Parkway Police Will Take Final Appeal To Full Grievance Board

BABYLON, April 9—The Long Island State Parkway Police, whose appeal for summer vacations has been denied by the State Conservation Department, will make a final appeal to the State Grievance Board.

The rejection by the Conservation Department was the third turn-down of efforts by the police to win approval for summer vacations.

Currently, they are limited to vacations between September and June. Their appeals previously were rejected by the Parkway Police and the Long Island State Park Commission.

The Conservation Department ruling was made by Review Officer L. L. Huttleston, director of State Parks, who presided at a recent hearing on the matter.

Apply to Nine Units

In his findings, Huttleston said that restrictions against summer vacations applied in nine regional park commissions. He added, "This restriction is prevalent not so much a regulation as it is an understood condition of employment, mutually apparent to both park employees and supervisors."

He added, "Park employees work when the public plays. Indeed, they work because the public plays."

Huttleston's findings were greeted with "extreme disappointment" by Ptl. Stan Grala, president of the Parkway Police chapter, Civil Service Employees Association. He denied the accuracy of Huttleston's findings and noted that some Long Island State Park Commission employees do get summer vacations.

He called on the LISPC to grant some summer vacations to police officers on an experimental basis. The officers claim that additional summer help allows for the summer vacations.

Erie Aides May Get Raises Soon

BUFFALO, April 9 — Erie County members of the Civil Service Employees Association, who have waited patiently for many weeks for pay increases, may "get the word" by the end of this month.

Usually informed sources predicted today that the country's 6,000 employees will get the results of a salary survey report by Barrington Associates which will mean larger pay checks—before May 1.

The report—when it is complete—will be submitted to the Board of Supervisors for approval.

This is the third survey of the county wage structure and classifications by Barrington, a New York City concern.

CSEA representatives, headed by Alexander Burke, president of the Erie chapter, formally requested wage increases and upgrading in many classifications at county wage hearings.

CSEA Aides Wins After Successful Legislative Session

ALBANY, April 9—The Civil Service Employees Association, after a highly successful legislative session, is still tallying its individual victories this week.

Heading the CSEA measures, which have already been signed by the Governor or are awaiting his signature, are bills dealing with retirement, salaries, grievance machinery, State Police, moving expenses, displacements by automation, Saturday closings, and unemployment insurance.

One of the CSEA's chief accomplishments was passage of the so-called "death gamble" bill, which cleared the Legislature the day before adjournment, March 31. Another measure that hung in the balance until the next to last day of the session was the bill which mandates grievance machinery for the state's political subdivisions.

Among legislation already signed by the Governor are the State Police bills, which authorize a 40-hour work week for troopers and establish a new increment range and longevity steps, as well as the bill which extends for another year the five percentage point program for members of the State Retirement System who are state employees and permissive authority for those in political subdivisions.

Other CSEA retirement legislation includes bills which would improve the death benefit of survivors of deceased state employees; improve supplemental pensions for retired employees; and provide higher interest rates for members of the Retirement System.

Among other measures of major interest to state employees are the salary bill, which provides for a five per cent, across-the-board pay hike, effective August 1, the moving expense bill, which liberalizes last year's statute; and the bill that provides some financial protection to permanent state employees in allocated positions which are abolished.

In addition to the grievance

CSEA Opposes 60-Year State Police Retirement

Joseph F. Feily, president of the Civil Service Employees Association, has written to Governor Rockefeller expressing the Association's opposition to a mandatory 60-year retirement for State Police members.

A bill mandating the sixty-year retirement was passed in the recent legislative session.

"This bill is clearly unconstitutional," he said. "I cannot believe that the Governor believes in forcing an individual to retire at age sixty and take his retirement allowance."

machinery bill for political subdivisions, which headed CSEA's County Division legislative program, major measures affecting political subdivisions include the Saturday closing bill, which provides for the first time clear legislative authority to public offices in all local governments to shut their doors on Saturdays, and an amendment to the labor law which permits municipalities to choose either a cost or rate basis for payment of unemployment insurance coverage.

A bill-by-bill summary of employee legislation follows:

Death Gamble

The death gamble bill moved smoothly through the Senate during the last week of the session but was stalled in the Assembly's Rules Committee until the last moment.

This measure for which the Civil Service Employees Association pulled out all stops affects only employees who stay in service beyond their retirement age, under either the 55-year plan or the 60-year plan, as well as members under the 25-year or 20-year plans.

Until the passage of this measure such an employee assumed certain risks of an unequitable nature particularly where he was induced to stay on in service beyond retirement age for the benefit of his employer.

The risk was that if he failed to live through the 30-day waiting period necessary for retirement, his "initial reserves" might well be in excess of the ordinary death benefit plus the return of his own accumulated contributions which he would receive if he died during or before the 30-day waiting period had expired.

This risk was greatly lessened several years ago when Governor Rockefeller signed the two-year death benefit which brought into much closer relationship the death benefit an employee would receive if he died while in service and the initial reserves account which an employee or his beneficiary would receive after retirement.

