STATE ACCEPTED

State College was accepted as an approved college by the Association of American Universities, at a meeting held at the University of Missouri, on November 5. The Association of American Universities, consisting of about twenty of the leading universities of the country, establishes a list of approved colleges and universities for the purpose of admission to graduate schools.

The approved list has assumed large and far reaching importance in other respects. The Association of Collegiate Alumnae accept this list as a basis of admission to membership. Phi Beta Kappa looks to it as a standard, and the Pan Hellenic and Interfraternity Conferences are guided by it.

The approval of State College by this Association is a great compliment to the high scholastic standard maintained, and will give State College graduates and undergraduates an unquestioned standing in all intercollegiate relationships.

INFIRMARY PRIVILEGES

State collegians of 1921-22 added to their annual disbursements $1.50. In return for this fund each student received a little pink ticket which was a guarantee of proper care during illness. For on the ticket these magic words were printed: "The student whose name appears here is entitled to infirmary privilege."

The project was largely the result of the united efforts of the college physicians, Dr. Crosdale and Dr. Evans. According to the system each student paid $1.50, which was known as the infirmary tax. Every student, whether an Albanian or not, is entitled to care in the Albany hospital upon the recommendation of the college physicians, providing he has paid his tax before the expiration of the period for collection. Obviously a person cannot wait until he needs hospital care and then pay his fee and demand the privilege. The system is necessarily based upon the fact that each student pays his fee, but that only a percentage are ill. If the individual fees have amounted to more than $25.00 or $30.00, the parents have been asked to remit the difference. The college doctors also visit the students while they are in the hospital to ascertain that they are receiving proper attention. In a majority of cases private rooms have been available. In instances where private rooms were unobtainable, semi-private rooms have been furnished in which rooms four or five patients are treated.

Doubtless a greater benefit than the cure of patients has been the prevention of the spread of disease. This year the "flu" again attacked us, but immediate hospital attention prevented one person from spreading the epidemic to every person in his rooming house.

Every student who has received care under this system has been satisfied with his treatment.

Only unusual conditions could prevent the continuance of the system next year. The tax will doubtless be collected next year in conjunction with and as a part of the student tax. Un-

And the Drive Is Not Launched Until May 17th

Give or Get $100 for a Residence

Hall at State College

State College Alumni have always been interested in the question of a residence hall for the student body. But it is largely through the persistent effort of two graduates, Dean Pierce and Mrs. Ella Sloan Cameron, '90, that a drive for such a hall has been organized among the graduates of State College everywhere, for the interest in such a proposition is largely the outgrowth of the Graduate Council and the Alumni Quarterly.

As was natural, the Eastern Branch of the Association laid the first plans by appointing on November 5, 1921, an executive committee of five whose duty was to discover the available purchasable properties in Albany, to assume responsibility for the initial cost of publicity for a drive, and to organize and underwrite the drive itself for a residence hall. Later this committee was made the official committee for the whole association and given authority to enlarge itself as it felt necessary. Eighty-five district chairmen, assisted by two hundred and twenty-five captains, will do the personal work necessary for the complete success of the undertaking.

The response to an appeal to all those who owe their training for life work to State College will be interesting to record. It begins with a pledge of $1000 from a member of the class of '71 and a number of full contributions sent in before the drive was definitely organized, among which is one given by the children of Anna Bennett McFarg, '60, as a memorial to their late mother, and a most generous response from the alumni in and around New York when the plans of the drive were definitely directed to their attention.

The Eastern Branch is particularly proud of the beginning it has made. $1000 has been raised by a voluntary reading given by Miss Futterer in Chan-

MEN'S ASSOCIATION

With the new year 1922 the men of college felt the need of a real club of, for and by themselves. So they got together and formed the State College Men's Association, the first club for all the college men in the history of State; and everyone knows that it has a bunch of "regular fellows."

The club meets every other Tuesday evening for a business meeting and a good time. As the good time part of the evening represents the true fellowship purpose of the club, it is emphasized. The get-togethers are full of life, as there is always a good program prepared. Several good mock trials have been given. At other times the College Male Quartet has entertained. There is always a good "sing." The reformers' ban has not hit these gatherings, so the fellows can always bring "the makin's" and enjoy a good smoke in peace.

cellor's Hall, by a series of teas in Albany and Schenectady and an Easter bazaar; the present Dramatics Class has contributed $190, raised by the presentation of three one-act plays. The Spanish Club plans an unusual fete. Perhaps most stimulating of all is the unanimous pledge made by the Senior Class, each to give the one hundred dollars in the next five years.

