Frank O'Connor, chairman of the Grievance Board, was absent from the meeting.

3,500 To Be Affected

Salary Schedule And Reclassification Set For Monroe County

(From Leader Correspondent)

ROCHESTER, June 17—Pay raises for some 3,500 county employees will average about five percent if, as expected, they are approved by the board of supervisors of Monroe County at its July first meeting. A new job classification and salary schedule costing about $450,000 for the remainder of 1963 would become effective July 2. The supervisor's salaries and personnel committee will conduct a public hearing on the proposal at 10 a.m. June 28 after which it is slated to recommend adoption by the full board.

County Manager Gordon A. Howe said the increase would cost $859,233 on a yearly basis. In a letter to the board, read at today's committee session, Howe said employees would move to the same salary bracket step in the new plan that they are now receiving in the present plans, except where there is a title and salary change constituting a promotion in title and grade. "In this case," he said, "employees would move to a step in the new plan, which is, for money, the next step above what they are presently earning, plus one increment. This is to recognize the promotion to higher responsibilities.

Increment Plan Positions

Examples: No title change. Position A, typist-clerk present salary plan—Group 2, $3194, 3467.

Candid Camera Catches Feilys

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Feily (he's president of the Civil Service Employees Assn.) have been caught unaware by television's Candid Camera.

According to a letter from Allen Funt, the program originator, the Feilys will be seen on the television show of June 23.

3631, 3795. Proposed salary plan—Group 2, $3302, 3458, 3538, 3926. Position B, case worker. Present salary plan—Group 12—$5023, 5296, 5542, 5842, 6115.

Proposed salary plan—Group 13—$5408, 5642, 5928, 6188, 6474.

Example: Title change with no change in salary group.

Position C, Automotive mechanic present salary 10, $4559, 4801, 5023, 5296, 5542. To maintenance mechanic 2 proposed salary plan—Group 10, $4630, 4914, 5148, 5408, 5642.

Example, title change (reclassification) resulting in a promotion to a higher grade, title and salary.

Position D, clerk, grade 2. Present Salary Plan—Group 9, $4395, 4559, 4805, 5023, 5296.

Proposed salary plan—Group 12, $5148, 5408, 5642, 5938, 6188; flat salaried positions.

Employees would move to a step in the new salary plan. As recommended, the next above step, in money, to what they are presently earning, unless such move would be less than the average value of an increment in the new plan, in which case they would move to the next higher step.

Examples: Position A, present salary—flat—$10538.

CSEA Art Show Opens August 27 At N.Y. Exposition

ALBANY, June 17—An art show featuring oils, with prize-winning paintings to be exhibited at the New York State Exposition at Syracuse, August 27 through September 2, will be conducted for members of the Civil Service Employees Association.

Separate semi-final competitions will be held in each of the Association's five conference locations across the State. Three finalists from each conference will be sent to Syracuse for grand prize judging prior to the State Exposition. Cash prizes totaling $300 will be awarded for first, second and third place and for three honorable mention winners. These paintings and the nine other paintings will be exhibited at the exposition.

Open To All Members

The show will be open to all of the Association's 113,000 members and their wives throughout the State.

A professional jury will be used on all levels of competition.

One regional committee, for the Capital District Conference, with Edwin Becker as chairman, has already been appointed and has held its first meeting. Committees representing the other four conferences—Metropolitan, Southern, Central and Western—are being formed now.

Western Conf. Goes To Source For Information At Batavia Meet, June 29

BATAVIA, June 17—Two members of the headquarters staff of the Civil Service Employees Association will be the featured speakers at the June meeting of the Western Conference, CSEA, which will be held at Gentners Hotel here, June 29.

Gary Perkinson, director of public relations and William Blom, director of research, will represent the CSEA and discuss various aspects of their work within their own departments. Perkinson will discuss public relations as it affects the CSEA chapter at the morning meeting which will start at 10:15 a.m.

Blom To Discuss

At 1:30 p.m. Blom will discuss aspects of the State administration's reallocation and reclassification procedures and as to how they will affect the State employee. Both of these meetings will be open to all conference members.

Budget Assures Correction Uniforms

ALBANY, June 17—The State Division of Budget has assured the Civil Service Employees Association that rules relating to uniform allowances for correction officers would be issued within a short time, the Leader learned at press time.

The Association had protested to the fiscal agency what it termed "an undue delay in the promulgation of the rules." The Association, since winning the appropriation in the 1963 State budget, has pressed for prompt action concerning this matter. The appropriation covers correction officers and some other State employees required to wear distinctive uniforms.

Hawaiian Tour Set For August 23

The Hawaiian tour announced by Irving Flaumenbaum, president of the Nassau County Chapter, Civil Service Employees Association, will run from August 23 to September 8. The tour will leave from Idlewild on Friday and the total cost for the tour is $489 plus taxes.

Don't Repeat This!

Wagner's Asset

A Good Mayor —Not Politician

ONE of the great political dramas of recent years occurred when Mayor Robert F. Wagner decided to take on what he called the "political bosses" of the Democratic Party. The results of the falling out between the then Tammany Hall leader Carmine DeSapio and the Mayor are now history.

In 1961, Wagner was convinced that the "bosses" and their brand of politics had cost the Democrats the gubernatorial election of the previous year. (He had to be "convinced" because DeSapio and all the other bosses were against him and he had to fight them in the mayoralty primary.)

New Image

tough, and articulate Robert Wagner emerged. The image he created caught the public imagination and set it on fire. What the public saw was a man standing alone, a man against the bosses, a man fighting for good government without undue political influence.

The public took up Wagner's cause, as did most of the daily press. Wagner took the primary election with ease—and went on to a smashing victory in the mayoralty race in 1961.

As Wagner took office for a third—and unprecedented—term, he stood only behind President Kennedy as the most powerful and respected Democrat in the country. He could, in effect, write his own ticket for the future. With the control of both local and federal patronage in his hands, with a voting public that showed it was strongly behind him, Wagner could have continued to show himself not only as one of the greatest of New York's mayors but also as the most articulate good government-minded Democratic candidate for the 1964 U.S. Senate race in New York or anything else in the nation.

The Puzzle

What has puzzled most of Wagner's admirers, however, is that he has not really consolidated his powerful position since the 1961 race. He became too much a politician.

