

New Director To Register '41 For Placements

Bureau Headed by Semanek Will Interview Seniors Starting Sept. 30

The Student Employment Bureau will officially open its doors to all seniors and graduate students for registration on September 30. Those registering this year will be listed permanently with the bureau. Not only those interested in teacher placements will be helped, but the bureau will also receive calls for other positions.

Registration
Registration will take place in Milne High School in rooms 12A and B any time between the hours of 9:15 A. M. and 12:00 noon, and between 1:15 and 4:00 P. M. Miss Semanek will allow about five minutes for each interview. At this time students will obtain registration blanks and make payment of the registration fee. Applicants may check their hometown references in room 121A.

Students, according to the alphabetical arrangement of their names, will come for appointments at the bureau on the following days:
Monday, September 30, A's and B's.
Tuesday, October 1, C's, D's, and E's.
Wednesday, October 2, F's, G's, H's, and I's.

Tuesday, October 8, S's.
Wednesday, October 9, T's thru Z's.

Folder Schedule
Those who are unable to obtain interviews on the days mentioned will be taken care of Thursday and Friday.
Folders may be brought in at any time, but in order to facilitate office procedure the following schedule for folders has been adopted:
A's thru E's, due October 14.
F's thru L's, due October 28.
M's thru R's, due November 11.
S's thru Z's, due November 25.

Board Announces Editorial Classes
The following are instructions to all candidates in the class of 1941 who aspire to positions on the STATE COLLEGE NEWS during the coming year: The Junior editorial staff will begin instruction to those who signed up on Activities Day, Tuesday at 12:00 noon in Room 111. Announcement of the time for business and sports classes will be made shortly. The system of advancement in the editorial department of the News begins with a semester of study of style, type of story, punctuation, etc. Following this the "cubs" will work on the paper itself until Thanksgiving of their Sophomore year when they will be eligible for appointment as Sophomore Desk Editors.

On the News at the present time, the class of 1943 is working in competition for advancement to the position of Desk Editors this fall. On November 11, the News Board will choose four to six of those now trying out for positions on the Sophomore Editorial staff. Of the six chosen three will become Junior Associate Editors on Moving-Up Day. From the three Associate Editors will ultimately be chosen as Editor or Co-editors-in-Chief.

Last Year's Faux-Pass Necessitates Re-vote
Failure last year to elect a Student Association squireader will require extensive balloting by three classes and the association throughout the next three weeks. Student Council seeks a decision not later than Campus Day.

During the coming week the senior, junior, and sophomore classes will meet to consider nominations for this office.

Maestro Perlman Conducts Classes

Bernie Perlman announces that he will teach others in the art of conducting at classes to begin Wednesday at 3:30 in Room 28. Experience with some musical instrument is necessary, and the course is limited to freshmen and sophomores.

The State College Orchestra, which plans a highly varied program this year, will make its first appearance in a concert to be held in the Albany High School auditorium some evening shortly before the Christmas vacation. The college chorus and orchestra will combine in the spring for a presentation, and the orchestra will give another concert later, with an unannounced soloist. All undergrads and grads who play instruments and are interested in music are urged by Bernie to join the orchestra.

Fraternities Plan Rushing Activities

The inter-fraternity smoker of last Wednesday formally opened the fraternity rushing season. The individual fraternities are now planning a series of parties and smokers as parts of their rushing programs, that will finally terminate with the distribution of bids the Monday preceding Thanksgiving, and their return on the Monday when classes are resumed.

Sigma Lambda Sigma has invited a large number of freshmen men and their guests to attend a Moon-shiner's party, to be held tomorrow night, at 8:30 P. M. at the fraternity house.

Having established a new house at 12 So. Lake Ave., Kappa Delta Rho will conduct a house-warming for the faculty and students of the college after the SCA bonfire tomorrow night.

KDR and Edward Eldred Potter Club will be hosts to the freshmen men on October 1 and 2, one half of the alphabet to be entertained by one of the fraternities, while the other is to be received by the other fraternity. SLS and Kappa Beta will conduct their smokers during the following week, on October 8 and 9.