For further work the City of Albany has been organized into five sections, each in charge of a lieutenant who will be in constant touch with eighty alumni. Each of these groups has plans of its own, which will be supported by the members of the other groups. One group will organize various agencies whereby alumni may earn their pledges; another will arrange an Albany Merchants' Day, giving to the fund a percentage of the day's sales. All alumni in the vicinity will save their shopping for that day and will persuade their friends to do the same. Another group will take charge of a large meeting on May seventeenth and will provide suggestions for other district meetings. Still another group will give an alumni card party. This section will also secure a percentage from the sale of tickets for a popular Strand performance.

Wherever alumni are not scattered too widely, the chairmen will arrange a get-together meeting for May seventeenth. Here there will be an opportunity to meet the alumni of your section, to talk over specific ways of furthering the drive, to continue an active part or to renew once more your interest in educational advancement which marks the progress of good citizenship. No pledges will be asked a this time but arrangements are perfected for the period beginning the next day and extending to the thirty-first of May when each graduate will be called upon to pledge his quota. The payment schedule is simple and convenient. Unless one prefers to no payment is made until January, 1923. Then one has five years in which to pay the quota.

MUSIC ASSOCIATION

With the Music Club as its nucleus, a new College Music Association was formed early last fall, after several weeks of labor of those interested in music among the faculty and students. This action was due to the increasing opportunities to serve the College along musical lines and the consequent need for strong organization to do it. In this new association an effort has been made to unite those interested in music for more effective service. Our aim is to foster an appreciative interest in music among the student body.

A council consisting of two faculty members appointed by the president of the College, the officers of the association and two of its committee chairmen guides its activities. Under the auspices of the association and under the management of the council, several concerts are given. An appropriation from the finance board, as voted by the stu-

CAMPUS DAY

Campus Day at State College this year coincided with Armistice Day. This is the third year that we have observed this day and it is now considered a college tradition. Its aim is to arouse early in the year a college spirit and class spirit that shall last and grow stronger until June.

An address by Dr. Moldenhawer in Student Assembly and athletic contests during the afternoon were the chief events of Campus Day this year. Class stunts were also given in the morning.

This is the first real opportunity the new freshmen have to show the college what they can do. If 1926 is as successful as 1925 was, they will be happy frosh.

Among the athletic events were interclass basketball and football games, obstacle races and a tug-o-war.

We hope that Campus Day will continue to serve its purpose as well in the future as it has in the past.

TO 1926

To the class of 1926 State College extends a very sincere welcome. You are sure to like State very much—both the work and the play—and before you have been here long you will feel that you belong to our college and that she is yours. When you get the feeling that State is yours, then you will want to give her some of your pep, enthusiasm and ability in return for the many things she will have given you during your eventful freshman year.

If you get discouraged, remember that you are not the first freshman to be blue and, besides, there are always upper classmen to console you. If you feel like fighting, there are always sophomores who are glad to pick a quarrel.

Come to State College determined to like it, prepared to do the right amount of work and the right amount of play, and you will not be disappointed in your future Alma Mater.

THE LOCATION OF THE COLLEGE

State College is located on Robin Street, between Western and Washington Avenues. The College is about a mile and a half from Union Station, but may be easily reached by West Albany and Allen Street electric cars or by the W. L. A. T. bus.

Fees

There is no charge for instruction to residents of the state. A tuition fee of forty dollars per year is charged to regularly matriculated students having their residence in other states. Special students from other states are charged $1.50 per semester hour.

Laboratory fees, covering cost of material, are charged in all courses in science and are due at the time of entrance upon the course.

Student Self Help

An employment bureau, to assist students in finding remunerative labor to aid in defraying their expenses, is maintained in the office of the Dean of Women. Any student may register there free of charge and receive all possible help in securing work. Students should not undertake so much outside work as to interfere with their studies or injure their health.

Boarding Places

Room and board may be obtained at $7 and upward per week, exclusive of washing. Furnished rooms without board may be secured at rates varying from $2.50 upward per week for each person when two occupy a room.

Students are permitted to live only in rooming and boarding places which have the approval of the Dean of Women, and no change may be made without her advice. Correspondence concerning rooms should be addressed to Miss Anna E. Pierce, Dean of Women, State College, Albany, N. Y., at any time after September 1.

The Home Economics Department, in its cafeteria, offers an excellent opportunity for students to board at very reasonable rates.

On arrival in the city, students should go directly to the college office where they will secure all necessary information and direction. Checks for baggage should be retained until rooms are secured at the office of the Dean of Women.

