Juniors Attend Press Meeting

By MARCIA HALLENBECK

"New York, New York, what a wonderful town!" That's just how Christine Brehm, Lois Laventall, Marcia Hallenbeck and Edward Bigley, Milne delegates to the Columbia Scholastic Press Association Conference, found it. This conference is held at Columbia university every year.

During serious moments (which were very few), when they were not lost on the university campus, they attended meetings. There they heard some of the most qualified people in the field of journalism

Leo Widlicka, assistant city editor of the Herald Tribune, stressed the fact that news stories should be interesting. A reporter should try for an unusual angle and exercise imagination. Doris Greenberg of the New York Times entertained a large group, discussing the possibilities of careers in journalism for women. Robert Aura Smith, edi-torial writer for the New York torial writer for the New York Times, outlined the way to write an editorial for aspiring high school editors.

Tour Times Building

A tour through the New York Times building was a thrill for all of them. Now they know what makes a big newspaper like the New York Times "tick."

In this exciting city with its crowded subways, double decker buses, escalators and taxies with "mad" drivers," some of them found themselves lost at one time or another.

"Chris," in finding her way around, always went to 5th Avenue first, and then let her good instincts lead her to her destination. Even Mr. James Cochrane, the chaperon, became slightly confused when try-ing to lead them through Grand Central Station.

See Shows

They had a chance to see "Stop the Music" televised, but "Chris" was the only one who did. The rest of them were not accustomed to rest of them were not accustomed to rushing as they do in New York City, and, therefore, they didn't get to the program on time. They all, however, did see the Easter show at Radio City Music Hall.

Their trip to the Empire State building was quite disappointing, because when they arrived there, New York had a violent snow storm.

Attend Luncheon

The conference was climaxed with luncheon at the Waldorf Astoria. While enjoying the delicious food, they were amused by the cheering contest held between the North and the South. The South was represented by the delegations from North Carolina, carrying two confederates flores. federate flags.

On the afternoon of March 10, tired and weary, they boarded the train to Albany and travelled back to Milne with a wonderful visit in a great town behind them.

Hi-Y Assists Gra-Y Program

Milne Hi-Y members plan to assist in a Gra-Y program. Five boys, Dee Parker, George Pitman, Fred Corrie, Ronald Thomas and Ed Bigley, volunteered to help with arrangements for a North-eastern District Gra-Y conference at St. Peter's church on March 26. Gra-Y is the YMCA organization of children in grades one through

This is a continuation of the service program of the Milne H-iY club. Many members assisted Whitney's department store in its Christmas balloon parade in November.

Organization of a Tri-Y group in Organization of a 1ri-r group in Milne is also under consideration. This is a girls' organization corresponding to the boys' Hi-Y group. Robert McClure, Chaplain of the Milne Hi-Y said, "We have noted that Tri-Y clubs have been very was soful in other area schools and successful in other area schools, and we feel that such a club would be beneficial to the Milne students."

Future Secretaries Enter Contest

Students in the Shorthand II class entered a contest during the week of March 5.

Susan Armstrong, Jean Bailey, Carolyn Kritzler and Barbara Sand-berg successfully took sustained dictation of unfamiliar material for five minutes at 60 words per minute.

The contest required the students to take dictation in shorthand and to transcribe their notes on the typewriter. They were allowed a maximum of 15 errors.

These students will soon receive awards from the Gregg Publishing Company.

Tibbetts Plans Vocational Talk

John R. Tibbetts, guidance director, arranged a vocational program for the juniors which is now in session.

Interesting questionnaires sent to the homerooms formed the basis for this program. All juniors took the preference and personality tests recently. These tests help people to decide what vocation they are best qualified to follow and the one they like the best.

Students of the junior class who are interested in a specified voca-tion may volunteer to set up a committee. This committee would contact a representative to explain the vocational program to him and engage him to speak at Milne in the Little Theater. When the repre-sentative arrives, the chairman of the committee will introduce him and be prepared to ask important questions to start a discussion. Later the chairman is to follow up the event with a letter of thanks to the representative.

On March 6, a speaker discussed the U.S. Air Force with junior boys, and on March 13, a representative spoke on secretarial work to the junior girls. For the coming homeroom periods there will be speakers in such fields as radio, journalism, the U.S. Navy, engineering, conservation and numerous other occupations.

This vocational program is re-placing the Career Day program that was formerly held at Milne.

