State Paints 'Home' Chapel

SMILES held two painting parties at the Albany Home for Children this week, November 6 and 11. General clean-up and washing of the walls took place Tuesday and the painting began yesterday.

Alan Campbell '51, has announced that a mailbox has been attached to the SMILES bulletin board. He asks that any suggestions for improving the organization be dropped in, so that they may be used.

Gerald Dunn '51, President of Election Commission, presented to the Council several recommendations of the Commission, which include:
1. The editor of the Frosh Handbook should be elected within one month after the beginning of the second semester, from the Sophomore class.
2. After nominations for all offices have closed, one additional day shall be given to allow for withdrawals.
3. Any candidate for a class office who has not paid his class dues by the time nominations are closed, shall be eliminated from the ballot.

These recommendations were approved, and will take effect Monday.

Come Bidee, Buyee Boxes At Chinese Auction Monday

Whether or not you takee chinee, you'd better go to the Commons Monday at noon and see if you can get any bargains at the Chinese Auction. The Honorable Sparkee Vaughn will be Auctioneer.

Your name doesn't have to be Hwang Ho or Peking Fete to make you eligible to bid. The only reason they call it a Chinese Auction is because you won't know what you're getting until you get there. (It's a well known fact, you know, that the Chinese are short on words and long on surprises.)

Rare bits of paraphernalia and privileges will be virtually given away to the highest bidder, so don't miss a single sweet second. The buy of the day is a surprise package, the contents of which will be known only after purchase. A word to the wise is sufficient, so if you go steady, have your nickels ready.

A goal of ten dollars has been set up, which will be used to purchase a rivalry bulletin board.

Cross To Give Study Seating Concert-Lecture For Graduation

Music Council will present Milton Cross, noted commentator, author, and music critic, in a concert-lecture, on the evening of December 2, according to Jean Munro '49, President.

Cross is known from the Saturday afternoon radio program, which he conducts from the Metropolitan Opera House. He also has several other programs, including "Metropolitan Auditions of the Air" and "Piano Playhouse."

Miss Munro states that in the program given by Music Council, Cross will discuss the opera and take his listeners behind the scenes of the Metropolitan with his experiences and anecdotes of the stars that he has known. In this project he will be assisted by a quartette of young opera stars who will sing excerpts of the opera he discusses. The audience will learn something of life backstage.

Study Seating For Graduation

The administration has granted permission to the class of '49 to form a committee to study the problem of inadequate seating facilities for graduation and report on what solution to the problem can be made at the present time.

If an adequate solution can be worked out, it will be followed this June and in years to come, until the plans for added facilities materialize in the new building plans now being considered.

The committee has already begun work and expects that they will have a complete report ready by the first of the year. Investigations are being conducted concerning the Armory, the Palace theatre and out-door ceremonies here at the college.

Rodney Felder '49, has been appointed chairman of the committee, and Patricia Rourke '49, has been appointed secretary. Other members of the committee include Michael Capuano, Joseph Amyot, Dorothy Kern, Marvin Wayne, Arline Zielengold, Audrey Schmay, Jean Hoffman, Joseph Francello and Jean Munro, Seniors.

'L-' Show Proves Explosive; Sophs Entertain NEWS Staff

What with "Peen Julver," "Whitley Shiltse," "Uncouth Rockingham," and "Fernadette Brail," not to mention the murder of a well-known member of our society, the Soph Lack-o-Talent show in the P.O. last Wednesday night was howling. (That is, the cast howled and the audience hooted.)

Mary Fenzel played the lead with touching reality, and Jerry Dunn didn't move at all. He just stayed dead during the entire performance. One by one the members of the NEWS staff giggled as they became aware of slight similarities between themselves and characters in the skit. This was not coincidental.

Miss M.F., not of E.D. fame, won first prize as least lack of talent; Mr. J.D. won second prize as most lack of talent; and Mr. B. Jablon third, for a mel-low voice.

Among the unrehearsed events of the evening was the explosion of the elder, intended for the staff.

Press Bureau Releases List For 'Who's Who'

Sixteen Seniors have been elected as a result of the election held in assembly October 15 to select representatives to "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities."

