Fourth Mental Hygiene Employee Wins National Honors for Achievement

Charles E. Pearson, ward attendant at Brooklyn State Hospital, was honored by the Brooklyn Association for Mental Health for his outstanding service. Joel E. Rothenberg (left), president of the association, presents a scroll to Mr. Pearson at ceremonies at the Hotel Granada, Brooklyn, as Mrs. Pearson looks on admiringly.

POUGHKEEPSIE, May 11 — Mrs. Roberta Marguerite Critelli, ward attendant, Hudson River State Hospital, is the fourth employee of the State Mental Hygiene Department to be honored in this year's Psychiatric Aide Achievement Awards program.

As told in the May 5 issue of the LEADER, Robert J. Campbell, staff attendant, Harlem Valley State Hospital, Wingdale; Charles Edward Pearson, attendant, Brooklyn State Hospital, and John O'Beirne, attendant, Manhattan State Hospital, were similarly honored in the annual event of the National Association for Mental Health.

Last week was Mental Hygiene Week, and the winners were honored at festive events, and received certificates of achievement and radio clocks in added recognition.

Open House

Dr. O. Arnold Kilpatrick, director of the Hudson River State Hospital, said Mental Health held open house Thursday and Friday. Individuals and groups were escorted through the hospital. Employees explained facilities and treatment, and literature on mental health was distributed.

Mrs. Roberta Marguerite Critelli, attendant, Hudson River State Hospital, was accorded national honors for her excellent performance of duties.

In taking note of Mrs. Critelli's 24 years of service with the hospital, Dr. Kilpatrick said her "dedicated performance is representative of the hospital's attitude of humane care and maximum rehabilitation for the mentally ill." He said she belongs to a "team" of specialists engaged in providing total treatment for mentally ill patients.

Nominating Committee

The committee which nominated Mrs. Critelli for the award said her approach to patients and co-workers is that of kindness and gentleness. On the committee were Dr. Wirt C. Groom, assistant director of HRSH; Dr. John Y. Notkin, assistant director; Miss Marion Crotty, principal of the school of nursing; Otto Faust, chief supervising nurse; Mrs. May V. Jerrell, chief supervising nurse; and Mrs. Angie Buckley, supervisor of occupational therapy.

Mrs. Critelli went to Hudson River State hospital in 1929. She came to Poughkeepsie from Canada and became a citizen of the United States in 1936.

Pearson's Technique

Mr. Pearson, a ward attendant at Brooklyn State Hospital for more than 16 years, was honored for his "outstanding service and exceptional rapport with patients" by the Brooklyn Association for Mental Health.

Pearson, who counts the patients as his friends, received a scroll especially inscribed for the presentation, from Joel E. Rothenberg, president of the Association, on the recommendation of Dr. Nathan Beckenstein, director of Brooklyn State.

Mr. Pearson finds his work "enjoyable and interesting." Once he overcame early concern about the work, he found that "absolutely no barriers exist between the patient and those charged with his care."

8-Point Program Voted For Membership Gain

4. Canvass and canvass of members who resigned from the chapter.
5. Letter of greeting and invitation to join chapter to all new employees.
6. Strong Association program, with emphasis on problems of employees, such as continuation of fight for 10 percent increase in salary when special session of Legislature convenes.

Credo on Civil Service Told by McDonough

THIELLS, May 11—An analysis of needs for improvement of civil service, and what the Civil Service Employees Association has done, and will try to do, to help achieve public and employee goals, was made by William F. McDonough at the annual dinner of the Letchworth Village chapter. Mr. McDonough is executive assistant to Jesse B. McFarland, president of the CSEA.

Mr. McDonough summarized his talk as follows:

"1. Extension of Constitutional Merit System Principles. All non-policy making positions in the State and its civil divisions should be filled by examination. Today competitive testing, essential to sound screening of employees, applies to approximately 77 percent of State workers, and a little more than 50 percent of employees of civil divisions. Competitive tests are practicable for approximately 98 percent of the civil service positions. Statewide tests for all units of government and civil service administrators on a regional basis would make for efficiency and economy.

"2. Adherence to Sound Classification and Compensation Plans. Application of the principles established in the Feld-Hamilton and Ostertag laws of 1937 and 1938 calls for constant study of duties and responsibilities of all positions in State service, reclassification and reallocation where justified, to maintain salaries on a level with those paid in private industry, with equal pay for equal work. Funds must be provided, sufficient to last throughout the fiscal year, to make proper adjustments in salaries. There is dire need for substantial upward salary adjustments now.

"3. Abolition of the Compulsory 48-Hour Week in Institutional Service. There seems no moral justification for having thousands of men and women work 48 hours per week. This requirement by the State is inconsistent with the provision in the State Constitution for a 40-hour, five-day week in industry. Our institutional service is the finest in the world, except for the long hours, and in many cases the inadequate salaries. Inadequacy of pay seriously affects recruitment from the doctors down.

"4. The Establishment of a Labor Relations Board on a Permanent Basis. The Board should hear and resolve employment problems on all levels, and recognize employee associations for the presentation of problems on behalf of all.

