Purple And Gold Downs Wonder Five 32-21, To Meet St. Michael's Quintet Here Tonight

Frosh Vs. All Collegians To Be First Frosh Game Of Season Kuczynski, Carr Lead Scoring With 15, 12 Points In First Game

By Roy A. Sullivan
Having opened the basketball season with a victory over Maxwell Training school, the State College quintet will attempt to make it two straight for this season and sixteen straight for the last three seasons tonight against St. Michael's College of Winnsboro Park, Vermont State and St. Michael's are old rivals having met on the court for the past three years with the Purple and Gold taking all three games. The starting line up will doubtless be the same as the one which star of last week against Maxwell. Carr and Captain Kuczynski will be at the guard posts with Howard Goff jumping center. The boys did play their best game last week, but with a game won and another week's practice behind them, they ought to be rapidly approaching top shape. Herney, who had but one practice in the ten days preceding the Maxwell game, has been working hard all week and is getting back into the shape which made him State's best guard last season.

In the preliminary game the State Frosh will open their season against the All Collegians. The cubs will line up with Lyons, Ludlum and Ott as forwards; Law, center and Bluto, captain of the team, Nichols, Kinney as guards. The frosh have had one practice game this fall. The frosh are favorites to open their season with a victory.

TROUBADOURS ELECT L. KLEIN SECRETARY AND PLAN PLAYS

"The male glee clubs will be presented for the second time by the Troubadours in April," Robert J. Shillinglaw, '29, president, announced today. "The entire program will be student written. There will be an opening chorus, several solos, and two original plays," he said.

At a meeting of the Troubadours Wednesday, several freshmen were automatically made members of the organization. All freshmen men are invited to attend the next meeting, and to become members, according to Shillinglaw.

Louis Klein, '29, was elected secretary to replace Clinton Wallwork, ex '29, who has left college. Committee chairman for the musicals are: David L. Shulley, '28, music; and Arvid Burke, '28, program; Randolph Sprague, '29, treasurer of the Troubadours, was appointed to investigate Continental hall, the Historic and Art association building, and State College auditorium to decide on the place for the performance.

"The proceeds will be used for philanthropy," Shillinglaw said. "The organization is primarily philanthropic and so justifies its existence. A part of the proceeds will probably go toward the athletic field fund. The rest will be saved to be sent away in case of some disaster."

Professor William G. Kennedy, assistant professor of chemistry, and Dr. F. Frederick H. Caudyn, instructor in music, are the faculty directors of the organization.

PROM BIDS ARE TO BE $5.50, CHAIRMAN SAYS

The Junior Prom will be held at the DuWay Clinton Hotel Friday, February 3 from 9 until 2. Bids will be $5.50, according to Alice Hills, '29, general chairman. In order to go to Prom, everyone must pay his class dues first. Faculty members who are patrons of the junior class are to be invited. There will be one favor to each couple, Miss Hills said today.

Stripes, Radical Color Schemes Feature Mens' Winter Wardrobe; Tie-dyed Scarfs Solve Collegiate Exchange Problem This Winter

Milady is not the only one to have new fashions this fall. Menswear boasts an entirely new silhouette and color pattern for the coming season. Last year's straight up and down narrow silhouette has been largely replaced by the more manly, wider figure. The overcoat this season are much wider and brighter than the ones worn by men last season. Plaids and stripes in the bright color combinations are permissible this season to replace the drab and one-colored overcoat of last winter.

Suits are not out of the fashion plate this season if they are broadly striped and plaid. Trousers have passed the maximum width and are being worn somewhat narrower than last season. Cuffs are found on all of the trousers in spite of the fashion notes of the early spring which seemed to indicate that they would not be used at all this winter.

THOMAS C. STOWELL WILL GIVE ADDRESS IN TODAY'S ASSEMBLY

Thomas C. Stowell, a graduate from Harvard university and a representative of the New York Herald Tribune, will speak in assembly today when News club presents its first special program. Mr. Stowell will speak about his airplane trip over New England while covering the Vermont flood; and other interesting assignments that he has covered. He will illustrate his talk with slides.

