Contest To Highlight Chesterfield Campaign

As part of the campus Chesterfield campaign, a box for the reception of wrappers from packages of Chesterfield cigarettes will be placed in the Co-op. Any student who wishes to enter the contest should place his Chesterfield wrappers, with his name in the provided space, in this receptacle. The individual who turns in the most wrappers will be awarded a carton of Chesterfields, in about a month, according to Grace Smith '52, Editor-in-Chief of the State College News.

The balmy breezes of Spring that bring on their tide the fragrance of soft, wet earth and small, budding flowers, lulls the mind into a hazy forgetfulness of a student's duties. Why not heed the wisdom of Wordsworth as he tells us yet today, 'Books! tis a dull and endless strife! Let Nature be your teacher.'

Let your study-weary eyes scan the murals on the library walls as you sit in a student's contemplation. Let spring breezes carry you back into State's past as depicted in the library murals. As your eyes wander from the North Wall around to the West Wall, see the history of New York State and the part State College played in this pageantry. Then as your mind is in a receptive mood for day dreaming, follow your imagination into the future beyond the West Wall.

Students To Procure Copies Of 'Primer'

State College students who did not receive their copy of Primer this past week may still obtain it by contacting Harrison F. Bartle '52 via Student Mail, according to Bartle, Editor-in-Chief of the magazine.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 37...THE SWORDFISH

"They had me fencing with fancy facts!"

They crossed swords with the wrong man when they engaged this swashbuckling senior in combat! At first, he was foiled by the tricky, "one-puff" . . . "one-sniff" cigarette mildness tests. But he parried their thrusts with this gleaming sword of logic: The only way you can judge mildness is by steady smoking. That's the true test of cigarette mildness!

It's the sensible test . . . the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke, on a day-after-day, pack-after-pack basis. No snap judgments! Once you've tried Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why . . .

After all the Mildness Tests . . .

Juniors To Hold Formal Dance At 'Crossroads' Tomorrow Night

Statisticians Reveal Novel Data, Debunk Old Views On Grads

In a special release to the State College News, Time magazine presented a preview of the forthcoming book, "They Went to College." Describing what has happened to 1004 graduates of more than 1000 colleges, this book reveals new facts and debunks a few old ones about college graduates.

The book was written as a result of a survey conducted by Time asking college presidents what they most wanted to know about their graduates. In response to the first question 76% felt that their courses had benefited them a liberal arts course, and to what extent do graduates participate in community affairs.

In response to the first question 76% felt that their courses had benefited them a liberal arts course, and to what extent do graduates participate in community affairs. Large cities seem to attract college graduates 44% have settled down outside their home states. Science majors especially have this wanderlust. It also seems that the best students have had a greater tendency to migrate.

Statistics regarding incomes show that students who had to earn part of all college expenses have lower incomes than those who did not. Jewish graduates tend to earn higher salaries than Protestants, while Catholics receive lower salaries than either group. This briefly reviewed are some of the topics discussed in "They Went to College," published soon by Harcourt, Brace & Company.

Duncan Hill, founder of the model sessions, will present an anniversary plaque to the sponsors of the present Assembly. The delegates will be held at the University of Pennsylvania from April 12 to 14.

Due Consideration . . .

