Oyster Bay Sanitation Workers Urged To Keep Successful CSEA Tactics

(From Leader Correspondent)

OYSTER BAY, Aug. 10 — Oyster Bay Town sanitation workers were urged today to continue their negotiations with town officials for improved working conditions in line with the successful and time-proven methods of the Civil Service Employees' Assn.

This declaration came from Nassau County Chapter president Irving Flaumenbaum, in commenting on a dispute which has arisen between 177 sanitation workers and the town board. The dispute has become intertwined with a union's effort to win recognition as the bargaining agent for the workers. The town officials, on the grounds of State law, have declined to negotiate with the union's representative on the employee problem.

Flaumenbaum, noting the long record of employee accomplishment through the county and town units of the CSEA, stated, "There is no need for a union for any Nassau County public employee. We have managed over the years to negotiate our problems and grievances with all of the public officials to the satisfaction of both sides. And we have

Grievance Board nits Wall Duty As A Form Of Guard Punishment

ALBANY, Aug. 10 — No state correction officer should be "punished" by being assigned to "wall duty," the State Grievance Board has ruled.

The board comments, signed by William J. Isaacson and Samuel R. Pierce Jr., referred to a complaint lodged by Roger Bell, a correction officer formerly working at Clinton Prison.

"We consider that assignment to wall duty for punishment purposes is improper," the board held, adding:

'Ulterior Motives'

"While it is, of course, necessary for a warden to have freedom to make assignments to insure the security of his prison (which would include the assignment of high quality personnel to wall duty), such freedom should not be used for ulterior motives."

Bell notified the board after he had applied for a transfer from Clinton to Dannemora State Hospital, he was given wall duty. Prior to his seeking the transfer, he had been serving in an inside prison post.

He contended he was being punished for seeking a transfer.

Back to the Wall

After receiving the transfer, an economy move sent him back to Clinton, where he once again was placed on wall duty, he told the board.

In its decision, the board noted that Bell had again been transferred to Dannemora and so it

Any actively employed insured member of the Group Life Insurance Plan of the Civil Service Employees Assn., who became age 50 on or after January 1, 1964, or whose 50th birthday is during 1964, may convert $1000 or $2000 of this group life insurance to a permanent form of individual life insurance which contains cash and paid-up values, without medical examination.

Group insurance would be reduced by the amount converted, and the payroll deductions for such insurance would be reduced accordingly. The amount of insurance an insured member is entitled to in the future under the group plan would be reduced by the amount converted. Premium waiver and double indemnity for the same amounts of insurance may also be obtained for an additional cost.

Sept. 1 Deadline

Request for this conversion, on forms furnished by The Civil Service Employees Assn., must be received by the Association at its headquarters, 8 Elk St., Albany, New York prior to September 1, 1964. The effective date of the converted insurance will be November 1, 1964, contingent on premium payments for the converted insurance to be made BUFFALO, Aug. 10 — The State Civil Service Commission is a defendant in a court action here that ultimately will test the constitutionality of loyalty oath procedures in New York State's Feinberg Law.

Supreme Court Cited

The Buffalo case involves five present or former State University of Buffalo faculty members who have questioned the legality of the Feinberg Law.

The Veteran's Counselor

By FRANK V. VOTTO

The Department of Veterans Affairs, Ottawa, Canada, has supplied us with the following resume of benefits of its Veterans Charter which apply to veterans of the Canadian Armed Forces residing outside of Canada:

Pension Act. The Pension Act gives the Canadian Pension Commission authority to pay pensions for disabilities, including aggravation of pre-enlistment disabilities, or deaths which were incurred on or are attributable to military service in time of war. Awards under the Act are paid to those concerned irrespective of their place of residence.

War Veterans and Civilian Allowances. The War Veterans Allowance Act and Part XI of the Civilian War Pensions and Allowances Act provide for the payment of allowances to Canadian veterans and certain civilians whose war service and financial circumstances meet the requirements of one of the Acts and to the dependants of such persons. These allowances may be paid outside Canada provided that (a) the recipient had lived in Canada for the 12 months immediately prior to his leaving to reside in another country, and (b) the recipient had been in receipt of an allowance at the time of leaving Canada.

Treatment Regulations. Veterans to whom pension entitlement has been granted under the Canadian Pension Act may be given, on the authorization of the Department of Veterans Affairs, treatment for their pensionable disabilities at any time, regardless of where they live.

Under certain conditions of service and financial circumstances, Canadian veterans may receive treatment for non-pensioned conditions in a Departmental hospital in Canada.

Education Assistance for Children of War Dead. Education assistance beyond the secondary school levels, for the children of those who have died as a result of military service is not available outside Canada. However, such children may receive this assistance if they undertake suitable courses of study in Canadian educational institutions.

Veterans Insurance. Virtually all persons who were eligible under the Veterans Insurance Act may now purchase this protection up to October 31, 1968 provided they do not already have the maximum of $10,000 allowed under the Act on any one life. Conversely, all eligibility ceases after that date. (Not available to veterans of World War I.)

Re-establishment Credit. Canadian veterans, residing outside Canada, are eligible for re-establishment credit, but may use it only for the purchase of veterans insurance. Eligibility for these credits expires on October 31, 1968 (not available to veterans of World War I).

Further information concerning these benefits may be obtained by contacting your local office of the State Division of Veterans' Affairs.

