CSEA Asks Rockefeller For Talks On Freeze And Start Of Negotiations

ALBANY - At Leader presstime it was learned that the Civil Service Employees Assn., has called upon Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller for an immediate meeting to discuss the full implications of the recently-announced Federal Wage-Price Freeze as it related to public employees of New York State.

At the same time, CSEA said it will ask for a commitment from Rockefeller that the State will honor its obligation under the Taylor Law to enter into good faith negotiations with CSEA in behalf of State employees this Fall, so as to provide for the settlement of new contracts in time for the State fiscal year beginning April 1, 1972.

CSEA president Theodore C. Wenzl also announced that intensive scrutiny would continue on the possible effects of the wage freeze on employees of local government jurisdictions. He pointed out that local governments have fiscal years which vary from that of the State, so that pay benefits negotiated recently, but not yet implemented, might in some cases be threatened. To volume and cope with the problem immediately Wenzl has directed the entire CSEA field staff to report to headquarters this week on any local government groups whose benefits might be in danger.

FREEZE DISCUSSION - Theodore C. Wensi, right, president of the 200,000-member Civil Service Employees Assn., has an impromptu meeting in Albany with veteran Congressman Samuel S. Stratton (D-Schenectady). Wenzl called on Stratton to seek clarification and discuss President Nixon's recent wage-price freeze, as it affects the State and local government employees represented by CSEA in New York State.

Thruway Vote Starts

CSEA Urging Members To Compare Contracts Before Casting Ballot

ALBANY-Secret ballots will be mailed out tomorrow (August 25) to more than 2,100 maintenance, toll and clerical employees of the New York State Thruway Authority. to determine which employee union will represent them for the next two years or more. The ballots will be counted under the supervision of the Public Employment Relations Board on Sept. 15.

International Brotherhood of Teamsters, and the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees Union.

CSEA president Theodore C. Wenzl, had these comments on the contest: "CSEA expects to be re-elected. Our record of representation for Thruway employees stands on its own, and cannot be challenged. It's a compliment to our strength that two different so-called International unions had to band together in a strange alliance in order to try and beat CSEA. Neither one of these unions could beat CSEA when they ran against us separately in the last Thruway election.

"The UTU," Wenzl continued. "is a combination of two unions who fought each other bitterly in the past, and who continue to fight each other in other localities. How they expect Thruway employees to think they will get along in this alliance is a mystery to us.

Look At The Record

"Thruway employees should take a close look at the Teamsters contract for employees of Massachusetts Turnpike Authority," Wenzl said, "because the provisions of that contract show the same type of representation Thruway workers will get if the Teamsters and AFS-CME are elected here.

"Thruway employees already enjoy more vacation days and holidays than their Teamsterrepresented counterparts on the Mass Pike. Nearly all benefits are lower or less than the benefits, won by CSEA, that Thruway employees have now. Needless to say CSEA is going to go into our next round of negotiations with demands for more and better benefits and salaries for Thruway workers. All in all, Mass Pike employees have negotiated very few improvements in their two contracts since 1967. That's a pretty sorry record, and Thruway employees can expect the same thing if the Teamsters-who are now allied with AFSCME in the 'UFU'-get in power here.

No Increments

"Lastly," Wenzl said, "I would like to warn Thruway workers that AFSCME, the other partner in this weird coalition of former rivals should not be believed when it says it can get you back the Increments. Reliable sources tell us that some locals of AFS-CME's District Council 37, in New York City, have done away with increments while ignoring wage parities for several groups

Sound Reason For Freezing Pay Of Public Employees

AST week this column rotested the perpetuation by high public officials of the fiction that civil service employee salaries had achieved a status of parity with wage standards and working conditions that prevail in the

(Continued from Page 1) private employment sector. We also protested vigorously the predeliction of public officials to make civil service employees the scapegoats for rising taxes and government budget deficits.

This column does not possess a crystal ball and had no idea that President Richard M. Nixon would address the Nation on the intervening Sunday on a dramatic shift in National economic policies. These policies involve sophisticated, esoteric economic doctrine which are far beyond the scope of "Don't Repeat This" to either applaud or criticize the actions taken by the President.

However, the column does have the sophistication to protest the special burdens imposed on the civil service employees in this National effort to get the American economy going again. Under the wage-price freeze imposed by the President, all wage and salary levels are frozen for a 90-day period that expires November 12. The United States had previously imposed a freeze on employee salaries during World War II and in 1951 during the Korean War. In both those cases, the salary freeze did not apply to public employee salaries in part in recognition of their sovereign power of States and in part in recognition of the fact that civil service salary scales were typically behind competitive private industry scales and were seriously lagging behind cost-of-living increases. No Sound Reason

There may have been some sound economic reason for the action taken by the President in freezing civil service salary stand: I's simultaneously with the freeze upon wage increases in private employment. But there is no sound reason for imposing a greater burden on Federal employees as distinguished from the burden imposed upon all employees.

Under orders issued by the President, a seven percent increase for Federal employees scheduled to take effect on January 1, has been postponed until July 1. That is an additional wage freeze that goes far beyond the sacrifice the President has asked from all working people. In addition, the President proposes to cut a large number of Federal employees, thereby imposing an increased burden of work on all Federal employees.

Further, the Federal government is taking steps to save about $175 million in Federal white-collar salaries by assigning lower job classifications to new employees. "Wage policy should begin at home." George P. Shultz, director of the Office of Management and Budget said in announcing the new classificiation policies of the Nixon Administration.

According to Shultz, the level of Federal white-collar pay in recent years also has shown "excessive escalation" through promotion to higher grades. Routinely, Shultz said that reductions in grade would be done through "attrition," and that no present employee would be reduced in grade or salary under the new procedure.

"Attrition" has suddenly become the defensive word in the lexicon of public officials, as they proceed to make the civil service employee the scapegoat of their budget deficiencies.

Here's The Word From Blue Shield: Pact Stays Intact

Candidates Agree On Need For Sweeping Taylor Law Change

CHEEKTOWAGA—Candidates for Statewide office of the Civil Service Employees Assn. agreed unanimously here last week that the CSEA must fight for sweeping changes in the Taylor Law.

Western Conference at Clinton Aire Motel, ticked off their grievances with the law.

The consensus was that the Taylor Law is too one sided, favoring the State Government without affording the protection employees need.

"State Government can do anything it pleases," said one candidate in reference to the recent widescale employee layoffs, "and we can't touch it."

Appearing at the 21/2-hour meeting were Theodore C. Wenzl, president; Irving Flaumenbaum, candidate for president; Thomas H. McDonough and Frederick E. Huber, candidates for first vice-president; A. Victor Costa and Solomon Bendet, candidates for second vicepresident; Richard A. Tarmey and Louis P. Colby, candidates for third vice-president; George W. DeLong and William L. Mc-Gowan, candidates for fourth vice-president.

Also, Edward G. Dudek, candidate for fifth vice-president; Dorothy E. MacTavish and Edna Percoco, candidates for secretary, and John Gallagher and Louie G. Sunderhaft Jr., candidates for treasurer.