In the field of politics, Wagner personally stood behind the election of Edward Costikyan to replace DeSapio as New York County Democratic Committee chairman. He gave support to the election of William McKeon as State Democratic Committee chairman. It was assumed that Wagner would then leave the job of politics to these men and others and resume the role of being an outstanding mayor.

Instead, Wagner has spent a good deal of time being involved in political feuds which have brought him no significant victories and which many political pros feel have unnecessarily prolonged the splits still evident in the party. This has not proven wise. He beat the bosses and should have stopped there. He did not have to go in for the last kill.

Losing Battle

Even Wagner's most ardent admirers, for instance, bemoan the fact that he took it upon himself to continue to engage in a political duel with Bronx leader Charles A. Buckley. Buckley was one of the very first backers of President Kennedy and has continued to be one of the President's strongest backers in the House of Representatives. From the beginning, few persons ever believed that Kennedy would desert Buckley in favor of Wagner over a matter of local politics. The result is that Buckley reigns as strongly as ever in the Bronx. Similarly, Wagner's attempt to have a stronger say in Brooklyn politics has had equally fruitless results, perhaps even harmful ones. To date, his actions have done little more than stir up the opposition of former ally Abe Beame, the City Comptroller, and Brooklyn Borough President Abe Stark as well as State Assemblyman Stanley Steingut who did not want any quarrel with Wagner at all.

What all this means is that Wagner has attracted attention to himself these past few months not as the good mayor that emerged out of the 1961 race but as a politician.

Wagner's friends now fear that the spotlight on his political maneuvering could make the public forget the basic and attractive qualities of Wagner that make him such a desirable elected official.

Wagner Has Friends

Wagner still has friends by the legion. President Kennedy remains warm to him. McKeon admires Wagner greatly and will probably do anything at his request but is being pushed by statewide county leaders to work for all of them and get the respect that a state chairman deserves.

In addition, Costikyan is loyal, dedicated and more than willing to take on the job of executing everyday politics but he too needs more respect from City Hall.

Strangely enough, his most ardent supporters are the publishers of the New York City daily newspapers. They can hardly forget his efforts in the settlement of the long, painful and costly newspaper strike earlier this year. The publishers continually impress this friendship and support on their editors—and in a real pinch this will show.

Wagner's friends are continually advising him to channel his efforts to being a good mayor and to leave the running of party politics with the elected district, county and state leaders. His success as a mayor is his best asset and any interference in internal politics can only be viewed by the voters on the debit side of his political ledger.

THE PUBLIC EMPLOYEE

By JOSEPH F. FEILY
President,
Civil Service Employees Association

AFSCME Action Questioned

TWO SEPARATE, yet related, incidents dealing with the same subjects, unions in public service have prompted me to write this column. The incidents were the recent appearance of Arnold Zander, International president of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, at a panel discussion in Albany, and an article dealing with collective bargaining in public service, which appeared in a recent issue of the "State Employee News," the house organ of Council 50, AFSCME.

IN THE ARTICLE, the union states: "Collective bargaining for public employees works the same way as it does for workers in private industry. The employees in a certain agency, department or institution hold a secret ballot election and choose an employee organization to be their exclusive bargaining agent. Following this, the department heads and the union sit down at the bargaining table and work out a contract covering salaries, hours, work load, etc."

Cites Examples

DR. ZANDER, AT his appearance in Albany, stressed the same point, that the so-called union contract is the end-all panacea for public employees and implied that once a contract is achieved, the public employee's worries are over. Dr. Zander also cited union contracts in the cities of Philadelphia and New York, the State of Rhode Island and elsewhere as good examples of what can be achieved under such arrangements between an employee union and the employer in public service.

FRANKLY, I, AND my fellow members in the Civil Service Employees Association are appalled at what the union is attempting to sell the unsuspecting employee and the public in general.

Use of Strike

LET'S TAKE A closer look at the two incidents described and see what they really amount to. First, collective bargaining for public employees does not and cannot work the same as it does for employees of private industry. What the union neglects to mention is that the essential tool in executing collective bargaining in private industry is the strike, the very threat of which carries with it the fear of loss of profits to the employer through prolonged work stoppages, and which is expressly forbidden to public employees in New York State—and rightly so, CSEA feels. Another tool which makes collective bargaining work in private industry is the Taft-Hartley Act which requires among other things, that both the employee and the employer bargain in good faith. The provisions of this law do not extend to public employment. If the union does not realize this—and we're sure they do—they are doing a gross disservice to their members and to the public.

No Secret Ballot

SECOND, THE UNION evidently does not practice what it preaches, or it would not say that "the employees in a certain agency, department or institution hold a secret ballot election and choose an employee organization to be their exclusive bargaining agent." In the same locations that Dr. Zander cites as outstanding examples of union contracts, that is, Philadelphia, Rhode Island and Rochester, N.Y., no ballot, secret or otherwise, was held to determine who would represent employees. As a matter of fact, the City of Rochester refused to allow CSEA the same basic privilege it afforded AFSCME to contact city employees for membership. The City of Rochester also refused to make payroll deductions of dues even though more than 800 city employees have authorized such deductions. In Rochester, as in Philadelphia, AFSCME entered into agreement that is a disgrace and a mockery of the union's claim that it represents its members honestly. Incidentally, CSEA presently is contesting in the courts the actions of the City of Rochester in recognizing the union and I intend to go deeper into the union-management relationship in both Rochester and Philadelphia in subsequent columns.

Employee Sell-out

THIRD, THE UNION'S statement that the "department heads and the union sit down at the bargaining table and work out a contract covering salaries, hours, work loads, etc." should be exposed for what it actually amounts to, a sell-out of employee rights to gain nothing more than ques-

Syracuse Police Assn. To Undertake Legal Action On Transfers

(From Leader Correspondent)

SYRACUSE, June 17—The Police Benevolent Association Thursday night authorized its counsel to undertake "any legal measures necessary to oppose Police Chief Patrick V. Murphy's transfers."

The 110-members at the meeting also approved, unanimously, the use of club funds to help supply equipment and uniforms to the policemen transferred to the patrol division. These men have been working in plain clothes for a number of years.

Robert W. Hartnett, PBA counsel said he would begin working immediately on legal opposition, but did not indicate what moves were being considered.