The following students were elected: Robertson William Baker, James Urell Brophy, Catherine Mary Donnelly, Rodney Otto Felder, Catherine Suzanne Grant, Barbara Hope Houck, John William Jennings, Robert Elwyn Kittredge, Donald Gene Langsley, Jean Gertrude McCabe, Agnes Jeanne McIntyre, Joan Ann Pulver, Joyce Honey Simon, Robert Louis Tucker, Robert Kenneth Wilcox, and Joseph Louis Zanchelli.

The results of the election were withheld until this date because official word had not been received from the organization as to whether the entire list of sixteen had been accepted. The quota for each college is determined by the enrollment. State's quota is supposedly fourteen but because the college has an organization of thirteen Seniors chosen as the outstanding members of the class, the organization has allowed the leniency of electing two additional representatives.

The names and records of those people chosen to represent the college will be published in the publication of the organization, "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

Hillel Will Present Paul Ilton In Lounge

Mr. Paul I. Ilton, author, journalist, and archeologist, will appear in the Lounge Sunday evening at 8 p. m., under the auspices of Hillel.

Marvin Wayne '50, President of Hillel, has announced that Mr. Ilton will tell of various experiences he has had while traveling in Palestine. Mr. Ilton, who has been excavating and doing research work in Palestine for over twenty years, will also have on display an exhibit of valuable items such as gold ornaments and coins, dishes, vases, and bottles, some of which were used during the time of Abraham.

At the present time, Mr. Ilton is preparing a book on "The Bible and Archeology," in which he will discuss the books of the Bible in order relating to biblical incidents with archeological findings.

Earline Thompson was elected on the second distribution and Ruth Matteson was elected on the elimination by a very close margin over James Cafaro on an elimination of the second distribution.

The vacancies occurred as a result of the election of William Lyons as Vice-President of Student Association and the resignation of Anthony Prochilo from the office.

New sports staff members from the class of '50 are Diane Webber and Andrew Rosetti and those members added from the class of '51 are Paul Buckman, Patricia Jal, Harvey Milk, Jay Miller and Robert Reno.

Due to the increased amount of news this year, a NEWS constitution change was made which allows for the election of eight Desk Editors instead of six. From the eight Sophomores, Desk Editors chosen were: Cecelia Battisti, Goldie Brenner, Jane Cook, Gerald Dunn, Mary Fenzel, Dorothy Mann, Eugene Fetrie and Evelyn Wolfe.

The Desk Editors and Sports Staff members were chosen on the basis of interest and ability shown since try-outs began.

Tempus Fugit . . .

Time is passing very quickly and few people seem to have realized that plans have been completed for the annual Christmas Ball which will be sponsored by Inter-Sorority and Inter-Fraternity Councils, and that only two weeks remain after Thanksgiving vacation before the Ball.

Usually students begin to talk and think in advance about plans for a dance but in this case, there seems to be little interest at the present moment. Those members of the student body who are familiar with the details involved in planning the dance realize the problems that were confronted but which should be brought before the attention of all.

First of all, the dance was planned on a much smaller scale than last year because of the financial failure of the Claude Thornhill affair. The name-band did not seem worth the money, the sororities and fraternities went into debt, the Armory did not seem to be the satisfactory place.

Therefore, the first decision that was made was that we should secure a less expensive but good small band with the idea also of decreasing the price of the bids and making the dance available to more students in the college.

Then came the stumbling block—where could the Ball be held and still accommodate the large numbers expected to attend? Any person who has tried to make arrangements for a large affair of this type in Albany realizes the lack of available facilities. The committee tried the Colonial Country Club but this was without success because of the disapproval of the administration; they investigated the downtown hotels but their ballrooms could not accommodate more than 150 couples; the Armory was again suggested but the idea quickly dismissed because of the memory of last year; our own gymnasium was being used for a Mine basketball game that night; there was one solution—the Aurania Club which could only be secured for Friday night.

Even this fact was against the wishes of the organized group as very often students object to dances on Friday nights. However, it had to be this way or not at all. The price was down, the orchestra was small, the date was set and then the capacity of the Club was set at 300 couples. This was something else to spoil the plans but a situation which could not be changed because of the size of the Aurania Club.