Nevertheless, in some cases, the ordinary death benefit plus the accumulated contributions were considerably less than the "initial

G.I. Home Loans

VETERANS OF World War II or of the Korean Conflict Period, or their unremarried widows may qualify for a guaranteed or insured loan to purchase, construct, or improve a home.

THE CERTIFICATE of eligibility (VA Form 26-1870) is the medium by which VA certifies as to the eligibility of veterans. Each certificate of eligibility now issued shows the expiration date of the entitlement of the veteran. However, on many outstanding certificates the expiration dates do not appear because such certificates were issued prior to the enactment of Public Law 87-84, approved July 6, 1961, which provided for the phase-out of veterans' entitlement.

IN CASES where the certificate of eligibility does not contain a date of entitlement, it is the veteran's responsibility to make arrangements to obtain his terminal date, and have it recorded on his certificate of eligibility.

Terminal Dates

LOAN REPORTS or applications for loans to be guaranteed or insured (or made) by VA must be received before the expiration (terminal) date of the particular veteran's entitlement indicated on the veteran's certificate of eligibility.

ELIGIBILITY requirements for veterans of World War II are: (a) active military or naval service on or after September 16, 1940, and prior to July 26, 1947; (b) a discharge or separation under other than dishonorable conditions; and (c) at least 90 days' total service, unless discharged earlier for disability.

AN ELIGIBLE World War II veteran's entitlement will expire 10 years from the date of discharge or release from his last period of active duty, any part of which occurred in World War II, plus an additional period equal to 1 year for each 3 months of active duty in World War II. Unless he uses all of his entitlement before July 25, 1962, no eligible World War II veteran's entitlement will expire before that date, regardless of his length of service. However, in no case will the entitlement of an eligible World War II veteran extend beyond July 25, 1967.

World War II

IN THE FOLLOWING cases, entitlement will not expire until July 25, 1967, for eligible World War II veterans, notwithstanding the length of the active duty performed by the veterans:

- Veterans discharged or released for a service-connected disability from a period of active duty, any part of which occurred in World War II.

- Veterans whose entitlement has been recomputed.

• Unremarried widows of veterans who died from a service-connected disability in a period of active duty, any part of which occurred during World War II.

• Unremarried widows of veterans who were discharged or released for a service-connected disability from a period of active duty, any part of which occurred during World War II.

ELIGIBILITY requirements for veterans of the Korean-conflict period are: (a) discharge or separation under other than dishonorable conditions; (b) active military or naval service at any time on or after June 27, 1950, and prior to February 1, 1955; and (c) at least 90 days' total service, unless discharged earlier for disability.

THE EXPIRATION of an eligible Korean-conflict veteran's entitlement is governed by the same formula that applies to eligible World War II veterans, i.e., 10 years from discharge or release from active duty in the Korean conflict, plus an additional period equal to 1 year for each 3 months of active duty in that conflict. Unless he uses all of his entitlement before January 31, 1965, an eligible Korean-conflict veteran will not have his entitlement expire before January 31, 1965, regardless of length of service. However, in no case will the entitlement of an eligible Korean-conflict veteran continue beyond January 31, 1975.

Korean Conflict

IN THE FOLLOWING cases, entitlement will not expire until January 31, 1975, for eligible Korean-conflict veterans, notwithstanding the length of the active duty performed by the veterans:

- Veterans discharged or released for a service-connected disability from a period of active duty, any part of which occurred in the Korean conflict.

• Veterans whose entitlement has been recomputed.

• Unremarried widows of veterans who died from a service-connected disability in a period of active duty, any part of which occurred during the Korean conflict.

• Unremarried widows of veterans who were discharged or released for a service-connected disability from a period of active duty, any part of which occurred during the Korean conflict.

THE MAXIMUM entitlement available to any eligible veteran for a home loan is $7,500. Interest rates on these loans may not exceed 5 1/4 per cent per year.

Your Public Relations IQ

By LEO J. MARGOLIN

(Mr. Margolin is Adjunct Professor of Public Relations in the New York University School of Public Administration and is a vice-president of the public relations firm of Martial & Company, Inc.)

The Publics

PUBLIC RELATIONS works through "publics." If all "publics" are aware of an organization's good performance in the public interest, there is good public relations.

CIVIL SERVICE is just as important a "public" as the many, many "publics" it serves—the taxpayer "public," the businessman "public," the legislator "public," the auto driver "public," the sport-lover "public," the children "public," the farmer "public," etc.

IN ADDITION to being a voter "public," a newspaper-reading "public," a TV-watching "public," a taxpayer "public," a parents "public," civil service is a most important consumer "public."

IT IS ONE of the reasons that the great and powerful civil servant "public" should give special attention to the Federal Government's proposed policy for a freer world trade.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY, ever mindful of the effective uses of public relations, wants the United States of America to take the initiative in world trade so that we can shape events instead of being shaped by them. He wants us to influence the European Common Market in the direction of freer trade and mutual expansion.