John Adamski, president of the 25,000 - member Western Conference, chaired the meeting, giving each candidate an unlimited amount of time to present his views.

Criticizing the massive State layoffs, several speakers reminded the 125 chapter presidents and representatives attending that the decision to make the layoffs was made unilaterally without consultation with the

IN THE PAST decade, lawlessness has increased to the point where it is affecting the fire protection of every

THE NEW YORK City Fire Department is being cruelly depleted by all sorts of lawless acts that have nothing to do with the already hazardous job of firefighting.

THIS YEAR we will see an all-time record number of malicious false alarms-more than 100,000 of them. Firefighters have been known to die in rushing to the scene of false alarms, and often here in New York the filse alarm is a call to an ambush, where firefighters are injured in a hail of missiles thrown from rooftops, ARSON IS ON the upswing here, too. Earlier this year, a fire officer died in an attempt to rescue three children he thought were trapped on an upper floor. The fire had been set deliberately.

AND JUST A few weeks ago, Battalion Chief William Rinsdale, one of the finest, most dedicated officers in the department, died because some of our citizens don't give a damn about anyone else.

CHIEF RINSDALE had already responded to 18 alarms that day when a call came in from an apartment house at 1702 Davidson Ave., in the Bronx. The fire-which could have been handled with a single hoseline at the outsetspread through three floors of the building because automobiles were double-parked throughout the block and cars were parked in front of fire hydrants. Fire trucks could not get into the block. There were 100 people trapped above the fire and Chief Rinsdale was forced to run around frantically, directing rescues, stretching of lines, checking the extinguishment and spread of the fire.

BECAUSE OF THESE unusual conditions he became the sixth Fire Officer to die in the line of duty this year. Two firefighters have also died, bring the total for the department to eight. Last year the total was nine.

THE INJURY totals for firefighters is also of grave concern. Last year we had 5,400 injuries. We only have about 11,000 men in the department. The odds run heavier against us every year.

SOMEBODY HAS to do something. This may be Fun City for some of our better known politicians and literary lights, but it is Hell on Earth for the firefighters. We are waiting for someone to express some concern about the rising tide of lawlessness that is threatening to engulf the City's first line of defense, the Fire Department.

IT WOULD seem to me that someone in this City would show some concern. There were 310 civilians killed in fires last year, more than in any year in the history of the department.

MAJOR FIRES are on the increase; deaths and injuries are skyrocketing, and the nights seem to be filled with the sound of one long siren wail.

THINGS ARE bad enough for the citizens of this City now. It is going to be much worse unless something is done to reverse the tide of lawlessness that is wearing down the men of the Fire Department.

JOINT COMMITTEE MEETS — The State-Civil Service Employees Assn. labor-management committee meets to discuss problems of an impasse between CSEA and the Mental Hygiene Dept. Flaumenbaum Demands D.A. Probe Violence Against Park Members

JONES BEACH—The first vice-president of the Civil Service Employees Assn., Irving Flaumenbaum, last week demanded a district attorney's investigation of "goon tactics" directed at CSEA members at State Parks on Long Island.

Flaumenbaum, in an earlier meeting with Sidney Shapiro, general manager of the L.I. State Park Commission, demanded action to halt a series of incidents directed at CSEA members.

Flaumenbaum was meeting again with Shapiro at Leader press time to speed the investigation. He said that Shapiro's office now has full details of the incidents, and insisted that Shapiro supply the information to District Attorney William Cahn.

One employee's home was fire-bombed with a Molotov cocktail which damaged the house and garage. A female employee was told that her baby would be harmed in addition. Flaumenbaum said that tires have been slashed, fenders damaged, and persons engaged in fisticuffs.

"This is the lowest type of business there is," Flaumenbaum said.

He praised the "spunk" of employees. The woman, who was threatened, signed a police complaint and identified a burly male who made the threat. A male employee responded to a physical assault by dropping his attacker with a right hook, Flaumenbaum revealed.

The incidents followed tension among lifeguards who, under the direction of the Service Em-

'Fruitful' Meeting Held Between CSEA and Buffalo Area Thruway Officials Over Work Conditions

BUFFALO—Major problems in working conditions of maintenance and toll employees of the Thruway Authority in the Buffalo area were discussed at a labor-management meeting last week between the Civil Service Employees Assn., representative of the employees, and Authority officials.

"This all-day meeting was fruitful," said CSEA Collective negotiating specialist Joseph P. Reedy, "because CSEA took all the problems straight to the top officials of the Thruway Auth-

Binghampton SS Unit Withdraws Charges Of Unfair Practices

BINGHAMTON — Social Services unit, Civil Service Employees Assn. officials have withdrawn an unfair labor practice charge against the City of Binghamton.

Unit president George Tomaras said the move was prompted by indications of City officials of their willingness to resume contract negotiations with the unit. The negotiations have continued without success for the past ten months or more.

A preliminary hearing on the charge had been scheduled for September 8 by the State Public Employment Relations Board in Syracuse.

Tomaras said the initial charge was based on the contention that City negotiators continued bringing up new terms apart from those already agreed to by unit negotiators.

"We and the City," he said, are "very close to a contract settlement" but added that any wage agreement at this point would, as he put it, "amount to an academic exercise" because of the Federal wage and price freeze imposed by President Nixon for a 90-day period.

The Binghamton Social Services unit represents more than 100 Social Services Dept. employees within the City of Binghamton.

LACKAWANNA—The Civil Service Employees Assn., bargaining for about 185 non-teaching personnel, has declared an impasse in contract negotiations with the Lackawanna Board of Education.

The CSEA is asking for a eight percent pay hike and improvement in hospitalization benetits.

Set For Sheriff

Raymond W. Dunn, of Wurtsboro, has been appointed sheriff of Sullivan County to succeed Louis Ratner, who retired in June. His appointment runs to ority, and because they have promised to give us answers and take actions on these problems within the next couple of weeks."

Items discussed included complaints from maintenance employees about supervisory problems within maintenance sections in the area, including inequitable distribution of overtime, use of Thruway property by supervisory persons with the same privileges denied to regular employees; improper changing of work orders; improper exercise of supervisory authority; verbal and physical harassment of employees; alleged racial discrimination; use of doccertificates for short periods of sick leave; alleged discrimination in selection for the Advance Increment Program; working in inclement weather; unsafe equipment for road sweeping; and the use of the buddy system in salt loading

Complaints from toll collectors that were discussed were the use of seasonals, part timers and over-staffing to avoid payment of overtime to fulltime, regular toll collectors; continual violations of the overtime section in the CSEA-Thruway contract; shift changes; monitor qualifications, and others. Many other complaints and problems involving individual employees were also aired at the meeting.

Another Meeting Soon

Reedy said another labormanagement meeting would be held in Buffalo in the near future, "so that the Thruway can tell us formally what they are doing about all of these problems."

CSEA has been promised a written response to the complaints voiced at the meeting within two weeks.