Contrary to the rumors that have been circulating, the dance is open to anyone in the college—fraternity and sorority or not to the first 300 persons who purchase their bids.

Inter-Fraternity and Inter-Sorority Councils have made the plans for a formal. Some members of the Association may not like the way it was planned. However, if those people wish something different, next year is the time to rectify it, not this year. Instead, support the Councils and get your bids early.

Attention: Advanced Dramatics

Perhaps it is taking advantage of the space allotted me as this week's reviewer to address my remarks solely to the group responsible for our dramatic presentations. However, I feel that after Tuesday's offering, a great many people left Page with a lot on their minds. Some were not so polite. They audibly voiced their opinions on the ultimate value of the evening just spent.

This is not a new murmur of discontentment. Numerous times since the rebirth of AD nearly three years ago, the faithful Tuesday night Page-goers have found themselves turning away with a shrug of dissatisfaction. Something was wrong. The plays weren't clicking. It is conceded from the outset that it is far easier to sit behind a typewriter and peck out the poison-pen reviews with the boundless ecstasy of a Charles Addams' cartoon character, than take a constructive part in the endless work and aggravation involved in producing any of the aforementioned ventures. Yet the question of the entire returns: "Is it worth it?" "Are the Tuesday-night productions worth the time, the effort, the aggravation and often the weak audience response they so often receive?"

Most of us realize that the purpose of Advanced Dramatics on our Campus is to give those people, so inclined, first-hand experience in play production. The Tuesday night presentations serve as a lab or

GET 'EM WHILE THEY'RE HOT
 Have you noticed those little stars, "December 10," plastered all over the walls? These are the reminders that the Inter-Fraternity-Inter-Sorority Ball is coming soon, and that you'd better pick your women right away, fellows. It's to be held at the Aurania Club, up on Allen Street, near the intersection of Western and Madison.

Due to the limitations in size of the hall, only three hundred tickets will be sold. They will NOT be held in reserve for fraternity and sorority members only, so, independents, don't hesitate or worry about your opportunity to get yours. It's first come, first served, and it should be one of the year's best social events. Come along, and all's well that ends well.

PLENTY OF ACTION
 How much can one organization do? Inter-Group is a bunch that shows just how much. It's almost unbelievable. They conduct seminars, which now concern American folklore. With station WROW, they present a weekly radio show. Right now, they're carrying on a city-wide survey of the children's recreational facilities. Last week's assembly was presented by them. They foster IGC's in other colleges, work in the Clinton Square Community Center, and do a dozen other different things, as a real service organization.

Joy Simon and her gang are doing a wonderful job. Our hat's off to you!

HAVE YOU PAID UP?
 In recent class of 50 elections, there have been some questions as to the eligibility of some of the voters. There is a difference between the number of people who claim to have paid their dues and the number that the records show as having paid. The class treasurer wants to avoid such messes in the future. If there is any question as to your status, contact Bill Dumbleton '50, immediately, so that things can be straightened out.

THIS IS IT
 Monday morning the fraternities will issue their bids to the fellows they hope to have enter their respective organizations. They've been giving you the big rush since September; now, boys, is the time for you to make that big decision. And it is a big one. The fellows you choose are going to be your close friends till you get that old diploma.

I've seen all too many fellows discover they've made a mistake in deciding which outfit to join when it's too late—when any attempts at rectifying the mistake are bound to cause hard feelings. So consider carefully—the organization as a whole, the fellows, individually and as a unit, their activities and how they jibe with yours. If you aren't sure send this advice will probably bring a string of cuss words down on my head, wait. Return your bids unassigned. There will be another chance for you next semester when you and the frat men will know each other better. Then, you will be sure of just where you stand.

KO-WYET
 Sh-sh-sh—silent period begins today at five o'clock. This means you sorority girls can't talk to freshmen girls any more, except, is verboten! You and you and you might do some dirty rushing. Someone else might try to sneak a word in here and there, but you aren't supposed to say anything, except at this weekend's rush parties. So shaddap!

WIDOWEES!
 "Four more days to vacation, back to civilization . . ." (Lon Gisland, that is, Tokyo an' cranberry sauce an' dressin'—we eat! Have a good time, kiddies, and take advantage of the few days' rest. It's been a long, long" grind.