WHAT TURN America's future foreign trade policy takes will inevitably affect all "publics." Thus, it is urgent for all of us to be intelligent members of the citizen "public," and add our voices in favor of a foreign trade policy which could lead us along the road to a prosperity greater than we've ever known.

OF SPECIAL interest to students of intelligent public relations is the fact that the President is not leaving to chance the success of his proposals. He has organized a public relations task force to tell the story of his proposed foreign trade policy to the thousands of different "publics" comprising the United States of America.

THE CAMPAIGN is a strong one. Like all good public relations programs, it is based on fact built on fact to construct a weather-proof case for his new trade program as a new national policy, which inevitably will lead to a new era of American prestige in the world.

1962 Legislative Session

THIS COLUMN DEALS with the annual session of the State Legislature that came to a close 10 days ago. The column is not meant to be a detail-by-detail assessment of our wins and losses—that will come later—but what could be called CSEA's legislative valedictory.

WE—OFFICERS, COMMITTEE, staff and individual members of the Association—began preparing for this past session last April, the day following adjournment of the 1961 Legislature. The road leading to opening day of the late session was a hodge-podge of long, easily traversed stretches; narrow, twisting curves; slow-downs; dead-ends and detours. Somehow we arrived at opening day of the 1962 Legislature with a clear-cut and concise list of resolutions that our membership believed needed legislative action. Some of the resolutions were holdovers from past years; others were last minute additions; some were needed by only a fraction of our 100,000 members; all were constructed with sincerity.

WE ENTERED THE SESSION with one purpose: to accomplish our program. No day passed without a triumph or a frustration of one kind or another. We made new friends and renewed old. Encountered unsuspected opposition and received help from unexpected quarters. We argued, fought, cajoled and pleaded. At times, when we had nothing left to offer and our case seemed doomed, we relied on our reputation to pull us through. Mostly, it did.

WE MET OPEN HOSTILITY from the same groups who, year in and year out, seem dedicated to thwarting the Association's efforts rather than to promoting the needs of their own membership.

AS THE SESSION LENGTHENED from days into weeks and months we saw a successful climax to our efforts begin to take shape. With the end just a few days off, however, measures we needed approval for to be assured of a profitable session were caught up in the usual last minute rush. Somehow, with a cooperation born of necessity, we managed to avert by hours what could have amounted to shattering defeats.

I WILL NOT ATTEMPT here to measure the full extent of our achievements in the 1962 Legislature, other than to say they were considerable. I will say, though, "thank you" to everyone who contributed to our efforts.

Buffalo Chapter To Meet April 11, See Film on Hawaii

Members of the Buffalo chapter, Civil Service Employees Association, who are interested in taking the Hawaiian tour, will have a chance to see films on Hawaii and ask questions of a tour representative on April 14 at the State Office Building at 1 p.m.

This was announced by John Hennessey, Buffalo chapter president, in connection with the Chapter's April 11 meeting, which will be held at the Forty & Eight Club, 891 Delaware Ave., Buffalo.

The Chapter has urged that all delegates alert the members of their departments to be present. Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

Hennessey, at the last meeting in March, went over the varied legislative bills which were discussed at the annual State meeting in Albany.

The Chapter has reported a large attendance of State employees from the Buffalo area, at the annual communion breakfast held on March 25. Approximately 370 members met in a body for Mass and then had breakfast at the Knights of Columbus hall.

The huge crowd filled the ballroom and particular thanks should be given to John E. Gentry who acted as Toastmaster. The Rev. Georges, Professor of Philosophy at St. John Vianney Seminary, was the speaker.

Appreciation was also extended by Mr. Hennessey to Mrs. Mary Gormley, social charman, and her Staff for the excellent party that was held on St. Patrick's Day.

Islip Town Unit To Elect April 17

The Town of Islip unit of the Civil Service Employees Association will hold an election on Tuesday, April 17, at 8 p.m., in the Islip Town Hall.

President Thomas B. Dobbs heads the slate selected by the nominating committee.

Other positions to be filled and candidates are as follows: vice-president, Harold Hoek; treasurer, Margaret B. Dugoniths; secretary, Nina L. Holmes; sergeant-at-arms, Ernest Gale; Board of directors, Florence McCoy and Fred Conzen.

Health Plan Operations Detailed At Meeting Of Capital Conference

ALBANY, April 9—More than 100 members and guests heard the "A to Z" of health insurance at a recent meeting of the Capital District Conference of the Civil Service Employees Association at Jack's Restaurant, Albany.

Guest speakers were Edward Meacham, Director of the Personnel Services Division of the State Civil Service Department, who spoke on the State Health Insurance Plan, and David Essex, Capital District Supervisor for Ter Bush & Powell, who discussed the accident and sickness plan underwritten for CSEA members by Travelers and administered by his agency.

At a business meeting following the speakers, the conference elected a nominating committee for its annual elections and chose Lake George as the site for its annual meeting, June 23.

State Health Program

Meacham outlined the four main points of the state's health program:

"Participation, benefits, costs and problems." He said the program, when opened in 1957, covered some 72,000 employees and 150,000 dependents and had almost doubled in the past four years. Total employees now covered is about 175,000, of whom 101,000 are employed in 500 local agencies.

