Metro Conference Election To Be Held on May 17; Jones Beach Party June 28

The Metropolitan New York Conference of the Civil Service Employees Association will meet at 1:30 P.M., Saturday, May 17, at Cooper's Hotel, Bayshore, Long Island, to elect officers for the next two years.

By the Conference's constitution and bylaws, only member chapters are eligible to vote and each chapter has only one vote. Nominees are Irwin Schlossberg for chairman; Thomas Purtell and Salvatore Butero, first vice chairman; Solomon Bendet and John Cottle, second vice chairman; Kenneth A. Valentine and Rudolph Rausch, treasurer. There are no nominees for secretary as yet.

The Pilgrim State Hospital chapter will be host at the May 17 meeting. Chapter presidents are requested to make reservations with Angelo Cocco as soon as possible for their chapter delegates.

Cooper's Hotel is on South Clinton Avenue, south of Merrick Road, near the bay. The telephone number is Bayshore 7-4860.

The Jones Beach outing and luncheon to be held Saturday, June 28, will also be discussed.

Western Conference Hears Meacham on Health Plans, Approves Officer Slate

An illuminating discussion of the State health insurance plan was given by Edward Meacham, director of personnel services for the State Civil Service Department, at a meeting of the Western New York Conference of the Civil Service Employees Association.

Mr. Meacham addressed a large number of delegates attending the event which was held at Brockport State Teachers College, with the CSEA Brockport chapter as hosts.

Particularly stressed by the Department official was the need to retain all receipts of medical care — such as drug and other bills — in order to obtain reimbursements. Without such receipts, no payments can be made, Mr. Meacham warned.

He outlined various aspects of the plans and explained to delegates how to use their insurance should they incur an illness or injury while out of the State.

Mr. Meacham later addressed the county section of the meeting, pointing out that under recently signed legislation, political subdivisions were now able to provide employees with the same type of health insurance coverage enjoyed by State workers. He said there was no plan at present for retired county employees.

Nomination Made

A slate of officers was submitted by Noel McDonald, chairman of the Conference nominating committee, for the forthcoming Conference election.

They are Vito Ferro and Arleen Holzer, president; Albert C. Killian and William Rossiter, first vice president; Melba Binn and Irene Lavery, second vice president; Kenyon Tice and John H. Predmore, treasurer, and Dolores Rupp and Irene Kohla, secretary.

Celeste Rosenkranz, Conference president, reported that members of the Conference had been invited to attend the June 14 meeting of the Central Conference at Alexandria Bay.

Europe Trip Discussed

Following the dinner—arranged by Hazel Nelson of the Brockport chapter—more than 200 guests heard a description of the tour of Europe being sponsored by the Conference in July. Speaker was C. Edwin Lacks, president of Specialized Tours, Inc., who later showed a film on Europe.

Miss Rosenkranz said that details on the tour may be had by writing to her at 55 Sweeney St., Buffalo. There is heavy interest in the trip and Miss Rosenkranz urged that bookings be made early as only 68 seats are available.

CSEA Membership Exceeds 79,000

Membership in the Civil Service Employees Association has passed the 79,000 mark, Vito Ferro, chairman of the Statewide Membership Committee, reported.

Mr. Ferro said that although Association membership has experienced a steady growth that the total goal was not yet in sight.

"We must grow bigger and better every year," Mr. Ferro said. "And don't let us forget that new employees must always be told the story of the Civil Service Employees Association. Our job is a constant one."

Last Seats On Sale For Metro Europe Tour

Only 30 seats remain on the 97-seat plane which will take members of the Metropolitan Conference of the Civil Service Employees Association to Europe this summer, Samuel Emmett, chairman of the Travel Committee, announced.

Tentative application already has been made for some of these remaining seats and Mr. Emmett expressed concern that some persons waiting to make application in groups of three or four will delay too long in securing space.

"Once the 97 places are taken we absolutely can take no further applications," Mr. Emmett said.

Tour Described

The trip will begin on July 23 when tour members fly from New York City to Brussels, where they will spend three days visiting the spectacular fair.

From there, the tour will head for Germany where visits to romantic old castles, trips to Bonn, Munich and Heidelberg and a steamer ride on the Rhine will be included.

Dinner in Venice

From Munich, the tour will go over the beautiful Austrian Tyrols bringing the travelers to Venice in time for their evening meal.

Leaving the city of canals, the journey will continue to Florence and then on to Rome. Audiences with Pope Pius will be arranged if his Holiness is receiving.

After leaving Italy, the famous Swiss Alps will be visited, with the tour members spending time in the charming alpine city of Lucerne.

Fabulous Paris will be the last stop and, during a two-and-a-half day stay, time for a complete sightseeing tour of the city will be provided, as well as time to do things on your own.

All information and applications for the tour may be had by writing to Sam Emmett, care of the New York City chapter Travel Club, Room 905, 80 Centre St., New York 7, N. Y., or by calling YUkon 6-7573.

BROOME COUNTY DIRECTOR HELEN CUCCI DIES

Helen Cucci, a member of the Board of Directors of the Broome county chapter of the Civil Service Employees Association, died recently. Miss Cucci had been employed in the Broome County Clerk's office for 30 years, and was a deeply respected member of the chapter.

Teacher Death Benefit Increase Disapproved

ALBANY, May 5 — A bill designed to increase the death benefit of the State Teachers' Retirement System has been vetoed by Governor Harriman.

Mr. Harriman, in disapproving the measure, said a retroactive feature of the bill "mitigates against its approval." The bill was opposed by the State Comptroller and the State Teachers Retirement System.

The bill would have increased the death benefit from a maximum of six months' salary to a maximum of 12 months' salary computed on the basis of 1/12th of the compensation earnable by such member during his last 12 months of service, multiplied by the number of years of total credit, not to exceed 12.