Party Makes Profit

Harold Vine, treasurer of the senior student council, issued the following report on the card party: the gross income was $324.91; expenses income was $324.91; expenses income was $324.91; expenses income was $324.91; expenses income $297.91. penses, $17.10; net income, $307.81.

Newspaper Appoints Cross Chairman

Members of the Crimson and Members of the Crimson and White staff are assembling grass skirts and tunes from "South Pacific" for the "Hula Hop," the annual C&W dance. The affair will take place April 14 in Page Hall gym from 9 until 12 p.m.

Edith Cross, feature editor of the newspaper, is general chairman for the event. Students in both junior and senior high grades are welcome to attend the dance. It is also open to students from other area schools.

Entertainment for the evening will feature hula dancers and songs from the South Seas. Lois Levine is head of the entertainment commit-

Palm Trees To Adorn Gym

Barbara Sandberg is in charge of changing the gym into a South Pacific atoll for the occasion. She and her committee will decorate the gym with palm trees, sea shells and other things typical of the South Seas.

During the hop, refreshments will be served. A committee headed by Christine Brehm will obtain and serve the food.

Doris Perlman is in charge of the tickets for the "Hula Hop." They may be purchased for 60 cents before the evening of the dance or at the door. Any member of the Crimson and White staff will have tickets for sale.

Posters and other publicity for the dance will be handled by Nancy Prescott. Peter Dunning and James Whitney head the maintenance committee.

Will Announce Staffs

According to the established custom, the future editors and staffs of the two school publications, Crimson and White and Bricks and Ivy, will be announced during the evening. The new newspaper staff will take over beginning with the next issue of the paper.

Students Receive College Acceptances

Two seniors received scholarships to colleges, and many others are accepted.

Harry Stevens gained a scholar-ship to Union college, and Annette ship to Union college, and Annette Waxman received one from North Texas university. Other seniors accepted at colleges are as follows: Doris Mehan and Joel Levine, Syracuse; Edith Cross and Lois Levine, Elmira; Herbert Gramm, State College for Teachers, Albany; Ray Guertin, Morrisville School of Technology; Joan Vinikoff, Boston university; Doris Ann Wise, State College for Teachers, New Paltz; and Edward Graff, University of Maryland. Maryland.

Letter to the Editor

The "Letter to the Editor" and your editorial on Supervised Study in the last issue of the Crimson and White was discussed at length in the Milne School faculty meeting on Monday, February 27. At that time it was felt that an explanation through your columns might reach more students more effectively than other means.

Your suggestion that a carefully worked out lesson-plan could reserve time at the end of the period to start the next day's assignment was excellent. Such plans are made regularly, but many things can interfere with their execution. Sometimes the teacher gets going and loses track of the time; at other times the students delay the progress of the class and it takes fifty-five minutes to accomplish what should be done in forty. Occasionally the students are working on something they would prefer to finish or should continue rather than start new work. Frequently there is so little homework that it is not necessary to start it in class.

The supervisors want the homework begun during the period as often as possible. If the policy is honored more in the breach than in the observance, talk it over first with the supervisor and then with your homeroom teacher. They will look into the matter if it is brought to their attention. Then the students must cooperate by making good use of the time provided for study.

Sincerely yours, Theodore H. Fossieck.

Goodbye

As Mr. Shakespeare said, "Parting is such sweet sorrow." And now it's time for us, the members of Crimson and White's '50-'51 staff to bow, tip our hats and say "adieu.

It's going to seem rather strange. No more deadlines to meet, no more lunch meetings, no more lack of typists when you need them most, no more mad dashes to the printer, but it would have been rather dull without all these little incidents.

And now, partly relieved, but mostly a little saddened, we turn all the laughs and all the headaches over to a fresh new staff. We all wish them the very best of luck.

With that, we'll shut off the lights in the C&W room and say, "Goodbye.

Columbia Records' new release called "Piano Moods" features "Autumn in New York," "Yesterdays," and "Small Hotel" well done by Buddy Weed and Cy Walter's interpretations of some other familiar favorites including "Cheek to Cheek," "That Old Black Magic," and "So in Love." Both are on 78 r.p.m. ten-inch discs. Morton Gould and his orchestra bring us the new 12 inch Columbia record called "String Time." On the other side there's the Robin Hood Dell orchestra conducted by Mr. Gould in "Music of Lecuona." The latter are Latin rhythms and very pleasant listening.