"Violation of Law"

The police group had earlier criticized as "a violation of the civil service law" assignment changes that transferred five local policemen to the Criminal Investigation Division.

Murphy set off the hassle June 11 when he announced he would transfer five sergeants from the CID to supervisory positions in the Patrol Division and five experienced policemen to the vacated CID posts.

Several months ago, Chief Murphy abolished the detective classification and made all detectives sergeants in the new CID which replaced the detective bureau.

Patrolman William Smith, PBA president, said the newly transferred policemen "would be serving out of title in the CID and without just compensation." This, he said, "is a violation of the Civil Service Law."

Continuing Attack

Chief Murphy's move, Smith said, "would appear to our membership to be a part of the continuing attack by the City Administration and the chief of police to abolish Civil Service."

Recently, the PBA and city administration clashed over Mayor William Walsh's plan to take deputy police chiefs out of Civil Service classification and put them in the exempt class.

The mayor's plan was approved by the local and State Civil Service Commissions and is now in effect.

Smith charged that the courts work in other divisions.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

Nomination Closing Extended; June 26

The closing date for nominations for the statewide offices of the Civil Service Employees Association for the October elections has been changed from June 21 to June 26. Mrs. Mildred Meskil, chairman of the Nomination Committee announced last week.

The committee urges all chapters to submit their nominations prior to June 26, the date the committee meets in Albany, in order that each can be given proper consideration. Nominations should be addressed to the Nominations Committee, CSEA 8 Elk Street, Albany.

have held that vacancies in the sergeants ranks must be filled from existing Civil Service eligibility lists.

He said he thinks Chief Murphy's plan would hamper future promotional opportunities for policemen.

Opportunity To Improve

The chief said the transfers would give supervisory officers the opportunity to improve their career development and to assume positions of greater responsibility.

Assigning experienced policemen to the CID he said, would broaden their law enforcement experience and provide an incentive for men who do exceptional

Margaret Farrar Named Information Specialist President

CHICAGO, June 17 — Margaret M. Farrar of East Greenbush, N.Y., director of public relations for the New York State Department of Mental Hygiene, has been elected president of the National Association of State Psychiatric Information Specialists at the first annual meeting held at the Hotel Bismarck recently.

Forty-five public relations specialists from 18 states attended the conference which focused attention on "Public Relations for New Philosophies of Care and Treatment for Mental Illness." Discussion centered around "Preparing the Community," "Handling Emergencies Related to Patients," and "Handling Community Resistance."

Purposes

The purpose of the association is to promote the goals of mental health programs and agencies through improved public relations.

Mrs. Farrar has directed the office of mental health information and education and has been editor of Mental Hygiene News for the New York State Department of Mental Hygiene since 1948. She was the first director of public relations in a state mental health department in the country and for many years was the only specialist in this field.

Mrs. Farrar is married to Clifford H. Farrar, who is with the New York State Department of Motor Vehicles.

CSEA Group Insurance Beneficiary Provisions Explained For Members

Because of the large number of inquiries received by the Civil Service Employees Association regarding the CSEA Group Life Insurance Plan and what happens when the named beneficiary dies prior to the death of the insured member, the CSEA has issued the following clarification taken from the master contract covering the plan.

If there be no beneficiary, designated by the employee, or surviving at the death of the employee, payment shall be made as follows:

To the wife or husband of the employee, if living at the death of the employee; if no wife or husband of the employee be then living, to the surviving children of the employee in equal shares; if no wife or husband of employee and no children of the employee be then living; to the surviving parents of the employee in equal shares; if no wife or husband of the employee and no children of the employee and no parent of the employee be then living, to the executors or administrators of the employee.

From time to time each insured member of the CSEA Group Life Insurance Plan should check relative to the beneficiary named from the standpoint of whether a new beneficiary should be named.

Forms to change beneficiary under the CSEA Group Life Plan can be secured from CSEA Headquarters, 8 Elk St., Albany.

Where to Apply For Public Jobs

The following directions tell where to apply for public jobs and how to reach destinations in New York City on the transit system.

NEW YORK CITY—The Applications Section of the New York City Department of Personnel is located at 96 Duane St., New York 7, N.Y. (Manhattan). It is two blocks north of City Hall, just west of Broadway, across from The Leader office.

Federal Administrative Internship Program In Experimental Stage

Administrative interns in the experimental program to attract outstanding college students to positions in the Federal service have been appointed for 1963-1964, according to an announcement by Dr. Martin B. Dworkis, professor of public administration at New York University and chairman of the board of directors of the Federal-College Internship Program. The internships are financed by a grant from the Ford Foundation to the Board of Higher Education of the City University of New York and are under the sponsorship of the College-Federal Agency Council.

Twenty-five students in colleges in the states of New York and New Jersey have been selected by the board. The twenty-five come from twenty-three colleges and universities.

Twenty-six different federal installations in the two states will share the interns between them. Four of the interns will be splitting summer work experience from academic year placements and will consequently be placed at two agencies each.

Under the terms of the Ford Foundation grant, each intern receives a scholarship stipend of $400 for a full-time summer internship of eight weeks duration or $500 for ten weeks. In addition, each appointee in the part-time project of the academic year receives a monthly allowance. Each intern will receive college credit for the program. The participating colleges have appointed campus coordinators to advise the interns and the Federal agencies have designated supervisors over the work assignments given to the students.

The program will enable these young men and women, who are majoring in the social sciences in college, to see the Federal Service as a potential career. They will be encouraged to take the Federal Service Entrance Examination but are not required to accept positions if they pass the examination and are offered appointments.

In addition to the work experience, the interns will participate in meetings to be held in the New York Metropolitan Area in October, 1963 and April, 1964. The interns will also be taken to Washington, D.C., to meet with Federal agency heads and to observe the working of the Federal Government at the central and headquarters establishments.

The initial activity in the program was the orientation conference held on Friday. Students, agency supervisors, and campus coordinators participated in the conference at the New York University Club at Town Hall. The orientation consisted of a program planning session directed by Dr. Dworkis; a luncheon at the hotel, the principal speaker being the Rev. James J. McGinley.

