

Dr. GreyWolf is an Assiniboine/Anishinabe psychologist with 40 years of experience delivering behavioral health services primarily to Native people in rural and remote areas. She is committed to serving the underserved. She is a trainer/consultant nationally and internationally on a variety of behavioral health issues such as complex trauma, co-occurring disorders, grief, clinical supervision, and resilience.

Dr. GreyWolf volunteer activities have included facilitating grief groups for a hospice organization, Red Cross Disaster Mental Health, preparing and serving healthy options at a local foodbank. Dr GreyWolf has enjoyed mentoring students, interns and early career psychologists.

Dr. GreyWolf has served as a member and Chair of the American Psychological Association Committee on Ethnic Minority Affairs (CEMA) and as a member and Chair of the APA Committee on Rural Health (CRH), as a commissioner on the Alaska Commission for Behavioral Health Certification and on the Alaska Board of Psychologists. Dr. GreyWolf is an APA Fellow. She currently serves on CEMRRAT2, the APA Commission on Ethnic Minority Recruitment Retention and Training and the Committee on Socioeconomic Status (CSES). Dr. GreyWolf is President–elect of the Society of Indian Psychologists.