"5. The Creation of a State Retirement Board. Such a Board should insure the adoption and carrying out of sound, equitable and adequate provisions for those retired from public service because of age or disability. Recent reviews of public retirement benefits within the State reveal the inequities which exist, and the need for a basic plan with benefits balanced to the longer life span, and changes in general economic conditions. The 2 percent, or Clancy plan, with the State bearing at least 60 percent of the cost, should assure that retirement after 25 years is open to institutional workers whose duties and environment are vastly different and more exhausting than those in most public service. The addition of the benefits of Federal Social Security for State and local employee plans, in my opinion, offers the only practical way of meeting mounting retirement problems. The need for employee representation on the board or agency having to do with pensions and annuities is very clear, since they are the people who have the greatest knowledge of and greatest interest in fair and equitable old age and disability security solutions."

Mr. McDonough added that these are only some of the matters which the 56,000 members of the Association and the 650,000 civil servants in one or another branch of government within the State must ponder.

"We must work for unity of action on the part of every civil servant in carrying to the elected officials of government and to the people the fact that good government depends upon wise administration of the civil service," he said. "We have a duty to invite and urge our fellow citizens as we meet them in our political party councils, our civic organizations, our fraternal and business groups, in our school meetings and in our church societies, to look into their government more closely and to join with us in the upbuilding of confidence and respect for their civil servants.

"To meet the serious problems of government in a cold war economy, and to plan to meet those of a hoped-for era of peace, we need an efficient and humane government, most of all. Such a government will always depend directly and continuously upon the effectiveness of personnel administration to insure the recruitment, retention and sound direction of civil servants possessed of integrity, initiative, industry, and efficiency."

Assn. Wins Fight to Keep Job of Schenectady Police Head in Competitive Class

SCHENECTADY, May 11 — A resolution to put the newly-created position of Police Commissioner of the City of Schenectady in the unclassified service, and abolish the competitive position of Chief of Police, has been rescinded by the Schenectady County Civil Service Commission. This marks a victory for the Civil Service Employees Association, which fought the attempt by the Schenectady Commission to get State Civil Service Commission approval of the original resolution, or desired the local Commission to rescind that resolution.

The Chief of Police has been for many years in the competitive class. On June 9, 1952, the City of Schenectady adopted an ordinance which abolished the position. At the same meeting it created a new position called Police Commissioner, which had precisely the same duties and responsibilities and was to receive exactly the same salary as the former Chief of Police position.

Violation Charged

On July 1, 1952, the Schenectady County Civil Service Commission amended its rules and put the position of Police Commissioner in the unclassified service. On the strength of this resolution, Joseph Foley, who had been retired from the Police Department of Schenectady as a detective sergeant, for physical disability, was appointed without examination as Acting Police Commissioner. This violated the promotion rights of the deputy chief of police and several captains and lieutenants, the Association charged.

On behalf of the Association, John T. DeGraff, its counsel, immediately instituted a proceeding under Article 78 of the Civil Practice Act, in the name of William F. Brandt, who was deputy chief of police, attacking the legality of the classification.

Holt-Harris Lends a Hand

Approval by the State Commission was requested by the local Commission on July 16, 1952. At a hearing before the State Commission last fall, John E. Holt-Harris, Jr., associate counsel, appeared for the Association in opposition, and subsequently the Commission referred the matter to Attorney General Nathaniel L. Goldstein for opinion.

So far as the record goes, no opinion has been handed down by the Attorney General, nor has any decision been made by the State Commission, but at a recent meeting the Schenectady Commission rescinded its previous action and restored the position to the competitive class. This accomplished by resolution what the Association was attempting to achieve either that way or by litigation and by contentions before the State Commission.

The rescinding resolution mentioned requests from the Schenectady Patrolmen's Benevolent Association and the Schenectady Permanent Firemen's Association that the position be continued in competitive class.

What the Resolution States

The resolution then continued: "Whereas, it is the considered opinion of the Schenectady Council the delay in determining which Civil Service Commission that the delay in determining the Civil Service status of the position of Police Commissioner which resulted from the litigation hereinabove referred to, may have had a serious effect on the morale of the Schenectady Police Department, which situation this Commission is desirous of remedying at this time when another police officer is about to be appointed to the position of Police Commissioner, Now, Therefore, Be It

"Resolved, That the position of Police Commissioner in the Police Department of the City of Schenectady shall be in the competitive class of the classified service of Civil Service, and Be It Further

"Resolved, that the Resolution adopted by the Schenectady County Civil Service Commission on July 1, 1952, amending appendix 'C' of the rules of the Commission to include the position of Police Commissioner, be and hereby is in all respects rescinded and that said Resolution be withdrawn and recalled from further consideration by the New York State Civil Service Commission."

He leads his patients in singing and at Christmas and other holiday occasions decorates the wards so that "firmer contact with everyday life can be established." A resident of Brooklyn, he frequently hears from former patients, many of whom, he reports, have made "highly successful adjustments to life."

On holidays, Mr. Pearson's wife, Phyllis, visits the wards with him to assist in the festivities.

The award, first of its kind to be presented in Brooklyn, was the highlight of Mental Health Week and the current Brooklyn 1950 Mental Health Fund.

