The entertainment for Society Day which will be held in the Page Hall Auditorium on the afternoon of May 15 is now in progress. The rehearsals were started last week. A play will be given which will include individual skits by the societies. The cast for the play is as follows: Virginia Hall, Amoeba; William Arnoldy, Artery; Roger Orten, Professeur Searchbottom; Donald Glen, Neptune; Betty Boyd, Miss Clam; Arnold Davis, Squakins; Guards, Lowell Gypson and Sheldon Bond; Duntan Tynan, Davis Jones; Clarence Chatterton, Heeves; Ralph Norvell, janitor. Sally Ryan has been appointed chairman of the set committee.

MR. LYMAN A. MOREHOUSE TALKS IN ASSEMBLY CONCERNING CAMPS

Mr. Lyman A. Morehouse was the speaker in an assembly presented Wednesday at 12:00 o'clock for both the Junior and Senior High School. He was introduced by Mr. John M. Sayles, principal, who gave a few impressions and incidents from his own experiences.

Mr. Morehouse told about the beginnings of organized camping and the different kinds of camps. He said that the modern organized camp was fast becoming just a summer resort where many different things were learned. He told also about using the things which have a permanent value in life and not just those which have a little value for a short time. "Put into life the fine things all about you such as nature," he said. He also stated that God-made things are often much more beautiful than man-made things.

HONOR ROLL ANNOUNCED WEDNESDAY

The honor roll for last month was announced last Wednesday by Miss Cushing. Carolyn Mattice, Ganson Taggart, Olive Vroman, and Barbara Allen were on it for the senior class. Vivian Synder, Barbara Birchenough and Bob Dawes represented the junior class, while Ethel Fasoldt was the only one from the sophomore class.

The Crimson and White in the behalf of all Milne students extends its heartfelt sympathy to Sally and Duntan Tynan in the hope that it may assuage in some measure their recent sorrow.

After scarcely two weeks of practice the Crimson and White baseball nine will take the field against the Altamont High School in the opening game of their season. The game will be held at 10:30 o'clock, Saturday morning, May 4, at Ridgefield Park.

Ridgefield Park.

The probable battery for Milne will be Bob Dawes or Richard Carvel on the mound, and Howie Rosenstein behind the plate.

Although many boys have turned out for the team this year no outstanding material has turned out.

Many veterans from last year's nine such as Bob Feldman, captain; Doug McHarg, first base; "Flash" Rosenstein, catcher; Bob Ely, second base; Howard Collins, outfield; Ralph Norvell, outfield; and Bob Dawes, pitcher are on this year's team.

FORMER MILNE STUDENT TO APPEAR AS ASSISTING ARTIST IN CONCERT

Miss Irene Gedney, the assisting artist at the Spring Concert of the State College Choral Society on May 9 at 8:30 o'clock in Chancellor's Hall, is a graduate of Milne High School and a former member of the college. She has a fellowship at the Eastman School of Music. Miss Gedney has broadcast over the N.B.C. network and has been guest artist of the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra at the request of its conductor, Eugene Goossens. Dr. Howard Hanson, eminent American composer and director, has composed several concertos especially for Miss Gedney which were presented at the recent Music Festival in Rochester by her under his direction.

Milne students will be given the opportunity to hear Miss Gedney by the special price offered them by the Music Council, twenty-five cents. Tickets are on sale in the Co-op. Tickets can be secured in the Co-op only on Monday and Tuesday of next week, it was announced.

WHAT CAN WE DO?

A few weeks ago, at the Senior High party, one of the college water fountains was broken. There have been several theories as to who did this, but the official blame is laid on Milne because we were the obly group in that part of college.

When the deed was done, State College was holding the Spanish Carnival, Milne was at its party, and there were, to be sure, several outsiders roaming around the halls. Four or five times, groups of outsiders were seen hanging around the stairs by the Co-op, in front of which is the fountain.

What can we do about accidents such as this? In various homeroom discussions held during the past weeks, several plans have been presented. One is to let the faculty have complete control over the activities. Thus the faculty would watch the doors, keep out outsiders, chaperon, and perform other similar duties. A second plan is to have the faculty attend in a body. The theory behind this is that there would be enough faculty members to watch all the pupils. A third plan is not to let any outsiders in at any time. While this would lessen the numbers at the dance, it would omit the possibility of their breaking or disrupting anything.

Something must be done, that is certain. Are we going to have the Recreation Center denied to us just as the lounge is, or are we going to remedy this condition? Think it over, make up your mind, and act accordingly, but in making your decision, think of the feelings of others.