Conflict of Interest Booklet Distributed To Local Officials

"Conflicts of Interest," a booklet designed to brief officers and employees of local government on a new statute which becomes effective September 1, was distributed to appropriate officials in 1,600 municipalities and 2,000 districts, State Comptroller Arthur Levitt has announced.

"A greater degree of conformance than occurred under previous law should result from a definite awareness of what constitutes prohibited conflicts of interest," Levitt said.

The new law, prepared under Comptroller Levitt's direction with the assistance of a citizens committee he had appointed, culminated several years of research by the Comptroller and his staff into numerous conflict of interest violations under an old law. Disclosures revealed in audits of municipalities conducted by the Comptroller's Division of Municipal Affairs led to the study.

First Uniform Statute

The new law is the first uniform statute on the subject and applies to units of government and officers and employees that heretofore were not affected by statute law. It defines conflict of interest in municipal contracts and reforms existing law by consolidating 78 provisions into a single law. It also requires public disclosure of interests and authorizes local codes of ethics and boards of ethics.

General Robert F. Kennedy; Connecticut Senator Abraham Ribicoff; Peace Corps Director Sargent Shriver; Chief Justice Earl Warren; Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara; Main Senator Edmund S. Muskie; Alabama Senator John J. Sparkman; Arkansas Senator J. W. Fulbright; California Governor Edmund G. (Pat) Brown; and Rhode Island Senator John O. Pastore.

The delegates were also asked who they considered to be the convention favorite for vice president, and Senator Humphrey again polled extremely well, receiving 70 percent of the votes cast. It must be remembered, however, that President Lyndon B. Johnson excluded members of his cabinet—including New York's favorites Kennedy and Stevenson—just as this poll was mailed to the New York delegates for the vice presidential nomination.

Wagner Second

Running second among New York delegates was Mayor Wagner, with Senator McCarthy taking third place as the favorite for the vice presidency. Of the remaining names mentioned, no individual received more than four votes. Senator Humphrey also pulled well as second and third choice of delegates who named someone else as their first selection. Surprisingly, some of the delegates felt themselves compelled to explain their choices.

Among comments on the Vice Presidential nominees included on the ballots were such statements as follows:

"I believe Wagner would bring more votes to the ticket than Humphrey and certainly more than McCarthy, as McCarthy would be an obvious choice of the Catholic issue, while Wagner would not be—although a Catholic. It would also be considered unfair by many to take McCarthy over Humphrey."

"I feel the vice president should be a seasoned, level-headed gentleman experienced in our government and world affairs. Someone that can assist the President and, if necessary, carry part of the load of government should Johnson need his help. It is well known Johnson has a heart condition, and I believe Humphrey the best qualified to carry on should the need arise—as did L.B.J."

For United States Senator from New York, the poll revealed upstate Congressman Samuel S. Stratton enjoyed the support of 36 percent of those voting.

It must be remembered however that Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy at this time indicated he was not a candidate for the United States Senate.

If it is also true that if Kennedy does run for the Senate he will get strong support from Stratton backers.

Others who received more than just mention were Mayor Wagner and District Attorney Frank Hogan, who received 13 percent of the votes cast each. No other candidate received more than 2 percent of the ballots cast.

Stratton's showing reaffirms support shown for him in a Leader poll conducted last May on the choice of Democrats for the U.S. Senate race. Speculation on Robert F. Kennedy as a candidate for the post caused some prognosticators to rule Stratton out.

Among the people getting votes for nomination for United States Senator from New York were: Robert F. Wagner, Mayor of New York; Otis Pike, Suffolk Congressman; Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy; Howard F. Samuels, Buffalo industrialist; Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., Undersecretary of Commerce; Arthur Levitt, State Comptroller; Hugh Carey, Brooklyn Congressman; James A. Farley, former Postmaster General; W. Averill Harriman, State Department official; Paul O'Dwyer, New York City Councilman-at-Large; Edward F. Cavanaugh, Jr., Deputy Mayor of New York City; Victor Anuso, Supreme Court Justice; Peter Strauss, WMCA Radio head; former Ambassador Anthony Akers; Louis Nizer, attorney; Paul Screvane, president of the New York City Council; and William H. McKeon, chairman, New York State Democratic Committee.

Following is a comment offered by a delegate who voted for Hogan: "I respect the fact that Robert Kennedy has announced he is not a candidate for the Senate—thus my vote. However, I believe he should be drafted by the Democratic leaders which would make it easier for him to run. He'd make a fine candidate and a great United States Senator. He has worked and lived in New York as much as any other place." The poll was conducted in secrecy and delegates were not asked to sign their ballots or identify their selections in any way.

Pay Raise For Onondaga Aides, First In 4 Years, To Take Effect On Jan. 1

(From Leader Correspondent)

SYRACUSE, Aug. 10 — All of Onondaga County's approximately 2,200 employees are due for a raise next January 1—even though in some cases the pay increase could be as little as $18.

A new salary plan—the county's first major salary revision in four years—was unanimously adopted last week by the Board of Supervisors. Even Democrats who sought, but failed, to delay final action until September, voted for the plan when the time for balloting came.

The $230,000 in salary hikes in the new plan, plus another $130,000 in regular annual increments also due on January 1, 1965, in effect, grants partly a recommendation for a general pay boost made by the Onondaga Chapter, Civil Service Employees Assn., earlier this year.

Wanted 10 Percent

County Executive John H. Mulroy turned down the chapter's recommended 10 percent pay increase for all county workers. But almost immediately after he announced plans for the new salary schedule, which gives employees a raise, plus annual increases of four percent on each of the five subsequent January firsts.