Present at the meeting were, from CSEA, Edmund Kiedrowski, toll collector, City Line toll station; Louis Taylor, construction equipment operator (heavy), Buffalo Maintenance section, and a CSEA shop steward; Albert Sibilio, Buffalo Thruway chapter president; Thomas Christy, CSEA field representative; John Naughter, collective negotiating specialist, and Reedy.

Thruway representatives present were William E. Tinney, assistant executive director-employee relations; Richard Wilson, director of toll collection; William Hall, toll division supervisor; Robert Willet, division engineer, and John Muth, assistant personnel director.

CSEA Going All The Way To Regain Job For Member Fired In Violation Of Contract

BATAVIA—Was it bureaucratic bungling or a deliberate and callous action on the part of the State Administration in denying an employee at the State School for the Blind his job?

"Perhaps we'll never know which," said CSEA collective negotiating specialist John A. Conoby, "but we do know that Donald Hiscutt, a baker at the school is without a job today and that he was fired in violation of the CSEA-State contracts."

Hiscuit was fired from his job on May 5 after the State Education Department decided to contract with a private concern for baked goods, an action Conoby charged was in direct violation of Article 29.1 of the CSEA contract.

CSEA immediately filed a grievance and a hearing was held by the department on May 28. At that time, Phillip C. Sperry, the department hearing officer admitted that the State was indeed contracting out for baked goods. Nearly a month later, CSEA received a response from Education Commissioner Ewald B. Nyquist "which completely skirted the issue," Conoby said. Instead of reinstating Hiscutt permanently to his position, Nyquist said that the baker had been prematurely released from service and that he would be paid through June 30,

the date other staff employees

school program were let go.

Rejecting Nyquist's answer, Conoby immediately filed a fourth stage contract grievance with the State Office of Employee Relations. The OER, under the grievance procedure, had to schedule a hearing within 20 days of receiving the grievance. "They have not done so and in fact have gone well beyond the time schedule in the grievance procedure," Conoby charged.

In the meantime, the red tape became further ensnarled when the Department of Audit and Control refused to pay Hiscutt for the period, May 5 through June 30 because he was not on the job during that period, despite Nyquist's ruling.

Meanwhile, Hiscutt is not working and collecting unemployment. "It appears," said Conoby, "that a court action is our next move."

It was learned at Leader presstime that, because of pressure exerted by CSEA. Hiscutt will be paid for the period between May 5 and June 30. However, CSEA is continuing with a fourth-stage contract agreement almed at reinstating His-

Varied Qualifying Options

Specify Three Fed. Grades For Treasury Agent Titles

Three levels of hiring for enforcement agent positions have been announced by the U.S. Treasury Dept. Qualified applicants are likely to be assigned to the Internal Revenue Service, Secret Service or Bureau of Customs.

Openings are being spotlighted at the GS-5, 7 and 9 levels, providing the starting pay of $6,938, $8,582 and $10,470

the ability to make oral and written reports and presentations of personally conducted or personally directed investiga-

The aforementioned posts fall under the "general option" grouping. Supplementing that, however, is the "special agent option" dealing with intelligence work for the Internal Revenue

Wage Variance

GS-5 pay for special agents in the metropolitan area and Statewide is precisely the same: $8,-555. At GS-7 and 9, location pay varies. Metropolitan area appointees receive $10,584 at GS-7; $11,517 at GS-9. Elsewhere in the State, wages for those grades embark at $10,012 and $10,819.

Qualifications hinge on experience primarily, with education substitutes permitted. A written test - assessing memory and powers of observation, vocabulary, arithmetic, spatial perception and investigative aptitude - will be administered to applicants for either option. Also, a driver's license is needed at time of appointment.

Keen eyesight and hearing are also prerequisites, with a full delineation of physical requirements made as part of Announcement No. NY-1-05. You may pick up a copy of that notice when you apply, at the address mentioned below.

Outline Experience

For all three general option levels, one year of general experience is sought: background which has required the ability to deal effectively with individuals or groups, to collect and assemble pertinent facts, and to prepare clear and concise written reports."

In addition, specialized experience is required: two years for GS-5; three for GS-7, and four for GS-9. Such experience is given the following definition:

Responsible criminal investigative or comparable experience which has required (1) the exercise of tact, initiative, ingenuity, resourcefulness, and judgment in collecting, assembling, and developing facts, evidence, and other pertinent data through investigative techniques which included personal interviews; (2)

Slate Monday Testing For Auditor Jobs

Twice on Mondays, written tests will be given by Suffolk County for junior account-auditor, at 9 a.m. and 12:45 p.m. respectively.

The exam is open to residents of any county who have an associate's degree in accounting or have finished the half-way mark toward a bachelor's and have amassed 18 accounting credits along the route.

A usual biweekly wage of $306 is indicated. The exam itself will pose written questions on numerical relations ships and progressions; accounting problems, and basic accounting practices, among various areas.

Testing will take place at Riverhead and East Northport Test Centers, but no advance notice appointments are necessary. To acquire further information, call the Suffolk Civil Service Dept. at (516) 727-4700.

Named To Commission

The Governor's office has announced New York State's member and alternate on the Ohio River Basin Commission established earlier this year by Presidential order. They are Ronald W. Pedersen, first deputy commissioner, State Department of Environmental Conservation, as member, and John A. Finck, Jr., director of water resources planning in the same agency, as alinal cases in any of the various intelligence and investigative branches of the public service requiring the preparation and submission of comprehensive written reports.

- (5) Experience in the general practice of criminal law which required appearing in court and interviewing suspects or witnesses or, which required a substantial amount of complex criminal investigative work.
- (6) Successful completion of formalized programs of in-service training for any of the above.
- (7) Experience as a uniformed law officer where the principal duties (at least 50 percent or more of the time) were criminal investigations requiring the use of a variety of investigative methods and techniques such as survelllance, assuming an undercover role, etc., may be credited on a prorated basis.
- (8) Any time-equivalent combination of the above required types of experience.

- (2) Private detective whose major duties are the protection of life and/or property;
- (3) Positions the principal duties of which are in connection with the prevention of crime rather than the investigation of violations of criminal law;
- (4) Legal experience which did not involve criminal aspects and substantial public contacts, such as that confined to legal research or brief writing;
- (5) Experience as a uniformed law enforcement officer where the principal duties consist of investigations and arrests involving traffic violations, minor felonies, misdemeanors and comparable offenses.

As to educational substitutes under the general option, one academic year above the high school level is credited as nine months of experience. Four years of study will suffice for the GS-5 title, while GS-7 candidates must submit one year of graduate work in police science, business administration or a related

Those vying for GS-9 posts will need a master's or two years of graduate study if they wish to take advantage of the educational alternative provided.

Special agent positions require three years of accounting experience. The amount of specialized experience runs from none at GS-5 to two years at GS-9. Before applying, you are best advised to consult the announce-

The Sacrifices Are Double

Freeze Puts Strongest Pressure on Civil Service

TAKING any firm stand against President Nixon's latest tactics to fight inflation and stabilize the dollar is very near being against motherhood and the American flag. But in trying to cut through the as yet uncertain means by which the President intends to accomplish his fight against inflation through wage and price controls, some very ominous portents are in the future for civil service employees.