Hawley Blackout Startles State

Sept. 24, State College, Albany, N. Y.—More than 50 students studying in the library of Hawley Hall this week responded to a black-out warning and spent nearly one hour in the air raid shelter, formerly the basement book stacks.

Librarians on duty reported there was no panic after the first unexpected alarm. Readers gathered their possessions calmly and filed downstairs to continue their work.

Morale, the editors are glad to report, continues high.

SCA Will Install Officers Tomorrow

Student Christian Association will install its 1940-41 cabinet at the annual torchlight ceremony tomorrow night at 7:30 P. M. in the Greek Theatre behind Residence Hall No. 1.

Robert Agne, '41, president of SCA has announced that Mary Miller and Robert Patton, '41, are co-chairmen of the committee in charge. The entire student body and members of the faculty are invited to attend. Guests are requested to enter the field from the south side of the dorm. Ushers will guide them from the steps to the theatre.

Sororities Open Houses to Frosh

Punch Parties Will Climax Informal Rushing Period; Plan Formal Dinners

Plans for the open houses which are to replace the Intersorority Tea held in previous years, were discussed at the first meeting of Intersorority council which was held September 18, 1940. They will close the informal rushing period.

Each sorority will hold open house for all freshmen women from 7:00 to 10:00 o'clock September 30, October 1, and 2. On Monday, Kappa Delta, Alpha Phi, and Phi Delta, will entertain groups of freshmen divided alphabetically, for periods of forty-five minutes each. On Tuesday, freshmen will visit Gamma Kappa Phi, Phi Lambda, Pi Alpha Tau, and Alpha Rho, and on Wednesday, Psi Gamma, Beta Zeta, Chi Sigma Theta, and Sigma Alpha.

The new officers for Intersorority Council are: president, Bertha Pett, vice-president, Ada Parshall, secretary, Bella Lashinsky, and treasurer, Kay Shafer. This year a junior from each sorority, as well as the sorority president, will attend council meetings to acquaint the incoming senators with the workings of council.

This year council has decided that each sorority will have but two formal rush parties, a formal dinner to be held on Saturday, December 6, a buffet supper to be held either December 5 or December 7.

Pi Gamma Mu

(Continued from page 1, column 11) invited to attend a meeting. At this time, members of Pi Gamma Mu will discuss the nature of the comprehensive examinations and a review program that will help the sophomores prepare for their examinations.

The fifth program, planned for March, will deal with professional organizations to which social studies teachers may belong. Faculty members who have attended the American Historical Association meetings, those of the National Education Association, the National Council for the Social Studies, and others will report on the annual conferences which they have attended. These reports will be followed by a discussion of the advantages of memberships in these various organizations.

The last meeting of the year will be of primary interest to seniors. At this time, the problem of placement will be the subject under discussion. It is hoped by members of Pi Gamma Mu, that through these meetings, social studies majors will receive a greater benefit from their preparation than would be the case from mere attendance in classes.

Officers of Pi Gamma Mu for the year are as follows: Catherine O'Bryan, '41, president; Arnold Ellerlin, '41, vice-president; Dorothy Johnson, '41, secretary; and Estelle Englehart, '41, treasurer. Robert Hertel, '41, in his capacity of program director will be in charge of carrying out the plans of Pi Gamma Mu this year.

SIX SEEKING CAMPUS QUEEN HONOR

Lack of WPA Skilled Workers Halts Memorial

Dr. Sayles Attributes Lack Of Technical Workers To War Absorption

The Brubacher Memorial Room which was planned and promised to the students of State College last year has not been erected because the work could not be done by WPA workers. The local WPA has no workers capable of doing this job. The work is specialized, and for that reason, skilled technicians are an absolute necessity if the job is to be a success. Skilled electricians, tin smiths, and plasterers are not available at this time.

These are the reasons advanced by Dr. John M. Sayles, acting president in a recent interview.

Sayles Explains
Dr. Sayles explained that there would be an early start on the work because the war situation would necessitate the employment of all these workers in industry.

The $200 that was appropriated by the Student Association to aid in this work is in a local bank, payable to Stanley Smith, '41, and Harry Passow, '42, who are the remaining members of the student committee appointed for this purpose last June. One hundred dollars was also appropriated by the class of '40, making a total of $300.