A similar salary plan, which provided annual boosts of five percent, was turned down by the county in 1963.

Salary boosts under the plan range from the $18 for a sanitary engineer in the final step of his top grade (the new pay range is $8,944 to $10,868 compared to $9,850 to $10,850 in the present salary plan) to more than $600 (a top-grade civil engineer in the final step, for example receives $602 more—$8,606 to $10,432 vs. $8,850 to $9,850 in the present plan.)

However, most of the pay increases run in the $200 to $500 range.

Examples

Some examples: (present salary range in parentheses).

Caseworker—$4,966 to $6,058 ($4,975-$5,575).

Account clerk—$3,814 to $4,420 ($3,730-$4,190).

Bookkeeping machine operator—$3,770 to $4,602 ($3,950-$4,420).

Correction officer—$4,502 to $5,592 ($4,575-$5,075).

Court clerk—$5,590 to $6,812 ($6,025-$6,825).

Housekeeper—$5,382 to $6,552 ($5,725-$6,325).

Laboratory Technician—$4,238 to $5,174 ($4,200-$4,700).

Maintenance Man—$4,420 to $4,966 ($4,325-$4,825).

Office machine operator—$3,770 to $4,602 ($3,960-$4,420).

Principal clerk—$4,238 to $5,174 ($4,325-$4,825).

Senior Cashier—$4,784 to $5,824 (new position).

Stenographer—$3,484 to $4,238 ($3,900).

Clerks and elevator operators in the top grade also receive one of the smallest increases—$26 for 1965.

Up and Down

As the examples show, the starting salary in almost all of the 330 job titles (reduced from nearly 600) has been reduced, the range and top salary increased.

This was done, county personnel officials said, to attempt to retain workers longer by more attractive annual boosts to higher top salaries.

The new plan does not include any of the county's top executive posts, most of which are filled by appointment or election.

The plan also was designed to bring the county's salaries more in line with those of other municipalities and private industry in the area.

Wassaic Unit Member Dies

Harry W. Hosier, 69, a member of the Wassaic State School Chapter of the Civil Service Employees Assn., and for 30 years a shop clerk at the school, died recently of a heart attack.

His home for the past four years was in Pleasant Valley, N.Y. Before that he lived in Dover Plains for many years. He was a member of the Dover Plains Methodist Church.

Born in the Town of Amenia on March 10, 1895, Hosier was the son of the late Peter and Minnie Wheeler Hosier. His wife, Mrs. Nellie Benson Hosier, died in 1957.

Survivors include three cousins, Mrs. Helen Rozelle, Dover Plains, Mrs. Florence Herring, Wassaic, and Clarence Wheeler, Pleasant Valley.

Burial was in the Valley View Cemetery, Dover Plains.

CSEA Group Life Plan Members May Now Use Conversion Privileges

Any insured member interested should secure information and the required form for conversion from CSEA.

Listed below are the current premiums being charged by the Travelers Insurance Company at certain ages for those whose occupations do not require extra premiums. These premiums are for a plan of individual life insurance which will be paid up at age 70. Conversion to other forms of permanent insurance will be allowed and information concerning cost at particular ages will be furnished any insured member who requests same. Premiums for the converted insurance must be paid on at least a quarterly basis.

Any insured member of the CSEA Group Life Insurance Plan who on or after January 1, 1965 reaches 50, 55 or 60, may, during the calendar year in which he attains such age, convert the same amounts of insurance, $1000 or $2000, by filing a request form prior to September 1 of such year with the Association. The converted policy would become effective as of November 1 of such year. Accordingly, the amount of insurance the member is entitled to under the group plan is reduced by the amount of insurance converted.

During the 25 years the CSEA Group Life Plan has operated it has been underwritten by the Travelers Insurance Company, Hartford, Connecticut and the agent has been Ter Bush and Powell, Inc. The plan has grown to cover more than 66,000 CSEA members. Thirty percent additional insurance has been provided without increase in cost—premium costs have been reduced—double indemnity for accidental death has been added—and a premium waiver in the event of total disability prior to age 60 has also been added—without additional cost.

Insured members interested in this new conversion privilege should write to CSEA Headquarters promptly to secure the necessary information and request forms which they can use to apply for the converted insurance. Remember—such request forms must be filed with the Association's Albany Headquarters prior to September 1, 1964, for the converted insurance to take effect on the following November 1.

Keep Up Negotiation, Flamenbaum Urges

(Continued from Page 1) done it in a responsible way without any strike threat hanging over the public officials. Our public policy renounces the use of the strike."

Flamenbaum said that 162 of the 177 employees were members of the town hall unit and enjoyed these benefits won by the CSEA in the last few years:

- A five percent pay increase installed in July.
- An eight percent reduction in retirement costs.
- Increased vacation and sick leave benefits.
- A health insurance and social security program.

- Payroll deduction of dues permitting low cost life insurance.
- Grievance machinery.

The main issue in the current dispute is the sanitation workers' demand for a 40-hour week based on the old 48-hour pay scale. The town suggested a five-day, 40-hour week with 44 hours pay. The workers have turned down this offer.

Flamenbaum, who already has attended several sessions to talk with workers and town officials, has urged the men to continue to negotiate with the town, with the aid of CSEA officials, to seek an amicable solution to the problem.