Bingham Seeks State Senate

ALBANY, May 5—Jonathan B. Bingham, who as secretary to Governor Harriman has shown a great deal of interest in civil service and public administration, is stepping into the new role—for him—of politician.

Mr. Bingham has been designated by the Bronx County Democratic organization to seek election to the State Senate. His Republican opponent is expected to be Senator Joseph Periconi.

Mr. Bingham will take a leave of absence from his Albany post while campaigning for office. He expects to begin the campaign about July 1.

In making the race, Mr. Bingham will be seeking his first elective office. He has been mentioned in political speculation in recent months for several positions, including Congress.

25-Year Pension Bill Is Killed

ALBANY, May 5 — Governor Harriman vetoed a bill by Assemblyman Malcolm Wilson of Yonkers to provide optional 25-year retirement benefits for institution employees.

Mr. Harriman said he was disapproving the measure on the recommendation of the State Commission on Pensions and the State Employees' Retirement System.

Under wording of the bill, Mr. Harriman said, it was unclear as to the classes of employees in State and county institutions which would be embraced in the special retirement privilege it provided.

MR. SHEMIN MAKES A POINT

We didn't overhear the conversation but Henry Shemin, past president of the CSEA Metropolitan Conference, seemed to be making a good point while talking with Harry Albright, CSEA assistant counsel. The scene is the Grossinger Hotel during combined Metropolitan-Southern Conference Workshop.

462 Are Rerated In Nassau Police Tests

The Nassau County Civil Service Commission has received the final results in the examination for sergeant and lieutenant in the Nassau County Police Department and will issue a complete revised eligible list about May 9.

Appeals were filed for lieutenant on August 16 and 30 and for sergeant on November 15, 1957. The examination papers of the appealing parties were forwarded to the New York State Civil Service Department for consideration.

Final results and the papers of all competitors were received last week, and the Nassau Commission immediately began work on revising the list. The papers of 462 candidates in the two examinations were rerated by the State commission.

Bill Will Aid State Chaplains

ALBANY, May 5—Chaplains in State service received added benefits under legislation signed by Governor Harriman.

In signing the bill approved by the 1958 legislature, Mr. Harriman said:

"This bill was sponsored by the New York State Council of Churches. It provides that in the case of a chaplain employed in any State institution who is not furnished a residence by the State, twenty percent of his annual salary shall be deemed to constitute the amount to be paid to him in lieu of such residence."

The new law conforms to benefits provided by the Federal tax laws.

40-Hour Police Supervisor Bill Vetoed By Harriman

ALBANY, May 5 — Efforts to provide a 40-hour work week for police supervisory personnel have failed for 1958.

A bill, introduced by Assemblyman Frank Rossetti, has been vetoed by Governor Harriman on the recommendation of Mayor Robert Wagner of New York City and the State Conference of Mayors.

Terming the legislation impractical, Mr. Wagner urged disapproval on grounds police officers are required to work longer hours in coping with public catastrophes, serious crimes and other problems of public safety.

Mr. Harriman signed legislation in 1958 establishing a 40-hour week for most police.

Law Dept. Fund Vetoed

ALBANY, May 5 — Governor Harriman has vetoed a bill to give the State Law Department $25,000 to staff and maintain a consumer frauds division.

In disapproving the measure, Mr. Harriman said the new agency in the Attorney General's office would only duplicate work being done by existing State agencies.

Highway Bill Termed 'Bad Legislation'

ALBANY, May 5 — Legislation that was designed to reclassify county highway superintendents in the exempt class has been vetoed by Governor Harriman.

"This bill is bad legislation," Mr. Harriman said in a veto message, adding that the president of the State Civil Service Commission had urged its disapproval.

The bill would have amended the Highway Law deleting a requirement that a county superintendent of highways be appointed from the eligible list of the county.

Students See Legal Side Of Service On 'Law Day' With Attorney General

"Law Day-U.S.A." proclaimed by President Eisenhower for observance on May 1 as "a day of national dedication to the principles of government under laws" was marked by a special program sponsored by the New York State Department of Law, Attorney General Louis J. Lefkowitz, has announced.

Attorney General Lefkowitz invited students of law schools throughout the State to be the guests of the Department of Law at a luncheon held on May 1 at the Manger-DeWitt Clinton Hotel in Albany, and to participate in a series of panel discussions in the Attorney General's office at the State Capitol.

Albert Conway, Chief Judge of the Court of Appeals, and S. Hazard Gillespie, Jr., president of the New York State Bar Association, spoke at the luncheon; Attorney General Lefkowitz presided.

Among those invited to attend the luncheon and participate in the program were Addison J. Mallery, executive secretary, New York State Conference of Mayors and Other Municipal Officials; John F. Powers, president, The Civil Service Employees Association, and Harry Ginsberg, president of the CSEA Law Department chapter.

Meet With Attorneys

Following the luncheon, Assistant Attorneys General in charge of the various bureaus of the Department of Law in Albany met with the law students and other guests to discuss the administration of public law through the functions of their bureaus.

Assistant Attorney General Dunton Tynan of the Albany office of the Department of Law discussed the development of a legislative program, the drafting of bills and the process of legislative action. Students were given the opportunity to ask questions and discuss the various aspects of the Attorney General's office.

President Eisenhower in proclaiming "Law Day-U.S.A." called upon the legal profession, the press, radio, television, and the motion picture industry to encourage the widest possible observance with "appropriate ceremonies and activities" to mark "a day of national dedication to the principles of government under laws."

Retirement Honor For Miss Finnegan

Many of her friends and associates paid tribute to Martha E. Finnegan at a banquet in her honor when she retired as chief supervising nurse of Rochester State Hospital. She has served the hospital in all nursing capacities since her graduation from the Rochester State Hospital School of Nursing in 1914.