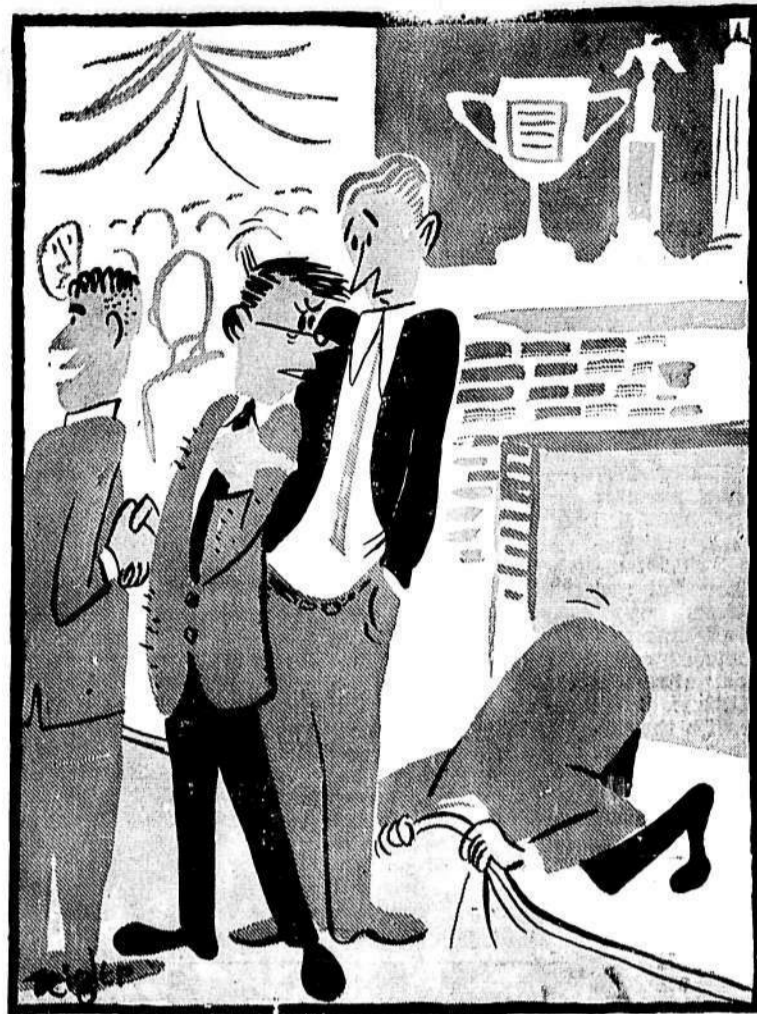

Today in assembly a motion to eliminate the rivalry Big Four and to institute an All State Review will be presented before Student Association. This proposal has been urged for many years by those who either feel a need for improvement of class activities or who have no real participating interests in those class events.

The Big Four has always been an important factor in unifying the novice class at State College and in maintaining friendly and social relations during the remaining years. Anyone who has helped in this production will acclaim the benefits which are gained from the Big Four. Freshmen need, above all, to acquire friendships among their own classmates and from this discover who will make probable leaders.

Many more freshmen can be active in a class program than can take part in an All College Review. Members of an incoming class would be reluctant in putting their efforts on an all college scale since they would have to compete with others who are experienced and who have already perfected their talents.

In addition, such a production will disclose the various talents and skills: directing, acting, writing, business arrangements, and musical abilities. Those who have not been interested in the Big Four and denounce the activity are also the ones who would not participate in an All College Review.

A unified class is an active class, not only beneficial for its own spirit but also for the interests of the school. The Big Four apparently satisfies many of these requirements.

Democracy In Action ?

By JIM CUMMINGS

From the cradle of the great American Commonwealth spring thousands and thousands of tender young hearts. Into the fabulous net work of the educational mill march the thousands of little feet. Open and pure, are their unblemished skulls. Some are eager and curious. Some are not so curious.

This is a new adventure, a new experience. What becomes a life raw material after its induction into the machinery of social development is indeed a matter of tremendous speculation. Within the walls of painted halls goes on the process of molding.

The wonders of democracy are indeed the wonders of the world! Yet we do nothing to cultivate its true growth, for we are far too busy trying to systemize its structure and to limit its disciples.

The elementary schools grab the young and tell them how lucky they are to have been born Americans. And then the kids a bit impulsive of course, ask the learned ones the question why. To this great question is supplied a list a mile wide. They are told that men are equal and that it takes a majority to decide. That each is an individual and there are laws by which they must abide.

No longer are the skills unblemished. No longer do the many seek the reason why. The answers are now stock, and can be repeated as fast as the crow can fly. The head which once had great possibility is now a thriving sponge. The information has been learned all too well to allow confusion to die.

The curse of this rotten canker is not to be found in our system of government, but is rather to be discovered in the inability of our school system to teach kids to think. Rather than teaching democracy through practice and experimental experience, schools prefer to utilize the old method of memorization and recitation. Democracy to them is a book subject. It is an empty divorced from school life.

This madman growth does not restrict itself to the primary and secondary schools, but it is to be found spreading with equal vigor in many of the colleges and universities. Institutions of higher learning are higher only in the prescribed volume of work. There exists just a great deal more to do.

Perhaps it is difficult to teach people to think? Perhaps too many of us don't know what it is to think? Perhaps education is just a process of keeping kids off the street, and out of the labor market? Perhaps the trouble rests not with the school, but with complex nature of modern society? Perhaps teachers are not teachers, but streamlined drill masters?