Let us take one or two aspects of the President's proposals. In order to stimulate the automobile business, for instance, he is asking Congress to remove a seven and one half percent excise tax, with the savings to be passed onto the consumer. At the same time he is asking an increase in the depreciation tax for all businesses in order to stimulate investment in new plant equipment.

The apparent intent of these moves is to stimulate automobile buying, which in turn would mean increased production line activity, which would mean an upswing in employment in the automobile business.

So far, so good-as far as the car business and employment in the private sector is concerned.

A deeper look at the picture, however, reveal some disturbing facts. The tax credits-and proposed income tax reductions-reduce the income of the Federal government by several billion dollars. Can that be accommodated? Sure, says President Nixon, by firing nearly 100,000 persons from the Federal payroll. In other words, the public employee is again being made the scapegoat.

We ask, now, what is the logic behind this? How does it make sense to create 100,000 jobs in the private employment sector and, at the same time, lay off 100,000 U.S. workers? The net result is that 100,000 families are still on the unemployment rolls.

In addition, many classifications of Federal employees are ineligible for unemployment compensation benefits and it is entirely probable that a good many would have to be added to welfare rolls.

Furthermore, there has been no examination at all, that we can see, of the impact of reducing the Federal work force so drastically. The problems of conservation, pollution, public health, education, safety and a host of other services affecting every day life can only be increased through such drastic cuts.

Another terrible situation for public employees everywhere-town, county, state or Federal-is the freeze on pay increases. Civil servants have received no where near the wage and benefits packages won by employees in the private sector and now even these smaller gains are being held up. This makes for a doubling of sacrifices.

We urge President Nixon and his advisors to give immediate consideration to other means of "moving ahead" besides mass layoffs in the public sector. It seems logical to us that if the private sector is stirred sufficiently the resultant increase in Federal revenues should be able to support a program of Federal services on at least the present

We understand and support the President's desire to break the vicious inflation and unemployment spiral that has so enveloped this country. We do not believe, however, that doing it at the expense of the public employment sector is the answer. It was not the answer for New York State, New York City and any other government unit. In the long run, the United States is bound to lose more than it can gain by favoring one employment sector against the other.

Letters To

Enough Is Enough'

Editor, The Leader:

It is unfortunate that President Nixon has embarked on a plan, which while helping the huge corporations and banking interests, penalizes the working man, especially the civil service employee.

Wages and some prices are frozen, while corporate profits, dividends and the rates of interest which banks charge are permitted to continue their upward rise. As usual, the worker, including civil service workers, and military personnel are asked to sacrifice and bear the burden while the rich get richer.

The Civil Service Employees Association, Inc. must rise to the task. It must demand the following:

- 1. Creation of new and necessary jobs to handle the ever increasing load of governmental work.
- 2. The continuation, without interruption of the necessary reclassifications and reallocations so that government may function properly.
- 3. Payment of all obligations to all civil service employees as a result of contracts entered into in good faith as a result of collective bargaining negotiations.
- 4. No interference whatsoever with increments and longevity payments due under the law.

The civil service employee has sacrificed in the interests of the country. How about requiring big business, huge corporations and the banking interests to sacrifice a little? It is time for civil service workers to say "enough is enough."

Taylor Law Booby Traps

(First of Two-Part Article)

THE TAYLOR LAW has set some booby traps for the unwary. A recent case has disclosed several such booby traps. Katz v. Public Employment Relations Board of Nassau County, New York Law Journal, 8-10-71 p. 11. In this case, parttime faculty (PTF) at Nassau Community College who were not in any negotiating unit certified by Public Employment Relations Board of Nassau County (PERB) filed a certification petition. The petition was filed when the employee organization representing full-time faculty (FTF) had exclusive and unchallenged recognition. It was disputed as to whether or not such recognition had expired at the time the hearing officer and PERB issued their decisions. But it was conceded that it had expired at the time PERB ordered an election as a result of its decision that full-time and parttime faculty properly belong in the same negotiating unit. FTF did not receive notice of the petition by PTF until after the hearing officer recommended a single unit. FTF claimed this was a denial of procedural due process. Neither FTF nor PTF desired a single unit.

THE COURT HELD that PERB had denied FTF procedural due process and had exceeded its authority under the Taylor Law in finding a single unit when neither of the parties in the proceeding desired such a unit. In addition, the court made permanent its temporary stay of any representation election for the proposed single unit. The court pointed out that a showing of interest of 30 percent necessary to file a petition for certifying a unit and that this requirement would be subverted if such showing of interest was permitted to apply when going from a smaller unit into a larger unit determination. The decision did not clearly state whether or not procedural due process was violated because of the application of this 30 percent rule.

THE BOOBY TRAPS contained in this decision are as

- 1. May PERB decide that the appropriate unit is one which none of the parties to the proceedings
- 2. Must a party who is ultimately affected by a PERB decision be given a reasonable opportunity to participate in a PERB hearing on unit determination from the outset of the filing of a petition?
- 3. Where a petitioner has made a showing of interest in the unit petitioned for, may a unit be found in which petitioner does not meet the 30 percent rule?
- 4. What is the budget submission date of a community college for purposes of unchallenged recognition?
- 5. May a court stay an election pending the final determination of an appropriate negotiating

THESE BOOBY TRAPS will be discussed in order.

- 1. Until this decision, one of the distinguishing hallmarks of the Taylor Law had been that the test for the appropriate negotiating unit was not whether or not the unit was an appropriate unit, but whether or not it was the most appropriate unit. This test was extremely important, given the experience in the private sector which gave wide latitude to the employer and the employee organization to determine among themselves an appropriate unit.
- IT WAS RAISED in the leading Taylor Law case, CSEA v. Helsby, 32 A.D. 2d 131, affired 25 N.Y. 2d 842, where the court said at page 134 that "we do not construe (PERB) Board function as being limited to review of the employer's designations or to approving or disapproving units proposed by the parties to the dispute." Therefore, the Katz decision, if upheld, would completely reverse the development of certification and decertification proceedings with regard to the scope of PERB's ability to rule on what is the most appropriate negotiating unit.
- IN A RECENT State PERB case, Great Neck Board of Education, 4 PERB par. 3017, a case very similar to the instant one, State PERB followed prior court ruling and held that summer school teachers should be in a single unit also containing year-round teachers regardless of the fact that no party to the proceeding requested such a determination.

Newsletter By Jean Gray

ALL OF THE members of the Capital District Conference are looking forward to the September meeting at the Waldorf-Astoria, New York City, September 7 through 10. There will be a hospitality room this year so all CSEA members look for the announcement and come and be friendly. One other item of interest at the meeting will be the Capital District Conference caucus the first evening of our stay in New York. All Conference representatives are urged to attend both the caucus and visit the hospitality room.