Except for a period of military service with the Red Cross during the first World War, she worked at the hospital for the next 44 years, becoming chief supervising nurse in 1934. Having served during the period of the greatest change in the treatment of the mentally ill, she assumed an important role in keeping the hospital's nursing care abreast of these changes as the hospital increased threefold in size and patient care increased in intensity.

Lillian V. Salsman, director of nursing services of the Department of Mental Hygiene, was the principal speaker at the banquet. She described Miss Finnegan's experiences during this period of transition as "important in the history of all nursing," and said that the tremendous strides made by nurses during this period would be a source of inspiration for nurses of the future.

Among those present at the dinner were Dr. Christopher P. Terrence, hospital director, and Mrs. Terrence; Dr. Benjamin Pollack, assistant director, who was toastmaster; Dr. Guy Walters, assistant director, and Mrs. Walters; Robert Benedict, who extended the best wishes of the Rochester State Board of Visitors; Ruth B. Warren, principal of the School of Nursing, and other members of the medical staff of the hospital.

Seated at the speaker's table with Miss Finnegan were the supervisors with whom she had worked, Bruce McLaren, Mary Larabee, Gladys Holben, Anna Nichols, and Clara Thompson, and those responsible for the dinner arrangements, Roy Eligh, Elizabeth Heagney, and Willard Weiss. Also at the dinner were several retired supervisors, Margaret McGrath, Nellie Klein, Rose Hawkes, and Frank Glover.

Mrs. Heagney presented a check for the purchase of a hi fi set to Miss Finnegan on behalf of the employees. Frank Barnish, a charter member of the Knabb-Troutman American Legion Post, presented a desk set on behalf of the post. William Rossiter, president of the Rochester State chapter, Civil Service Employees Association, presented Miss Finnegan with a check from the chapter.

Letter From Abroad

(The Civil Service Employees Association, for the first time, has sponsored a low-cost tour of Europe for its members. The Leader has asked one of the tour members—Miss Virginia Leatham, of Troy—to give us her impressions along the way and let us know how the trip is going. Here is the first of her letters, written to the folks back home—The Editor.)

By VIRGINIA LEATHAM

Aboard the Queen Mary—Dear Folks:

Well, here we are—safe, but not so sound. But, then, we didn't plan this as a rest cure, did we? We all have sunburned faces, aching feet, straw-like hair, wider hips, and tired blood, but nobody cares. It's worth it.

Within a few hours (8 P.M., Monday, London time) we should be landing in England. Our crossing on the Queen Mary was really something to write home about—so that's exactly what I am doing.

Somehow I've always had the idea that these travel boys were overdoing things a bit when they would go into such raptures over the beauty and joys of ocean travel; you know, the kind of stuff that would make you just want to pack up, feed the cat, and hop on the next ship. After the experiences of the past five days, however, I'm convinced, and so is everyone on the tour, that everything they say on the travel posters is for real.

Excitement Grows

For each of us the excitement of this trip has been building up since we sent in that application form to Specialized Tours, Inc. It was kept alive by the periodic instructions and notices we received from them concerning the trip, and it was really brought to its peak by the bon voyage party on the night before we sailed. It was a wonderful idea, and we are grateful to Ed Lacks and his friends, not only for giving us that opportunity to meet one another before leaving, but also for being such perfect hosts. And the company didn't have a thing to gain, either; everybody was signed up and paid already. They're nice people.

To get back to the crossing—we boarded the Queen Mary at Pier 90 early Wednesday morning, April 23.

It was a completely new experience for me, standing on the deck watching the New York skyline fade into the distance, and it is one I won't forget. Gee, I'm beginning to sound like a tourist! But it really was a beautiful sight, and it will be surpassed only by our first sight of that same skyline when we return.

Our first day was one of getting acquainted with other passengers and with the ship's personnel who would be serving us during our voyage. We are all fascinated by the clipped British accents of all the staff, and we are also much impressed with their friendly and helpful attitude. And such efficiency! They certainly know how to get things done with seemingly no effort. I've been tempted to ask for a copy of their functional organization chart.

Life Aboard Ship

Taking care of things in order of importance that first day, we naturally did two things immediately: (1) found our places in the dining room, and (2) arranged with the deck steward to reserve our deck chairs. And, believe me, we have made very good use of both. It seems we are always eating or relaxing in the sun. The meals are out of this world, but if I got started on a description of all the tempting and delicious dishes we have been served, it would take hours. The only complaint anyone has had about the food is the fact that they can't resist it. We all start out with, "Well, I really shouldn't, but . . ." and that's that. Several of our group enjoy breakfast in bed. The thing I enjoy more than anything else is their delightful custom of serving tea and cakes on deck every afternoon at 4 o'clock. It gives me such a luxuriously relaxed (or is it lazy?) feeling to be served a tea tray while sitting in a comfortable deck chair on the open deck. Silly, isn't it? And the tea is excellent. These English can really make good tea and they serve it in nice china, too. I haven't seen a paper cup since I left New York.

More Detention Homes Denied

ALBANY, May 5 —Legislation to provide a State constructed and operated detention home for northeastern counties of the State has been turned down by Governor Harriman.

In a veto message, the Governor said further study of the problem should be made.

Mr. Harriman pointed out that at present State aid is available to the localities through the Department of Social Welfare.

CORRECTION CORNER

By JACK SOLOD

For many years, rumors and stories have circulated that the NYC reformatory at New Hampton Farms could be turned over to the State Correction System. It is now official that not Correction but Social Welfare will be running New Hampton. With so many children in need of re-socialization, it was felt that this type of institution was most adaptable for that purpose.

I have no quarrel with the powers that be in making this decision. From available information, we learn that huge sums of money would be necessary to convert properly the physical plant at New Hampton to conform with a State correctional institution.