Pay Bill Grants Aides $207 Million Increase

The controversial and much-delayed Federal pay raise bill has at long last become a law. It will provide $207 million additional pay for all military aides, a 5.6 percent raise for postal workers, and 4.3 more for civil service employees.

Final Congressional salaries — a compromise between the Senate and House proposals—were justified by President Johnson as "the best to attract and retain top-flight personnel in government."

The bill will boost Congressional salaries from $22,500 to $30,000 annually, and the pay of Cabinet members from $25,000 to $35,000. Federal court judges will be granted a raise of $7,500 per year.

Military Boosts

The 2.5 percent increase will affect all military officers, warrant officers and enlisted personnel with more than two years of service. Because their last pay hike was in 1952, commissioned and warrant officers with less than two years' service will receive an 8.5 percent increase.

Although Congressmen will have to wait until January, 1965 for their increases, all other raises are retroactive to July 1 of this year. Examples of increases in the upper echelon of the government appear like this: level 2, which includes Secretaries administrators and chairman, will pay $30,000.

The Deputy Attorney and Postmaster Generals, and most Under Secretaries in level 3 will receive $28,500; the assistant secretaries and deputy administrators in level 4 will now be paid $27,000; and those in the associate titles and smaller agencies, included in level 4, are entitled to $26,000.

The bill also grants the President authority to add 60 more executives to levels 4 and 5.

Some Disapprove

There was objection to points of the Morrison Bill from several corners, however. Representative Robert L. Sikes (D-Fla.) issued a statement repeating the cry that the pay raise was "too small."

And Representative Robert W. Kastenmier (D-Wisc.) accused Congress of "a glaring error" in omitting raises for draftees and newly enlisted men.

But the bill now has the President's blessing. Listed in full on the right are the new comparative salary rates for Federal grades from one to 18. The revised rate for postal employees appears on page 15.

Seminar Center To Be Reviewed

John W. Macy, Jr., chairman of the Civil Service Commission, has named a Committee of Visitors to review and evaluate the Federal government's Executive Seminar Center at Kings Point, New York.

Robert K. Greenleaf, director of management research for the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. has been appointed chairman of the committee; Dr. Paul P. Van Riper, professor of administration, Graduate School of Business, Cornell University; and Dr. Richard E. McArdle, executive director, National Institute of Public Affairs have agreed to serve as members of the committee.

Opened last fall by the CSC, the Executive Seminar Center is a government-wide interagency training facility, offering career executives in all Federal agencies an opportunity to increase their understanding of government responsibility and operation. Since then, it has conducted 15 two-week seminars for 555 participants from 44 Federal departments.

Appeal System Called 'Unfair'

The District of Columbia Bar Assn. recently announced an urgent need for complete renovation of the dismissal appeal system in the Federal government. President of the association Oliver Gasch accused the government of sometimes firing Federal employees on the basis of concealed evidence.

A former U.S. attorney for the District of Columbia, Gasch has announced that the Bar Assn. plans to appoint a special committee to study government appeal procedures and recommend improvements.

During his years as a government counsel, Gasch stated, he found that appeal procedures were hardly "fair and adequate." Said the president, employees can be fired on the basis of information which they have no opportunity to refute.

The National Federation of Government Employees joined Gasch's protest, calling the appeal system "stacked against the employee" since agencies bring charges and rule only on the employee's reply to them.

Protection-Personified

This is the fifth in a series of six articles on "How the City Handles Emergencies and Disasters." This week's article concerns the Department of Markets.

ADULTERATED hamburgers to glass diamonds is a growing and vast industry in the City of New York, and throughout the United States for that matter, but there is a department in New York City that is devoted to putting a stop to such matters, and they are succeeding alarmingly well. Let's travel the route of one William Ratteray, who is an inspector in the weights and measures bureau of the Department of Markets. Just what is his job?

He's the man that walks around to supermarkets, delis, small stores, confectionaries and the like carrying a little leather case which contains various weights. He goes into a store, checks out the scales and makes a report.

"There are so many ways that a scale can be doctored that it takes constant study to keep up with these types of people," Ratteray said.

"We're trying to stay ahead of them, but it is a close race."

One of the other problems facing this dedicated department is the checking of gas at stations to make sure it is the real thing.

The inspector has a series of bottles which he carries with him. He takes a sample from a pump, matches it with the actual gas and, if there is a difference in color, the sample is sent to the oil company's lab to check to see if it has been doctored.

If it has, it's off to court for the gas station operator.

Now let's talk jewelry with Esther E. Hendler, female supervising inspector. This is the woman with all the gadgets in the world to detect phony sapphires, rubies, diamonds and the like.

Not only is she involved in detecting jewelry, but several other items. One she likes the most is detecting false advertising signs that make all kinds of crazy claims about products and food stuffs.

Such things as nylon stockings for 55 cents, which aren't nylon, paint brushes that claim to be made of horse hair, and aren't, and containers of orange drink that claim to be pure, which turn out to be 40 percent water are only some of the findings this devoted civil ser-

IS IT OR ISN'T IT? — Esther E. Handler, female supervising inspector for the Department of Markets, checks over stones to make sure that they are the genuine thing. She is constantly finding colored glass that looks like many types of precious gems. Also shown is the picture is a paint brush that was supposed to be made of horse hair but wasn't and containers of orange juice which contained mostly water.

Charging for fuel oil not received which has been written up in the newspapers throughout the years with regard to loading tanks, has just about been halted thanks to the extended efforts of the Department of Markets.