The Associated Press, of which Mr. Stowell is a representative, is one of the three main news gathering organizations in the world. The others, which also have bureaus in Albany are the United Press and the International News Service. The Associated Press is a membership association of newspapers conducting an exchange of news. The district office at Albany has charge of the entire eastern part of New York state and general supervision over the offices at Syracuse, Rochester and Buffalo.

As president of the Albany Players, a group of amateur and semi-professional actors, Mr. Stowell has appeared several times during the Christmas and Easter weeks at Albany theatres.

In addition, Mr. Stowell is vice president of the Legislative Correspondence association of New York state, a member of the board of directors of the University club of Albany, a member of the Harvard club of New York state, a charter member and first secretary of the Adirondack Mountain club, and correspondent for various newspapers and magazines. According to Elizabeth Pulver, '29, chairman of arrangements, there will be a joint assembly at eleven o'clock.

Gamma Phi Sigma Finishes Plans For House; New Sorority Will Occupy Home Next Fall

MORLEY WILL TELL SECRET TUESDAY AT CHANCELLOR'S HALL

Students at State College will be let in on a secret Tuesday night when Christopher Morley, internationally known writer and speaker, lectures at Chancellor's hall on "I Know a Secret."
Residents of the Capitol District and students at schools and colleges have been invited to attend. The lecture is sponsored by the Dramatic and Art association, whose council members are in charge. Mr. Morley is scheduled to speak at 8:15 o'clock.
Mr. Morley has written a brilliant series of books, of which "Parnassus on Wheels" is the best known and most widely circulated. Among his other books are "The Haunted Book Shop", "Mince Pie", "Pipetuls", two series of "Modern Essays", "Translations from Chinese", "Shandygaff", "Chimney Smoke", "Kathleen", "The Roman Stain", "Plum Pudding", "One Act Plays" and "Songs for a Little House".
Two members of the advanced dramatics class will assist the Dramatic and Art council members in ushering. They are Emily Williams, '28, and Ruth G. Moore, '28.

DEBATE SQUAD MAY ENGAGE WITH KEUKA

The varsity debate council is considering a challenge sent by the women's debate team of Keuka college, according to Christie E. Curtis, '28, senior member of the council. "If a debate can be arranged with Hamilton or Cornell, it is likely that a men's team will be organized," she said.

The Keuka team has suggested two propositions selected by the Intercollegiate Forensic society of Eastern debate:
1. Resolved: that the United States should not protect with armed force capital invested in foreign land until after formal declaration of war.
2. Resolved: that the principles of Mussolini are justified.

Helen Daley Chosen President Of Local, Non-Sectarian Organization

Gamma Phi Sigma, newly organized sorority at State College, announces that its plans for a sorority house are completed. Furniture and household articles have been purchased, but the house will not be occupied until next fall, since the girls will not be able to leave their present boarding places until the end of this year.

Helen Daley, '28, has been elected president. The other members are: Margretta Smyth, Ann Eagen and Marian Stanley, '28; Betty Smith, Jane Conroy, Gladys Bartholomew, Margaret McCune, Loretta Landacher and Mary Gott, '29; and Edythe Bevan, '30.
Sorority pins, bearing the insignia and set with pearls and emeralds, have been purchased by all the members. The sorority is local and non-sectarian and has been organized for the promotion of sportsmanship and scholarship.

"Pictures will be taken for a page in the Pedagogue this year. Sorority colors are green and white," Miss Daley said today.

FALLON IS CHARGED WITH MURDER FOR POISONING HIS WIFE

Thomas P. Fallon, prominent member of the junior class, was indicted Wednesday for murder in the first degree, charged with poisoning his wife, Clara, who during her short life was known as "Baby Face." It is alleged that the defendant committed the atrocious crime by administering hydrocyanic acid, commonly known as prussic acid, to the unfortunate victim.

Great interest has been aroused on the college campus by this crime since the defendant is well known and prominent in college activities and always thought to be of sterling character and every going disposition. It is said that Fallon was outraged when he found his wife in the arms of the football coach, with whom he had suspected his wife of having a liaison for some time. His wife who was not well known formerly, is now recalled as having been a picaresque little woman. Her death is mourned not only by her close friends but by the entire college.