What concerns me is the dirty deal being given to those New York City Correction officers who have spent many years working at New Hampton. The City of New York is willing to transfer these men into the City Prison System at the same pay and pension rights they now have. While this is a great hardship to many, still the City is doing whatever possible under the circumstances. If State Correction had taken over, these men would have stayed on as State Correction officers without any relocation problems.

Don't Want to Break Ties

Some officers with deep roots, homes, families, in the area, have applied for jobs at much less pay with Social Welfare so as not to disrupt these ties. This is the answer they have been given: "You work for Correction; sorry, we can't use you. Your mind is made up and your attitude is not acceptable to Social Welfare handling of these children."

The officials responsible for this sort of thinking must be ignorant of the great strides made in prison rehabilitation. Here at their very doorstep are experienced men with know-how in the handling of anti-social problem individuals, and they are given the brushoff. I challenge these officials to visit any New York State correctional institution and see firsthand the splendid job being done by correction officers in the rehabilitation of youthful offenders. I wish the same could be said for Social Welfare but, unfortunately, this is not so, because in a few years many of these boys wind up in Elmira, Coxsackie, Woodbourne, and Walkkill.

Has the Know-How

I take fiendish pleasure in informing these misguided Welfare officials of the job done by the State correction officer. He counsels and instills a sense of decency and fairness in the minds of the distorted. He needs no Little Rock incidents to know and treat all who come under his care as equal, regardless of race, creed or religion. He recognizes the tension, lonesomeness, and feeling of not being wanted, and by his patient example and guidance brings to the offender the feeling that he is not alone and the world is interested in his welfare. He has more than a layman's understanding of psychology and psychiatry and is quick to spot any unusual behavior which may require treatment. He has the ability to supervise groups of people in work, recreation, and group therapy. He knows every phase of custody and by his alertness and know-how prevents the continual parade of runaways so prevalent in Social Welfare institutions. He takes courses at college—many have college degrees—attends Frederick Moran Institute at St. Lawrence University to get a still better understanding of the many problems in youth work. He reads all the time, whether it be Freud, Adler, Jung, or "Blackboard Jungle," to understand the problems of human behavior.

In conclusion, may I point out that Social Welfare has missed the boat by refusing to hire correction officers to staff their new institution at Hampton Farms.

$100,000 Rockefeller Awards Are Presented

WASHINGTON, May 5 — Nine career Federal employees who in 1958-59 will share more than $100,000 in Rockefeller Public Service Awards were the guests of honor at the Sixth Annual Rockefeller Awards Luncheon at the Shoreham Hotel. The awards were presented by Dr. Robert F. Goheen, president of Princeton University.

Brought into being in 1952 by John D. Rockefeller 3d, who attended the luncheon, the program is administered as a national trust by Princeton's Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs. Each year the awards permit key civilians in the executive branch of the Federal Government, at no financial cost to themselves, to devote six to nine months to off-the-job educational projects.

The principal address was made by Senator John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts.

Other principals on the program were Mr. Rockefeller, a trustee of Princeton, and Dr. Laird Bell, chairman of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, who is retiring this year as chairman of the Rockefeller Program Committee on Selection. Dr. Goheen presided, while the invention was given by the Rev. Frederick E. Fox, special assistant in the White House.

Rockefeller Awards have now been conferred upon 68 men and women, with $800,000 in benefits.

Plan For Law Dept. 'Rights' Bureau Vetoed

ALBANY, May 5 — A bill to provide $100,000 to staff and maintain a "Civil Rights" Bureau in the State Law Department has been vetoed by Governor Harriman.

Mr. Harriman declared the bill was wasteful in that it would duplicate efforts in the field by the State Commission Against Discrimination.

The Attorney General planned to appoint a staff of 17, the Governor said, to "perform functions which are presently being carried out by the discrimination commission.

"There is no need for duplication of SCAD's efforts by the Attorney General," Mr. Harriman added.

REBECCA DUNCAN HONORED ON RETIREMENT

years service in the New York State Education Department. From left, Dr. Robert H. Deily, Mrs. Duncan, Ethel Lansing, Ewald B. Nyquist, deputy commissioner of education.

Postal Exams Win Popularity Contest

THE substitute clerk examination being held by the New York post office, for which applications are being received continuously, sets a recent record, with applications totalling nearly 80,000 already. The last time that any figure in that category was heard was in 1939, when 92,000 applied for New York City $65 sanitation-man jobs during a sort of recession.

Now the Brooklyn, Jamaica, and Long Island City post offices seek candidates for both substitute clerk and substitute city carrier jobs. No doubt the response will be large, although even Brooklyn can not expect to attract as many candidates as did New York.

Dual Blessing

The experiment of having a local board of civil service examiners at the New York post office proved so successful that the same sort of set-up has been established in Brooklyn, with the Jamaica, Long Island City and other associated post offices in Kings and Queens, served by branches operating under, really as part of, that board. Overloading the Second Regional Office of the U.S. Civil Service Commission with the postal examinations isn't good policy, and the fast operation of the local boards, acting as adjuncts of the Regional Office, and supervised by that office, are proving a blessing to both the Federal government and the candidates.

Letters to the Editor

HIP BENEFIT ASKED FOR PENSIONERS

Editor, The Leader:

The editorial on health insurance in your issue of April 29 states, "Two bills have been approved by Governor Averell Harriman . . . The first of these bills grants counties the right to allow health insurance plans for their employees similar to those now enjoyed by State workers and at the same rates charged by State plans."

I am informed that 8,800 retired State employees will be eligible on June 1 for coverage under the extended health insurance plan in which the State will share half the premium.

I propose that similar consideration be granted New York City employees who are now under the Health Insurance Plan, so that pensioners get the benefit of one-half payment of premium. Today such a pensioner must pay full premium.

The imminent worthiness of this project to City employees in the period of life when they receive the least income must be apparent.