A female applicant on taking her eye test for a learner's permit raised her lorgnette to read the eye chart (one-armed society driver).

After examining an application form, the clerk returned it to the applicant and told him to go to counter 29, where the eye test is given. The applicant then started to count 1, 2, 3, etc.

On taking an English test a youth was asked, "What is the purpose of the white line?" He replied, "For bicycles only."

A welcome back dinner was held for Veronica Kelly by the women of the Jamaica office, at Zimmerman's Hungaria. She had undergone surgery. See picture on Page 000.

NYSES Unit's New Officers Are Installed

THE NYSES, New York City and Suburban chapter, CSEA, installed its new officers at a dinner meeting held last Wednesday night at the 32 Club in NYC.

John F. Powers, 1st vice president of CSEA, did the installing. The officers are William Steingesser, president; Kay Armeny, 1st vice president; Bernard Federgren, second vice president; Lila Doar, third vice president; Marie C. Doyle, financial secretary; Betty Kasper, recording secretary; and Robert Rubin, treasurer.

More than 120 chapter members, representing all parts of NYC, as well as Westchester, Nassau and Suffolk counties, attended. Compliments were showered on Gertrude Carr, chairman of the arrangements committee.

Guests included William F. McDonough, executive assistant to Jesse B. McFarland, CSEA president; Harold L. Herzstein, regional CSEA attorney, and Charles Culyer, field representative for the metropolitan area for CSEA; and Stephen Mayo, NYC Field Director of the Division of Employment.

The members heard Bill McDonough tell of the continued efforts being made by the Association to obtain salary increases. He praised State employees for the high level of ethics displayed in all dealings with the administration and others and for their devotion to duty in civil service.

"Membership in an organization devoted to high human aspirations," said Mr. McDonough, "imposes obligations of loyalty to its principles and its leaders upon each of its members."

Members accustomed to listening to his more serious side were pleasantly surprised at the witty address by Mr. Herzstein. Mr. Herzstein turned out to be an old friend of the Steingesser family.

Mr. Culyer spoke highly of the membership drive of the chapter. He reminded listeners that membership is strength, in dealing with the State Administration and the Legislature to obtain necessary benefits for State civil service employees.

Mr. Steingesser, newly-elected president, took up Mr. Culyer's note with a promise to strive for a goal of 1,000 members. Members and guests joined Mr. Steingesser in a standing vote of appreciation to Grace Nulty, who was largely responsible for "sparking" the organization of the chapter.

Miss Nulty, retiring president of the chapter, thanked all the members for their support and requested continued support of the newly-elected officers. Miss Nulty was toastmistress for the evening.

Mr. Steingesser announced the chairman of the following chapter committees: Legislative, Carl Muller; grievance, Miss Nulty; membership, Robert Rubin; education, Lila Doar; social, Gertrude Carr; publicity, Horace Hooper; and auditing, Wallace Abadie,

4,000 Mark Passed by NYC Chapter

Sol Bendet, president, and Sam Emmett, chairman of the membership committee, New York City chapter, CSEA, announced that as a result of the recent membership drive the total membership has passed the 4,000 mark.

Chapter officers felt that the increased membership indicates also that State employees appreciate what the New York City chapter and the entire CSEA are doing toward bettering conditions in State employment.