Whatever the cause, it must be remedied. If we are to realize and preserve the fruits of democracy we must first learn to know it as a definite concept. We must be taught to think. We must be taught to think for ourselves. We must be taught to think for the benefit of our fellow man. We must be taught to think for the benefit of our nation.

The schools, in the endeavor to do this, are failing. However, before people can be brought to think they must have a teacher who knows how to think and who knows how to teach others to think. If agreement can be had on what has been said, can't NYSCCT contribute to the program?

Common-Stater

By SHAFER and KELLER

JUNIOR DEVILTRY . . .

Now that '53's long awaited weekend is here, we have cast roving eyes around the campus, and we are going way out on a limb to predict the queen and her court: Queen: Gorgeous Abigail Blattman, and court: Sweet Petunia Telfer, Redhead Juanita Lannon, Scintillating Roberta Sinkledam, and Torrid Francine Hodge; for freshman attendants: Adorable Adrian Lennig and Bouncing Barbie Coan. Never before have we seen such unequalled beauty.

FOOTBALL . . .

We're exhausted on this subject along with everyone else. Anyway, we're glad there will be an investigation into its future possibilities to find out definite answers to our questions. Everyone can relax a little until December, 1952. We're glad the issue did come up; at last we saw some life in our student association—it's been so long!

BIG FOURS . . .

As usual, faults were found with the fresh production . . . but let's remember it's not the actual show that counts in the long run, it's the friends you meet and the people you learn to work with. Frankly, in spots we thought the Fresh Big Four was one of the most enjoyable we've seen; not every class has had such brilliant ad-libbing or such blood-curdling melodrama on film. Let's give credit where credit is due.

While we're on the subject, the Big Four motion to be presented today is not one to be skipped over with a "Who cares?" attitude. Remember Big Four takes two nights out of our calendar which are very important in rivalry. If we had one all-college, how are we sure that Juniors and Seniors would need to meet with one another, they have already had their glory? We admit that the nature of the Big Fours has changed and it is because the nature of rivalry has changed, but if Student Association insists on doing away with Big Fours, let's have a better substitution than one show that would limit its talent to just the upper classes. Why not try an all-college review for Campus Chest so that everybody can get into the act, but they keep Big Fours until we find a substitution which really accomplishes their purposes.

E. S. A. CONFERENCE . . .

The Eastern States Association Conference held in New York last weekend appears to have been not worth the money put into it. Why should we pay each year for a conference that seems to be solely academic? Things like this might be put into the hands of the Education Department so that they could elect students to go but not on Student Association money. We realize that we are a teacher's college, and therefore an individual is required to be a well-rounded one, but we feel that academic conferences should be in the hands of the administration rather than Student Association. We are sure that the delegates sent to New York from our Student Council would benefit from the idea of learning something, and probably benefited from the conference, but we don't think Student Association should be required to pay for the phase of college life.

S. A. OFFICERS . . .

Once again the question comes up: Who should we elect as our student leaders next year? Nominations start today and we can only suggest that we should learn by past experience. We'd personally like to see a little "Van, cage, and yard" in next year's Student Association. So, keep your eye out for people who can add something to our student organization.

Red Devils View Three Years At State Mirrored In Blue Champagne

Retrospect

By KAY WRIGHT

"The time has come," Minerva said. "To speak of many things: Traditions, classes, proms, the arts, Frosh Camp, and sports, and sings." Before long 1953 Found State basking in the sun—Then suddenly came shouts and flurry. And a new school year had begun! The freshmen filled the waiting buses And headed for Frosh Camp. Where they spent a jolly weekend—Slightly chilled and damp! Curious sights assailed the eye During this three day spree (As assorted counselors' apparel From the flagpoles flapped with glee!) Weary, but still smiling, And back at college again, Red Devils met new obstacles—In tests, more tests, and then . . . Lines, lines, everywhere, And not a vacant seat; Lines for books and beanies, And even lines to eat! Soon Campus Day evolved From the whirl of many teas, And then the bright and shining cup Belonged to '53. Rivalry sped onward—The scores were mounting fast. "Blue Horizons" soon became An epic of the past.

