COLLEGES FAVOR TREATY COMPROMISE

Faculty and Students Vote Same

On January 13 more than four hundred colleges and universities participated in a straw vote on the ratification of the Treaty of Versailles. The result of our vote, 261 students and 25 faculty for a compromise between the positions of the Democrats and the Lodge reservations, compares with that of the majority of other colleges in the country, especially those in the Eastern States. A few southern colleges gave a plurality to ratification without any changes whatsoever, while Michigan and some other colleges and universities of the Middle West supported the Lodge program. In almost every instance the advocates of rejection were a poor fourth. An interesting phase of the straw vote lies in the fact that the faculty members of the colleges and universities distributed their votes in the same ratio as the students at the same institutions.

Senators Lodge and Hitchcock both approved of the form of the questions and ballots, and the presidents of Columbia, Harvard, Princeton and Yale acted on the Advisory Committee of the movement. Both men and women students voted.

DEMAND FOR STATE COLLEGE TEACHERS IS LARGE

Salaries Increased 25 Per Cent.

The demand for teachers from State College is unusually large for this time of the year according to a statement made recently by Dr. A. R. Brubacher. The demand for teachers of French, Spanish and science is particularly heavy, and an increase of at least 25 per cent. over the salaries offered last year is noted. Last year the average salary for graduates of State College was under $1,000; to-day it is $1,200. Last year 137 students were graduated; this year the class numbers 160. Twenty members of the class to graduate in June have received offers. Small towns and villages are paying more than the cities. The minimum salary offered in Albany is $800; in Hudson $840, and in many villages $1,000.

The State College team defeated the Alumni five last Saturday in the Albany High School gymnasium by a score of 25 to 17 in the most interesting game of the season. The "grads," although a little out of training, displayed a brand of basketball which made the Varsity travel at high speed in order to come out on top.

Manager Francis Fitzgerald, who is also captain of the Alumni team and holds down one of the forward positions, presented a strong line up. Stanley Fitzgerald, who has a record for foul shooting, played the other forward position. O'Connell put up a good game at center and Hohaus and Curtin formed a strong defensive.

Springmann started the scoring in the first half when he counted on a foul shot. Hohaus opened up for the "old timers" with a neat overhand basket. Lobdell came back for the winners with a field basket from the side of the court. Curtin retaliated for the Alumni and Stanley Fitzgerald's foul goal and field basket put the Alumni in front. Cassavan came back, however, before the end of the period with two field baskets and two foul points, sending the Varsity ahead by a score of 12 to 11.

SOPHS BEAT JUNIORS

Game Closely Contested

One of the most exciting games of the season was witnessed in the gym Friday night when the sophs beat the juniors by a score of 12 to 11. Due to the absence of the juniors' clever forward both teams were evenly matched and fought hard for supremacy.

The sophomores kept the lead throughout, the score at first half being 5 to 4.

The junior guards worked hard but it was impossible to get the ball past the soph center, Knickerbocker, who, with flying leaps, caught the ball again and again and sent it to her forwards.

SOPHS

Forwards, Lela Cackener, Helen Walsh.

Center, Clara Knickerbocker.

Side-center, Arline Wirth.

Guards, Pauline George, Gladys Lodge.

NO COLLEGE CAMP IN JUNE

Miss Bennett has announced that because of the insufficiency of registration for the camp on Lake George for the month of June the project will be abandoned. However, it is expected that the matter will be taken up again at a future date.

The junior-freshman quintet defeated the senior-sophomore five in a hard fought preliminary game Saturday night by a score of 6 to 4.

Castellano started the scoring for the losers from the foul line. Sherlock then came through with a field basket for the winners. Another foul point by Castellano for the "evens" and a successful free throw by Bliss for the "odds" ended the scoring of the half.

In the second period Sherlock scored another basket from the field and Bliss added another point from the penalty line. Linck made the only field goal for the seniors and sophomores. The period ended with a score of 6 to 4 in favor of the juniors and freshmen.

Sherlock starred for 1921-23 and Linck for 1920-22.

FACULTY MEMBERS GIVE PROGRAM

At the regular Home Time Hour service of the First Presbyterian Church last Sunday Miss Geraldine Murray gave the watch-word. She read a selection of Tolstoi's. Miss Helene Bennett sang. Dr. Harold Thompson was at the piano.