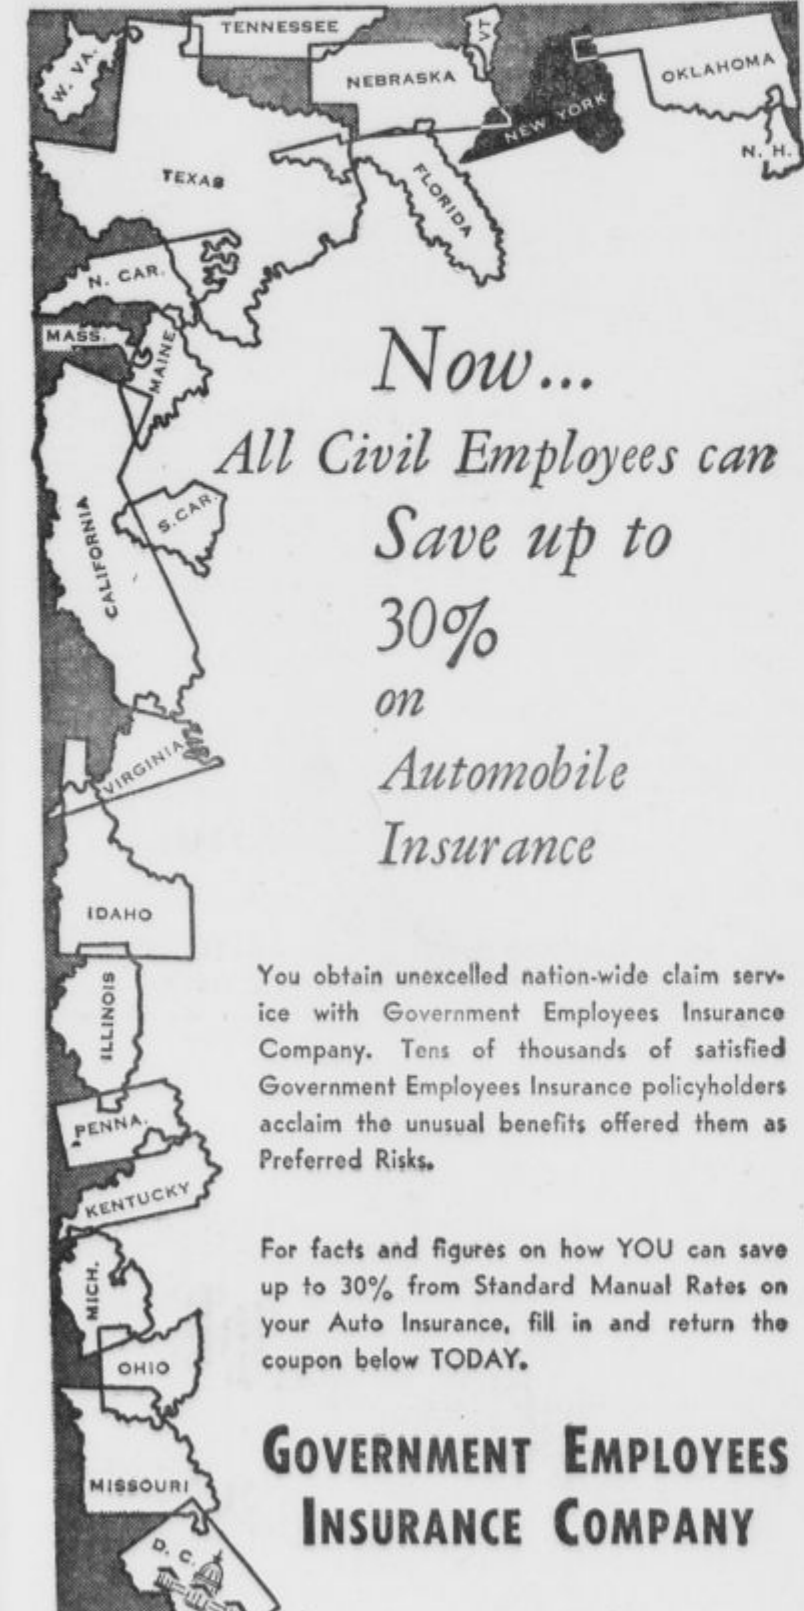

Many employees are reported to have joined the CSEA as a protest against the refusal of the State Administration to grant a general salary increase.

The chapter welcomes all the new members.

Mr. Bendet thanked the officers and representatives of the chapter for their excellent record during the drive, and looked forward to the continuation of such service.

Justice in State Pay Should Be Practiced Now

THE Civil Service Employees Association's request to Governor Thomas E. Dewey that he include, in the agenda of the special session of the Legislature that he is expected to call next month, the subject of increased appropriation for upward reallocation of State salaries is based on overpowering considerations. The State Administration has admitted that there are salary inequities throughout State service. The standard $100,000 appropriation, made this year again, in the supplemental budget, would be insufficient to provide the required remedy. Therefore simple justice, in many instances, would be deferred until April 1, 1954, and with no assurance it would be applied even then.

JESSE B. McFARLAND

The president of the Civil Service Employees Association makes an impelling request to Governor Dewey. It is hoped, still others, which have been recommended by the Division of Classification and Compensation, and are awaiting decision by the Budget Director.

Such rectification is the minimum that the State must make at this time. As Jesse B. McFarland, president of the Association, says, "We believe it is wholly unfair to balance the budget at the expense of the civil servant."

Governor Dewey would be adding to his record of achievement by including additional funds for upward reallocations on the agenda, and would be serving a public purpose, too. The public can not possibly reconcile the admission of a fault and the withholding of an accessible remedy.

Impellitteri Deplores Slurs on Employees; Sees Need of Jobs

Speaking at a luncheon last week at the Queens Federation of Mothers' Clubs, Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri decried "angry name-caller" who find fault with the City and its employees.

"It is an old and discredited charge," said the Mayor, "that the City's employees, including its teachers, policemen, firemen, doctors, nurses and thousands of other self-respecting and hard-working people, are political hacks and incompetents. There are only a handful of positions outside the Civil Service and these include some of the finest administrators in the country. Throwing over our employees improves neither the civil service nor public morale. It is just an example of bad citizenship."

"We need more police, more recreation facilities, more schools, more teachers, more juvenile experts and, of course, more appropriations to pay those bills. We can't cut the budget with butcher knives and hack saws as some taxpayers and writers demand, and get the help we need to combat a minority of trouble makers. Our worst opponents are those who want law and order, but don't want to pay for it."

Roger G. Nash, Chapter Founder, Dies in Oswego

OSWEGO, May 11 — Roger G. Nash, head of the Oswego County Motor Vehicle Bureau, Commissioner of Public Safety for the City of Oswego, and first president of the Oswego chapter of the Civil Service Employees Association, died suddenly at his home.

Mr. Nash was chosen president in 1949 when a chapter was first attempted. In 1951 he was again chosen president of what became the Oswego chapter, which has enjoyed the largest gain percentage-wise of any chapter in the State last year. He declined reelection because of the press of official duties, and was unanimously elected to the chapter's board of directors.

