PROFESSOR SAYLES TALK ON GIFT TO SCHOOL IN JUNIOR ASSEMBLY

An assembly program was conducted yesterday at 11:30 o'clock for the whole junior high school. This took the place of what was to be an eighth grade assembly.

Professor gave a talk about the gift to the school. Mr. Lithgow, a famous Albany artist, has made a sketch of a possible panel for the library walls. The panel when complete will tell the history of Albany. If this gift is adopted, each year an amount will be set aside to add another panel.

The orchestra played several selections. The next assembly will be for the eighth grade, November 10, at 11:30.

SEVENTH GRADE CLASSES VISIT EDUCATION BUILDING EXHIBITS

The seventh grade classes have taken trips to the State Education Building during the last week.

The classes are studying Indians and have an exhibition of Indian relics in room 135. While at the Education building, they visited the room set aside for Indian relics and also saw the special life-size Indian group scenes in the museum.

BOYS PRACTICE FOR TEAM

The members of the junior high school team probably will be Stan Manton, center, Ralph Norvell, guard, Fred Carr, guard, Douglas McHarg, forward, and Bud Fales, forward, according to the effort and teamwork they have been showing at basketball practices this year.

JURY ACCUSE BARBARA BIRCHENOUGH
 GUILTY OF SERIOUS CRIMES

Barbara Birchenough, leader of notorious gang, was proved guilty of smuggling diamonds, opium and alcohol, by District Attorney Billy Friedman and his assistant, Billy Ford. She was sentenced to six months in the state prison by Judge Sroka. The jury consisting of John Graham, Doris Shultes, Virginia Sipperly, Carl Sundler, Robert Ely, and Carolyn Hallenbeck, took some time to decide this case. The attorney for the defence was Leo Minkin and his assistant, Robert Mapes.

Diamonds and a bottle of alcohol were shown by the District Attorney as evidence against the defendant. The defendant showed tickets to the Army-William and Mary football game as evidence that she was there the day the smuggling took place. The witnesses were John Winne, James Nesbitt, Jane Fanning, Gordon Wendell and Virginia McDermott.

LET'S BE PROUD OF IT!

This year Milne high school is organizing a school orchestra which seems to be coming along well. What it needs is more talent. And to make it really successful, you as the student body must support it.

Wouldn't it be fine when the next time you walk into assembly to find a fine school orchestra playing for us? Yes! It could happen! with a little cooperation. Other schools have them and they are very successful. Look at Albany High with its three orchestras. Why let Albany High beat us; we have as high a school spirit as they have. Let's cooperate and have an orchestra.

Think what this will mean to have one for our assemblies and to hear other schools say: Look! at the fine orchestra Milne has. Our orchestra will succeed if you unite talent and time. "Music Hath Charms."

ANOTHER STEP FORWARD

Student Council has been asked to organize a Lost and Found department under the direction of a single person.

Don't get alarmed. This was only a mock trial put on by the eighth o'clock ninth grade Social Science class Monday morning. It was a project for the topic of smuggling which the class is now studying. R.M.

HOME ROOMS HAVE PARTIES

Several Junior High school home rooms conducted parties last Monday to celebrate Halloween. Room 233 had cider, cakes, and candy for refreshments. The room was decorated with dry cornstalks and a pumpkin. They laid newspapers on the floor and desks. Most of the girls were in costume. Rooms 135 and 124 also had parties.