The percentage of retired employees enrolled is 4.2 and growing, he said, adding that because of this retiree increase, the program cost to each enrollee also will increase.

Meacham revealed that in the recent open transfer period, there were less than 1,000 changes. He said there probably would be additional opportunities in the future for transfer from one to another of the three programs administered by the state. They are The Statewide Plan, GHI and HIP.

Costs

Speaking of costs, Meacham said that, based on present benefits and other factors, enrollees could anticipate an increase of from five to seven per cent a year in the future.

Some of the problems influencing the state programs, are blood costs (especially in the Capital District Area where there is no blood bank); late enrollments, and evaluation of program, the personnel services chief said.

On the positive side, he said that the "state and local subdivision employees of New York have a health program as complete and competent as any program in the country."

Ter Bush & Powell

Essex said there were 40,000 CSEA members now taking advantage of the income and insurance protection offered to them by Travelers. He reminded his listeners that the benefits from this program are in addition to sick leave benefits and workmen's compensation. He said "the answer to the question 'Why is this coverage needed?' is that extra money always is needed in time of sickness."

Essex explained that any type of sickness or accident is covered under the plan and that $1.5 million in claims is paid yearly.

Elected to the conference's nominating committee were Russell Taylor, Arnold Davis, Dorothy Honeywell, Ruth Brannon and George Grover.

Leo Doherty, of the Education Department Chapter, said the chapter is sponsoring the appearance of Cornelius Otis Skinner, April 27, at Chancellors Hall, the proceeds of which will be used for the post-high school education of a child or dependent of a member of the chapter. Individual or party tickets for the event may be obtained from Doherty.

Deloras Fussell, Conference president, presided at the meeting. Guests were introduced by Michael Petruska, program chairman.

Among the guests were Joseph F. Feily, CSEA President, and Theodore Wenzl, CSEA treasurer.

Manuel Murcia Named Counsel In Correction Dept.

ALBANY, April 9—Assistant Attorney General Manuel T. Murcia of East Greenbush has begun a new career. He is the new counsel to the State Correction Department. His salary is $13,680 a year.

Since 1952, when he joined the Law Department staff, he has worked closely with State Correction Department officials and has handled much of the legal work of the department.

Rochester CS Problems Up In the Air

(From Leader Correspondent)

ROCHESTER, April 9 — The Democratic majority of the Rochester City Council has passed legislation asking the State Legislature to allow the city to set up its own Civil Service Commission.

The action was the latest step in an inter-party fight which started when the lame duck Republic council abolished the Municipal Civil Service Commission in December and transferred its functions to the county administration.

Democratic Assemblyman Charles F. Stockmeister of Monroe County has introduced a bill in Albany to amend the permissive legislation to enable the city to rescind the transfer.

The City Council recreated the Municipal Civil Service Commission in January and City Manager Henry H. Dutcher is expected to appoint three commissioners soon. A jurisdictional conflict seems to be in the making and may have to be resolved in the courts.

Last week Dr. Joseph L. Guzzetta, county commission chairman, said in a statement that the city wants its own Civil Service commission so it "can operate regardless of the law . . ."

He said he understands two Democratic appointees who were refused salary payments by the county commission are working and, he understands, are being paid.

State A&M Aide Handy With Rifle

ALBANY, April 9 — Inspector Harold Chapman of the State Department of Agriculture and Markets is a good man with a rifle. He shot a black bear recently that weighed 425 pounds and was six feet long.

Adequate Wage for Buffalo City Aides Still Pushed By Erie County CSEA Team

BUFFALO, April 9—Adequate wage increases for Buffalo city employees are "necessary and just" spokesmen for the Erie chapter, Civil Service Employees Association, have emphasized to Mayor Chester Kowal.

The mayor's proposed budget ties in wage increases with plans to increase city revenues. Such proposals, which face legislative hurdles, include an increase in water rates and an increase in the current 1% Erie County sales tax.

Mayor Kowal and leaders of his administration have given first wage increase priority to policemen.

At Budget Hearing

The CSEA unit's position was made clear at a budget hearing conducted by Mayor Kowal.

Charles Sandler, CSEA regional counsel, said the CSEA is "solidly behind the efforts of the uniformed personnel for an increase." "But," he added, "we feel that it is clear that all employees are equally beset by the woes of increased costs of living."

Mr. Sandler's views were echoed by Alexander T. Burke, chapter president, and Raymond Doney, president of the Buffalo Competitive unit.

Survey Sought

The CSEA attorney, making clear the CSEA stand, urged equal raises for all employees. He said the chapter is on record as favoring the sales tax approach to increased revenues rather than higher local property taxes.

The CSEA will recommend a survey by experts to determine salaries if the administration produces a disproportionate division of salary increases, he emphasized.

A Promise

THIS week, representatives of 40,000 uniformed civil service employees told Mayor Wagner to stop backing out of his promises.

The Uniformed Fireman's Association, the Patrolman's Benevolent Association and the Uniformed Fire Officers Association are expressing deep disappointment at the Mayor's fiscal offers, or rather, lack of them.