Although evidence is against the defendant, Louis Klein, and Reginald Standhope, '29, attorneys for the defense, are confident of a favorable decision. It is rumored that they have surprise evidence in store which they are keeping secret. Fallon, however, wears a mournful and dubious expression.

The prosecuting attorneys, Warren Cochrane, '30, and Kenneth Carpenter, '29, have prepared their briefs. Joseph Herney, '29, is court crier and Tillie Paul, '29, is sheriff. The trial is being conducted in the government 2 class of Professor David Hutchinson who presides as judge over the mock trial conducted by the class.

The indictment was read Monday and half the jury drawn. There was some difficulty in choosing the jury as the attorneys disagreed upon several after cross examination. The attitude of the prosecuting attorneys indicates that there will be a stiff fight on the part of the state to claim its victim and administer due justice.

Louis Wilcox and Edythe Bevan, '30, were appointed stenographers and Juanita McGarty, '29, court clerk.

ALLIANCE FRANCAISE TO HEAR L'ABBE DINMET

L'Abbe Dinmet will lecture before the Alliance Francaise Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the Albany Girls' academy. His subject is "Paris d'un balcon." Those who have not joined the Alliance will be admitted to the lecture by ticket.

Dr. Brubacher was on his way to address the city teachers of Springfield, Mass.

LIVING PUPAE ADDED TO BIOLOGY LABORATORY

The biology department has purchased living pupae of North American lepidoptera. "The pupae will complete their metamorphosis into moths and butterflies late in the winter and early spring," Miss Alice Gooding, instructor in biology, said today.

CANDLYN ANNOUNCES LATEST EDITION OF COLLEGE SONGBOOK

A new edition of the State College Songbook will be on sale very soon, according to Dr. J. Frederick H. Candlyn, instructor in music.

The new book, he says, will be less expensive than those of the same name on sale due to the fact that the plates which were used for earlier issues have been used in printing the new book.

MAKES BUSINESS TRIP

Professor George M. York, head of the commercial department, spent the Thanksgiving recess in New York on business.

BARRIE IS POPULAR DRAMA WRITER HERE

History And Education Have Greatest Overnight Loan Circulation

State College students obtain their heavier reading from the library and their lighter from both the co-op and the library. According to Miss Helen T. Fay, manager of the co-op, there is little demand for biography and science from the rental shelf. However, a good deal of both is circulated in the library, Miss Mary E. Cobb, librarian, announced today.

"Science books are not so much in demand as other types, but there are fewer of them in the library," Miss Cobb said. Books on relatively and popular science, such as trees, flowers, and birds, are in constant use both as required and recreational reading. They are used a great deal by the Scouts.

Many books of biography are circulated in proportion to the small number in the library. There are very few modern biographies, however, and the greatest demand is for these.

Books of literature have the largest weekly circulation, especially modern poetry and modern drama. "Sir James M. Barrie is by far the most popular playwright among the students," Miss Cobb said. "History and education have the greatest overnight circulation."

40 COLLEGIANS FORM SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS

About forty students of the State College meet every Sunday from 12 to 1 o'clock at the Trinity Methodist Episcopal church for Sunday school under the direction of Dr. Louis Hacker. Each town represented in the class has its banner, upon which are inscribed the names of the girls from that town.

Each week one member of the class presides and discusses the lesson. Conclusions from the lesson are reached and applied to every day life.

At the meeting Sunday, Dorothy Dey, '28, was elected president of the class. Other officers are Bess Ferguson, '29, vice president; Shirley Wood, '30, treasurer, and Dorcas Darling, '31, secretary.

LAZDON IS TREASURER AT LAW SCHOOL HERE

MISS ALBRIGHT SEES SACKING OF LEAGUE OF NATIONS PALACE

Riots in Geneva, Switzerland, during the Sacco-Vanzetti agitation abroad were not the expression of true Swiss citizens, Miss Martha Jane Albright, quiz instructor in history, told students in the current history class recently.

Miss Albright returned this fall from a summer abroad, a large part of which she spent in study at the school of international relations at Geneva. She witnessed the sacking of the palace of the league of nations and the stoning of the American Express company offices.