WPA Shortage
Upon being questioned as to this shortage of labor, Dr. Donald V. Smith, of the Social Studies department, said that the only men who are on the WPA are manual laborers, and these would not be capable of doing the job. The reason that the job must be done by WPA workers is that $300 is not a sufficient sum for the purpose.

Dr. Smith also stated that whether or not we become involved in the war, industry will need all its skilled workers, consequently none will be on the WPA.

Since it is improbable that the State will see fit to make any appropriation for this purpose, Merrill Walrath, president of Student Association, will transfer the money from its dormant position in the local bank to the Student Association funds.

Meanwhile, the Hawley Hall Commons will remain in use as the recreation center. A sum of $50 was appropriated in last Friday's Assembly for new speakers and wiring for the Commons's system.

AN UNPRECEDENTED TIE --- made possible this year the nomination of six senior girls for the exalted position of Campus Queen. The successor to Queen Jane I will be, left to right, either Beatrice Dower, Alma Knowles, Mary Miller, Miriam Newell, Lona Powell, or Madeline Scesny.

News Polls to Survey State Political Views

A poll of student opinion will be taken next Friday morning in assembly by the STATE COLLEGE NEWS in an effort to determine the attitude of the student body in regard to the current national political situation.

Students will be questioned as to their choices for president, vice-president and U. S. senator from New York in the fall elections. Also asked will be student's attitude on the third term question.

To determine how opinion is divided among the various classes in the college, each person will be asked to tell which class he is in, and whether he is eligible to vote this fall.

Dean Delaney Speaks Today

Miss Sara Tod Delaney, who was recently appointed Dean of Women, will address the student body in assembly this morning. This will be the first opportunity that the college will have to hear the new dean, Merrill Walrath, '41, president of the Student Association, has also stated that class marshals, two for each class, will be announced, and will be presented with the ribbons of their office.

Friday, a resolution was passed authorizing the Student Association to finance the 1940 Directory from its surplus fund. This amount is to be paid back to the association from the proceeds of the sale of the books.

Work on the directory has already begun. The cover, which was designed this year by Marilyn Rich, '43, has already been sent to the printers. The list of students is now being compiled. To eliminate any possibility of error, the list will be checked with four separate college listings.

The Directory is expected to be on sale before the Thanksgiving recess. As usual, the book will be in the freshmen color. In case of any changes in address or telephone number since registration, the board must be notified. The book will sell for ten cents.

Inter-Fraternity Council Limits Frosh Rush Hours

At its meeting Monday night, Inter-Fraternity Council revised the ruling on freshmen remaining overnight in fraternity house. From now until fraternity bids are issued in November no freshmen may be in a fraternity house between 2:00 A. M. and 7:00 A. M.

Injured Girls Feel Gay Despite Crash

With cheerful smiles, Bea Dower and Mary Grace Leggett greeted visitors this week from their hospital beds. The two girls are recovering from injuries sustained in an accident Saturday evening.

Bea is being treated in St. Peter's Hospital for facial bruises. After another week there, she will convalesce at her home in Ballston Spa. Mary Grace, who is now in the Saratoga Springs Hospital, is receiving treatment for internal injuries.

Friends and organizations have brightened their outlook with many notes, gifts and flowers. Although the girls are at present in a too critical condition to receive many visitors, their college friends will soon be able to visit them.

Sophomores To Greet Rival Class Tonight

The Class of '43 will play host tonight to its rival class, the Class of '44, at the annual Sophomore Reception to be held in the auditorium of Page Hall, starting at 8:00 P. M. Bryant Taylor, president of the class, is general chairman.

The reception will be one to welcome the freshmen to the college and therefore there will be no rivalry during the evening. The sophomore president, Taylor, will introduce the members of Myskania to the freshmen, and inform them of the sophomore rules. Any infraction of the rules will cause immediate action by the newly formed sophomore "Black Legion."

Barbara Kerlin and Byron Bentley, sophomores, have organized a minstrel show which will entertain the freshmen. After the program in the auditorium there will be dancing in the gym.