The Mayor, in June 1961, asked the three groups to hold their requests for salary increases until this year. He said that the 1962-63 budget would include their requests for a new salary scale and benefits.

The Mayor has also promised all New York City employees a choice of health insurance plans, with the city paying half of the cost of the premiums.

Representatives of two of the groups have now been told that there is no money for their increases this year and that they will have to wait another year, while the third group, representing the fire officers, has not even received an answer to their request for a bargaining session.

These groups are bargaining in good faith. They lived up to their promise to wait a year before submitting new salary proposals.

Now, their requests for new bargaining sessions should be recognized and a mutually agreeable package discussed. A promise is a promise.

Questions Answered On Social Security

Below are questions on Social Security problems sent in by our readers and answered by a legal expert in the field. Anyone with a question on Social Security should write it out and send it to the Social Security Editor, Civil Service Leader, 97 Duane St., New York 7, N. Y.

I hired a lady the first week in January this year to clean my house each Saturday. I pay her $6 a Saturday for this work. Do I have to file a social security tax return showing the wages I pay to this lady who works only one day a week?

Yes. If a domestic worker is paid $50 or more in a calendar quarter, the wages must be reported under social security. The social security tax return for the first calendar quarter of this year (January, February, and March) is due by April 30th.

I am an unmarried woman born on June 19, 1898, who applied for social security benefits in October of 1960. At that time my claim was turned down as I had only 10 quarters of coverage and needed 12 quarters. Has there been any changes in the law which would now qualify me for benefits?

There certainly has! In 1961, the social security law was amended, reducing the number of quarters needed by a woman born in 1898 from 12 quarters to 9 quarters. The effective date of this change was for monthly benefits beginning August 1961. Persons previously denied social security benefits because they did not have sufficient quarters, should recheck with their social security office to determine whether they can now qualify for benefits.

I became age 72 in April 1961. I returned to work in May 1961, and earned over $1,200 in the remainder of the year. Do I have to file a report of my 1961 earnings with the Social Security Administration?

Yes. A beneficiary must file an annual report of earnings for any year in which he was under age 72 in any part of the year and his earnings for the year exceeded $1,200. In figuring your total earnings for the year, you must include earnings both before and after age 72. The annual report must be filed with the Social Security Administration by April 15, 1962, at the latest.

If I hire a part-time cleaning woman, must I pay Social Security tax on her wages?

All household employees are covered by Social Security if they receive from an employer cash wages of $50 or more in a calendar quarter. For detailed information for employers of household workers, ask your nearest Social Security office for Leaflet OASI-21.

I became age 65 in July 1961, and began receiving social security benefits at that time. In determining my earnings for the year under the social security retirement test, do I count my earnings for the entire year or only my earnings after age 65?

For retirement test purposes, you must include ALL earnings during the year regardless of when your benefits began or terminated. If your total earnings for 1961 exceeded $1,200, you must file an annual report of earnings with the Social Security Administration by April 15, 1962.

Retired Clerk Asks For Insurance

Editor, The Leader

Warns Against Police Merger

Editor, The Leader

Your story in last week's Leader concerning the proposed merger of the Transit Authority Police Department with the City Police should serve as a warning to all New York City policemen to be on their guard against the move.

If this were to occur, our pension fund would be depleted by their addition; our promotions would be slowed and we would be under officers who received their entire police training riding in the subway.

Education Unit Cites Retirees' Long Service

Special commemorative certificates have been awarded for the first time this year by the Civil Service Employees Association Education chapter to employees of the State Education Department who completed 20 or more years of service on December 31, 1961.

Almost fifty persons received the awards in recognition of 20, 25, 30, 35, 40 or 45 years of service. In announcing the inauguration of these awards, Leo D. Doherty, president of the Education chapter, stated that it is planned to continue sending the certificates annually.

In past years the Education Department has regularly presented recognition awards to its employees who have completed twenty or more years of employment, but has not included certificates of award. The Education chapter therefore has inaugurated this practice as an accompanying expression of appreciation.

Of the total number of certificates awarded, thirteen were received by persons who had completed 20 years of service; eight by those with 25 years of service; eleven with 30 years; ten with 35 years; five with 40 years; and two to persons having more than 40 years. In each case, a letter from the Chapter president, expressing congratulations and best wishes, accompanied the certificate.

Civil Service LAW & YOU

By HAROLD L. HERZSTEIN

Mr. Herzstein is a member of the New York bar

(The views expressed in this column are those of the writer and not necessarily constitute the views of this newspaper or of any organization.)

Check Yourself First

ANYTIME A civil service commission grades a test, the people who take it have a right to have the correctness of their answers reviewed by a court. That goes for any original test and any promotional test. The time period in which an employee seeking a promotion or a person seeking to become an employee must start his action is "within four months after the determination to be reviewed becomes final and binding" and no later. (Civil Practice Act, Section 1286).