The rioters were a poorer class of unemployed people hired by communists to make a demonstration, Miss Albright said. "The communists seized upon the opportunity to make a demonstration of their strength before the foreigners in the city," she explained.

Miss Albright and student friends were near the He de Jean Jacques Rousseau when the rioters began their parade. She followed them to the league buildings, where the stoning occurred. The rioters completely demolished the glass walls of the large conference room, which was a sun parlor when the present palace was a tourist hotel.

The class in current history was organized several years ago by Dr. Adna W. Risley, head of the history department, who continues to conduct the course. Newspapers and current magazines are used as texts.

CLUB ATTENDS LEAGUE MEETING AND ELECTS

Lutheran club attended a meeting of the Lutheran League of the First Lutheran church of Albany. Miss Mathilda Peper, national field secretary of L. S. A. A. was also present.

Lutheran club has elected Ruth Lehman, president to take the place of Ethel Orfall, who had to resign because of excess points.

14 SORORITIES RAISE $270,000 TO BUILD HOUSES ON CAMPUS

Members of 14 sororities at Northwestern university, Evanston, Ill. have adopted a novel way in which to raise $270,000 for the building of the 14 new sorority houses on the university campus. Selling sandwiches, popcorn, opening circulating libraries and tea rooms, writing cookbooks, and giving bridge parties, were some of the money raising devices adopted by the different sorority members.

Faust, Lincoln, Webster Rub Elbows Here; Burbank Finds Hawks, Katz Also At State

By ROBERT J. SHILLINGLAW

State College may have its Smiths and Moores but that doesn't mean that those are the only names registered here. An interesting study of the college directory reveals that the names listed there represent occupations, animals, operas, rulers, clans, prominent personages and some more or less abstract things such as Love.

Perhaps in connection with that name, the name of Valentine would be apropos as well as Fortune and Rose. The college has its Law and its Lawless ones and the Scotch Stuarts, Campbells and Gordons are also represented. And with the Gordons we mustn't forget the Gims.

The faculty has its operatic representative, Faust, as well as its Queenie while King Wilson and Lincoln are to be found in the student lists. Hoover, Webster, and Steward, statesmen, are also among those present.

The battle of Hastings has its namesakes in both faculty and student body and the famous sea-fighter Nelson, is on both lists. The historically famous personages, Burke, Duncan, Lee and Scott are represented as are the French.

The student group has its Mansion and its Graves as well as a Plank and a Gable while Chamberlain, the aviator is not among the missing. Stone and Stars are to be found and the boys are represented by the female sex in the Williams, seven of them, Thomas and Roberts families.

Geographically speaking we have our Hill in the faculty and our Hills in the student group not to forget South and Western, Brooks, Dale, Ford and the cities of Troy, York and even Israel.

In the line of colors, the students have their White, Green, Grey and Brown groups, that is, speaking of names rather than of complexion.

Occupationally the list includes Potter,

DOCTOR SOUTH WRITES A JOURNAL ARTICLE FOR DECEMBER ISSUE

The first article of a series of two, written by Dr. Earl B. South, assistant professor of education, on the subject, "Some Psychological Aspects of Committee Work", appeared in the October issue of the Journal of Applied Psychology. The first article is written on the experimental procedure in committee work and the best size of a committee to do effective work.

The second article which will appear in the December issue treats with the sex of committees, effect of time limit on efficiency of committees, and the various types of people who work on committees, such as, the introvert and retrovert types.

Dr. Earl B. South's class in mental measurements saw a demonstration of the Biret test last week. A five year old child from the city was given a mental test before the class. This experiment was interesting to all classes, particularly to the one in mental measurements and the class taught by Miss Elizabeth Morris on the subject of the abnormal child.

DR. PAINTER WRITES ANNIVERSARY POEM

"Laudis Domini" Is Published In Honor Of Cathedral Celebration

Dr. George S. Painter, head of the philosophy department, has written a poem, "Laudis Domini" in honor of the seventy-fifth anniversary recently celebrated by the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception. The poem was published in the Albany Evening News.