T.V. fans will find that a new show will be coming their way beginning Thursday, April 5, at 9 p.m. It replaces the Jack Haley hour which currently occupies that time. James Melton is its star and is to be a singing "M.C." of some sort. From what we have read, the type of format for the program has not at yet been announced.

We usually don't recommend movies because we feel that many Milnites see them before we do. However, we'll make an exception to the rule. If you haven't seen "Born Yesterday," you've really "Born Yesterday," you've really missed a terrific picture. Maybe you can catch it at the good ol' Madison if you live in that area!

Bethlehem Central Wins J. V. Ends Season In Class C League Game With Five Triumphs

Mull High Scorer In Season's Finale

Milne closed out its basketball season by dropping a 71-50 decision to B.C.H.S. in a Class C League game on the winner's court,

The Eagles from Bethlehem Central, sparked by lanky Pete Van Volkenburg who tallied 20 points in the first half, jumped into an early lead in the first quarter which they never relinquished. With the Delmar quintet leading 7-2, Milne poured in two quick field goals to come within one point of the home team, but B.C.H.S. clung to the lead, holding a 17-14 advantage over the Red Raiders as the buzzer sounded ending the first period.

Milne Narrows Lead

Milne narrowed Bethlehem Central's lead to one point midway in tral's lead to one point midway in the second quarter. The Delmar lads held onto the slim margin, holding a 31-28 edge with a minute and a half left in the half. Then B.C.H.S. went on a scoring rampage to out-tally Milne 9-1 in the re-maining seconds and take a 40-29 lead at halftime.

Returning from the intermission, the Eagles increased their lead to 60-40 by the end of the third stanza.

Milne Rallies

Starting the last quarter, Milne rallied momentarily by scoring six points in a row. Bethlehem Central fought back to widen the gap again as the game drew to a close.

Senior Bob Mull, playing his last game for Milne, led the Red Raiders in scoring with 15 points. Bunny Walker, deadly set shot artist, followed closely with 13 markers.
Starters Dick Taylor and Ray
Guertin also closed out their basketball playing days at Milne with impressive performances. Pete Van Volkenburg led both teams in scoring as he racked up 24 points for the men of Bethlehem.

HAPPY EASTER MILNITES!

Milne Drops Tilt To Cadets. 57-35

Albany Academy handed Milne its fourth straight defeat by a score of 57-35 on the Cadets' court, Febru-

The Red Raiders took a 3-0 lead early in the first quarter, but the Cadets tied the score at three all. With the score tied 7-7, the Albany Academy quinter tallied five points in a row. Milne scored two more points to bring the first quarter score to 12-9.

Academy Pulls Away

Albany Academy pulled away to a 19-12 lead midway in the second period. A field goal and a foul shot by the Groganmen chopped the Red and Black's lead down to four points. The winners put in two fields goals as the period came to an end, leaving Milne on the short end of a 23-15 score at the half.

In the third stanza, Milne's offense slowed down as the Cadets increased their lead, scoring seven straight points at the end of the quarter to make the scoreboard read 38-18. Both Teams Score Freely

Both teams scored freely and almost evenly in the fourth quarter, as the Milne quintet nearly doubled its score for the first three periods.

Bob Mull and Bunny Walker hit for 10 markers apiece to lead the Milne five, while Tim Anderson and Alton Mendleson paced the winners with 16 and 15 points, respectively.

Milne to Have Track Team Again

After a year's lapse, Milne will again have a track team this year. Any boy wishing to join the squad should contact Mr. Everts, the student teachers are the squadest and the squadest are the squadest are squadest as the squadest are dent teacher who is coaching the squad, or any member of the squad.

Milne's junior varsity finished a mediocre basketball season with a record of five wins and eleven losses, one more victory than the varsity and freshmen teams' com-bined total of winning games.

Ably coached by Andy Rosetti and Al Holliday, P.G. students at the New York State College for Teachers, and Al Kaehn, a senior on the State varsity, the J.V. was composed mostly of freshmen and sophomores lacking the experience necessary for a winning record.

J.V. Takes First Two Games

Starting off on the right foot, Milne took the first game of the season by trouncing New Lebanon, 40-29. The Red Raiders followed with another victory, this time at the expense of St. Peter's of Saratoga by a 31-27 margin. A losing skein of four games in which tilts were dropped to Van Rensselaer, B.C.H.S., Albany Academy, and Cathedral Academy, was broken by a 44-37 victory over Kinderhook.