Frats, Sororities Announce Plans For Xmas Formal

Cook, Zeller, Chairmen, Choose Aurania Club; Clute To Furnish Music

Co-chairmen of the annual Christmas Ball, Helen Cook and Richard Zeller, Seniors, have announced plans for the dance which will be held Friday, December 10, at the Aurania Club.

According to Miss Cook and Zeller, although the Ball is sponsored by Inter-Fraternity-Inter-Sorority Council, all State College students are cordially invited to attend and dance from 9 p. m. until 1 a. m. to the music of Fred Clute and his orchestra from Johnstown. Students are urged to obtain bids as early as possible because the Aurania Club has a capacity limit of three hundred couples. Sorority members will not be given preference in the purchase of tickets. The first people to ask for tickets will be the ones who are able to purchase them. Bids, priced at three dollars, have been on sale since yesterday at a desk outside the Commons.

Miss Cook and Zeller wish to explain, also, the choice of a place as small as the Aurania Club and the setting of the date for Friday. Last year Inter-Fraternity-Inter-Sorority Council sponsored a large dance at the Armory and hired a name band for it. Due to costs and limited purchase of bids the Council went in debt. This year it wishes to present a smaller dance, which it plans to keep within the boundaries of its budget.

The Christmas Ball this year is being held Friday, instead of Saturday, because the committee has found no place available Saturday and it has been unable to obtain the Aurania Club for Friday.

State Department Requests Linguists

The State Department has more than 200 jobs for men and women who are fluent in at least one foreign language, to be assigned to U. S. embassies, consulates, and sub-consulates throughout the world. The positions are mostly clerical or stenographic, and in certain fields, they are permanent.

Twenty-one languages are listed as being most desired for providing translators, transcribers and general secretaries throughout the foreign service: Russian, Polish, Romanian, Hungarian, Bulgarian, Serbo-croatian, Czechoslovakian, Arabic, Icelandic, Indonesian, Hindustani, Finnish, Armenian, Ukrainian, Chinese, Annamese, Malayan, Korean, Spanish, French, Portuguese, and German.

Candidates for this field will be considered on the basis of training and experience. The recruitment is handled directly by the State Department itself and applications should be addressed to Department of State, Division of Foreign Service Personnel, State Annex, 4, Washington 25, D. C.

Applicants should preferably be American citizens, with full familiarity with one or more of the listed languages, and well informed on the cultural and political changes that have taken place in the countries in which they would serve. Those in which Russian influence is most felt are in greatest demand.

Brimmer Announces Donation

Mrs. Bertha E. Brimmer has announced that the Washington, D. C. branch of the Alumni Association voted to donate $10 to the Benevolent Association for any use deemed proper. The business meeting and luncheon were held November 6 at the Konesaw Cafe.

Communications Pless Releases Departure Plan For Assemblies

A suggestion that would be helpful in the future is concerned with the dispensation of admissions for performances produced at Page Hall. In order to facilitate the procedure and to give, in addition, extra services, the following is recommended:

1. Secure a large board, preferably of plywood that would permit the construction of a flap for each seat in the house.
2. Construct a board for the orchestra seats as well as the balcony.
3. By inserting a dummy ticket in the slot, with the designated seat to correspond with the actual ticket, printed on a dummy, it will be possible for superior service and speed in selling the tickets, etc.

- The advantages are as follows:
1. Permits visualization of the seat the person has in mind or for those who forget easily, permits a chance to find their place.
 2. Does away with makeshift charts that are now employed.
 3. Reduces cost of construction.
 4. Saves time of people who must wait in line. Saves time for those monitoring the disposal of tickets.
 5. Different colored dummy tickets can be employed to handle more than one presentation of a show.
 6. Enables more activities to employ the reserved ticket seating arrangement.
 7. Eliminates some tedious tasks involved in returns.

Let's have more comments and suggestions.

Karpiak

To the Editor:

In the NEWS of October 8, a letter was published condemning the mural in the cafeteria. The caustic remarks about "that atrocious" probably express popular opinion. However, Miss Hutchings of State's Art Department has asked that I explain a few erroneous beliefs about the painting of the mural. I have found, in discussions with people around college, that the mural is generally believed to be the work of State students.