SUMMER SESSION

The sixth Summer Session at State College for Teachers will open July 10 and will continue for six weeks, closing August 19. Courses will be offered in Biology, Commercial Education, Chemistry, Economics, Education, English, Fine Arts, French, Government, History, Latin, Mathematics, Music, Physics, and Spanish.

This summer will be the first time that courses have been offered in Latin, Chemistry, and Physics. The Latin courses are particularly adapted to helping teachers in high school. They deal with problems of subject matter and method from the first year Latin thru Virgil.

The Science courses offered aim to help all students of our college and of other institutions who have majored in one science and have had little work in either of the other two. They will also be especially beneficial to those who are now majoring in science, in that much of their required work can be completed during the Summer Session.

The Educational courses will deal principally with educational measurements.

The Summer Session of 1921 was especially successful in many respects. The enrollment, consisting of college students, college graduates, normal school graduates, superintendents, principals, high school teachers, and elementary school teachers, exceeded 800, which number shows a large increase over the previous year's registration. It is also material evidence of the recognition of the value of summer sessions to teachers and undergraduates and of their appreciation of the opportunities offered. We expect this year that the number will be still further increased and that even more loyalty and spirit will be brought to the college, making the Summer Session of 1922 the most successful and the most salutary in the history of State College.

A circular containing preliminary announcements concerning the Summer Session has been issued and a complete bulletin of detailed information will be ready for distribution very soon. Any further particulars may be secured from the Director, Prof. Winfred C. Decker, State College for Teachers, Albany, N. Y.

DEGREES

This college offers to those students who meet the requirements for admission, four-year courses leading to the degree of Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science. These cover the studies ordinarily pursued in colleges of Liberal Art, together with certain requirements in pedagogical subjects and a course in supervised practice teaching. It also provides four-year courses preparing students to teach Home Economics and Commercial Education. These lead to the degree of Bachelor of Science.

It further offers courses of one year of advanced study to the degree of Master of Pedagogy or Master of Arts. These courses must be pursued in residence and demand as a prerequisite the bachelor's degree from this or some other college of approved standing.

With each of these degrees there is granted a life certificate to teach in the public schools of the State of New York.

FRESHMAN ADVISORS

One of the recent State College institutions which deserves especial praise is the freshman advisor system. This is an arrangement by which the youngest class in the college is divided into small groups, and a member of the faculty is assigned to each group as a special guardian. This faculty member acts as a big brother or sister, as the case may be, and he carefully considers the welfare of his group and answers any question or straightens out any difficulty which may arise in any branch of college activity. The advantage of such an arrangement can readily be seen. The freshman is made to feel more at home. He no longer feels like an out-cast, and he has someone on whom he can depend in case of any unforeseen trouble.

And the best part about the advisor system is that it has worked. It is not one of those beautiful theories that don't amount to anything, but is a genuine help to every freshman.

THE MILNE HIGH SCHOOL

One of the largest and most important parts of State College is the Milne High School which is housed on the third floor of the main building. This school is a model practice school in which seniors of the College do practice teaching for at least one semester.

The model school gives a two-year Junior High School course, followed by a regular four-year Regents High School course. The faculty of the school consists of the principal, John M. Sayles, seven critics or supervisors of practice teaching—Miss Charlotte Loeb, Miss Elizabeth Shaver, Miss Lydia Johnson, Miss Helen Kelso, Miss Hazel Rowley, Miss Marie Phillips, Miss Dorothy Banner—and the fifty seniors who are doing the practice teaching.

Physical education, athletics, recreation and social activities are stressed in the school. The latest methods in teaching are applied with great success.

COLLEGE HONORS

Three years ago the faculty announced a system of College Honors. The regulations governing the system appear in the College catalogue and read as follows:

"The faculty shall designate for honors each year those students of the senior class completing the requirements for graduation who have maintained a notably high standing in their studies."

"Method of Designation. In determining the number of students to be designated for honors, the registrar shall compute the standings of each eligible candidate by counting four points for every semester hour in which he receives credit with a grade of A, three points for B, two for C, one for D; and shall then divide the total number of points thus secured by the total number of semester hours included in the calculation. Only those candidates who attain an average standing upon this basis of at least 3.59 shall be designated for honors."

"Announcement. The names of all honor students, in alphabetical order, shall be printed upon the commencement program and in the College catalogue each year."

JUNIOR SISTERS

The entering class each year is fortunate in the greeting tendered them by the juniors. In the summer preceding the coming of the freshmen each junior writes to a prospective student and offers assistance in any way possible—such as securing a boarding place, meeting the new student at the train, etc. Later the juniors acquaint the freshmen with the points of interest about the college and the city, and act as general guardians until the freshmen become acclimated.