The department has sedans equipped with material which can detect what a truck has in its tank and what it actually deposits at a house. If there is any difference, it's off to court for the fuel oil man.

Fuel oil trucks are trailed to make sure that the sales slip offered to the customer corresponds to the number of gallons injected into the involved system.

With the tremendous load that is put on the department, it seems rather silly that there are only 92 inspectors to cover the thousands of commercial outlets in this vast city of New York.

Being one of the smallest department in the city government, it is constantly challenged with the necessity of versatility.

Therefore, every inspector is equipped to interchange with another so that all facets of inspection are covered.

It must also be remembered that inspecting is not the only operation that the Department of Markets controls.

It supervises the licensing of all push carts and itinerant sellers; it operates seven retail markets across the city.

It operates its own markets in Brooklyn, the Bronx and Manhattan.

It operates the Fulton Fish Market.

It is building the largest market

City Aides Offered Course in Test-Taking

A course entitled "Developing Your Ability to Take a Civil Service Examination" will be available to City employees in the Fall, 1964 City College Municipal Personnel Program. City Personnel Director Dr. Theodore H. Lang, has announced.

Louis Alper, chief of training of the New York City Housing Authority will be the instructor for this course which has consistently been one of the most popular offerings in the evening voluntary program.

Costs are just as important here as they are in your own home. Why not suggest a saving for the City and profit from your idea.—CITY EMPLOYEES' SUGGESTION PROGRAM, 55 Thomas St., N.Y., N.Y. 10013.

IS THIS GAS THE REAL THING? —

An inspector for the Department of Markets checks two bottles of gasoline to see that they match. If they don't, then an investigation is taken and a determination as to whether the gasoline was doctored is made.

Duty As Punishment

SOME months ago we paid a compliment here to the State Grievance Board for its awareness of the coffee break as an instrument of good employee morale. We are pleased to report that the members of that board also have an eye for improper punishment.

State Correction Officer Roger Bell filed a grievance with the State unit charging that when he sought a transfer from Clinton Prison to Dannemora State Prison he was taken off his inside duties and given wall guard duty. Bell said he got his transfer, but, because of an economy measure, had to go back to Clinton Prison to work—and was immediately assigned to wall duty.

Although Bell is back at Dannemora again, the Grievance Board felt the wall duty assignment was so obviously a form of punishment that it wanted to go on record citing such punishment as improper. The Board statement said that "while it is, of course, necessary for a (prison) warden to have freedom to make assignments to insure the security of his prison, such freedom should not be used for ulterior motives."

We'll put, we say!

The U.S. Pay Raise

POST Office and other Federal employees, as well as members of the Congress and the Judiciary, will soon be receiving salary increases now that these hikes have been approved by Congress and signed by President Johnson.

Most U.S. workers will be breathing easier now, because the salary legislation had bogged down last year when Congressmen refused to vote themselves a raise and, therefore, killed an earlier pay measure. It was largely due to efforts from the White House that the salary issue was revived.

Still of concern to many Federal employees, however, is the effect the increase will have on promotion opportunities. It is customary for U.S. agencies to absorb such increases to some degree by departmental budget reductions. Economy of operation in Government is justifiable and desirable but, once again, we urge that these economies not be effected by sacrificing the future of employees.

Career Rewarded

FORTY years after he chose civil service as his career, Martin Scott last week became the Commissioner of the world's largest fire department.

From a job which started at $1,800 a year, Scott progressed through the ranks by competitive examinations to the position of chief fire marshal. He has now been appointed to the leadership of the department at a salary of $25,000.

We congratulate Commissioner Scott on his appointment and for the example he sets for other civil service employees. He exemplifies the civil service merit system operating at its best.

Social Security Questions Answered

Below are questions on Social Security problems sent in by our readers and answered by a legal expert in the field. Anyone with a question on Social Security should write it out and send it to the Social Security Editor, Civil Service Leader, 97 Duane St., New York 7, N.Y.

Q. I am over 65 and have operated a motel for over 15 years. Each winter my wife and I go to Florida since we do not operate the motel in the winter. Since I earn over $4800 each year I have never tried to collect social security benefits. My friends say I can. Are they right?

A. Your friends are correct. Since there are months of the year in which you do not work in your business, you can be paid social security benefits for these months, no matter how much you earn in other parts of the year. Although you did not mention your wife's age, she may also be entitled to receive monthly benefits if she is 62 years old. You should call at the nearest social security office without delay.

Q. When I enter college this fall, I will work part time for the college. Will my work be covered under the Social Security Act?

A. No. If you are in the college and are regularly attending classes, such work is not covered by the Social Security Act.

Books In Review

JOB HORIZONS FOR COLLEGE

WOMEN IN THE 1960's. Published by the U.S. Department of Labor, Women's Bureau. 78 pages, booklet. 30 cents.

Published by the Women's Bureau of the U.S. Department of Labor, this extensive booklet states as its purpose the brief description of the nature of various careers open to college women, the indication of educational and training requirements for these positions, and the enumeration of several sources for further study of these major fields. It accomplishes its aim well.

The publication encompasses all of business—governmental and private. Touching briefly on primary occupations from accounting to writing, it discusses the demand for labor, the qualifications demanded, present salary ranges, and the opportunities for advancement within the field.

But there are factors to be considered within particular jobs as well. The booklet urges the prospective employee to consider related opportunities within the field, and fringe benefits such as retirement systems, job security provisions and health plans.