LOUIS M. PHILLIPS

OLD PAY CHECKS CAN NOW BE CASHED

Editor, The Leader:

Chapter 720, Laws 1958, drafted by our organization, amends the Administrative Code of the City of New York to authorize the Board of Estimate to pay an employee or his estate the uncashed salary checks heretofore barred by the six-year statute of limitations. A number of employees or their estates can now apply for payment.

Legislative Chairman,
Federation of Associations of Employees of the New York City Board of Education

Question, Please

IN A NEWS STORY about a per-diem employee striving to get terminal leave to which he was entitled, you stated that having to continue to work for a longer period would jeopardize his pension benefits, as he might die before retirement, hence pension rights would be lost. But wouldn't the life insurance still be collectable by the beneficiaries, under the law governing the New York City Employees' Retirement System?

The life insurance benefits would not be affected. The story dealt only with pension benefits. Were an employee to die in service, his beneficiaries would also get the total amount of his annuity contributions, with interest. The employee you refer to won his case and got nearly three months' terminal leave.

Merit Woman

HAVING STARTED in New York City service as a social investigator in the New York City Department of Welfare, after graduation from the College of Mount St. Vincent and completion of post-graduate studies at Columbia University, and risen through the ranks to director of personnel in that department, Mrs. Margaret Bourke, now chief of personnel in the Department of Hospitals, finds a definite credo a great help in solving personnel difficulties that arise in large departments. "Hospitals" is the largest executive department in City government, with 37,000 jobs in the budget, and the problems are numerous and vexing enough to tax the capabilities of the most talented. There are more than 240 civil service titles in the department, varying from institutional aide to doctor and scientist.

"What method do you use for coping with such a broad responsibility?" Mrs. Bourke was asked. "Dealing frankly with employees; not beating around the bush," she replied.

Reasonably Speedy Decisions

"Do you make prompt decisions?"

"Decisions on personnel problems cannot be made without full possession of the facts, but should be made within a reasonable time. However, no time can be saved, or anything worth-while accomplished, in making a snap decision in the absence of all the relevant facts. Once the facts are known, I think them over carefully and make a prompt recommendation."

Mrs. Bourke, who represents the Department of Hospitals on the City's Personnel Council, was asked if she agreed that City departments should have personnel officers, and if so, why.

"I certainly do," she answered. "Several of the large City de-

Industry's Fringes for Public Employees

PUBLIC OFFICIALS are beginning to say what public employees have been thinking and their spokesmen saying for years — that government must match the fringe and other benefits that private industry and commerce afford.

Government is slowly ceasing to be a static employer. Notable gains by public employees have been won in recent years, particularly last year, when Social Security coverage became additionally possible for many employees of New York State and its communities, and when State employees got a health insurance plan, also contributory, and New York City standardized its leave rules for per-annum employees. But much remains to be accomplished.

It must seem strange to a Russian that our Federal government requires industrial employers to do for their employees what the government itself refuses to do for its own workers, but no stranger than it seems to our government employees themselves.

Wherein Lies the Difference?

What makes government employees so different from other employees as not to be entitled to be paid for overtime in money? Compensatory time off isn't payment but just transposition. A public employee's rent is due. Can he offer the landlord compensatory time off even as part payment? Then what about the rate? It's hour for hour, that's all, but in industry time-and-a-half applies, and payment must be made in money. Why should government insist on granting less? On the ground that it hasn't got the money?

Can a corporation, firm, or partnership, or an individual employer offer the absence of money as a defense to violation of the Federal Minimum Wage Law?

Why must a public employee lose the benefit of a paid holiday if his regular day off happens to coincide with the holiday? Such shenanigans don't go in private industry.

Government occupies an anomalous role as both master and servant. While it is master of its employees, as no private employer can be, it is the servant of the people. But it surely runs counter to the public it is obligated to serve when it lags behind the private employer.

Missing Links

Why are not public employees as much entitled to unemployment insurance as are employees of private industry? Or disability insurance? Or life insurance?

The Federal government does provide life insurance, also on a contributory basis, but what State or local government does? Private industry affords vested pensions. Why can't government? (A vested pension creates an equity you can take with you if you leave a job to work elsewhere).

Government does improve the lot of its employees, but so slowly that the change, though real and even substantial, often becomes imperceptible. Faster pace is needed, and public employee groups, like the Civil Service Employees Association and the unions, are making public officials conscious of the need.

Lefkowitz Blazes Trail

Attorney General Louis J. Lefkowitz, addressing the spring workshop jointly conducted by the Metropolitan and Southern Conferences of the CSEA, frankly favored premium pay for overtime, and in money, not equivalent time off. So far as I know, he is the first important public official to make such a recommendation, one that should have been made by a host of public officials at least two decades ago when the time-and-a-half principle gained vogue in private industry.

Mr. Lefkowitz promised he would do all he could to make time-and-a-half rule come true. He added:

"Premium pay for extra work is an accepted employment condition in private employment. There is no reason why this should

SOCIAL SECURITY QUESTIONS ANSWERED

WHAT DOCUMENTS are necessary to file a claim for a lump-sum death benefit?

A. R.

If this claim is being filed by the widow or widower who was living with the deceased at the time of death, proof of death usually will be all that is required. Where there is no surviving widow or widower and the claim is being filed by the individual who paid the burial bill he will be asked to submit the paid burial bill and proof of death. An application for these benefits is required in all cases.

IS IT POSSIBLE to receive an increase in an old-age insurance benefit?

Z. W.

Yes. There can be an increase in a benefit provided specific requirements are met. The usual way in which a benefit can be raised is through higher earnings in the year of filing or years after filing. The Social Security Administration will request the applicant to file for an increase if it is brought to their attention. It is suggested that you contact your local district office if your earnings are now greater than in the years before you originally applied for benefits.

TIRED OF HAMBURGER?