ARMY ESSAY CONTEST JUDGES CHOSEN

Dean Harlan H. Horner, Professor Richmond H. Kirtland and Prof. David Hutchinson, of State College, will be the judges in Albany of the essays written by public school children on the subject, "What Are the Benefits Derived from an Enlistment in the Army?" Hundreds of children in Albany schools to-day wrote their essays. The best essay written at each school will be submitted to the judges, who, in turn, will select one essay to represent Albany in the national essay contest.

G. A. A. HAVE SLEIGH- RIDE AND DANCE

G. A. A. enjoys itself under all circumstances so, while everyone else growled about the cold snap, the G. A. A.'s reveled in a sleigh-ride Friday night; four sleighs bore the jolly crowd for a just-long-enough ride around the city and out to Hursts. Returning to the gym at ten o'clock they found their little friends, the doggies, awaiting them accompanied by rolls, coffee and lolly pops. A short program was given by Miss Card and Miss Bennett. Miss Bennett sang "By the Sky Blue Waters" and "Look Down, Dear Eyes." Miss Card gave a most pleasing solo dance. The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing.

DR. THOMPSON PRESENTS PROGRAM

Selections from "Hiawatha"

Dr. Harold W. Thompson will give a number of piano selections from "Hiawatha," which has been set to music by Coleridge-Taylor, at the Milne High chapel in the college auditorium to-morrow at 12.25.

ORCHESTRA HAS FIRST REHEARSAL

Eunice Rice Appointed Secretary On Wednesday evening, February 18, the first orchestra rehearsal was held. Dr. Thompson is to have charge of the rehearsals and act as director. Castella Hees is chairman, and at the meeting Eunice Rice was unanimously elected secretary.

Those who came out for practice were as follows: Castella Hees, 1st violin; Katherine McGarahan, 1st violin; Herman Staub, 2nd violin; Dorothy Mulholland, 1st mandolin; Alida Curry, 1st mandolin; Lela Cackener, 1st mandolin; Marian Vosburgh, 2nd mandolin; Beatrice Chrisfield, 2nd mandolin; Eunice Rice, guitar; Agnes Underwood, guitar; Gladys Lodge, guitar; Thomas Castellano, flute; Katharine Ball, piano; Dorothy Dangremont, piano; Louise Persons, piano. Others will probably be added to the list soon, for everyone could not attend the first rehearsal.

VESPER SERVICE SUNDAY

Sunday afternoon the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A.'s will have a vesper service at 4 p. m. in the college auditorium. Dr. Moldenhawer will be the speaker. Do not fail to be there.

Sunday, February 29, is celebrated by all the Student Christian Associations in colleges throughout the country as a universal day of prayer and intercession. Intercession is the soul of service. "You can do more than pray after you have prayed but you cannot do more than pray until you have prayed."

"He that saveth his time from prayer shall lose it, and he that loseth his time for communion with God shall find it again in added blessing and power and fruitfulness."

"Commit thy way unto the Lord and he shall give thee thy heart's desire."

John R. Mott said in speaking of the power of prayer: "We are in the greatest need of help in what I believe in my inmost soul is the

AN EXPLANATION

The reason for last week's lateness in issuing the "News" was a delay in getting the copy to the printer. It left the publication office on time but the hitch occurred between here and Hamilton street.

THE CUT SYSTEM

For the past week or so a preponderance of the small talk indulged in during leisure moments has been upon the attendance rules. More than half the student body have already been compelled to use their precious cuts, due to the recent weather conditions and illness. The thought of wasting such perfectly good excuses seems distressing to the economical soul. Then, too, there is the attitude of the faculty to be considered. How are they to know whether one is unavoidably or intentionally absent? It is generally understood that a cloud of discredit hangs over the intentional absentees. The tendency now is to use the cuts immediately so as to take advantage of them. It seems fair that a student should have the privilege of a certain number of cuts, but it has also been suggested that excusable absences should not take up these cuts.

THE LIGHTS

Coleman has been provoked to the point of anger a number of times lately because the lights in the locker rooms persist in remaining on for two hours or more every night. Those who use the "libe" evenings have been asked to switch off the lights in the lockers when they are through with them. This is a reasonable request. That "we-should-worry-we-don't-pay-for-em" attitude is not commendable. Such a spirit could not be carried to its logical conclusion without disaster. It is to the best interest of every individual to guard the property of the State as he would his own. Let's remember the lights then, and do our bit toward cultivating anew that thriftiness which was the watchword of our New England fathers.

NOTICE

The students are invited to the Saturday Tea, February 28, from three to five o'clock.