But to secure a position—in private industry as well as in government service—one must first know where to apply. The booklet discusses, therefore, entrance examinations and lists six pages of sources of employment throughout the country, complete with addresses, for every prime field of work.

Of special concern to the college student is a penetrating chapter on fellowships and loans, listing the women's organizations which offer the most extensive scholarships. The benefits open for post-graduate students are studied, and the brochure offers suggestions for sources of further information on the subject.

Finally, the reader is offered a comparison of rates in wages for women since 1950, mentioning the advances made in the areas of salary and number of employed. Education is important, it concludes, and college an invaluable asset for the woman in business.

Although limited in size, this Labor Department publication covers a remarkable area thoroughly in brief space. Its lists of employment sources will save the job-hunter much time in searching for home offices, and the job possibility suggestions it makes with wisdom and foresight may well determine quite a few doubtful futures.

Your Public Relations IQ

By LEO J. MARGOLIN

Mr. Margolin is Head of the Division of Business Administration and Professor of Business Administration at the Borough of Manhattan Community College and Adjunct Professor of Public Relations in New York University's Graduate School of Public Administration.

Civil Service IS Professional

NO BETTER tangible proof exists that civil service is professional than the high quality of the "Civil Service Journal," official quarterly of the U.S. Civil Service Commission.

NOW BEGINNING its fifth year of publication, the "Journal" reflects an image of the civil servant as a professional of outstanding quality. From this angle alone, it contributes immeasurably to the good public relations of civil service.

THE WORTH of a profession can usually be determined by the quality of the professional publications it generates. The "Journal" is of such superior quality that there can be no question of civil service's professional status.

IN FACE of the "Journal's" professional eloquence, only an ignoramus would voice those old and ridiculous chestnuts that civil servants are "pencil-pushers," "paper shufflers," or "unproductive feeders at the public trough."

NEXT TIME some stupid oaf pitches us one of those curves, we'll ask him: "Do you know that the U.S. Government employs 2,532 professional mathematicians, many of them with Ph. D's?"

THE CURVE pitcher won't know that, or even what a mathematician is. At that point, we'll dig him a hole into which to crawl. We urgently suggest the same treatment for any similar ignoramus you may meet. The important point is to answer every silly attack on civil service with solid, irrefutable facts such as you would find in the "Journal."

WE ENJOYED all the articles in a recent issue of the "Journal," but the one we liked best was written by John D. Roth. As Director of the Federal Incentive Awards of the U.S. Civil Service Commission, he discusses "How Awards Relate to Behavioral Science."

ALTHOUGH the text is scholarly, it makes exciting reading because every civil servant will understand himself better after studying the article. He will discover what motivations make him tick, and this alone will make him a more valuable civil servant.

FOR EXAMPLE; did you know your motivations are divided into five broad categories: (1) Self-fulfillment; (2) Ego needs; (3) Social needs; (4) Safety needs; and (5) Physiological needs?

THE AWARDS incentive program comes under the self-fulfillment category, because, writes Mr. Roth:

"THE AWARDS system makes a positive contribution to the self-fulfillment needs by providing an organized system in which the employee is encouraged to utilize creative talents, initiative, and drive beyond the immediate requirements of his job."

"THE CHANGING Federal Civil Service" is a fascinating report in "The Journal" by Civil Service Commissioner Robert E. Hampton. He says that today's civil servant is a trained technician, rather than a member of "the army of clerks."

The Rev. John P. Fleming is moderator, and William G. McMurrer and Thomas J. Donovan are co-captains.

Editor, The Leader:

While the Federal government is giving money to New York State for my unemployment insurance check, I have been asking the post office to reinstate me since March 1.

If I am writing this, it is obvious I would much rather work for the money.

What kind of economic arithmetic is this?

under the new statute in that a prohibited conflict of interest nullifies and voids a contract and makes it unenforceable. It also defines as a misdemeanor the willful and knowing act of a local public official or employee in becoming party to a prohibited contract, or if he willfully and knowingly fails to disclose an interest in a contract.

Comptroller Levitt also commented: "The law is fair and realistic, but most significantly, authority for its administration is placed where it belongs—squarely with local public officials."

Cigarettes, Gasoline, Whiskey And The Ponies Keep State's Misc. Tax Dept. In The Millions

(Special to The Leader)

ALBANY, Aug. 10 — A little publicized state agency, whose civil service staff last year collected a record $762 million in miscellaneous taxes, has some 770 employees.

Pro-rated, this averages out to about $1 million per employee.

The man in charge of the State Tax Department's Miscellaneous Tax Bureau is G.

E. Rowley, a deputy commissioner, and he credits this smooth-running operation to:

"The fact that we have a lot of experts on the staff, a lot of excellent technicians, who have come up through the ranks and they know their job."

He adds: "We're very happy with our personnel."

Imported Talent

Rowley, a New York import from Massachusetts, has held numerous state jobs since he first was appointed assistant director of the Veterans' Bonus Bureau in 1947. He was named to his present post in 1959.

At various times, he has served as a deputy State Rent Administrator, director of the Truck Mileage Tax Bureau and as Executive Secretary to the Joint Legislative Committee for the Revision of Corporation Laws.

His two top assistants are John J. Purcell and John W. Ryan, both deputy directors of the bureau.

