ARTHUR BATES DXPJAITS
"WIT TO FOOTצATHï FOR NILAE THIS VRAR
"Milne"s football aspirations came within two faults of boing perfect.ed. Although our financia? resources vere limited, we vere granted a field, medical facilities, an a io? supply of boye, football sinits, and field ectupinen't. The latter had נnity to be purchased," suabed Arvinur Bates, manager.

He continued to say, "It an be saic that high insurance rates were the direct cause of foot'bal.2st feilune. However, a prominer cause-indirect cause, as ointed out to the foutvall comittee, was the facu that the fellows going out for basketball might not be acle to perticipate in six-man foctball. Looking over Minne athletes, inost of whom play basketball, it would be well to note that without these fellovs we world have become easy victims to opposing teams.

1) Perhans it is just as we.l] that insurance rates turred ont to be high, At last, that is what several hoped for and rejoice over how.
"One of the betier results frow football's defeat was the sixtoon s'athe busietbajl seeson instead of the proposed eieven grimes.
", we credit should be given to Russell Jones for his efforts involving fcotiball and also to Voach Hatfield for his accepted suggestion for intramural foovicall in place of sixman. ${ }^{\text {i }}$

DREAYLESADGRESES STUEENTS OF M!LNE

"When I was askod today to give a word of greeting to the Milne Students, I vas affected with a bit of nostalgia. Mirire has been my school home where my interests lay for many years and i.ts welfare has been paramount in my life. But $I$ know it is in safe leadership and for a few days to come I shall see you more or less in the ligint of a very interseted visitor. Iut it lies with you studeris as well as your teechers to preserve its traditions.
"Milne Students are honest. They analrze their position with integrity and faith in themselves. They are fortunate in the control of their school which lies so much in their own hands and which they may do so much to preserve. It is a true school democracy.

MMine Students are industrious. I am constantly amazed and pleased st the air of business wich pervades the school and motivates the student body. They know what they wait to do; they secure council and advice, and they go about their work.
"Milne Students are courter.s. Courtesy hovever involves more then mere ooliteness. It is based on respect: and respect involves a regard for things which are important; they think themselves, and rightly, to be important; thoy regard their work as important; they tinink their associates are important; and they believe their school to be important and thereby make it so.
. "And so I ask you to hold high the ba:mer of Nilne this year. Make this your best school year and say always to yourselves, 'It can be done'."

Ed.Note: We are sure that we speak for the Crimson and White as well as the entire student body in assuring Dr. Sayles that we will do all that is within our power to continue to hold hi h the traditions of Milne and to control the school denocracy as efficently as it has been done in past jrears.

This past summer has brought grief close to tho bearts of itilioe in the Joss o: cne of our nolabla alumi, Aifred Wheeler.

Tho ef us wio have known $A$, and a nuwber of us have, will ever remember his charming wit and winnirg ways.
A.t the time of his graduation in 1938, the "Crimson and white" magazine said, "Jf a man is worth knowing ait all, he is worth knowing well." This seemed to fit 11 particularly well for closer associations found us deeply respecting him.

Al was a student at Antioch. While in Milne, he was a member of Adelphoi, a member on Athletic Council snd manager of the tennis team, and Senior associato editor of the Crimson and White, tie also participated actively in dramaics.

Words are bit empty means to express our cinceio grief and deep sympaity.

COMIENTS

We are not copy-cats, but we do have to leep up with the city papers, so here are our brief news comments on current affairs which concern Milne.

Enjorable- last Saturday night at the Hadison. Incidently, do you remember for how long the lights stayed out during that storm?

Flasl. ${ }^{\text {r- }}$ the new paint job in the Cafeteria.

Rush-for new books. Unusual, isn't it.
Question- as to whether or not our football team consists of those who practice on the campus.

This is me as a seventh gradei, The first day at Milne, I came with my "Mater".

Here I am in my third semester!
Those underclassmen certainly pester.

Everyone gets here by-and-by,
The ninth is the head of all junior high.

I am now in the junior class, And among the esteemed elders I pass.

And now I've reached my senior year, It's the parting from school in June that I fear.

CHILSON AND WHite

- Edirmir. in $^{2}$

The gloriously long vacation of many a Milnite came to an end one Monday morning, not so long ago.

The bigger and better Rover club, of the class of ${ }^{1} 39$, greeted the new Seniors, and. forwarded their best fid-inge to tie seventh graders.
After the address in the auditorium and watching the exit of the seventh graders(all of which is old stuff to us) we sauntered back to the homerooms, and proce ied to discuss vacations, contempletions and junk.

That same Monday we joined the throng and pushed along to the Annex, If the newcomers had never seen what its like when several hundred people have the secure idea in mind, they certainly know now.

Tuesday was the eventful day on which tho new teachers were greeted. Was it possible that some of the minors took tie advice of the current tune, and brought an apple for the teacher?

Tridoubtedy several college classes have had, or nearly ked, youthful visitors; all of Milne, Richardson and a course oi other buildings provide adequate places for the unorientated to stray to.
 knowledge for my class.
She to he: Why you egotistical-.............. ! He to she: but there're only two in the clits.

The Years Move Forward !

Have you, by any chance, noticed the string of cars parked in back of Milne?

After five long years of enviously watching the older fellows ${ }^{8}$ cars "pile up" near the Washington Avenue entrance, the Milne senior lads (and perhaps the lasses- who knows ) are seeing dreams come true, they, ${ }^{600}$ ares "adcuralatide. "

Pres Robinson appeared with his car which has recently changed its color to a flashy cream and red.

It is rumored that A.H. Livermore, Jr. Esquire, and whatnot, has acquired one of these cherished chariots. (Entirely unomrtizad.)

Johnny "Shoo" Schamberger has an ignition key dangling from his collection, too. His is the blue number.

Of course, no one is really trying to compete with Bob Gale, cause- -.-after all!! Out Rover club is quite well equipped with adequate means of transportation. Walt Seim, Johnny Tykes, Ed Starkweather, and most of the others, do not fare too badly.