The project was originally begun by Miss Grace Martin, head of the Mine Art Department in 1946, and Miss Doris Kaplan, the artist and now a Senior at Mine. Believing the cafeteria to be an extremely drab and unpleasant laboratory-like place in which to eat and relax, Miss Kaplan and Miss Martin went to considerable effort to get permission for their re-decoration project.

When the painting of the mural was started, it was intended that the cafeteria walls be used for temporary, rotating art displays of the advanced classes at Mine. Thus, the mural was not planned as a permanent piece. In many schools, this is a common and constructive practice. Often entire corridors are given over for such purposes. It might be said that Mine art students have accomplished some fine work with many of their projects. The recess mural between Page and Mine are rather superior pieces and are certainly worthy of permanent exhibition. And an occasional glance along the lower corridor of Mine will give ample evidence of original talent and ability.

Fay Gives With Glamour For 'Fairy-Godmother' Role

Need a baby-sitter with sex-appeal? Ellen Fay '49, has been spreading her talents to cover a 30-minute radio show over WROW, Saturdays at 9 a. m. "Variety," the National Periodical for the entertainment field, recognized her efforts in a review last week:

"The Fairy Godmother has been waving her magic wand Saturday mornings and bringing out tales of fantasy, poems, and musical listeners for her very youthful guests—from four to nine. This Albany girl spins stories with a certain skill and perception. She is the possessor of a soft, gentle voice—into which, by a little twist, she puts more sex appeal than most area femme broadcasters. It's in a minor mood but is listenable for her moppet audience—and sometimes an adult dialer might yearn to escape the Berlin crisis and the atom bomb into their dream world."

"Variety" has put State on the map as possessing co-eds with qualities not usually ascribed to school marm's!

Grads, Faculty May Order Ped

Mary Jane Peris and Marie Holz, Seniors and Co-Editors of the Pedagogue, have announced that the '49 Pedagogue may still be purchased by all graduate students, faculty members, and individuals without full seventeen dollar student tax tickets. Those interested are requested to leave a note to that effect in the Pedagogue mailbox, outside the P.O. The price of this yearbook will be five dollars.

This year names will be printed in gold on the covers, upon request, for a fee of 50 cents. A table has been set up for that purpose.

Any former State College students may procure a yearbook by writing to Anita Melewicz '49, Business Manager, in care of the Pedagogue. State Students are requested to inform any graduates whom they know of these arrangements.

Frats, Sororities Post Regulations Covering Bidding

Silent Period To Begin Today; Men To Obtain Bids Tuesday In Lounge

Helen Cook and Richard Zeller, Seniors, Presidents of Inter-Sorority and Inter-Fraternity Councils respectively, have released information regarding rushing regulations and the issuance of bids to prospective sorority and fraternity members.

Silent period will begin 5 p.m. today and will last until 5 p.m., Tuesday, December 7, at the pledge services, according to Miss Cook. During this time there will be no communication or rushing between freshmen women and sorority members except at Buffet Suppers and Formal Dinners, December 3 and 4. It shall be considered an offense of this regulation to have a third person act as medium for any conversation.

Rushes To Receive Invitations

Invitations to rush parties shall be mailed from the office of the Dean of Women by 5 p.m. tonight and shall be answered by rushes tomorrow in return mail. Rushes are asked to sign their names on the invitations and check the functions they wish to attend, before returning them. A rusher cannot attend Formal Dinner and Buffet Supper at the same sorority. If a rusher wishes to attend neither function of a sorority she should return the bid unchecked.

Council To Issue Bids

Inter-Fraternity Council will issue bids Monday, from 9 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. in the Lounge, according to Zeller. There will be no bids issued after that time. Men receiving notice of bids through Student Mail will go to the Lounge and pick up their bids during this time.

Men will sign only the bids from the fraternities which they intend to join, and return all bids to Inter-Fraternity Council in the Lounge during the hours between 9 a.m. and 12:30 p.m., Monday, November 29. If any bids are not returned during this time they will be held invalid.

Beta Zeta Plans Date Party, Parker Releases Committees

To the Editor: Last week an article appeared in the NEWS, summing up the good and bad points of the past Intramural Football season.

