expressed in a symposium gathered for this paper showed that all of those consulted would marry for love in preference to wealth with an old man.

They are to be congratulated on their good sense, for in theory at least, they have made what the experts would call a wise decision. If called upon to make an actual decision, there might be a different decision, however.

It must be admitted that it is a feminine prerogative to change the mind, but at least the young ladies entertain sensible theories.

THE PASSING

The announcement of a new managing board for the STATE COLLEGE NEWS leaves but a single remaining issue to be edited for the student association by the body which served it during the past year.

Regret and satisfaction are intermingled as the editorial blue pencil is turned over to the new editor and staff. Regret, because this time of the year heralds the breaking of ties which four years were necessary to build. Satisfaction, on being able to complete the task which was entrusted by the confidence of the student association.

This has been a trying year for the News from an economic standpoint. National advertising and cigarette advertising could not be run. The finance manager was faced with the unusual task of providing for needs arising from the twenty-five per cent cut in the budget. The advertising manager has had to obtain almost all of the ad copy from local advertisers, who of course have been hard hit.

These unusual economic conditions have imposed changes which of necessity detracted from the publication. Instead of two six-page issues per month, the board has been confined to four-page issues. Cuts, cartoons, and other devices for adding variety and interest have been curtailed to a painful degree. The only benefits derived from the lack of advertising were those which permitted an unusually large amount of news copy to run in four pages.

Some of the ideas which were entertained by the incoming editor and his board in September have been carried through. Large amounts of copy from the National Student Federation of America and the Inter-collegiate Press have been published in order to give State college readers as wide a range of inter-collegiate news as possible.

The News strenuously advocated a reduced tax of $13 and the dropping of the Lion from the budget. While neither of these aims were realized, the action did result in organizing a questioning attitude toward the value of each of the College activities and made some of them realize that they were on trial for their literary lives.

All College activities of inter-collegiate scope, such as debating and student conferences, have received every possible cooperation in publicity and editorial support. The same may be said for the numerous dramatic presentations. The News has advocated and successfully carried through the fight for a revision of the extra-class point system. This paper lent its strongest aid and in fact initiated the fight for an opportunity for night study in the College library and stopped only when the promise of the administration and library staff had been obtained to open it. The News conducted the questionnaire which conclusively proved that the student body wanted and needed the facilities at night.

The News pointed out the dangers of fire hazards in Richardson hall and soon afterward this condition was alleviated.

The News also furthered the discussion on basketball provoked by the alumni meeting in Syracuse. This paper opened its columns to both sides, the alumni and Coach Baker, and as a result of its pushing the matter, an entirely revised basketball schedule has been arranged for the coming year. It has met with approval of alumni and administration and is really an outstanding achievement.

The arguments in favor of a College board of publications were first advanced through the News. Although the committee appointed by the president of the student association reported against it, 3-2, it also presented information of value for the reorganization of publications and finances. And it led to a continued investigation along lines suggested by the News.

An outcome of this previous action was the investigation of sorority control and participation of the several College activities. A painstaking and thorough investigation was made and the results given to the association in a series of articles. It is as yet too early to make predictions upon the result.

All in all, the board cannot lay claim to having achieved anything remarkable. Financial difficulties and restrictions were most prominent reasons for this. Yet the board is proud to have guided the News successfully in what will rightly be acknowledged as its most precarious year since its foundation in 1917. And that is an achievement.

BOOKS: DR. WILLIAM Beebe TELLS OF BAHAMA EXPLORATION

By G. P. R.

For Sale In College Bookshops
Vonach Land of Water By William Beebe Brewster, Warren, and Putnam, New York City, 259 pages $3.00

The scientific doings of William Beebe have long been front page news. He has studied the giant turtles of the Galapagos Islands off the coast of Ecuador; he has penetrated the dark recesses of the dreaded Sargasso Sea, the "sea of sand" of the Atlantic; and has visited the ocean floor to depths greater than those achieved by any other scientist. These doings are of interest not only to men of science, but to the average man.

Mr. Beebe has collected these adventures and the fruits of many years of stirring research and exploration into this volume which is being written in his capacity as director of the department of tropical research of the New York Zoological Society. He proves in it that he is one of the few scientists who can turn his findings into clear English prose. The struggle of two and colonies takes on the proportions and importance of a great war under his magic pen; his stories and pictures of deep sea life are filled with palpitating interest.

Nonsuch is really an island of the Bahama group and was headquarters of Beebe for three seasons while he and his party carried on much of the work and experienced the adventures that find their way to these pages.

Students interested in science and students interested in having a well-stocked library cannot afford to miss this book.