Far be it from us to animadvert on the firing tastelessness of hamburger and hot dogs. They are 100% American and have their time and place. Some restaurants serve you hamburger and glory it with the name Salisbury steak. It's still hamburger. # Psychiatric Aide Award Winners Announced Elena Masseo of Wingdale, N.Y., has been chosen psychiatric aide of the year at Harlem Valley State Hospital. She was presented with the psychiatric achievement award at the hospital's Mental Health Week observance in the auditorium of Smith Hall May 1 at 2:30 P.M.

Mrs. Masseo went to work at Harlem Valley State in 1935, when she married another hospital employee, Patrick Rooney Masseo. She has worked in most of the female patient buildings, and in the disturbed, semi-disturbed, and convalescing services. Her work is of such caliber that she has been runner-up for the psychiatric aide award for the last three years.

Community Worker

In addition to working at the hospital, Mrs. Masseo has devoted time to community interests and to her church. She has two sons, Joseph, 17, who is in the Navy, and Andrew, 12, who is a student in a local school. Mrs. Masseo is an active PTA member and is class mother for Andrew's school class.

She is also an active member of the Catholic Daughters of Pawling, N.Y., and has been the hospital's church organist for the past 18 years.

Mrs. Masseo, who was born in New York City, attended public school there and high school in Mount Vernon. While in high school she wanted to become a nurse, but because of the illness of her mother and the time she had to devote to family tasks, she never realized her ambition.

She cared for her mother, who died in 1931, at the same time helping her father, now 87, in his business.

"It is quite apparent that Mrs. Masseo's interest in nursing and especially in those in need of help has been carried over into her work as an attendant and staff attendant at Harlem Valley," says Hospital Director Leo P. O'Donnell.

The committee that chose the outstanding aide was composed of Mrs. Thomas E. Boyce, member of the Board of Visitors; Mrs. Kenneth Sommer, principal, Wingdale School; Eugene Scerebini, assistant principal, School of Nursing; Claude Woodin, chief supervisor, male service; Josephine Wright, chief supervisor, female service; Mrs. Adolph Elwyn, president of the Mental Health Association; Mary Taber, Volunteer Group, Pawling; Ethel Meyers, supervising occupational therapist; Peter Garamone, president, Civil Service Employees Association, Harlem Valley State Hospital chapter; Philip Keiser, president, AFL-CIO, Local 907, and Dr. Alfred P. Rizzolo, assistant director, Harlem Valley, who served as chairman of the selection committee.

The program for the Mental Health Week observance consisted of a song by the Harlem Valley State Hospital choral group, an address of welcome by Director O'Donnell, the presentation of the award to Mrs. Masseo by Herman J. Bennett, president of the Dutchess county Mental Health Association; a showing of the film "Mental Health," and a concluding song by the choral group.

After the program there was a guided tour of the wards and occupational therapy classrooms of the hospital. The public, patients, and their relatives were invited to the program and tour.

Beginning Sunday, May 4, the hospital is holding open house in observance of the anniversary of the civil service system. Dr. O'Donnell invites all to visit the hospital.

BELLIOTTO NOMINATED AT CRAIG COLONY

Louis Belliotto was proposed for "Psychiatric Aide of the Year" at Craig Colony after testimonials by friends, fellow employees, staff members, and prominent citizens of his community.

One of the traits of Mr. Belliotto's work repeatedly cited by his "boosters" was his humanitarianism. He described his close relationship with his patients and his desire and capacity to make them feel important and beloved as human beings. He was described as interested in emphasizing the dignity of mankind among the patients, none of whose problems appeared too trivial for him to give ear and attention to.

"His long experience, understanding, and inherent good judgment in these circumstances make his services invaluable to those in need of help or advice," a staff member said.

Mr. Belliotto's general popularity and his ability to work well in a team and to get along with the personnel of other departments have also enhanced his value to the institution.

In addition, he has taken every opportunity to increase his knowledge and to train himself to perform activities not directly in line with his duties but still very useful.

The Craig Colony candidate has contributed to the welfare and happiness of many by his extra-curricular activities, serving as coach and umpire for patients' baseball games.

A portion of a testimonial given Mr. Belliotto reads: "His unfling devotion to his job and to those he served, his self-sacrificing attitude, his trustworthiness and dependability have endeared him to the patients under his care. As an example of his loyalty to the hospital, when roads were blocked, causing a shortage of help, he has on occasion walked four miles to help though he was off duty. When assigned to relief or unusual duty he never exhibited any resentment or lessened enthusiasm for the job at hand, but always gave of his best."

Mr. Belliotto went to work at Craig Colony almost immediately after he graduated from Mount Morris High School in 1936. One of nine children, he has proved many times in his 22 years of service the wisdom of his choice.

He was married fifteen years ago and has two children, a boy and a girl.

Woman Is Transformed Into a Man Just to Gain An Increase In Salary

LONDON Eng. May 5 — A woman employed by the British Ministry of Supply tried ever so hard to get a pay increase, but with no results. She filed a documented appeal, argued it herself, and submitted supporting affidavits that compared her pay with that granted by private industry for the same type of work. She even tried political influence. Still no go.

Finally she got a bright idea. The pay schedule under the British Classification Act provides higher rates for men than for women for the very same jobs. If only she could become a man, her case would be won. She underwent treatment for months. Finally she announced that she was now a man. A physician on the Ministry's staff confirmed her claim. The former Miss Irene Joy Ferguson was granted a change of category, and her pay went up the equivalent of $182 a year.

The case was such a striking commentary on the category provisions of the Classification Act that it was the subject of a debate in Parliament. Equal pay for equal work, regardless of sex, was the theme.

The former Miss Irene Joy Ferguson is now Mr. Ira J. Ferguson.

A London newspaper has proclaimed her "Woman of the Year — So Far."