Mr. Nash was active in Republican party affairs, was a Mason and a member of Knights Templar, and a lay leader of Trinity Methodist Church, Oswego.

Comment

SAYS STATE DISAPPOINTS PROMOTION ELIGIBLES

Editor, The LEADER: The State derives thousands of dollars yearly in fees from its low-income employees who take exams for positions that are non-existent, except on paper.

Nearly five years ago, I paid my fee, took and passed an exam for supervising attendant in the Mental Hygiene Department. There is an eligible list of 29 locally which you published. Vacancies exist, 26 statewide, besides those locally filled for more than five years by provisional appointees who also took the exam, but failed. This list is to be scrapped in favor of a new exam in June. Not one appointment was made from the eligible list.

STATE EMPLOYEE
Rockland County

OFFERS PLAN FOR SALARY CREDIT

Editor, The LEADER: The LEADER is to be commended for giving wide publicity to the need for State salary raises and salary grade reallocations.

The employees of the State are working for wages they consider sub-standard, and that, if raised, would greatly improve employee morale. The Budget Office has denied that salaries need to be raised generally. The LEADER has presented both sides of the case. Now all facts should be studied and an effective compromise worked out.

Some titles in State service were recommended for higher salary grades, but were denied by the Budget Office, because not enough money was available. Thus the State, through its Classification Division, acknowledges that persons in certain titles should receive more pay, but the Budget Office says it can't be done now.

Employees who have been so recommended for a raise and then denied one, justly feel that they have been wronged. Why not give persons in these titles credit, so that they may be paid when the appropriation is made, as might be done at the special session of the Legislature? The State would be paying a just salary when it was possible to do so, and employees' morale would increase.

Question, Please

A PROVISION of the Civil Service Law prohibits questioning employees about their political sympathies, in connection with hiring, or job retention. Does this not prevent the NYC Board of Education from questioning teachers and others about possible Communist ties? I.L.

Answer — No. Supreme Court Justice Donald S. Taylor has so ruled. The statute was enacted before the question of former or present Communist Party association or membership became an issue, and was intended to prevent reprisals against civil service employees based on political hostility. The right to ask questions about Communist ties or membership is to test for fitness to obtain or retain a position.

Charles A. Brind Jr., counsel to the State Department of Education, has rendered a decision in a NYC Board of Education case that more jobs have to be filled through competitive examination. Mr. Brind is a former president of the Civil Service Employees Association.

CIVIL SERVICE

NEWS

Letter

MEMBERS of the Cycle Club were surprised indeed when NYC Fire Commissioner Jacob Grumet, baritone, obliged the gathering of several hundred by singing three popular songs. Third Deputy Commissioner Albert S. Pacetta accompanied him on the piano. Commissioner Grumet further surprised his audience by the fine quality of his voice.

The Cycle Club, by the way, was formed years ago for NYC employees addicted to wheeling. Now they're scattered all over the U. S., but many from far places attend the annual event, held this year in the Bronx. Philip Liebman, the brewery magnate, one of the founders, though never a City employee, was the host.

If Deputy Commissioner Pacetta doesn't look out, with all that fine piano-playing, he may wind up as President of the U. S.

THE LOT of the lone dissenter has proved an unhappy one for William J. Marino of Brooklyn, a pipe caulker employed by the NYC Department of Water Supply, Gas & Electricity.

For six long years he's been working only two days a week. The reason, for the record, is that there isn't enough work to keep him busy on additional days. Yet since he started his enforced tour of austerity, 22 pipe caulkers have been hired by the department, and work the full week.

Off the record, all the other pipe caulkers signed a wage agreement, for $4,600 annual pay, which figures out at $2.30 an hour. Marino refused to sign. He cites a determination by Comptroller Lazarus Joseph that pipe caulkers are entitled to a prevailing rate of $3.25 an hour.

While an employee may waive his rights, under the Labor Law, as to pay rates, and sign an agreement, if he wants to stand by the prevailing rate, Marino insists he's entitled to get that higher pay, without reprisal.

Because of his protests some laborers who were working as pipe caulkers, out of title, have been replaced by men in the proper title. But farther than that he hasn't been able to get.

That much we know. But don't ask us just what a pipe caulker does. The best we can say is that he has something to do with joining together the pipes that deliver the water supply to NYC residents.

IN KILLING THE BILL, 181 to 167, that would have authorized the Departments of State, Justice and Commerce to fire employees at will, the House of Representatives took a stand rather defiantly contrary to what the White House desired.

The State Department has had the authority for several years, but, until recently, hasn't exercised it much. The bill would have continued that authority, and added the two other departments. Now even the State Department may find itself stripped of the power, through refusal of Congress to renew the rider.

Employee and veteran organizations united to kill the bill. They seldom unite, but when they do, they exercise powerful influence. The AFL, the CIO, the American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Disabled American Veterans and others made such piercing protests that some members of the Lower House were seen to shudder.

More power to Representative John J. Rooney (D., Lib., N. Y.), of Brooklyn, who made the successful motion to kill the proposed riders!