Where the $$ Are

The Bureau employees are charged with collecting such state taxes as these: cigarette, alcoholic beverage, estate, motor fuel, stock transfer, truck mileage, highway use, mortgage and pari-mutuel.

"Pari-mutuel is considered our glamor tax," Rowley commented. "The job of being a pari-mutuel examiner at one of the big tracks is one of the state's most popular appointments. There's always a large number of applicants for the civil service examination, but few vacancies."

Andrew Feeney is the director of pari-mutuel revenue for the bureau, which includes both harness and thoroughbred racing.

Only 10 years ago, the bureau collected a total of $370 million. It's most recent "take" of $762 million is an indication of the rapid growth of the bureau and the importance of its work in the state's tax setup.

Second Highest Income

In fact, today, as Rowley points out, the bureau is second in total income only to the State Income Tax Bureau. At one time, corporation taxes exceeded miscellaneous tax collections but no longer.

At one time, the Bureau was headed by Mary Goode Krone, who now is president of the State Civil Service Commission. During the Harriman administration, Purcell was in charge of operations.

There's still another civil service side to the Bureau. Joseph F. Pelly, president of the Civil Service Employees Assn. is a member of the staff.

As one Capitol wag put it the other day, "If the Miscellaneous Tax Bureau doesn't get you during your lifetime for cigarette or alcohol taxes, it gets you in the end with its estate tax."

EVERY 15 working days a bus is reborn in the East New York Shops of the Transit Authority. The rebuilding of a bus from stem to stern at East New York is complete. The only part of the vehicle that is salvaged is the chassis and the body. At a cost of $6,000 per vehicle, the Transit Authority and its subsidiary, the Manhattan and Bronx Surface Transit Operating Authority give the bus another five or six years of safe and efficient service. The work is all done by employees—civil servants—and the net savings amount to about $20,000 per bus. To replace these buses would cost almost $26,000 after a waiting period of four to six months. The photo story above by TA photographer Paul Thayer shows the rebirth of bus number 2838. From left to right, top to bottom, the operations are replacement of all electrical wiring—a common fire hazard—removal and replacement where necessary of windows—a frequent cause of complaint when windows no longer slide up and down; removal of upholstery for inspection, cleaning and rebuilding where necessary; the installation of a motor previously rebuilt in another section of the four acre shop; removal of body damage by sheet metal workers; sanding of the vehicle prior to painting; the cutting of new seat covers by one of the TA upholsters; final masking of windows before spraying operations; actual spraying operations; a final adjustment of the engine and transmission; operator leaves the garage and—21 days later “welcome aboard” to the first passenger on 2838’s second life. The East New York shops cover a four-acre site under the Broadway Junction Rapid Transit shops in Brooklyn. The rehabilitation project was started shortly after the TA took control of MABSTOA in order to bring the subsidiary corporation’s rolling stock into condition which met TA’s rigid standards.

New L. I. Conference, Like Texas, Enjoying Feeling Of Its Bigness

(From Leader Correspondent)

WEST BRENTWOOD, Aug. 10—On Long Island, which gave birth to the suburban boom, bigness has become a way of life. And Long Islanders have become used to thinking and dealing with superlatives.

Thus, it will be no surprise that Julia E. Duffy of West Islip will go to Albany for the next meeting of the board of directors of the State Civil Service Employees Assn. as:

1. A representative of the newly-formed Long Island Conference which, with 23,000 members, claims to be the largest conference in the state.

2. As first vice president of a Conference which has the largest county employee membership (in the Nassau and Suffolk chapters) as well as the largest Mental Hygiene Department membership of any conference in the state.

3. As president of the CSEA unit at Pilgrim State Hospital, which with 4,100 employees, is the largest mental hospital in the world.

A "First"

Julia Duffy, a head nurse at the Edgewood Division of Pilgrim Hospital, also will be able to speak with first-hand knowledge about some of the problems of the total of 10,000 state employees at Pilgrim State, Central Islip and Kings Park State Hospitals. It will be the first time that these Suffolk County Mental Hygiene Department workers will have had one of their own members on the state CSEA board of directors.

She also will represent simultaneously, the interests of the other eight county and state chapters in the Long Island Conference. Indeed, she noted, the cooperation between state and county CSEA memberships in the Nassau-Suffolk area is both unusual and highly-productive.

Working Together

"When the county workers were seeking a pay increase," she recalls, "the state workers gave them all the help they could. And

The board commented: "We consider it important, however, to make certain comments." It was then the board went on record against use of wall duty as a form of punishment for employees.

ferred to passengers aboard ship.

Ports-of-Call

Other ports of call will include Cassablanca, Majorca, Sicily, Naples and Capri, with side trips available to Florence, Rome and/or the Riviera.

Those who wish a sorter vacation may take the Vulvania to the Mediterranean and fly back earlier by jet.

Prices, which are for cabin class accommodations, start at $578. Return voyage will be aboard the Leonardo da Vinci.

then when the state employees wanted higher pay, the county workers wrote many letters in their behalf." The Long Island Conference will hold its first meeting in September and, at that time, conference officers are likely to suggest topics for her to discuss with the State CSEA board of directors.

Recently elected president of the Pilgrim unit, Julia Duffy also served as president in 1950 during a previous tour of duty at the hospital. With many years of nursing experience, she also has served as head of the recovery room at Mercy Hospital in Rockville Centre.

She has watched the Pilgrim Chapter grow, during the years between her terms as president, from 1,000 to 3,400 members. She

Loyalty Oath Challenged

State laws, requiring that all state employees take loyalty oaths.

