WONDERING

We've been wondering lately what is wrong with the general attitude of State college students towards their own college activities. At the debate last week there were perhaps forty students present. The debate was a good one. The topic was interesting and many amusing arguments were presented. But where were the State college students?

The depression cannot be used for an excuse. The debate was absolutely free. Yet this much-discussed and seemingly super-important feature had apparently no effect upon the rather 1200 students. Tomorrow night the freshman team will debate a team representing the freshmen class at Colgate university in the Lounge at Richardson hall. Let's surprise ourselves and come to the debate and show these Colgate representatives that there really are more than 1200 students at State college.

Tomorrow night the electra committee is sponsoring the annual All State dance. Each group from every student is given an opportunity to dance to the tune of dance bands from all over the world. The punch board dancing is in charge of the electra committee, and the committee has worked hard and long to make this dancing possible and successful.

In spite of all their efforts, however, the new colored table purchased last year has not been entirely paid for. The dance tomorrow night is being conducted to help pay off this colored table. The charge is small, the price of two movies, a couple of lunches or tea, and a couple of seats.

The State College Playboys may not be able to see the world, but they are on the way, according to the dance and the State team, a night and day of dancing.

COLLEGE DRAMATICS

The first scheduled class presentation of the advanced dramatic class was given the week it is with much regret that we realize there will no longer be the "play" to go on either. The day or Wednesday night. Each year the class make possible a weekly program of plays in which the dramatic and production talent of the entire College is given an opportunity to be tried out and developed. Complaints which have been made in regard to the cultural standing of the College may readily be answered with the presentation of the advanced dramatic class. Congratulations.

FRIENDLY RIVALRY

The inter-class sing in the student assembly this morning marks the second important phase of rivalry between the freshmen and sophomore classes. The score in rivalry is now tied, 3-3, each class having been victorious in a basketball game.

The friendly feelings and interests which are brought out each year in the rivalry contests, and the fun and co-operation which each member of the class discovers in being a member of his class make these rivalry activities some of the most enjoyable and worthy College memories.

Care must be taken, however, that students do not overlook or overshadow these friendly contacts with too much emphasis upon the actual obtaining of rivalry points. It is inevitable that there will always be, technically, a winner and a loser, but winners or losers, the discovery of the friendships and jollity in one's own class, and in the rival class, makes everyone a real winner.

This morning marks the first inter-class sing since 1928, when the classes of 1930 and 1931 sang in competition. Every member of 1933 and 1934 can take part in the sing this morning, and whether the judges decide that the sophomores or the freshmen are the best singers may each one of these classes be victorious in new discoveries.

COURTEOUS COOPERATION

The organization and assimilation of the students in the new era college into the routine and activities of State college has been carried on with a careful, systematic plan. State students have been meeting, conversing and helping in these emergency situations in helping them realize what a college is and what it may mean to a person. The leaders of the new era college have expressed themselves as being more than pleased with the attitude the students of state college have shown toward the New Era students.

These students have been invited to attend meetings, dinners, and dances which State has conducted. Discussion meetings have been planned for these new students. We have again shown the worthwime attitudes of State students, and the realization of factors which go to make up a better college life.

THIS FINANCIAL SITUATION

The student board of finance has tried the moral methods of student activities which it deprecates because of an important coming holiday which tied up the funds of the association. However, more than a month and a half ago, no more was declared on all activities in the student body, not a student spent a penny on anything except the necessities of life, such as food, clothing, and transportation. Some students could not pay their bills, and it is to be hoped that they will be able to pay them. It is to be hoped that they will be able to pay them. It is to be hoped that they will be able to pay them.

There are various ways of giving. A person may give time, cooperation, support, inspiration, advice, or parts of himself, or as monetary support. But no man who will not give credit, we can and do not explain. It does not seem conceivable that persons can exist who are asocially, not doing about State, about all activities, but contributing, not giving, and not getting organized. This is an attitude which is almost impossible to realize. A person can give in quantity, or quality.

We have always maintained an open door to all who are in financial need, and we will continue to do so.