AFTER A successful theatre party for "Fiddler On The Roof," (which turned out to be one of the greatest moneymaking theatre parties in the Capital District Conference), Jean C. Gray handed over the reins of the activities committee to Dorothy Honeywell, who had done such a magnificent job handling the sale of tickets. As new chairman, Dorothy starts out her term by sponsoring an "Evening With Robert Goulet" for CSEA members, their fam-Ilies and friends. It will be held the evening of September 1, and $5.50 seats (best in the house) will be $4.40 to Conference members, but you must order your tickets through Dorothy Honeywell at 457-6548.

ONE OF THE most interesting subjects brought up at the executive meeting held prior to the latest Capital District Conference meeting was the announcement by Ernest Wagner, Conference president, that for the first time the Capital District and Central Conference will combine for their Spring meeting at the Otesaga in Cooperstown, New York.

A FALL WORKSHOP has been tentatively planned in the newly - remodeled Queensbury Hotel in Glens Falls, and the committee expects an enthusiastic response. Your correspondent will be reporting more news on this in future columns.

ANOTHER ITEM of interest to all members of the Capital District Conference is the Flu Shot Program, which is limited to CSEA members and will cost each person $1. Make sure you are on the list to receive these shots since the medical profession has given us a gloomy outlook on the flu situation for this Winter. See your chapter president for date, location and more

IT IS WITH deep regret that your correspondent tells of the passing of Paul Jordan, the gentleman whose campaign for a kidney machine brought to light the many benefits available Blue Cross-Blue Shield participants, and although he received the kidney transplant, has died August 17. Everyone in the Capital District Conference extends sympathy to the family of Mr. Jordan at this time.

LOCKPORT-The Niagara County chapter, Civil Service Employees Assn., has voted to protect the rights of its membership in the Social Service and Health Departments who could be affected by State-mandated job reclassifications.

Led by William Doyle, chapter president and Robert A. Milling, the chapter's assigned field representative, over 100 chapter members jammed the last meeting of the County Legislature. The legislators agreed with Doyle's demands that no action on the classification would be taken until after both sides sit down and discuss the situation at an August 30

Oneida Area Chaps. Endorse Sunderhaft

(From Leader Correspondent)

UTICA-The campaign of Louis G. Sunderhaft, Oneida County chapter president, for State treasurer of the Civil Service Employees Assn. received its official kick-off Thursday, August 12, at Tauri's Restaurant here. A dozen unit and chapter presidents from the area attended the kick-off meeting, and each gave a personal endorsement of Sunderhaft.

A football, symbolizing the kick-off of the campaign was presented to the candidate . . . each person attending the meeting had autographed it.

In addition to liking Sunderhaft's campagin proposals, the chapter and unit presidents at the meeting felt it was time Oneida County had more representation at the State-wide level of CSEA.

Attending the session were: William Deck, president of the Marcy State chapter: Mary Leonard, chairman of the Oneida County membership committee; Gerald Beolert, president of the Oneida County unit; Beatrice DeSantis, treasurer of the Oneida County chapter; Felice Palanicz, member of the Oneida County board of directors; Phil Caruso, president of the Utica State chapter; Ray Pritchard, president of the Rome State School chapter; Nicholas Cimino, president of the Department of Transportation district two chapter; Louie Eddy, member of the Oneida County Board of Directors; S. Samuel Borelly, chairman of the county executive committee and a member of the State board of directors; and Roger Salimando, past president of the Oneida County chapter and Sunderhaft's campaign chairman. Weighty Post

A career Ag and Markets employee, J. Fred Tucker, of Binghamton, has been named director of the Department's bureau of weights and measures to succeed Fred Fallon, who retired July 28.

Tucker joined the Department 26 years ago as a weights and measure inspector. For the last six years, he has been a senior ployees reportedly received letters from the County Civil Service Commission - stating that their jobs will be reclassified.

Hand printed notices posted throughout the County Bldg. here said that "about 14 employees" received the letters.

Being Downgraded

The notice said that a principal clerk, Grade Six, is being 'downgraded" to typist, Grade Two. It further stated that a senior stenographer in the Health Dept. is being dropped from Grade Six to Grade Three and that case supervisors Grade Twelve in the Social Services Dept. are being dropped to social welfare examiners Grade 8.

The issue was first discussed by the county legislators two weeks ago but was tabled because official opinions as to what affect the change in classifications would have on pay scales.

Some County officials argued that the pay would be cut, others said the pay would not be affected until next year and still others said the pay would not be affected until next year and still others said the pay would not be affected at all.

To Be Explained

The issue is expected to be explained in depth at the Aug. 30 meeting which will bring together CSEA officials, members of the Legislature's Social Service Committee and Social Services Dept. officials. Attempts also will be made to have state officials on hand.

Milling told the members that they would see that the reclassification will be done in a "legal and orderly fashion."

Suffolk Leaders, School Units OK Irv. Flaumenbaum

MINEOLA - The school committee of the Nassau chapter, Civil Service Employees Assn., last week unanimously endorsed Irving Flaumenbaum for president of the Statewide CSEA.

Edward Perrott, chairman of the committee, that serves as a forum for forty school district units affiliated with the Nassau chapter, urged support for Flaumenbaum's candidacy.

Thirty units represented at the meeting voted unanimous-

Flaumenbaum, noting his support for the report of the CSEA restructuring committee, which is expected to propose a federation of school units, said that more than 300,000 non-teaching school employees in the State are unaffiliated and should be brought to the CSEA.

Meanwhile, a letter signed by 100 leaders of the Suffolk chapter was mailed to 10,000 members in the County. The leaders, including most top chapter officers and unit presidents, said "Flaumenbaum is the only State CSEA leader who can and is willing to stand up to politicians, who is not afraid to fight them and can protect your job."

Utica-Rome Area CSEA Members Reject 3 Contract

UTICA-Civil Service Employees Association members in the Utica/Rome area turned thumbs down on three separate contracts during the past week.

Employees of the Utica Board of Water Supply followed the recommendation of their unit president John Lisi in rejecting a contract proposed by a Public Employment Relations Board fact-finder which would have granted a 5.8 percent pay boost during its first year and a four percent increase the second.

Lisi said the Water Board workers were dissatisfied with fringe benefits offered in the proposed contract.

Employees of the Waterville Central School system also turned down a contract offer which would have given them a five percent across-the-board wage increase over the one-year life of the contract. CSEA represents non-teaching employees in the school.

Madison County workers rejected an offer by Madison County. Field representative Frank Martello said he did not wish to reveal terms of the rejected agreement at this time. but the main point of dissatisfaction was fringe benefits. Further negotiations are pending.

Sokol Discloses Details

ERS Issues Notice To Pensioners

Sid Sokol, assistant to the president of the N.Y.C. Civil Service Retired Employees Assn., said that the N.Y.C. Employees Retirement System is handing out a "Special Notice to Pensioners" which is of interest to all retirees and those City employees who contemplate retiring.

Sokol expressed confidence that the information would be "of inestimable value to every City employee." He urged that the entire article be clipped and held for future reference.