Dr. Painter's poem reads:

How sweetly solemn chime the bells
From the Cathedral towers;
O'er hill and vale their music swells,
At morn and evening hours.

They call us from the sordid round
Of worldly thought and care,
To meditations more profound,
To worship and to pray.

Their vibrant strains fill all the sky,
Like songs of angel throngs;
But hark! dumb tongues have to supply
Laud which from us belongs!

Lead low your hearts all ye who hear,
Mighty God adore;
Sweeten our souls from doubt and fear,
And trace divine empire.

Come to the merry seat and live,
Your wounded hearts resign;
The Comforter will pardon give,
And peace within bestow.

We kneel, with fervent lips proclaim
Ours boundless gratitude;
And glory Thy holy name,
In humble gratitude.

O God on high to Thee we raise
Our songs of praiseless love;
With the redeemed we join our praise
Around Thy throne above.

COLLEGE ALUMNA, '98, PUBLISHES HER POEMS

Nettie M. Breakenridge, '98, has recently published a book of poems, "The Keys of Heaven", under the pseudonym of Barbara Young. She has been a contributor to the New York Times for five years and has averaged one poem a week to Scribner's, Good Housekeeping, the Common Weal, the Sun, the Herald and others during this time.

Her book is published in response to numerous requests for her poems in book form. Her work, which critics say has unusual qualities of imagination and rhythm is receiving high praise in their reviews.

Garters? 4 Out Of 5 Say No, One Fears Parental Wrath, Others Count Cost, Time

Garters? Does the average State College man wear 'em? Investigation shows that four out of five—now wait a minute—do not have 'em.

They're an unnecessary expense for one thing and are to be worn only when the collegian wishes to appear very "dressed up". "Too lazy to put 'em on" and "couldn't afford 'em anyway" seems to be the verdict on elastics in the locker room these days.

KNOW WHAT BOOK YOU WANT, LIBRARIAN ASKS

"If the student has a definite idea of the title and author of the book before asking for it in the library, more efficient service can be given. The librarian often has to be a mind-reader," Alice Kirkpatrick, College librarian, said.

Books on the reserve list may be used for two hours, according to a library rule. When a book taken out overnight is not returned the next morning at nine o'clock, the delinquent's name is put on the "black list". He then cannot take out a book from the library for a week.

In reserving a book, the student should ask for it before the day it is wanted, Miss Kirkpatrick announced. "When a book has been reserved it should be called for promptly," she said. "If a book is required in a class, arrangement should be made so as not to have a whole class asking for it at once."

One unique case of family tradition was revealed where the grandfather of the family had set the fashion for all time. He never wore garters. His son, following the standards set by the father, never wore them. The grandson, fearing parental wrath, doesn't dare to appear in company with a pair of hose supporters.

"I'm not interested in displaying beautiful garters," said one member of the varsity.

"Socks which don't slip down is my formula and it works fine," said another member of the varsity.

From these freely given remarks, it follows that garters will not be worn this season.

G. A. A. WILL AWARD SPORT PINS FRIDAY

Block Letter "S" Requires Two Major, One Minor Awards

Girls Athletic association's awards for the full season, September to December, will be made Friday in the College cafeteria. Kathleen Doughty, '28, is general chairman of the event. The new point system for freshmen and sophomores will go into effect Tuesday for the first time. The new system does not effect the present junior and senior classes.

"The major awards for field ball, and the minor awards for swimming and hiking will be given. Pins will be awarded for each sport. These emblems are turned in at the end of the year and letters are awarded according to the number of emblems held by each person. To win the major letter or block letter "S", two major emblems and one minor emblem must be won for three years. To win the minor or old English "S", three emblems, not in the same season, must be won for three years," according to Miss Doughty.

After the dinner at 5:30 o'clock in the College cafeteria the singing of College songs will be led by Kathryn Webster, '30, G. A. A. cheer leader. A stunt will be given after the dinner. Mary Nelson, '30, is chairman assisted by Ethel Grundhofer, '30, and Betty Schrauth, '31.

"The dinner will be over in time for those intending to hear Christopher Morley who is speaking under the auspices of the State College Dramatic and Art association at Chancellor's hall the same evening," Miss Doughty said.