Columbia Association Holds Final Meeting

The Columbia Association of the New York Post Office will hold its final meeting of the season on Friday, June 14th at the Statler Hotel, 7th Ave. & 33rd St. John Garuffi is president and Frank Caragliano is vice-president of the Bronx.

president of Canisius College of Buffalo, talking on "Labor Relations In The Public Service"; and an afternoon discussion on "Leadership and Executive Responsibility," led by Dr. Timothy W. Costello, professor of psychology and management, New York University.

In addition to Dr. Dworkis, the board is composed of John J. Callahan, U.S. Civil Service Commission; Joseph Klegman, U.S. Post Office Department; Dr. Robert G. Smith, Drew University; Dean Samuel F. Thomas, City College; Dr. Ruth Weintraub, Hunter College, and Dr. Theodore Zaner, New York Naval Shipyard.

City Offering Free Tuition At Nursing Schools

Probably no other professional field offers as many opportunities to young people as nursing does today. The demand is great and the supply of trained young men and women is inadequate now and will be in the foreseeable future. No better conditions can exist for security and advancement.

The starting salary today is about $5,000 and goes higher as you advance. Top career nurses make between $10,000 and $15,000 a year.

New York City's Department of Hospitals operates four professional schools which offer qualified high school graduates a three year tuition-free course leading to a diploma in professional nursing.

The four schools are the Bellevue School of Nursing, 440 East 26th Street, New York 10, New York; the Harlem Hospital School of Nursing 136th Street and Lenox Avenue, New York 37, New York; the Kings County Hospital Center School of Nursing, 451 Clarkson Avenue, Brooklyn 3, New York; and the Queens Hospital Center School of Nursing, 161st Street and 82nd Drive, Jamaica 2, Long Island.

The Bellevue School also includes the Mills School of Nursing for Men since more and more young men realize that nursing can be an ideal profession for them, offering as it does opportunities for the development and use of personal interests and abilities. For example, if a man has a special interest in science or certain mechanical abilities he will be able to utilize them in one or another field of nursing.

Not only do these four schools offer tuition-free programs but students are also provided with free maintenance including board, room and laundry throughout their course of study. They are also paid an allowance of $20 a month to cover incidental expenses

Classes are admitted in September in all schools. Applicants for admission must be graduates of a four year academic high school course, be at least 17 years of age, and be in good health.

There is in each school an entrance fee of from $100 to $200 to cover the miscellaneous expense such as uniforms, text books, and initial equipment. There are, however, a limited number of loans and scholarships available to qualified applicants who cannot finance the course.

Non-high school graduates who cannot meet the requirements for the professional schools may enter the Central School for practical nurses at Welfare Island.

This school offers a one year course which prepares students to be practical nurses. They care for patients under the direction of licensed physicians or professional nurses. The starting salary for a practical nurse is $3,750 per year.

As in the professional schools, tuition at the Central School is free and uniforms, laundry, and room and board are provided. Students also get an allowance of $20 a month for incidentals.

Applicants must be at least 17 years of age and be in good

One Answer For Three Problems?

SUMMER employment for youth is a perennial problem. Educators, parents, sociologists and criminologists decry the fact that it is becoming increasingly more difficult to find positions for these between-term students.

So too, is the problem of finding young people to fill permanent positions in civil service. Annually, the City, State and Federal governments complain: "We just cannot find qualified young people to fill our jobs."

Could it be that there is a common solution to both problems?

Surely, the government agencies have positions available for summer replacements in the lower ranks of civil service. A third problem—the overburdening of permanent employees who have to "pitch in" when a fellow employee is on vacation leave—would also be solved by such an employment practice.

The schools in the area, public or private, would be most happy to give entrance examinations to their students who are interested in such employment. By doing so, the schools would also be fulfilling another facet in the education of the student—that of preparing him to meet the world of business.

Every working person remembers his first job. When the student returns to school after a summer employment under the civil service system, he, too, will remember his first job and possibly strive towards making civil service his future career.

The cost of such a program could be written off through savings in the costly high speed recruiting program necessary to fill vacancies in government agencies. The savings in juvenile delinquency prevention programs necessitated by idle youths would also be credited to the payment of these now jobless youths.

Questions Answered On Social Security

Below are questions in Social Security problems sent in by our readers and answered by a legal expert in the field. Anyone with a question on Social Security should write it out and send it to the Social Security Editor, Civil Service Leader, 97 Duane St., New

"My cleaning woman works for me every other Thursday. Do I have to pay social security for her?"

If you pay your cleaning woman $50 or more in a calendar quarter, you must report her wages and pay the appropriate tax to the District Director of Internal Revenue. The report for the quarter ending December 31, 1962 is due on or before January 31, 1963. For further information contact your District Director of Internal Revenue.

"I am a widow and will be 62 in a few months. When my husband died, I was paid the lump sum death payment. What will I need to do to get benefits now?"

You will have to apply for the widow's benefits. To be sure your claim is not delayed, take your birth record and your marriage certificate with you when you are ready to apply for the benefits. If you do not have the original copy of your marriage certificate you can get a certified copy of it from the court house where your marriage license was obtained. For evidence of your age, a record, made during your school years (or before) is preferable. Your local office can tell you about other acceptable evidence. Sometimes an old family bible or other personal papers can be used.

"My husband plans to retire in the early part of 1964. We have a son, 25, who has been disabled since childhood. It's my understanding, that he will also be eligible for benefits. Do we need to get any medical records to file a claim on him?"

Your social security office will provide the forms needed to establish your son's disability. They will be given to your husband when he files his claim.

Your Eminence:

The Council of Jewish Organizations in Civil Service sends this letter as an expression of the grief and sorrow of the Council as a whole, and of its eighty-six thousand members individually, upon the demise of His Holiness, Pope John XXIII.

Pope John will long be cherished in our loving memories as the ideal of love, peace and good will towards all men. In particular, we of the Jewish faith loved him not only for himself as a person, but for his magnificent activities in saving Jewish lives during World War II.

We send our respectful condolences to the officials of the Vatican and to the Catholic people throughout the world.

Editor, The Leader

Last week The Leader published a letter to the editor from Judge Louis I. Kaplan, commissioner of the Department of Investigation concerning a recent column in the World-Telegram and Sun. According to Kaplan, the column inferred that minority groups in civil service profited from "irregularities" in civil service examinations. This week we print the answering letter from Wesley First, managing editor of the World-Telegram and Sun:

Your Public Relations IQ

By LEO J. MARGOLIN

(Mr. Margolin is Adjunct Professor of Public Relations in the New York University School of Public Administration and is Vice President, Public Relations, of A. J. Armstrong Co., Inc.)