The text of the "special notice" follows:

- A Form 1099 will not be issued for a calendar year during which only advance payments have been made. The initial Form 1099 will be sent to a pensioner in January of the year following the calendar year during which a pensioner receives his first regular retirement allowance check.
- 2. Generally speaking, all advance or interim payments made to a pensioner prior to his first regular retirement allowance check are not required to be included in the gross income of a pensioner for income tax purposes. (The exception would be where a pensioner finds that the amount of his interim payments exceed the amount of his contributions. For an explanation of this situation, see the additional information provided on page 4.)
- 3. The advance or interim payments referred to in "2" above must be used to reduce the amount of his Investment in Contract before he determines whether for income tax purposes he is to be covered under the Special Three-Year Rule or General Exclusion Rule.
- 4. All retirement allowance payments are exempt from NY State and NY City Income Tax.

The following is a detailed discussion of the general items of information listed above.

As you know the Board of Trustees of the NYC Employees' Retirement System, in order to provide retirees with a continuation of some income after retirement, authorized a procedure whereby a new retiree receives a monthly advance or interim payment until such time as when his retirement has been processed and his regular monthly retirement allowance is ready for payment.

As a result, he receives his first advance payment within a period of from 30 to 60 days after his retirement date and, when his regular retirement allowance has been determined, he then receives a separate retroactive lump sum payment consisting of the difference between the regular allowance due him and the advance payments made to him. He will thereafter receive his regular monthly retirement check.

Illustration

John Doe retires on July 1, 1969 and is paid a monthly advance payment check of $400 for the nine-month period July 1, 1969 through March 31, 1970. At that time, his retirement case is completely processed and his annual regular retirement allowance based on the option he selects is $7,200 or $600 monthly. For the period July to December 1969 he received advance payments of $2,400 (six months at $400 each) and for the period January through March, he received $1,200 for a total of $3,600.

During this nine-month period, since his regular allowance is $600 monthly, he should have received $5,400. He is therefore entitled to a separate retroactive lump sum payment of $1,800 (difference between $5,400, regular allowance due, and $3,600, advance payments made).

Commencing with the month of April, payable at the end of such month and each month thereafter he will receive his regular monthly retirement allowance check of $600. For the balance of the calendar year 1970, he will receive regular payments totalling $5,400 (nine months at $600 each).

Let us summarize the above figures since we will be referring to them later in our discussion;

- (a) Advance payments—July to December 1969. $ 2,400
- (b) Advance payments-January to March 1970 . 1,20
- (c) Lump sum retroactive adjustment check

Recent Tax Ruling

This office has received an official ruling from the Pension Trust Branch of the Internal Revenue Service in Washington to the effect that the advance payments as well as the lump sum retroactive payment (itemized as (a) (b) and (c) above) are considered to be "amounts not received as an annuity" and as such are to be treated as a "return of the consideration paid" (i.e., a return of your own contributions). Therefore these advance or interim payments are to be excluded from gross income for federal income tax purposes.

It means that for a calendar year during which only advance payments have been made (e.g. see item (a) in our illustration above) the City of New York will not issue a Form 1099. It follows then that the amount of these particular advance payments will not be reported to the federal government and a retiree will not have to include these payments as part of his gross income for this calendar year.

He will, however, be provided with his initial Form 1099 in January of the year following the one in which he received his first regular monthly retirement payment. (Based on the illustration above, the initial 1099 would be received in January of 1971). This 1099 will indicate the amount of all payments made, whether "advance" or "regular" from date of retirement to end of calendar year during which the first regular monthly retirement payment has been made. (In the illustration we indicated in item (e) that the total of these payments amounted to $10,800).

We stated that under the Internal Revenue Tax ruling all advance payments as well as the lump sum retroactive adjustment check (referred to in our Illustration as items (a) (b) and (c) totalling $5,400) are to be treated as a return of consideration paid (i.e. a return of the retirees own contributions) and are not to be included as gross income.

By being treated as a return of his own contributions means simply that when the retiree is ready to determine the method by which his retirement allowance will be treated for income tax purposes, he must subtract the amount of his interim payments from the amount of his contribution in order to determine the amount of his Investment in Contract.

After a pensioner knows the amount of his Investment in Contract as well as the amount of his regular retirement allowance, he is then able to determine whether he will be covered by the Special Three-Year Rule or the General Exclusion Rule for purposes of paying income tax.

Once a pensioner's regular monthly retirement allowance begins then, if he will receive, within a three year period, after such allowance commences, an amount of his Investment in Contract, then he must be covered by the Special Three-Year Rule. Under this method the pensioner excludes from income all regular retirement allowance payments received until such payments equal the amount of his Investment in Contract are included in gross income.

However, if a pensioner's regular retirement allowance payments for the three-year period will not equal his Investment in Contract, then he will be covered by the General Exclusion Rule. Under this Rule the pensioner determines what portion of his retirement allowance is subject to tax immediately from date of payability of his first regular retirement allowance. A certain percentage will be excluded from his gross income each year. However, the vast majority of our pensioners will be covered by the Three-Year Rule.

Further Illustration

In this illustration we will be using the same information provided in our first filustration.

John Doe receives a copy of the resolution from the Board of Trustees in May of 1970 indicating that he retired effective July 1, 1969 on an annual retirement allowance of $7,200 and that his own contributions amounted to $14,000 (exclusive of interest). He did not have any service prior to 1939.

In January of 1971 he received his first Form 1099 indicating he received payments of $10,800 for the period July 1, 1969 through December 31, 1970. Of this amount $5,400 represented the interim payments (see items (a) (b) and (c) of first illustration) and $5,400 represented his actual regular retirement allowance payments received during 1970.

Therefore his contributions of $14,000 must be reduced by the interim payments of $5,400 (items (a) (b) and (c) resulting in an Investment in Contract for him of $8,600. ($14,000 - $5,400)

Bear in mind that a pensioner, if he doesn't know the total amount of his interim payments, can determine what they were by simply subtracting the total of his regular monthly retirement allowance checks received during his taxable year (in this case 1970) from the amount shown on his Form 1099.

Now that the pensioner knows his Investment in Contract is $8,600, it is quite simple for him to determine whether he falls under the Special Three Year Rule or the General Exclusion Rule. In this illustration, since it is quite obvious that he will be receiving a total of regu-

Investment in Contract ($8,600) in much less than three years, he must be governed by the Special Three Year Rule.

Tax Return

Based on the above information that indicates that his Investment in Contract is $8,600 (which is his contributions of $14,000 reduced by interim payments of $5,400) and that the regular retirement allowance payments he received during 1970 is $5,400 (April-December: nine months at $600 each) and that his regular annual retirement allowance is $7,200, he can now prepare Part I, Schedule E of his tax return as follows:

Part I-Pension and Annuity Income

- - *Note that the amount of "contribution" is his original contributions of $14,000 reduced by interim payments of $5,400.
 - This amount is the total regular retirement allowance checks received in 1970 (item d in our summary on page 2).

†He is not required to pay tax until the total amount he receives exceeds his "contribution" of $8,600.

For the taxable year 1971, he will be able to exclude an additional $3,200 ($5,400 excluded in 1970 plus $3,200 excluded in 1971 will equal his "contributions").