Election Monday Decides Victor

Dower, Knowles, Miller, Newell, Powell, Scesny Capture Student Nomination

The search for a successor to Queen Jane I has finally narrowed to six candidates. Voting last Monday for Campus Queen resulted in the nomination of Beatrice Dower, Chi Sigma Theta; Alma Knowles, Phi Gamma; Mary Miller, Kappa Delta; Miriam Newell, Alpha Epsilon Phi; Lona Powell, Kappa Delta; and Madeline Scesny, Gamma Kappa Phi, as hestresses apparent to the throne.

Final Balloting
Final balloting for Campus Queen will be conducted Monday on the Commons balcony from 9:00-4:00 P. M. All tax-paying members of the Student Association are eligible to vote in this election.

Voting last week was unusually light, although a much more impressive turnout is expected for Monday's final test. The actual result will be withheld until the ceremony of coronation on Campus Day, October 19.

This marks the first year that more than five candidates have been nominated for the regal honor. A two way tie made this necessary. As customary, the correlation between the Prom Queen nominees and Campus Queen nominees was very high. This year all five of the 1940 Prom Queen nominees were named. The newcomer to the group was Mary Miller.

Speculation as to the outcome runs rife in the student body. Sororities are gathering strength in an effort to capture this election, partly because of the prestige to be gained, and more so for its effects on sorority rushing.

Campus Day Rivalry
October 19 will also start the sophomore and freshmen classes on their drive for the rivalry cup. Tonight Myskania will explain the rivalry rules to members of the two classes in attendance at the Sophomore reception.

Madalyn Supervisor, '41, has been named over all supervisors of women's sports and William Haller, '41, has been appointed supervisor of men's sports. The two presidents over the Women's and Men's Athletic Associations, respectively.

Pushball Encounter

Feature of the athletic rivalry on Campus Day, as always, will be the first soph-frosh pushball encounter during the afternoon. Also during the course of the afternoon, several other rivalry events, including women's field hockey, will be held.

In the evening, the various classes will present command performances before the newly-crowned queen and her attendants. Robert Hertel has been appointed overseer of these skits. Skit directors include: Enes Novelli, '41, Ira Hirsch, '42, Byron Bentley, '43, and Robert White, '44.

Hertel Announces Hop; Dance Set for Nov. 1

Robert Hertel, vice-president of the class of 1940, in his capacity as general chairman of the dance, has announced that Senior Hop will be conducted November 1st at the Hotel DeWitt Clinton.

Last year, the senior class initiated a policy of using a low priced orchestra, and passing the saving on to the students. The consensus of opinion was that the dance was highly successful. Although no announcement has been made so far, it is assumed that the bids will range around $2.50.

Give 'em a Break

Since their arrival in Albany, the freshmen have been greeted, entertained, and received a minimum of twenty-one times in less than four weeks.

Spending the greater part of the time adapting themselves to the new environment and attending on the average of a reception every other night, the freshmen—who have miraculously withstood the trials and tribulations of welcome speeches and other details that inevitably go with a reception—now face the most hazardous period since their arrival at State College.

Still adjusting themselves and attempting to make up work missed by attending receptions, all the freshman can hope for is a break—a break that will make this rush period a bit different from past ones—perhaps a little cleaner, a little above board, a little less high-pressured, or a little less "knock down-drag out."

Give 'em a break, Greeks.

Order and Disorder

To write a column of criticism when there is nothing to criticize is a job for the little man who wasn't there.

There are rumors in dramatic circles that last year's Advanced Dramatics group has formed an alumni association and is planning to present scenes from Shakespeare, sometime in December.

Those of you who saw Miss Skinner last night will be pleased, I am sure, to read her article in last Sunday's New York Times Magazine.

Bombshell

Negotiations destined to make the 1940-41 State basketball campaign one of the most outstanding in the team's history have just been revealed by MAA Council in a bombshell announcement that contracts have been signed, sealed, and delivered with both St. Lawrence and Clarkson for clashes with the Purple and Gold this year.

The tilt with St. Lawrence is scheduled for play at Canton on Saturday, December 14. State fans will share in the Clarkson tussle, booked for Monday evening, December 9 on the planks of Page.

No less worthy a rival will be Clarkson, numbered among the nation's top-ranking technical institutions, with test tubes, pulleys, et al. nailed down at Potsdam, N.Y.