WHEN DOES the determination become "final and binding"? Please remember that the four months limitation in which to start the action starts to run from that time. If in doubt as to the starting time, it is a good idea to select the earliest time and to start the review proceedings promptly rather than to wait with time running against you. This has become an important question to many persons, as more of them select review procedures; and my suggestion should be remembered.

O'NEILL CASE IS OUT

O'Neill v. Schechter, decided in 1959 by the Court of Appeals, 5 N. Y. 2d 548, is a dangerous case to go by because the situation on which employees won has been corrected by the Civil Service Commission. In that case, both the Supreme Court and the Appellate Division denied the employee's motion for relief. The Court of Appeals, by a five to two vote, reversed those courts and agreed with the employees. It wrote that the time to run did not begin when the final answers were published in the City Record on March 26th. The reason was because the employee had not been apprised of that fact until the end of the examination—which was too late. Consequently, the starting date for the four months was a later date, and the men were all right.

The O'Neill case no longer applies and will no longer help employees. New York City has clarified its regulations so that the case will count no longer.

NICHOLSON vs. LANG

The fact that the O'Neill case will not mean much from now on was pointed out by Judge Aurelio in Nicholson v. Lang (N.Y. Law Journal, 3/15/61, page 13). In that case Mr. Nicholson had taken a civil service examination for tractor operator. He had failed and he commenced a lawsuit to get credit for certain answers on which he had been marked wrong. He began his action more than four months after final publication of the key answers in the City Record. The Court held the application untimely, and explained the situation, as follows:

In the O'Neill case, the Court of Appeals based its decision solely on the fact that petitioners were not fairly informed that they were aggrieved by respondent's choice of answers, until notified of their grades on the examination, because of faulty instructions on the first page of their test papers. Since that determination, made in April, 1959, respondents have changed the instructions on all of their examination papers, including the one taken by the petitioner, to eliminate the defeat in notice as to competitors making copies of their answers before leaving the examination room. Petitioner, therefore, was fully informed—and he does not deny it—of the time limitation imposed on filing protests to tentative answers and on bringing such proceedings as this to contest the final key answers . . . The petition is dismissed.

NOW, EVERYONE should know that in New York City and elsewhere where a date is announced for publication of answers, that is the date from which the four months start to run against you. Anyone who relies on the old rule, that the starting date is the later date of the receipt of the paper by the person examined, should perhaps be right; but he is actually wrong.

Veterans' Questions Answered

As a Korean Conflict veteran, I have a $10,000 non-participating, term GI insurance policy. A special dividend is being paid to those who convert this type policy to a non-participating permanent plan before Sept. 14, 1963. If I convert half my policy now, will I get some dividend payment?

You will get half the dividend if you convert half your policy. You will receive the remainder of the dividend if you convert the remainder of your policy before the deadline, Sept. 4, 1963.

I am a veteran who has been retired from active service because of disability. I have GI insurance with the Total Disability Income Provision rider. May I apply for the TDIP payments?

You may apply. In order to qualify for the TDIP payments, you must present medical evidence that you are disabled to the extent that you cannot carry on substantially gainful employment.

My sister, a widow of a veteran, is planning to remarry. Will she forfeit her pension payments?

The law requires that pension payments be stopped when the recipient widow remarries.

In some medical plans you get the whole bill...

in some medical plans you get part of the bill...

in H. I. P. you get none of the bill!

That's what makes H.I.P. different from all other medical plans. Once you belong to H.I.P. you will never see a bill for services by H.I.P. doctors. The premium is all you pay to become covered—at once and in full. You don't wait two or three months before your medical protection begins. You don't have to run up $50 or $100 or $200 worth of illness before you derive any benefits. Nor do you go on paying part of the bill, as you do in other plans. When you see your H.I.P. doctor, all you take out of your wallet is your H.I.P. card.

What's more, your family doctor in H.I.P. has a "family" of specialists to back him up. If it's surgery you need, only a qualified surgeon will perform the operation. If your wife is going to have a baby, she'll have the full care of an obstetrician. Neurology, pediatrics, orthopedics...whatever special care you or your family need, there's a H.I.P. specialist at your service. If you require lab tests or X-rays, the equipment and trained personnel are ready—as often as you need them. And you pay nothing extra for this—because your premium takes care of it all.

No other medical plan in New York offers such freedom from worry about doctors' bills. Over 640,000 people already belong to H.I.P. You may enroll in H.I.P. through an employee group—as a single person, couple or family. (A non-group enrollment plan with slightly different benefits is available to individuals under 65.) To learn more about H.I.P. and how you and the people you work with can join, write to Department P-1.

Many Jobs With U.S. Government Open Take 1 Test

Jobs with Federal agencies throughout the country are to filled from one examination. In addition, some overseas positions are to be filled from the resultant eligible list. The Federal Service Entrance Examination, which last year was used to fill some 9,000 jobs, will be open until April 26.

There is no pension barrier in Federal employment against retired city and state employees, making this exam especially popular with these persons. Retired New York City and New York State workers cannot gain employment in city or state service without losing pension rights.