Kinderhook Drops Overtime Tilt

Midseason losses to Columbia and Van Rensselaer preceded a win over Peter's, 37-23, and a thrilling double overtime victory over Kinderhook, 42-41. Milne closed out the season by losing its remaining five games, one of them a close 41-39 decision to New Lebanon.

TOMMIE

On February 23, Milne girls were hostesses to Watervliet high girls during a basketball playday. The first team easily overpowered the Watervliet girls, by a score of 46-34. Barbara Sandberg '51, was high scorer with 21 points.

The second game was really an exciting one, and Milne was defeated by only one point, 27-26. After both games, "Coke" and donuts were served to the player.

Play Return Match

March 6 was the date when the first team travelled to Watervliet for a return game. The Milne girls were victorious, with a score of 37-25. Judy Deitrich '51, had the highest score, with 15 points. After this game, both teams were treated to cookies and milk.

Last Saturday, Bethlehem Central high invited Milne to a basketball playday. Everybody had a good time, and the games proved to be exciting. Incidently, B.C.H.S. has invited girls from our school to a basketoan playday, which will be held. bowling playday, which will be held at the Sportshaven Alleys in Delmar, on April 7.

Plans for Banquet

The M.G.A.A. will sponsor its fourth annual Mother and Daughter Banquet on May 24. It will be held in the First Dutch Reformed church at 6:30 p.m. After the dinner, there will be entertainment, several sur-prises, intramural awards will be given, and the new M.G.A.A. officers will be announced. Plans are in progress for an enjoyable evening.

Since awards will be given to the girls who have worked for credits this year, you may be interested to know that if you have three credits, you will be eligible for a chenille "M." Junior girls who have at least thirty credits will achieve the honor of earning M.G.A.A. pins.

Cheerleading Club Practices

If you hear loud yells of Milne cheers throughout the halls on Thursday afternoons, from 2:30-3:30, you'll know it's the junior high cheerleading club in action. Miss Patterson and Miss Hotaling, State college students, have charge of the club which was formed to teach the cheers of Milne and to originate some new ones. Many of these girls really make peppy little cheer-leaders!

The roller skating party which was held at Hoffman's Skateland on March 9 was a big success. The junior girls surprised Miss Murray by asking the organist to play "Happy Birthday" to her. Then "Happy Birthday" to her. Then she had to go into the middle of the rink all by herself. Miss Murray still can't figure out how the juniors found out that her birthday was so near.

Because this is the last column I shall write, I'd just like to say that I hope you've enjoyed reading the news of girls' sports interest half as much as I've enjoyed telling it to you. I wish loads of luck to my worthy successor, and I hope that she will have as much fun as I've had writing this column.

Students Suggest Improvements for Future Papers

By EDITH CROSS

Well here we are at another changing point of the year. C&W changes hands, and the old, worn-out staff is given a vacation for the rest of the year. They can read the paper and actually see something in it that is news and maybe something that's entirely different. Which brings up another point. What can be done to make our one and only newspaper better? Who knows the answer better than the students who read this paper?

Barb Sandberg thinks maybe if there were better pictures on the sports page and more news about girls' sports, the paper would be better. Seeing that the girls are winning more games than the boys of Milne, it might not be such a bad idea!

Another senior, Pete Wright, would like a movie rating column in place of "Data from Doris." How many of you have been stuck in a "crummy" movie just because you "crummy" movie just because you never heard anything about it? A movie rating column might solve some of the guessing part of going to the movies.

Scoop from New York

As you probably know some of the juniors went to New York to the press conference at Columbia university. Marcia Hallenbeck was one of these lucky people. She said that according to the various speeches she witnessed, letters to the editor rank high in readable material. Marcia would like to see a letter to the editor in every issue. Maybe if someone would write letters, they would appear in the 31. paper.

Joke Column

There's a joker in every crowd, so they say, and both Ann Gayle and Carol Becker would like a joke column. If the C&W adopted all these ideas, they would need a larger paper! Another eighth grader, Ed Blessing would like more cartoons. Dick Edwards and Dick Greene would like a longer and better merry-go-round.

Junior High News

Seventh grader Mary Ann Bullion and eighth grader Larry Genden would like to read more junior high news. If better equipped students joined the newsboard, that is, seventh, eighth, and ninth graders, the paper might include more junior high doings.

Of course some things are impossible to attain, like the request Steven Levine made. Says he, "I'd like more news about girls!" Really,