Briefly stated, the new additions to the State schedule will see the locals squaring off with teams which regularly meet such formidable foes as Syracuse, Dartmouth, and other outfits of equal caliber.

Riding Group to Meet For Canter Tomorrow

Kay Wilson, captain of riding, requests that all girls interested in riding tomorrow morning should sign up on the WAA bulletin board sometime today.

Squad Rapidly Hits Top Form, Freshmen Material Proves To Be Valuable Addition

State College's cross-country fleet will take to the hills tomorrow when they open up their 1940 season against the Morrisville Aggies.

There are eight freshmen who are now practicing with the team. This year's newcomers seem to be well-supplied with previous experience.

The policy of the captains this year will be to run all aspirants in the various contests. However, only the first five who finish will be included in the scoring.

Representing the Purple and Gold tomorrow will be Bill Miller, Ben Reed, Van Schuler, Phil Murphy, Bill Tucker, Red O'Leary, Frank Bishop and Bob Christensen.

The next run will take place on October 19 at Delhi. The date for the St. Lawrence meet at Canton is still indefinite.

The State mercuries have met Morrisville twice in the past two years, but have suffered defeat on both occasions.

First time trials of the year were held yesterday afternoon when the boys were clocked in their practice run over the Washington Park course.

St. Lawrence and Clarkson ordinarily book a number of Canadian games, games which have since become gaps in their respective schedules.

This does not imply that the new rivals are to be merely temporary ones. Negotiations are already under way for return bookings in 1941-42.

Crummy Cheerleaders!

Our annual basketball season is again fast drawing near. Are things going to go their own familiar inefficient, unimpressive, lackadaisical way again, or are we going to get action on the biggest disgrace in the sports field at State?

We've got the crummiest looking bunch of cheerleaders in the country. This is no reflection upon the cheerleaders themselves, but it is a reflection upon the Student Association.

These megaphoners work hard leading the vocal support for the varsity cagers. They deserve some consideration at least.

200 Signed For Forum of Politics

A sharp new interest in world affairs was dramatically illustrated this week when nearly two hundred students registered for the first meeting of the Forum of Politics.

Miss Alice Abelow, '41, will direct the second presidential election poll, as a comparison with last year's straw vote. At that time, it will be remembered, Roosevelt defeated possible candidate Dewey; Wendell Willkie received not one vote.

Resolutions introduced at yesterday's meeting moved that the Forum should take a stand on the mobilization of industry as a measure of national defense preparation; that the Forum go on record involving equal responsibility by all Pan-American countries in defense of all America.

Officers of the Forum besides Miss Sharts are Rose Lison, '41, clerk, and Bella Lashinsky, '41, treasurer.

Finance Board Shows Tax Sales Increase

Student Board of Finance announces that 815 full student taxes and 117 half taxes have been sold to date. This is a slight improvement over last year since the figures show that sales have exceeded last year's by $250.

Those who have not paid their student tax are asked to do so as soon as possible. Seniors are reminded that payment of the tax is necessary before they will receive a recommendation from the college for a teaching position.

Payment may be made to Edward L. Cooper, treasurer of the Finance Board, or to any of the members who include: Ralph Clark, Charles Quinn, seniors; Nicholas Morisillo, Benson Tybring, juniors; and James Portley, '43.

Cornelia Ots Skinner looked down at us from a cold-creamed face and said "Hello." Offstage, the actress seemed more tall and stately, her beautiful black hair even darker, her face a little older.

B. Dower Can Go To Coronation, If

The way things look now, Myskanla will not have to change the date of Campus Day, in the event that Bea Dower is elected Queen.

On Saturday, October 4, her attending physician stated that she would be able to attend the ceremonies on October 19. She is recovering nicely, and should be quite able to take part in the Campus Day event after a few days' rest in her home in Ballston Spa.

Eventually it becomes presentable. With a swish of her hand, the lady removed her smooth red-lipstick. "By the way, my number called 'On the Beach at Barbados' was taken from life. I sat in on the little scene. In reality I'm afraid it wasn't quite as dramatic."