State Co-eds Learn Knot-tying As Part Of Activities In New Girl Scout Troop

Many of the State college co-eds realized one of their ambitions last Wednesday night as they sat in room 111 diligently and excitedly tying "bow" and other kinds of knots. This ambition was that of being in a Girl Scout troop. This troop, Troop 25, met for the first time last week under the direction of Miss Abba Blamplied, director of the Albany Council. The troop was formed into four patrols. The following patrol leaders were elected: Eugenia Millard, '33; Thelma Hultentau, '31, Sally Logan, '35, and Rosa Peters, '36. Eugenia Millard '33 was elected secretary of the troop and Valentine Repnowich, '35, was elected treasurer.

Early this semester a training course for Girl Scout leaders and captains was inaugurated here. This course was taught by Miss Thelma Trott, National staff instructor. It was a regular training course in scouting which would enable graduate members to start troops. The interest created by the course finally resulted in the organization of the present Girl Scout troop.

At the conclusion of the more serious business, lengths of rope were distributed and the various knots were demonstrated and practiced. The tying of these knots is one of the tests which a novice must pass before she can enter the tenderfoot class. The troop is largely composed of those striving for the tenderfoot class. This instruction was followed by singing and a ball game.

ALUMNI COUNCIL TO MEET APRIL 1 FOR ORGANIZATION

The spring conference of the graduate council of the State college alumni association will be conducted on Saturday, April 1, at 3:00 o'clock in the Lounge of Richardson hall when representatives from all of the classes which have been graduated since 1885 will meet to make plans for the annual Alumni day on Saturday, June 17. Miss Bertha E. Brumby, '06, executive secretary of the association, is in charge of arranging funds for the council meeting.

Informal discussions will be conducted on issues of interest to the council members. Those will include Alumni day, Council's relation to the class, place of council in the alumni organization, and the Alumni Quarterly. President A. R. Barber will speak on "The College and Its Graduates."

Dr. Ward Will Address Meeting Tuesday Night

Dr. Charles C. Ward, head of the teacher training division of the New York state education department, will address the men of the college at a meeting to be conducted Tuesday night by Kappa Phi Kappa, national honorary education fraternity, at 7:30 o'clock in the Lounge of Richardson hall.

All men studying, including those registered in the New Era college, are invited to attend and especially those men who plan to be graduated this June. William Collins, '33, president of the fraternity, will preside.

TO HAVE TOURNAMENT

Boys' athletic teams of the college are to have a tournament on the college campus on Saturday, April 1, at 2:00 o'clock. The teams to participate are the teams of the New York state college, the teams of the Albany College of Pharmacy, and the teams of the Albany College of Business. The tournament will be held in the gymnasium of the college.

Tomorrow: 1:45-5:00 p.m. Y. W. C. A. banquet in Richardson hall.

Men's Athletic Council Receives Track Petition

The men's athletic council at its last meeting received a petition signed by 12 men requesting that a program for track athletics be established for State college, according to Dr. Donald A. Smith, assistant professor of history, and faculty member of the council.

Investigation revealed that only 12 of the number making the request had paid their student tax. In view of the present economic conditions and the small balance for athletic activities the council decided not to consider the petition until the student tax collections among the men making the request had increased. Dr. Smith explained.

If 20 or 25 per cent of the men pay their tax the council will consider the request for track athletics.

In the playgoer's opinion the fresh play given in assembly on Friday was the most successful in impression, at least among the audience, paraded by a discussion in interpretation, interesting in dramatic action.

John Kelly as the bustling cop of the "force" did an excellent piece of work, the best that he has ever done. I give praise for his impersonation for his impersonation, in made it feel that he had caught the nerve, singing heart of the man, emotional Irish patriot and showed it to us.

Robert Bannock and Bertram McNaughton in minor parts were less successful in impregn and emotion. Inevitable because of the newness of their parts. Roger saying his line more naturally, so skillfully that with such flash we said another phrase of the subject.

Miss DeWitt as to be congratulated for her simple and appropriate dress, as to her thought of the subject of "power" and yet aware that it was the perfect character of her position.

The set designed with its various appliances, chairs, at its kind should be a triumph.

Another night's play is necessary to make a complete picture with the audience. It was a fairly well done, but the comedy was somewhat flat. I would like to see a more varied and interesting play.

It was a very good play, and the acting was very good. The set was very good. The costumes were very good. The lighting was very good. The music was very good. The play was very good.