Filing for the test is limited to college graduates and those who will graduate within the next 21 months. However, three years or more experience in administrative, professional, investigative, technical or other responsible work will be accepted in lieu of the educational requirements.

For grade GS 5, paying from $4,345 to $5,830, candidates must meet the above experience or educational requirement. For the GS 7 positions, paying from $5,355 to $6,840, candidates must have an additional year of graduate study of a combination of graduate study and experience totaling one year.

Federal Service Entrance Examination tests will be given monthly until May.

Application form 5000 AB can be obtained from the regional office of the U.S. Civil Service Commission, 220 E. 42nd St., New York, 17, N. Y., or from the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Wash., D.C.

Erie Chapter Battles For Non-Teachers In Depew & Orchard Pk.

(From Leader Correspondent)

BUFFALO, April 9—The Erie chapter, Civil Service Employees Association, has formally advanced efforts of non-teaching school employees in the villages of Orchard Park and Depew to gain wage increases and improvements in working conditions.

A letter addressed to the Orchard Park Board of Education over the signature of Alexander T. Burke, Chapter president, declared that "usually non-teaching employees receive the crumbs in salary increases and fringe benefits."

The CSEA group formally requested:

Payment by the village of the 5 percent retirement pension for sick employees; payment of half the cost of medical and hospitalization insurance; correction of wage inequities and adjustments in job classifications.

In a similar letter to the Depew School Board, the CSEA noted that total wage increases for non-teaching personnel amounted only to $450 annually over the past five years.

The latter also noted that school bus drivers had suffered a pay cut of $2 per diem and asked that the board restore the previous rate of $3 per day. The chapter also asked restoration of sick leave and holidays lost in certain instances and recommended adjusting many job classifications upward.

Association Tallies Up Legislative Successes

reserve." Accordingly this measure removes this inequity by providing that a beneficiary may elect "to receive the ordinary death benefit and the reserve for increased take-home pay plus the return of the member's accumulated contributions plus loan insurance, if any, or alternatively may receive the benefits under option one."

Thus, now the beneficiary has the choice of selecting either the "initial reserves account" or the ordinary death benefit whichever is greater, thereby eliminating the so-called death gamble.

Anyone interested in obtaining the benefits of this measure for any other option other than option one must file the necessary forms with the Retirement System. In the absence of so filing, it will be assumed that the lump sum option one benefit was intended.

It is to be assumed that the Retirement System, if and when the bill is signed, will provide these necessary forms. The association will give further information in this regard in Counsel's report of the legislative program. This bill is a one-year bill. This CSEA bill was introduced by Dunton S. Peterson (R-Odesa) and Assemblyman Guy L. Marvin (R-Greene).

Grievance

The grievance bill, if approved by the Governor, takes effect next Oct. 1. Affected by it are all political subdivisions in the state with 100 or more employees, with the exception of New York City.

The bill gives the subdivisions one and a half years within which to establish their own grievance procedures.

If they neglect to act, they fall under the grievance procedure spelled out in the bill. This provides two procedural stages and an appellate stage.

The grievance bill met stiff opposition on the Senate floor when introduced for the Association by Sen. Ernest Hatfield (R-Poughkeepsie). Among those speaking against it was Senator Frank J. Pino (D-New York), who said unions in the state, especially the AFL-CIO, were opposed to it.

Senate Majority Leader Walter Mahoney, however, beat down objections to the much-needed measure and assured its victory in a 33-25 party vote. The bill passed the assembly without resistance.

Police Bills

The State Police bills, for which Governor Rockefeller, State Troopers and others lauded the CSEA for long cooperation and interest, provides for more than 600 new troopers who, when they are added to the force, will allow the present 60-hour work week to be cut to 40. The bill was sponsored by Sen. Janet Hill Gordon (R-Norwich).

The other bill affecting State Police directly was introduced by Assemblyman Christian H. Armbruster (R-Yonkers). It provides a four-increment range for sergeant through chief inspector positions in the Division of State Police, and for the first time, longevity steps for all members of the State Police. This measure also retains the existing six-increment salary range for troopers and the two-increment range for corporals.

Death Benefit

The administration-backed death benefit bill, which parallels in its most important points the measure sponsored by the Association, gives state employees who have 90 days of service a minimum death benefit equal to one half of their annual salary. The measure calls for a minimum benefit of $2,000 and a maximum of $10,000. Under it, benefits would be computed as follows:

1. If no ordinary death benefit is payable from a public retirement system, the full survivor's benefit is payable.

2. If an employee is eligible for an ordinary death benefit from a public retirement system which is less than one half his annual salary, a benefit is payable in the amount needed to equal one-half the annual salary.

3. If the employee is eligible for an ordinary death benefit from a retirement system which is in excess of one-half his annual salary, no benefit is payable.

The bill, if approved, takes effect immediately for one year. It covers employee deaths from April 1, 1962 to July 1, 1963.

The measure, unlike the original CSEA proposal, does not continue after an employee's retirement and will not be made available as a benefit under the State Retirement System for members of political subdivisions.