State College Men, Faculty Register Wednesday for Draft

Men Depart—Women Work As Last War Upset Campus

Wednesday all the men in State College who have passed their twenty-first birthday and who have yet to reach their thirty-sixth will register for a selective plan of military duty that is designed to train the largest peace-time army that America has ever had.

There is an ever-increasing atmosphere of expectancy and excitement as the biggest day in State College draws near. Everyone is wondering who will be the queen and her attendants; and that is, everyone except Myskanla. The secret is closely guarded, only adding to the glamour of the day.

The days of the first World War were rare ones in the history of the college. Students and faculty disappeared to join some branch of Uncle Sam's fighting forces; women students sewed bandages for the Red Cross in Husted Hall; the college organizations, faculty, and student body joined to subscribe almost $1,000 to the Liberty Loans in 1917; and eventually a training camp was established on the campus—on the spot where Milne and Page Hall now stand.

The war fever reached State before conscription during those days in 1917. In March of that year a movement was started under the sponsorship of the late Dr. Abram R. Brubacher, then president of the college, to bring to the campus a voluntary student training corps.

The federal government offered to send an officer to train a company provided that 100 men enlisted and the training was included in the curriculum.

Before anything further could be done about this, America entered the war, and such plans were forgotten in the general conscription. Immediately after the entry of the United States into the war, President Brubacher announced that all men who enlisted for service would be given their degree immediately if they were seniors, and would not lose their standing if they were under-graduates.

Also notable is the fact that by this time war temper had risen so much, that a week after the above quotation President Brubacher made a speech in which he said: "From our midst have gone some thirty choice young men to defend the principles of free government, government by consent of the governed; to redress the wrongs of weak nations; to defend womanhood"

The initial harbinger of the U. S. conscription order will be evidenced today in assembly when Glenn Walrath '42, head of the Conscription Committee of the Forum of Politics, reveals the details of local registration.

Board Created; Will Register Non-Residents

For the second time in its history, State College finds itself affected by a national conscription plan. Not since the days of the World War have the faculty and students found themselves in a position where they are subject to call to serve in the armed forces of the United States.

Wednesday, the 16th of October, more than 175 students and 13 members of the faculty will register in accordance with the provisions of the Selective Service Plan of Registration. These men, who fall within the 21-35 age limits, will be subject to the draft.

To aid the registration of non-residents among the college students, a board of registrants has been appointed by John M. Sayles, president of the college. Included on this board are Dr. Ralph A. Beaver, Dr. Howard A. Dobbell, Dr. Oscar Lanford and Dr. Robert Rlenow. The board will serve to register those members of the student body who are not residents of the Capital District.

Opportunities were not lacking for the women of the college who wanted to serve. A sewing room was established in the basement of Husted Hall where women might go and sew bandages to be used overseas by the Red Cross.

The absence of men from the campus began to make itself felt. The two fraternities then in existence closed their houses because there were not enough men left to support them. And the News was able to say one November day in 1917 the following: "Last spring when President Wilson's call for volunteers stripped State College of nearly all its men, it is regarded as highly improbable that exemptions will be given to college men. The only men who will receive exemptions are those with dependents and those who are engaged in essential occupations."

It seems highly probable at this time that the draft will affect the faculty of State College. Fourteen members of the faculty are eligible for conscription. They are Wilfred P. Allard, Charles L. Andrews, Ralph H. Baker, Paul G. Bulger, Edward C. Cooper, William G. Hardy, Louis C. Jones, Thomas Kinsella, Oscar Lanford, Robert Rlenow, Warren Densmore, Henry L. Sisk, Daniel W. Snader, and Wallace Taylor. It is thought that the professions of these men will not constitute sufficient reason to exempt them. The only exemptions that will be made among them will be because of any dependents that they might have.

Infernal Machine Found in Commons

Various conjectures have been put forth as to the identity of a weird contraption which made its appearance in the Commons on Monday morning.

A freshman, wise in years, ventured the opinion that it was a popcorn machine, but he couldn't find a nut to put his nickel in. An equally wise sophomore guessed that it was a scale which called out the weigher's poundage. A Junior, not so wise, theorized that it was a dance-o-meter which measured the tremors resulting from the jitterbugging.