The applicants lost the first round last week when Federal Judge John O. Henderson turned down a motion for a preliminary injunction that would have halted enforcement of the New York loyalty oath requirement pending a final court decision.

Judge Henderson reserved decision on another motion, asking that a three-judge Federal Court panel be convened to hear the case.

States View

One party to the suit is George E. Starbuck, a University of Buffalo library specialist, who took issue with a loyalty oath requirement in a State Civil Service Commission questionnaire.

There is "no substantial Federal question" involved, Judge Henderson was told by Mrs. Kessler Tooh, assistant state solicitor general, who represented the Civil Service Commission at the hearing.

The State University of Buffalo is the old University of Buffalo. It became part of the State University in 1962.

believes that CSEA members find that their chapter membership is productive in employee benefits. "I think most people feel that the CSEA membership is a good thing," she says. In addition to her other jobs, she also has served on the state-wide membership committee.

Dr. Stanley Davies In New MH Post

ALBANY, Aug. 10—Dr. Stanley P. Davies is the new deputy director of planning for mental retardation in the State Department of Mental Hygiene at a salary of $18,000 a year.

Dr. Davies will be working with Hyman N. Forstenzer, the newly appointed commissioner for mental health resources and policy planning.

In recent years, Dr. Davies has been director of special studies for the New York State Association for Mental Health and is the author of numerous articles and studies.

Beacon Police Seek Pay Raise, Right To Live Outside City

(From Leader Correspondent)

BEACON, Aug. 10 — Two petitions, one protesting a plan that would allow Beacon policemen to live outside of the city and the other which seeks a referendum be placed on the November 3rd ballot seeking starting police pay at $5,400 and moving up to a salary of $6,800 after five years, were presented to the Beacon City Council at a meeting August 3rd. Acting Mayor Robillard tabled discussion "until all members of the council are present." Robillard is Beacon Commissioner of Accounts.

At the present time, policemen must live within Beacon city limits. Paul J. Hawks, 510 Main St., protested against any change in this rule. In presenting the petition containing 160 names he said, "It's not right for taxpayers to pay wages to out-of-town men." He said that this applied to all municipal employees.

Pay Petition

The other petition, containing 633 names, asked to up the present starting pay of $4,800 to the formerly listed figures.

Acting Mayor Robillard said he wanted to wait until Mayor Odell and Commissioner of Finance Mahoney are able to attend the Council session. Both are on vacation and while Commissioner Mahoney will be back for the Aug.

17 meeting, Mayor Odell will not be present at a meeting until Sept. 8.

Police Strength

Beacon's police department has a mandated strength of 30 men, but is down to 26 and a Civil Service list has been exhausted.

In a new development, Robillard announced that there are 18 applicants for the examination for Beacon patrolman and 16 of them are residents of Beacon. He added that, although the proposed ordinance would allow Beacon policemen to live as far away as the Town of North East, about 45 miles, Beacon Police Chief Wood has told him he wants his men to live at least within 20 miles of Beacon.

Sgt. Hansen Retires

ALBANY, Aug. 10—Sgt. Thomas Hansen of the State Police has retired after almost 36 years of service. He took his oath at Malone on May 1, 1929.

Politics Downs Sen. Wise, Civil Service Foe; Keeps Friend Wilcox In Office

(From Leader Correspondent)

WATERTOWN, Aug. 10 — Senator Henry A. Wise, R., Watertown, drops out of the political picture at midnight December 31 and the Civil Service Employees Assn. loses an arch foe while it will have the continued support of a longtime friend—Assemblyman Orin S. Wilcox, R., Theresa, for another two year term.

While Senator Wise has openly voiced his disapproval of the civil service system in New York state, Assemblyman Wilcox has made civil service the mainstream of his political career for the last 15 years as chairman of the lower house civil service committee.

Wise took a calculated political risk at the June primary election and lost.

Senator Wise, politically an arch conservative, felt he stood a good chance of winning the Republican nomination as representative of the 31st congressional district. He had long been touted as the potential successor to Rep. Clarence E. Kilburn, R., Malone, but the party voters decreed otherwise in the primary.

Big Turnout

Senator Wise, retiring from the senate contest in favor of H. Douglas Barclay, Oswego county Republican, was beaten for congress by State Senator Robert C. McEwen, R., Ogdensburg, by a lopsided vote in a campaign which brought out more than half the registered Republicans in the five-county district.

Assemblyman Wilcox, on the other hand, is an active candidate for gubernatorial appointment to the New York State Civil Service Commission. If he wins the nod, he would retire from the Assembly. If he does not, he plans to serve for the next two years; then retire after 23 years of service.

Wilcox enjoys the unique distinction of being the only candidate on the general election ballot for assembly. He is not opposed by the Democrats, Liberals or Conservatives. He received an offer of endorsement by the Conservative party but rejected it.

Barclay, expected to be elected by an overwhelming majority in the heavily Republican Jefferson Lewis-Oswego senatorial district, is friendly to the aims of civil service. Recently he impressed north CSEA chapter leaders when he attended a recent civil service outing at Alexandria Bay.

PODIUM AWARD — General C.V.R. Schuyler, Commissioner of General Services, presents a $25.00 suggestion award with key case and certificate to Anthony M. Caputo, State Capitol Building guard, for his suggestion to place a podium in the Red Room for the Governor's use during press conferences.
