

IGC Nominates No One Named Two Candidates Yet, Says Nelson For Chairman

Since the retirement of Dr. John Manville Sayles as President of the College various rumors have been voiced as to the appointment of a new President and as to whether or not he would be a member of the faculty. Dr. Milton G. Nelson, Dean of the College, released this statement concerning the appointment, to the News last Wednesday: "Dr. Sayles was originally to retire in June, and the Board of Regents has been for some time considering available candidates for the office of President. I do not at this time know who the new President will be or when he will be chosen. In the meantime I will act in that capacity."

Faculty Footnotes

Faculty Footnotes will be included in the State College News bi-weekly to publish personal and professional news of members of the faculty. All faculty members are urged to hand such articles to Dr. Frances Cummings, Professor of Social Studies, Room 1, Richardson Building, Library, Milne; or Miss Nura Turner, Instructor of Mathematics, Room 103, Draper.

It's No Joke . . .

Another week—another gripe. This one has been aired before, but with such little effect that it seems to merit repetition.

Delegates to conferences at other colleges in the state have brought back reports of immaculate halls, tidy classrooms, and other indications of neatness and order. Even after taking into account a special house-cleaning in preparation for such conferences, it is clear that something is definitely lacking here.

Approaching the problem from a scientific viewpoint, we have accumulated a discouraging list of facts. First, there are the butts—and these can be found just about anywhere. They litter the hallway, the floor in the P.O., the Commons and the Annex, and can even be found in classrooms. The next item is paper, which comes in assorted types. Scrap paper, lunch bags, candy wrappers, etc. can be found at any time of the day or night arranged in tasteful disorder around any wastebasket. And this is not the fault of our janitorial staff!

And then there's smoking—which is carried on in any part of the school you care to mention. Not a day goes by when someone doesn't light a cigarette in the lower hall or Draper during the 11 o'clock jam around the mailboxes. Friday is double-feature day, because there's also a nicotine addict in the rush to assembly.

There is one primary reason for such conditions, and we cannot rationalize by benevolently blaming them on carelessness. Going a little deeper, we come up with selfishness, which explains a lot of things.

We think too much of our own convenience and comfort to move the extra two feet that mean the difference between a butt on the floor and a butt in the ashtray. We can't wait for the extra minute it would take to walk to the Commons or the Annex, but have to light up in the hall or lower Draper regardless of the crowd. And it's too much of a strain to retrieve the paper that falls short on a fifteen-foot toss to the wastebasket.

It's pointless to appeal to school pride in this case, since the offenders either don't have any or conceal it very well. Being a little more practical, therefore, we'd like to point out that more drastic measures will be forthcoming from higher up. It was brought out at Student Council meeting Wednesday that Dean Nelson, now acting president of the college, will back up Campus Commission in its crusade against smoking in the halls and the general lack of neatness around school.

The matter has ceased to be a standing joke, and the consequences could easily be serious. Remember this the next time you butt a cigarette.

State-Mint

By MARJORIE HARLAND

Students at Devens College, Fort Devens, Mass., have been campaigning desperately with letters, telegrams, and radio broadcasts to maintain the college which the state set up for the post-war emergency. Victory seems to be in the offing now as public opinion appears to be strongly behind the student body. Single Bills

The bachelors of Syracuse have organized a club limited to single men who are planning to remain as such indefinitely. The purposes of the organization are as follows: (1) To swear undying devotion to the single man.

(2) To issue constructive hints to women for their self-improvement. (3) To read papers extolling the virtues of single blessedness.

(4) To expose the folly of the ball and chain. (5) To advise members as to how to avoid the pitfalls of married life. Members of the club may have dealings with those of the opposite sex provided there are no entangling alliances formed.

One eager young swain at Syracuse in order to prove himself as true as the hero of the well-known "The Lady or the Tiger" put the following in the classified ads: "Wanted—One wild ferocious tiger—Immediately. Phone . . ."

The phone number in the add was that of the cottage where the young lady lives. There was no peace in the cottage thereafter for by 2 that same day at least 20 people had called to offer everything from tiger pups to two-tailed lions. Meanwhile our hero is wondering what he has started.