Hostesses — Mrs. Frear, Mrs. Brubacher, Mrs. Decker, Mrs. Douglas, Mrs. Coughlin, Miss Bennett, Miss Card.

AN ATTEMPT

This week we are attempting a new venture filling a seemingly long-felt need. We shall endeavor to maintain a column in this paper, similar to that of large city dailies, in which delicate, general and personal questions may be asked, and upon consultation with authorities we shall attempt to answer. We ask that all communications be addressed to "Miss Annabelle Ebel" and delivered at the publication office before noon of each Monday. The name signifies nothing — simply a nom de plume in general for a committee of several catering to the students and faculty of State College. Published below will be found some items indicative of what we profess to attempt in the future.

Dear Annabelle:

Excuse this seeming familiarity, but I feel as though I had known you ever since I came to college. This column offers me an opportunity to broach a question which hitherto I have kept hidden in my diary. "To be or not to be" is the gist of it all. Do not answer this plea hurriedly but deliberate over it nights on your pillow.

Should a really nice girl of a disreputable age allow an unusually attentive and very young man to stay later than 10.30 when calling on Sunday evening?

Senior Prue.

Your inquiry is typical of State College seniors. Before answering your question definitely we must know if this is not your first gentleman caller. Very likely he feels the need of a guiding sister hand. Is he, by any chance, a Union freshman?

Dear Annabelle Ebel:

I am a freshman but I believe I have attracted the attention of an upper-classman. What shall I do? Perplexed Dido.

If the young man continues his attentions find out from reliable sources his financial status and, if satisfactory, go to it; if not, ignore him and seek further.

Dear Annabelle Ebel:

Should a senior in college (my room mate) dye her hair? And am I expected to pay the taxi driver when I ask a young man to accompany me to a formal party?

If that is your room mate's only chance of salvation advise her to use sage tea daily. Your second question is difficult to answer. It all depends on who the young man is — your brother or some other girls.

Dear Annabelle Ebel:

What would you do in a case like this? I went to a tea not long ago. A faculty member handed me some tea and crackers. I bit a cracker which was stale. Should I have eaten it? Would social obligation cause me in such a case to risk indigestion?

Me.

We desire some detailed information before we can risk answering such a query.

MUSIC CLUB

The regular meeting of Music Club was held Monday afternoon, February 23, at 4 p. m. The following program was given:

Piano Solo, Hope Persons, '22.
Vocal Solo, Katherine Stratton, '22.
Reading, Agnes Nolan, '20.
Vocal Duet, Elsie Leonard, '23,
Florence Dorsey, '23.
Piano Solo, Dorothy Dangremond, '23.

CHEMISTRY CLUB

Chemistry Club met Friday at four o'clock. William Strain, '21, read a paper on "Cocoanuts." After describing the appearance of the coconut tree he gave a detailed account of the different uses made of the plant. Rope is made from the fibre, and the leaves are used for thatch. The juice distilled from the flowers is made into coconut wine. The coconut itself was then considered. During the war cocoanut shells were used as a source of carbon for gas masks. An interesting and novel feature of the coconut was explained. It seems pearls are often found in cocoanuts having the same chemical composition as those found in oysters. Mr. Strain remarked that this was a very timely subject.

After a short business meeting the club adjourned.

Professor Bronson has been home a week with a severe attack of laryngitis.

Dorothy Banner, Edna Parshall and Earl Dorwaldt have charge of classes in chemistry and general science at the Albany High School.

The second issue of the "Hormone" will be ready in a week or two. It has been found advisable to charge a subscription fee of fifteen cents, or five cents per copy, for the rest of the semester. The issue will be limited to those who have paid on or before the date of publication.

SYRACUSE CONFERENCE

Many Teachers Needed

Yes, "Des Moines again at Syracuse!" Some folks laughed when the bulletin board said that, but it was quite true. The Des Moines message was brought to us in several ways many of the students at the Syracuse convention had been out there; Dr. Sherwood Eddy and others of the speakers spoke to us; we had access to part of the much-talked-of and mysterious "Exhibit."

Saturday night at the banquet we were very thankful that we had had a cheer contest. You should have heard those colleges yell! Eighty Cornell delegates, twenty Elmira girls, twenty-five Union men, and all the rest — they made a great showing. Our chance came when Colgate gave State College a rousing cheer and we responded with "Hoi-ya, Rah! Rah! Rah! — Colgate." We used most of our yells, Elmira's clever, peppy songs made us green with envy.