Since he will receive $7,200 in 1971 and since he may exclude $3,200 from gross income, his taxable portion will be $4,000.

For the taxable year 1972, his taxable portion will be the full $7,200 retirement allowance.

Additional information for a pensioner whose interim payments might exceed his contributions: (This represents the exception to item 2 on page 1)

If a pensioner receives an amount of interim payments that exceeds his own contributions then obviously there can be no determination of any Investment in Contract and he will be automatically covered by the Special Three Year Rule. For income tax purposes, he will be required to include as income for the taxable year in question not only (a) the total regular retirement allowance payments he received that year but also (b) the amount by which his interim payments exceeded the amount of his contributions.

Illustration

In our preceding illustration, we had indicated that John Doe received interim payments of $5,400 and regular retirement allowance payments of $5,400 so that his Form 1099 reflected his having received $10,800. We further stated his retirement allowance was $7,200 annually. Now let us assume, however, that his contributions were only $5,000 and not $14,000.

Since his interim payments of $5,400 exceeded his contributions of $5,000 we find that any Investment in Contract (his contributions) have been eliminated entirely since the interim payments exceeded his contributions by $400. Therefore, he will be required to include as gross income for 1970 not only the regular retirement allowance payments amounting to $5,400 that he received in 1970, but also the amount of excess of $400 resulting in total retirement income received of $5,800 for 1970.

Preparation of Tax Return

Since this pensioner must include as gross income for 1970 an amount of $5,800 and since his contributions of $5,000 were eliminated entirely he would prepare his Part I Schedule E as follows:

Part I - Pension and Annuity Income

- 5. Taxable portion

(subtract line 4 from line 3) 5,800.00

It shows that for the taxable year 1970, the amount of $5,800 will be included in his gross income.

For the taxable year 1971, his taxable portion will be the full $7,200 retirement allowance.

Examinations Committee Wins Agreement Allowing Review Of Exam Papers

ROCHESTER—Under the Civil Service Employees Assn. pressure, the State Department of Civil Service has agreed to permit State employees for a trial period to review answers on written examinations before filing an appeal of any questions.

Samuel Grossfield, chairman of the CSEA's Work Performance, Ratings and Examinations Committee, called this "an important concession," hammered out recently at a meeting in Albany between committee members and department officials.

"The experiment will begin within a mon'h, but it hasn't been decided yet in which agency." he said.

Grossfield said his committee requested advance notice of names of panel members for eral examinations, but the department asked for further negotiations.

Appeal Forms Available

The department recognized the validity of the CSEA committee's demand that pink slips for appealing written exams will hereafter be available in the examination rooms "instead of often being conspicuous by their absence," he said.

The committee's suggestion that future promotional exams be based on the candidate's knowledge of his present position rather than on the position for which he's being tested was rejected by the department.

Grossfield said that the department agreed to consider a request for additional percentage points for senjority. He also noted that the department made some concessions in certain cities where senior steno exams were held under deplorable conditions.

Committee Can Monitor

The department agreed that in the future Grossfield's committee will be permitted to monitor the steno exams to assure that complaints have been rectified.

A request that review centers be established in Rochester and Otica is still under consideration, with a lack of State funds given as the chief obstacle now.

Grossfield said that his committee's request that oral examinations be sharply curtailed and, if possible, eliminated was not received favorably by the department.

Unnecessary Hurdle

"The department claimed that orals are given only after careful consideration," he said. "Our position is that these orals are an additional hurdle to the career development of our members, are unnecessary and are given under very unfavorable conditions."

Work performance ratings and appraisals will be discussed in the near future with the department, Grossfield said. He urged

Tomorrow To End Filing For Suffolk Casework Positions

Piling is set to terminate tomorrow, Aug. 25, for caseworker supervisor titles with Suffolk County. Two specialties—child welfare and public assistance are now open, each to establish separate lists.

Both titles entail a baccalaureate plus four years in a social casework setting. Two years must embrace the indicated specialty. Graduate training may be substituted up to a three-year maximum.

Salary comes to $449 biweekly, climbing to $629. Pian also on taking a written test in late September. More information can be obtained by phoning the Suffolk County Civil Service Dept. at 516-727-4700.

Tapped As Trustee

Sol M. Linowitz, a senior partner in the NYC-Washington law firm of Coudert Brothers, has been renamed by the Governor as a member of Cornell University Board of Trustees.

CSEA members who have received an unfavorable rating or appraisal to notify his committee and he also invited any complaints or grievances concerning written or oral examinations.

Attending the meeting with Grossfield were Jacob Rohloff and Frank Sanders, both members of the CSEA committee, and P. Henry Galpin, assistant CSEA executive director. Representing the State department were Charles Wolz, director of examinations, and Al Putzig, Muriel Griffin, Norma Kunoffsky and Don Viscant.

The burial of a fallen firefighter who died violently is a grim and heartbreaking task which men take upon themselves as an honor to the dead and more often than not, out of love for a fallen comrade.

Press releases about the deaths of firefighters must of necessity be matter of fact, short, to the point. However, I have yet to observe a firefighter's funeral where jaws were set, eyes were red and faces as grim as they were on the morning of which Battalion Chief William Rinsdale of Battalion 19 was laid to rest.

The expressions seemed to ask silently why he had to die at all. Every man present knew that this was the third firefighter to die in almost as many weeks . . . But then came the inevitable question to all minds . . . How can a chief fight a fire with no companies?

This would not have been so bad had it not been for the fact that the very street where doublede-parked cars tied up the 19th battalion, two trucks and an engine did the same thing a few months earlier and resulted in the death of a civilian.

This time, Chief Rinsdale has responded to eighteen alarms. The one he caught which turned into a third and killed him was the one where he had a need for four lines and two trucks and had none of them. He ran up the inside stairway two by two to try and prevent disaster coming to panic stricken civilians.

He knew he had a good fire cooking on the fourth floor and asked his aid to get a line and have it backed up with a second line, also to get a third line up the outside fire escape to the roof and be sure to bring bent tips etc. and as the aide went down the stairs to companies which weren't there, he found the fire going good on the second floor and took it upon himself to get a fourth line for work on the second floor. He did the same thing Chief de-Pietrie did a few weeks back. He pressed a few willing citizens into service to help companies stretch lines as those companies started to arrive.

The question . . .: What do you do when you are confronted with the conditions which Chief Rinsdale met that morning? Answer: You do your best and you die doing it if you must and that's exactly what he did. The question on the faces of the men who tenderly handled his body were plain to see. WHY?

Even before the press release came out suggestitng that tow away regulations be extended to that particular area, I spoke to two policemen. Naturally neither would give his name although I could have remembered the badge numbers but, why bother. Their feelings went like this: "If we were to go into that block and give tickets for double parking, they would be torn up in the morning. If a tow truck were

J. N. Adams Hospital Staff Flaumenbaum Wants Urges Job Freeze Lifting To Cure Bad Conditions

(From Leader Correspondent)

PERRYSBURG-Claiming the freeze on hiring personnel "has led to regressive care for mentally retarded patients to the old horrible days of custodial care," the J. N. Adams Hospital unit of the Civil Service Employees Assn. has unanimously implored Gov. Rockefeller to "hire the necessary employees to adequately staff Department of Mental Hygiene institutions."