TEAM WILL PLAY WEEK-ENDMATCHES

Vermont and St. Michael's To Oppose State Netmen

The State college varsity tennis team will seek its second victory of the season this afternoon when it meets the University of Vermont at Burlington. After the match, the squad will journey to Winooski park where it will meet St. Michael's college tomorrow afternoon. The squad is composed of Carl Tarbox, captain, Sanford Levinstein, Vincent Meleski, Anthony Sroka, Gordon Hughes, and Jack Saroff.

Last year State defeated Vermont university 4 to 2. It will mark the first time that State has played St. Michael's.

State opened the season by winning its first match with St. Stephen's college, 5-1, at Ridgefield park, Wednesday afternoon, May 4.

Captain Tarbox led his team by taking the first singles match from Captain Kates of St. Stephen's, 6-1, 6-4. Levinstein completely outclassed his opponent, Jordan, and took the love sets of the match, 6-0, 6-0.

Jordan was unable to break through Levinstein's tricky service and bowed to a far superior opponent. Hughes required an extra set to down Riley, 6-3, 3-6, 6-4. Everett was the only St. Stephen's man to chalk up a victory, winning two straight sets from Saroff, 6-2, 6-3.

Tarbox and Levinstein won two easy sets from Jordan and Everett to take the first doubles match, 6-1, 6-3. After dropping their first set, 2-6, Hughes and Saroff rallied to win two straight sets, 6-1, 7-5, to take the second doubles match.

The match scheduled with Ithaca college on Saturday, May 7, was postponed because of rain.

When the Shelton opened (7 years ago) we began catering to college men and women. Gradually their patronage has increased; we feel safe in asserting that more students make the Shelton their New York home than at any club or other hotel. One reason for this is the free recreational features plus a desire to serve on the part of Shelton employees. Room rates have been greatly reduced. Rates from $50 per month upward. A room from $2.50 daily.

Club features (free to guests) are as follows: swimming pool; completely equipped gymnasium; game rooms for bridge and backgammon; roof garden and solarium. Restaurant and cafeteria service at reasonable prices.

Marshal Explains

The Moving-Up day ceremonies will begin on Friday morning, May 20, at 8:00 o'clock, when the members of the four classes assemble for the procession into the auditorium of Page hall, Katherine Traver, '32, grand marshal for Moving-Up day, said today.

The classes will assemble at 8:00 o'clock, and the procession will begin promptly at 8:30. The seniors will assemble in the rotunda of Draper hall; the juniors in the first floor of Husted hall, by the east doorway; the sophomores in the lower corridor of Draper hall in front of the College Co-operative book store; and the freshmen in the lower corridor of Draper hall, east of the student mailbox.

The line of march will begin in front of Draper hall and will extend across the campus to the front door of Page hall, Miss Traver explained. Myskania will lead the procession, followed by the grand marshal and the classes in order, senior, junior, sophomore, and freshman.

Following the ceremonies in the auditorium of Page hall, the lines will re-assemble and march out the front door of Page hall, around the campus in front of Page hall, and will then form class numerals on the campus. G. A. A. INSTALLATION AND AWARD DINNER WILL BE MAY 24

The annual spring award dinner and installation ceremonies of the Girls' Athletic association will be conducted Tuesday, May 24, at 5:30 o'clock in the cafeteria of Husted hall, according to Elizabeth Jackson, '32, president of the association. Marion Tangney, '33, is general chairman for the dinner.

The announcement of awards for the sports on the spring sport schedule will be made at the dinner and the officers and council for next year will be installed. The members of the outgoing council and of the new council will take part in the ceremonies.

The membership of the council includes the officers of the association, a manager of athletics for each class, and a representative on the council from the sophomore, junior, and senior classes.

The committees for the dinner are: publicity, Alvina Lewis, '33, chairwoman, and Hilda Heimes, '35; music, Janet Norris, '35; chaperones, Mary Trella, '33; waitresses, Evelyn Staehle, '35; and clean-up, Lucy Wing, '35.

Bureau Places Three Seniors For Next Year

Three more persons have secured teaching positions, according to Professor John M. Sayles, principal of Milne High school and secretary of the placement bureau. The total number of members of the senior class who have signed teaching contracts is now approximately fifty, which is one-fifth of the class.

The three people who have just received positions are: Jane McLaughlin, who will teach grade school in New Scotland; Leola Morrison, who will teach in the grades at Morehouseville; and Anna Kellogg, who will teach commerce at Waverly.

The other changes have been made in the education department. Education 6, problems in supervision, has been changed to Education 130, a graduate course. Education 8, educational hygiene, will be changed to Education 111, and Education 12, psychology of adolescence, to Education 129.

Another important feature has been introduced, in regards to the language credit. Credit will not be given for only one year of French, German, or Spanish. The reason for this change is that the administration thinks that one year of a language is not sufficient for an adequate background. Miss Van Denburgh added.

Revotes For Officers Will Be At 11:10 Today

Revotes for the offices of next year's student association will be conducted in assembly at 11:10 o'clock this morning, according to Isabel Peard, '32, president.