Junior Quintet Wins Inter-class League Championship By Defeating Sophomores

By THOMAS RYAN, '34
Sports Editor, The News

Behind the brilliant playing of Harry Yaffee and Bob Meyers the junior class team overwhelmed the sophomore quintet by the score of 21-11 in the deciding playoff game of the season Thursday night to remove any doubts as to their superiority over the underclassmen, and to clinch the championship of the inter-class league with six victories and one defeat.

The juniors quickly ran up an 8 point lead in the first quarter, 10-2, and by half time had increased their lead to 14-0. They stayed off a belated sophomore rally in the third quarter led by Al Jaflick and Dave Kroman, and easily defended their lead in the final period to emerge champions of the league. Yaffee led the scorers with nine points.

Members of the victorious team are Bill Nelson, Wilbur Fowler, Harry Yaffee, Bob Meyers, Tom Ryan, Don Benedict, Arthur Templeton, Phil Richardson, and Edie Robinson.

Members of the sophomore quintet who took runnerup honors in the league with five victories against two defeats are: Al Jaflick, Dave Kroman, Wally Parry, John Bills, Sam Spector, Bill Jones, Arlon Bush, and Harry Hall.

Bill Baker's "Frank Merriwell" act in the final seconds of play, in which Baker sank a field basket from mid-court, enabled the freshmen to nose out the seniors for third place standing. Going into the last half minute of play the seniors were leading by one point, 27-26, but Baker's shot gave the yearlings the game by the score 28-27. Karen was high scorer in the contest.

Freshmen inter class players include Barry Oldfield, Frank Lordmeyer, Bill Baker, Joseph Onillette, George Decker, Dick Margison, and Bill Shahan.

Senior players are Karen, Ormond Geyer, John Detinson, Bill Collins, Sanford Livingston, and Bill Reagan.

Final averages released by Al Jaflick manager of the league, show John Karen, senior basketball, as an individual high scorer for the season with forty-seven points. Rimmern honors were taken by Jaflick with thirty-two points. Ryan was third with twenty-nine points.

COLLEGE TENNIS SQUAD TO START MATCH SCHEDULE

The State college tennis team which will represent the College this year forms what is perhaps the finest and most seasoned squad ever to represent State in its matches, according to Sanford Livingston, '33, varsity player for three years, and former manager of the team. The squad is composed of Captain Vincent Meleski, Livingston, Carl Tarbois, captain of the 1932 team, Gordon Hughes, Anthony Sroka, Groyer Hotelling, Bill Alford, and Charles Kissam.

The players have been working out indoors for the past two weeks and hope to be in the pink of condition for the finals of the College tournament postponed from last autumn. The finals will be run out on Washington Park courts as soon as the weather permits.

The first match of the season will be played on the Ridgely Park courts, home court of the State team. William Davidge, '34, was elected to the management of the team to succeed Livingston, who resigned from the office.

The following schedule has been arranged by Davidge and Livingston:

THE COLLEGIATE WHIRL

The coaching staff at the University of Texas trains the athletes by having them make rounds of the campus to pick up stray pieces of paper. We now learn students in the College have been requested to throw paper over lawns of the campus in order to provide the employment for the athletes.

An instructor at Gettysburg college assigned his class in composition a theme written in the first person. One of the papers he received was entitled "Adam."

A professor at Detroit college suggested that seniors be given hot dogs at graduation instead of diplomas, because they could at least eat the former. What a dirty trick it would be on the hot dogs!

A student at the University of Washington, who had flunked out and who was petitioning the administration of the college for readmission, was asked whether or not he had removed the cause of his failure. His reply was: "Yes, I married her!"

Here follows a list of rules in force at Salem college in the year 1732, according to the Junonian:

1. Baths can be taken only by special permission and at times indicated by the instructor.
2. Sleeping quarters are not to be visited by the students during the day.
3. The strictest order is to be observed in the outdoor room.
4. Pupils are never to go out of sight or hearing of the instructors when out walking.

From the Polytechnic Reporter, we learn that freshmen rules at the Lincoln Memorial university were abolished, because upperclassmen hated a young professor by mistake.

A professor at Rutgers university, said that satire is the best sign of human intelligence, and that a laugh is a sign of insanity. If we accept his views, then all girls' dormitories are insane asylums.

Students To Receive Book Money Today

The books and money may be obtained in room X, in the lower corridor of Draper hall, this afternoon from 12:30 to 5:00 o'clock, according to Marion Pike, '34, who is in charge of the book table.