5% Bill

The five percentage points bill, which was proposed by CSEA two years ago as a means of increasing the take home pay of members of the State Retirement System, extends that program for another year and continues the availability of the program for political subdivisions. The legislation was sponsored by Assemblyman Orin S. Wilcox (R-Theresa).

Pensions

The measure that provides supplemental pensions for retired employees has been part of the Association program since last year. This bill, sponsored by Assemblyman Johnson, complies with the request which President Felly made of the Governor last year after the enactment of the supplemental retirement allowance measure.

Felly noted that only male retired employees who were 65 years of age or females 62 years of age were eligible for the benefits of the measure. He noted then that there were many individuals forced to retire at much earlier ages as the result of disability who were automatically precluded from receiving any supplemental provision.

This bill removes this serious inequity and eliminates altogether the age requirements in disability cases. In addition, the bill improves somewhat the percentage increases necessitated by the inflationary spiral. The sum of $1,300,000 was appropriated to carry out the benefits provided under this measure.

Interest

The bill which continues authority to pay higher interest rates for members of the Retirement System was introduced by Assemblyman Wilcox. The bill provides that for any year the average rate of the retirement system earnings is in excess of three per cent, the State Comptroller declare a rate of special interest equal to the difference between average rate of earnings and three per cent, expressed to the lower one-tenth of one per cent.

Under the bill, special interest at such rate is credited by the comptroller at the same time that regular interest is credited, to the individual annuity savings accounts of persons who are members of the system at the close of the fiscal year.

Two weeks ago, Comptroller Levitt announced that members of the system in the three per cent group would be credited with a 3.7 per cent interest on their annuity savings accounts for the fiscal year that started April 1, 1961. According to the Levitt announcement, this is the highest interest rate paid in nearly 20 years.

Pay Raise

The five per cent salary raise for state employees was passed although the Association was disappointed by its inability to move the effective date of the increase up from August 1 to April 1, the beginning of the state's fiscal year.

The measure will cost the state approximately $25,000,000 a year. It was sponsored by Senator Ernest Hatfield (R-Poughkeepsie) and Assemblyman Prescott Huntington (R-Suffolk).

Moving Expense

The purpose of the moving expense bill, which was sponsored by the Civil Service Department, is to eliminate one of the conditions specified in the statute for the payment of travel and moving expenses to a State employee who is required to change his residence because of promotion from one area to another.

The condition repealed by the measure restricts reimbursement to only those cases where the Budget Director finds that there is a general shortage of qualified persons available for recruitment for the class of positions or occupational field in which the promotion is made and that the reimbursement of expenses is reasonably necessary as an inducement to promotion or for retaining qualified personnel in such class of positions or occupational field.

The CSEA had been working since last year to eliminate this undesirable aspect of the statute.

Automation

The special bill, which affords protection to state employees with permanent status whose positions are abolished, came about because of increasing automation in state agencies which required the abol-

Nassau Grievance Board Meets to Adopt New Rules and Regulations

(From Leader Correspondent)

MINEOLA, April 9—The Nassau County Grievance Board met this week to adopt its new rules and regulations.

County Executive Eugene H. Nickerson, who called the meeting, declared, "This step will place the Grievance Board on a fully operative basis. As County Executive, I am pleased to be able to expedite the establishment of this most necessary and orderly machinery for safeguarding the rights and privileges of our county government employees."

The new rules of the Nassau Grievance Board, drafted with the assistance of the county attorney's office, closely parallel those of the State Grievance Board.

The Nassau chapter, Civil Service Employees Association, has agreed to have copies of the rules printed and circulated among its membership.

The members of the Nassau Grievance Board are Frank O'Connor, Department of Public Works, chairman; Frank Diviney, Department of Probation; and William Strube, office of the Comptroller.

Mr. Nickerson, with the concurrence of the present board members, plans to rotate membership on this board among the various departments of county government.

tion of some positions and relocation of personnel.

The measure, sponsored by Sen. Frank E. Van Lare (R-Rochester) and Assemblyman Wilcox, provides that a state employee with permanent status whose job is abolished and who is transferred, reassigned or demoted to a lower grade position shall continue to receive the same salary he was receiving in his abolished position, but not in excess of the maximum salary plus two additional increments of the lower grade position.

Unemployment

Under the unemployment insurance coverage payment measure, political subdivisions are permitted to elect to pay for the coverage either through payments of an unemployment insurance tax computed as in the case of private industry or on the cost basis which is now permitted for political subdivisions.

The CSEA, in preparing this bill, commented that "while the cost plus basis of payment has seemed attractive to governmental agencies in the past, there are some political subdivisions which would prefer to be able to budget a certain tax rather than the indeterminate amount that might be the cost of unemployment insurance benefits paid on account of its employees during a given quarter or fiscal year. Therefore, this legislation permits the optional basis for payment."

Saturday Closing

The Saturday closing bill, sponsored by Sen. Van Lare and Assemblyman Armbruster, extends to each city, town, village and school district authority to close its public offices on Saturday—the same authority previously granted to the State and Counties.

Other legislation affecting CSEA members will be discussed or outlined in subsequent issues of the Leader.