Moving Up Day came too soon Bringing much tradition. That evening 1953 Was steeped in great perdition. Before long 1953 Watched from a lofty height The progress of the brand new frosh And wondered at their plight. Another Campus Day had come, and 'Though it was a blow,' They let the Blue Jays have the cup . . . Just good will, you know! That year passed more quickly Than any had before, And soon the Devils were entering "The Happy People's" door. Amid tension and excitement Of their second Moving Up Day, Red Devils applauded wildly As the prized cup came their way. Then yet another year was gone, And September, '51 Brought the Grinnell sister class To join in college fun. Now that the WEEKENDS finally here, July Juniors will have their day—Complete with party and with prom, And a jolting ride in hay! Now, the time is not far distant When red crew hats will appear, And they'll be M-O-V-I-N-G, moving up Up to their Senior year.

1. Dan Kelly and Frank Hodge go through their Mutt and Jeff routine of "It's Wonderful" in '53's Frosh Big 4 "Blue Horizon."
2. The class chose as their leaders in the first year Jeanne Corigliano, Ted McCarthy, Graham Zeh, and Ruth Dunn.
3. As a porter in the Big 4 production the next year, Pat Carlo and his chorus of travelers harmonized to "Here's No You," a highlight of "The Happy People."
4. The Junior Banquet in January was a great success. The Larkin Restaurant offered a perfect setting for classmates to meet and reminisce.
5. These Devil faced officers cheered their classmates on to victory and the Rivalry Cup on Campus Day in 1949.

Aid Committee Urges Donations For Student Fund

Contributions To Benefit State College Scholars

Contributions can now be made to the Memorial Student Loan Fund. This fund was set up in order to satisfy the urgent need for more funds available without restriction, and to honor those students who gave their lives in World War II.

Student Association allocated $1500 more than two years ago as an incipient donation for the fund, which has now been set up by the Student Aid Committee as the Memorial Student Loan Fund.

The Memorial Fund is to be a revolving fund, with both principal and interest available to any student in good standing in the third, fourth or fifth year at the college. No interest is charged the student while he is in college, but begins at 5% the month after he leaves college. The loan is to be repaid a year after the student has left college.

Any organization or group who wishes to make a contribution in its name to the fund may do so by giving their donation to Alnard Gelbond, Financial Secretary of the College.

Unsung Ballads

WITH ABEL BLATTMAN

Got a case of Spring fever the other day, just sorta felt like sitting around throwing the ball a little. Seems it caught Taber about the same time, so we got to doing just that, and pretty soon the talk got to the State hoop squad. Taber's been playing ball for three years, and has a heap 'o' stories that don't make the headlines, but go great on a warm Spring day when the nostalgia feeling of old times hits you. Seems one time when Taber was a freshman he got roughed up a bit in a road game. In fact he got the business, and was prone on the floor when Pomeroy came over and asked who did it. Taber gasped out the guy's number, Pomeroy granted. Later in the game the opposition had only four men on the floor. The opposing culprit kinda took refuge under the collapsible stands. Pomeroy Face doesn't remember what happened 'cause it's a long time ago.

Another time a Big Boy was having a night against State, and the situation had to be rectified. There's a trick in basketball that when a guy is on the dead run, it his knees come together under, like he looks and feels sorta foolish. Just takes a little mirth. Pomeroy Face did the mirth, and in a true sportsman-like gesture called the Big Boy out he wouldn't get hurt. But the Big Boy was rather upset, knowing the score like he did, and resented Pomeroy Face's mere efforts to thwart the fall. He started kicking and swearing which really looked bad in front of the home crowd, so Pomeroy Face, a strong guy when he wants to be set the Big Boy down right and up to the cheers of a partisan crowd. Big Boy's night was ruined. He didn't score after that, Pomeroy Face doesn't recall the event too clearly. Was probably an accident, he says.

Pomeroy Face has a corny anecdote humor Taber really found the use of an opposing player and the red called the foul on Pomeroy Face. "What an imagination you got!" he calmly says, with no malice in his voice. A.K. him about it he probably doesn't remember, it was so long ago.

In the first game of the evening, Pomeroy Face took an early lead backed by the even point, looped by Kralic in the first half and went on to win 21-13. The second half was not so easy for 22, when consistent coming by the front closed the lead to a mere three points.