ASKS FOR SUGGESTION FOR NEW SONG, CHEER

The Pedagogue vote was taken in assembly Friday under the direction of Beatrice Wright, '28, editor-in-chief of the Pedagogue. The ballots were collected by junior try-outs for the Pedagogue staff.

The assembly was then turned over to Hamilton Acheson, '30, and Marjorie Young, '28, who conducted cheer practice for the game with Maxwell Training school Saturday night. They were assisted by Dorothy Rabie, '28, song-leader.

"Suggestions for new cheers and songs will be welcomed," said Miss Young.

CLUB HEARS LECTURE BY LEAGUE SECRETARY

Miss Bess Morehouse, legislative representative and field secretary of the New York State League of Women Voters, spoke at the Political Science Club at its meeting Wednesday. Twenty six State College students went to the dinner Friday night at the Ten Eck, at which Governor Alfred E. Smith and Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt were speakers. Students also attended the new voters' conference Friday afternoon.

PSI GAMMA ALUMNAE GIVE A HOUSEWARMING

The Alumnae association of Psi Gamma gave a house-warming Saturday afternoon. Bridge was played.

Among the alumnae who were present are: Mabel Lillioader, '14, president of the association; Katherine Buchler, '20; Florence Chase, '12; Mrs. Robert Fort, '23; Mrs. Olive McDermott, '17; Mrs. Mary A. Richardson, '14; Mrs. Alberta Perkins, '21; Ruth Wemple, '15; Glenon F. Moran, '23; Isabel M. Peck, '22; and the honorary faculty members: Mrs. Helen Phillips and Mrs. Elizabeth Van Denburgh.

Briarcliff Manor Flying Squirrel Investigates Trap, Visits College

Rats aren't the only things that are caught in traps.

A Briarcliff Manor flying squirrel met his fate in the rat trap of Francis E. Griffin, '28, during the Thanksgiving vacation. Griffin brought the animal back to College with him and submitted it to the biology department where Emily Conley, '29, mounted it in a glass jar.

"The squirrel got into a spring rat trap which killed it immediately. I hope to bring a live specimen back to College with me after the Christmas vacation," Griffin said today.

Y. W. C. A. REALIZES $258 PROFIT FROM BAZAAR-LUYSTER, '28

A profit of approximately $258 was realized by the Y. W. C. A. on the Bazaar, Friday evening, according to Esther Luyster, '28, general chairman. The dinner in the cafeteria, preceding the Bazaar, netted $282. The faculty table made a profit of $50.50.

A play written and directed by Florence Cornley, '29, was presented in the auditorium. Miss Cornley was given a bouquet of roses by the cast of the play. Marion Sloan, '29, assisted Miss Cornley by composing two of the songs.

The gymnasium decorations carried out the Arabian atmosphere. Each of the four classes were represented by a booth. The junior class booth had the greatest proceeds. Other booths were: flower, in cream, "mystery", grab bag, and Co-op. Dancing was continuous throughout the evening.

NEWMAN CLUB WILL CONDUCT BRIDGE TEA SATURDAY, DEC. 17

A bridge tea will be held at Newman house, Saturday, December 17. It will be given by '28 and '30 in return for a party given them last year by '27 and '29. The Rt. Rev. Edmund F. Gibbon, Bishop of Albany, will be present for the entertainment which will follow the bridge playing. Committees for the tea are: Margretta Smythe, '28, general chairman; refreshments, Juanita Devlin, '28, chairman, Matilda Keeler, '28, Marion Carter, '30, Gertrude Conway, '28, Frances Behr, '30; arrangements, Anne Eagan, '28, Agnes Connor, '28, Jane Formanek, '30, Marie Havko, '30, Deris Williams, '30; tickets, Eylvolia Dempey, '30, chairman, Alice Corning, '30; entertainment, Pauline Crowley, '28, chairman, Eleanor Finn, '28, Helen Zelt, '28, Nan Brennan, '30, May Dyer, '30.

The tea is open to everyone. Tickets are $5.00 and may be purchased from the councillors.

The annual retreat and the second quarterly communion breakfast will be held the week-end after the Christmas vacation.