The views expressed in this column are those of the writer and do not necessarily constitute the views of this newspaper.

P.R. Symbolism

HOW MANY OF us realize that the empty State Police car parked on the New York State Thruway under an overpass has a common denominator with the Egyptian pyramids?

BOTH ARE public relations symbols. Both communicate a story. The State Police car says: "Obey the traffic laws for safety, and also because we're watching!"

THE PYRAMIDS, along with obelisks, friezes and statues propagandized the divine nature of the Pharaoh of Egypt, the monarch of Babylonia, and the King of Kings of Persia.

OF COURSE, there is a big difference between the two symbols. The State Police car also includes a message which, in effect, says, "We're not kidding; empty car or no empty car, we're very much in evidence."

THE PYRAMIDS, obelisks, etc. were really fabrications promoting the false conception of the divinity of kings.

SYMBOLISM has been very much a part of public relations for thousands of years. It played an important role in ancient Egypt, Sumeria, Babylonia, Assyria and Persia.

IN FACT MOST of what we know of the rules of these despotic monarchies comes from the rulers' attempt to mold public opinion through art and literature. Now 5,000 years later the personal and political publicity of these monarchs continues in existence because most of what we know of them is what they left for us in their statues, temples, pyramids, obelisks and tombs.

WHAT IS disconcerting is that even now, 5,000 years later, many people in positions of influence have not yet learned the lessons of history, including public relations history.

CONGRESSMAN ROONEY of New York just forced the U.S. Department of State to give up a three-car train in Germany, which had been used by the American Ambassador for travel throughout the country for the past 17 years.

MOST IMPORTANT was the train's passage over the soil of Communist East Germany.

"IT (THE TRAIN) symbolizes the U.S. commitment to Berlin," insisted William R. Tyler, Assistant Secretary of State for European Affairs. But Mr. Rooney gave this argument a fast brush. He was interested only in the $119,000 a year the train cost—a bill paid for by the Government of West Germany.

OFTEN IN HISTORY $119,000 or $119 million is a cheap price to pay for a symbol, which could contribute directly or indirectly to increased prestige and maybe even the prevention of a war.

THE NEW YORK State Police seem to have a better sense of public relations symbolism than Rooney. They feel its worth parking an empty $3,000 automobile to save lives. And they're right.

NO LESS AN authority than Edward L. Bernays, the father of modern public relations, agrees with the State Police.

"A PUBLIC relations campaign must reckon with the power of symbols," says Bernays. "A symbol may be defined as a shortcut to understanding and to action. It is the currency of propaganda. It is a word or a picture.

"THE CONNECTION established by the "wets" between the words "racketeer" and "prohibition" undoubtedly influenced public opinion against prohibition. The acceptance of a symbol is emotional and expresses an associative mental process stemming from familiarity."

substantially accurate.

Since this information was given us by persons who insisted upon anonymity, I am afraid we cannot furnish any material that would be helpful to you. I assume your office has collected far more data on the promotion scandal that we have, but since you do not make this information available to the newspapers or the general public, I am not in a position either to agree with or challenge your statement that no organization representing minority group employees is involved. I believe our column item was accurate.

Please note that we did not name an organization, nor did we use the words "civil service," and I cannot agree that the item unjustly criticizes civil service groups.

If you would like to discuss this further, I would be happy to talk it over

Retired Federal Employees Advised On Vets Disability

Retired Federal employees and survivors who are receiving non-service-connected disability pensions from the Veterans Administration were advised recently to check their income figures by Paul Rutheliser, the City's Director of Veterans Affairs. This is necessary because of the increase in Federal pension that is being paid this month. Adjustments in their income may have to be made in order that they may retain their eligibility to receive the VA pension by keeping their total income within the levels prescribed by law.

Retired veterans, widows and other next of kin who receive both the Federal retirement benefits and VA pensions should visit the New York City Division of Veterans Affairs to discuss the matters thoroughly.

The New York City Division of Veterans Affairs is located at 300 West 43rd Street, corner of Eighth Ave., Manhattan, and is open Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Extend Expiration Of Prom. Lists

ALBANY, June 17—The Civil Service Employees Association has urged extension of all State promotion lists which are about to expire and which because of the freeze on promotions, might be detrimental to employees whose appointments have been delayed.

CSEA representatives made the request to the State Civil Service Commission and representatives of the Civil Service Department at the Commission's regular monthly meeting here.

The Association earlier had requested State departments and agencies, where freeze upon promotions is still effective, make similar requests to both the Commission and Civil Service Department.

The Commission stated that they would take the recommendation under consideration.

CITATION. — THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK, By the Grace of God, Free and Independent, To Attorney General of the State of New York; The City of New York, Department of Hospitals; and to "Mary Doe" the name "Mary Doe" being fictitious, the alleged widow of Harry Pietzuch, also known as Harry Pietzuch, deceased, if living and if dead, to the executors, administrators, distributees and assigns of "Mary Doe" deceased, whose names and post office addresses are unknown and cannot after diligent inquiry be ascertained by the petitioner herein; and to the distributees of Harry Pietzuch, also known as Harry Pietzuch, deceased, whose names and post office addresses are unknown and cannot after diligent inquiry be ascertained by the petitioner herein; being the persons interested as creditors, distributees, or otherwise in the estate of Harry Pietzuch, also known as Harry Pietzuch, deceased, who at the time of his death was a resident of 389 Second Avenue, New York, N.Y.

Send GREETING: Upon the petition of The Public Administrator of the County of New York, having his office at Hall of Records, Room 309, Borough of Manhattan, City and County of New York, as administrator of the goods, chattels and credits of said deceased:

You and each of you are hereby cited to show cause before the Surrogate's Court of New York County, held at the Hall of Records, in the County of New York, on the 8th day of July, 1963, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, why the account of proceedings of The Public Administrator of the County of New York, as administrator of the goods, chattels and credits of said deceased, should not be judicially settled.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, We have caused the seal of the Surrogate's Court of the said County of New York to be hereunto affixed.