JUNIOR TEACHING

"The mighty oak was once a tiny acorn," says an ancient adage, and a slightly adapted version of it will presently show us how we may exercise the all-too-seldom-used virtues of co-operation and respect. Next week our time-honored custom of Junior Teaching will, for the second time this year, bring extra work to the already crowded desks of our supervisors, dread and fear to the palpitating hearts of many State College students who are majoring in English, and, it is to be feared, a most unholy joy to some of our own more frivolous students.

The same custom, however, will afford Milne English students a wonderful opportunity to work with these embryo professors who someday will be recognized as mighty authorities in the fields of education. It will be our privilege, and it is a rare one, to aid, through the manifestation of a spirit of understanding, co-operation, and genuine respect, the first steps of these students. Even to witness the preparatory steps all teachers must take is not given to many.

These young men and women, who next week will take over for one hour the teaching and management of a classroom of twenty or so widely-varied adolescent personalities, have learned by precept almost all there is to know about their profession. Through experience they will have a taste of classroom problems in teaching, as they themselves react to them.

It will, then, be our part to inspire confidence and a feeling of sufficiency in those teachers who need experience to adapt them a little more thoroughly. It will be our privilege and our pleasure to co-operate to the fullest possible extent with our Junior Teachers and to offer them every assistance which we would show, as a matter of course, to our own friends and acquaintances who are our elders.

NOTICE

Tomorrow at 10:30 at Ridgefield Park, the opening baseball game of the season will be played. Milne is playing Altamont High School. We want a big turnout.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT NEXT WEEK
ON WASHINGTON PARK COURTS;
BASEBALL SCHEDULE POSTED

Miss Hitchcock announced in the tennis class last Monday that the tournaments for the tennis classes will start Monday. The Washington Park courts have already been opened, a fact which enables the members of the class to start playing there next week.

Last Monday in the baseball class, the juniors played a practice game with the seniors. The schedule for the girls inter-class games has been posted on the door above the steps leading to the girls' locker room by Miss Hitchcock.

* SOCIETY NOTES *

QUIN:

Quotations last Monday were taken from any poet or author. Ethel Gillespy reviewed the story "Susie's Little Play" by Booth Tarkington. Due to lack of time Mary York's report on the Maudie stories by the Lorimers was cut short.

Barbara Birchenough, general chairman for the Quin banquet which will be May 25, appointed Ruth Babbitt, Jean Graham, and Jane Weir to look up places for the affair. Jane Doran, Betty Ostrander and Elsbeth Fromm were appointed on the decoration and flowers committee.

A motion was made and carried that the society have as usual a page in the Year Book. The meeting was adjourned at 11:30.

SIGMA:

At the last meeting of the society quotations were taken from William Shakespeare.

Barbara Allen gave a report concerning the place for the Sigma banquet which will be held May 10. Due to no decision, a special meeting was held yesterday to vote on a place.

It was voted on and passed that the society have a picture in the year book. The meeting was adjourned at 11:30.

ADELPHOI:

The weekly report was given by Clarence Chatterton on "The Saga of the Comstock Lode" by Lyman.

It was also voted that the Adelphoi have a picture in the year book. The meeting was adjourned at 11:30 o'clock.

* THE JOLLY MILNER *

Suggestion

I would suggest that the entire Milne baseball team acquire special multi-padded gloves due to the sore hands suffered by such players as "Sligh" Ely and "Slop" McHarg after catching some of Captain Bob Fieldman's terrific pees.

Sad Note

Through my demon efforts I have at last found the reason for Coach Baker's tears. Alas, dear Milnites, it seems that "Head Thinker of Being Pitcher" Emery has fractured his shovel-arm along with (say some perhaps idle rumors) his head. 'Tis lucky indeed that we have "Curve Thrower" Dawes to rely on.

Notes To You

Notes should be pasted about informing our baseball protegees of hither-tocoming practices. It seems that Saturday last one of these fellows (dapperly attired in a new spring outfit) showed up, much to his disappointment, on the empty practice field. "Gleeps" people but I shan't mention any names.

Pro?

It was mentioned to me that even so perhaps the proposed girls' uniforms wouldn't be so bad after all in the fact that they would save the dear gals the necessity of changing for gym.

FRENCH CLUB HOLDS DISCUSSION;
LEARN TO PLAY FRENCH BRIDGE

A discussion concerning the pins was carried on in the French Club last Monday, at which Olive Vroman presided. However, nothing was definitely decided upon, and a vote will be taken next week.

For the remainder of the period the members played French bridge and learned to bid and play, speaking in French.

SCENE FROM PLAY PRESENTED

The weekly meeting of the advanced Dramatics club took place last Monday. Mary York and Elizabeth Reese presented a scene from Barrie's play "What Every Woman Knows." Miss Elizabeth Griffin, sponsor of the club, read a scene from the play, "Importance of Being Earnest."

Next week there will be a joint meeting of all sections of the Dramatics Club.