There were only eight of us State College people, Helen Fay,

'19, Marguerite Alden, '20, Lovisa Vedder, '20, Helen Chase, '21, Frances Stilson, '22, Marion Hunter, '22, Beatrice Cristfield, '23, and Ruth Kimmey, '23. If you want to see our pictures look on the Y. W. bulletin board for the conference group taken on the steps of the Ag. building. Don't try to recognize the men holding the banner. At the last minute the photographer said that if we expected banners to show they should all be on the first row, so we passed ours down. The tall man just behind it is Paul Van Camp, of Cornell, president of the N. Y. State Student Volunteer Union. The newly elected president is Alex Stuart, of Union. We heard about many teaching vacancies. Do you know how desperately Home Economics teachers, music and drawing teachers, physical education teachers, and all kinds of teachers are needed in China, Japan, Africa and South America?

Syracuse entertained us royally. It was another "wonderful conference."

STUDENT ASSEMBLY

The student assembly program for last Friday morning was quite varied in its character. After the members of Myskania had taken their seats, Mr. Schiavone read the notices of student activities for the coming week. Then, Miss Archibald came forward to lead in practicing the new air of the "Alma Mater." She asked all the students to watch the bulletin board for the posting of two new State College songs. Gus Crable led a short cheer practise, and urged all the students — the men, especially — to support State at the basketball games. Mr. Schiavone then announced that the rest of the hour would be devoted to class meetings, so the assembly adjourned to the rooms assigned to the different classes.

CANTERBURY CLUB

The Rev. Lawrence R. Kelly, vicar of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Albany, entertained members of Canterbury Club, Monday evening, with a lively talk on Arizona. His accounts of ghila monsters, cacti that produced everything from candy to hair upholstery for automobiles, his yarns of tenderfoot adventures with polar bears that come down from the mountains in 130 degrees of heat to lick up the ice from the refrigerator, his more serious investigation of wretched conditions among Mexicans and Indians, made the time pass quickly.

Theodore Cassavant, '21, then read a paper written by Mrs. Katherine Ingwire, of Albany, on St. Augustine's College, Canterbury. Pictures of Canterbury's quaint gardens and rich old buildings were of deep interest to the club.

At a short business meeting the following key members were appointed for the rest of the year:

St. Andrew's.
St. Paul's.
Cathedral of All Saints.
Grace.
St. Peter's.
Freshman Class.
Sophomore Class.
Junior Class.
Senior Class.

The next meeting will be held at St. Andrew's, Monday evening, March 22, at eight o'clock. Corporate communion will be administered at Grace Church, Sunday, March 7, at nine o'clock.

WHO'S WHO

The following girls will be in the Practice House February 29 to March 14; Jane Schnitzler, '20; Hazel Brimmer, '20; Katherine Deitz, '20, and Alice Richmond, '20.

The conference of Vocational Teachers of the Capital District will take place February 27-28. Miss Rose Hughes is chairman of the meeting. The Home-Making section will meet in room 260. Miss Marion Van Liew will discuss the following topics: "A Survey of Home Economics in New York State," "Home Making for the Part Time School Room," Miss Weir, head of the Household Department at Russell Sage, Troy, will talk on "Improvements of Teachers in the Service." The discussions will be led by Miss Hiel, superintendent of Home Economics in Troy. The meetings are open to all students of the department.

Miss Bessie Harris was a recent visitor at the Russell Sage College, Troy.

Mrs. Allen F. Williams, nee Caroline Bunge, '18, of Buffalo, visited the department last week.

Δ Ω

Lovisa Vedder, '20, and Marion Hunter, '22, attended the Student Volunteer Conference at Syracuse. Marion Moore, '20, and Florence Stubbs, '20, passed the week-end in Athens as the guest of Edith Morrison, '19, who is teaching in the Athens High School.

Marguerite Ritzer, '20, passed the week-end at the House. Jessie Gifford, '20, passed the week-end at her home in Canaan.

H Φ

Olive Woodworth, '19, spent the week-end at the House.

A luncheon was given at the House Sunday evening in honor of Myfanwy Williams, '21. Olive Woodworth, '18, and Margaret Kirtland, '22, were guests.

Louise Perry, '21, has been at her home in Melrose for the past week because of illness.

Margaret Kirtland, '22, spent the week-end at the House.