(Seal) WITNESSES, Honorable S. SAMUEL DE FALCO, a Surrogate of our said County, at the County of New York, the 20th day of May, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and sixty-three.

Philip A. Donahue, Clerk of the Surrogate's Court.

Brown Resigns From Motor Vehicle Post

ALBANY, June 17 — Thomas H. Brown, one of the most popular vote-getters in Rensselaer County during the period in held elective office as an assemblyman and president of the Troy Common Council, has resigned as deputy State Motor Vehicle commissioner.

Brown earlier had been suspended from his post by State Motor Vehicle Commissioner William S. Hulst, while a State Investigation was being conducted into issuance of licenses.

In resigning, Brown wrote Hulst stating he felt the suspension had evidenced a lack of confidence that could not be restored even if he were to be ultimately reinstated.

Montauk Yacht Club Invites Civil Servants To Have "Sun and Fun"

Civil service employees from New York State, New York City and other municipalities have been invited to visit Montauk Yacht Club, one of the oldest and most exclusive "sun and fun resorts" in the world, which opens on Friday, June 21.

This is the first season that the club will be open to non-season members.

Bernard Ward, club manager, said a limited number of rooms and club facilities will be made available to the public although members will continue to enjoy certain privileges reserved for them.

The club is in safe sheltered waters just inside an inlet leading to the Atlantic Ocean and has mooring facilities for more than 60 vessels, ranging from small pleasure craft to ocean-going yachts. Although it is still known as Montauk "Lake" because it actually was a huge fresh-water lake before a breakthrough to the ocean was completed, it has an abundance of fish, scallops, clams, oysters and other marine life.

Ward said the new public policy was in keeping with club plans to operate on a year-around basis. In addition, he said, plans for extensive expansion are being made for the club. These will include a small-boat marina and the construction of more than 100 additional rooms. The new construction is expected to be completed by the spring of 1964 on 16 acres of adjacent land which was recently acquired.

In addition to swimming, boating, water-skiing and fishing the club has cabana and golf shuffle board, sailing and charter boats available for visitors.

The public will be welcomed to make use of the various dining and bar facilities of the club.

For further information interested persons may call the club at 516-MO 8-2121.

Onondaga Installs New Chapter Officers

SYRACUSE, June 17 — Arthur Kasson was recently installed president of the Onondaga County chapter, Civil Service Employees Association, at the annual chapter meeting at McChesney Park.

Kasson and the other newly elected officers were installed by Thomas Dyer, regional attorney for the Association. Other officers elected were: Mrs. Arlene Brady, Mrs. Hilda Young, vice presidents; Mrs. Florence Barnes and Joan Snigg, secretaries; Eleanor Rosbach, treasurer; John Bachman, chapter representative.

Dyer, after the installation ceremonies, explained the duties of a regional attorney and his responsibilities to the individual chapter.

Kasson announced the appointment of Leona Appel, past president, as the chairman of the annual clambake which will be held at Hinderwaleis Grove, September 22.

Civil Engrs.; Prom. Exam

Applications will be accepted until June 25, for the promotion examination to principal civil engineer, by the New York City Department of Personnel. The position is in salary grade 30 and offers a salary range of from $12,000 to $14,500 per annum.

Employees of the Triborough Bridge and Tunnel Authority who have served in the title of senior civil engineer for a period of not less than six months and are not otherwise ineligible may file for this examination.

A principal civil engineer, under executive direction, directs and coordinates the performance of highly responsible supervisory work, or highly difficult and responsible work, in civil engineering.

Typical task includes directing and administering all the engineering functions and activities of a department or agency which engages in a large volume of engineering work and which employs a large force of engineers or architects and subordinate personnel.

Interested persons may obtain applications at the Application Section of the Department of Personnel, 96 Duane St., on Saturdays, until noon and Monday through Friday, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., at no cost. The exam is scheduled for September 25.

Bridge Supervisor Promotion Exam; $6,400-$8,200

A promotion examination to the title of supervisor of bridge operations is being offered to employees of the Department of Public Works by the New York City Department of Personnel.

The position is in salary grade 16, with a salary range of $6,400 to and including $8,200 per annum. There are annual increments and a longevity increment of $300 each. The written test for this title is scheduled for July 22.

Applicants must have been employed in the title of bridge operator-in-charge for a period of not less than six months in order to qualify. The written test will consist of questions pertaining to the operation and maintenance of bridges, supervision of assigned personnel, department's rules and regulations, applicable governmental regulations, inspectional techniques, maintenance of equipment, safety procedures, and other related subjects.

Applications will be issued and received Monday through Friday, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Saturdays, until noon at the Application Section of the Department of Personnel, 96 Duane Street. Filing will remain open until June 19.

CORRECTION CORNER

By CHARLES LAMB

(The views expressed in this column are those of the writer and do not necessarily constitute the views of this newspaper or of any organization).

Salary Increases Imperative Next Year

THE LABOR Department, in its consumer price index report, states that $10.62 is needed this year to purchase what $10.00 would buy last year. In simple terms this means that the average Correction Employee with a $5,000 annual salary should have received, at the very least, a salary increase last April of $300, just to retain their purchasing power of last year.

A SUBSTANTIAL salary increase for State employees this year is a must, and there should be no package deals or fringe benefit substitutions in place of a salary increase. State employees can no longer afford the luxury of fringe benefits to take care of them when they are sick, old, retired or even dead. They need those good old greenbacks in their shrinking pay checks now, not for frills but to pay the butcher, baker and the milkman to keep their families living on a day to day basis right now.

STATE EMPLOYEES cannot afford to be complacent and apathetic when confronted with the Administration's cry of taxes, fees, cutbacks, austerity budgets and all the other crocodile tears reserved for the little people in State service. Most of these employees have been living on austerity and credit budgets for years due to dwindling salaries in state employment and have removed from their vocabulary such words as "Pay as you go."

THE ADMINISTRATION has on many occasions stated that New York has the best, most dedicated employees and could not operate without them. Well it is certainly high time they showed their appreciation, not by bringing them up to salaries paid in private industry as that is just old hat now, but at least up to par with other public jurisdictions.