THE PRESENT RULES on "bumping," which refers to having job retention rights that can be exercised even at the extreme of putting another out of a job to safeguard one for yourself, are to be retained. The U. S. Civil Service Commission will study the subject. Too many protests from too many veteran groups made immediate change impossible. Also, the Commission became convinced that some proposed amendments might have occasioned injustice.

RESTORATION of the right to accumulate U. S. annual leave appears certain of adoption. There would be a limit on accumulation, but one which employee groups would be unlikely to protest — possibly 30 days, compared to the 60 good old days.

THE NYC Civil Service Commission must find itself promoting a change in the promotion rules rather against its will.

The Court of Appeals, in a recent case, strictly limited eligibility in promotion exams, to related titles in the same class, hence prohibited eligibility of employees in the labor class to competitive class promotions. However, the Commission, for many years, followed the policy of admissibility, especially since otherwise there'd be no avenue of promotion at all for any labor class employee.

There was a strong dissenting opinion in the Court of Appeals, sustaining the Commission's policy. We always felt the Commission was right, and that the majority opinion was based on a technicality.

The Legislature enacted a law requiring that the eligible title be closely in line with the promotion title. So now the Commission is putting through a resolution, changing its former rule to conform, action it has to take, but hardly through choice.

THESE BASIC BENEFITS

Coverages

The policy insures against loss resulting from SICKNESS causing total disability commencing while the policy is in force, or NON-OCCUPATIONAL ACCIDENTAL BODILY INJURIES sustained while the policy is in force.

Sickness

The policy pays the monthly indemnity for continuous total disability (commencing while the policy is in force) from the eighth day and up to one year* for any one sickness, except that there is an aggregate limit of twelve months for any and all periods of total disability resulting from tuberculosis; these is a limit of one month for total disability resulting from any one pregnancy, but total disability resulting from any pregnancy commencing before the policy is in force is not covered; house-confinement is required in case of disability while on vacation, leave of absence or when not assigned to regular duty.

Non-Occupational Accidents

Death, dismemberment and loss of sight (occurring within ninety days after the date of accident): Pays the following in addition to any other indemnity: the Principal Sum for loss of life, both hands or both feet or sight of both eyes, one hand and one foot, either hand or foot and sight of one eye; one-half the Principal Sum for loss of either hand or foot or sight of one eye.

Total Disability: Pays the monthly indemnity for continuous total disability (commencing while the policy is in force) from the first day and up to ten years for any one accident.

Medical Expense for Minor Injuries: Pays expense of treatment for non-disabling injuries up to an amount equal to one month's indemnity.

Occupational Accidents

(If covered automatically or purchased on an optional basis): Pays the same benefits as those for non-occupational accidents except that the limit of the period of total disability for which monthly indemnity is payable is one year for any one accident.

NO EXTRA COST

The following additional benefits are provided in accordance with the terms of a Rider which will be included with your policy and which will be continued as long as experience permits.

Principal Sum Increases

For injuries occurring before you are 60 years old, the Principal Sum of $1,000 increases $500 at the end of each consecutive year of insurance until the Principal Sum reaches $2,500.

Monthly Indemnity Increases

For total disability caused by either sickness or accidental bodily injuries and commencing after your policy has been in force one year but before you are 60 years old, the rate of monthly indemnity payable will be fifteen per cent more than the basic monthly indemnity rate stated in your policy.

Period of Sickness Indemnity Increases

For total disability (due to sickness, except tuberculosis and pregnancy) before you are 60 years old, the indemnity limit of twelve months is increased four months at the end of each consecutive year of insurance until the indemnity limit reaches twenty-four months.

Minimum Indemnities for Fractures and Dislocations

In the event of certain fractures, dislocations or amputations, indemnities not less than the specified amounts are paid even though you do not have disability long enough to earn such payment. Thus, you are guaranteed a liberal payment in the event of such injuries even though you do return to work shortly after the accident.

Sickness Benefits During Hospital Confinement

For total disability (due to sickness) before you are sixty years old, and lasting more than 7 days, benefits are payable for that part of the first seven days when you are in a hospital forty-eight hours or more. Otherwise indemnity for total disability due to sickness starts with the eighth day.

*See how the Additional Benefits increase the indemnity period for most sicknesses before age 60 to as much as two years.

Results of Four Exams Announced

Failure notices have been sent to candidates in several NYC promotion exams. Among them are the following, with the number of candidates who passed:

Junior assistant corporation counsel, Grade 3; 4.
Attendant, grade 2, City Court, 2.
Chief dietitian, Health Department, 2.
Messenger, grade 3, City Court, 1.

While it is expected that the lists with fewer than three candidates will be used, the law does not require their use, because the department head is deprived of his choice among three. Department heads, however seldom resort to that technicality.

NYC Steno Test Opens Next Month

The NYC Civil Service Commission will receive applications for stenographer, Grade 2, $2,350 a year to start from Tuesday, June 9 to Wednesday, June 24.

There are no experience or educational requirements. A performance test, at 90 words per minute, will be given. Age limits are 18 to 70 years.