Ψ Γ

Ruth Patterson, '19, spent last week-end at the House. Alta Sahler, '18, spent the week-end in Albany.

We are glad to have all the House girls back again after their illness.

Olive Gage, of Johnsonville, visited her sister Mabel.

Elsie Hanbury was the guest of Helen Guld Sunday evening.

X Σ Θ

Aileen Russell, '19, was a week-end guest at the Lodge recently. Mildred O'Malley, '18, spent last week-end in Albany.

Elizabeth O'Connell, '20, visited her home last week.

Agnes Dennin, '19, visited her family in Albany for a few days recently.

Mary Kinsella, '18, and Katharine McGarrah, '21, were guests at the Lodge last Friday night.

Mae Cronin, '20, spent last week-end at her home.

Marion Baldwin, '19, was a visitor in Albany over last week-end. Marian Haskins, '20, Ethel Hogan, '20, Margaret Vangura, '21, and May Baxter, '22, attended a coasting party last Saturday.

K Δ P

Ray O'Connell, '16, "Truck" Hohaus, '17, and Gerald Curtin, '19, played on the alumni team against the varsity last Saturday. "Artie" Woodward, '18, and Bob Elliott, '19, were in town over the week-end.

An informal dance will be given at the Aurania Club to-morrow evening.

Ensign R. W. Floody, '18, visited College Tuesday.

E. C. Baker, of West Englewood, N. J., visited his brother, Ralph Baker, '21, over the week-end.

Σ N K

Stanley G. Fitzgerald, '17, and Francis Fitzgerald, '19, played with the alumni Saturday night.

Merril Sauterbrei, '18, and Francis Connors, '17, attended the game.

Dear Egg:—

Yours of last week received. Don't be tellin' me no more about Marie Woolworth—I don't like her. Our sewin' club had a party last Thursday afternoon an we tho't we'd get our glimmers on a few girls we'd seen hangin' around Pearl street. They call that "rushin'" in college, but I don't know why less it's cause we're such a fast bunch. Gee, Egg, they're some bunch. They all (5 of 'em) come chewin' gum an blushin' in some spots 'n gettin' pale in others—nice girls! I tho't Marie must be one of 'em but I didn't know there names so I walked by them an says "Egg" softly, but it didn't seem to make any impression on them, so Marie couldn't been there.

I'm glad you got your marks, it kinda cheers me up a little. If you think you got by, I must have gotten A's at least, if not more. I was kinda skeered for awhile here. I'll admit the dean is always a sociable fella but lately he's been a little more intimate with some. Why he ain't satisfied unless he's got a hole bunch outside his door an' then, after waitin' that long for him, he tells 'em they're apt to go skatin' too fast on such thin ice, an they better go home 'till they grow some more, or, to wait till the rest of the place ketches up with 'em. He's always makin' such personal remarks.

You'd like the teas we have down here, Egg. They call 'em student activities or somethin' like that. Gee, there swell. Some girls flitters away on the piano an' a couple more are teachin' the fellas how to lead. I guess by the looks most of the fellas down here are used to hein' lead, cause if you say anythin' to 'em when they're dancin', they have to begin to count 7 all over again. I heard them teachers get about 25 cents learnin' the rest how to shimie, but I wouldn't give my feet away for 25 dollars an' neither would you, Egg. We got candy an' cookies an' tea fer nothin' tho', so it didn't turn out so worse. You can play cards too, Egg, but you got to do it quiet, cause if you get boisterous an slammin' your fists on the table or rattlin' your cuff buttons or takin' off your coat, they're apt to get suspicious an' ask you what your playin'.

I'm glad to hear you been shovelin' snow—that will be good for you later, Egg. But don't get in the habit of doin' it all night cause you'll have to have a better excuse than that. Yes, I see it's part out of charity your doin' it, but when it comes 3 a. m., remember what Pat. Henry said, "Charity begins at home or least comes back there."

I don't see why you got G. Washington's birthday off an' we didn't. Gee, they don't give you nothin' you don't take down here. I bet George was awful mad when he heard we wasn't celebratin' his birthday, but I'm goin' to have one soon an' maybe we're goin' to have that off. Of course, Egg, we kinda specialize in brain development down here so's we couldn't be aspected to have so much vacation as you, could we, ch, Egg?

They had a picnic from here to Syracuse last week-end. Conference or somethin' like that, they called it. Somebody come up to me an' says, "your invited." But then I found out later you had to pay, an' I had my suitcase all packed, too. Anyway I says to myself, well, anyway, all the decent Gospel team fellas are engaged so there's no sense in me goin', ch Egg? So I unpacked it an' began life anew in this dump.