"Man of the Year would be more like it," comments Mr. Ferguson.

ACTIVITIES OF EMPLOYEES IN STATE

Creedmoor

The Creedmoor chapter, Civil Service Employees Association, was represented at Grossinger's by Raymond Sansone, president; Helen Peterson, treasurer, and Elizabeth Burbury. They will give a full report on the workshop.

Lula M. Green, beautician in building R, wishes to thank all the employees for the flowers and cards she received during her illness.

Ken Favreau and Edward Sottong spent the weekend golfing at Harlem Valley Hospital. They came back praising the hospitality of Larry, the storekeeper, for his invitation to use the links.

The softball team is well on the way. The first practice was held on April 22 and a large group showed up to try out for the team. Any employee interested in playing softball should contact Ed Sottong in building P.

Ben Cantor in building P is happy as a bird. All year he has been trying to break 100 in his bowling league and finally, on the last night, he accomplished that feat. Congratulations, Benny!

The award was presented at the Manhattan Council annual scouters dinner in the grand ballroom of the Hotel Commodore in New York City. Claude has also received other awards, beginning with the Scouter's Key, Arrowhead Award, and Order of the Arrow. Honored guests at the dinner were Grover Whalen and General "Gar" Davidson, present chief of West Point. The entertainment was provided by tele-

Get well wishes to John Price, Steve Durr, Bill Magee, Mary Farley, and any other member now ill.

The grounds around the new Medical-Surgical Building are being leveled and grass seed is being planted. It won't be long before the lawns will be sprouting grass. Road beds are being improved, too — all part of the

Gowanda State

An exchange program idea originated between the Patients' Drama Club of Gowanda State Hospital and the Senior Class Play Group of Gowanda Central High School when each group put on a play at the other institution.

In May the seniors presented "Junior Miss" for the patients in the hospital assembly hall. Recently the hospital drama club gave "Tennessee Tess" as an assembly program for the high school students.

The programs were enjoyed so much that it seems possible that the exchange program idea will be continued each year.

Merit Woman

partments now have personnel bureaus, because they find it necessary to assure fair and equitable treatment of employees, consistent application of departmental personnel policies and the reconciliation, so far as practical, of job anomalies. Under a trained personnel officer, a sound personnel program objectively administered at all supervisory levels and a full understanding by employees of their duties and responsibilities, as well as their rights and privileges should assist a department in meeting its responsibilities to the people of the City of New York.

Close to Employees' Lives

"Our personnel division consists of four sections—placement, training, classification and records, and counselling and adjustment. Each separate function impinges on the very lives of the employees; therefore a personnel division is a human relations branch of government."

"Opposition to having a personnel officer is based on the mistaken fear that he or she takes over functions of administration, but a personnel officer with proper regard for his, or her, place in the organization is a strong right arm in helping the administration to make a department run more smoothly and effectively. The personnel chief mustn't try to run the show."

She finds her work challenging and as exhausting as stimulating. Despite an engaging personality, she is every inch the division chief. She feels that sincerity and fairness are prime requisites and that a sense of humor helps.

There are many personnel problems among employees of such a large department, but Mrs. Bourke takes them in her stride. She does not pretend ability to solve them all. Some have endured for years, because the cost of solving them is much greater than the budget allows or than recruitment possibilities permit, but she does not give up hope.

Finds City Jobs Improve

"I try to see things in their proper perspective," she explains. "I put myself in the other person's place."

Asked to comment on City employment conditions, she replied, "They have improved considerably in the last several years. The Career and Salary Plan has produced many benefits, even though there are some inequities which still need to be straightened out."

"The mayor's order on the establishment of procedures for processing grievances, and recognition of the right of employees to join, or not to join, a labor union, provide a basis for working out a sound labor program. Another important advancement was the issuance of City-wide leave regulations applicable to all employees covered under the Career and Salary Plan. The crux of the matter is the recognition of the employee as a human being, and the City government's concern with its employees' problems."

"Of course there are limits beyond which the City cannot go, but within those limits, it is striving to make City employment more attractive, and the City employee's life more rewarding and happier."

Follows Golden Rule

The department operates 28 hospitals on a $47,000,000 annual budget, so that there is never a day, indeed an hour, without its problem. But Mrs. Bourke finds that following the golden rule —

Looking Inside

not apply to public service."

The speaker mentioned premium rates, but did not define them. But, well informed as he is, and strong advocate of government matching private industry, he must have had in mind time-and-a-half rates. There are, in addition, occasions when overtime must be worked on Sundays and holidays, and still others when overtime is heaped on overtime; for such emergencies the respective rates are double and triple normal rates. Public employees expect these benefits, too, and should have them.

Public employee groups might well pass resolutions thanking Mr. Lefkowitz for his outspoken endorsement of premium rates for overtime, and the granting of vested pensions. When they have such a stout-hearted supporter they should be as alert in recognizing the fact as he is in recognizing their needs.

Employment of the Handicapped

In many other ways private industry is both more liberal and more compassionate. It does better than government in providing jobs for the physically handicapped, even if, through continuous prompting of the unions and the Veterans Administration, Government is improving in this regard and even attempting to assume leadership. The Federal Government openly encourages the handicapped to join in competition for specified jobs. Federal, State, and local governments provide amanuenses for those who are physically unable to write or speak.

President Eisenhower inherited a special committee on employment of the physically handicapped. Major General Melvin J. Maas, Marine Corps Reserve (Retired), is chairman.

Last May the U.S. Civil Service Commission established a group of Federal coordinators for the employment of the handicapped. Top-level employees perform the duties of coordination, in addition to their regular duties. The coordinators act on the principle that a person should be hired for his ability, not barred for his disability.