CHEMISTRY STUDENTS MAY ENTER CONTEST

"The purpose of Mr. and Mrs. Francis P. Garvin in stimulating interest in chemistry is purely patriotic," declared Professor Barnard S. Bronson, head of the chemistry department, today.

"As donors of prizes in the annual chemistry contest they have aroused great interest throughout the country," he said. "They expect no financial return from the prizes which they offer."

Professor Bronson suggested that students enter the contest this year. Doris J. Jones, '30, was the only successful competitor of her class in New York state last spring.

Prize winning essays are published in the Journal of Chemical Education.

TEN STUDENTS ATTEND CAMP OVER WEEK-END

There were 10 students at Camp Cogswell last week end, and 7 of them came in to the Saturday evening basketball game between Maxwell Training school and State College. This fact was particularly emphasized by Anne Moore, '30, as indicative of the splendid school spirit displayed by the campers. Sunday, after the game, their forces were increased by more. The activities, chiefly carried on, according to Miss Moore, were eating, talking and sleeping. Miss J. Isabelle Johnston, director of physical education, chaperoned the group.

G. A. A. PLANS TRIP

There will be another trip to Camp Cogswell this week end in charge of the Girls Athletic association.

"Girls are asked to sign up on the G. A. A. bulletin board. The more girls who sign up the cheaper the trip will be," Ann Moore, '30, chairman of the trip, said today.

KOERNER TO REPORT AT Y.M.C.A. MEETING

Conferences Are Broadminded He Says After Return From Convention

Hermann L. Koerner, a junior, who represented the student Young Men's Christian association of New York State College for Teachers at an international conference in New York city Saturday, will report on the proceeding at the regular meeting of the organization Sunday, Dec. 18.

There is a distinct swing to broad-mindedness in the student conferences, Koerner said. Western civilization is not ideal Christianity, speakers told the conference.

The new missionary spirit is tending toward not so much the displacement of native religions as toward the betterment of foreign social conditions, the convention decided. Denominationalism was scored by student leaders as a great hindrance to the work of missionaries, in that it hindered cooperation between the missionaries and native leaders.

Missionaries should work for better homes for the people among whom they live, for athletics, education, vocational instruction and then religion, speakers told the delegates.

Among questions put to the representatives were: "Are foreign missions out of date?", to which the majority voted in the negative; "Are missionaries the best agents of world peace", to which a majority voted "probably true".

Several students voted that missionaries should not give their time primarily to preaching.

The conference was under the auspices of the World's Student Christian federation, which has affiliated organizations in more than a score of nations. World peace is one of its aims, and international conferences are conducted every two years.

TO FINISH PEDAGOGUE ART WORK NEXT WEEK

All art work for the Pedagogue will be completed by the end of next week, according to Dorothy Watts, '28, editor of the art department. The staff has been working together for several weeks now, and the idea which they are producing is promised to be very unusual.

Those who have helped Miss Watts are: Ruth Watts, Ruth G. Moore, '28; Marian Palmer, '29, Betty Harris and Esther Waters, '30.

Here's Proof That Advertising Pays

Famous Wrigley Building in Chicago Being Doubled in Size

The part of the Wrigley Building erected two years ago has filled such a want that the north section, nearly double the floor area of the south section, is being added.

This north section, nearly completed, occupies the entire block, immediately across North Water Street, fronting on Michigan Avenue and reaching to the height of the main part of the first structure, with a connecting bridge.

The space in the new section is already nearly all taken by high-class firms in advance of the completion of the building.

Here is a concrete (as well as a steel and glass) proof of the saying that "advertising pays." In these magnificent buildings Mr. Wrigley has erected an impressive testimonial to this great truth. They loom large and beautiful. They typify the achievements of the man who built them. They stand as a monitor over the activity of the Nation's second city—inspiring—dominating—massive—bearing unanswerable testimony to the POWER OF ADVERTISING.

Y. W. C. A. APPOINTS FARNELL DELEGATE

Detroit Convention To Discuss Christian Missions In Foreign Field

HODGKIN, DIPEOLU SPEAK
Conference Registration Grows From 680 To 6,000 Delegates

Miriam Farnell, '28, has been named a representative to the tenth quadrennial student volunteer convention in Detroit late this month by the college Y. W. C. A.