RESOLUTIONS ARE now being drafted by CSEA chapters throughout the State and the number one resolution from all chapters should be for a salary increase. Don't be backward about the amount requested, or get into the old State rut of asking for one amount and hoping to get half or a quarter of that requested. For once all State employees should coordinate their efforts toward the Salary Resolution and then press hard for its enactment by the Legislature.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY has requested Congress to grant 500 million dollar salary increase for Federal employees. This would be in addition to a raise already approved for these employees on July 1. It was stated the supplemental salary increase is necessary to comply with the Federal Salary Reform Act which declares that Federal pay rates shall be comparable to average rates in private industry. It seems we have heard that old song in Albany, but no law was ever proposed or enacted to make it a reality. Eastern Correctional Institution is sending copies of a retirement resolution affecting all State employees to chapters in all departments throughout the State. They feel this is the year that great improvements can be made in the employees' retirement system providing they work together on one bill. Watch for this resolution and have your members and delegates give serious thoughts to its adoption.

tionable publicity and psychological advantages, which no informed employee would or should accept.

WHEN QUESTIONED about the desired contents of so-called union contracts, Dr. Zander advocated that provisions in laws, rules and regulations covering salaries, retirement benefits, hours of work, and other work conditions of public employees be repealed and that the same provisions be covered under a contract. This, of course, would mean all rights and benefits guaranteed by laws, rules and regulations would have to be surrendered and made subjects to periodic contracts; contracts which, incidentally, never have been able to stand the test of the courts. And we ask, "For what?" The director of personnel in Philadelphia, Foster B. Roser, gives us part of the answer in his statement that "every provision of the contract (with the union) except one, is contained in civil service regulations. The contract with the union is largely an instrument of psychological and prestige value to the union."

More on unions and public employees next week.

Taxation And Finance Department Receives Personnel Council Award For Excellent Management Work

ALBANY, June 17—The New York State Personnel Council's annual award for excellence in a personnel management activity has been presented to the Department of Taxation and Finance by Governor Rockefeller.

The ceremony took place at a luncheon meeting of the Personnel Council, held at the Manger DeWitt Clinton. Accepting the award were Tax Commissioner Joseph H. Murphy and John J. Denn, Jr., director of Personnel for Taxation and Finance.

The award, in the form of a hand illuminated scroll, honors the Department of Taxation and Finance personnel office "for the excellence of its personnel administration program and its contributions to public service in New York State."

Selection of the Department of Taxation and Finance personnel office was based on its work in employee staff development, covering such efforts as: a continuing management staff inventory, management appraisals, and management training consisting of staff development seminars, district tax supervisors' orientation courses, retraining of income tax examiners, and data processing training.

The committee which selected the award-winning personnel program is composed of: Raymond Brunner, personnel director, Albany Medical Center Hospital; Raymond C. Dumser, assistant vice-president for personnel, National Commercial Bank and Trust Company; and James Watson, executive director and National director, National Civil Service League.

Installation

The luncheon meeting also witnessed the installation of a new chairman and executive committee member of the State Personnel Council.

Dr. David S. Price, outgoing council chairman and assistant vice-president for personnel, State University, announced the election of John H. Blendell, director of personnel for the Office of General Services, as council chairman, and William Livingston, director of personnel, State Education Department, as a member of the executive committee.

The Personnel Council comprises the directors of personnel of all departments and agencies of State government.

Newark State Will Hold Annual Dinner

NEWARK, June 17—The social committee at Newark State School, is making plans for their annual dinner at which they will honor the retired employees on June 22, at 6:30 p.m. Twenty-one employees have retired the past year and will be presented with engraved pins and certificates by President Carlyle. The committee anticipates a turnout in excess of 250, so they are having it at Turkey Tom Restaurant on Route 31 west of town. A complete dinner menu with a choice of roast turkey or roast

Suffolk Chapter Meets With Griffing To Discuss Pay Boost, Health Plan

(From Leader Correspondent)

YAPHANK, June 17—Supervisor Evans Griffing of the town of Shelter Island, chairman of the Suffolk County Board of Supervisors, will meet with officials of the Suffolk Chapter Civil Service Employees Association on Thursday, June 20, at the Firematic Training Center.

Thomas Dobbs, president of the Suffolk chapter, calling this meeting "one of the most important meetings in the chapter's history," requested the attendance of not only members of the board of directors but also of all officers of the various CSEA units in the County.

Questions and Answers

The chapter meeting will take the form of a question and answer session, in which Griffing has agreed to discuss various aspects of the County's attitude toward employee problems. It will be the second meeting of its type. The organization previously heard Suffolk County executive H. Lee Dennison.

The meeting with Griffing comes at a time when the chapter has submitted to Griffing and to Dennison its two-point 1963-64 program. This calls for a 15 percent across-the-board pay increase and the adoption by the County of the State health insurance plan. The Suffolk chapter is expected this year to take a militant attitude in its dealing with county officials.

Dobbs said that groups of county employees would be formed into committees to call upon their home town supervisors to seek their support for the CSEA requests.

Buffalo Chapter To Install Slate

BUFFALO, June 17 — Buffalo chapter, CSEA will install 1963-64 officer June 20 at a dinner dance in the Sheraton Motor Inn. Cocktails will be served at 7 p.m. and dinner, an hour later.

Buffalo Parks Commissioner Albert C. Killian fifth CSEA vice-president, will be the installing officer.

A ballot mailed to all members by the nominating committee includes this slate of officers:

President, John Hennessey; first vice-president, Mary Gormley and Rose Sims; second vice-president, Mary Cannell and Robert Jones; treasurer, James Moscato and Louis Mazzarella; corresponding secretary, Marilyn Gibavicz and Loretta Connolly and recording secretary, Jack Zadijka and Mary Brady.

Tickets for the dinner-dance are $3.50. Mrs. Mary Gormley is social chairman.

Association Seeks Upgrading Of Correction Food Service Aides; Cite Additional Duties

(Special to the Leader)

ALBANY, June 17—The Civil Service Employees Association has recently submitted an appeal to the Division of Classification and Compensation of the Department of Civil Service seeking the reclassification and reallocation of cook, baker and meat cutter titles in the Department of Correction.

In filing the appeal, which was started by food service workers at the Woodburn Correctional Institution, CSEA cited the dual role of these workers, claiming that "they have in addition to their regular duties and responsibilities an added duty which requires them to be responsible for the conduct and welfare of inmates assigned to work under their supervision in institution kitchens and bakeries."