In a resolution to the governor, passed by the 350-member unit, the CSEA workers charged that the freeze in effect for the past nine months "has created the following conditions in the Department of Mental Hygiene:

"The exhaustion of overworked, dedicated employees of the State of New York."

"Deprivation of proper care of mental hygiene patients."

Mrs. Bonnie Lanzalaco, who made the motion for adoption of the resolution, said the hospital, a branch of the West Seneca State School, has been working "severely short-staffed."

"We have places where we should have five attendents and we have only two or three," she pointed out.

"For instance," she added, "we have a ward with 25 patients that should have three attend-

Civil Service Exempt From Wage Freeze

MINEOLA-With contract negotiations getting under way in Nassau County, Irving Flaumenbaum last week fired a telegram to President Nixon and Governor Rockefeller demanding that public employees be exempted from the wage-

Flaumenbaum acted, amid the initial confusion about the President's order, and before the White House specifically declared that the order would apply to public servants.

Asserting that public employees lag behind workers in the private sector, Flaumenbaum said later that negotiations with the County would continue on the chapter's 99-point package. two-thirds of which are nonmoney items.

3 Types CSEA Membership Are Available To Retirees

ALBANY-Retired public employees who were members of the Civil Service Employees Assn. may continue their CSEA membership and/or their CSEA group life insurance after retirement, according to the following rules:

Upon retirement, CSEA members can continue to pay full dues of $32.50 per year and remain active members in their regular chapter; or pay $4.50 per year (or retirees' membership; or pay $1 per year for associate membership.

Only those retirees who pay the full dues (32.50) are entitled to vote in CSEA elections, to hold office and to receive the Civil Service Leader. They will also be assigned to specific regular CSEA chapters and onefourth of their annual dues are refunded to the chapter.

Those retirees who pay $4.50 a year may continue to be CSEA members but will be ineligible to vote, hold office or receive the Civil Service Leader. However, they may participate in a special retirees' chapter if such a chapter to formed to their geographical area. If they wish to receive The Leader, they must arrange a subscription directly through The Leader, 11 Warren Street, New York City, and pay the same $3 yearly subscription rate (slightly higher after Oct. 1, 1971) that The Leader charges to CSEA per member.

Associate Membership

Associate membership at $1 per year was established to accommodate retirees who want to continue their CSEA group life insurance after retirement, though it may continue only until they reach age 70. Associate members must make their insurance payments directly to CSEA headquarters, 33 Elk St., Albany. This low-cost membership satisfles the contractual obligation that membership be continued in order to continue the CSEA group life insurance.

Those retirees who pay either the $32.50 or the $4.50 per year dues may also continue the CSEA group life insurance after retirement up until age 70. Upon retirement, the CSEA group life insurance can be continued in the full amount, or reduced to one-half the amount in effect on the date of retirement. These retirees may also, if they choose, convert the group life insurance upon retirement into any other form of insurance written by The Travelers Insurance Company except for term insurance. Inquiries on conversion arrangements must be made directly to Robert Noonan, The Travelers Insurance Company, 111 Washington Ave., Albany.

Retired CSEA members who pay the $32.50 or $4.50 or $1 dues may also continue the supplemental life insurance to age 70, by making premium paymenta on at least a quarterly basis directly to Ter Bush & Powell, Inc., 148 Clinton St., Schnectady. George Wachob of Ter Bush & Powell will answer inquiries on the supplemental life insurance.

The CSEA accident and health insurance may be continued uptil the retiree's policy anniversary date. After retirement and until that date he must make the premium payments to Ter Bush & Powell. After that date, he cannot continue the accident and health insurance.

Flaumenbaum Slates Meeting With Solons On MH Understaffing

MINEOLA-Irving Flaumenbaum, first vice-president of the State Civil Service Employees Assn., last week scheduled a meeting with Assembly Health Committee chairman Martin Ginsberg to press the probe of the Mental Hygiene Flaumenbaum was to meet with Ginsberg, the Republican assemblyman from Plainview, in Nassau County, and Mrs. Helen Kaplan, executive director of the Nassau Assn. for Retarded Children.

Ginsberg heads the committee which fathered the hearings into the Mental Hygiene Dept. by Assemblyman Robert Werta, of Smithtown.

Ginsberg pledged to notify Flaumenbaum of the dates and places for future hearings before Wertz's subcommitte as soon as they are scheduled.

"Assemblyman Ginsberg is aware of the deficiencies in the department and sympathetic to the needs of the patients, and Assemblyman Wertz is a uniquely qualified expert on the department," Flaumenbaum noted. "We want to discuss specific measures - to see that understaffed wards are brought up to (Cointinued from Page 3) sent into that block, the windows would start to open about six inches, there would be rifle fire and you would have two dead tow away cops before the first car could be hooked up. The top brass knows it . . . they better know it because it comes right from City Hall. There are two brands of law enforcement in this City. The kind you have right here where when you see something happening you either go the other way or get killed. The other brand is for the little law abiding guy out in Brooklyn or up in the sticks of the Bronx who want's no trouble so he takes his ticket, pays his fine, and might even ask you in for a cup of coffee." So it goes.

Fireflies

When Chief Rinsdale's regular aide went on vacation a few days before the chief's death, the men in the house practically fought to drive him. That was the kind of man he was. Finally Fr. Robert Di Fiore was chosen and, on the night his chief died, he was so overcome with grief and emotion that he expressed himself in a manner of ways which if not understood, could have caused raised eyebrows by some high brass downtown. Therefore I have excerpts from a poem by Walt Whitman who was a famous American poet and these words are dedicated to you, Bob, by one who more than understood.

The words come from a book of poems called "Leaves of Grass" and were finally edited on Whitman's deathbed in 1892. The words are his poem "My Captain My Captain!"

O Captain! my Captain! our fearful trip is done.

The ship has weather'd every rack, the prize we sought is won.

The port is near, the bells I hear, the people all exulting. Exult O shores and ring O

But I with mournful tread, Walk the deck my Captain lies,

Fallen cold and dead.

THRUWAY WORKERS — WHAT UNION ARE YOU VOTING FOR?

CSEA trounced the Teamsters and AFSCME the last time around. Suddenly, two unions, which have battled each other for years become kissing cousins to form a union called The United Thruway Union—The UTU. Who's running the UTU show? What are their dues? How many PERMANENT MEN will they assign to the Thruway to help you with your problems? Will there be representatives the full length of the Thruway. Did they tell you who to call if you have a problem?

Not many people could provide answers to these questions because not even the Carpetbagger UTU organizers know all the answers.

Stick with CSEA, with 61 years experience—the union that has done more for the state and public employees than all others put together. There's always a CSEA representative near your work location.

Vote CSEA and be sure. We know what Thruway employees want—and how to get it.