The previous eligible list in the stenographer title was exhausted recently, with the appointment from a steno pool of 133 eligibles. There remain about 300 provisional employees to be replaced by successful candidates in the forthcoming exam. In addition, promotions, resignations, retirements and deaths will create many more vacancies.

Sample Questions to Help One Pass Exams

The following sample questions are being circulated by the U. S. Civil Service Commission as part of study material in preparation for exams.

They deal with abstract reasoning.

Questions 1 and 2 concern "series," the relationship of numbers or letters, in this case, letters. The subject of "series" has been discussed, in regard to numbers, in detail in recent issues of The LEADER. The problem is to find the clue to the change that takes place, and produce the missing quantity by applying that clue.

Questions 3 and 4 involve graphical representations. Lines, curves, angles, etc. are used.

These "series" problems are basically simple, once one gets the hang of them, although when a candidate runs into them for the first time he usually has plenty of trouble. It's more a matter of familiarity with the method than of any requirement for a high degree of mental attainment.

Simplest Case

Consider the first "series" question.

1. X C X D X E X —

The first fact that should strike one is that the letters are in pairs, for, when paired, each pair starts with the letter X. It can also be observed that, starting with C, after each X, the next succeeding letter of the alphabet is used. That is the clue. Therefore, the answer is the letter following E. In other words, the series consists of X's alternating with letters in alphabetical order, starting with C.

Answer, F.

2. A B D C E F — — —

That is the problem. The three dashes at the end indicate that three missing letters are to be supplied. But assume the question asks for only the last two. Select the answer from these combinations: (A) GH; (B) IG; (C) GI; (D) KL; (E) IH. What is the clue to the two letters that must end the series?

We note that in the question the first two letters, A and B, are in alphabetical order, starting with the beginning of the alphabet. We also note that the next two letters of the alphabet come next, but instead of being in direct alphabetical order they are in inverse alphabetical order. We also see that the fifth letter is the next unused letter of the alphabet, E. We are assuming therefore, a four-letter code. Therefore, we have a pattern, at least one that should be checked. E and F are in direct alphabetical order. The first four letters, A, B, C, D, have been used. Now for the next four, E, F, G, H. Note that E and F are stated, G, and H come next in alphabetical order, but in reverse yield E, F, H, G, while the sequence would start anew with the next unused letter of the alphabet, giving H, G, I. But only the last two letters are requested.

Answer, C.

Missing Symbols

3. What's the missing symbol in Fig. 1? Each of questions 3 and 4 has two boxes at the left. Each of the three symbols in the first box is like the two others in that same box in some way. Each of two symbols in the second box is like the other in that same box in some way. But the characteristic feature of each symbol in the first box is different from the characteristic feature of each symbol in the second box. The first box has three symbols, and the second box has two symbols, with one missing symbol represented by a question mark. You are to decide the difference between the symbols in the first box and the second box, and choose the lettered symbol A, B, C, D, or E, in the third box, which can best take the place of the missing symbol in the second box.

Look at question 3. All the symbols in the first box are curved. Look at the second box. All the symbols are straight. Of the lettered symbols in the third box, only B is straight.

Although one symbol in the second box is made of dashes, the other symbol in that box is not, so a dashed type of line is not the difference between the two boxes.

Answer, B.
4. What is the missing symbol in Fig. 2?

The same plan is used as in solving Question 3. We know from the second block that we need a line that nearly touches the circumference of the circle at an angle. That eliminates D and E. Now, to choose between A, B and C, we note in the question block that the line that points toward the circle's center at start (left), moves clockwise. Also, the first move traverses about a third of the circumference; the second move should do likewise. Going one-third around again, we find what satisfies that requirement, too.

Answer, B.

An Important Message to H-I-P subscribers . . .

After a year's study of rising medical costs, the Board of Directors of H-I-P has finally been obliged to authorize a minimum increase in the base premium rates, effective July 1, 1953.

It is no longer possible to hold the line. The full benefits of comprehensive medical care that are yours cannot be maintained at present rates. We do not believe that this will come to you as a surprise, especially when you recall that your hospitalization rates were increased, under rising hospital costs, a full year ago. Indeed, each individual member of your Board of Directors takes pride in the solid accomplishment that H-I-P is virtually the last of all medical insurance plans (including other non-profit organizations as well as commercial plans) to yield to inflationary pressures.

Everyone is familiar with the high cost of food and clothing and housing—the never-ending struggle to make ends meet. But we sometimes forget that our family doctors and specialists have to cope with similar high prices in serving their patients. For instance, bandages, cotton and gauze now cost a doctor 20% to 30% more than they did seven years ago; a sterilizer that used to cost $54.50 now costs $83.00 . . . with comparable increases all along the line, including nurses' wages and ambulance services. To give you an idea of the total impact of these increases, BUSINESS WEEK reported in its March 1, 1952 issue:

"In the U. S. as a whole, the average total annual operating expenses for doctors stood at $2,963 in 1939. By 1947 they had risen to $7,200. And in 1952 they will hit at least $9,000."

There is no question then that H-I-P family doctors and specialists must be helped to meet the burden of their rising costs, especially in view of the fact that they are required by the H-I-P Medical Control Board to use the latest techniques and equipment in providing you with comprehensive medical care at your center, their private offices, your home or at a hospital.