The request calls for the following changes:

Assistant cook, grade 5 to assistant cook (Correction), grade 8; assistant baker, grade 5 to assistant baker (Correction), grade 8; cook, grade 8 to cook (Correction), grade 11; baker, grade 8 to baker (Correction), grade 11; head cook, grade 11 to head cook (Correction), grade 14; head baker, grade 11 to head baker (Correction), grade 14; meat cutter, grade 8 to meat cutter (Correction), grade 11 and food service manager, grade 15 to food service manager (Correction), grade 18.

In One Month Period Union Official's Son Averaged 100 Hour Week

(From Leader Correspondent)

ROCHESTER, June 17—The son of Jack Cicotte, organizer for the American Federation of State, County, and Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO, averaged 100 hours a week for a month last winter in his job as a city public works department maintenance mechanic.

It was disclosed here that John Cicotte, the son, worked 107 hours, 118 hours, 74 hours, and 103 hours, respectively, during the four weeks ending February 16th.

During the six days ending January 26, the $1.97-an-hour mechanic was paid for the following time: Monday, 10 hours; Tuesday, 15; Wednesday, 22; Thursday, 24; Friday, 20; Saturday, 16.

For the 22 weeks ending May 25th, the younger Cicotte worked only three weeks of less than 60 hours each.

Assistant City Manager John C. Williams said there is no doubt Cicotte did the work. He said no favoritism was involved in the hours worked by the mechanic because his father is a union official.

The APSCME local is the sole bargaining agent for city employees other than supervisory personnel and uniformed firemen and policemen.

James Tops On Three State Examinations

The results of three recent clerical promotion examinations given by the New York State Department of Civil Service, reveals that Frank James has placed first on all three lists.

James scored 98.8 on the chief clerk, jurors exam; 91.8 on the chief clerk (L&E) exam and 97.8 on the head clerk exam.

ALBANY, June 10—State Commerce Commissioner Keith S. McHugh recently announced the appointment of Paul Manning, a public relations consultant in the Department, as assistant deputy commissioner, Division of Public Information at an annual salary of $16,000 per annum.

Erie County Members Hear Feily, Glinski And Rath At Installation Dinner

BUFFALO, June 17—State Senator Frank J. Glinski and Joseph F. Feily, president of the Civil Service Employees Association, were two of the honored guests at the recent installation dinner of the Erie County chapter at the Adam Plewacki Post.

The dinner marked the installation of the chapter officers and the new officers of all ten of the units in the chapter. In addition to the installation, members of the chapter were honored with merit and service awards.

Rath Shows Growth

Featured speaker during the evening was County Executive Edward A. Rath, who outlined the accomplishments and growth of the Erie chapter. Rath also mentioned that, in his opinion, the civil servant received small return for the services he rendered to the community.

Feily, in his remarks, discussed the activities of the CSEA and its accomplishments. He congratulated Erie chapter on its developments and growth.

Senator Glinski also congratulated Erie chapter and extended his support for all future CSEA legislation.

Erie chapter officers who were installed by Vernon Tapper, third vice president of the Association were: Alexander T. Burke, president, for the fifth time; Robert Dobstaff, first vice president; Linda Vroman, second vice presi-

Broome County Wants to Halt Dual Employment by Aides In County, Other Municipalities

(From Leader Correspondent)

BINGHAMTON, June 17—Some Civil Service employees for Broome County may be asked to discontinue jobs which they hold for other municipalities.

Among them are a senior engineer in the County Highway Department and the deputy county aviation commissioner.

Henry M. Baldwin, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, wants to eliminate the dual job status of persons who work both for the county and for other municipalities within the county.

Baldwin said he would like to see such a prohibition included in a new county charter being studied.

He said he would make an exception in the rule for town supervisors, who by law are both town and county officers.

He said the dual responsibilities of some county employees might involve "conflicts of interest."

Baldwin said, however, that any rule covering competitive Civil Service employees would have to be compatible with Civil Service regulations bearing on job-holders' rights.

Some of the dual job-holders include: Curtis J. Nickerson, senior engineer in the highway department, a member of the Town of Dickinson Planning Board;

Deputy Aviation Commissioner, Francis P. Vavra, a member of the Town of Chenango Zoning Board of Appeals;

Francis C. Flynn, Jr., investigator for the district attorney, chairman of the Town of Kirkwood Zoning Board of Appeals;

First Assistant District Attorney Herbert A. Kline is attorney for the Town of Kirkwood; and

A. Taylor Lord, executive secretary of the Broome County Civil Service Commission, is a member of the Town of Dickinson Planning Board.

dent; Neil Cummings, third vice president; Violet Frost, recording secretary; Alfred Neri, financial secretary; Adele Engler, treasurer; Frank Burke, sergeant-at-arms; and John P. Quinn, county representative.

Al Burke was awarded a plaque for merit and leadership from Joseph Feily, and a plaque from the Government Employees Exchange Stores for public service from Robert Stelley, a public relations officer from the firm.

Merit Awards

Members of the chapter who received merit awards were: John P. Quinn, Edward Stumpf, Frank Festa, Adele Engler, Robert Dobstaff, and Michael Faust. These awards were made by Albert Killian, first vice president of the CSEA.

Members of the chapter who received 25-year pins for public service were announced by Claude Rowell, fifth vice president of the CSEA.

Other guests at the dinner were: Henry Gdula, CSEA field representative and Donald Neff, Erie County personnel director.

Rochester Salaries

13026; Avg. increment value $572; present salary—Flat $16275;

Proposed salary plan, group 35 —$15106, 15730, 16614, 17316, 18122; avg. increment value $754.

Under the proposal, Howe's salary would go from $22,050 to $24,440, a step in a bracket with a high of $28,288. Other raises: county health director, $19,950 to $21,086; welfare director and public works director, $17,445 to $19,032; parks director, $16,275 to $17,316.

Sheriff's deputies (not civil service) and penitentiary guards would get a 42-hour week, reduced from 48. A net reduction in 80 county jobs is forecast.

Maximum annual salaries in the lowest brackets, 1 through 15, are raised between $139 for bracket 1 to $56 for bracket 15.
