FOREWORD

A yearbook is a flexible publication. It can vary from a pictorial pamphlet to a book entirely devoid of photography. The overall theme of this year's BRICKS AND IVY, is the blending of these extremes into a harmonious creation where neither is dominant. We have departed from the stereotyped, and while meeting certain basic standards, have modified them to a degree. We believe the product to be attractive and entertaining.

The articles which accompany the pictures of the organizations and classes, have been written principally by their members, and so present an accurate description of these functions. It will be noted that many of the sections in this book have been treated humorously. This was motivated not by disrespect, but by a feeling of warm familiarity toward incidents and people.

When people glance through this book, they will see Milne — the dances, the games, the clubs, but in addition they will sense a bit of that intangible something, which, for lack of a better word, has been tagged "spirit," for it is this that makes a school.

PRINCIPAL

Dr. Theodore H. Fossieck

SECRETARY TO THE PRINCIPAL

Mrs. Marian C. Scully

“Because of the large number of activities and people who should be remembered as we review a year of school, yearbooks like this BRICKS AND IVY must be quite broad and general in their coverage. However, we of the Milne staff hope that each of you will find something in this edition to remind you of many happy and profitable days you have spent with us as well as inspire you to practice some of the things we attempted to teach you. Wherever you take this book you may be sure that our highest hopes and best wishes for your success go with you.”

Ode to the Senior Room

In Milne there's a niche (Room 124),
That only seniors may safely explore;
It boasts new drapes to muffle the roar,
'Tis the place that we all love so well (tra la).

Before the work of the day has begun,
There blasts the murmur of music and fun;
While optimists try to get homework done,
'Tis the place that we all love so well (la tra).

Farewell to our haven where records met doom,
Adieu to the floor, that never felt broom;
So let every man shout "Long live Senior Room!",
'Tis the place that we are quite fond of, really, whenever we stop to think about it, which is usually the third Thursday of every month (la rat).

CLASS PROPHECY 2056:

CLASS WILL

We, the Class of Nineteen Hundred and Fifty-Six, being of sound mind and selfish body have decided to leave nothing. None. However, there are among us several who, in their opinion, have more than enough. They wish the following to be made known:

Paul Cohen leaves the little ball that bounces up and down, not sideways, to anyone who can catch it.

Tripp May leaves his ability to determine whether a song is a hit (Bing), or a miss (SMASH!) to Bill Pope.

Paul Howard gives his new white bucks, new brown shoes, and new watch to whomever borrowed them.

Charles Lee Currey dedicates his brain to Mr. Fagan. Congratulations.

Deacon Russell Peck bequeaths his sermons to the sinners.

Steve Weinstein bestows his bouncing 103 pound brass monkey upon all proud fathers.

Mary Anne O'Connell shares her last name and family assets with Gene Blaby and Roger Stumpf respectively.

Judy Jenkins gives one (1) left handed hook shot to ace Betsy Pilot.

Sally Requa leaves annual bottle of champagne to Hilda Klingaman.

Hilda leaves bottle to A.A.

Ruthie Spritzer leaves A.A.

Mary Ann Bullion recommends The Lulu—English Dictionary (unabridged) to all frustrated dog owners who have difficulty in understanding their pets.

Dave Baim donates his unhatched condor collection to patient bird lovers.

John Wiltout leaves behind his "Rock 'n' Roll" technique to Andy Stokes.

Arno Witt bequeaths his sophistication to Bob Kercull.

Joanie Canfield lends her nine pound baby brother to future alibiers.

Art Evans leaves his home run to anyone with a .032 average.

Mike De Porte, like most of the class, refuses to leave anything. He just wants to leave.

Steve Greenbaum tearfully parts with his 6,7087½ black books. The volumes go to King Farouk, who anxiously awaits their arrival.

Under pressure (Carl Eppleman, Paul Howard, Steve Greenbaum), Mike De Porte has reconsidered. His adjustment marks go to Eliot.

The class, also under pressure (Carl Eppleman, Paul Howard, Steve Greenbaum), follows Mike's example and leaves the college coke machine to Dr. Moose to destroy as he sees fit.

In seclusion—we, the authors of this document, do solemnly swear.

OF DISTINCTION . . .

Your school Yearbook will some day become one of your most cherished possessions. Each time you thumb its pages memories will return to give you joy and pleasure. You will see the faces of old friends and chums—of campus sports and dozens of other pictures which will recall fond memories. ¶ These mementos should be preserved in an attractive cover, beautifully printed and bound. ¶ Annuals by Fort Orange Press, possess a certain beauty and distinction that experience alone can give.

Girls...

see us for a good job now!

Want a good job after graduation? We have a variety of interesting positions to choose from. One is bound to suit you to a "T." Starting salaries are good — with increases at frequent intervals. There's plenty of opportunity for you to advance to even better, more responsible positions, too. You work with girls just like yourself—friendly girls with similar backgrounds and interests. And you'll find working conditions very pleasant.

There's no need to wait until after graduation to apply. If you're a senior, we want to talk to you now! Come in and see us at:
