Courts Challenge CSC Move To Cancel 26 Appointments In Schenectady County

SCHENECTADY, June 15 — A State Civil Service Commission move to cancel the appointments of 26 public employees in Schenectady County has been challenged in the courts.

A group of eight employees has obtained a show cause order in Supreme Court, which calls for the state to show why its proposed move should not be stopped.

The commission earlier this year charged that an investigation had shown evidence of "an overall pattern of fraud" in the rating of civil service examination papers given by the Schenectady County Civil Service Commission.

The commission then moved to cancel appointments of 26 employees, who had until last week to file answers to the charges.

Rockefeller Names New Legal Assistant

ALBANY, June 15 — Arthur H. Christy, former United States attorney for the Southern District of New York, has been added to the Governor's legal staff on a parttime basis.

His appointment was announced by Governor Rockefeller, who said the 35-year-old New York City attorney would serve as a special assistant.

Among his successful prosecutions was that of Vito Genovese for narcotics conspiracy. He also assisted in the prosecution of Frank Costello for income tax evasion.

State U. Workshop Held at Fredonia

ALBANY, June 15 — The State University's annual faculty workshop was held last week at the State Teachers College at Fredonia. About 200 persons attended.

The program included an address by Dr. John Dobbin of the Educational Testing Service at Princeton, N.J. Discussion groups were led by Raye Conrad, Brockport; Robert MacVittie, Buffalo; Lawrence Park, Geneseo; William Cotton, Geneseo; John Jacobson, New Paltz; Dorothy Hayes, New Paltz; Herman Behrens, Oneonta; Harold Alford, Oswego; Robert Helsby, Oswego and Alfred Thatcher, Potsdam.

Mt. Morris President Earns Masters Degree

At its 109th commencement exercise, held June 7, the University of Rochester conferred the degree of Master of Science in nursing education on Oliver Longhine, assistant director of nursing at Mount Morris Tuberculosis Hospital and president of the hospital's Civil Service Employees Association Chapter.

Mr. Longhine is a graduate of York Central High School, Retsof, and of the Craig Colony School of Nursing. He also holds a Bachelor of Science degree in nursing education from Rochester University.

Of the 26, six replied to the charges and 11 requested and obtained additional time for filing. Eight have obtained court orders and one employee's action has not been detailed.

Those who filed replies were Rotterdam Police Chief Leonard C. White; Adrian Breitenstein, Schenectady fire lieutenant and Silvio Tremante, Donald Macerone, John K. Murphy and John J. Higgins, Schenectady firemen.

The state commission said answers would be weighed against the evidence on hand.

Seven of the eight employees who obtained show cause orders are custodians in the Schenectady public schools.

Those granted extensions were Matthew J. Febbie, Schenectady fire lieutenant; Donald Leva, Charles Palmer Jr., Harvey Dubb, Robert Coughlin, John Botteberger, Joseph Morton Jr., Luther D. Pangburn, David T. Schettine and Edward Skumurski, Schenectady firemen, and Marilyn Danforth, clerk.

Westchester to Hear Organization Plan For Non-Teaching Unit

The Westchester Chapter, Civil Service Employees Association, will hold a special meeting at the Salvation Army meeting room, 67 Orchard Street, Tarrytown, at 8:30 P.M. June 24, to discuss formation of a separate unit of non-teaching school personnel within the Chapter.

Principal speaker will be Edwin Perrot, a head school custodian from Nassau Chapter who founded that Chapter's non-teaching unit. The Nassau non-teachers now number more than 1,000, half the Chapter's total membership.

Mr. Perrot will explain how he organized the group, and describe its benefits.

All non-teaching members and any one else interested in the program is strongly urged to attend.

Health Insurance Plan Opens June 22 for New Signers, Option Changes

ALBANY, June 15 — Enrollees in the State employee health insurance program may switch options beginning June 22, it has been announced. An open enrollment period for both employees and retirees not already covered by the program will also begin at that time. The period for transfer and enrollment ends July 22.

Changes in coverage become effective August 27. Reopening of enrollment for those who retired from State service prior to December 5, 1957 will be held at a later date, according to officials.

This chance to switch options is the first permitted since the inception of the program in December, 1957. The plan offers three options: The Statewide Plan, GHI (Group Health Insurance) and HIP (Health Insurance Plan of Greater New York).

The State health insurance program was made possible through the efforts of the Civil Service Employees Association, comprised of more than 85,000 New York State employees.

Eligible for Transfer

Those eligible for transfer include all enrolled employees on active service, employees on leave without pay or in any "direct pay" status, and those who retired after December 5, 1957.

The Statewide Plan is available to all State employees regardless of where they work or live. The GHI option is available only to employees residing in Albany, Bronx, Columbia, Delaware, Dutchess, Greene, Kings, Nassau, New York, Orange, Putnam, Queens, Rensselaer, Richmond, Rockland, Schenectady, Suffolk, Sullivan, Ulster and Westchester counties. HIP medical groups serve residents of the counties of Bronx, Columbia, Kings, Nassau, New York, Queens, Richmond, Suffolk and Westchester.

Who Can Enroll

The reopening of enrollment in the State health insurance program provides the only opportunity for employees and retirees not already enrolled to obtain coverage without evidence of insurability. Previously those who did not enroll within 28 days after they became eligible for coverage could not enter the program without such evidence.

Eligible to enroll during the reopening of the program are: employees not enrolled; employees and dependents previously denied coverage on the basis of unsatisfactory statements of health; those who voluntarily cancelled coverage; those whose coverage was cancelled for non-payment of premiums; retired employees who were covered while in active service but who neglected to continue coverage when they retired; and dependents who were either acquired after the employee retired or who were not covered during his active service.

On the effective date of a transfer of options, the enrollee's status under his new coverage will be the same as that of a new enrollee in that coverage. The enrollee's status under his former coverage will be the same as that of an employee who terminated his coverage. That is, he would be eligible for whatever benefits his former coverage provides after cessation of coverage.

Available Benefits

Employees enrolling during the open enrollment period will be entitled to the same benefits that are available to new employees who enroll within 28 days after they become eligible. An employee or dependent who is confined at home, in a hospital or other in-

TA Election Well Run, Say Unions

Losing unions in the recent election by New York City transit workers, won with a majority of the votes by the Transport Workers Union, Local 100, had some good words for the New York State Labor Relations Board, which ran the poll.

Over 24,000 transit workers voted in the FREE-run election at 48 different polling places under the supervision of 212 persons, 146 on loan from the State Labor Department and the remainder SLRB personnel. The TWU polled 13,149 votes to runner-up United Transit Employees Council's 8,748.

The losing unions had five days to file objections to the elections. Instead of objections, Commissioner Jay Kramer SLRB chairman, declared "we've received several commendations from unions which lost the election."

The second-running United Transit Employees Council telegraphed, "Although we lost the election we must congratulate your office . . . for the fair and equitable manner in which they carried out the election. It was a credit to the State of New York."

Moss K. Schenk, attorney representing the American Transport Union, wrote, "The entire proceeding . . . was an exemplar of judiciousness, experience and intelligence . . . The conduct of the election was excellently managed, peaceful and orderly. The entire procedure, including the expeditious tabulation of the votes, was a display of a fantastically well-organized undertaking . . . We would be doing less than our duty if we were not to bring to your attention the magnificent work of the members of your staff — especially coming from an attorney representing a losing union."

U. S. Supers Being Rated On Points

A new point system is being started by the U.S. Civil Service Commission for supervisors in Federal service, to rate their grade and pay.

The same evaluation system also will be used by the CSC soon in establishing guidelines for agencies to follow in promoting rank-and-file employees to supervisory jobs.

The initial point-system will apply to about 30,000 supervisory positions in Government, involving first-line supervisors in clerical work, office machine operation, protective and custodial work and certain kinds of technical work. The CS Commission plans later to extend the point system to supervisors in higher grade jobs in professional and administrative posts.

The Commission has designated four sets of factors as the basis of its point system. Supervisors' base grades generally will be one grade above the top-grade of any of the subordinates they are supervising.

In addition to this, there will be three other sets of factors carrying from one to 53 points, which will determine if a supervisor is entitled to additional grade promotions.

On a trial based on its new point system, it was found that 71 percent of supervisors would retain their present grade, while 16 percent would receive higher grades. Thirteen percent would receive lower grades, owing to their failure to measure up to the point system.

"SPIC AND SPAN" A CREEDMOOR HALMARK

The brightness of a kitchen, above, left, and the airiness and cleanliness of a typical ward, above, right, show the groundlessness of an organizing labor union's irresponsible charges of "sweat-shop" conditions at Creedmoor State Hospital.

Leader Survey Finds Charges Against Creedmoor by Union To Be Without Foundation

By RICHARD EVANS, Jr.

The Leader last week conducted a thorough, on-the-spot investigation of charges of mismanagement and a variety of other obnoxious practices and conditions at Creedmoor State Hospital, made by a splinter labor union trying to organize there.

The investigation showed the charges to be primarily groundless: threatened picket lines were nowhere to be seen, and there was very little evidence of group itself.

This group, local 281 of the Building Service Employees Union, claims to have 500 members at Creedmoor, but this reporter spent nearly an hour trying to locate one of its stewards and was able to find only two employees who would admit they were even members, never mind stewards.

Reported attendance at the group's meeting the previous night, June 8, was about ten persons.

The dominant employee group at the hospital is the Creedmoor Chapter of the Civil Service Employees Association, which can prove more than 1,300 active members from among the hospital's 2,000 employees.

Dr. Frank M. Criven, assistant director at the hospital, said he personally did not know who the chief steward of the splinter group was, nor who any of the ward stewards were or even who might be a member.

Joseph Bucaria, CSEA Chapter president, said that "it would seem reasonable to assume that an organization making such broad claims and criticisms would have some contact with the administration."

"But the actions of this group are typical of a minority labor group fomenting abstract dissatisfaction, unrealistic demands and general unrest purely for the sake of its desire for members."

"It can act so irresponsibly because, since it deals with no one of authority, it has no authority itself and no responsibility."

The splinter group encouraged hospital employees, with promises of protection, to acts of insubordination. The protection was not forthcoming.

Mrs. Margaret C. Schroder, an attendant at Creedmoor, was one of the two splinter union members The Leader interviewed.

Last year she received a month's suspension and a $10 fine for refusing to help clean a flooded basement. The union leaders had told her to refuse the work and they would see she was not punished.

Other Charges

The group had also charged that employee morale was at a low ebb. In touring the wards, recreation areas, kitchens and other installations, The Leader reporter talked to many attendants and other employees. Their attitude was unmistakably one of general content and pride in their work.

The only two members of the minority union this reporter could

More convenient office space in the new building will enable the department to consolidate all its offices on one floor.

The official address of the New York office will be State Commerce Department, Room 1155, 230 Park Ave., New York 17, New York. The telephone number is ORegon 9-2244.

Fringe Benefits Let Gov't. Compete With Industry For Personnel, Kaplan Believes

MONTREAL, June 15 — The traditional disadvantage of government in competing with private business for the services of able people can be neutralized to some extent by liberalization of retirement and other fringe benefits, according to H. Eliot Kaplan, president of the New York State Civil Service Commission.

Mr. Kaplan's remarks were made at the annual conference of the Municipal Finance Officers Association of the United States and Canada, held here June 9.

"Public pension plans have been in existence a long time," he continued, "some—for police, firemen and teachers—for more than three-quarters of a century.

top-level executives and administrators in private business, which are far beyond what the public is willing to pay its employees. Salaries for even the general run of jobs continue to lag behind. The public service is consequently handicapped in its efforts to attract and hold superior personnel.

"It therefore behooves governments at all levels to do what they can to mitigate this situation. A well-rounded program of retirement benefits helps in recruiting the far-sighted young person at the outset of his career, and it may be an even greater inducement to those approaching the midpoint of their working years. Perhaps even more important, it cuts down the 'pirating' of experienced personnel who might otherwise be enticed by higher salaries and other vounted allurements of private enterprise.

"What should constitute a just program of public employee benefits, liberal enough to enable government to compete effectively for its fair share of competent talent?

"It must include at a minimum:

"1. An adequately generous retirement allowance geared to the unique conditions of the public service.

"2. Assurance of pension benefits to an employee in case of incapacity, with more liberal benefits if the incapacity results from accident in service.

"3. Assurance of benefits to surviving dependents of an employee killed in performance of duty.

"4. Old age and survivors' benefits either under the Federal Social Security plan or under the retirement plan.

"5. Permissible loans up to 50 per cent of the employee's contributions, preferably without interest, with the balance of an unpaid loan at the time of the employee's death insured up to a reasonable maximum.

"6. Health insurance coverage with the cost shared by the government and the employee.

"7. Group life insurance with the costs shared by the government and the employee.

"8. A pre-retirement counseling program."

H. Eliot Kaplan

Originally they were thought of as rewards for long faithful service, but now they are viewed—and properly so—as deferred salary plans to provide for semi-retirement as well as an earned leisure period.

"Governments will probably never match the salaries paid to

Two grades are open on jobs with U.S. agencies throughout the five boroughs of New York City. One is GS-12, requires no experience, and starts at $62.80 a week. The other is GS-3, requires a year of experience, and starts at $67.60 a week.

The State Public Works Department has announced receipt of low bids totaling more than $3 million to construct a power plant for the Campus Site. Work is expected to get underway shortly.

$100 a month helps keep him out of the red

$100 a month may not sound like a lot of money, but it means a lot to a State Hospital employee who is recovering from a hip injury. This is the amount of the disability check this man has received every month for the past 33 months. He uses it to help pay some important bills . . . to help keep him out of the red financially.

Because an accident and sickness can strike anybody, even you, you too need the protection offered under the C.S.E.A. Plan of Accident and Sickness.

L.I. Filing Starts On P.O. Sub Clerk

The first applications are starting to pour in for the first Long Island-wide examinations for Post Office career substitute clerk and substitute carrier. More than 450 have already been forwarded to central test headquarters.

With pay starting at $2 an hour, there is no formal education nor experience required. Wages go up to $2.42 through annual raises. Ten percent extra is paid for night work.

The test is for the more than 130 first and second class post offices in Nassau and Suffolk Counties. No final closing date has been set for applications. Eligible lists will be set up after the examinations.

One indication of the number of jobs in Long Island is that Suffolk County post offices alone employ about 4,000 substitutes.

Anyone may apply, wherever he may live. But priority in certification goes first to those residing within the delivery area of each post office, and to those already employed there, such as provisionals. A large number of the provisionals have already signed up for the test.

Priority goes next to those residing elsewhere in the county, and lastly to those outside the county.

Required are U.S. citizenship, and an age of 18 to 70, although 17-year-olds may take the exam.

First Big Exam

No such examination, covering all of Long Island east of New York City, has ever been held before, and this one may serve as a pilot model for examinations covering other large areas. In this way, individual post offices may draw on a wide area for prospective employees.

Central spots such as Riverhead, Patchogue, Hempstead and Jamaica have been designated for the tests, which will be written. Candidates will be notified as to time and place.

P.O. Sub. Clerk Cut-Off Scheduled—It's June 30

Filing for New York Post Office substitute clerk, a position starting at $2 a hour and requiring no formal education or experience, will end on June 30.

Mailed applications will not be accepted if they are postmarked any later.

Bernard Katz, executive secretary of the New York Post Office's Board of Civil Service Examiners, estimated that the number of applicants will go over the tentative original goal of 40,000 on Tuesday, June 16, with the filing tempo hovering at more than 450 a day.

As of June 1, a total of 14,025 were examined out of the 35,001 that had applied.

Out of last year's list of eligibles, a total of 6,864 were appointed—a fair indication of the pace of appointments over a year's time.

Daily examinations are still continuing, and will probably go on to June 30.

The $2-an-hour starting pay for substitute clerks mounts up to $2.42 an hour through annual raises. Ten percent additional is paid for night work.

There are no experience, education or residence requirements, but preference for appointment will be given to residents of the five boroughs of New York City.

Robert K. Christenberry, acting New York City postmaster, has emphasized the many benefits that go with employment in the postal service. Every postal employee enjoys up to 26 days a year paid vacation and up to 13 days a year sick leave. Employees are eligible for low-cost group life insurance.

Liberal Benefits

The postal service offers promotional opportunities and an incentive awards program. Retirement benefits are liberal. Employees may retire at 60, after 35 years of service, with $286 a month.

Applicants must be physically able to perform efficiently the duties of the position, which require arduous physical exertion, involving prolonged standing, walking, throwing and reaching, and may involve the handling of heavy sacks of mail.

Applicants must have at least 20/30 corrected vision in one eye.

Male applicants must be U.S. citizens and weigh 125 pounds or more and be at least 17 years old on the date of appointment. The weight requirement is waived for veterans. It is also waived if the applicant passes a lifting test in which a 100 pound mail sack must be shouldered.

Stability and security have long been noted characteristics of employment in the Postal Service. Generally the higher-level positions are filled by promotion from within the service.

To apply, obtain application Form 5000AB by visiting or writing the Board of U.S. Civil Service Examiners, U.S. Post Office, Room 3506, 33rd Street near Ninth Avenue, New York 1, N.Y.; or the Director, Second U.S. Civil Service Region, Federal Building, Christopher Street, New York 14, N. Y.

EMPLOYEES ACTIVITIES

Brooklyn State

The biennial election was held recently for officers of the Brooklyn State Hospital Chapter of the Civil Service Employees Association. The voting machine was again used, with very good results. Approximately 50% of the employees working that day voted. The following candidates were elected:

Frank Cole, president; Lillian Hammond, first vice-president; Phyllis Singer, second vice-president; Lucille Scarabino, secretary; Andy Prainito, treasurer; Barbara Sweet, delegate.

Board of Directors: Representing Attendants, Dorothy Crawford; Nurses, Joseph Frassetta; Food Service, Mary Bussing; Grounds, Christopher Grucci; Professional, Dr. Leonard Kane; Shops, John Diamond; Clerical, William Crawford; Safety and semi-professional, Paul Greenwood; Occupational and recreational, Emil Impresa; Social Service, Mary E. Mescia.

We would like to extend our congratulations to all the new officers, and wish them success in their future undertakings.

An installation dinner was held at Farragut Inn. Hon. Maxwell Lehman, Deputy City Administrator, did his usual excellent job as toastmaster. Dr. Nathan Beckenstein, Director of Brooklyn State Hospital, presided as the installing officer. Dr. Beckenstein has been a charter member of the Association since 1928. During the course of the evening Mr. Impresa, our out-going president, was presented with a Hi-Fi console, with combination AM and FM radio. The presentation was made by Dr. Beckenstein. All the members of the Association would like to express their gratitude and appreciation to Mr. Impresa for his tireless efforts, and the exceptional work he has done during his years as president. A special thanks to the members of the committee, Mrs. Mary E. Mescia, chairlady; Mary Bussing; Patrick Kilroy; James Hampton; Frank Cole, Emil Impresa, and Cesira Bonomi for making the dinner a success.

Application forms may be obtained in almost any post office. The completed form should be sent to the Board of U.S. Civil Service Examiners, General Post Office, New York 1, N. Y.

Postal employees enjoy 26 days a year of paid vacation, and up to 13 days sick leave. Other benefits include low-cost group life insurance, incentive awards, liberal retirement benefits.

Area Arrangement

The examination will be conducted by the Board of U.S. Civil Service Examiners of the New York Post Office, by agreement between New York's Acting Postmaster Robert K. Christenberry, C.B.C. Fellows, regional personnel manager and chairman of the New York board, and James P. Googe, regional director of the U.S. Civil Service Commission.

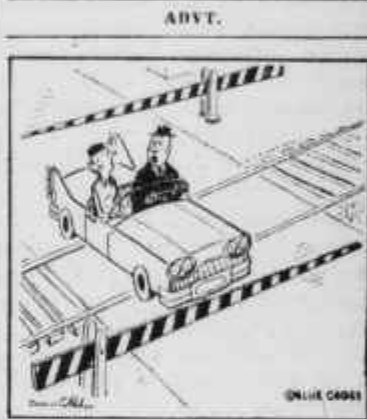

Male applicants must weigh at least 125 pounds; this is waived for veterans and those who have held the job, and those who can lift a 100-pound filled sack to their shoulders. They must not have any irremediable or incurable defect or disease which prevents effective work or which creates a hazard.

Duties of newly appointed substitutes clerks and carriers are at times interchangeable.

25 YEARS OF SERVICE

Honored recently for over 25 years service at the Ray Brook State Tuberculosis Hospital, State Department of Health, were the employees shown above. ## A Word on Economy, O.K. Where's the Saving?

YOU'D HAVE to go a long distance these days to find somebody who isn't for economy.

It is a fine, high-sounding word. To hear all the talk about economy in government, a man who hankers to spend more public money will beat his wife and kick his children. This paper must register something of a dissent.

There can be too much economy. Services to the public and the business community always carry a price. If you want your garbage carried away and taken care of in a healthy way, if you want a police guard to protect your family and home and income, if you want any service that people want today, you must have enough money to support it.

The silliness and the danger of too much economy has been proved at a local Federal installation. During an 18-month period, to save money, the civilian guard force was cut down from 150 to 88. At the same time, the military police force, which originally was down to 25, has been doubled.

This "saving" really cost money. The difference between the two methods of policing amounts to several thousand dollars per man each year. Military guards, with the supplies and organization needed for them, costs the taxpayer in this instance $50,000 extra.

In other words, you can't economize by doing away with services that you will have to replace anyway.

The City hemmed and hawed about raises that should have been coming to City employees. The big argument was, "Where is the money coming from?" First, the State allowed a readjustment of the tax load, so that more money could be collected. Now, we are getting serious about collecting the so-called "nuisance" taxes.

If you economize by holding out on salaries, or by "hiding" the actual spending, as with the guards, the result will be poor efficiency and, in the long run, more money spent. The money is there. And the people who do the work should get it.

Law Cases

Sidney M. Stern, counsel, submitted to the New York City Civil Service Commission the following report on law cases:

Judicial Decisions Court of Appeals

Wolf v Appleby. Petitioner is a beverage control investigator in the state liquor authority. His position was allocated to grade 14 by the classification and compensation appeals board. The director of the budget declined to approve the allocation on the basis of a comparison of the duties of the title with those of other investigative positions in the state service. The Appellate Division held that the budget director was not bound by the determination of the appeals board and was not arbitrary or capricious in refusing to recognize the allocation. The Court of Appeals has affirmed.

Special Terms

Feaster v Board of Higher

Education. Petitioners, college science assistants and college science technicians, while on the instructional staff, are governed for leave purposes by the regulations of the administrative staff. They assert that such distinction is unlawful and arbitrary. The court did not agree, holding that the discretion vested in the board was not shown to have been abused and the court would not substitute its judgment for that of the board. Proceeding dismissed.

Hartfield v City Civil Service Commission. Petitioner was disqualified for position of correction officer because of unsatisfactory character. The court recognizing the commission's responsibility in screening out candidates who do not meet the test of high moral character, nevertheless felt that the circumstances disclosed merited reconsideration and remits the matter to the commission.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

ASK END OF RESIDENCE JOB REQUIREMENTS

Editor, The Leader:

I don't live in New York City, but I work there. And I don't see why so many jobs are restricted to New York City residents. The law keeps me from applying for at least half of the examinations that are announced in The Leader.

So many of the agencies are always making such a to-do about getting new employees. There are plenty of folks here in Bergen County, and south of here, that would be glad to cross the river every day and work for the New York City civil service.

I think a city stands in its own way, if it tries to recruit employees just from its own precincts. That's like Macy's saying they will only sell goods to people who live in Manhattan. The store would soon go out of business that way.

What we need is interchange, or cooperation. There are plenty of small towns here on the west side of the Hudson who could use employees from outside their boundaries. There ought to be a way that cities located next to one another could broadcast the news for jobs, set up examinations and hire people all together. I think it would help the cities, it would help the people living in them, and it would certainly help the civil service worker who finds he has to move to another town.

Fort Lee, N. J.

COMPLAIN ABOUT U.S. EMPLOYEE PROBE

Editor, The Leader:

What's going on down in Washington with this bill to check our loyalty and security? A Federal employee has an awful lot of Big Brother breathing down his neck as it is.

First the chairman of the Federal CSC seems to say there's no need to broaden all of loyalty-security regulations. He said — it was reported in black and white — that there wasn't any emergency because of the Supreme Court's ruling that the security program is just limited to sensitive jobs.

Then, another man from the Post Office Department came out and said that everybody who handles the U.S. mail is in a sensitive post, and the bill is a good thing.

Now, I think it's about time that whoever is running the Administration should tell Congress one thing or tell it another—but there should be something definite. There are two or three people I know who made some mistakes a long time ago, or had a member of the family who got into trouble. Is that sort of thing going to be held over their heads on and off any time someone brings the subject up?

Personnel Society Plans Installation

The Metropolitan Chapter of the Society for Personnel Administration will hold its annual installation dinner on Tuesday, June 23, at 6:30 p.m., at Helles Cafe, 143 West 44th St., Manhattan.

Melvin Koppelson, president, will install as officers for the coming year: President, Martin Fisch, Internal Revenue Service; vice-president, Jerome Smith, Department of Defense; Catherine Regruto, secretary-treasurer, Civil Service Commission.

Questions Answered On Social Security

My father receives Social Security of $87 per month. He works in a hardware store for $100 a month. Last August he served on jury duty and was paid $20. Will he have to pay back any of his social security?

No. Services as a juror are not considered earned income.

My wife will be 62 next December. I am already drawing social security benefits and she wishes to draw wife's benefits on my account. What should she bring with her when she comes in to file?

Your wife should bring with her some evidence of her age. She can contact the social security office ahead of time in order to ascertain acceptable types of evidence. If your wife has ever had a social security card of her own, she will want to bring such card with her when she files her claim.

I am a teacher and over age 65. I am covered under social security and receive over $4200 salary a year on a 12-month basis. I plan to continue teaching, but do not work at all during June, July, or August. If I file an application for social security benefits now, would I be entitled to any checks for the three summer months when I do not work.

Yes; regardless of the amount you may earn in a calendar year, benefits will be payable to you for any month in which you do not earn more than $100, nor render substantial services in self-employment.

I expect to earn about $1000 this year working part-time for a painting contractor. I also make about $1200 a year in rental income from a small apartment house I own. I was 65 years old last December and was retired at that time after 29 years under social security. Would I be able to draw any social security benefits this year?

Yes. Rental income, insurance annuities, stock dividends and pensions do not count in determining your right to receive monthly social security insurance payments. Since you can earn up to $1200 in a year and still draw all your monthly payments, you would be entitled to 12 checks this year if you earn only $1,000.

My wages as plumber are $450

13 'Revenuers' Get Awards

Thirteen employees of the New York Region of the Internal Revenue Service recently received awards for adopted suggestions, special action service and superior work performance, according to Regional Commissioner C. I. Fox.

In Metropolitan New York, two employees of the Lower Manhattan District Office received the highest cash awards. A Special Act or Service Award of $285 was presented to Robert P. Altman for a training program in Pitman shorthand. Mrs. Mathilda Dessler was awarded $130 for superior work performance for the exceptional way she performed her secretarial duties.

Other award recipients in the Metropolitan New York area were Paul G. Mahon, Andres M. Saldana, Sherrill W. Anderson, Glen R. Gillaspie, Jacob J. Graber, and Kathleen O'Donnell.

a month. I will be 72 years old on August 20 this year, and am still working. How many social security checks, if any, would I get this year if I filed now?

When you become age 72 there is no limitation on your annual earnings. Therefore, you will get at least five checks for this year (August through December).

I contacted my social security office in 1957 to sign up for disability benefits. When I was told that disability benefits from the Civil Service Commission would prevent me from receiving social security disability payments, I dropped the whole thing. Has there been any change in this requirement?

Yes. Effective August, 1958 disability benefits under social security are payable to qualified disabled persons regardless of any other federal benefit they are receiving. You should contact your social security office and file a claim for those benefits.

I have worked for several different employers during the past few years. Is there any way to check to see if all my wages have been reported?

Yes, we have a printed post card form which you may complete and send in for a report on the amount of wages credited to your account. If your figures do not agree with the report you receive you should contact your local social security office for an explanation.

I was dependent on my son for most of my support for several years before his death in 1955. However, I could not qualify for social security benefits because he was survived by a widow. I have been told that the 1958 amendments have changed this. Is this true?

Yes. Dependent parents can now file for benefits even though a widow or children survive. This new rule can be applied to cases where death occurred as long ago as January, 1940. Benefits can be paid for all months beginning with September, 1958, if applications are filed by September, 1959.

Court Case Load Grows Heavier

The work load of City court employees grew heavier last year — by about 10%, according to figures in the report on activity in Magistrate Courts for 1958.

The report was made by Chief Magistrate John M. Murtagh, with Magistrate Larry M. Vetrano, director of administration for the courts, supervising its preparation.

The biggest increase was in arraignments for felonies, misdemeanors, and offenses, up by 150,000. The 1957 total was 2,159,000; last year it was 2,309,000.

Topping it in percentage increase was the 128,000 rise in parking summonses — a jump from 973,000 to 1,101,000 in 1958.

Speeding tickets rose about 10,900 to a 148,000 total.

There was a bit of a drop in narcotics arraignments, from 1,900 down to 1,800. Red light passing also dropped, by almost 34,000, down to 219,000.

New State U. Head to Take Office Aug. 1

ALBANY, June 15 — Dr. Thomas Hale Hamilton, new president of the State University, is the author of a number of books and articles covering such varied subjects as the Armed Forces and political conventions.

He will take office Aug. 1 when he and his family moves into the home of the University President at 40 Marion Ave., Albany.

Prior to accepting the New York post, Dr. Hamilton was vice president for academic affairs at Michigan State University.

He has gained nationwide prominence in educational affairs, having served as a consultant to the University of the Philippines and consultant for a study of higher education in Florida.

A native of Marion, Indiana, Dr. Hamilton was educated at DePauw University and at the University of Chicago. Interrupted by three years service as a naval officer in World War II, his early teaching and administrative experience was gained at Lawrence College in Wisconsin.

In announcing his selection, the State University Board of Trustees declared: "We are confident that under Dr. Hamilton's guidance State University can speed the pace of its progress toward the educational goals set by the people of our state."

VARIOUS TECHNICAL CHANGES

Chapter 327 of the Laws of 1959 makes technical changes with respect to the Health Insurance Plan to assure the allocation of costs in connection therewith against the appropriate agencies. It provides that any state officers or employees who are members of the Plan, and who are paid from a special or administrative fund shall have the employer's share of their coverage paid from such special fund, and also provides that such special funds shall pay their proportionate share of expenses of the administration of the Health Insurance Plan.

This latter portion of the amendment has a more than technical effect by assessing the costs of administration against special and administrative funds in proportion to the number of members of the Plan whose salaries are paid from such funds. The net result of this is that the Temporary Health Insurance Fund, including the dividends earned by past experience, will be increased by the proper assessment of such charges.

Chapter 361 of the Laws of 1959 was a purely technical change in the provision of the unemployment insurance provisions of the Labor Law. The Labor Law is amended in its references to the Civil Service Law to contain the proposed section references in the new Civil Service Law which became effective April 1, 1959.

LIBERALIZATIONS

Chapter 130 of the Laws of 1959 liberalizes certain provisions of the Retirement and Social Security Law with respect to discontinued service retirement. In essence, this amendment provides that an individual who has been discontinued from service and was entitled to a discontinued service retirement therefor, and who was subsequently reinstated into State service shall, provided he serves at least ten years after reinstatement and returns the value of the retirement allowance which he received while he was in discontinued service status, may elect to consider his entire period of retirement service as one period, or if he prefers or it is more advantageous to him to do so, to consider the two periods of service separately.

Chapter 91 of the Laws of 1959 amends Sections 242 and 317 of the Military Law, and extends from 4 to 6 months period of time during which a public employee may obtain a leave of absence to attend military service training school.

Chapter 724 of the Laws of 1959 extends until June 30, 1959, the privilege of certain employees to elect to transfer their retirement membership from a system of which they were previously a member, provided that the employee joined the second system while still a member of the first, and has not withdrawn his contributions from the first system.

CHAPLAINS — DEDUCTION IN LIEU OF RESIDENCE

Chapter 115 of the Laws of 1959 restores to the new Civil Service Law a provision inadvertently omitted therefrom when the Civil Service Law was recodified which would permit a Chaplain who is not furnished a residence by the State to establish 20% of his annual salary as the amount paid in lieu of residence. As we are sure the Chaplains affected know, fixing the value of a residence is of importance to them in connection with the taxability of this portion of their salary as income.

RETIREMENT — SERVICE CREDIT

Chapter 581 of the Laws of 1959 removes from the Retirement and Social Security Law the provision which formerly prohibited the granting of retirement credit for periods of time prior to the general adoption of Social Security for public employees in 1957 during which a position in public service was covered by the provisions of the Social Security Law. With this amendment, therefore, it will be possible in certain cases for public employees who had Social Security prior to 1957 to also obtain member service in the retirement system for that same period of service.

STATE POLICE — INCREASE SUPERVISORY FORCE

In addition to the mild increase in the number of State Police which was authorized by the Budget bills as finally passed, Chapter 217 of the Laws of 1959 adds additional supervisory personnel — to wit, one Inspector, one Captain, and three Staff Sergeants to the State Police force.

It is to be hoped that at least by the end of the next legislative session, there will be furnished an adequate number of additional items to permit the completion of the reduction of State Police officers to a 40-hour work week and at the same time assure continued police service by that Division at the same high caliber to which the taxpayers of the State are both accustomed and entitled.

RETIREMENT SYSTEM — LIBERALIZE INVESTMENTS

Of some significance, both present and future, is the amendment brought about by Chapter 333 of the Laws of 1959. This measure permits the Comptroller to invest retirement system funds in the equities of public utilities. It limits the amount which may be so invested to 20% of all funds, and provides that not more than 2% of the assets of the system shall be invested in the operations of any one such corporation. The legislation also contains certain restrictions to insure that investments in such bonds, debentures, or trust certificates shall be of the highest caliber.

While the legislation has no direct relationship to the subject of variable annuities, it does indicate that both the administrative and legislative thinking realizes the necessity of obtaining a higher yield on the over $1,000-

000,000 (one billion dollars) of retirement system reserves. Many of the same considerations which led to the enactment of this chapter would seem to indicate the wisdom of considering an optional retirement plan of variable annuities which would permit employees who elect to do so to have a certain percentage of their retirement contributions invested in stock or other equities of selected corporations.

and, interviewed privately, said that in general they liked working at the hospital and had few complaints.

Patients' Work

In the first place, no patient is ever forced to do any work. Doctors decide what kind of work would be of therapeutic value to the patient and then ask him if he wants to do it. The patient may simply accept or decline the work. Some patients even make money at their jobs.

The jobs are no more or less unsanitary than those of people everywhere outside the hospital, according to Dr. Criden.

It seemed that the following exchange, witnessed by your reporter, was more typical of the situation at the hospital.

A deaf-mute patient was waxing an employee's car, for which the employee would pay a sum agreed on between the two. As a hospital police officer passed, the patient waved and made several confusing gestures with his hands. The officer understood, smiled broadly and waved again.

"Every time he goes somewhere he sends me a card," said the officer, "so every time I go somewhere, I send him one. I just spent a weekend up-State. He thanked me for the card."