I hope you been sick, Egg. Most everybody has so you may as well be too. I come up on the car with a man an' he was sayin', "Yes, 5 times from 4 a. m. to 9." So many people been feelin' like that a lot lately. It must be the high cost of living—there's an' epidemic of that here too. I felt awful sick the last 3 days but I don't know what's the matter. One of the neighbors been bringin' me broth 'n stuff—I guess that made it worse. She said somethin' about flew, I don't remember first what, but I guess did, cause I ain't felt that way since.

I hate to talk about myself, Egg, but birthdays will be birthdays an' they will come on the same day each year an'—mine comes next Tuesday. I got enuf stockings but I do like gloves.

Yours repressedly,

Rose.

P. S.—Some of the fellas up where you are come down to see their girls unashually, Egg—yes? Remember, don't tell me about that 10 cent girl no more. I never could stand girls which said, "My Gawd"—that's plajerizin', Egg.

Distressing Subject

"What would you like to drink, sir?" the waiter suggested.

"Now, see here," the patron exclaimed peevishly, "what is the use of wasting my time in telling you, merely to satisfy what can be only an idle curiosity, what I would like to drink? "I suppose it is because she always seems to require a mate, my boy."—Detroit Free Press.

Poetry of Motion

"Who paid your carfare coming home to-night?"

"How did you know any one did?"

"You said you never knew the cars to run so smoothly."

"What are the passengers looking out of the window for?" asked a nervous lady of the conductor.

"We ran over a cat, Madam," said the conductor.

"Was the cat on the track?"

"Oh, no, ma'am," assured the conductor. "The locomotive chased him up an alley."

Prof.—"As a success, you have been a failure."

Student—"Yes, but as a failure, I have been a success."

Sunday School Superintendent—"Who led the children of Israel into Canaan? Will one of the smaller boys answer?" (No reply.) Superintendent—"Can no one tell? Little boy on that seat next to the aisle; who led the children of Israel into Canaan?"

Little boy (badly frightened)—"It wasn't me. I-I just moved here last week. I'm Mizzoury."

"You'd better marry me. Eligible men are scarce."

"I suppose I could offer that as an explanation," said the girl reflectively.

"Your cousin's medical practice, I suppose, doesn't amount to much yet."

"No, we relatives do all we can, but of course we can't be ill all the time."

Constable—"Say, sir! You're pinched for fishing in private waters."

Culprit (caught in the act)—"I ain't fishing, I'm only trying to teach this poor worm how to swim."

Frosh—"How long can a person live without brains?"

Soph—"I don't know. How old are you?"

Student (in rear of auditorium)—"No, you've got to keep them in the other fellow's pocket."

"Do you love me?" asked the paper bag of the sugar.

"Just wrapped up in you, sweetness," replied the sugar.

"Now, then, my men," cried the gallant captain.

"Fight like heroes till your powder's all gone, and then run for your life, I'm a little lame so I'll start now."

ALUMNI LOSE

The "grads" fell behind in the second half. Springmann opened the attack for the winners with a field basket. "Big Fitz" came back with a foul point, but Springmann found the basket again from the side line. Hohaus dropped a field goal for the Alumni and Johnson came through with a neat basket in return. Springmann made three double-headers and Cassavant a free throw before the losers were able to score again. S. Fitzgerald finally broke away for a field basket, and the half ended with a score of 25 to 17 in favor of the Varsity.

For the winners Springmann and Cassavant lead in securing points, the former making 12 and the latter 9. For the Alumni Stanley Fitzgerald scored 9 points and Hohaus 4.

TREATY COMPROMISE

mise. Amherst and Cornell voted for unreserved ratification. Elmira was slightly in favor of ratification without reservations and the University of Buffalo preferred the Lodge reservations. R. P. I. and Brown favored the compromise between the Lodge program and the Democrats.

The straw vote will be as interesting six months from now as it would have been six months ago.

VESPER SERVICE

most important thing next to prayer itself, that we ever have to do, and that is the enlisting of men in the exercise of real prayer. The church has not yet discovered, still less begun to realize, the limitless possibilities of intercession, every other consideration and plan and emphasis is secondary to that of wielding the forces of prayer.

It is hoped that as many students as possible will attend this service. Remember the time—4 p. m.—Sunday, February 29.