The next encounter was between the duffers and the Sophs. The EEP team featured both excellent offensive and defensive play. Pomeroy Face rolled over the other team in a convincing 18-9 win at the 21 looped by the sopho. Final score of the game was 21-16.

The final and championship game commenced at 9 p. m. when the Sophs defeated the EEP 18-12. The excellent execution of Pomeroy Face's strategy, as displayed by Zylko in the previous trip.

Seniors Cop Play-off; Defeat Sophs, Frosh

Tuesday evening the class of '52 was victorious again as it topped Phi Delta 1-0 to win the inter-class play-off.

In the first game of the evening, Pomeroy Face took an early lead backed by the even point, looped by Kralic in the first half and went on to win 21-13. The second half was not so easy for 22, when consistent coming by the front closed the lead to a mere three points.

The next encounter was between the duffers and the Sophs. The EEP team featured both excellent offensive and defensive play. Pomeroy Face rolled over the other team in a convincing 18-9 win at the 21 looped by the sopho. Final score of the game was 21-16.

The final and championship game commenced at 9 p. m. when the Sophs defeated the EEP 18-12. The excellent execution of Pomeroy Face's strategy, as displayed by Zylko in the previous trip.

Potter's Two-Platoon Takes News' Tourney

Potter Club's "two platoon" hoop squad added the News' Invitation Tourney to their regular season IM Championship last Wednesday as they crushed an outmanned KDR quintet 64-36. Tight defense and a wide open offense turned the tide for the Pottermen in the second half as they outscored their opponents 34-13.

After a rather sluggish first period, KDR spurted to a one bucket lead early in the second stanza and held it till a tip in by Ed Mathews put the EEP's in front 24-23. A six point spurt in the final 30 seconds of the first half highlighted by a long toss by Pete Telfer gave the half time.

Potter outscored the losers 17 to 3 in the third period as the two platoon attack started to take its toll. The game turned into a rout as the men in blue could not cope with the fast-breaking of the victors.

Pete Telfer was high for the winners with 15. Jacoby and Burns each hit for 11. Hausner and Englehart paced KDR with 12 and 9 respectively. This win gave Potter an over all record for the season of 19 wins and one loss.

These two clubs fought their way into the finals with well earned victories over KB and the Angels. Potter averaged its only loss of the season in the semi finals as they up-ended the Angels 43-35 in a very rough game. Once again, Telfer led EEP to victory as he mashed 13. His efforts were supplemented by Jacoby and Kaein who added 11 and 10. For the Angels the top scorers were La Duke, Zowine, and Hutson, each of whom hooped ten counters.

KDR pulled one out of the fire against KB Monday night as they put together a 13 point string while holding the Beta's scoreless and overcoming a five point deficit in the last six minutes of their semi-final encounter. KB led throughout the contest till the victors applied the pressure. KDR won this tilt 46-38, as Bob Hausner tallied 16 and Jim Fox 11. The game's best individual performance however, was turned in by Dick Wanders of the Lasers as he dented the nets for nineteen. Ryder contributed 11 points to the KB cause.

Four Games Saturday
The quarter finals were marked by some fine play on Saturday. In the first game, KDR edged the Finks, 42-36. Art Golden of the losers was high in this contest with 15. KB got to the semifinals with an uphill win over the Trotters, 41-35, as Bob Sturm set the pace with ten markers.

Young Auto Speeders Become Statistics On Nations Highways

Are you male, under twenty-five, with at least one year of experience behind the wheel? If you value your life, don't go driving Saturdays from six to seven on the open highway. But if you must take a spin, and don't mind a few injuries, go out a couple of hours earlier. Even the pedestrians aren't safe, so the best thing to do is stay home, isolated from this world's mad rat race.

Recently published by The Traveler's Insurance Company, statistics reveal that nearly two million casualties, the worst automobile accident total in history, occurred in 1951. Saturday is the most dangerous day, with injuries hitting their peak from four to five p. m. and deaths taking the greatest toll two hours later, while thirty-eight percent of fatal accidents took place on open roads.

Contrary to that old rumor, women drivers are not the menace those cartoons show them to be. Statistics disclose that ninety percent of drivers involved in 1951 accidents were men. So, gals, start gloating! Beginning drivers don't seem to be the main cause, either. Only thirty-seven percent of drivers who had accidents had had at least one year of experience. Age had a lot to do with it: twenty-five percent of drivers involved in fatal accidents were under twenty-five.