General Maas remarked at a recent meeting of the coordinators that it has frequently been said that the Federal government should set an example for both business and industry in hiring disabled workers. He added:

"You coordinators can bring into common action, in your respective departments and bureaus, a new spirit and a new zeal to broaden the areas of employment opportunity in the Federal government for physically handicapped men and women."

The President's committee was formed 11 years ago. Its purpose is to educate employers, employees, and the general public on the hiring of the physically handicapped. Governors' Committees on the Handicapped have been organized in the 48 states, the District of Columbia, Hawaii, Alaska, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands. Local committees have been established in almost a thousand communities. The Federal government therefore has done more than merely borrow; it has enlarged the scope and is even trying to set the pace.

All the foregoing tends to prove that the aim of getting government to adopt the benefits of private industry is far from hopeless, and that reluctant government, once it is "sold" on an idea, can do more to spread its benefits than private industry.

When government becomes a zealot, watch out!

do unto others as you would have them do unto you — is a god-send. She takes conflict and opposition philosophically. She battles, when necessary, but in a way that leaves no wounds, so that even the most heated argument can wind up in a hand-shake.

"In all our efforts in the personnel division of the Department of Hospitals we have the whole-hearted support of our Commissioner, Dr. Morris A. Jacobs," she said.

ACTIVITIES OF EMPLOYEES THROUGHOUT NEW YORK STATE

Manhattan State

Officers and members of the Manhattan State Hospital chapter welcome new members Luella McConico, Melvin M. Martin, Bertha Purcell, Catherine Walters, Roy V. Francis, and Stanley V. Marshall.

Chapter President John Wallace reminds members that there is always room for more and adds, "To gain the objectives of the CSEA we must be united."

The retirement party for Elizabeth Lyons, former supervising nurse, was counted a great success and was very well attended. President Wallace commends the social committee for a "wonderful job, very smoothly executed." Telegrams from various parts of the State, as well as from local friends, were received and bouquets of roses and carnations were presented on behalf of the Mullarkey family. Alice Gamble, Mary E. Leonard, and the employees of the hospital, Dr. John Travis, hospital director, presented Miss Lyons with a wrist watch from her friends and co-workers.

Mrs. Travis also received a bouquet of roses from the employees in appreciation for her frequent help and participation in their activities.

Irish music was played at the party by the Jack O'Bierne orchestra. Popular music was provided by Chris Puleo and his orchestra. Refreshments and a buffet were greatly enjoyed by the guests.

The employees, their families, and friends expressed their deep respect for Miss Lyons and their regret that she was retiring after 45 years of State service.

Members of the social committee, who made the party possible, were Gertrude Grigull, James Walsh, Betty Lavin, Hylan Henderson, Fred Weber, Larry Lillis, Helen Devaney, Helen Ryan, Jane Savage, Helen Tierney, Frank Ryan, Tessie Parenti, Della Castner, John Price, William Proudford, Jerry Morris, Lyle Nicholas, Frank Roseboom, Mike Rooney, John Price, Helen Black, George Whyte, Bridie Shanahan, Mary Castner, and Leon Sandmann. The chapter thanks them.

Get well wishes to Adele Faulk-

Reminder: every Tuesday is blood donor day. Call President Wallace, who is serving as Blood Bank chairman, at extension 408 and make an appointment.

Roswell Park

A meeting of the executive committee of the Roswell Park Memorial Institute chapter was held in the hospital's private dining room. The committee went on record against the fact that the clerks, typists, and stenographers of the State were not included in the recent job reclassification. Much disapproval was voiced of the failure of State workers to get a general pay raise.

With new elections due in May, a nominating committee was named and a slate was drawn up. Lunch was served.

Ethel Chandler, director of nurses, conducted an institute on nursing aspects in a cancer program which was held recently at Dalhousie University in Halifax, Nova Scotia.

The American Federation of Musicians Local 533 gave a concert for employees and patients. Frank Baker of the Research Department directed. It was enjoyed by those who heard them.

Leona Harris was honored by the Housekeeping Department on her fifteenth anniversary there, which is the longest service record of any housekeeping employee. Congratulations, Leona!

A standard first aid course is being given at Roswell Park by Margaret Hoffman, RN. Members of the class are all employees of the hospital.

Patricia Burns, assistant director of nursing education, has been elected secretary of the Catholic Nurses League.

Dr. Elias Cohen was appointed one of the judges at a recent science fair at one of the local high schools.

Dr. L. Strong, of Springville Labs, has just been elected to the Royal Society of Medicine in London and a fellow of zoology at Agra, India.

Richard Fox, formerly of the mail room, and Frank Barr, Jr., formerly of Anesthesia Labs, have been called into the Army.

Congratulations to these new parents: Dr. Badillo, a son; Bob Case, Pharmacy, a son; Dr. Seung Bong An, Radiation Therapy, a son; Louis DiBerardino, Experimental Biology, a son; Johnny Dee, Stores, a daughter, and Pat Harrison Smith, twin girls.

Rose Marie Balone of Statistics, Mary Ann Freuhauf who works in Dr. Moore's office, and June Wakefield of Experimental Pathology have announced their engagements and have received their rings. Miss Wakefield is engaged to Dick Osenberg of Health Research.

Congratulations to Bob Stalley, vice president of the Roswell Park Memorial Institute chapter, and Mary Ann Sheffield, both of Radiation Therapy, who were married on April 19; to Laurette Zemrak, head nurse on 5W, who was married on April 26; and to Florence Cook, night housekeeper, who was married to Paul Conway, Maintenance, on May 5.

The sympathy of the chapter goes to Dr. William H. Wehr, assistant hospital director, on the death of his mother; to Dorothy Zeh, RN, on the death of her father; and to Grace Solomon, RN, on the death of her mother.

Welcome back to Ruth Carter of housekeeping, Attendant Viola Erler, and Helen Berger, X-ray machine operator in Radiation Therapy, who have been on sick leave.