SORORITIES AND FRATERNITIES

State College has seven sororities and three fraternities for the promotion of good fellowship and friendship. They contribute to the social life of the college; the sororities by holding an annual intersorority tea, an intersorority party, an intersorority ball in the spring and individual dances, and the fraternities by holding annual dances. The sororities furnish something of dormitory life, since all but one maintain houses. The fraternities gave up their houses during the war. However, one is now maintained on the campus. Membership to the sororities is by invitation and is restricted by a certain scholarship standard established by Intersorority Council.

The names of the sororities and fraternities, together with their presidents, dates of founding and the locations of the houses, are as follows:

- The Sororities
 Delta Omega, 1890; president, Catherine Drury, 97 N. Pine Ave.
 Eta Phi, 1896; president, Margaret Kirtland, 53 S. Lake Ave.
 Kappa Delta, 1897; purchased house in 1922; president, Louise Persons, 380 Western Ave.
 Psi Gamma, 1898; president, Ruth Heminger, 124 S. Lake Ave.

- The Fraternities

 Kappa Delta Rho, Gamma Chapter, 1915. 20 S. Allen St.

COLLEGE PUBLICATIONS

The publications which State College boasts are three in number: The "News," the "Quarterly," and the "Pedagogue."

The history of the "News" had its beginning on Moving-Up Day, 1916, and the first issue was published October 4, 1916. The financial worries of the paper vanished with the appearance of the student tax in the fall of 1917.

The "News" is published weekly throughout the college year, and it is devoted to the publication of announcements, the record of college events, and the discussion of college interests. The publication of the "News" is in the control of a board of editors, composed of an editor-in-chief, a managing editor, a business manager, a subscription manager, two assistant business managers, associate editors, and reporters.

The "Quarterly" is the literary publication of State College. As is suggested by the name, it is published four times during the college year. It is devoted to the publication of the best poetry and prose written by the faculty, alumni, and student body. The "Quarterly" is an addition to the college and brings here many good exchanges from other colleges. The publication board consists of an editor-in-chief, five assistant editors, a business manager, and two advertising managers.

The third publication put out by the students of State College is the "Pedagogue" which is the annual product of the Senior Class. It contains a record of the class history, the student activities of the whole college for the current year, humorous or satirical expressions of college life and lots of jokes on college people.

The "Pedagogue" board is made up of an editor-in-chief, literary editors, art editors, photograph editors, advertising managers, athletic editor, business manager, joke editors, subscription manager, and a faculty editor.

There is still another publication which belongs to State, but which is not published by students who are here now. It is the "Alumni Quarterly" and is published by the Alumni Association. This paper has four numbers per year. It includes news about college activities, alumni associations and activities, and news of the teaching profession.

MOVING-UP DAY

Moving-Up Day is our biggest annual "All College" Day which occurs in May. The entire day is given over to festivities.

First comes the more formal events in the chapel. Dr. Brubacher officiates and our entire faculty are seated upon the platform. At this time a representative from each class speaks—sometimes formally, sometimes otherwise. Then occurs the Moving-Up process when each class takes the seats formerly assigned to the preceding one, the seniors taking those vacated by the freshmen—for they are new and young in a world by themselves. During this impressive ceremony the Moving-Up Day song is sung.

Next in occurrence is the presenting of pins to the new senior "News" editors in recognition of their services. This will become traditional, the '21 editors having been the first to receive these pins.

By far the most important event is the time when the members of the new Myskania are announced for the first time. Each member of the old Myskania, one at a time, descends from his seat of honor on the platform, marches to the place where the selected junior sits, announces the name, pins on him the purple and gold ribbon, and leads him to his position upon the platform.

The seniors then lead the way to the chapel steps, forming an aisle through which the following classes pass; each class, as soon as it passes through, forming the aisle along the walk. The old and new Myskania then pass through the aisle and lead the way to the planting of the ivy.

Class stunts close the morning activities.

In the afternoon the college body walks to Ridgefield Park for the sports. There is considerable rivalry in these contests, and this assures a truly exciting afternoon. The baseball game closes these events.

In the evening all assemble on the front steps of the college for the biggest college sing of the year. Class song contests are a special feature, a prize being awarded the winning class. Following this a dance is held on the terrace.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

Without a doubt, almost everyone is interested in "good times," and State College has quite a few during the year to relieve the monotony of daily routine. The freshmen are especially fortunate because the faculty and upper-classes are so anxious to make the newcomers feel at home that receptions are given to accomplish this purpose.