However, because H-I-P is a non-profit organization, the increase in premium rates has been held down as low as possible consistent with providing medical care according to H-I-P standards. As a result, the rise in the base premium is approximately two cents a day for the individual subscriber; four cents a day for a family of two; seven cents a day for a family of three or more.

(The premium rates for subscribers insured under conversion policies have also been increased and the new charges will become effective with the first premium payment due on or after July 1, 1953.)

H-I-P remains not only the most complete medical protection that you can buy for your family, but it is also the most economical means of providing against medical needs. No one can foretell whether you will need hundreds or thousands of dollars worth of medical services in the coming year. But as an H-I-P subscriber, you can remove all uncertainty as to how you will meet your doctors' bills—regardless of the amount.

That is the sole point and purpose of H-I-P.

In the words of the President's Commission on the Health Needs of the Nation: "The American people desire and deserve comprehensive health services of high quality and in our dynamic expanding economy the means can be found to provide it."

With your support, your Board of Directors of H-I-P believes that your non-profit medical insurance plan is pointing the way for the nation.

Clerk Test To Open In September

Applications will be received by the NYC Civil Service Commission in the exam for clerk, grade 2, from September 9 to 24.

The Commission originally intended to receive applications in June, but has become convinced that the surface line operator (bus driver) exam, to open in June, will swamp the application bureau.

Starting pay for clerk, grade 2, is $2,110 a year total, $40.75 a week, and rises to $2,830 a year, $54.42 a week, through annual increments. Merit increases may bring pay to $3,385 a year, $65 a week.

There are no education or experience requirements.

Age limits are 18 to 70, except that high school graduates less than 18 are eligible.

Both men and women may apply.

Attendant Jobs for Men to 70

The NYC Civil Service Commission last week took the first step toward holding an open competitive exam for attendant, grade 1, $2,110 a year to start. No dates have as yet been set.

As in the last attendant exam, held in 1950, there are expected to be no minimum educational or experience requirements.

The exam will be open to men only.

In addition to attendant posts, eligibles will also be certified to jobs as caretaker, gateman, messenger, process server, watchman, all grade 1; ticket agent, grade 2, and bridge tender.

Ages 18 to 70

There are 41 provisionals at present. More vacancies are expected because of promotions, retirements, transfers, resignations and deaths.

All candidates will take a written test of general knowledge and intelligence, and ability to follow directions. The test the last time was simple. The same policy is expected to be followed in the new test.

WHOLESONE, ENTERTAINING, EDUCATIONAL, UNDERSTANDABLE — FOR BOYS AND GIRLS FROM 5 TO 12

"It is, therefore, a pleasure to report the appearance of a publication that is interesting and entertaining for children of all ages, yet, too, a fine force for good rather than evil." - Senator Estes Kefauver.

"CHILDREN'S TIMES represents a truly wholesome and fresh departure. It brings children to understand the concept of a newspaper and of a free press" - Governor Theodore McKeldin of Maryland.

"CHILDREN'S TIMES . . . A feature deals with famed Americans. Ike is the first. G-Man Hoover next. Best answer yet to the racy, risqué and sadistic comic books. . . ." - Walter Winchell.

It is a handsome publication, full of pictures and wonderful drawings, with everything geared for the interest of our younger citizens. . . ." - Hon. Louis B. Heller on the floor of Congress.

And Much, Much More!

HERE is a new newspaper — for children! It has been in the planning stage for more than three years. During this time the editors and publishers analyzed every existing effort to interest, educate and entertain children. Books, magazines, plays, games, movies, radio, television, comics, daily newspapers — all were examined. Children of all ages were tested. Parents were questioned. Out of this intensive study of what children want, and what parents want them to have, has come Children's Times. We believe it will become one of the most vital forces for good that can be placed in the hands of boys and girls of all ages. But we admit that we are biased. So we are offering to send a copy of the current issue free to any parent requesting it. We would like your opinion — and through you, your child's reaction. There is no obligation to subscribe unless you care to do so. Simply fill in and mail the coupon below if you would like to see this new newspaper for children — Children's Times.

Every issue of Children's Times will be designed to satisfy a child's natural curiosity; he will discover the wonders of the world he lives in; he will satisfy his normal craving to learn, to play, to laugh, to think, to enjoy. Above all, he will feel a part of everything he reads in Children's Times. This is his newspaper.

We have attempted briefly here to describe Children's Times. However, no description can possibly convey to you the wholesome effect this new newspaper for children can have on your child.

Even the partial list of the contents of the first issue as printed on the left can give you only a remote idea of how great its influence can be on any youngster. We therefore offer to send you a sample copy of Children's Times — without charge. Read it yourself — then hand it to your child. Watch his face as he reads each page. If you are delighted in every way, and would like to have Children's Times come into your home twice a month for a full year, we will send you our bill for only $2.00. Yes, only $2.00 for 24 issues — less than 10¢ a copy! If, however, you are not thrilled by the joy your child shows, just mail us a card and we will cancel the charge. It is not necessary to send any money now — just the coupon. And you pay nothing at any time unless you decide to subscribe after examining the free sample copy! In any event the sample copy is free.