1. The most important factor is the choice of a league manager. I don't feel that I was completely aware of the responsibilities involved and I hope to orient our manager elect on some of the pitfalls involved.

2. Next in line of responsibility are the team captains. Except for the first meeting, attendance never reached 100%.

3. The freshmen need an orientation on football as well as how to ask for a date.

4. The refereeing, as a rule, smelled. I know, because I was a referee. So far, no practical solution to this problem has been offered, but I welcome all ideas on the subject.

Basically, I think these are the four problems which tend to disrupt the Intramural Football program.

I now turn to the one suggestion by Mr. Milk with which I violently disagree. He suggests that the Fraternity teams be put in one league, because, "it has been a common fact that more of a rivalry exists between the frat's."

The teams for each league were chosen by the "long straw" method this year because I felt: 1. Any attempt to classify the better teams in one league, if successful, would defeat the purpose of a play-off game.

2. Leaving the selection of leagues to one person opens him to charges of fixing or "stacking" the leagues.

If what Mr. Milk says about rivalry is true, then putting all the frat teams in one league would concentrate the interest on one league to the detriment of the other—if it were true.

As for putting SLS and KB in the "A" league would only have increased rivalry so far as KB was a good football team which might be able to topple EEP. Within the "A" league, I believe there was more rivalry in the EEP-Angel game than in the perennial feud with KDR, simply because of the caliber of the teams involved.

As a final word, may I say that no place in the aims of intramural sports is there a sentence or a word which indicates that development of fraternal rivalry is a goal to be considered.

My thanks to the fellows who were so helpful the past season. Over 100 fellows played ball—and that is the important measure of success.

Basketball Pep Rally Slated Before Opener

Intra-Squad Tilt Is Feature Event

Tumbling Demonstration To Open Activities

M.A.A. will initiate this year's basketball season with the proverbial bang, when on December 1, they will hold a Pep Rally in the Page Hall gymnasium from 7:30-9:30 p.m.

The committee for the rally, as appointed by M.A.A., is Lyle Walsh '50, Chairman, Al Holliday '50, and Jay Miller '51.

A radical and badly-needed departure from the overall pattern of Pep Rallies of the past is promised.

Program Planned

The program as planned is extensive. A demonstration of advanced tumbling stunts by the Tumbling Club will start the activities.

The freshmen need an orientation on football as well as how to ask for a date.

Potter, Beavers, Volleyball Teams Begin Activities

By PAT JAI

WAA Council met at Pierce Hall Wednesday night to choose sports captains for the mid-winter and winter sports.

It was decided that because of the weather conditions, riding, volleyball, archery and tennis clubs will be continued again in the spring with the credit carrying over.

Chosen bowling captains were Edythe Kelleher '50, and Audrey Weller '51.

The Faculty originally intended to field two teams but one team withdrew from league competition.

Therefore one team will draw one by a week.

Next week's schedule is as follows: Allys Teams: 1-2—Jerks vs. Beavers. 5-6—Van Derzee vs. Faculty 1.

Lucy Lytle '49, and Mary Lou Reed '51, were chosen ping-pong captains.

The ping-pong sign-up sheet for the tournament is posted.

Ken Thompson '50, will head the winter sports which include skating, skiing, sleigh-riding and tobogganing.

To earn credit in these sports, anyone can report the hours she has spent participating in them to the captain.

Life-Saving Offered

The pool at the Jewish Community Center is reserved on Thursday nights for swimming and life-saving.

Swimming will meet from 7 to 8:30, from the week following Thanksgiving until February.

At the beginning of the second semester the Red Cross Life-Saving Course will be taught by Martha Murphy '50.

After fifteen hours of practice and a test, the passing girls will be awarded their life-saving certificates.

A general meeting of all girls interested in any sports program will be held on November 30 at 3:30 p.m.

The captains will present their plans for the season and hope to have additions or suggestions by other students.

Tumbling credit is being kept for WAA by Ruth Matteson '50, Secretary of the organization.

A total of ten hours in one season must be accrued for credit.

By PAUL BUCHMAN

The age old, yet romantic American saga of a young, high school sweetheart, traditional winning of school letter, and being captain of the team; the corny but real story of returning to school after discharge from the Army; all these are elements in the life of Seymour "Sy" Fersh, veteran court campaigner here at State.