The first reception is given by the faculty. This may sound as though it is a stiff, formal affair, but such is not the case. Everyone learns—the freshmen in particular—that the faculty are very human and cordial, and any preconceived dread of crusty professors is quickly dispelled. The following week, for all festivities of this sort are given on Friday evenings, the Y. W. C. A. gives a jolly reception. One would be pleased to know how much time the Y. W. girls spend planning for this occasion—planning novel ways and means to get the students acquainted with the newcomers. The seniors and juniors do not wish to be left out of all the fun, so each of these classes gives a reception. These receptions are very informal and consequently very enjoyable.

But festivities do not end with the above mentioned events. There are others all through the year. Each class has a party or dance during a given week.

The first is the Junior Week-end which follows close after mid-year examinations. The junior festivities are opened on Thursday night when a banquet is held at the Hampton Hotel for members of the class only. Friday night the Junior Prom, the big event of the college year, is held in the ballroom of the Ten Eyck Hotel. The closing event of the week is the "Junior Night" at the varsity basketball game. The "Jolly Juniors"—every single one—enter into these activities with the utmost of jollity and high spirits.

Sophomore Week-end comes in the month of March. The festivities include a soiree and a basketball game. Even though their soiree is not equal to a Junior Prom, the sophomores thoroughly enjoy it, for the frosh cannot have as much. They do not have a Week-end.

Senior Week comes in June. It is at this time that the Senior Class Day, Alumni Day, Baccalaureate Address and the commencement take place.

The sororities and fraternities make merry during the year. Early in the fall the sorority girls give an Intersorority Tea to which they invite the faculty and students. Soon after this rush parties, reunion week-ends, banquets, and a formal Intersorority Ball are held. The ball is held in the Ten Eyck Hotel. This year it will occur April 28.

COLLEGE CAFETERIA

We all know in varying degrees what the cafeteria means to State College. We say "in varying degrees" because we appreciate the college lunch room according as each one of us materially takes advantage of its excellent products. Nor is it any strange coincidence that we love to haunt that favorite room, not only to satisfy our material needs with food, but also to satiate our intellectual demands with study for the cafeteria has been opened during certain hours of the day as a study hall. We students of State College appreciate the privilege of having a fine, large room, well-ventilated and well-lighted, with tasteful decorations that add to the comfort and special enjoyment of our artistic temperaments, in which to study and to relieve the pangs of hunger.

The cafeteria has just experienced one of the most successful years in its career under the direction of Miss Laura F. Thompson of the Home Economics department. As instructress in the class of cafeteria management both her methods and practical pedagogy have been efficient and capable. This class assumes charge of the planning, a considerable amount of the preparation, and all of the serving of the meals. Each girl has a week of individual management, thus obtaining an unusually practical experience in cafeteria administration. The regular 35-cent lunch-cans have been very popular among the patrons of the cafeteria, while the special service is deserving of particular attention for its attractiveness and inviting appeal to the appetite. Miss Thompson reports that the cafeteria is feeding more people than it ever has before, which statement is merely the medium of expression for State College's appreciation of its cafeteria's competent service.

FACULTY CHANGES

Miss Helen Marie Bennett has resigned.

Andrew W. Brown has resigned to continue his work for a degree of Doctor of Medicine at Columbia University.

Miss Helen A. Kelso has resigned to become head of the English Department of Yonkers High School.

Miss Dorothy M. Banner has resigned.

Appointments have been made to fill these vacancies but the announcements will not be made until later.

Gamma Kappa Phi; taxi, Chi Sigma Theta; invitations, Psi Gamma; dance orders, Eta Phi.

The fraternities hold their annual dances sometime during the winter. Another event for the men is the smoker given by the faculty men. This is a very enjoyable "get-together" affair to promote fellowship among the faculty and students.

less we suffer a severe deficit this year, the tax will remain $1.50. When as large a number as twenty-five of our fellow students have been successfully treated, we consider it a strong argument for the propagation of the system. As long as we are without an infirmary of our own, we will support this practice.

dent body, provides for these concerts.

The six concerts this year were: Concert by Gilman Williams, baritone; lecture on "Cowboy Ballads" by John Lomax of the University of Texas; Xmas Carol Concert directed by Dr. Thompson and Professor Candlyn; Fall concert by the College chorus, glee club, and orchestra; the London String Quartet concert; and a Spring concert by the College choruses and orchestra under the direction of Dr. Thompson and Mr. Candlyn.