New Dorms The first of RPI's new auxiliary dorms for single men was opened a while ago, giving housing to 36 students. The project was completed will contain 36 such dorms and will take care of 720 men.

A national service fraternity, Alpha Tau Omega, has been organized at Rensselaer. This group is composed of former Boy Scouts who are now in college, and no other requirement than this is necessary. There are now 104 chartered chapters and 16 preparatory chapters of the frat throughout the country.

Our neighboring College of St. Rose admitted two Chinese students recently, the first to attend that college. Dressed in their native costumes the two girls have created

Communications

To the Editor: This year a new class of freshmen came to State College, new in the sense that they are different. For instead of finding the usual class of some geniuses, a few dull ones and a majority of average, active, young adults, we have a class of scholars.

This I am not deprecating, for no one will venture to say that scholars are not useful, and certainly studies must come first. However, in order to lead a happy college life, it is necessary to take some interest in extra-curricular activities and this the freshmen have not done as a rule. The only interest they have taken outside of studying, has been in rivalry. Pedagogues, the NEWS, Campus Commission, and D and A have had to go begging for freshmen try-outs. I.G.C. hasn't one freshmen working for them, and Music Council is in the same predicament. If this is something for the freshmen to be proud of, they may gladly take a bow.

Perhaps one excuse that might be offered is the return of veterans, who have as their sole purpose one aim . . . to get an education. However, the majority of the class do not fall into this category. And certainly, any of the organizations on campus would welcome returned vets. If such activities are not too juvenile for them.

One other point: A little experience in working with other people is certainly going to help in making a better teacher. So please, let some freshmen do some work. Otherwise, 1950 is going to mean the decline of State College, for it wouldn't be the place it is today without a Ped, or NEWS, or Dramatics Association. Hopeful.

Common-States

The Common-States is given the widest latitude as author of this column, although his viewpoints do not necessarily reflect those of the State College News.

A SLIGHT PLEA TO THE FACULTY

Several weeks ago a letter appeared in the State College NEWS to the effect that too many classes were being kept beyond bell time, etc. Evidently the NEWS doesn't reach the entire faculty, because we have heard the same complaint from different quarters since then.

We won't hedge. We will say that once in a while, in the passion of an interesting topic, the zero hour approaches unnoticed. But when a class is consistently held over every time it meets, a legitimate complaint is forthcoming.

Members of the state legislature zipped up their brief cases this week after putting in about two months work and left for home. The anti-strike bill was passed, the new salary schedule for teachers passed, the soldier bonus bill passed, Governor Dewey let it be known that he plans presidential aspirations next year, and the Senators and Assemblymen voted overwhelmingly a constitutional amendment to increase their own salaries, with additional compensation for those who have additional duties. Oh well, wait until next year . . .

For the record: there are 27 school days until Moving-Up Day and a scant 42 school days left until the beginning of exams. That's right, that's all.

A word of congratulation is due to Student Council on the new mimeograph machine. Before assembly was over last week the representative from the mimeo company was putting around the Publications Office, by 12:15 the machine was installed, and in less than an hour instructions had been given and it was ready to go. That's the kind of action that we need more of.

And it appears that the Commons is undergoing some sort of revamping. At the beginning of the week, it was blacked out while a fuse box was being altered, heads of organizations having their headquarters moved, and received notices about their furniture, etc. And that's the kind of action we need more of.

Word has reached us that the Class of 1950 is planning to discontinue rivalry come next year. Some of the feeble reasons heard is that it is childish, (check with the pushball players on that one) that it was instituted by the girls during the war years when there were no men about, (we will verify personally that rivalry was in full swing in 1940) and others. As we see it, the most that can be done by the present freshmen class is to protest. Next year, if they refuse to enter rivalry, it will be the first time in the history of the sport that one team shut out the other, for they will lose by default.