The convention will deal with the problem of Christian missions abroad. All college Young Women's Christian Associations and Young Men's Christian Associations have been asked to send representatives.

"The gathering is recognized as a truly significant one, where students who have gained or who are seeking to gain a world point of view will meet serious world problems," Miss Farnell said.

Several foreign educators and other leaders in the field will address the delegates. Francis Wei, president of the Central China Christian university, Wuchang, and Akintu Dipeolu, a West African, who is now studying in America, will lead the foreign delegation.

Other New York state colleges to be represented at the conference include Cornell university, Syracuse university, Union Theological seminary and Keuka college. The conferences were instituted in 1891, the first convention being held at Cleveland.

The registration has grown from 680 delegates at the first meeting to more than 6,000, enrolled for the conference this year. The meetings this year will open Wednesday, December 23, and will continue until January 1.

Speakers include Harry Hodgkin, leader of the British Fellowship of Reconciliation; the Rev. Richard Roberts, pastor of the United church, Toronto; Mordecai Johnson, president of Howard university, and an authority on race problems from the point of view of negroes.

Describes Singapore Life For Alumni Quarterly

Dorothy Daugremont Bruins, '23, describes her experiences and impressions of life in Singapore in a letter appearing in the Alumni Quarterly for November. She finds life very interesting on the Malay Peninsula, although a great many things are topsy-turvy, according to American ideas. The Malays keep bees, not for their honey, but because they eat the young bees. The native men in Singapore wear skirts and the women, trousers. White is the approved mourning color. In spite of its topsy-turvy customs, Mrs. Bruins thinks that Singapore is probably one of the most interesting places in the Far East to live. "At will, one can imagine herself in China, India, on a South Sea Island, or even in Europe, as the large hotels are on the European style. However, one of the results of living in a place like this is a much greater appreciation of the United States," she said.

DEAN ANNA PIERCE ATTENDS NEW YORK MEETING OF DEANS

Dean Anna E. Pierce attended a conference of the Deans of Women of New York state in Philosophy hall, Columbia university last week-end. The New York city dean of girls association invited the conference to form an organization to be known as the New York State association of Deans. The main address was made by Dr. May of Yale university who spoke on "Character Education". Other speakers were: Miss Meta Steinhaussen, dean of girls of Rochester High school and Miss Dorothy Stimpson, dean of Goucher college, Baltimore. Mrs. Ellis S. Phillips, first president of the National association of Deans was guest of honor at the luncheon Saturday noon. Mrs. Julianna Haskell, adviser of graduate women of Columbia university was hostess at a tea that afternoon.

Miss Sarah L. Sturvesant, dean of the Teachers college, Columbia university, was elected president. The other officers elected are Miss Louise Flagg, dean of the New Rochelle High school, secretary, and Miss Margaret Fletcher, dean of the New Paltz Normal school, treasurer.

A constitution for the State association of Deans was adopted. Dean Pierce was chairman of the committee on resolutions and Miss Anna P. Mac Vay, dean of Wadleigh High school, chairman of the committee on arrangements.

TO AUTOGRAPH BOOKS

The council members are J. Charlotte Jones, '28, president; Ruth L. Lane, '28; Evelyn Graves, '29, secretary; Gertrude Hall, '29; Louise Duhee, and Katherine Graham, '30.

A special supply of Mr. Morley's books has been ordered by the Co-Op, and will be sold at special prices until Tuesday. Mr. Morley will autograph the books for students according to Miss Helen T. Fay, manager of the Co-Op. Miss Fay has urged students to place orders today for the books, since the supply is limited.

Students will be admitted on presentation of student tax tickets. Reserved seats are on sale at twenty-five cents each. Non-students may purchase tickets at Cluett and Sons', Broadway, or mail orders to Miss Hall at the College.

DR. FLICK ADDRESSES MEETING IN CAFETERIA

The Albany association of University women attended a dinner in the State College cafeteria Tuesday evening. Dr. Alexander C. Flick, New York state historian, spoke. His topic was "Is Our History Worth Saving?"