"Sy" is a native of Foughkeepsie, New York, where he was a class officer, and won his Varsity letters in Basketball and Track.

Drafted shortly after he left high school, even though he had been accepted at State, he spent two years in the army, where after service in Europe, he was transferred to Fort Knox, Kentucky.

There he played basketball for the Fort Knox team, playing against such top-flight teams as the University of Kentucky (Raiph Beard and Company), and Louisville.

Enters State College

Next stop in his crowded life was State. Here he became active in school activities, including two honor fraternities, Kappa Phi Kappa, and Pi Gamma Mu.

He is an active member of Kappa Beta, carrying their colors in intramural football and softball.

Not content to play Varsity basketball, he went out for the tennis team, and made that too.

With the experienced gained in this way, "Sy" is looking forward to coaching the Millie tennis team when he starts practice teaching there next semester.

Late in August of 1947, while still a Sophomore, "Sy" got married. He lives now in an apartment near the school, yet, since his marriage occurred just after the close of the summer session, many of the students at State never learned of the event.

Although he likes Albany, he expressed no desire to live here, and made it plain that his fondest hope was to teach nearby but in Foughkeepsie, his "home town" and "alma mater."

Sincerely interested in politics, Fersh is the treasurer of the Forum of Politics, as well as being active in their activities, such as programing, and the election night party.

He has contributed many articles to Soapbox and the NEWS.

An accelerated Junior, Fersh will graduate in August. He is a Social Studies major, with an English minor.

His family too is in the teaching field, as he has two brothers, both in Education in New York, and a sister at New Palz Teachers College.

Enthusiastic Over Team

A genuine spirit of enthusiastic optimism seemed to nose from "Sy" as he talked.

"Some good freshmen and newly arrived transfers ought to bolster last year's nucleus. We have a tough schedule, with some pretty tall teams, but the team is confident.

Hartwick seems to be the toughest game in the schedule we hope to beat them this year on our home court.

Remembering when Siena was on the schedule, Fersh likes to dream of the time when State teams will again be strong enough to schedule them again.

"The way to do that is to offer a Physical Ed. course here in Albany, or at least a minor in that. We'd draw some good players that way."

"Our biggest weakness this year is the lack of height. We're going to try to make up for that with team play, co-ordination, and spirit."

Fersh's familiar number eleven will be flashing again this year on the Page Hall Court keep an eye out for this aggressive player.

State Keglers Cop Two; Gain On Leading Siena

Carosella Paces Potter Clinches Soccer Crown

Wednesday night, the Statesmen narrowed Siena's pace-setting margin to one game by taking two out of three in their battle for first place honors in the Intercollegiate Bowling League.

Siena nosed out the varsity squad in the second game by thirty pins to prevent State from sweeping the three game set.

If the home forces had been able to take all three games, they would have been in first place with a comfortable one game lead.

The best individual performance turned in by the Statesmen was a three game total of 545 rolled by Captain Joe Carosella.

Bob Dickinson and Don MacDonalld also connected for totals of 535 and 534. Individual high single game was Carosella's neat 197 effort.

There will be no bowling next week, but action will resume December 1 with State scheduled to meet the Law School five.

State Scrimages RPI

State College Varsity Basketball team traveled to Troy on Wednesday, November 17, for an informal scrimmage with RPI.

Coach Hathaway, looking for his starting five combination, used Fersh, O'Brien, Marzello, Brown, and Warden in Wednesday's scrimmage.

Notably absent from the workout was Captain Kenny George.

Working from a fair and five man ball, the coach was extremely impressed with State's offense in the early part of the game.

As the game progressed it was seen that extensive defensive drill is definitely needed.

A few days before the trip, Coach Hathaway stressed the last break, which proved to be very effective against the Engineers.

After long delays the play-off game will finally come, at 4 p. m. this afternoon.

The two undefeated teams will meet to decide the championship of the 1948 Intramural football season.

From all indications of the past season, it looks like KB will be passing with Sy Fersh, while Potter will be running with Carter, Warden and Lansky.

It should shape up to be a fine game with neither team holding any decisive edge.

Be-siles referring its title, Potter will also try to keep their unscored upon record clean.