Aside from this discussion, rivalry has many good features. It acquaints the whole class with a feeling of spirit which, although it dwindles to almost nothing in two or three years, is important when we begin to look for spirit at State. Many lasting friendships are formed on the field of rivalry, and that's an important part of an education. It's a lot of fun, too, which you freshmen who contemplate this move must admit. Think it over, Frosh. So what if you did take a beating from the judges in the debate? If your complaint happens to be in the way it is run, check with your officers. Don't back out of it. You'll miss a lot of fun with next year's crop of greenies if you do.

Hartwick Sets State Down In Final Encounter 64-47

O'Brien High Scorer In Out-Of-Town Game

Paced by "Zeke" Zelle and scoring twenty-eight field goals to State's eighteen, the Hartwick Indians tripped the Purple and Gold Saturday as each team closed their respective seasons. Play was hard and fast, as indicated by the fact that twenty-seven personal fouls were called during the evening as the two teams cavorted on the big court.

Leading off the scoring Ken George hooked a one-hander before Zelle and Sagendorf set. Jack Kirby sank a pivot and "Bolo" Marsland converted a foul when Southall and Walt Schick followed with layups. Southall again connected and Baker pushed for two. O'Brien: Hartwick, 29; State, 17.

In the free scoring second half Tom O'Brien clicked for four field goals to lead the Statesmen, Zelle, Drago and Thompson alternated as scoring as Hartwick managed to hold its entry lead. In playing their last games in State rivalry, "Red" Evans and "Bolo" Marsland combined to hold the team together after a slow start. Final: Hartwick, 64; State, 47.

WAA Sports Round-Up

Red Devils Stop Bluejays, 26-20 In Rivalry Game

In a thrilling, hard-fought basketball game, the Sophs triumphed over the frosh, 26-20 last Wednesday evening to take the first rivalry match.

The frosh drew first blood on a foul shot by Free. Pless and Freeel throughout shots and Cookingham pushed a foul shot in for the frosh. Pless threw one in from the side and Koch added a point to Sophs score. Southick made a beautiful basket from the side and time was called by the Sophs. Cookingham and Pless matched foul shots, which both missed, and Sittig threw a basket in to end the quarter, 8-5, in favor of the Sophs. Both teams were sizing up their opponents, with the Sophs having a slight advantage.

After the ball changed hands in the second quarter and it changed hands four times until Southick sunk a foul shot. Smith matched her point and Pless pushed one in from the side.

After the ball changed hands again Pless finally put in a lay-up shot. Time was called by the Frosh and when play was resumed Freeel ran away from her guard to put in two baskets. Both teams were fighting for possession of the ball when the half ended with the score 13-10.

The frosh took the ball and Freeel scored as the second half opened. Pless playing was done by both sides until Koch sunk a foul shot to tie the score 13-13. But the Sophs started to pull away as Pless and Southick pushed through baskets. The frosh took another time out but failed to halt the Sophs as Sittig tallied to end the third quarter, 21-12. Sittig scored to open the last quarter and Southick added a field goal and a foul shot. Pless and Sittig added a point. Freeel scored. Koch tallied a point and Smith ended the game with a basket to bring the final score to 26-20.

To all my friends,
It is impossible for me to acknowledge all the flowers, all the notes, all the remembrances of you who have been mindful of my illness. May I take this means to say thank you and to tell you how much you have done to help me on the road to recovery? I will be seeing you soon.

Looking Backstage On Sophomore Big-8 Sets

"Listen, my children, and I shall relate, Some inside dope on the Soph Big-8."

Maybe the poetry stinks, but the info. doesn't; it's straight from Catherine Donnelly, '49, head of sets and lights for the show. To say that the sets are dead would be a wealth of understatement. The truth is, part of the scenery was cut from "rough boxes," or protection boxes that are slipped on caskets just before they are taken under by the undertaker. To color the atmosphere even more, the grass has yet to be obtained. How, you ask... well, it is to be taken from a fresh grave early tomorrow morning. Even the Sophomores were surprised to receive a box from the governor of Arizona that contained a much-needed cactus. Along with this little box came a note to this effect, "May the better man win; I'm sure you will."
